In the beginning God made the heaven and the earth. 2 But the earth was unsightly and unfurnished, and darkness was over the deep, and the Spirit of God moved over the water. 3 And God said, Let there be light, and there was light. 4 And God saw the light that it was good, and God divided between the light and the darkness. 5 And God called the light Day, and the darkness he called Night, and there was evening and there was morning, the first day.

6 And God said, Let there be a firmament in the midst of the water, and let it be a division between water and water, and it was so. 7 And God made the firmament, and God divided between the water which was under the firmament and the water which was above the firmament. 8 And God called the firmament Heaven, and God saw that it was good, and there was evening and there was morning, the second day.

9 And God said, Let the water which is under the heaven be collected into one place, and let the dry land appear, and it was so. 10 And God called the dry land Earth, and the waters which were under the heavens were collected into one place, and the dry land appeared. 11 And God called the dry land Earth, and the gatherings of the waters he called Seas, and God saw that it was good. 12 And God said, Let the earth bring forth the herb of grass bearing seed according to its kind and according to its likeness, and the fruit-tree bearing fruit whose seed is in it, according to its kind upon the earth, and it was so. 13 And the earth brought forth the herb of grass bearing seed according to its kind and according to its likeness, and the fruit-tree bearing fruit whose seed is in it, according to its kind upon the earth, and God saw that it was good. 14 And there was evening and there was morning, the third day.

15 And God said, Let there be lights in the firmament of the heaven to give light upon the earth, to divide between day and night, and let them be for signs and for seasons and for days and for years. 16 And let them be for light in the firmament of the heaven, to shine upon the earth, and it was so. 17 And God made the two great lights, the greater light for regulating the day and the

And God said, Let the waters bring forth reptiles having life, and winged creatures flying above the earth in the firmament of heaven, and it was so. 24 And God made great whales, and every living reptile, which the waters brought forth according to their kinds, and every creature that lives with wings according to its kind, and God saw that they were good. 25 And God blessed them, saying, Increase and multiply and fill the waters in the seas, and let the creatures that fly be multiplied on the earth. 26 And there was evening and there was morning, the fifth day.

And God said, Let the earth bring forth the living creature according to its kind, quadrupeds and reptiles and wild beasts of the earth according to their kind, and it was so. 27 And God made the wild beasts of the earth according to their kind, and cattle according to their kind, and all the reptiles of the earth according to their kind, and God saw that they were good. 28 And God said, Let us make man according to our image and likeness, and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the flying creatures of heaven, and over the cattle and all the earth, and over all the reptiles that creep on the earth. 29 And God made man, according to the image of God he made him, male and female he made them. 30 And God blessed them, saying, Increase and multiply, and fill the earth and subdue it, and have dominion over the fish of the sea and flying creatures of heaven, and all the cattle and all the earth, and all the reptiles that creep on the earth. 31 And God said, Behold, I have given you every seed-bearing herb sowing seed which is upon all the earth, and every tree which has in itself the fruit of seed that is sown, to you it shall be for food. 32 And to all the wild beasts of the earth, and to all the flying creatures of heaven, and to every reptile creeping on the earth, which has in itself the breath of life, even every green plant for food; and it was so. 33 And God saw all the things that he had made, and, behold, they were very good. And there was evening and there was morning, the sixth day. 1 And the heavens and the earth were finished, and the whole world of them.

This is the book of the generation of heaven and earth, when in they were made, in the day in which the Lord God made the heaven and the earth, and every herb of the field before it was on the earth, and all the grass of the field before it sprang up, for God had not rained on the earth, and there was not a man to cultivate it.

6 But there rose a fountain out of the earth, and watered the whole face of the ground.

7 And the Lord God formed the man of dust of the earth, and breathed upon his face the breath of life, and the man became a living soul.

8 And God planted a garden eastward in Eden, and there placed the man whom he had formed.

9 And God made to spring up also of the earth every tree beautiful to the eye and good for food, and the tree of life in the midst of the garden, and the tree of knowledge of good and evil.

10 And a river proceeds out of Eden to water the garden, whence it divides itself into four heads.

11 The name of the one, Phisom, this is which encircles the whole land of Evilat, where there is gold.

12 And the gold of that land is good, there also is carbuncle and emerald.

13 And the name of the second river is Geon, this it is which encircles the whole land of Cush.

14 And the name of the third river is Tigris, this is that which flows forth over against the Assyrians.

15 And the fourth river is Ephrathas; And the Lord God named the man Adam, saying, Of every tree which is in the garden thou mayest freely eat, but of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil—of it ye shall not eat, but in whatsoever day ye eat of it, ye shall surely die.

16 And the Lord God said, It is not good that the man should be alone; let us make him a helper suitable to him.
of the trees of the garden, but of the fruit of the tree which is in the midst of the garden, God said, Ye shall not eat of it, neither shall ye touch it, lest ye die. And the serpent said to the woman, Ye shall not surely die. For God knew that in whatever day ye should eat of it your eyes would be opened, and ye would be as gods, knowing good and evil. And the woman saw that the tree was good for food, and that it was pleasant to the eyes, and beautiful to conceive, and having taken of its fruit, she ate, and gave also to her husband with her, and he ate. And the eyes of both were opened, and they perceived that they were naked, and they sewed fig leaves together, and made themselves aprons. And they heard the voice of the Lord God walking in the garden in the afternoon; and Adam and his wife hid themselves from the face of the Lord God in the midst of the trees of the garden. And the Lord God called Adam and said to him, Adam, where art thou? and he said to him, Thee, the Lord thy God, the voice as though he stood in the garden, and I feared because I was naked and I hid myself. And God said to him, Who told thee that thou wast naked, unless thou hast eaten of the tree concerning which I charged thee of it alone not to eat? And God said, The woman whom thou gavest to be with me—she gave me of the tree and I ate. And the Lord God said to the woman, Why hast thou done this? And the woman said, The serpent deceived me and I ate.

And the Lord God said to the serpent, Because thou hast done this thou art cursed above all cattle and all the brutes of the earth, on thy head, and thou shalt eat dust all the days of thy life. And I will put enmity between thee and the woman, and between thy seed and her seed; and he shall bruise thy head, and thou shalt bruise his heel. And to the woman he said, I will greatly multiply thy pains and thy griefs; in pain shalt thou bring forth children, and thy desire shall be to thy husband, and he shall rule over thee. And to Adam he said, Because thou hast hearkened to the voice of thy wife, and didst eat of the tree concerning which I charged thee of it not to eat—of that thou hast eaten, cursed is the ground in thy labours, in pain shalt thou eat of all the days of thy life. Thorns and thistles shall it bring forth to thee, and thou shalt eat the herb of the field. In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread until thou return to the ground out of which thou wast taken, for earth thou art and to earth shalt thou return. And Adam called the name of his wife Eve, because she was the mother of all living. And the Lord God made for Adam and his wife garments of skin, and clothed them. And God said, Behold, Adam is become as one of us, to know good and evil, and now lest at any time he stretch forth his hand, and take of the tree of life and eat, and so

And Adam knew Eve his wife, and she conceived and brought forth Cain and said, I have gained a man through God. And she again bore his brother Abel. And Abel was a keeper of sheep, but Cain was a tiller of the ground. And it was so after some time that Cain brought of the fruits of the earth a sacrifice to the Lord. And Abel also brought of the firstborn of his sheep and of his fattlings, and God looked upon Abel and his gifts, but Cain and his sacrifices he regarded not, and Cain was exceedingly sorrowful and his countenance fell. And the Lord God said to Cain, Why art thou bitter against thy brother, and why is thy countenance fallen? Hast thou not sinned if thou hast brought it right, but not rightly divided it? be still, to thee shall be his submission, and thou shalt rule over him.

And Cain said to Abel his brother, Let us go out into the plain; and it came to pass that when they were in the plain Cain rose up against Abel his brother, and slew him. And the Lord said to Cain, Where is Abel thy brother? and he said, I know not, am I my brother’s keeper? And the Lord said, What hast thou done? the voice of thy brother’s blood cries to me out of the ground. And now thou art cursed from the earth which has opened her mouth to receive thy brother’s blood from thy hand. When thou tillest the earth, then it shall not continue to give its strength to thee: thou shalt be groaning and trembling on the earth. And Cain said to the Lord God, My crime is too great for me to be forgiven. If thou castest me out this day from the face of the earth, and I shall be hidden from thy presence, and I shall be groaning and trembling upon the earth, then it will be that any one that finds me shall slay me. And the Lord God said to him, Not so, any one that slays Cain shall suffer seven-fold vengeance; and the Lord God set a mark upon Cain that no one that found him might slay him. So Cain went forth from the presence of God and dwelt in the land of Nod over against Edom.

And Cain knew his wife, and having conceived she bore Enoch; and he built a city; and he named the city after the name of his son, Enoch. And to Enoch was born Sidah; and Gaidad begot Maleel; and Maleel begot Mathusala; and Mathusala begot Lamech. And Lamech took to himself two wives; the name of the one was Ada, and the name of the second Sella. And Ada bore Jobel; he was the father of those that dwell in tents, feeding cattle. And the name of his brother was Jubal; he it was who shall live for ever—So the Lord God sent him forth out of the garden of Delight to cultivate the ground out of which he was taken. And the Lord sent out Adam and caused him to dwell over against the garden of Delight, and stationed the cherubs and the fiery sword that turns about to keep the way of the tree of life.
And Adam knew Eve his wife: and she conceived and bare a son, and called his name Seth: saying, for God hath appointed for him a Saviour from henceforth. And Seth lived an hundred and twenty seven years, and begat Enos. And Enos lived eight generations, and begat Cainan. And Cainan lived seven generations, and begat Mahalaleel. And Mahalaleel lived seven generations, and begat Jared. And Jared lived an hundred and sixty and five years, and begat Enoch. And Enoch lived an hundred and twenty nine years, and begat Methuselah. And Methuselah lived an hundred and forty and three years, and begat Lamech. And Lamech lived an hundred and eighty and two years, and begat Noah. And Noah lived an hundred and ninety and five years, and begat Shem, Ham, and Japheth. Thus all the fowls of heaven was driven out from the man. Then the Lord God formed man the son of dust; and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living soul. And the Lord God planted a garden eastward in Eden; and there he put the man whom he had formed. And the Lord God made a mayor, and placed him in the garden of Eden, to keep it. And the Lord God commanded the man, saying, Of every tree of the garden thou mayst freely eat: but of the tree of knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it: for in the day that thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die. And the Lord God took the man, and put him into the garden of Eden, to keep it. And the Lord God commanded the man, saying, Of every tree of the garden shalt thou eat freely; but of the tree of knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it; for in the day that thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die. And the Lord God made a mayor, and placed him in the garden of Eden, to keep it. And the Lord God commanded the man, saying, Of every tree of the garden thou mayst freely eat: but of the tree of knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it: for in the day that thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die. And the Lord God had provided a garment for Adam and his wife of the tree of the garden. And the Lord God commanded the man, saying, Of every tree of the garden thou mayst freely eat: but of the tree of knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it; for in the day that thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die. And the Lord God had provided a garment for Adam and his wife of the tree of the garden. And the Lord God commanded the man, saying, Of every tree of the garden thou mayst freely eat: but of the tree of knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it; for in the day that thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die. And Enoch was well pleasing to God, and was not found, because God translated him. 2 And Methuselah lived 167 years and sixty and seven years, and begot Lamech. 2 And Mathusala lived after his begetting Lamech 87 years and two years, and begot sons and daughters. 3 And all the days of Mathusala which he lived, were nine hundred and sixty and nine years, and he died. 4 And Lamech lived an hundred and eighty and eight years, and begot a son. 5 And he called his name Noe, saying, This one will cause us to cease from our works, and from the toils of our hands, and from the earth, which the Lord has cursed. 6 And Lamech lived after his begetting Noe, five hundred and sixty and five years, and begot sons and daughters. 7 And all the days of Lamech were seven hundred and fifty-three years, and he died. 8 And Noe was five hundred years old, and he begot three sons, Sem, Cham, and Japheth.
9 And it came to pass when men began to be numerous upon the earth, and daughters were born to them, 10 that the sons of God seeing the daughters of men that they were beautiful, took to themselves wives of all whom they chose. 11 And the Lord said, My Spirit shall certainly not remain among these men for ever, because they are flesh, but their days shall be an hundred and twenty years. 12 Now the giants were upon the earth in those days; and after that when the sons of God were wont to go in to the daughters of men, they bore children to them, those were the giants of old, the men of renown.
13 And the Lord God having seen that the wicked actions of men were multiplied upon the earth, and that every one in his heart was intently brooding over evil continually, 14 then God laid it to heart that he had made man upon the earth, and he pondered it deeply. 15 And God said, I will blot out man whom I have made from the face of the earth, even man with cattle, and reptiles with flying creatures of the sky, for I am sand I have made them. 16 But Noe found grace before the Lord God. 17 And these are the generations of Noe. Noe was a just man; being perfect in his generation. Noe was well pleasing to God. 18 And Noe begot three sons, Sem, Cham, Japheth. 19 But the earth was corrupted before God, and the earth was filled with iniquity. 20 And the Lord God saw the earth, and it was corrupted; because all flesh had corrupted its way upon the earth.
21 And the Lord God said to Noe, A period of all men is come before me; because the earth has been filled with iniquity by them, and, behold, I destroy them and the earth.
22 Make therefore for thyself an ark of square timber; thou shalt make the ark in five compartments, and thou shalt pitch it within and without with pitch. 23 And thus shalt thou make the ark; three hundred cubits the length of the ark, and fifty cubits the breadth, and thirty cubits the height of it. 24 Thou shalt narrow the ark in
And I will establish my covenant with thee, and with all flesh that is upon the earth, both of fowls, and of the creatures that move on the earth, after their kind, and of every beast of the bowards, after their kind, and of every thing that creepeth upon the earth, after their kind, and of all fowls that fly in the heavens after their kind. And I will establish my covenant with thee; thou shalt come into the ark, thou, and thy sons, and thy wife, and thy sons' wives with thee. And of every living thing of all flesh, two, of every sort shalt thou bring into the ark, to keep them alive with thee; they shall be male and female. Of fowls after their kind, and of beasts after their kind, and of every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth after its kind, two, of every sort shall come in to thee to keep them alive. And take thou unto thee of all the males of clean beasts, and of the males of clean fowls, and of every thing that goeth upon the earth, and of every thing that creepeth upon the earth, both of them shall be male and female. To thee will I come, and all these shall come to me, to keep them alive for myself. And we will take of every sort of all beasts of the earth, and of all fowls of the heavens, and of every thing that creepeth upon the earth, and of every thing that moveth upon the earth, and we will bring them into the ark, both thee, and thy sons, and thy wife, and thy sons' wives with thee. And we will shut the door of the ark; And we will take into the ark of every sort of all beasts of the earth, and of all fowls, and of all that creepeth upon the earth, and of all things that move in the waters. And we will重任 into the ark, the pairs, male and female, of every living thing. And the day was the seventh, and the ark was finished. And the Lord said unto Noah, Go forth of the ark, thou, and thy wife, and thy sons, and thy sons' wives with thee. And bring forth of all the beasts of the earth the pairs thereof, of every beast, and of every fowl of the fowls of the heavens, upon the earth shall go forth again to their kind.
of all flesh in which is the breath of life.
And they that entered went in male and female of all flesh, as God commanded Noe, and the Lord God shut the ark outside of him.
And the flood was upon the earth forty days and forty nights, and the water abounded greatly upon the earth, and it was lifted on high from off the earth.
And the water prevailed and abounded exceedingly upon the earth, and the ark was borne upon the water.
And the water prevailed exceedingly upon the earth, and covered all the high mountains which were under heaven.
Fifteen cubits upwards was the water raised, and it covered all the high mountains.

And there died all flesh that moved upon the earth, of flying creatures and cattle, and of wild beasts, and every reptile moving upon the earth, and every man.
And all things which have the breath of life, and whatever was on the dry land, died.

And God blotted out every offspring which was upon the face of the earth, both man and beast, and reptiles, and birds were blotted from the earth, and Noe was left alone, and those with him in the ark.
And the water was raised over the earth an hundred and fifty days.

And God remembered Noe, and all the wild beasts, and all the cattle, and all the birds, and all the reptiles that creep, as many as were with him in the ark, and God brought a wind upon the earth, and the water stayed.

And the fountains of the deep were closed up, and the flood-gates of heaven, and the rain from heaven was withheld.
And the water subsided, and went off the earth, and after an hundred and fifty days the water was diminished, and the ark rested in the seventh month, on the twenty-seventh day of the month, on the mountains of Ararat.

And the water continued to decrease until the tenth month.
And in the tenth month, on the first day of the month, the heads of the mountains were seen.
And it came to pass after forty days Noe opened the window of the ark which he had made.

And he sent forth a raven; and it went forth and returned not until the water was dried from off the earth.

And he sent a dove after it, to see if the water had ceased from off the earth.
And the dove not having found rest for her feet, returned to him into the ark, because the water was on all the face of the earth, and he stretched out his hand and took her, and brought her to himself into the ark.

And having waited yet seven other days, he again sent forth the dove from the ark.
And the dove returned to him in the evening, and had a leaf of olive, a sprig in her mouth; and Noe knew that the water had ceased from off the earth.

And it came to pass in the six hundred and first year of the life of Noe, in the first month, on the first day of the month, the water subsided from off the earth.
And the covering of the ark which he had made, and he saw that the water had subsided from the face of the
And in the second month the earth was dried, on the twenty-seventh day of the month.

And the Lord God spake to Noe, saying, Come out of the ark, thou and thy wife and thy sons and thy sons' wives with thee.

And all the wild beasts as many as are with thee, and all fleshe of birds and beasts, and every reptile moving upon the earth, bring forth with thee: and increase ye and multiply upon the earth. And Noe came forth, and his wife and his sons, and his sons' wives with him. And all the wild beasts and all the cattle and every bird, and every reptile creeping upon the earth after their kind, came forth out of the ark.

And Noe built an altar to the Lord, and took of all clean beasts, and of all clean birds, and offered a whole burnt-offering upon the altar. And the Lord God smelled a smell of sweetness, and the Lord God was bent upon evil things from his youth, I will not therefore any more smite all living flesh as I have done. All the days of the earth, seed and harvest, cold and heat, summer and spring, shall not cease by day or night.

And God blessed Noe and his sons, and said to them, Increase and multiply, and fill the earth and have dominion over it. And the dread and the fear of you shall be upon all the beasts of the earth, upon all the birds of the sky, and upon all things moving upon the earth, and upon all the fishes of the sea, I have placed them under your power. And every reptile which is living shall be to you for meat, I have given all things to you as your green herbs. But flesh with blood of life ye shall not eat. For your blood of your lives will I require at the hand of the hand of the brother man. He that sheds man's blood, instead of that blood shall his own be shed, for in the image of God I made man. But do ye increase and multiply, and fill the earth, and have dominion over it.

And God spake to Noe, and to his sons with him, saying, And behold I establish my covenant with you, and with your seed after you, and with every living creature with you, of birds and of beasts, and with all the wild beasts of the earth, as many as are with you, of all that come out of the ark. And I will establish my covenant with you, and all flesh shall not any more die by the water, and there shall no more be a flood of water to destroy all the earth.

And the Lord God said to Noe, This is the sign of the covenant which I set between me and you, and between every living creature which is with you for perpetual generations.

I set my bow in the cloud, and it shall be for a sign of covenant between me and the earth. And it shall be when I gather clouds upon the earth, that my bow
Gen. 9:15 And I will remember my covenant, which is between me and you, and between every living soul in all flesh, and there shall no more be water for a deluge to destroy all flesh. And my bow shall be in the cloud, and I will look to remember the everlasting covenant between me and the earth, and between every living soul in all flesh, which is upon the earth.

9:16 Now the sons of Noah which came out of the ark, were Sem, Cham, Japheth. And Cham was father of Canaan. These three are the sons of Noah, of these were men scattered over all the earth. And Noah began to be a husbandman, and he planted a vineyard. And he drank of the wine, and was drunken, and was in his tent. And Cham the father of Canaan saw the nakedness of his father, and he went out and told his two brothers without. And Sem and Japheth having taken a garment, put it on both their backs and went backwards, and covered the nakedness of their father; and their face was backward, and they saw not the nakedness of their father. And Noah knew what his younger son did unto his father. And he said, Cursed be the servant Canaan, a slave shall he be to his brethren. And he said, Blessed be the Lord God of Sem, and Canaan shall be his bond-servant. May God make room for Japheth, and let him dwell in the habitations of Sem, and let Canaan be his servant. And Noah lived after the flood three hundred and fifty years. And all the days of Noah were nine hundred and fifty years, and he died.

Now these are the generations of the sons of Noah, Sem, Cham, Japheth; and sons were born to them after the flood.

8:1 And all the days of Noah were three hundred and sixty-one years. And Noah was a righteous man, and perfect in his generations. And Noah walked with God. And Noah begot three sons, Shem, Ham, and Japheth.

9:1 And it came to pass after the flood, that Noah was an old man; and he lived seven hundred and years after the flood.

9:2 And Noah became the father of three sons: Shem, Ham, and Japheth.

9:3 This is the genealogy of Noah: Noah was the son of Lamech.

9:4 Lamech was the son of Methuselah.

9:5 Methuselah was the son of Enoch.

9:6 Enoch was the son of Jared.

9:7 Jared was the son of Methuselah.

9:8 Methuselah was the son of Kenan.

9:9 Kenan was the son of Mahalaleel.

9:10 Mahalaleel was the son of Enoch.

9:11 Enoch was the son of Jared.

9:12 Jared was the son of Methuselah.

9:13 Methuselah was the son of Lamech.

9:14 Lamech was the son of Noah.

9:15 And Noah was the father of three sons: Shem, Ham, and Japheth.

9:16 This is the genealogy of Noah: Noah was the son of Lamech.

9:17 Lamech was the son of Methuselah.

9:18 Methuselah was the son of Enoch.

9:19 Enoch was the son of Jared.

9:20 Jared was the son of Methuselah.

9:21 Methuselah was the son of Kenan.

9:22 Kenan was the son of Mahalaleel.

9:23 Mahalaleel was the son of Enoch.

9:24 Enoch was the son of Jared.

9:25 Jared was the son of Methuselah.

9:26 Methuselah was the son of Lamech.

9:27 Lamech was the son of Noah.

9:28 This is the genealogy of Noah: Noah was the father of three sons: Shem, Ham, and Japheth.

9:29 These are the generations of Noah: Noah was a just man and perfect in his generations. And Noah walked with God.

9:30 And Noah begot three sons: Shem, Ham, and Japheth.

9:31 These are the generations of Shem. Shem was the father of Ham, and Japheth; and Shem was the father of all the sons of Noah.

9:32 This is the genealogy of Noah: Noah was a just man and perfect in his generations. And Noah walked with God. And Noah begot three sons: Shem, Ham, and Japheth.

9:33 These are the generations of Shem. Shem was the father of Ham, and Japheth; and Shem was the father of all the sons of Noah.

9:34 These are the generations of the sons of Noah: Shem, Ham, and Japheth.

9:35 These are the generations of Shem. Shem was the father of Ham, and Japheth; and Shem was the father of all the sons of Noah.

sonium, and the Chamzonom (whence came forth Phylissiam) and the Gaphthorim.

And Chanaan begot Sidon his first-born, and the Chethite, and the Jebusite, and the Amorite, and the Girgasite, and the Ezem, and the Ethe, and the Arukite, and the Asenite, and the Aradian, and the Samaresan, and the Amathite; and after this the tribes of the Chanaanites were dispersed. And the boundaries of the Chanaanites were from Sidon till one comes to Gerara and Gaza, till one comes to Sodom and Gomorrha, Adama and Seboim, as far as Dass.

These were the sons of Cham in their tribes according to their tongues, in their countries, and in their nations.

And to Sem himself also were children born, the father of all the sons of Heber, the brother of Japheth the elder. 2 Sons of Sem, Elam, and Assur, and Arphaxad, and Lud, and Aram, and Cainan. 3 And sons of Aram, Uz, and Hul, and Gether, and Mesoch. 4 And Arphaxad begot Cainan, and Cainan the Ashken. 5 And to Heber were born two sons, the name of the one, Phaleg, because in his days the earth was divided, and the name of his brother Jektan. 6 And Jektan begot Elmodad, and Sepheth, and Sarmoth, and Jarch. 7 And Odorha, and Aibel, and Dech. 8 And Eval, and Aham, and Saba. 9 And Upher, and Japh, and Jobab, all these were the sons of Jektan. 10 And their dwelling was from Masse to Saphera, a mountain of the east. 11 These were the sons of Sem in their tribes, according to their tongues, in their countries, and in their nations. 12 These are the tribes of the sons of Noe, according to their generations, according to their tribes, according to the land of their possession.

And all the earth was one lip, and there was one language to all. 2 And it came to pass as they moved from the east, they found a plain in the land of Sennaar, and they dwelt there. 3 And a man said to his neighbour, Come, let us make bricks and bake them with fire. 4 And the brick was to them for stone, and their mortar was bitumen. 5 And they said, Come, let us build to ourselves a city and a tower, whose top shall be to heaven, and let us make to ourselves a name, before we are scattered abroad upon the face of all the earth. 6 And the Lord came down to see the city and the tower, which the sons of men built. 7 And the Lord said, Behold, there is one race, and one lip of all, and they have begun to do this, and now nothing shall fail from them of all that they may have undertaken to do. 8 Come, and have gone down, let us there confound their tongue, that they may not understand each the voice of another. 9 And the Lord scattered them thence over the face of all the earth, and they left off building the city and the tower.

On this account its name was called Confusion, because there the Lord confounded the languages of all the earth, and thence the Lord scattered them upon the face of all the earth.

35 and Sem was a hundred years old when he begot Arphaxad, the second year after the flood. 13 And Sem lived, after he had begot Arphaxad, five hundred years, and begot sons and daughters, and died. 14 And Arphaxad lived a hundred and thirty-five years, and begot Cainan. 15 And Arphaxad lived after he had begotten Cainan, four hundred years, and begot sons and daughters, and died. And Cainan lived a hundred and thirty years and begot Sala; and Canaan lived after he had begotten Sala, three hundred and thirty years, and begot sons and daughters and died. And Sala lived an hundred and thirty years and begot Heber. 17 And Sala lived after he had begotten Heber, three hundred and thirty years, and begot sons and daughters, and died. And Heber lived after he had begotten Phaleg two hundred and seventy years, and begot sons and daughters, and died. 19 And Phaleg lived after he had begotten Ragau, two hundred and nine years, and begot sons and daughters, and died. And Ragau lived an hundred and thirty years and begot Seruch. 21 And Ragau lived after he had begotten Seruch, two hundred and seven years, and begot sons and daughters, and died. And Seruch lived a hundred and thirty years, and begot Nachor. 22 And Nachor lived after he had begotten Ragau, two hundred years, and begot sons and daughters, and died. And Nachor lived a hundred and twenty-five years, and begot sons and daughters, and he died. 22 And Tharrha lived seventy years, and begot Abram, and Nachor, and Arrhan. 27 And these are the generations of Tharrha. Tharrha begot Abram and Nachor, and Arrhan; and Arrhan begot Lot. 28 And Abram lived in the presence of Tharrha his father, in the land in which he were born, in the country of the Chaldees.

And Abram took a wife, whose name was Sarai. 29 And Sarai was barren, and did not bear children. 30 And Tharrha took Abram his son, and Lot the son of Arrhan, the son of his son, and Sara his daughter-in-law, the wife of Abram his son, and led them forth out of the land of the Chaldees, to go into the land of Canaan, and they came as far as Charrhan, and he dwelt there. And all the days of Tharrha in the land of Charrhan were two hundred and five years, and Tharrha died in Charrhan.

And the Lord said to Abram, Go forth out of thy land and out of thy kindred, and out of thy father’s house, and I will make thee a great nation, and I will bless thee and magnify thy name, and thou shalt be blessed. And I will bless those.

that bless thee, and curse those that curse thee, and in thee shall all the tribes of the earth be blessed. 4 And Abram went as the Lord spoke to him, and Lot departed with him, and Abram was seventy-five years old, when he went out of Charrhan. 5 And Abram took Sara his wife, and Lot the son of his brother, and all their possessions, as many as they had got in Charrhan, and went forth to go into the land of Channaan. 6 And Abram traversed the land lengthwise as far as the place Sychem, to the high oak, and the Channanites then inhabited the land. 7 And the Lord appeared to Abram, and said to him, I will give this land to thy seed. 8 And Abram built an altar there to the Lord, who appeared to him. 9 And he departed thence to the mountain eastward of Bethel, and there he pitched his tent in Bethel near the sea, and Agag toward the east, and there he built an altar to the Lord, and called on the name of the Lord. 10 And Abram departed and went and encamped in the wilderness.

11 And there was a famine in the land, and Abram went down to Egypt to sojourn there, because the famine prevailed in the land. 12 And it came to pass when Abram drew nigh to enter into Egypt, Abram said to Sara his wife, I know that thou art a fair woman. 13 It shall come to pass then that when the Egyptians shall see thee, they shall say, This is his wife, and they shall slay me, but they shall save thee alive. 14 Say, therefore, I am his sister, that it may be well with me on account of thee, and my soul shall live because of thee. 15 And it came to pass when Abram entered into Egypt, that the Egyptians saw Sara, and praised her to Pharaoh, and brought her into the house of Pharaoh. 16 And they treated Abram well on her account, and he had sheep, and calves, and ass, and servants, and maidservants, and the maidservants of Sara, Abram's wife. 17 And Pharaoh having called Abram, said, What is this thou hast done to me, that thou didst not tell me that she was thy wife? 18 Wherefore didst thou say, She is my sister? and I took her for a wife to myself, and now, behold, thy wife is before thee, take her and go quickly away. 19 And Pharaoh gave charge to men concerning Abram, to join in sending him forward, and his wife, and all that he had.

20 And Abram went out of Egypt, he and his wife, and all that he had, and Lot with him, into the wilderness. 21 And Abram was very rich in cattle, and silver, and gold. 22 And he went to the place whence he came, into the wilderness as far as Bethel, as far as the place where his tent was before, between Bethel and Agagai, to the place of the altar, which he built there at first, and Abram there called on the name of the Lord. 23 And Lot who went out with Abram had sheep, and oxen, and asses. 24 And the land was not large enough for them to live to-somor king of Eiam, and Tharrel king of nations, and Amraphel king of Shinar, and Arinach king of Ellasar, the four kings against the fire. 10 Now the salt valley consists of slime-pits. And the king of Sodom fled and the king of Goorrha, and they fell in there: and they that were left fled to the mountain country. 11 And they took all the caviary of Sodom and Gomorrah, and all their provisions, and departed. 12 And they took also Lot the son of Abram’s brother, and his baggage, and departed, for he dwelt in Sodom.

13 And one of them that had been rescued came and told Abram the Hebrew; and he dwelt by the oak of Mamre the Amorite, the brother of Eschol, and the brother of Aunan, who were confederates with Abram. 14 And Abram heard that Lot his nephew had been taken captive, numbered his own home-born servants three hundred and eighteen, and pursued after them to Dan. 15 And he came upon them by night, he and his servants, and he smote them and pursued them as far as Choba, which is on the left of Damascus. 16 And he recovered all the caviary of Sodom, and he recovered Lot his nephew, and all his possessions, and the women and the people. 17 And the king of Sodom went out to meet him, after he returned from the slaughter of Chodollogomor, and the kings with him, to the valley of Saby; this was the plain of the kings.

18 And Melchisedek king of Salem brought forth loaves and wine, and he was the priest of the most high God. 19 And he blessed Abram, and said, Blessed be Abram of the most high God, who made heaven and earth, 20 and blessed be the most high God who delivered thine enemies into thy power. And Abram gave him the tithe of all. 21 And the king of Sodom said to Abram, Give me the men, and take the horses to thyself. 22 And Abram said to the king of Sodom, I will stretch out thy hand to the Lord the most high God, who made heaven and earth, 23 that I will not take from all thy goods from a string to a shoe-latchet, lest thou shouldst say, I have made Abram rich. 24 Except what things the young men have eaten, and the portion of the men that went with me, Eschol, Aunan, Mamre, these shall take a portion.

And after these things the word of the Lord came to Abram in a vision, saying, Fear not, Abram, I shield thee, thy reward shall be very great. 2 And Abram said, Master and Lord, what wilt thou give me? whereas I am departing without a child, but the son of Masek my home-born female slave, this Eliezer of Damascus is mine heir. 3 And Abram said, I am grieved since thou hast given me no seed, but my home-born servant shall succeed me. 4 And immediately there was a voice of the Lord to him, saying, This shall not be thine heir. 5 And he brought him out and said to him, Look up now to heaven, and count the stars, if thou shalt be able to number them fully: and he said, There shall thy seed be.

6 And Abram believed God, and it was

Verse 13 refers to the story of Lot and his nephews, Lot being taken captive. The narrative describes Abram’s response to this event, leading to a recounting of the blessings and rewards he received from God. The story highlights themes of faith, reward, and the divine protection of God’s people.
counted to him for righteousness. 7 And he said to him, I am God that brought thee out of the land of the Chaldeans, so as to give thee this land to inherit it. 8 And he said, Master and Lord, how shall I know that I shall inherit it? 9 And he said to him, Take for me an heifer in her third year, and a she-goat in her third year, and a ram in his third year, and a dove and a pigeon. 10 So he took it all these, and divided them in the midst, and set them before them, and parted them, neither did he put his hand upon them. 11 And birds came down upon the bodies, even upon the divided parts of them, and Abram set down by them. 12 And about sunset a trance fell upon Abram, and lo! a great gloomy terror falls upon him. 13 And it was said to Abram, Thou shalt surely know that thy seed shall be a sojourner in a land not their own, and they shall enslave them, and afflict them, and humble them four hundred years. 14 And the nation whomsoever they shall serve I will judge; and after this, they shall come forth with much property. 15 But thou shalt depart to thy fathers in peace, nourished in a good old age. 16 And in the fourth generation they shall return hither, for the sins of the Amorites are not yet filled up, even unto this day. 17 And when the sun was about to set, there was a flame, and beheld a smoking furnace and lamps of fire, which passed between these divided pieces. 18 In that day the Lord made a covenant with Abram, saying, To thy seed I will give this land, from the river of Egypt to the great river Euphrates. 19 The Kenites, and the Kenizzites, and the Edomites, and the Sidonians, and the Amorites, and the Chanaanites, and the Chittites, and the Amalekites, and the Chanaanites, and the Jebusites. 20 And Sara the wife of Abram bore him no children; and she had an Egyptian maid, whose name was Agar. 21 And Sara said to Abram, Behold, the Lord has restrained me from bearing, go therefore in to thy maid, that I may have seed by her.
thy mistress, and submit thyself under her hands. And the angel of the Lord said to her, I will surely multiply your seed, and shall call his name Ismael, for the Lord hath hearkened to thy humiliation. He shall be a wild man, his hands against all, and the hands of all against him, and he shall dwell in the presence of all his brethren. And she called the name of the Lord God who spoke to her, Thou art God who seest me; for she said, For I have openly seen him that appeared to me. Therefore she called the well, The well of him whom I have openly seen; behold it is between Cades and Barad. And Abram bore a son to Abram; and Abram called the name of his son which Agar bore to him, Ismael. And Abram was eighty-six years old, when Agar bore Ismael to Abram. And Abram was ninety-nine years old, and the Lord appeared to Abram and said to him, I am thy God, be well-pleasing before me, and be blameless. And I will establish my covenant between me and thee, and I will multiply thee exceedingly. And Abram fell upon his face, and God spoke to him, saying, And I, behold! my covenant is with thee, and thou shalt be a father of many nations. And thy name shall be called Abram. For I have made thee father of very many nations. And I will increase thee very exceedingly, and I will make nations of thee, and kings shall come out of thee. And I will establish my covenant between thee and thy seed after thee, to their generations, for an everlasting covenant, to be thy God, and the God of thy seed after thee. And I will give to thee and to thy seed after thee the land wherein thou sojournest, even all the land of Chanaan for an everlasting possession, and I will be to them a God. And God said to Abram, Thou also shalt fully keep my covenant, and thou and thy seed after thee for their generations. And this is the covenant that I will establish between me and you, and between thy seed after thee for their generations: every male of you shall be circumcised. And ye shall be circumcised in the flesh of your foreskin, and it shall be for a sign of a covenant between me and you. And the child of eight days old shall be circumcised by you, every male that is born to you generations, and the servant born in the house and he that is bought with money, of every son of a stranger, who is not of thy seed. He that is born in thy house, and he that is bought with money shall be surely circumcised, and my covenant shall be on your flesh for an everlasting covenant. And the uncircumcised male who shall not be circumcised in the flesh of his foreskin on the eighth day, that soul shall be utterly destroyed from its family, for he has broken my covenant. And God said to Abram, Sara thy wife—her name shall not be called Sara, Sarra shall be her name. And I will bless her, and give thee a son of her, and I will bless him, and he shall become nations, and kings of nations shall be of him. 17 And Abraham fell upon his face, and laughed, and spoke in his heart, saying, Shall a child be born to one who is a hundred years old, and shall Sarah who is ninety years old, bear? 18 And Abram said to God, Let this Israel live before thee. 19 And God said to Abram, Yea, behold, Sarah thy wife shall bear thee a son, and thou shalt call his name Isaac; and I will establish my covenant with him, for an everlasting covenant, to be with him and with his seed after him. 20 And concerning Ismael, behold, I have heard thee, and, behold, I have blessed him, and will increase him and multiply him exceedingly; twelve nations shall he beget, and I will make him a great nation. 21 But I will establish my covenant with Isaac, whom Sarah shall bear to thee at this time, in the next year. 22 And he left off speaking with him, and God went up from Abram.

23 And Abram took Ismael his son, and all his born-born servants, and all those bought with money, and every male of the men in the house of Abram, and he circumcised their foreskins in the time of that day, according as God spoke to him. 24 And Abram was ninety-nine years old, when he was circumcised in the flesh of his foreskin. 25 And Isaac his son was thirteen years old when he was circumcised in the flesh of his foreskin. 26 And at the period of that day, Abram was circumcised, and Ismael his son, 27 and all the men of his house, both those born in the house, and those bought with money of foreign nations.

And God appeared to him by the oak of Mamre, as he sat by the door of his tent at noon. 2 And he lifted up his eyes and beheld, and lo! three men stood before him; and having seen them he ran to meet them from the door of his tent, and did obeisance to the ground. 3 And he said, Lord, if indeed I have found grace in thy sight, pass not by thy servant. 4 Let water now be brought, and let them wash your feet, and do ye refresh yourselves under the tree. 5 And I will bring bread, and ye shall eat, and after this ye shall depart on your journey, on account of which refreshment ye have turned aside to your servant. And he said, So do, as thou hast said. 6 And Abram hastened to the tent to Sarah, and said to her, Hasten, and knead three measures of fine flour, and make cakes. 7 And Abram ran to the knee, and took a young calf, tender and good, and gave it to his servant, and he hasted to dress it. 8 And he took butter and milk, and the calf which he had dressed; and he set them before them, and they did eat, and he stood by them under the tree.

9 And he said to him, Where is Sarah thy wife? And he answered and said, Behold! in the tent. 10 And he said, I will return and come to thee according to this period seasonably, and Sarah thy wife shall have a son; and Sarah heard at the door of the tent, being behind him. 11 And Abram
And Sarrah was old, advanced in years, and the custom of women ceased with Sarrah.

And Sarrah laughed in herself, saying, The thing has not as yet happened to me, even until now, and my lord is old. And the Lord said to Abraam, Why is it that Sarrah has laughed in herself, saying, Shall I then indeed bear? but I am grown old.

Shall anything be impossible with the Lord? At this time I will return to thee seasonably, and Sarrah shall have a son. But Sarrah was afraid; for she was afraid. And he said to her, Nay, but thou didst laugh.

And the men having risen up from thence looked towards Sodom and Gomorrha. And Abraam went with them, attending them on their journey. And the Lord said, Shall I hide from Abraam my servant what things I intend to do? But Abraam shall become a great and populous nation, and in him shall all the nations of the earth be blest. For I know that he will order his sons, and his house after him, and they will keep the ways of the Lord, to do justice and judgment; and that the Lord may bring upon Abraam all things whatsoever he has spoken to him. And the Lord said, The cry of Sodom and Gomorrha has been increased towards me, and their sins are very great.

I will therefore go down and see, if they completely correspond with the cry which comes to me, and if not, that I may know. And he had not met with Abraam anything whatsoever he has spoken to him. And the Lord said, The cry of Sodom and Gomorrha was increased towards me, and their sins are very great.

I will therefore go down and see, if they completely correspond with the cry which comes to me, and if not, that I may know.

And he had not met with Abraam anything whatsoever he has spoken to him. And the Lord said, The cry of Sodom and Gomorrha has been increased towards me, and their sins are very great.

I will therefore go down and see, if they completely correspond with the cry which comes to me, and if not, that I may know.
And he said, I will not destroy it for the ten's sake. And the Lord departed when he left off speaking to Abraam, and Abraam returned to his place.

And the two angels came to Sodom at evening. And Lot sat by the gate of Sodom, and Lot had a son before them, grown up to meet them, and he worshipped with his face to the ground, and said, 3 I love my lords, turn aside to the house of your servant, and rest from your journey, and wash your feet, and having risen early in the morning ye shall depart on your journey. And they said, Nay, but we will lodge in the street. 4 And he constrained them, and they turned aside to him, and they entered into his house, and he made a feast for them, and baked unleavened cakes for them, and they did eat. 5 But before they went to sleep, the men of the city, the Sodomites, compassed the house, both young and old, all the people together, 6 And they called out Lot, and said to him, Where are the men that came to thee this night? Bring them out to us that we may be with them. 7 And Lot went out to them to the porch, and he shut the door after him, 8 and said to them, By no means, brethren, do not act villanously.

But I have two daughters, who have not known a man. I will bring them out to you, and do ye use them as it may please you, only do not injure to these men, to avoid their coming under the shadow of my roof. 9 And they said to him, Stand back there, thou camest in to sojourn, was it also to judge? Now then we will harm them no more. And they pressed hard on the man, even Lot, and they drew nigh to break the door. 10 And the men stretched forth their hands and drew Lot in to them into the house, and shut the door of the house. 11 And they smote the men that were at the door of the house with blindness, both small and great, and they were weary with seeking the door. 12 And the men said to Lot, Hast thou here sons-in-law, or sons or daughters, or if thou hast any other friend in the city, bring them out of this place. 13 For we are going to destroy this city; for their cry has been raised up before the Lord, and the Lord sent us to destroy it. 14 And Lot went out, and spoke to his sons-in-law who had married his daughters, and said, Rise up, and depart out of this place, for the Lord is about to destroy the city; but he seemed to be speaking abundantly before his sons-in-law. 15 But when it was morning, the angels hastened Lot, saying, Arise and take thy wife, and thy two daughters, whom thou hast, and go forth; lest thou also be destroyed with the iniquities of the city. 16 And they were troubled, and the angels laid hold on his hand, and the hand of his wife, and the hands of his two daughters, that the Lord spared him.

And it came to pass, when they brought them out, that they said, Save thine own life by all means. 17 Look unto that which is behind, nor stay all in the country round about, escape to the mountains, lest perhaps thou be taken over together with...
And Lot said to them, I pray, lord, since thy servant has found mercy before thee, and thou hast magnified thy righteousness, in what thou dost towards me that my soul may live, but I shall not be able to escape to the mountain, lest perhaps the calamity overtake me and I die. 20 Behold this city is near for me to escape thither, which is a small one, and there shall I be preserved, is it not little? and my soul shall live because of thee. 21 And he said to him, Behold, I have had respect to thee according to this thing, that I should not overthrow the city about which thou hast spoken. 22 Hasten therefore to escape thither, for I shall not be able to do anything until thou art come thither; therefore he called the name of that city, Segr. 23 The sun was risen upon the earth, when Lot entered into Segr. 24 And the Lord rained upon Sodom and Gomorrah brimstone and fire from the Lord out of heaven. 25 And he overthrew those cities, and all the country round about, and all that dwelt in the cities, and the plants springing out of the ground. 26 And his wife looked back, and she became a pillar of salt. 27 And Abram rose up early to go to the place, where he had stood before the Lord. 28 And he looked towards Sodom and Gomorrah, and towards the surrounding country, and saw, and beheld a flame went up from the earth, as the smoke of a furnace. 29 And it came to pass that when God destroyed all the cities of the region round about, God remembered Abram, and sent Lot out of the midst of the overthrow, when the Lord overthrew those cities in which Lot dwelt. 30 And Lot went out of Segr, and dwelt in the mountain; and he and his two daughters with him, for he feared to dwell in Segr; and he dwelt in a cave, he and his two daughters with him. 31 And the elder said to the younger, Our father is old, and there is not a man remaining also with us to go up to the father that night, and he knew not when he slept and when he rose up. 32 And it came to pass on the morrow, that the elder said to the younger, Behold, I slept yesternight with our father, let us make him drink wine in this night also, and do thou go in and sleep with him, and let us raise up seed of our father. 33 So they made their father drink wine in that night, and the elder went in and lay with her father that night, and he knew not when he slept and when he rose up. 34 And the two daughters of Lot conceived by their father. 35 And the elder bore a son, and called his name Moab, saying, He is of my father. This is the father of the Moabites to this present day. 36 And the younger also bore a son, and called his name Amman, saying, The son of my family. This is the father of the Amnites to this present day.

Genesis XX. 2—XXI. 4.

And God came to Abimelech by night in sleep, and said, Behold, thou diest for the woman, whom thou hast taken, whereas she has lived with a husband.

But Abimelech had not touched her, and he said, Lord, wilt thou destroy an ignorantly sinning and just nation?

And God said to him in sleep, Yea, I knew that thou didst this with a pure heart, and I spared thee, so that thou shouldest not sin against me, therefore I suffered thee not to touch her.

But now return the man his wife; for he is a prophet, and shall live.
day, as God commanded him. 4 And Abra-am was a hundred years old when Isaac his son was born. 5 And Sarrah said, The Lord has made laughter for me, for whomsoever shall hear shall rejoice with me. 6 And she said, Who shall say to Abram that Sarzha suckles a child? for I have born a child in my old age. 7 And the child grew and was weaned, and Abram made a great feast the day that his son Isaac was weaned.
8 And Sarrah having seen the said of Agar the Egyptian who was born to Abram, sporting with Isaac her son, 9 then she said to Abram, Cast out this bondwoman and her son, for the son of this bondwoman shall not inherit with my son Isaac. 10 But the word appeared very hard to Abram concerning his son. 11 But God said to Abram, Let it not be hard before thee concerning the child, and concerning the bondwoman; in all things whatsoever Sarrah shall say to thee, hear her voice, for in Isaac shall thy seed be called.
12 And moreover I will make the son of this bondwoman a great nation, because he is thy seed.
13 And Abram rose up in the morning, and took bread, and waters, and gave them to Agar, and he put the child on her shoulder, and sent her away, and she having departed wandered in the wilderness near the well of the oath. 14 And the water failed out of the skin, and she cast the child under a tree. 15 And she departed and sat down opposite him at a distance, as it were a bow-shot, for she said, Surely I cannot see the death of my child: and she sat opposite him, and the child cried aloud and wept.
16 And God heard the voice of the child from the place where he was, and an angel of God called Agar out of heaven, and said to her,
What is it, Agar? fear not, for God has heard the voice of the child from the place where he is. 17 Rise up, and take the child, and hold him in thine hand, for I will make him a great nation. 18 And God opened her eyes, and she saw a well of springing water, and she went and filled the skin with water, and gave the child drink. 19 And God was with the child, and he grew and dwelt in the wilderness; and became an archer. 20 And he dwelt in the wilderness; and his mother took him a wife out of Pharan of Egypt.
21 And it came to pass at that time that Abimelech spoke, and Ochozath his friend, and Phichol the chief captain of his host, to Abram, saying, God is with thee in all things, whatsoever thou mayest do. 22 Now therefore swear to me by God that thou wilt not injure me, nor my servants, nor my sons, but according to the righteousness which I have performed with thee thou shalt deal with me, and with the land in which thou hast sojourned.
23 And Abram said, I will swear. 24 And Abram reproved Abimelech because of the wells of water, which the servants of Abimelech took away. 25 And Abimelech said to Abram, Let me nothing but to-day, 26 and Abram took sheep and calves, and gave them to Abimelech, and both made a co- venant. 25 And Abram set seven eve-

29 And Abraham took Ellasar his son, and Lot the son of Haran, and their camels and their herds and their flocks, and they went out from Bashan. And they went along the plain to the valley of Achor, and came to Jericho and to the land of Canaan.

30 This is the account of the generations of Abraham. The days of Abraham the man were a hundred and seventy-five years.

31 And Abraham gave up the ghost, and died in a good old age, an old man, and full of days, and was gathered to his people. And Abraham breathed his last and died at a good old age in peace. And he was laid to rest, and his people laid him by his side.
saying, I have sworn by myself, says the Lord, because thou hast done this thing, and on my account hast not spared thy beloved son, 17 but surely blessing I will bless thee, and multiplying I will multiply thy seed as the stars of heaven, and as the sand which is in the shore of the sea; and thy seed shall inherit the cities of their enemies. 18 And in thy seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed, because thou hast hearkened to my voice. 19 And Abraam returned to his servants, and they arose and went together to the well of the oath; and Abraam dwelt at the well of the oath.

20 And it came to pass after these things, that it was reported to Abraam, 5 saying, Behold, Melchca herself too has born sons to Nachor thy brother, 21 and the first-born, and Baux his brother, and Cammel the father of the Syrians, and Chazad, and Azav and Phalades, and Jeldaph, and Bathuel, and Bathuel begot Rebecca; 22 these are eight sons which Melchca bore to Nachor the brother of Abraam. 23 And his concubine whose name was Rheuma, she also bore Tabeb, and Taam, and Tochos, and Mocha.

And the life of Sarrha was an hundred and twenty-seven years. 2 And Sarrhad died in the city of Arboc, which is in the valley, this is Ochebron in the land of Chanaan; and Abraam came to lament for Sarrha and to mourn. 3 And Abraam stood up from before his dead; and Abraam spoke to the sons of Chet, saying, I am a sojourner and a stranger among you, give me therefore possession of a burying-place among you, and I will bury my dead away from me.

And the sons of Chet answered to Abraam, saying, Not so, Sir; but hear thou us, and in the midst of us a king from God; bury thy dead in our choice sepulchres, for not one of us will by any means withhold his sepulchre from thee, that thou shouldest not bury thy dead there. 7 And Abraam rose up and did obedience to the people of the land, to the sons of Chet. 8 And Abraam spoke to the sons of Chet, saying, I will set it in your mind that I should bury my dead out of my sight, hearken to me, and speak for me to Ephron the son of Saar. 9 And let him give me the double cave which he has, which is in a part of his field, let him give it me for the money it is worth for possession of a burying-place among you. 10 Now Ephron was sitting before the children of Chet, and Ephron the Chettite answered Abraam and spoke in the hearing of the sons of Chet, and of all who entered the city, saying, 11 Attend to me, my lord, and hear me, I give to thee the field and the cave which is in it; I have given it thee before all my countrymen; bury thy dead. 12 And Abraam did obedience before the hearing of the people of the land. 13 And he said in the ears of Ephron before the people of the land, Since thou art on my side, hear me; take the price of the field from me, and I will bury my dead there. 14 But Ephron answered Abraam, saying, 15 Nay, my lord, I have heard indeed the, and is worth four hundred silver dinars, but let the dead be buried in thee, and the field, and the cave, do thou bury thy dead. 16 And Abraam and hearkened to Ephron, and Abraam rendered to Ephron the money, which he mentioned in the ears of the sons of Chet, four hundred hundred shekels of silver, current money, taken by the merchant.

And the field of Ephron, which was in Double Cave, which is opposite Mambre, the field and the cave, which was in it, and every tree which was in the field, and whatever is in its borders round about, were made sure to Abraam for possession of a burying place, by the sons of Chet.

And Abraam was old, advanced in days, and the Lord blessed Abraam in all things.

And Abraam said to his servant the elder of his house, who had rule over all his possessions, Put thy hand under thy thigh, and I will adjure thee by the Lord the God of heaven, and the God of the earth, that thou take not a wife for my son Isaac from the daughters of the Chananites, with whom I dwell, in the midst of them. But thou shalt go instead to my country, where I was born, and to my tribe, and thou shalt take from thence a wife for my son Isaac.

And the servant said to him, Shall I carry back thy son to the land whence thou camest forth, if haply the woman should not be willing to return with me to this land? And Abraam said to him, Take heed to thyself that thou carry not my son back thither.

The Lord the God of heaven, and the God of the earth, who took me out of my father's house, and out of the land of my birth, and who spake to me, and who swor to me, saying, I will give this land to thee and to thy seed, he shall send his angel before thee, and thou shalt take a wife for my son from thence.

And if the woman should not be willing to come with thee into this land, thou shalt be clear from my oath, only carry not my son thither again.

And the servant put his hand under the head of his master Abraam, and swore to him concerning this matter.

And the servant took ten camels of his master's camels, and he took of all the goods of his master with him, and he arose and went into Mesopotamia to the city of Nachor.

And he rested his camels without the city by the well of water towards evening, when damsels go forth to draw water.

And he said, O Lord God of my master Abraam, prosper my way before me to day, and deal mercifully with my master Abraam.

Lo! I stand by the well of water, and the daughters of them that inhabit the city come forth to draw water. And it shall be, the virgin to whomsoever I shall say, I incline thy water-pot, that I may drink, and she shall say, Drink thou, and I will give thy camels water. And I shall wash thy feet, and give thy camels water.

And it came to pass, as the damsels came forth to draw water, and I said to the elder of the damsels, Drink, I pray thee, a little water; and I will give thy camels water. And she said, Drink, and I will also furnish my camels with water.

And I said, Drink, and I will also give the live stock water. And she caused her water-bag to be filled, and she drank, and she gave also the live stock water. And I bowed down my head, and worshipped.

And I asked her, Whose daughter art thou? And she said, the daughter of Bethuel the son of Mischael, which is the brother of Abraam. And I bowed down my head, and worshipped. And I said, Blessed art thou of the Lord, which has done this thing, and hath shown thy kindness towards thy servant Abraam.

And the damsels ran and told their mother, saying, Behold, the man whom we proclaimed unto thee, behold he is come, and, lo, he has shepherded our sheep.

And the mother of Rebekah said, And his head is as the tower of Lebanon, and his height as the cedars. And the damsels ran and told their mother, saying, Behold, this man, of which we were speaking unto thee, behold he is come.

And Rebekah and her maidens came forth and emptied their water-bags, and bowed down and worshipped.

And Rebekah had not heard when Abraham sent his servant to take a wife for his son.

For it was toward even, when he sat weary, and his feet ached.

And the damsels ran and told their mother, saying, Behold, the man hath come, who we pronounced unto thee, he is come.

And Rebekah took her bower and her lap-stool, and she covered the well, and set her bower on the well's border, and she sat down on her lap-stool.
the daughter of Bethuel, the son of Melcha, the wife of Nachor, and the same brother of Abram, came forth, having a water-pot on her shoulders. 16 And the virgin was very beautiful in appearance; she was a virgin, a man had not known her; and she went down to the well, and filled her water-pot, and came up. 17 And the servant ran up to meet her, and said, Give me a little water to drink out of thy pitcher; 18 and she said, Drink, Sir; and she hasted, and let down the pitcher upon her arm, and gave him to drink, till he ceased drinking. 19 And she said, I will also draw water for thy camels, till they shall all have drunk.

And she hasted, and emptied the water-pot into the trough, and ran to the well to draw again, and drew water for all the camels. 21 And the man took great notice of her, and remained silent to know whether the Lord had made his way prosperous or not. 22 And it came to pass when all the camels ceased drinking, that the man took golden ear-rings, each of them of drachm weight, and put on two bracelets on her hands, their weight was ten pieces of gold. 23 And he asked her, and said, Whose daughter art thou? Tell me if there is room for us to lodge with thy father. 24 And she said to him, I am the daughter of Bethuel the son of Melcha, whom she bore to Nachor. 25 And she said to him, We have both straw and much provender, and a place for resting. 26 And the man, being well pleased, worshipped the Lord, 27 and said, Blessed be the Lord God of my master Abram, who has not suffered his righteousness to fail, nor his truth from me, and the Lord has brought me prosperous to the house of my lord. 28 And the damsel ran and reported to the house of her mother according to these words. 29 And Rebecca had a brother whose name was Laban; and Laban ran out to meet the man, to the well. 30 And it came to pass when he saw the ear-rings and the bracelets on the hands of his sister, and when he heard the words of Rebecca, singing. 31 Then the man spake to me, that he went to the man, as he stood by the camels at the well. 32 And he said to him, Come in hither, thou blessed of the Lord, why standest thou without, whereas I have prepared the house and a place for the camels? 33 And the man entered into the house, and unloaded the camels, and gave the damsel straw and provender, and water to wash his feet, and the feet of the men that were with him. 34 And he set before them loaves to eat; but he said, I will not eat, until I have told my errand. And he said, Speak on. 35 And he said, I am a servant of Abram; 36 and the Lord has blessed my master greatly, and he has given him sheep and cattle, silver and gold, servants and servant-maids, camels, and asses. 37 And Sarra my master’s wife bore one son to my master after he had grown old; and he gave him whatever he had. 38 And my master caused me to swear, saying, Thou shalt not take a wife to my son from the daughters of the Canaanites.

38 and she said: ‘May the Lord do so to me, and more also, if a man come out to meet me this way.’

39 And it came to pass, when she had not long lain down to sleep at his shoulder, that she said to him, ‘Set me down from this man, I pray thee, for I cannot bear to lie with a man all night.’ And he said to her, ‘Sawest thou any man in the field?’ She said, ‘No.’

40 And he said, ‘Then by the life of the Lord, I will set thee down from this man this night, so that thou shalt not bear to lay with a man.’ And he said, ‘By the life of the Lord, thou art sure to set me down this night.’

41 And he said to her, ‘Fear not; for man rejoiced in Israel, and she said, ‘Who is this man, that he is so courteous this night?’

42 And the Lord said to Rebekah his servant, ‘Behold, I will deal abundantly with him, and his descendants shall be great.’

43 And Rebekah arose, and said to her servant, ‘Draw for me a little water, and let me wash my feet, and ye wash the feet of your master’s servants.’

44 And the servant of Abraam said, ‘Well; I will draw water, and give ye, and thy Lord, and his servant.’

45 And May the Lord God of my master Abraam grant unto thee thy desire, and according unto all his oath, so I pray thee, may he do not unto thee evil, or cause thee to fall into the hand of an enemy.’

46 And the servant of Abraam drew water, and poured it out before his master’s feet in the vessel, and kneeled down to the ground, and worshiped, and blessed the Lord God of his master Abraam.

47 And he said, ‘If thou be of the kindness of the Lord, said to me, and shewed me this sign, and said: “Behold, thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bear a son; and I will give thee the land of this people.”

48 And she went, and told her mother, and her mother’s house, all these things.

49 And her mother and her sister said to her, ‘Have not I said to thee, and told thee, and warned thee, and put no泽 to thee, that thou shouldest take a husband of the children of the heathen?”

50 And she said, ‘By the life of the Lord, I will do as thou hast said; only de_INTERNAL_IMAGE_ Dagon, and I will worship the Lord. But the servant of Abraam was on his way to the Jordan, and he said to his master, ‘If the young lady be such as my master hath said;’

51 And he said, ‘I will do as thou hast said. And I will sit by the well of water, and see whether the young lady will come out to water.’

52 And it came to pass, when he had had done speaking in his heart, as he sat in the plain of the city by the well of water, which is between Shur and Elim, at the going down of the sun, that he said to his young man, ‘Draw water, and give, and I will wash my feet.’

53 And the servant of Abraam made ready his vessel, and laid it on the camels; and he said to his young man, ‘Hasten not, now, to draw water for my master’s camels, before I come to the house where the young lady dwelleth; for, lo, I will tarry this night at the house of the young lady.’

54 And the servant of Abraam came to the place of which the Lord had spoken unto him. And Rebekah wascomplished, and was gone to meet him, and she had made ready her jug, and went down to the well. And the young lady said to the servant of Abraam, ‘Sir, draw water, if the Lord hath shown kindness unto thee, draw for me, and for my mother, and for all whom she hath to water.’

55 And the young man hastened, and ran to the camels, and drove a herd of ten thousand camels of Abraam his master, and returned to Rebekah, and spake to her as it was commanded him.

56 And she said to him, ‘I will go, sir; bring me water, and give me water, and let me wash my feet.’ And she gave him water, and she washed his feet, and the vessels of silver and gold, that were on the camels.

57 And she said to the young man, ‘Be not afraid to draw for me, and for my mother, and for all whom I shall find water for.’

58 And he entered the house, and made ready food for his master, and made ready food also for Rebekah, and gave her water, and she washed her feet.

59 And it came to pass, when the young lady had done eating and drinking, that she said to the servant of Abraam, ‘Let me go, sir, to thy master; for I am weary.’

60 And the servant of Abraam said, ‘I will bring thee to thy master; and if it be so well with thee, then I will bring thy mother and sister to thy house.’

61 And the servant of Abraam said, ‘Hast thou well seen my master’s house, and the place where my master dwelleth?’

62 And the servant of Abraam said, ‘Now, therefore, swear to me by God, that thou wilt shew kindness unto my master, and shew them kindness, how thou dealtest with me this day, yea, and how thou knowest, and wilt shew kindness unto my master’s brother, and bring me to my master’s brother, and shew me kindness, as thou hast dealt with me this day, and be kind to me.’

63 And she said, ‘I will shew kindness to thee; therefore come, and let me know kindness of thee.’

64 And the servant of Abraam said, ‘Blessed be the Lord, the God of my master, which has shewed kindness unto his servant. Behold, thou hast now spoken, and the Lord will give thee of the seed of thy bosom; for thou hast brought good, for which reason, I said, the Lord hath shewed kindness to me.’

65 And Rebekah and her mother said, ‘The Lord hath spoken, saying, I will do well, and will shew kindness; who shall say, whom the Lord hath shewed kindness?’

nated, for the Lord has prospered my journey for me; send me away, that I may depart to my master. 8 And they said, Let us call the damsel, and enquire at her mouth. 9 And they called Rebecca, and said to her, Wilt thou go with this man? and she said, I will go. 10 So the sent forth Rebecca her sister, and her goods, and the servant of Abraam, and his attendants. 11 And they blessed Rebecca, and said to her, Thou art our sister; become thou thousands of myriads, and let thy seed possess the cities of their enemies. 12 And Rebecca rose up and her maids, and they mounted the camels and went with the man; and the servant having taken up Rebecca, departed.

13 And Isaac went through the wilderness to the well of the vision, and he dwelt in the land toward the south. 14 And Isaac went forth into the plain toward evening to meditate; and having lifted up his eyes, he saw camels coming. 15 And Rebecca lifted up her eyes, and saw Isaac, and she alighted briskly from the camel, 16 and said to the servant, Who is that man yonder, that walks in the plain to meet us? 17 And the servant said, This is my master; and she took her veil and covered herself. 18 And the servant told Isaac all that he had done. 19 And Isaac went into the house of his mother, and took Rebecca, and she became his wife, and he loved her; and Isaac was comforted for Sarrah his mother.

And Abraam again took a wife, whose name was Chettura. 2 And she bore to him Zonbrand, and Jezean, and Madal, and Madiam, and Jesboc, and Soie. 3 And Jezean begot Saba and Dedan. And the sons of Dedan were the Assurians and the Latusians, and Laomim. 4 And the sons of Madiam were Gevarh and Aparh, and Necho, and Abeda, and Eldaga; all these were sons of Chettura. 5 But Abraam gave all his possessions to his son Isaac to be his hereditary. 6 And Abraam gave gifts to his concubines, and sent them away from his son Isaac, while he was yet living, to the east into the country of the east. 7 And these were the years of the days of the life of Abraam as many as he lived, a hundred and seventy-five years. 8 And Abraam failing died in a good old age, an old man and full of days, and was added to the people. 9 And Isaac and Ismael his sons buried him in the double cave, in the field of Ephron the son of Saar the Chettite, which is over against Mamre: 10 even the field and the cave which Abraam bought of the sons of Chet; there they buried Abraam and Sarrah his wife. 11 And it came to pass after Abraam was dead, that Ismael and Isaac dwelt by the well of the vision. 12 And these are the generations of Ismael the son of Abraam, whom Agar the Egyptian the hand-maid of Sarrah bore to Abraam. 13 And these are the names of the sons of Ismael, according to the names of their generations. And these are the generations of Isaac the son of Abraam. 20 Abraam begot Isaac. And Isaac was forty years old when he took to wife Rebecca, daughter of Bathuel the Syrian, out of Syrian Mesopotamia, sister of Laban the Syrian. 21 And Isaac prayed the Lord concerning Rebecca his wife, because she was barren; and the Lord heard him, and his wife Rebecca conceived in her womb. 22 And the babes leaped within her; and she said, It will be so with me, why is this to me? And she went to enquire of the Lord. 23 And the Lord told her, There are two nations in thy womb, and two peoples shall be separated from thy belly, and one people shall excel the other, and the y elder shall serve the younger. 24 And the days were fulfilled that she should be delivered, and she had twins in her womb. 25 And the first came out red, hairy all over like a skin; and she called his name Esau. 26 And after this came forth his brother, and his hand took hold of the heel of Esau; and she called his name Jacob. And Isaac was sixty years old when Rebecca bore them. 27 And the lads grew, and Esau was a man skilled in hunting, dwelling in the country, and Jacob a simple man, dwelling in a house.
28 And Isaac loved Esau, because his venison was his food, but Rebecca loved Jacob.

9 And Jacob cooked pottage, and Esa came from the plain, fainting. 20 And Esa tsaid to Jacob, Let me taste of that red pottage, because I am fainting; therefore his name was called Edom. 21 And Jacob said to Esau, Sell me this day thy birthright. 22 And Esau said, Behold, I am going to die, and for what good does this birthright belong to me? 23 And Jacob said to him, Swear to me this day; and he swore to him, and Esau sold his birthright to Jacob. 24 And Jacob gave bread to Esau, and pottage of lentiles; and he ate and drank, and he arose and departed;
so Esau slighted his birthright.

And there was a famine in the land, besides the former famine, which was in the time of Abraam; and Isaac went to Abimelech the king of the Phylisteres to Gerara. 2 And the Lord appeared to him and said, Go not down to Egypt, but dwell in the land, which I shall tell thee of.
And sojourn in this land; and I will be with thee, and bless thee, and make thee for I will give to thee and to thy seed all this land; and I will establish my oath which I swore to thy father Abraam. 4 And I will multiply thy seed as the stars of heaven; and I will give to thy seed all this land, and all the nations of the earth shall be blest in thy seed. 5 Because Abraam thy father hearkened to my voice, and kept my injunctions, and my commandments, and my ordinances, and my statutes. 6 And Isaac dwelt in Gerara. 7 And the men of the place questioned concerning Rebecca his wife, and he said, She is my sister, for he feared to say, She is my wife, lest at any time the men of the place should slay him because of Rebecca, because she was fair. 8 And he remained there a long time, and Abimelech the king of Gerara leaned to look through the window, and saw Isaac sporting with Rebecca his wife. 9 And Abimelech called Isaac, and said to him, Is she then thy wife? why hast thou said, She is my sister? And Isaac said to him, I did so, for I said, Lest at any time I die in thy land. 10 And Abimelech said to him, Why hast thou done this to us? one of my men might have lain with thy wife, and thou wouldst have brought a sin of ignorance upon us. 11 And Abimelech charged all his people, saying, Every man that toucheth this man and his wife shall be liable to death. 12 And Isaac sowed in that land, and he found in that year barley an hundred-fold, and the Lord blessed him. 13 And the man was exalted, and advancing he increased, till he became very great. 14 And he had cattle of sheep, and cattle of oxen, and many tilled lands, and the Phylistines envied him. 15 And all the wells which the servants of his father had dug in the time of his father, the Phylistines stopped them, and filled them with earth. 16 And Abimelech said to Isaac, Depart from us, for thou art become much mightier than we. 17 And Isaac departed thence, and rested in the valley of Gerara, and dwelt there. 18 And Isaac dig again the wells of water, which the servants of his father Abraam had dug, and the Phylistines had stopped them, after the death of his father Abraam; and he named according to the names by which his father named them. 19 And the servants of Isaac dig in the valley of Gerara, and they found there a well of living water. 20 And the shepherds of Gerara strife with the shepherds of Isaac, saying that the water was theirs; and they called the name of the well, Injury, because they disputed him. 21 And having departed thence he dug another well, and they strove also for that; and he named the name of it, Emnity. 22 And he departed thence and dug another well; and they did not strive about that; and he named the name of it, Room, saying, Because now the Lord has made room for us, and has increased up our livestock upon the earth. 23 And he went up thence to the well of the oath. 24 And the Lord appeared to him in that night, and said, I am the God of Abraam thy father; fear not, for I am with thee, and I will bless thee, and multiply thy seed for the sake of Abraam thy father. 25 And he built there an altar, and called on the name of the Lord, and there he pitched his tent; and there the servants of Isaac dug a well in a valley of Gerar. 26 And Abimelech came to him from Gerar, and so did Oochoth his friend, and Phicol the commander-in-chief of his army. 27 And Isaac said to them, Wherefore have ye come to me? whereas ye hated me, and sent me away from you. 28 And they said, We have seen clearly that the Lord was with thee, and we have seen that an oath thou hast made to thee, and we have seen that thou hast sent good will. 29 And they made a covenant with him in that day, and Isaac came and told him of the well, and he sent them forth peaceably; and now thou art blessed of the Lord. 30 And he made a feast for them, and they ate and drank. 31 And they arose in the morning, and swore each to his neighbour; and Isaac sent them forth, and they departed from him in safety. 32 And it came to pass in that day, that the servants of Isaac came and told him of the well which they had dug; and they said, We have not found water. 33 And he called it, Oath; therefore he called the name of that city, the Well of Oath, until this day.

34 And Esau was forty years old; and he took to wife Judith the daughter of Beoch the Chettite, and Basemath, daughter of Helon the Chettite. 35 And they were provoking to Isaac and Rebekah.

And it came to pass after Isaac was old, that his eyes were dimmed so that he could not see; and he called Esau, his elder son, and said to him, My son; and he said, Behold, I am here. 2 And he said, Behold, I am grown old, and know not the day of my death. 3 Now then take thy weapons, both thy quiver and thy bow, and go into the plain, and get me venison, 4 and make me something to eat, that I may eat, and bless thee before I die. 5 And Rebecca heard Isaac speaking to Esau his son; and Esau went to the plain to procure venison for his father.

And Rebecca said to Jacob her younger son, Behold, I heard thy father speaking to Esau thy brother, saying, Bring me venison, and prepare me meats, that I may eat and bless thee before the Lord before I die. 8 Now then, my son, hearken to me, as I command thee. 9 And go to the cattle and take for me thence two kids, tender and good, and I will make them meats for thy father, as he likes. 10 And thou shalt bring them in to thy father, and he shall eat, that thy father may bless thee before he dies. 11 And Jacob said to his mother Rebecca, Esau my brother is a hairy man, and I a smooth man. 12 Peradventure my father may feel me, and I shall be before him as one ill-intentioned, and I shall bring upon me a curse, and not a blessing. 13 And his mother said to him, On me be thy curse, son; only hearken to my voice, and go and bring them me. 14 So he went and took and brought them to his mother; and his mother made meats, as his father liked them.

And Rebecca having taken the fine raiment of her elder son Esau which was with her in the house, put it on Jacob her younger son, and arrayed him with the skins of the kids, and on the bare parts of his neck. And she gave the meats, and the loaves which she had prepared, into the hands of Jacob her son. And he brought them to his father, and said, Father; and he said, Behold I am here; who art thou, son? And Jacob said to his father, I Esau thy first-born, have done as thou didst command me; rise, sit, and eat of my venison, that thy soul may bless me. And Isaac said to his son, What is this which thou hast quickly found? And he said, That which the Lord thy God presented before me. And Isaac said to Jacob, Draw nigh to me, and I will feel thee, son, if thou art my son Esau or not. And Jacob drew nigh to his father Isaac, and he felt him, and said, The voice is Jacob's voice, but the hands are the hands of Esau.

And he knew him not, for his hands were as the hands of his brother Esau, hairy; and he blessed him, and said, Art thou my son Esau? And he said, I am, am. And he said, Bring me some of the venison, that I may eat, and bless thee. And he brought it near to him, and he ate, and he drank, and he said, Come nigh, and kiss me, son. And he drew nigh and kissed him, and smelled the smell of his garments, and blessed him, and said, Behold, the smell of my son is as the smell of an abundant field, which the Lord hath blessed. And may God give thee of the dews of heaven, and of the fatness of the earth, and abundance of corn and wine. And let nations serve thee, and princes bow down to thee, and be thou lord of thy brother, and the sons of thy father's house bow the head to thee; bless thou the servants of thy father, and curse thy enemies. And Isaac said to Jacob, Thou shalt not touch me, that I may bless thee. And he said, I am thy mother's son only; I have not touched my father Esau. And Isaac his father said to him, Draw nigh to me, and I will feel thee, son, whether thou art my son Esau or not.

And he came near to Isaac, and he said, My son. And he said, Who art thou, my son? And he said, I am thy son Esau, thy first-born. And Isaac was amazed, and he said, Who then art thou? And he said, I am thy son, who art thou? And he said, I am thy father's son only; I have not touched my father Esau. And Isaac was amazed, and he said, My son, who art thou? And he said, I am thy son Esau, and I have done even as thou saidst. And he arose and blessed him; and he said, Behold, it is a new day; the hand of the Lord is with me. And he arose and bowed himself to Jacob seven times.

And Isaac said to Jacob, Arise, go to Padan Aram, to the house of Bethel, and abide there; for I have seen a vision of the Lord at Bethel, when I was sleeping on the field. And Jacob said, The Lord of heaven's armies sent me; and I am not worthy to look upon the day of my father Jacob. And he arose and dwelt in the land of Padan Aram; and Jacob made a vow to the Lord God of his father Isaac, saying, If God will be with me, and will keep me in this way that I go, and will give me bread to eat and clothing to wear, and make me father of nations, and father of kings, and shall multiply my seed and shall give unto me the land which thou didst promise to my father Abraham, then I shall curse thee, and not bless thee. And he dwelt in Padan Aram, and he dwelt in the cities of that land, and made his shield more powerful than any of the children of Giant, and went to Padan Aram to see his mother Rebekah. And Jacob saw the words of his father Isaac, and he cried out with a great and very bitter cry, and said, Bless, I pray thee, me also, father. And he said to him, Thy brother is come with fraud and taken thy blessing. And he said, Rightly was his name called Jacob, for lo! this second time has he supplanted me; and he has both taken my birthright, and now he has taken my blessing; and Esau said to his father, Haas.

And Esau was angry with Jacob because of the blessing, with which his father blessed him; and Esau said in his mind, Let the days of my father's mourning draw nigh, that I may slay my brother Jacob. 46 And the words of Esau her elder son were reported to Rebecca, and she sent and called Jacob her younger son, and said to him, Behold, Esau thy brother threatens thee to kill thee. 47 Now then, my son, hear my voice, and rise, and depart quickly into Mesopotamia to Laban my brother into Charran. 48 And dwell with him certain days, until thy mother's days be fulfilled.

And Esau a son of the woman, who was the wife of Isaac. 84 And the field and vineyard that were in Zemaraim, to which he removed them, did Laban give unto Rebecca. 85 And Rachel and Lea were granddaughters of Isaac, and the wives of Jacob. 86 And Jacob gave his maidens and children and house to Laban for a present.

And Jacob said unto Rachel and Lea, I will not go with you, unless thou givest me all that is here. 87 And they said, He is our father's brother, and he is the son of our mother, and we may not deal with him as with a stranger. 88 And Jacob gave them presents, and went up to Isaac his father, and said to him, I pray thee, give me thy son, thy son Ishmael, that we may bless him. 89 And Isaac said to Jacob, Where is thy mother? And he said, Here is thy son Ishmael, and he went in. 90 And Isaac said, Come near, and I will give thee my blessing. And he came near, and he blessed him. 91 And Jacob said, I pray thee, let me tell thee what is in my heart. 92 And his father blessed him, and said, Thou shalt bring me a blessing. 93 And Jacob said, I pray thee, give me the blessing of the Lord, because the Lord has made me prosperous in all things. 94 And I will go into Egypt, and I will not come back, unless thou give me my blessing. 95 And Isaac said, Come near, and I will give thee my blessing. And he came near, and he blessed him, and said, I pray thee, give me thy blessing. 96 And Jacob said, I pray thee, give me my blessing, because the Lord has given me prosperity. 97 And Isaac said, I pray thee, give me my blessing, because the Lord has made me prosperous in all things.
And came to a certain place and slept there, for the sun had gone down; and he took one of the stones of the place, and put it at his head, and lay down to sleep in that place; and dreamed, and behold a ladder set on the earth, and the top thereof reached unto heaven, and the angels of God ascended and descended on it.
And the Lord stood upon it, and said, I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. Fear not, the land on which thou liest, to thee will I give it, and to thy seed.
And thy seed shall be as the sand of the sea, and it shall spread abroad to the sea, and the south, and the north, and to the east; and in thee and in thy seed shall all the tribes of the earth be blessed.
And behold I am with thee to preserve thee continually in all the way wherein thou shalt go; and I will bring thee back into this land; for I will not leave thee until I have done that which I have said to thee.
And Jacob awaked out of his sleep, and said, The Lord is in this place, and I knew it not.
And he was afraid, and said, How fearful is this place! this is none other than the house of God, and this is the gate of heaven.
And Jacob rose up in the morning, and took the stone that he had set at his head, and set it up as a pillar, and poured oil on the top of it.
And he called the name of that place, the House of God; and the name of the city before was Ualam-zuz.
And Jacob vowed a vow, saying, If the Lord God will be with me, and guard me throughout on this journey, on which I am going, and give me bread to eat, and raiment to put on, and bring me back to safety to the house of my father, then shall the Lord be for my God.
And this stone, which I have set up for a pillar, shall be to me a house of God; and of all whatsoever thou shalt give me, I will tithe a tenth for thee.
And Jacob said, I am the son of Bethuel the Syrian, and the brother of Rebecca, mother of Jacob and Esau.
And he looks, and behold a well in the plain; and there were there three flocks of sheep resting at it, for out of that well they watered the flock, but there was a great stone at the mouth of the well.
And there were all the flocks gathered together, and they used to roll away the stone from the mouth of the well, and water the flock, and set the stone again in its place on the mouth of the well.
And Jacob said to them, Brethren, whence are ye? and they said, We are of Charran.
And he said to them, Know ye Laban, the son of Nachor? and they said, We do know him.
And Jacob said, it is yet high day, it is not yet time that the flocks be gathered together; water ye the flocks, and depart and feed them.
And they said, We shall not be able, until all the shepherds be gathered together, and they shall roll away the stone from the mouth of the well, then we will water the

While he was yet speaking to them, behold, Rachel the daughter of Laban came with her father's sheep, for she fed the sheep of her father. And it came to pass when Jacob saw Rachel the daughter of Laban, his mother's brother, and the sheep of Laban, his mother's brother, that Jacob came and rolled away the stone from the mouth of the well, and watered the sheep of Laban, his mother's brother. And Jacob kissed Rachel, and cried with a loud voice and wept. And he told Rachel that he was the near relative of her father, and the son of Rebecca; and she ran and reported to her father according to these words. And it came to pass when Laban heard the name of Jacob, his sister's son, he ran to meet him, and embraced and kissed him, and brought him into his house; and he told Laban all these sayings. And Laban said to him, Thou art of my bones and of my flesh; and he was with him a full month.

And Laban said to Jacob, Surely thou shalt not serve me for nothing, because thou art my kinsman; tell me what thy wages shall be. Now Laban had two daughters, the name of the elder was Leah, and the name of the younger, Rachel. And the eyes of Lea were weak. But Rachel was beautiful in appearance, and exceedingly fair in countenance. And Jacob loved Rachel, and said, I will serve thee seven years for thy younger daughter Rachel. And Laban said to him, It is better that I give her to thee, than that I should give her to another man; dwell with me. And Jacob served for Rachel seven years, and they were with him as few days, by reason of his loving her. And Jacob said to Laban, Give me my wife, for my days are fulfilled, that I may go in to her. And Laban gathered together all the men of the place, and made a marriage-feast. And it was evening, and he took his daughter Leah, and brought her in to Jacob, and Jacob went in to her. And Laban gave to his daughter Leah, Zelpha his handmaid, as a handmaid for her. And it was morning, and behold it was Leah; and Jacob said to Laban, What is this that thou hast done to me? Didst thou not agree to give me Rachel? and wherefore hast thou deceived me? And Laban answered, It is not so done in our country, to give the younger before the elder. Fulfil then her seven years, and I will give to thee also in return for thy labour, which thou labourest with me, yet seven other years. And Jacob did so, and fulfilled her seven years; and Laban gave him his daughter Rachel to wife. And Laban gave to his daughter Leah, Zelpha her handmaid, as a handmaid for her. now then my husband will love me. And she conceived again, and bore a second son to Jacob; and she said, Judah, for she said, This time will I thank the Lord; and she called his name, Judah. And she conceived again, and bore a third son; and she said, Nol, I will not bear any more, for my fruit is hurt. And she called his name, Emunah. And she conceived again, and bore a son; and she said, This time will I give thanks to the Lord; and she called his name, Basemah. And she conceived again, and bore a son; and she said, Now will I praise the Lord; and she called his name, Zaplander. And she conceived again, and bore a son; and she called his name, Dina. And God remembered Rachel, and she hearkened to his voice, and conceived. And Jacob went in to Rachel; and she conceived, and bare a son, and said, I have a man’s portion, now will I be comforted, because I have born six sons to my father’s son Jacob. And she called his name, Gad. And she conceived again, and bore a son, and said, God has given me my desire, again; and she called his name, Avid. And she conceived again, and bore a son; and she said, Now will I praise the Lord; for he has heard my loud cry, and given me a son. And she called his name, Asher. And she conceived again, and bore a son; and she said, God has granted me my desire, and has granted me my desire; and she called his name, Issachar. And she conceived again, and bore a son; and she said, Now will I praise the Lord; for he has added to my days of sorrow, and has granted me a son. And she called his name, Zebulun. And she conceived again, and bore a son; and she said, Now will I praise the Lord; for he has made me to bear a crown of men. And she called his name, Dan. And she conceived again, and bore a son; and she said, God has made me to be happy; and she called his name, Naphtali. And she conceived again, and bore a son; and she said, God has given me my desire, again; and she called his name, Gad. And she conceived again, and bore a son; and she said, God has helped me, and I have praised him; and she called his name, Levi. And she conceived again, and bore a son; and she said, Now will I praise the Lord; for he has made me fruitful after walking my toil. And she called his name, Judah. And she conceived again, and bore a son; and she said, God has made me happy, for he has added to me another son. And she called his name, Joseph. And she gave birth to a son, and said, God has made me happy, for he has added to me another son. And she called his name, Joseph. And she conceived again, and bore a son; and she said, Now will I praise the Lord; for he has made my soul fruitful, in the land of my sorrow. And she called his name, Addai. And she conceived again, and bore a son; and she said, God has given me my desire, again; and she called his name, Shechem. And she conceived again, and bore a son; and she said, God has not given me my desire; but even when I walked, he comforted me. And she called his name, Ebal. And she conceived again, and bore a son; and she said, God has set me up in the place of the dead; and she called his name, Tabernacle. And she conceived again, and bore a son; and she said, God has added a house to his house. And she called his name, Jonathan. And she conceived again, and bore a son; and she said, God has given me my desire, again; and she called his name, Simeon.
and he opened her womb. And she conceived, and bore Jacob a son; and Rachel said, God has taken away my reproach. And she called his name Joseph, saying, Let God add to me another son.

And it came to pass when Rachel had born Joseph, Jacob said to Laban, Send me away, that I may go to my place and to my land. 26 Restore my wives and my children, for whom I have served thee, that I may depart, for thou knowest the service wherewith I have served thee. 27 And Laban said to him, If I have found grace in thy sight, I would give thee a present. But what shall I give thee? 28 And Jacob said, Thou knowest in what things I have served thee, and how many cattle of thine are with me. 29 For it was little that I had before I came; and now Lord hath increased me again.

And he set a distance of a three days' journey between them and Jacob. 30 And Jacob took himself green rods of stramonium tree and walnut and peeled them in white stripes; and as he drew off the green, the white stripe which he had made appeared alternate on the rods. And he laid the rods which he had peeled, in the hollows of the watering-troughs, that whenever the cattle should come to drink, as they should have come to drink before the rods, the cattle might conceive at the rods. So the cattle conceived at the rods, and the cattle brought forth young speckled, and streaked and spotted with ash-coloured spots. And Jacob separated the lambs, and set before the sheep a speckled ram, and every varied one among the lambs, and he separated flocks for himself alone, and did not mingle them with the sheep of Laban. And it came to pass at the time when the cattle became pregnant, conceiving in the belly, Jacob put the rods before the cattle in the troughs, that they might conceive by the
And Jacob heard the words of the sons of Laban, saying, Jacob has taken all that was our father's, and of our father's property has he gotten all this glory. And Jacob saw the countenance of Laban, and beheld it was not toward him as before. And the Lord said to Jacob, Return to the land of thy birth and to thy family, and I will be with thee. And Jacob sent and called Leah and Rachel to the plain where the flocks were. And he said to them, I see the face of your father, that it is not toward me as before, but the God of my father was with me. And ye too know that with all my might I have served your father: But your father deceived me, and changed my wages for the ten lambs, yet God gave him not power to hurt me. If he should say thus, The speckled shall be thy reward, then all the cattle would bear speckled; and if he should say, The white shall be thy reward, then would all the cattle bear white. So God changed the lambs which were the cattle of your father, and given them to me. And it came to pass when the cattle conceived and were with young, that I beheld with mine eyes in sleep, and beheld the he-goats and the rams leaping on the sheep and the she-goats, speckled and variegated and spotted with ash-coloured spots. And the angel of God said to me, Jacob: and I said, What is it? And he said, Look up with thine eyes, and behold the he-goats and the rams leaping on the sheep and the she-goats, speckled and variegated and spotted with ash-coloured spots; for I have seen all things that Laban does to thee. And I am God that appeared to thee in the land of thy fathers, and will be with thee wherever thou goest, and will watch over thee, and will not leave thee until I have done that which I have spoken to thee. And Rachel and Leah answered and said to him, Have we yet a part or inheritance in the house of our father? Are we not considered strangers by him? For he has sold us, and quite devoured our money. All the wealth and the glory which God has taken from our father, it shall be our's and our children's; now then do whatsoever God has said to thee. And Jacob arose and took his wife and his children up on the camels, and he took away all his possessions and all his store, which he had gotten in Mesopotamia, and all that belonged to him, to depart to Isaac his father in the land of Channaan. And Laban went to shear his sheep; and Rachel stole her father's images. And Jacob hid the matter from Laban the Syrian, so as not to tell him that he ran away. And he departed himself and all that belonged to him, and passed over the river, and went into the mountain.
And it was told Laban the Syrian on the third day, that Jacob was fled. And having taken his brethren with him, he pursued after him seven days’ journey, and overtook him in the mount Galaad. And God came to Laban the Syrian to sleep by night, and said to him, Take heed to thyself that thou speak not at any time to Jacob evil things. And Laban overtook Jacob; and Jacob pitched his tent in the mountain; and Laban stationed his brothers in the mount Galaad. And Laban said to Jacob, What hast thou done? wherefore hast thou stealthily taken my daughter from me, and lead away my daughters as captives taken with the sword? Whereas if thou hadst told me, I would have sent thee away with mirth, and with songs, and timbrels, and harp. And I was not counted worthy to embrace my children and my daughters; now then thou hast wrought foolishly. And now my hand has power to hurt thee; but the God of thy father spoke to me yesterday, saying, Take heed to thyself that thou speak not evil words to Jacob. Now then go on thy way, for thou hast earnestly desired to depart to the house of thy father: wherefore hast thou stolen my gods? And Jacob answered and said to Laban, Because I was afraid; for I said, Lest at any time thou shouldst take away my daughters from me, and all my possessions. And Jacob said, With whomsoever thou shalt find thy gods, he shall not live in the presence of our brethren; take notice of what I have of thy property, and take it; and he observed nothing with him, but Jacob knew not that his wife Rachel had stolen them. And Laban went in and searched in the house of Lea, and found them not; and he went out of the house of Lea, and searched in the house of Jacob, and in the house of the two maid-servants, and found them not; and he went also into the house of Rachel. And Rachel took the idols, and cast them among the camels’ packs, and sat upon them. And she said to her father, Be not indignant, Sir; I cannot rise up before thee, because of the women; for this is the manner of women: Laban searched in all the house, and found not the images. And Jacob was angry, and strove with Laban; and Jacob answered and said to Laban, What is my injustice, and what my sin, that thou hast pursued after me, and that thou hast searched all the furniture of my house? And Laban answered and said, It is not so, my son; thou hast not found the gods of my house. And he said, What shall I give thee? and he answered, Thou shalt not give me aught. And Jacob said, Take, I pray thee, my children for my livestock, and my livestock’s offspring; and it shall be esteemed mine, if it shall come to thee.”
And Laban answered and said to Jacob. The daughters are my daughters, and the sons my sons, and the cattle are my cattle, and all things which thou seest are mine, and the property of my daughters; what shall I do to them to-day, or their children which they bore? 4 Now then come, let me make a covenant, both I and thou, and it shall be for a witness between me and thee; and he said to Laban, Behold, there is it one with us; behold, God is witness between me and thee. 5 And Jacob having taken a stone, set it up for a pillar. 6 And Jacob said to his brethren, Gather stones; and they gathered stones, and made a heap, and ate there upon the heap; and Laban said to him, This heap witnesseth between me and thee to-day. 7 And Laban called it, the Heap of Testimony; and Jacob called it, the Witness Heap. 8 And Laban said to Jacob, Behold, this heap, and the pillar, which I have set between me and thee; this heap witnesseth between me and thee; and this pillar witnesseth; therefore its name was called, the Heap of Testimonies. 9 And the vision of which he said—Laban looked to it between him and thee, because it was not so to depart from each other.—10 If thou shalt humble my daughters, if thou shouldst take wives in addition to my daughters, see, there is none one with us looking on. God is witness between me and thee. 11 And Laban said to Jacob, Behold, this heap, and this pillar are a witness between me and thee. 12 This heap is a witness between me and thee. Neither shouldst thou cross over unto thee, neither shouldst thou cross over from me, for mischief beyond this heap and this pillar. 13 The God of Abram and the God of Nahor judge between us; and Jacob swore by the Fear of his father Isaac. 14 And he offered a sacrifice in the mountain, and called his brethren, and they ate and drank, and slept in the mountain. 15 And Laban rose in the morning, and kissed his sons and his daughters, and blessed them; and Jacob had turned back, departed to his place. 16 And Jacob departed for his journey; and having looked up, he saw the host of God encamped; and the angels of God met him. 17 And Jacob said, when he saw them, This is the Camp of God; and he called the name of that place, Encampments. 18 And Jacob sent messengers before him to Esau his brother to the land of Seir, to the country of Edom. 19 And he charged them, saying, Thus shall ye say to my lord Esau: Thus saith thy servant Jacob; I have sojourned with Laban, and tarried until now. 20 And there were born to me oxen, and asses, and sheep, and men-servants and women-servants; and I sent to tell my lord Esau, that thy servant might find grace in thy sight. 21 And in the morning Jacob rose; and the messengers returned to Jacob, saying, We came to thy brother Esau, and lo! he comes to meet thee, and four hundred men with him. 22 And Jacob was greatly terrified, and was perplexed; and he divided the people that was with him, and the cows, and the camels, and the sheep, into two camps. 23 And Jacob said, If Esaoun should come to one camp, and smite it, the other camp shall be in safety. 9 And Jacob said, God of my father Abraham, and God of my father Isaac, the God of the mountain which I stood on that day, I said to him, Depart quickly to the land of thy birth, and I will do thee good.

10 Let there be to me a sufficiency of all the justice and all the truth which thou hast wrought with thy servant; for with this my staff I passed over this Jordan, now and I am become two camps. Deliver me from the hand of my brother, for I am afraid of him, lest haply he should come and smite me, and the mother upon the children. 11 But thou saidst, I will do thee good, and will make thy seed as the sand of the sea, which shall not be numbered for multitude. 12 And he slept there that night, and took of the gifts which he carried with him, and sent out to Esau his brother; 13 two hundred she-goats, twenty sheep, 14 milk camels, and their foals, thirty, forty, five, ten bulls, twenty asses, and ten colts.
15 And he gave them to his servants each drove apart; and he said to his servants, Go on before me, and put a space between drove and drove. 16 And he charged the first, saying, If thee, and the second and the third, and all that went before him among these flocks, saying, Thou shalt say to Esau when ye find him; 17 and ye shall say, Behold thy servant Jacob's; he hath sent gifts to my lord Esau, and lo! he is behind us. 18 And he charged the first and the second and the third, and all that went before him among these flocks, saying, Thou shalt say to Esau when ye find him; 19 and ye shall say, Behold thy servant Jacob's; he hath sent gifts to my lord Esau, and lo! he is behind us. 20 So the presents went on before him, but he himself lodged that night in the camp. 21 And he rose up in that night, and took of his brethren's servants, and of his cattle, and of his servants, and all that he had, and passed over before them, and came in the morning to the east of Mount Seir. 22 And he stole away two of the maid-servants, and of the herdsmen, and the sext of the camels, and the hundred sheep, and the two servants, and the maidservant, and the son of his secon he passed the Face of God; and he halted upon his thigh. Therefore the children of Israel will by no means eat of the sinew which was benumbed, being part of the thigh, until this day, because the angel touched the broad part of the thigh of Jacob— even the sinew which was benumbed.

And Jacob fled up his eyes, and beheld, and lo! Esau his brother coming, and four hundred men with him; and Jacob divided the children to Lea and to Rachel, and the two handmaids, and he put the children with the first, and Lea and her children behind, and Rachel and Joseph last. But he advanced himself before them, and did reverence to the ground seven times, until he drew near to his brother. And Esau ran on to meet him, and embraced him, and fell on his neck, and kissed him; and they both wept. And Esau looked up and saw the women and the children, and said, What are these to thee? And he said, The children with which God has mercifully blessed thy servant. And the maid-servants and their children drew near and did reverence. And Lea and her children drew near and did reverence; and after this drew near to Rachel and Joseph, and did reverence. And he said, What are these to thee? All these companies that I have met? And he said, That thy servant might find grace in thy sight, my lord. And Esau said, I have much, my brother; keep thine own. And Jacob said, If I have found grace in thy sight, receive my present, which my handmaid brought me. And Esau said, Let us depart, and proceed right onward. And he said to him, My lord knoweth that the children are very tender, and the flocks and the herds with me are with young; if then I shall drive them hard one day, all the cattle will die. Let my lord go on before his servant, and I shall have strength on the road according to the ease of the journey before me, and according to the strength of the children, until I come to my lord to Seir. And Esau said, I will leave with thee some of the people who are with me. And he said, Why so? It is enough that I have found favour before thee, my lord. And Esau returned on that day on his journey to Seir. And Jacob departs to his tents; and he made for himself there habitations; and he put up his tent, and he made booths; therefore he called the name of that place, Boisits.

And Jacob came to Seem, a city of Seem, which is in the land of Chanaan, when he departed out of the Mesopotamia of Syria, and took up a position in front of the city. And he bought the portion of the field, where he pitched his tent, from Emor the father of Seem, for a hundred lambs. And he set up there an altar, and called on the God of Israel.
And Dina, the daughter of Lea, whom he bore to Jacob, went forth to observe the daughters of the inhabitants. 2 And Sychem the son of Emmor the Evite, the ruler of the land, saw her, and took her and lay with her, and humbled her. 3 And he was attached to the soul of Dina the daughter of Jacob, and he loved the damsel, and he spoke kindly to the damsel. 4 Sychem spoke to Emmor his father, saying, Take for me this damsel to wife. 5 And Jacob heard that the son of Emmor had defiled Dina his daughter (now his sons were with his cattle in the plain), and Jacob was silent until they came. 6 And Emmor the father of Sychem went forth to Jacob, to speak to him. 7 And the sons of Jacob came from the plain; and when they heard, the men were deeply pained, and it was very grievous to them, because the man wrought folly in Israel, having lain with the daughter of Jacob, and so it must not be. 8 And Emmor spoke to them, saying, Sychem my son has chosen in his heart your daughter; give her therefore to him for a wife, and intermarry with us. Give us your daughters, and take our daughters for your sons. 9 And dwell in the midst of us; and you shall be our sons indeed. 10 Only do this, that we may give you the damsel for whom you have asked; only make and put on your hands you and your sons. 11 And the sons of Jacob said to their father, 12 What shall we do for our father and for our brothers? Would it be to be assigned to us and to the damsel among you, if ye also will be as we are, in that every male of you be circumcised. 13 And we will give our daughters to you, and we will take of your daughters for wives to us, and we will dwell with you, and we will be as one race. 14 But if ye will not hearen to us to be circumcised, we will not take your daughters for wives. 15 Only on these terms will we conform to you and dwell among you, if ye also will be as we are; and that every male of you be circumcised. 16 And we will give our daughters to you, and we will take of your daughters for wives to us, and we will dwell with you, and we will be as one race. 17 But if ye will not hearen to us to be circumcised, we will not take your daughters for wives. 18 Only on these terms will the men conform to you to dwell with us so as to be one people, if every male of us be circumcised, as they also are circumcised. 19 And shall not their cattle and their 8 herds, and their possessions, be ours? only in this let us conform to them, and they will dwell with us. 4 And all that went in at the gates of the city were hearkened to Emmor and Sychem his son, and they were circumcised in the flesh of their foreskin every male.

And it came to pass on the third day, when they were in pain, the two sons of Jacob, Symeon and Levi, Dina's brethren, took each man his sword, and came upon the city securely, and slew every male. 2 And Emmor and Sychem his son with the edge of the sword, and took Dina out of the house of Sychem, and went forth. 7 But the sons of Jacob came upon the y wounded, and ravaged the city wherein they had defiled Dina their sister. 3 And their sheep, and their oxen, and their asses they took, and all things whatsoever were in the city, and whatsoever were in the plain. 2 And they took captive all the persons of them, and all their store, and plundered both whatever things there were in the city, and whatever things there were in the houses. 30 And Jacob said to Symeon and Levi, Ye have made me hateful so that I should be evil to all the inhabitants of the land, both among the Chanaanites and the Pherezites, and I am few in number; they will gather themselves against me and cut me in pieces, and I shall be utterly destroyed, and my house. 31 And they said, Nay, but shall they treat our sister as an harlot?

And God said to Jacob, Arise, go up to the place, Bethel, and dwell there; and make there an altar to the God that appeared to thee, when thou fleddest from the face of Esau thy brother. 2 And Jacob said to his house, and to all that were with him, Remove the strange gods, which are with you from the midst of you, and purify yourselves, and change your clothes. 3 And let us arise, and go up to Bethel, and I will make there an altar to God, who hearkened to me in the day of calamity, who was with me, and preserved me throughout in the journey, by which I went. 4 And they gave to Jacob the strange gods, which were in their hands, and the ear-rings which were in their ears, and Jacob hid them under the turpentine tree which is in Seima, and destroyed them to this day. 5 So Israel departed from Seima, and the fear of God was upon the cities round about them, and they did not pursue after the children of Israel. 6 And Jacob came to Luz, which is in the land of Chanaan, which is Bethel, he and all the people that were with him. 7 And he pitched there an altar, and called the name of the place Bethel; for there God appeared to him, when he fled from the face of his brother Esau. 8 And Deborah, Rebecca's nurse, died, and was buried below Bethel under the oak; and Jacob called its name, The Oak of Deborah. 9 And God appeared to Jacob once more in Luz, when he came out of Mesopotamia of Syria, and God blessed him. 10 And God said to him, Thy name shall be called Israel.

shall not be called Jacob, but Israel shall be thy name; and he called his name Israel.

And God said to him, I am thy God; increase and multiply; for nations and gatherings of nations shall be of thee, and kings shall come out of thy loins. And the land which I gave to Abraham and Isaac, I have given it to thee; and it shall come to pass that if thou wilt serve me, then shalt thou and thy seed after thee. And God went up from him from the place where he spoke with him. And Jacob set up a pillar in the place where God spoke with him, even a pillar of stone; and offered a libation upon it, and poured oil upon it. And Jacob called the name of the place in which God spoke with him, Bethel. And Jacob moved from Bethel, and pitched his tent beyond the tower of Gader, and it came to pass when he drew nigh to Chaburah, to enter into Ephratha, Rachel travailed; and in her travail she was in hard labour. And it came to pass in her hard labour, that the midwife said to her, Be of good courage; thou shalt have this son. And it came to pass in her giving up the ghost (for she was dying), that she called his name, The son of my pain; but his father called his name Benjamin. So Rachel died, and was buried in the way of Ephratha, this is Bethleem.

And Jacob set up a pillar on her tomb; this is the pillar on the tomb of Rachel, until this day. And Israel dwelt in that land, that Ruben went and lay with Balla, the concubine of his father Jacob; and Israel heard, and the thing appeared grievous before him.

And the sons of Jacob were twelve.

The sons of Lea, the first-born of Jacob; Ruben, Simeon, Levi, Judah, Issachar, Zebulun, and Benjamin, and Dan and Naphtali. And the sons of Rachel; Joseph and Benjamin. And the sons of Bilhah, the hand-maid of Rachel; Dan and Naphtali. And the sons of Zelphah, the hand-maid of Lea; Gadd and Asher. And the sons of Basemath, the daughter of Laban, the daughter of Leah; and the sons of Ada, the daughter of Elom the Chettite; and Olibama, daughter of Ana the son of Sebegon, the Evite; and Basemat, daughter of Ismael, sister of Nabaito. And Ada bore to him Eliphaz, and Basemat bore Ragueal. And Olibama bore Jeus, Jegim, and Core; these are the sons of Esau, which were born to him in the land of Chanaan. And Esau took to himself wives of the daughters of Canaan; Adi, the daughter of Elom the Chettite; and Olibama, daughter of Ana the son of Sebegon, the Evite; and Basemat, daughter of Ismael, sister of Nabaito. And Ada bore to him Eliphaz, and Basemat bore Ragueal. And Olibama bore Jeus, Jegim, and Core; these are the sons of Esau, which were born to him in the land of Chanaan.
and all his cattle, and all that he had got, and all things whatsoever he had acquired in the land of Canaan; and Esau went forth from the land of Canaan, from the face of his brother Jacob. 7 For their substance was too great for them to dwell together; and the land of their sojourning could not bear them, because of the abundance of their possessions. 8 And Esau dwelt in Mount Seir; and Esau, he is Edom. 9 And these are the generations of Edom, the father of the children of Edom, in their generations. 10 These are the names of the sons of Esau, Eliphaz, the son of Ada, the wife of Esau; and Reuel, the son of Basemath, the wife of Esau. 11 And the sons of Eliphaz were Teman, Omar, Showar, and Asa. 12 And Basemath, the wife of Eliphaz, bore Amalech to Eliphaz. 13 These are the sons of Ada, the wife of Esau. 14 And these are the sons of Reuel, Naorchah, Soar, and Amsa. 15 These were the sons of Seir, the Horite. 16 These are the chiefs of the children of Esau in their offspring. 17 These are the sons of Ada: Teman, Omar, Showar, and Asa. 18 These are the sons of Seir; the Horite, attorney: 19 These are the sons of Seir, and the line of Seir, in the land of Edom. 20 These are the genera tions of Seir: The sons of Seir were Choreith. 21 And these are the chiefs of the Horite, the clans of those of Seir: 22 These are the sons of Ada: Teman, Omar, Showar, and Asa. 23 These are the sons of Seir; the Horite, attorney: 24 These are the sons of Seir in the land of Edom: 25 These are the sons of Ada: Teman, Omar, Showar, and Asa. 26 These are the sons of Ada; Teman, Omar, Showar, and Asa. 27 These are the sons of Seir, the Horite, attorney: 28 These are the sons of Ada: Teman, Omar, Showar, and Asa. 29 These are the sons of Seir, and the line of Seir, in the land of Edom. 30 These are the genera tions of Seir: The sons of Seir were Choreith. 31 And these are the kings which reigned in Edom, before a king reigned in Israel. 32 And Balak, son of Beor, reigned in Edom; and the name of his city was Dedan. 33 And Balak died; and Jobab, son of Zara, from Bosorhrah reigned in his stead. 34 And
And Jacob dwelt in the land where his father sojourned, in the land of Chanaan. And these are the generations of Jacob. And Joseph was seventeen years old, feeding the sheep of his father with his brethren; and his brethren hated him, and could not speak any good word to him. And Joseph dreamed a dream, and reported it to his brethren. And he said to them, Hear this dream which I have dreamed. I thought ye were binding sheaves in the middle of the field, and my sheaf stood up and was erected, and your sheaves turned round, and did obeisance to my sheaf. And his brethren said to him, Shall thou indeed reign over us, or shall thou indeed be lord over us? And they hated him still more for his dreams and for his words. And he dyedreamed another dream, and related it to his father, and to his brethren, and said, Behold, I have dreamed another dream: as it was the sun, and the moon, and the eleven stars did me reverence. And his father requaked him, and said to him, What is this dream which thou hast dreamed? shall indeed both I and thy mother and thy brethren come and bow before thee to the earth? And his brethren envied him; but his father observed the saying. And his brethren went to feed the sheep of their father to Sychem. And Israel said to Joseph, Do not thy brethren feed their flock in Sychem? Come, I will go to thee to them: and he said to him, Behold, I am here. And Israel said to him, Go and see if thy brethren feed their flock in Sychem; and bring me word: and he sent him out of the valley of Chebron, and he came to Sychem. And a man found him wandering in the field; and the man asked him, saying, What seekest thou? And he said, I am seeking my brethren; tell me where they feed their flocks. And the man said to him, They have departed hence, for I heard them saying, Let us go to Dothan; and Joseph went after his brethren, and found them in Dothan.

And they spied him from a distance before he drew nigh to them, and they wickedly took counsel to slay him. And each said to his brother, Behold, that dreamer cometh. Now then come, let us kill him, and cast him into one of the pits; and we will say, An evil wild beast has devoured him; and we shall see what his dreams will be. And Ruben having heard it, rescued him out of their hands, and said, Let us not kill him.

And Ruben said to them, Shed not blood; cast him into one of these pits in the wilderness, but do not lay your hand upon him; that he might rescue him out of their hands, and restore him to his father. And he came to pass, when Joseph came to his brethren, that they stripped Joseph of his many-coloured coat that was upon him. And they took him and cast him into the pit; and the pit was empty, it had not water. And they sat down to eat bread; and having lifted up their eyes they beheld, and lo, Ishmaelish travellers came from Gabaad, and their camels were heavily loaded with spices, and resin, and myrrh; and they went to bring them to Egypt.

And Judas said to his brethren, What profit is it if we slay our brother, and conceal his blood? Come, let us sell him to these Ishmaelites, but let not our hands be upon him, because he is our brother and our flesh; and his brethren hearkened. And the man, the merchants of Madian, went by, and they drew and lifted Joseph out of the pit, and sold Joseph to the Ishmaelites for twenty pieces of gold; and they brought Joseph down into Egypt. And Ruben returned to the pit, and sees not Joseph in the pit; and he rent his garments.

And he returned to his brethren and said, The boy is not; I, whither am I yet to go? And having taken the coat of Joseph, they slew a kid of the goats, and stained the coat with the blood. And they sent the coat of many colours; and they brought it to their father, and said, This have we found; know if it be thy son's coat or no. And he recognised it, and said, It is my son's coat; an evil wild beast has devoured him; a wild beast has carried off Joseph.

And Jacob rent his clothes, and put sackcloth on his loins, and mourned for his son many days. And all his sons and his daughters gathered themselves together, and came to comfort him; but he would not be comforted, saying, I will go down to my son mourning to Hades; and his father wept for him. And the Madianites sold Joseph into Egypt.

And it came to pass at that time that Judas went down from his brethren, and came as far as to a certain man of the hillmen, whose name was Iras. 2 And Judas saw there the daughter of a Chanaanitish man, whose name was Sava; and he took her, and went in to her. 3 And she conceived and bore a son, and called his name, Er. 4 And she conceived and bore a son again; and called his name, Aunan. 5 And she again bore a son; and she called his name, Sava. 6 And she was in Chabiti when she bore them. 7 And Judas took a wife for Er his first-born, whose name was Thamar. 8 And Er, the first-born of Judas, was wicked before the Lord; and God killed him. 9 And Judas said to Aunan, Go in to thy brother's wife, and marry her as her brother-in-law, and raise up seed to thy brother. 10 And Aunan, knowing that the seed should not be his, went in to her, when he went in to his brother's wife, that he spilled it upon the ground, so that he should not give seed to his brother's wife. 11 And his doing this appeared evil before God; and he slew him also.

12 And Judas said to Thamar, his daughter-in-law, Sit thou a widow in the house of thy father-in-law, until Selom my son be born; for he said, lest he also die as his brethren; and Thamar departed, and sat in the house of her father. 13 And the days were fulfilled, and Sava the wife of Judas died; and Judas being in sorrow for her, went to her, and knew her, and she conceived and bore a son. 14 And Judas was sorrowful that she had conceived and bore a son, and knew it not, and was in sorrow for her. 15 And it came to pass, when Judas saw her, he thought her to be a harlot; for she covered her face, and he knew her not. 16 And he went out of his way to her, and said to her, Let me come in to thee; for he knew not that she was his daughter-in-law; and she said, What wilt thou give me if thou shouldest come in to me? 17 And he said, I will send thee a kid of the goats from my flock; and she said, Well, if thou wilt give me an earnest, until thou send it. 18 And he said, What is the earnest that I shall give thee? and she said, Thy ring, and thy bracelet, and the staff in thy hand; and he gave them to her, and went in to her, and she conceived by him. 19 And she arose and departed, and took her veil from off her, and put on the garments of her widowhood. 20 And Judas sent the kid of the goats by the hand of his shepherd the Oddalumite, to receive the pledge from the woman; and he found her not. 21 And he asked the men of the place, Where is the harlot who was in Ænan by the way-side? and they said, There was no harlot. 22 And he returned to Judas, and said, I have not found her; and the man of the place say, There be no harlot here. But and Judah said, Let her have them, but let us not be ridiculed; I sent this kid, but thou hast not found her. And it came to pass after three months, that it was told Judas, saying, Thamar thy daughter-in-law has grievously played the harlot, and behold she is with child by whoredom, and Judas said, Bring her forth, and let him be hanged. And as they were bringing her, she sent to her father-in-law, saying, I am with child by the man these things are; and she said, Whose is this ring and bracelet and staff. And Judas knew them, and said, Thamar is cleared rather than I, forasmuch as I gave her not to Selom my son; and he knew her not again. And it came to pass when she was in labour, that she also had twins in her womb. And it came to pass as she was bringing forth, one thrust forth his hand, and the midwife having taken hold of it, bound upon his hand a scarlet thread, saying, This one shall come out first. And when he drew back his hand, then that which came forth first kept for the woman; and she said, Why has the barrier been cut through because of thee? and she called his name, Phares. And after this came forth his brother, on whose hand was the scarlet thread; and she called his name, Zara.

And Joseph was brought down to Egypt; and Peteppheres the eunuch of Pharaoh, the captain of the guard, an Egyptian, bought him of the hands of the Ishmaelites, who brought him down thither. And the Lord was with Joseph, and he was a prosperous man; and he was in the house with his lord the Egyptian. And his master knew that the Lord was with him, and the Lord prospered in his hands whatsoever he happened to do. And Joseph found grace in the presence of his lord, and was well-pleasing to him; and he set him over his house, and all that he had he gave into the hand of Joseph. And it came to pass after that he was set over his house, and over all that he had, that the Lord blessed the house of the Egyptian for Joseph's sake; and the blessing of the Lord was upon all his possession in the house, and in his field. And he committed all that he had into the hands of Joseph; and he knew not of anything that belonged to him, save the bread which he himself ate. And Joseph was handsome in form, and exceedingly beautiful in countenance. And it came to pass after these things, that his master's wife cast her eyes upon Joseph, and said, Lie with me. But he would not; but said to his master's wife, If because of me my master knows nothing in his house, and has given into my hands all things that belong to him: and in this house there is nothing above me, nor has anything been kept back from me, but thou, because thou art his wife—how then shall this wicked thing, and sin against God? And when she talked with Joseph day by day, and he heartened not to her to sleep with her, so as to be with her, yet it came to pass on a certain day, that Joseph went into the house to do his business, and there was no one of the household within. "And she caught hold of him by his clothes, and said, Lie with me; and leaving half his clothes in her hands, he fled, and went forth. And it came to pass, when she saw that he had left his clothes in her hands, and fled, and gone forth, that she called those that were in the house, and spoke to them, saying, See, he has brought in to us a Hebrew servant to mock me, to say, Lie with me, and I will give thee no silver; and I said unto him, Shall I Mock my Lord? And when he heard that I lifted up my voice and cried, having left his clothes with me, he fled, and went forth out. So she leaves the clothes by her, until the master came to his house. And she spoke to him according to these words, saying, The Hebrew servant, whom thou broughtest in to me, came in to me to mock me, and said to me, I will lie with thee. And when he heard that I lifted up my voice and cried, having left his clothes with me, he fled and departed forth. And it came to pass, when his master heard all the words of his wife, that she spoke to him, saying, Thus did thy servant to me, that he was very angry.

And the master took Joseph, and cast him into the prison; and the chief of the prison came before Pharaoh, whereinto Joseph had been led. And the chief of the prison committed them to Joseph, and he stood by them; and they were many days in the prison. And they both had a dream in one night; and the vision of the dream of the chief cupbearer and chief baker, who belonged to the king of Egypt, who were in the prison, was this. Joseph went in to them in the morning, and saw them, and they had been troubled. And he asked the eunuchs of Pharaoh who were with him in the prison with his master, saying, Why is it that your countenances are sad to-day? And they said to him, We have seen a dream, and there is no interpreter of it. And Joseph said to them, Is not the interpretation of them through God? Tell them then to me. And the chief cupbearer related his dream to Joseph, and said, In my dream a vine was before me. And in the vine were three branches; and it budded shot forth blossoms; the clusters of grapes were
And Joseph interpreted the former dream of the chief baker and of the chief cupbearer. Then Joseph said to Pharaoh, "The chief baker’s dream is: he returned to his place; the seven lean ears of grain are seven years of famine. And the dream of the chief cupbearer is: he returned to his place; the three ears of grain are three days. And it shall come to pass, when Pharaoh casts this dream, if he finds favor in your eyes, and if he hearkens to your words, according to your words, then appoint you as a ruler over the land of Egypt. But if not, then remember me when it is well with you; and show kindness also to your household, and to me, and do me kind service: for I have been a stranger in the land of Egypt. I have not eaten bread without money, and have not drunk wine until I became thirsty. And also I was not an umpire over the people; neither had the chief of the people ruled over me. Why then have I found favor in your eyes, that you have appointed me as a ruler over this great people?" And Pharaoh said to Joseph, "I have done it, according to your words; for I have appointed you as ruler over the land of Egypt." Then Pharaoh said to Joseph, "Come, I will take counsel with you; and that which is good shall be done for you. sehen i the sleep of the night, and see seven lean cows coming up out of the river, and seven full ears of corn growing up out of the field; and the lean and the full, they came up together: and the seven lean cows devoured the seven full cows; and also the seven full ears devoured the seven empty ears; and Pharaoh awoke. And he slept again, and dreamed, and saw seven black locusts; and seven green locusts, which devoured the seven green ears of corn that were in the field. And Pharaoh awoke, and behold, it was a dream. And Pharaoh slept again, and dreamed, and saw seven scarlet red flies, which devoured the seven other flies which were on all the bread of the field. And Pharaoh awoke, and behold, it was a dream. And he sent and called for all the magicians of Egypt and all the wise men of the land; and Pharaoh related to them in their presence all that Pharaoh had dreamt. Then there were seven cows, very fat, which came up out of Egypt; and seven ears of corn, full and good, which grew up in the land of Egypt. And Pharaoh dreamed, and behold, there came a dream upon Pharaoh, and behold, seven cows, very fat and very fair, came up out of Egypt; and seven ears of corn full and fair, grew up in the land of Egypt. And behold, seven lean and sickly cows came up out of Egypt after them. And seven empty ears of grain, blasted with the east wind, grew up after them. And Pharaoh awoke; and behold it was a dream. And the second dream was told to Pharaoh, and the second dream of which Pharaoh told was as the first dream. Then Pharaoh awoke, and he said to his servants, "Can there be any man of wisdom and understanding in this land, that I may get him to interpret to me this dream?" So the butlers and the chief bakers told Pharaoh, "We have found a certain young man of the Hebrews; he was a servitor of the Hebrews, and he said to Pharaoh, 'I discern dreams and interpret visions.'" And Pharaoh said to Joseph, "I have seen a dream, and there is none that can interpret it: but I have heard say of thee, that thou canst discern dreams and interpret visions. Now therefore, "Tell me the interpretation of the dreams that I have dreamed. For behold, there was an interpretation in my dream, and there was an interpretation for Pharaoh's seven cows, and for Pharaoh's seven ears of corn. Seven fat cows came up out of Egypt; and seven other lean and sickly, came up after them out of Egypt; seven full ears of corn grew up after them out of Egypt; and seven empty ears of corn, blasted with the east wind, grew up after them. So he told it to Pharaoh; and Pharaoh said to Joseph, 'Surely God hath found thee a man upright and there is none that shall dissemble in thy presence after this manner.' And Pharaoh said to Joseph, "I have decided to put thee over all the land of Egypt." Then Pharaoh made Joseph the ruler over the land of Egypt, and Pharaoh said unto him, 'Be master over my house, and only according to thy word shall all men of the land be to thee.' And he made him an officer over the men of the land; and he appointed him ruler over all that he had; from the end of the pyramid even unto Pharaoh's throne." guard, both me and the chief baker. And we had a dream both in one night, I and he: we saw, each according to his dream.

And there was with us a young man, a Hebrew servant of the captain of the guard; and we related to him our dreams, and he interpreted them to us. And it came to pass, as he interpreted to us them, so it was applied; and we took no more occasion of dreams.

And Pharao lifted up my countenance, and called me, and I was set over the house of Pharaoh; and I was master over all that was in his house, and a chief ruler over all the land of Egypt.

And Joseph answered Pharaoh and said, Without God will I not lift up this head. And Pharao spake to Joseph, saying, I have seen a vision, and there is no one to interpret it; but I have heard, saying concerning thee that thou didst hear dreams and interpret them. And Joseph answered Pharaoh and said, The dreams of Pharaoh are one; God will shew Pharaoh what it shall be.

And seven years shall come of plentiful rain, that shall water the land, so that the land may yield her bread; and seven years of famine, which shall destroy the price of bread, and shall make it as evil as it was in the former days of Pharaoh.

And let them gather all the food of these seven good years that are coming, and let the corn be gathered under the hand of Pharaoh; let food be stored in the cities.
And the stored food shall be for the land against the seven years of famine, which shall be in the land of Egypt; and the land shall not be utterly destroyed by the famine.
And the word was pleasing in the sight of Pharaoh, and in the sight of all his servants.
And Pharaoh said to all his servants, Shall we find such a man as this, who has the Spirit of God in him? 37 And Pharaoh said to Joseph, Since God has shewed thee all these things, there is not a wiser or more prudent man than thou. 38 Thou shalt be over my house, and all my people shall be obedient to thy word; only in the throne will I excel thee.
And Pharaoh said to Joseph, Behold, I set thee this day over all the land of Egypt.
And Pharaoh took his ring off his hand, and put it on the hand of Joseph; and put on him a robe of fine linen, and put a necklace of gold about his neck.
And he mounted him on the second of his chariots, and a herald made proclamation before him; and he set him over all the land of Egypt.
And Joseph went out from the presence of Pharaoh, and went through all the land of Egypt. 41 And Joseph gathered the corn as an heap in all the land of Egypt. 42 And Pharaoh said to Joseph, preserving all the corn that was in the land of Egypt. And Joseph gathered the corn of the seven good years, and laid up corn in the cities, and all the ground of Egypt was full of corn.
And Joseph gathered very much corn, as the sand of the sea, until it could not be numbered, for there was no number of it.
And to Joseph were born two sons, before the seven years of famine came, which Aseneth, the daughter of Petephres, priest of Heliopolis, bare to him. 46 And Joseph was thirty years old when he stood before Pharaoh, king of Egypt. And Joseph went out from the presence of Pharaoh, and went through all the land of Egypt. 47 And the land produced, in the seven years of plenty, whole handfulls of corn. 48 And he gathered all the food of the seven years, in which was the plenty in the land of Egypt; and he laid up the food in the cities; the food of the fields of a city round about the he laid up in it. 49 And Joseph gathered very much corn, as the sand of the sea, until it could not be numbered, for there was no number of it.
And Joseph called the name of the first-born, Manasse; for God, said he, has made me forget all my toils, and all the father's house. 32 And he called the name of the second, Ephraim; for God, said he, has increased me in the land of my humiliation.
And the seven years of plenty passed away, which were in the land of Egypt. 34 And the seven years of famine came, as Joseph said; and there was a famine in all the land; but in all the land of Egypt there was bread. 35 And all the land of Egypt was hungry; and the people cried to Pharaoh for bread. And Pharaoh said to all the Egyptians, Go to Joseph, and do whatsoever he shall tell you. 37 And the famine was on all the face of the land; and Joseph opened all the granaries, and sold to all the Egyptians.
And all countries came to Egypt to buy of Joseph, for the famine prevailed in all the earth.
And Jacob having seen that there was a sale of corn in Egypt, said to his sons, Why are ye indolent? Behold, I have heard that there is corn in Egypt; go down thither, and buy for us a little food, that we may live, and not die.

3 And the ten brethren of Joseph went down to buy corn out of Egypt. But Jacob sent not Benjamin, the brother of Joseph, with his brethren; for he said, Lest haply disease befall him. And the sons of Israel came to buy with those that came, for the famine was in the land of Chanaan. And Joseph was ruler of the land; he sold to all the people of the land. And the brethren of Joseph, having come, did reverence to him, bowing with the face to the ground. And when Joseph saw his brethren, he knew them, and estranged himself from them, and spoke hard words to them; and said to them, Whence are ye come? And they said, Out of the land of Chanaan, to buy food. And Joseph knew his brethren, but they knew not him. And Joseph remembered his dream, which he saw; and he said to them, Ye are spies; to observe the marks of the land are ye come. But they said, Nay, Sir, we thy servants are come to buy food; we are all sons of one man; we are peaceable, thy servants are not spies.

12 And he said to them, Nay, but ye are come to observe the marks of the land.

13 And they said, We thy servants are twelve brethren, in the land of Chanaan; and, behold, the youngest is with our father to-day, but the other one is not. And Joseph said to them, This is it that I spoke to you, saying, ye are spies; herein shall ye be manifested; by the health of Pharaoh, ye shall not depart hence, unless your younger brother come hither.

16 Send one of you, and let him take your brother; and go ye to prison, till your words be clear. How much more shall we know the truth or not; but, if not, by the health of Pharaoh, verily ye are spies.

17 And he put them in prison three days. And he said to them on the third day, This do, and ye shall live, for I fear God. If ye be peaceable, let one of your brethren be detained in prison; but go ye, and carry back the corn ye have purchased. And bring your younger brother to me, and your words shall be believed; but, if not, ye shall die. And they did so. And each said to his brother, Yes, indeed, for we are in fault concerning our brother, when we disregarded the anguish of his soul, when he besought us, and we hearkened not to him; and therefore has this affliction come upon us. And Ruben answered them, saying, Did I not speak to you, saying, Hurt not the boy, and ye heard me not? and, behold, his blood is required. But they knew not that Joseph understood them; for there was an interpreter between them. And Joseph turned away from them, and wept; and again he came to them, and spoke to them; and he took Simeon from them, and bound him before their eyes.
And Joseph gave orders to fill their vessels with corn, and to return their money to each into his sack, and to give them provision for the way; and it was so done to them. And having put the corn on the asses, they departed hence. And one having opened his sack to give his asses fodder, at the place where they rested, saw also his bundle of money, for it was on the mouth of his sack. And he said to his brethren, My money has been restored to me, and behold this is in my sack. And their heart was wonder-struck, and they were troubled, saying one to another, What is this that God has done to us? And they came to their father, Jacob, into the land of Chanaan, and reported it him all that had happened to them, saying, The man, the lord of the land, spoke harsh words to us, and put us in prison as spies of the land. And we said to him, We are men of peace, we are not spies. We are twelve brethren, sons of our father; one is not, and the youngest is with his father to-day in the land of Chanaan. And man, the lord of the land, said to us, Herein I will know that ye are peaceable; leave one brother here with me, and having taken the corn ye have purchased for your family, depart. And bring me your younger brother; then I shall know that ye are not spies, but that ye are men of peace: and I will restore you your brother, and ye shall trade in the land. And it came to pass as they were emptying their sacks, there was each man's bundle of money in his sack; and they and their father saw their bundles of money, and they were afraid. And their father Jacob said to them, Ye have bereaved me. Joseph is not, Symeon is not, and will ye take Benjamin? all these things have come upon me. And Ruben spoke to his father, saying, Slay my two sons, if I bring him not to thee; give him into my hand, and I will bring him back to thee. But he said, My son shall not go down with you, because his brother is dead, and he only has been left; and suppose it shall come to pass that he is afflicted by the way by which ye go, then ye shall bring down my old age with sorrow to Hades.

But the famine prevailed in the land. And it came to pass, when they had finished eating the corn which they had brought out of Egypt, that their father said to them, Go again; buy us a little food. And Judah spoke to him, saying, The man, the lord of the country, positively testified to us, saying, Ye shall not see my face, unless your younger brother be with you. If, then, thou send our brother with us, we will go down, and buy thee food; but, if thou send not our brother with us, we will not go; for the man said, I will not see thee, unless your younger brother be with you. And Israel said, Why did ye harm me, inasmuch as ye told the man that ye had a brother? And they said, The man closely questioned us about our family also, saying, Does your father yet live, and have ye a brother? and we answered him according to this question; did we know that he would say to us, Bring your brother?
And Judas said to his father Israel, Send the boy with me, and we will arise and go, that we may live and not die, both we and thou, and our store. 3 And I engage for him; at my hand do thou require him; bring him not to thee, and place him before thee, I shall be guilty toward thee for ever. 4 For if we had not harbied, we should now have returned twice. 5 And Israel, their father, said to them, If it be so, do this; take of the fruits of the earth in your vessels, and carry down to the man presents of gum and honey, and frankincense, and stacte, and turpentine, and almonds. 6 And his double money in your hands, and the money that was returned in your sacks, carry back with you, lest peradventure it is a mistake. 7 And take your brother; and arise, go down to the man. 8 And my God give you favour in the sight of the man, and send away your other brother, and Benjamin, for I accordingly as I have been bereaved, am bereaved.

And the men having taken these presents, and the double money, took in their hands also Benjamin; and they rose up and went down to Egypt, and stood before Joseph. 10 And Joseph saw them, and his brother Benjamin, both of the same mother; and he said to the steward of his household, Bring the men into the house, and slay beasts and make ready, for the men are to eat bread with me at noon. 11 And the man did as Joseph said; and he brought the men into the house of Joseph. 12 And the men, when they perceived that they were brought into the house of Joseph, said, We are brought in because of the money that was returned in our sacks at the first; even in order to inform against us, and lay it to our charge; to take us for servants, and our asses. 13 And having approached the man who was over the house of Joseph, they spoke to him in the porch of the house, saying, We pray thee, Sir; we came down at first to buy food; 14 and it came to pass, when we came to unlace, and opened our sacks, there was also this money of each in his sack; we have now brought back our money by weight in our hands. 15 And we have brought other money with us to buy food; we know not who put the money into our sacks. 16 And he said to them, God deal mercifully with you; be not afraid; your God, and the God of your fathers, has given you treasures in your sacks, and I have enough of your good money. And he brought Simeon out to them. 17 And he brought water to wash their feet; and gave provender to their asses. 18 And they prepared their gifts, until Joseph came at noon, for they heard that he was going to dine there. 19 And Joseph entered into the house, and they brought in the sack which was in the man’s hands, into the house; and they did him reverence with their face to the
And he said, Why does my lord speak according to these words? shall silver or gold be found in thy servant's house, that my lord should bring such things as these? 4 Then Joseph said, Far be it from me, my lord, that I should do such a thing: if the deed be found out, both I and my lord shall be guiltless thereof. 5 Now as he was riding on the high road, 6 behold, a chariot of Pharaoh came by; and upon it sat his officers: and he had a cup in his hand, and he drank; and he ensued him. 7 Then the officer of Pharaoh said to his officer, These young men have made themselves familiar in the king's presence. 8 And Joseph was in the chariot of Pharaoh, chief of his officers, and chief ruler of all the land of Egypt. 9 And Pharaoh said unto his officers, 10 Is there not another man in my service, whom I have kept back from the king's presence, to whom I have committed none of these things? and he was over my house, and over all that I possessed. 11 And there was no man so trusted in all Pharaoh's house, as to whom I had committed all that I possessed. 12 And this man was over all the land of Egypt. 13 And he made him to ride in the second chariot; and they cried before him, Bow the knee. 14 And he set him master over all the land of Egypt. 15 And Pharaoh said unto Joseph, 16 Now I have dreamed a dream, and there is none that can interpret it: and I have heard say of thee, that thou canst interpret dreams. 17 Then Joseph said unto Pharaoh, 18 My lord dreamed a dream: and, lo, a seven good ears of corn are filled with oil; and seven bad ears, and ears broken with hailstones. 19 And they answered Pharaoh's officers that did stand before him, 20 Behold, we have gathered an harvest of forty years; and lo, we have wasted away in forty years; because of Egypt; for no profit was made in Egypt in all the years thereof. 21 And it came to pass, when Pharaoh had spoken all these words unto Joseph, 22 that he said unto him, Say unto Pharaoh my lord, 23 1 blessing of God be upon my lord Pharaoh; and I shall be able to speak a word in his ears, that Pharaoh may set me in the land of Goshen. 24 And Joseph went and told Pharaoh, saying, 25 2 my lord Pharaoh, my mouth speaketh the words of God: for of a truth God did shew Pharaoh, saying, 26 3 go and fetch Joseph, and do all that he saith unto thee. 27 And Pharaoh said unto Joseph, 28 4 according to that which Joseph spake unto him, saying, 29 5 6 and the corn of the seven years, which was in the land of Egypt, came to be wanting. 30 And the seven plenteous years were ended, and the seven dearth years did follow; and famine was brought upon all the earth; 31 and Joseph opened all the storehouses, and sold corn, and made corn to be sold for money in all the land of Egypt. 32 And when the seven years were ended, the dearth years did exist; and so the corn could not be sold for money any more. 33 And all the countries of the earth came to Egypt to buy corn, because the dearth was very grievous in all the earth.

14 And Judas and his brethren came in to Joseph, while he was yet there, and fell on the ground before him. 15 And Joseph said to them, What is this that ye have done? know ye not that a man cannot do this thing, and yet be sure divine? 16 And Judas said, What shall we answer to our lord, or what shall we say, or wherein should we be justified? whereas God has discovered the unrighteousness of thy servants; behold, we are slaves to our lord, both we and he with whom the cup has been found. 17 And Joseph said, Far be it from me to do this thing, the man with whom the cup has been found, shall be my servant; but do ye go up with safety to your father. 18 And Judas drew near, and said, I pray, Sir, let thy servant speak a word before thee, and be not angry with thy servant, for thou art next to Pharaoh. 19 Sir, thou askedst thy servants, saying, Have ye a father or a brother? 20 And we said to my lord, We have a father, an old man, and he has a son of his old age, a young one, and his brother is dead, and his alone has been left behind to his mother, and his father loves him. 21 And thou saidst to thy servants, Bring him down to me, and I will take care of him. And we said to my lord, The chaff will not be able to leave his father; if he should leave his father, he will die. 22 But thou saidst to thy servants, Except your younger brother come down with you, ye shall not see my face again. 23 And it came to pass, when we went up to thy servant our father, we reported to him the words of our lord. 24 And our father said, Go again, and buy us a little food. 25 And we said, We shall not be able to go down, but if thy servant our brother go down with us, we will go down; for we shall not be able to see the man's face, our younger brother not being with us. 26 And thy servant our father said to us, Ye know that my wife bore me two sons; 27 and one is departed from me; and ye said that he was devoured of wild beasts, and I have not seen him until now. 28 If then ye take this one also away, it will be as though my father were dead, and our father, with sorrow to the grave.

29 For thy servant has received the boy in charge from his father, saying, If I bring him not to thee, and place him before thee, I shall be guilty towards my father for ever. 30 Now then, if I should go in to thy servant, and our father, and the boy should not be with us, (and his life depends on this lad's life)—it shall even come to pass, when he sees the boy is not with us, that he will die, and thy servants will bring down the old man our father, and our father, with sorrow to the grave.

31 For thy servant has received the boy in charge from his father, saying, If I bring him not to thee, and place him before thee, I shall be guilty towards my father for ever. 32 Now then, I will remain a servant with thee instead of the lad, a domestic of my lord's, but this lad my brother's brethren. 33 For how shall I go up to my father, the lad not being with us? lest I behold the evils which will befal my father.

And Joseph could not refrain himself when all were standing by him, but said, Dismiss all from me; and no one stood near Joseph, when he made himself known to his brethren. And he uttered his voice with weeping; and all the Egyptians heard, and it was reported to the house of Pharaoh. And Joseph said to his brethren, Doth my father yet live? And his brethren could not answer him, for they were troubled. And Joseph said to his brethren, Draw nigh to me; and they drew nigh; and he said, I am your brother Joseph, whom ye sold into Egypt. Now then be not grieved, and let it not seem hard to you that ye sold me hither; for God sent me before you to save you in the land, and to preserve you alive by a great remnant. Now then did not your eyes see, and the eyes of my brethren, that I was a word to you. And he fell upon his brother Benjamin's neck, and wept upon him; and Benjamin wept upon his neck. And he kissed all his brethren, and wept upon them. And after these things his brethren spake to him.

And the report was carried into the house of Pharaoh, saying, Joseph's brethren are come; and Pharaoh was glad, and his household. And Pharaoh said to Joseph, Say to thy brethren, Do this; fill your wagons, and depart into the land of Canaan.

Then take up your father, and your possessions, and come to me; and I will give you of all the goods of Egypt, and ye shall eat the marrow of the land. And do thou charge them thus; that they should take for them wagons out of the land of Egypt, for your little ones, and for your wives; and take up your father, and come. And be not sad, nor speak with any anger, against your brethren, and against me, in all the good of Egypt shall be yours. And the children of Israel did so; and Joseph gave to them wagons according to the words spoken by king Pharaoh; and he gave them provision for the journey. And he gave to them all two sets of raiment apiece; but to Benjamin he gave three hundred pieces of gold. And they went out of Egypt, and also of Pharaoh's house; and he gave them provision for the journey.

And to his father he sent presents at the same rate, and ten asses, bearing some of all the good things of Egypt, and ten mules, bearing bread for his father for thy journey. And he sent away his brethren, and they went; and he said to them, Be not angry by the way. And they went up out of

And they reported to him, saying, Thy son Joseph is living, and he is ruler over all the land of Egypt; lied Jacob was amazed, for he did not believe them. 7 But they spoke to him all the words uttered by Joseph, whatsoever he said to them; and having seen the chariots which Joseph sent to take him up, the spirit of Jacob their father revived. 2 And Israel said, It is a great thing for me if Joseph my son is yet alive, I will go and see him before I die.

And Israel departed, he and all that he had, and came to the well of the oath; and he offered sacrifice to the God of his father Isaac. 2 And God spoke to Israel in a night vision, saying, Jacob, Jacob; and he said, What is it? 3 And he said to him, I am the God of thy fathers; fear not to go down into Egypt, for I will make thee there a great nation. 4 And I will go down with thee into Egypt, and I will bring thee up at the end; and Joseph shall put his hands on thine eyes.

And Jacob rose up from the well of the oath; and the sons of Israel took up their father, and the baggage, and their cattle, and their flocks and all their property, which they had gotten in the land of Chanaan; they came into the land of Egypt, Jacob, and all his seed with him. 7 The sons, and the sons of his sons with him; his daughters, and the daughters of his daughters; and he brought all his seed into Egypt. 8 And these are the names of the sons of Israel that went into Egypt with Jacob—Jacob and his sons. The first-born of Jacob, Ruben.

And the sons of Ruben; Enoch, and Phallus, and Aron, and Charmi. 10 And the sons of Symeon; Jemuel, and Jamin, and Aod, and Achin, and Avar, and Saul, the son of a Chanaanitish woman. 11 And the sons of Levi; Gerson, Cath, and Merari. 12 And the sons of Judas; El and Asaun, and Selom, and Phares, and Aser, and Zara, and Aunan, and Egypt, and Issachar.

And the sons of Issachar; Thola, and Phua, and Asum, and Sambran. 14 And the sons of Zabulun, Sera, and Aser, and Ariah. 15 And the sons of Gad, Aod, and Jaan, and Shemar, and Asaron, and Baria, and Samson. 16 And the sons of Zeph, and Zimri, and Zebul, and Aser, and Periz. 17 And the sons of Asher; Ahin, and Isepa, and Iseua, and Iseul, and Baria, and Sarda. 18 And the sons of Gad, and Zep, and Daf, and Mehel. 19 And the sons of Zuluf, and Selah, and Baria, and Er, and Ares. 20 And the sons of Issaer; Isepa, and Iseu, and Ise, and Iseul, and Baria, and Sarda. 21 And the sons of Gad, and Zep, and Daf, and Mehel. 22 And the sons of Zuluf, and Selah, and Baria, and Er, and Ares. 23 And the sons of Asher; Ahin, and Isepa, and Iseua, and Iseul, and Baria, and Sarda. 24 And the sons of Gad, and Zep, and Daf, and Mehel. 25 And the sons of Zuluf, and Selah, and Baria, and Er, and Ares. 26 And the sons of Issaer; Isepa, and Iseu, and Ise, and Iseul, and Baria, and Sarda. 27 And the sons of Gad, and Zep, and Daf, and Mehel. 28 And the sons of Zuluf, and Selah, and Baria, and Er, and Ares. 29 And the sons of Asher; Ahin, and Isepa, and Iseua, and Iseul, and Baria, and Sarda.

And the sons of Ephram, the brother of Manasses; Sutalaam, and Taam. And the sons of Sutalaam; Edom. 21 And the sons of Benjamin; Bala, and Bochor, and Asbel. And the sons of Bala were Gera, and Noeman, and Anchis, and Ros, and Maanimp. 22 These are the sons of Rachel, which she bore to Jacob; all the souls eighteen. 23 And the sons of Dan; Asom. 24 And the sons of Nepthali; Asiel, and Goni, and Issaun, and Sollem. 25 These are the sons of Bala, whom Laban gave to his daughter Rachel, who bore these to Jacob; all the souls seven. 26 And all the souls that came with Jacob into Egypt, who came out of his loins, besides the wives of the sons of Jacob, even all the souls were sixty-six. 27 And the sons of Joseph, who were born to him in the land of Egypt, were nine souls; all the souls of the house of Jacob who came with Joseph into Egypt, were seventy-five souls.

And he sent Judas before him to Joseph, to meet him to the city of Hero, into the land of Ramses. 28 And Joseph having made ready his chariots, went up to meet Israel his father, at the city of Heroes; and having appeared to him, fell on his neck, and wept with a abundant weeping. 29 And Israel said to Joseph, After this I will gladly die, since I have seen thy face, for thou art yet living. 30 And Joseph said to his brethren, I will go up and tell Pharao, and will say to him, My brethren, and my father's house, who were in the land of Chamann, are come to me. 31 And the men are shepherds; for they have been feeders of cattle, and they have brought with them their cattle, and their kine, and all their property.

If then Pharao call you, and say to you, What is your occupation? 32 Ye shall say, We thy servants are herdsmen from our youth until now, both we and our fathers: that ye may dwell in the land of Gesem of Arabia, for every shepherd is an abomination to the Egyptians.

And Joseph came and told Pharao, saying, My father, and my brethren, and their cattle, and their oxen, and all their possessions, are come out of the land of Chamann, and behold, they are in the land of Gesem. 2 And he took of his brethren five men, and set them before Pharao. 3 And Pharao said to the brethren of Joseph, What is your occupation? and they said to Pharao, Thy servants are shepherds, both we and our fathers. 4 And they said to Pharao, We come to sojourn in the land, for there is no pasture for the flocks of thy servants, for the famine has prevailed in the land of Chamann; now they will dwell in the land of Gesem. And Pharao said to Joseph, Let them dwell in the land of Gesem; and if thou knowest that there are among them able men, make them overseers of my cattle. So Jacob and his sons came into Egypt, to Joseph; and Pharao, king of Egypt, heard of it. 6 And Pharao spoke to Joseph, saying, Thy father, and thy brethren, are come to thee. Behold, the land of Egypt is before thee; settle thy father and thy brethren in it.
7 And Joseph brought in Jacob his father, and set him before Pharao; and Jacob blessed Pharao.

8 And Pharao said to Jacob, How many are the days of thy life? 9 And Jacob said to Pharao, The days of the years of my life, wherein I sojourn, are a hundred and thirty years; few and evil have been the days of the years of my life, in the land which thou givest me to dwell.

10 And Joseph sent, and fetched his father and his brethren, and brought them to Pharao.

11 And Pharao said to Joseph, Thy father and thy brethren are come to thee; 12 and the land of Egypt is full of bread; pray ye your father and brethren to come, and cause them to dwell in the land of Egypt, in the best land, which is in the land of Gennesaret, in the land of Zophen, which is by the river; that they may dwell with thee.

14 And Joseph wrote unto Pharao, saying, 15 My father and my brethren, my fathers' household, be they among the people of Egypt; and behold, I bow down myself to them in the land of Gennesaret, in the land of Zophen, by the river.

16 And Pharao said, I am the Pharaoh: go unto the land of Gennesaret, in the land of Zophen, and give thy father and thy brethren, and cause them to dwell in the land of Egypt, and feed them with bread enough for year, and for year.

17 And Joseph said unto his brethren, And now, I beseech you, go ye up to Abraam, and to Isaac, and to Jacob, and tell them, saying, 18 The God of my father hath shewed me, saying, I will make thee fruitful, and will multiply thee exceedingly; and I will make of thee a nation great; 19 and will bless them that bless thee, and curse him that curseth thee: 20 and when ye shall be multiplied, and increased, and fill the land; 21 and when the God of my father, which went with me, and hath been with me whithersoever I went, and hath done huge things, which ye saw with your eyes; 22 and hath said unto me, I am Pharaoh's father: go to my father, and say unto him, This is thy son, of whom I spake unto thee, saying, He shall be fruitful, and shall multiply, and shall divide to thee and to thy sons; 23 and say, These are your aged ones; and these are they of thy household, which I brought up with me; and lo, they are with thee in the land of Egypt.

24 And Joseph took his father's household, and brought them to Pharao; 25 and Joseph made mention of his father's household, and of his brethren, and of all that were in his father's house, and Pharao gave a present unto Joseph's father's household: 26 and Joseph brought all his father's household, and his brethren, and Pharao's father's household, and all his brethren, and brought them unto Pharao.

27 And Pharao said, I am the Pharaoh; and Amram and Levi shall be my concubines, and shall be princes of the people of Egypt.

28 And Joseph ministered unto Pharao, and all his brethren; and showed unto them all his father's house, and caused them to be moved to Pharao.

29 And Pharao said, Jachin shall be your name. And he gave him in marriage Asenath, the daughter of Pharao; and Joseph went up and dwelt in the land of Gennesaret.

30 And Joseph lived in the land of Egypt, he and his father's house. And Joseph died, being an hundred and ten years old; and the whole length of Joseph's life was an hundred and ten years.

31 And Joseph gave commandment unto his brethren, and said unto them, I am to die: but God will surely visit you, and shew you this manner of your going forth, and he shall bring you up from the land of Egypt: there shall no man's hand trouble you.

32 For Joseph took an oath of the children of Israel, saying, God will surely visit you: and, lo, the land of your sojourning shall come to the sword; at the hand of the sword shall your children be brought up, that it may be a testimony of your sojourning there.

33 And he charged them, saying, I charge you by God, that ye shall guard my commandment, and that ye shall not intermarry with the daughter of the Canaanite, or any that is taken among the children of the Canaanite, in their land; for he will say of thee, the daughter of my God is a Canaanite, and it shall be an abomination in thine eyes.

34 Ye shall not give your daughters unto their sons, neither shall ye take their daughters unto your sons: but ye shall seek the children of Israel, and take their daughters for your sons, 35 and ye shall not give your sons to their daughters: for they will be a reproach to you.

36 This commandment shall ye deal wisely in, for it shall be your wisdom in the sight of the Egyptians, and also in their sight shall it be as service of God: 37 and it shall be, when ye be spawned, and your children be increased, that ye shall take away your wives, and your sons, and your daughters, and bring them unto the place of your sojourn, and ye shall die there.

38 And Joseph bowed himself with his face to the earth seven times. 39 And Joseph said unto his brethren, I am dead: but God will surely Visit you, and shew you this manner of your going forth, and he shall bring you up from the land of Egypt: there shall no man's hand trouble you. 40 If ye be诚实, say, ye are the children of Israel; 41 and ye shall say, our father Jacob was dead: and ye shall say, Joseph is dead, and also Ephraim and Manasseh: so shall ye speak unto Pharaoh, saying, We have come to serve the Lord; for thus we were commanded, saying, Go serve the Lord. 42 And ye shall say also, behold, thy servants' corn which is in the land of Gennesaret, both you and your fathers' house: for the Lord, he made me fruitful in the land of Gennesaret; therefore did I build my house, and my house's house, in the land of Gennesaret. 43 And now, behold, I have this day made known unto thee, saying, 44 your children shall be fruitful, as God hath spake unto me: because the Lord hath taken note of you, and will bless you in this land.

45 And it came to pass, when Joseph had said all this unto them, that he wept over his father. 46 And his brethren looked, and, behold, there was great mourning in Joseph, and his brethren: and they wept for their father seven days.

47 And when the seven days were expired, the sons of Jacob came to comfort their father. 48 And they spake unto him, saying, Behold, we have done as thou commandedst: pray God our father, and fall on thy face.
And they said, Thou hast saved us: we have found favour before our lord, and we will be servants to Pharaoh. And Joseph appointed it to them for an ordinance, unto this day: to reserve of the fifth part of all the land of Egypt, except only the land of the priests, that was not Pharaoh's.

And Israel dwelt in Egypt, in the land of Goshen; and they gained an inheritance upon it; and they increased and multiplied very greatly. And Jacob lived fourteen years in the land of Egypt; and the whole length of Jacob's life was one hundred and forty-seven years. The days of Joseph were one hundred and eleven years. And Joseph died, and was buried in Egypt: but the Egyptians mourned for Joseph seven days.

And all Israel's sons, with his sons, were seventy souls: Joseph's two sons were included with them. And the Lord had said unto Joseph, thou shalt cause my people Israel to go forth out of Egypt: for they are exceeding numerous; as the sand of the sea, shall they increase greatly in the land.

his teeth whiter than milk. 13 Zabulon shall dwell on the coast, and he shall be by a haven of ships, and shall extend to Sidon. 14 Issachar has desired that which is good; resting between the inheritance, 15 and having seen the resting place that it was good, and the land that it was fertile, he subjected his shoulder to labour, and became a husbandman. 16 Dan shall judge his people, as one tribe too in Israel. 17 And let Dan be a serpent in the way, a serpent by the path, to sting the horse, and the rider, until he fall backward. 18 Gad, a plundering troop shall plunder him; but he shall plunder him, pursuing him closely. 19 Aser, his bread shall be fat; and he shall yield dainties to princes. 20 Neophthali is a spreading stem, bestowing beauty on its fruit. 21 Joseph is a son increased; my dearly loved son is increased; my youngest son, turn to me. 22 Against whom men taking evil counsel reproached him, and the archers pressed hard upon him. 23 But their bow and arrows were mightily consumed, and the snaws of their arms were slackened by the hand of the mighty one of Jacob; thence is he that strengthened Israel from the God of the everlasting hills; they shall be helped in the Lord, and he blessed thee, and he blessed thee with the blessing of heaven from above, and the blessing of the earth possessing all things, because of the blessing of the breasts and of the womb, 24 the blessings of thy father and thy mother — it has prevailed above the blessing of the everlasting mountains, and beyond the blessings of the everlasting hills; they shall be upon the head of Joseph, and upon the head of the brothers of whom he took the lead. 25 Benjamin, as a ravening wolf, shall eat still in the morning, and at evening he gives food. 26 All these are the twelve sons of Jacob; and their father spoke these words to them, and he blessed them; he blessed each with a blessing according to his blessing. 27 And he said to them, I am added to my people; ye shall bury me with my fathers in the cave, which is in the field of Ephron the Chettite, in the double cave which is opposite Mambre, in the land of Chanaan, the cave which Abraam bought of Ephron the Chettite, for a possession of a sepulture. 28 There they buried Abraam and Sarra his wife; there they buried Isaac, and Rebecca his wife; there they buried Lea; in the portion of the field, and of the cave that was in it, purchased of the sons of Chet. 29 And Jacob ceased giving charges to his sons; and having lifted up his feet on the bed, he died, and was gathered to his people. 30 And Joseph fell upon his father's face, and wept on him, and kissed him. 31 And Joseph commanded his servants the embalmers to embalm his father; and the embalmers embalmed Israel. 32 And they fulfilled forty days for him, so for are the days of embalming numbered; and Egypt mourned for him seven days. 33 And when the days of mourning were past, Joseph spoke to the princes of Pharaoh, saying: If I have found favour in your sight, speak concerning me in the ears of Pharaoh, saying, 34 My father adjured me, saying, In the sepulchre which I dug for myself in the land of Chanaan, 35 I shall lie with my fathers. 36 And Joseph made the sons of Israel swear, saying, God will visit you, and ye shall carry my bones up with you. 37 And Joseph died, being a hundred and ten years old; and they embalmed him, and he was buried in the cave which Abraam, Isaac, and Lea bought for a possession of a sepulture. 38 For forty years was Israel in Egypt, all the days of Joseph. 39 And Israel took a wife for his son Joseph, named Asenath, the daughter of Pharaoh's officer; and his wife bore him sons. 40 And the name of the firstborn was Manasseh; for God said, Blessed is he who shall dwell before me. And the name of the second was Ephraim; for God said, I have strengthened him, because I have heard his cry. 41 And the name of the third was Zebulun; for God said, Dwelling in rest. And the name of the fourth was Issachar; for God said, Blessed is he that shall be recruited. 42 And the name of the fifth was Zebulun; for God said, He shall be fruitful. And the name of the sixth was Issachar; for God said, He shall enrich himself. 43 And the name of the seventh was Zebulun; for God said, He shall be fruitful. And the name of the eighth was Issachar; for God said, He shall enrich himself. 44 And the name of the ninth was Zebulun; for God said, He shall enrich himself. And the name of the tenth was Issachar; for God said, He shall strengthen himself. 45 And the name of the eleventh was Zebulun; for God said, He shall be fruitful. And the name of the twelfth was Issachar; for God said, He shall strengthen himself. 46 And Joseph died, being a hundred and ten years old; and they embalmed him, and he was buried in the cave which Abraam, Isaac, and Lea bought for a possession of a sepulture. 47 And Israel took a wife for his son Manasseh, the daughter of Haman; and she bore him sons. 48 And the name of the first was Peresh; for God said, Division. The name of the second was Zereh; for God said, Foreign. The name of the third was Ethan; for God said, He shall add length of life. The name of the fourth was Heman; for God said, He shall establish. The name of the fifth was Dilil; for God said, He shall judge. The name of the sixth was Ezer; for God said, Help. The name of the seventh was Jediael; for God said, God is my helper. And Manasseh became a hundred and eighty-five years old, and died. 49 And Joseph took Ephraim for his son, who was the younger, in his sight; and Joseph's sons asked him, saying, Behold, the Lord has given us a son; 50 we will therefore put him in the name of our father, in the name of Joseph, the firstborn, so that he may have our name. 51 And Joseph said, It is not so; God shall add length of life to my father. 52 And Manasseh was a hundred and eighty-five years old, and died. And Joseph said to his brethren, The days of my father are done; my breath is going away; I shall fall. 53 And he took his brethren, and showed his父亲's respect to them; and his brethren saw his respect to them. 54 And Joseph said to his brethren, I am not going to die; God will visit you, and ye shall carry my bones up with you. 55 And his brethren said, Behold, we shall do as thou hast said; we will go up and carry up our father's bones. 56 And Joseph died, and was placed in a coffin in Egypt, and he lived a hundred and ten years. 57 And Joseph was translated to his father Jacob, and Jacob was gathered to his people, and they were carried up to Egypt, as Joseph had said, so they did; 58 and as Joseph said, God would visit you, and ye shall carry my bones up with you. 59 And they took Joseph's bones, and carried them up with them, and he was gathered to his people. 60 And the sons of Israel did as Joseph had said; they took up his bones, and the bones of his father, and carried them up to Shechem, and buried them in the cave that was in the field of Machpelah before Abraam, Isaac, and Lea, in the land of Canaan.

These are the names of the sons of Israel that came into Egypt together with Jacob their father; they came in each with their whole family. 2 Ruben, Simeon, Levi, Judah, 3 Issachar, Zebulun, Benjamin, 4 Dan and Naphtali, Gad and Asher. 5 But Joseph was in Egypt. And all the souls born of Jacob were seventy-five. 6 And Joseph died, and all his brethren, and all that generation. 7 And the children of Israel increased and multiplied, and became numerous and grew exceedingly strong, and the land multiplied them. 8 And there arose up another king over Egypt, who knew not Joseph. 9 And he said to his nation, Behold, the race of the children of Israel is a great multitude, and is stronger than we: 10 come then, let us deal craftily with them, lest at any time they be increased, and whenever war shall happen to us, these also shall be added to our enemies, and having prevailed against us in war, they will depart out of the land. 11 And he set over them task-masters, who should afflict them in their works; and they built strong cities for Pharaoh, both Pithom, and Rameses, and On, which is Heliopolis. 12 But as they humbled them, by so much they multiplied, and grew exceedingly strong; and the Egyptians greatly abhorred the children of Israel, 13 And the Egyptians tyrannised over the children of Israel by force. 14 And they embittered their life by hard labours, in the clay and in brick-making, and all the works in the plains, according to all the works, wherein they caused them to serve with violence. 15 And the king of the Egyptians spoke to the midwives of the Hebrews; the name of the one was, Sesphora; and the name of the second, Phuah. 16 And he said, When ye do the office of midwives to the Hebrew women, and they are about to be delivered, if it be a male, kill it; but if a female, save it. 17 But the midwives feared God, and did not as the king of Egypt appointed them; and they saved the male children alive. 18 And the king of Egypt called the midwives, and said to them, Why is it that ye have done this thing, and saved the male children alive? 19 And the midwives said to Pharaoh, The Hebrew women are not as the women of Egypt, for they are delivered before the midwives go in to them. So they bore children. 20 And God did well to the midwives, and the people multiplied, and grew very strong.
flourished in the time of the Hebrews, and they were the sons of Levi. 4 And Pharaoh charged all his people, saying, Whatever male child shall be born to the Hebrews, cast into the river; and every female, save it alive.

And there was a certain man of the tribe of Levi, who took to wife one of the daughters of Levi. 5 And she conceived, and bore a male child; and having seen that it was fair, they hid him three months. 6 And when they could no longer hide him, his mother took him for an ark, and besmeared it with bitumen, and cast the child into it and put it in the ooze by the river. And his sister was watching from a distance, to learn what would happen to him.

And the daughter of Pharaoh came down to the river to bathe; and her maids walked by the river's side, and having seen the ark in the ooze, she sent her maid, and took it up. 7 And having opened it, she sees the babe weeping in the ark; and the daughter of Pharaoh had compassion on it, and said, This is one of the Hebrews' children. 8 And his sister said to the daughter of Pharaoh, Wilt thou that I call to thee a nurse of the Hebrews, and shall she suckle the child for thee? 9 And the daughter of Pharaoh said, Go: and the young woman went, and called the mother of the child. 10 And the daughter of Pharaoh said to her, Take care of this child, and suckle it for me, and I will give thee the wages; and the woman took the child, and suckled it. 11 And when the boy grew, she brought him to the daughter of Pharaoh, and he became her son; and she called his name, Moses, saying, I took him out of the water.

And it came to pass in that length of time, that Moses having grown, went out to his brethren the sons of Israel: and having noticed their distress, he sees an Egyptian smiting a certain Hebrew of the brethren of the children of Israel. 12 And having looked round this way and that way, he sees no one; and he smote the Egyptian, who smote him in the sand. 13 And having gone out the second day, he sees two of the Hebrew men fighting; and he says to the injured, Wherefore smitest thou thy neighbour? 14 And he said, Who made thee a ruler and a judge over us? wilt thou slay me as thou wast wont to slay yesterday? 15 Then Moses was alarmed, and said, If it be thus, this matter has become known. 16 And Pharaoh heard this matter, and sought to slay Moses; and Moses departed from the presence of Pharaoh, and dwelt in the land of Madiam; and having come into the land of Madiam, he sat on the well. 17 And the priest of Madiam had seven daughters; and the daughters of Pharaoh, seeking the flock of their father Jethro; and they came and drew water until they filled their pitchers, to water the flock of their father Jethro, and the shepherds came, and were driving them away; and Moses rose up and rescued them, and drew water for them, and watered their sheep. 18 And they came to Raguel their father; and he said to them, Why have ye come so quickly to-day? 19 And they said, An Egyptian

And Moses was feeding the flock of Jethro, his father-in-law, the priest of Madian; and he brought the sheep to the wilderness, and came to the mount of Horeb. And he saw a bush burning of itself, of which the bush was not consumed. And Moses said, I will go near and see this great sight, why the bush is not consumed. And when the Lord saw that he drew nigh to see, the Lord called him out of the bush, and said, Moses, and he said, What is it? And he said, Draw not nigh hither: loose thy sandals from off thy feet, for the place whereon thou standest is holy ground. And he said, I am the God of thy father, the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob; and Moses turned away his face, for he was afraid to come at God. And the Lord said to Moses, I have surely seen the affliction of my people that is in Egypt, and I have heard their cry caused by their taskmasters; for I know their affliction. And I have come down to deliver them out of the hand of the Egyptians, and to bring them out of that land, and to bring them into a good and wide land, into a land flowing with milk and honey, into the place of the Chananites, and the Chettites, and Amorites, and Pherezites, and Gergesites, and Erites, and Juebusites. And now, behold, the children of Israel is come to me, and I have seen the affliction with which the Egyptians afflict them. And now come, I will send thee to Pharaoh king of Egypt, and thou shalt bring out my people the children of Israel from the land of Egypt.

And Moses said to God, Who am I, that I should go to Pharaoh king of Egypt, and that I should bring out the children of Israel from the land of Egypt? And God spoke to Moses, saying, I will be with thee, and this shall be the sign to thee that I shall send thee forth, when thou bringest out my people out of Egypt, then ye shall serve God in this place. And Moses said to God, Behold, I will go forth to the children of Israel, and shall say to them, The God of our fathers has sent me to you; and they will ask me, What is his name? What Delivered us from the shepherds, and drew water for us and watered our sheep. And he said to his daughters, And where is he? And why have ye left the man? call him therefore, that he may eat bread. And Moses was established with the man, and he gave Sepphora his daughter to Moses to wife. And the woman conceived and bore a son, and Moses called his name Gersam, saying, I am a sojourner in a strange land, for the children of Israel groaned because of their tasks, and cried, and their cry because of their tasks went up to God. And God heard their groanings, and God remembered his covenant made with Abraam and Isaac and Jacob. And God looked upon the children of Israel, and was made known to them.

shall I say to them? 14 And God spoke to Moses, saying, I AM THE BEING; and he said, Thus shall ye say to the children of Israel, THE BEING has sent me to you. 15 And God said again to Moses, Thus shalt thou say to the sons of Israel, The Lord God of our fathers, the God of Abraham, and God of Isaac, and God of Jacob, has sent me to you; this is my name for ever, and this shall be my memorial to generations of generations. 16 Go then and gather the elders of the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, The Lord God of our fathers has appeared to me, the God of Abraham, and God of Isaac, and God of Jacob, saying, I have surely looked upon you, and upon all the things which have happened to you in Egypt. 17 And he said, I will bring you up out of the affliction of the Egyptians to the land of the Chananites and the Chettites, and Amorites and Pherezites, and Gergesites, and Erites, and Jebusites, to a land flowing with milk and honey. 18 And they shall hearken to thy voice, and thou and the elders of Israel shall go in to Pharaoh king of Egypt, and thou shalt say to him, The God of the Hebrews has called us; we will go then a journey of three days into the wilderness, that we may sacrifice to our God. 19 But I know that Pharaoh king of Egypt will not let you go, save with a mighty hand; 20 and I will stretch out my hand, and smite the Egyptians with all my wonders, which I shall work among them; and after that he will send you forth. 21 And I will give this people favour in the sight of the Egyptians, and whenever ye shall escape, ye shall not depart empty. 22 But every woman shall ask of her neighbour and of her that sojourneth in her house, articles of gold and silver, and apparel; and ye shall put them upon your sons and upon your daughters, and spoil ye the Egyptians.

And Moses answered and said, If they believe me not, and do not hearken to my voice (for they will say, God has not appeared to thee), what shall I say to them?

And the Lord said to him, What is this thing that is in thine hand? and he said, A rod. And he said, Cast it on the ground: and he cast it on the ground, and it became a serpent, and Moses fled from it. And the Lord said to Moses, Stretch forth thine hand, and take hold of its tail: so he stretched forth his hand and took hold of the tail, and it became a rod in his hand, 2 that they may believe thee, that God of thy fathers has appeared to thee, the God of Abraham, and God of Isaac, and God of Jacob. 3 And the Lord said again to him, Put thy hand into thy bosom; and he put his hand into his bosom, and brought his hand out of his bosom, and his hand became as snow. 4 And he said again, Put thy hand into thy bosom; and he put his hand into his bosom, and brought his hand out of his bosom, and it was again restored to the complexion of his other flesh. 5 And if they will not believe thee, nor hearken to the voice of the first sign, they will believe thee by the voice of the second sign. 6 And it shall come to pass if they will not believe thee for these two signs, and will not hearken to thy voice, that thou shalt take of the water of the river and pour it. upon the dry land, and the water which thou shalt take from the river shall be blood upon the dry land.

18 And Moses said to the Lord, I pray thee, Lord, I have not been sufficient in former times, neither from the time that thou hast begun to speak to thy servant: I am weak in speech, and slow of tongue. And the Lord said to Moses, Who has given a mouth to man, and who has made the very hard of hearing, and the deaf, the seeing and the blind? have not I, the Lord? 19 And now go, and I will open thy mouth, and will instruct thee in what thou shalt say. 20 And Moses said, I pray thee, Lord, appoint another able person whom thou shalt send.

21 And the Lord was greatly angered against Moses, and said, Lo! is not Aaron the Levite thy brother? I know that he will surely speak to thee; and, behold, he will come forth to meet thee, and beholding thee he will rejoice within himself. 22 And thou shalt speak to him; and thou shalt put my words into his mouth, and I will open thy mouth and his mouth, and I will instruct you in what ye shall do. 23 And he shall speak for thee to the people, and he shall be with thee in all things that I shall command thee. 24 And they took the rod which he had from God in his hand. 25 And the Lord said to Moses, When thou goest and returnest to Egypt, see— all the miracles I have charged thee with, thou shalt work before Pharaoh, and I will harden his heart, and he shall certainly not send away the people. 26 And thou shalt say to Pharaoh, These things signify the Lord, Israel is my first-born. 27 And I said to thee, Send away my people, that they may serve me: now if thou wilt not send them away, see, I will slay thy first-born son. 28 And it came to pass that the angel of the Lord met him by the way in the inn, and sought to slay him. 29 And Pharaoh's daughter took off the stone, and fell at his feet and said, The blood of the circumcision of my son is staunched: and he departed from him, because she said, The blood of the circumcision of my son is staunched. 30 And the Lord said to Aaron, Go into the wilderness to meet Moses; and he went and met him in the mount of God, and they kissed each other. 31 And Moses reported to Aaron all the words of the Lord, which he sent, and all the things which he charged him. 32 And Moses and Aaron went and gathered the 36 Israel. And they served the Egyptians day and night. And they made the Israelites work, from the first day they came into the land of Egypt.

1 And Moses and Aaron spoke to Pharaoh, saying, I will free my people from your power. 2 And Pharaoh said to them, I will let them work, but I will not let them work for free. 3 And they said, We cannot do it. 4 And Pharaoh said, You will still work, but I will give you a day off every seventh day. 5 And the Israelites worked in Pharaoh's service.

5 And he spoke to the elders of the children of Israel. And Aaron spoke these words, which God spoke to him in the wilderness. 6 And the people believed and rejoiced, because God visited the children of Israel, and took their affliction: and the people bowed and worshipped.

And after this went in Moses and Aaron to Pharaoh, and they said to him, These things says the Lord God of Israel. Send my people away, that they may keep a feast to me in the wilderness. 2 And Pharaoh said, Who is he that I should hearken to him? 3 And the king of Egypt said to them, Why do ye? 4 And Moses and Aaron said to Pharaoh, Thus says the Lord God of Israel, Let my people go, that they may worship me. 5 And the king of Egypt said to them, Go, worship the Lord your God; but I will not let Israel go. 6 And Pharaoh said, Behold now, the people is very numerous; let us not then give them rest from their work.

And Pharaoh gave orders to the task-masters of the people and the accountants, saying, 7 Ye shall no longer give straw to the people, for brick-making as yesterday and the third day; but let them go themselves, and collect straw for themselves. 8 And thou shalt impose on them daily the rate of brick-making which they perform: thou shalt not abate anything, for they are idle; therefore have they cried, saying, Let us arise and do sacrifice to our God. 9 Let the works of these men be made grievous, and let them care for these things, and not care for vain words.

10 And the taskmasters and the accountants hastened them, and they spoke to the people, saying, Thus says Pharaoh, I will give you straw no longer. 11 Go ye, yourselves, get for yourselves straw whencesoever ye can find it, for nothing is diminished from your rate. 12 So the people were dispersed in all the land of Egypt, to gather stubble for straw. 13 And the taskmasters forced them, saying, Fulfil your task daily, even as when straw was given you.

14 And the accountants of the race of the children of Israel, who were set over them by the masters of Pharaoh, were scourged, [and questioned,] men saying, Why have ye not fulfilled your rates of brick-work as yesterday and the third day, to-day also? 15 And the accountants of the children of Israel went in and cried to Pharaoh, saying, Why dost thou act thus to thy servants? 16 Straw is not given to thy servants, and they tell us to make brick; and behold thy servants have been scourged: thou wilt therefore injure thy people. 17 And he said to them, Ye are idle, ye are idlers: therefore ye say, Let us go and do sacrifice to our God. 18 Now therefore this shall not be given to you, yet ye shall return the rate of bricks. 19 And the accountants of the children of Israel saw themselves in an evil plight, men saying, Ye shall not fail to deliver the daily rate of the brick-making.
And they met Moses and Aaron coming forth to meet them, as they came forth from Pharaoh. And they said to them, The Lord look upon you and judge you, for ye have made our savour abominable before Pharaoh, and before his servants, to put a sword into his hands to slay us. And Moses turned to the Lord, and said, I pray thee, Lord, why hast thou affliected this people, and wherefore hast thou sent me? For from the time that I went to Pharaoh to speak in thy name, he hath afflicted this people, and thou hast not delivered thy people.

And the Lord said to Moses, Now thou shalt see what I will do to Pharaoh; for I have hardened Pharaoh's heart, and the Egyptians shall know that I am the Lord. And I will stretch forth my hand over Egypt and with the stroke of my hand will I bring them out and the Egyptians shall know that I am the Lord. And I will set a sign in the midst of Egypt. And they shall see the sign, and they shall know that I am the Lord. And I will harden Pharaoh's heart, that I may multiply my signs and my wonders in the land of Egypt. And I will make Pharaoh's heart to turn, and I will harden the hearts of all his servants: for I will make Pharaoh a proverb among peoples, and I will make him a talking thing among nations, and he shall speak in his heart, but not understand, and his eye shall be open, but shall not see; and he shall be dumb, but shall not hear.

And the Lord said to Moses, Go to Pharaoh, and say to him, Thus says the Lord, Let my people go, that they may serve me. But if you refuse to let them go, I will smite all your land with the stroke of my hand, and the land shall be a wasting, and I will make your cities a waste. And the land shall be a wasting by reason of the famine, and they shall eat the fruits of their own fields, and the land shall be a wasting for them. And I will make your cities wasting by reason of the stroke of my hand, and they shall drive out all the inhabitants thereof. And the land shall be a wasting by reason of their trespasses, and they shall eat the fruits of their own fields, and the land shall be a wasting. And the land shall be a wasting by reason of the stroke of my hand, and they shall eat the fruits of their own fields, and the land shall be a wasting. And I will make your cities wasting by reason of the stroke of my hand, and the land shall be a wasting for them. And I will make your cities wasting by reason of the stroke of my hand, and they shall drive out all the inhabitants thereof. And I will make your cities wasting by reason of their trespasses, and they shall eat the fruits of their own fields, and the land shall be a wasting. And I will make your cities waste by reason of the stroke of my hand, and they shall drive out all the inhabitants thereof. And I will make your cities waste by reason of their trespasses, and they shall eat the fruits of their own fields, and the land shall be a wasting. And I will make your cities waste by reason of the stroke of my hand, and they shall drive out all the inhabitants thereof. And I will make your cities waste by reason of their trespasses, and they shall eat the fruits of their own fields, and the land shall be a wasting.

8 This is Aaron and Moses, whom God told to bring out the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt with their forces.
7 These are they that spoke with Pharao king of Egypt, and Aaron himself and Moses brought out the children of Israel from the land of Egypt.
And the day in which the Lord spoke to Moses in the land of Egypt; 3 then the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, I am the Lord: speak to Pharao king of Egypt whatsoever I say to thee.
And Moses said before the Lord, Behold, I am not able in speech and how shall Pharao hearken to me?
And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, Behold, I have made thee a god to Pharao, and Aaron thy brother shall be thy prophet.
And thou shalt say to him all things that I charge thee, and Aaron thy brother shall speak to Pharao, that he should send forth the children of Israel out of his land.
And I will harden the heart of Pharao, and I will multiply my signs and wonders in the land of Egypt: and Pharao will not hearken to you, and I will lay my hand upon Egypt; and will bring out my people the children of Israel with my power out of the land of Egypt with great vengeance.
And all the Egyptians shall know that I am the Lord, stretching out my hand upon Egypt, and I will bring out the children of Israel out of the midst of them.
And Moses and Aaron did as the Lord commanded them, so did they. 7 And Moses was eighty years old, and Aaron his brother was eighty-three years old, when he spoke to Pharao.
And the Lord spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying, Now if Pharao should speak to you, saying, Give us a sign or a wonder, then shall thou say to thy brother Aaron, Take thy rod and cast it upon the ground before Pharao, and he shall do it.
And Moses and Aaron went in before Pharao, and before his servants, and they did so, as the Lord commanded them; and Aaron cast down his rod before Pharao, and before the sons of Caath, 18Amram and Issar, Chebron, and Ozir; and the years of the life of Caath were a hundred and thirty years.
And the sons of Meeri, Mooli, and Omusi, the heads of the families of Levi, according to their kindreds.

his servants, and it became a serpent. But Pharaoh called together the wise men of Egypt, and the sorcerers, and the charmers also of the Egyptians did likewise with their sorceries. And they cast down each his rod, and they became serpents, but the rod of Aaron swallowed up their rods. And the heart of Pharaoh was hardened, and he hearkened not to them, as the Lord charged them.

And the Lord said to Moses, The heart of Pharaoh is made hard, so that he should not let the people go. Go to Pharaoh early in the morning: behold, he goes forth to the water; and thou shalt meet him on the bank of the river, and thou shalt take in thine hand the rod that was turned into a serpent. And thou shalt say to him, The Lord God of the Hebrews has sent me to thee, saying, Send my people away, that they may serve me in the wilderness, and, behold, hitherto thou hast not hearkened. These things saith the Lord: Hereby shalt thou know that I am the Lord: behold, I strike with the rod that is in my hand on the waters which is in the river, and it shall change it into blood. And the fish that are in the river shall die, and the river shall stink thereupon, and the Egyptians shall not be able to drink water from the river. And the Lord said to Moses, Say to thy brother Aaron, Take thy rod in thy hand, and stretch forth thy hand over the waters of Egypt, and over their rivers, and over their canals, and over their ponds, and over all their standing water, and it shall become blood: and there was blood in all the land of Egypt, both in vessels of wood and of stone. And Moses and Aaron did so, as the Lord commanded them; and Aaron having lifted up his hand with his rod, smote the water in the river before Pharaoh, and before his servants, and changed all the water in the river into blood. And the fish that were in the river died, and the river stank thereupon; and the Egyptians could not drink water from the river, and the blood was in all the land of Egypt. And the charmers also of the Egyptians did so with their sorceries; and the heart of Pharaoh was hardened, and he did not hearken to them, even as the Lord said. And Pharaoh turned and entered into his house, nor did he fix his attention even on this thing. And all the Egyptians dug round about the river, so as to drink water, for they could not drink water from the river. And seven days were fulfilled after the Lord had smitten the river.

And the Lord said to Moses, Go in to Pharaoh, and thou shalt say to him, These things says the Lord: send forth my people, that they may serve me. And if thou wilt not send them forth, behold, I will afflict all thy borders with frogs: and the river shall teem with frogs, and they shall go up and enter into thy houses, and into thy beds-chambers, and upon thy beds, and upon the houses of thy servants, and of thy people, and on thy dough, and on thine ovens. And upon thee, and upon thy servants,
And Aaron stretched forth his hand over the waters of Egypt, and brought up the frogs: and the frog was brought up, and covered the land of Egypt. 7 And the charmers of the Egyptians also did likewise with their sorceries, and brought up frogs on the land of Egypt. 8 And Pharaoh said unto Moses and Aaron, Go, depart, and serve the Lord thy God: fell thy days before me, and let him take away the frogs from me and from my people; and I will send them away, and they shall sacrifice to the Lord. 9 And Moses said unto Pharaoh, Appoint me a time when I shall pray for thee, and for thy servants, and for thy people, to cause the frogs to disappear from thee, and from thy people, and from your houses, only in the river shall they be left behind. 10 And he said, On the morrow: he said therefore, As thou hast said, that thou mayest know, that there is no other God but the Lord. 11 And the frogs shall be removed away from thee, and from thy houses and from the villages, and from thy servants, and from thy people, only in the river shall they be left. 12 And Moses and Aaron went forth from Pharaoh, and cried to the Lord concerning the restriction of the frogs, as Pharaoh appointed him. 13 And the Lord did as Moses said, and the frogs died out of the houses, and out of the villages, and out of the fields. 14 And they gathered them together in heaps, and the land stank. 15 And when Pharaoh saw that there was relief, his heart was hardened, and he did not hearken to them, as the Lord spoke. 16 And the Lord said to Moses, Say to Aaron, Stretch forth thy rod with thy hand, and smite the dust of the earth; and there shall be lice both upon man, and upon quadrupeds, and in all the land of Egypt. 17 So Aaron stretched out his rod with his hand, and smote the dust of the earth; and there were lice. 18 And the charmers also did so with their sorceries, to bring forth the louse, and they could not. And the lice were both on the men and on the quadrupeds. 19 So the charmers said to Pharaoh, This is the finger of God. But the heart of Pharaoh was hardened, and he hearkened not to them, as the Lord said.
and on the morrow shall this be on the land. And the Lord did thus. 21 And the dog-fly came in abundance into the houses of Pharaoh, and into the houses of his servants, and into all the land of Egypt; and the land was destroyed by the dog-fly.

22 And Pharaoh called Moses and Aaron, saying, Go and sacrifice to the Lord your God in the land. 23 And Moses said, It cannot be so, for we shall sacrifice to the Lord our God the abominations of the Egyptians before them, we shall be stoned. 24 We will go a journey of three days into the wilderness, and we will sacrifice to the Lord our God, as the Lord said to us. 25 And Pharaoh said, I will let you go, and do ye sacrifice to your God in the wilderness, but do not go very far away: pray then for me to the Lord. 26 And Moses said, I will then go forth from thee and pray to God, and the dog-fly shall depart from thy servants, and from thy people to-morrow. Do not thou, Pharaoh, deceive again, so as not to send the people away to do sacrifice to the Lord. 27 And Moses went out from Pharaoh, and prayed to God. 28 And the Lord did as Moses said, and removed the dog-fly from Pharaoh, and from his servants, and from his people, and there was not one left. 29 And Pharaoh hardened his heart, even on this occasion, and he would not send the people away.

And the Lord said to Moses, Go to Pharaoh, and thou shalt say to him, These things saith the Lord God of the Hebrews: Send my people away that they may serve me. 2 If thou wilt not let my people go away, behold, the hand of the Lord shall be upon thy cattle in the fields, both on thine oxen and on thine camels and on the fatlings of thy sheep; and the fly shall eat them. 3 And the Lord did this thing on the next day, and all the cattle of the Egyptians died, but of the cattle of the children of Israel there died not one. 4 And when Pharaoh saw that all the cattle of the children of Israel were not dead, the heart of Pharaoh was hardened, and he did not let the people go. 5 And the Lord spake to Moses and Aaron, saying, Take you hand fulls of ashes of the furnace, and let Moses scatter it toward heaven before Pharaoh, and before his servants. 6 And let it become dust over all the land of Egypt, and there shall be upon men and upon beasts sore blains breaking forth both on men and on beasts.
And the sorcerers could not stand before Moses because of the sores, for the sores were on the sorcerers, and in all the land of Egypt. 12 And the Lord hardened Pharaoh's heart, and he hearkened not to them, as the Lord appointed.

And the Lord said to Moses, Rise up early in the morning, and stand before Pharaoh; and thou shalt say unto him, These things saith the Lord God of the Hebrews, Send away my people that they may serve me. 14 For at this present time do I send forth all my plagues among this people, and the heart of thy servants and of thy people; that thou mayest know that I am the Lord. 15 For now I will stretch forth my hand, and smite thee and kill thy people, and thou shalt be consumed from off the earth.

And for this purpose hast thou been preserved, that I might display in thee my strength, and that my name might be published in all the earth. 17 Dost thou then yet exert thyself to hinder my people, so as not to let them go? 18 Behold, at this hour I will rain a very great hail, such as has not been in Egypt, from the time it was created until this day. 19 Now then hasten to gather thy cattle, and all that thou hast in the fields: for all the men and cattle as many as shall be found in the fields, and shall not enter into a house, (but the hail shall fall upon them,) shall die. 20 He of the servants of Pharaoh that feared the word of the Lord, gathered his cattle into the houses. 21 And he that did not attend in his mind to the word of the Lord, left the cattle in the fields.

And the Lord said to Moses, Stretch out thine hand to heaven, and there shall be hail on all the land of Egypt, both on the men and on the cattle, and on all the herbs of the land. 23 And Moses stretched forth his hand to heaven, and the Lord sent thunders and hail; and the fire ran along upon the ground, and the Lord rained hail on all the land of Egypt. 24 So there was hail and flaming fire mingled with hail, and the hail was very great, such as was not in Egypt, from the time there was a nation upon the earth. 25 And the hail smote all the herbs of the field, and the hail broke in pieces all the trees in the field.

Only in the land of Geshem where the children of Israel were, there was hail not. 26 And Pharaoh sent and called Moses and Aaron, and said to them, I have sinned this time; the Lord is righteous, and I and my people are wicked. 27 Pray then for me to the Lord, and let him cause the thunders of God to cease, and the hail and the fire, and I will send you forth and ye shall remain no longer. 28 And Moses said to him, When I shall have departed from the city, I will stretch out my hands to the Lord, and the thunders shall cease, and the hail and the rain shall be no longer, that thou mayest know that the earth is the Lord's. 29 But as for thee and thy servants, I know that ye have not yet feared the Lord. 30 And the flax and the barley were smitten, for the barley was / advanced, and the flax

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, Go in to Pharaoh: for I have hardened his heart and the heart of his servants, that these signs may come upon them; and in order that ye may relate in the ears of your children, and to your children's children, in how many things I have mocked the Egyptians, and my wonders which I wrought among them; and ye shall know that I am the Lord. And Moses and Aaron went in before Pharaoh, and they said to him, These things saith the Lord God of the Hebrews, How long dost thou refuse to reverence me? Send not away these men, lest they say, For this reason did we come. But if thou wilt not send my people away, behold, at this hour to-morrow I will bring an abundance of locusts upon all thy coasts. And they shall cover the face of the earth, and thou shalt not be able to see the earth; and they shall devour all that is left of the abundance of the earth, which the hail has left you, and shall devour every tree that grows for you on the land. And thy houses shall be filled, and the houses of thy servants, and all the houses in all the land of the Egyptians; things which thy fathers have never seen, nor thy forefathers, from the day that they were upon the earth until this day. And Moses turned away and departed from Pharaoh. And the servants of Pharaoh said to him, How long shall this be a snare to us? send away the men, that they may serve their God; wilt thou know that Egypt is destroyed? And they brought back both Moses and Aaron to Pharaoh; and he said to them, Go and serve the Lord your God; but who are they that are going with you? And Moses said, We will go with the young and the child, with our sons, and daughters, and sheep, and oxen, for it is a feast of the Lord. And he said to them, So let the Lord be with you, as I will send you away. And Moses said, send away your store also; see that evil is attached to you. Not so, but let the men go and serve the Lord, for this is the reason that Moses seek; and they cast them out from the presence of Pharaoh. And the Lord said to Moses, Stretch out thine hand over the land of Egypt, and let the locust come up on the land, and it shall devour every herb of the land, and all the fruit of the trees, which the hail left. And Moses lifted up his rod towards heaven, and the Lord brought south wind upon the earth, all that day and all that night: the morning dawned, and the south wind brought up the locusts, and brought them up over all the land of Egypt. And they rested in very great abundance of locusts, which ate every herb of the earth, and devoured the trees of the land.

over all the borders of Egypt. Before them there were not such locusts, neither after them shall there be. 16 And they covered the face of the earth, and the land was wasted, and they devoured all the herbage of the land, and all the fruit of the trees, which was left by the hail: there was no green thing left on the trees, nor on all the herbage of the field, in all the land of Egypt.

9 And Pharao hasted to call Moses and Aaron, saying, I have sinned before the Lord your God, and against you;
10 therefore my sin yet this time, and pray to the Lord your God, and let him take away from me this death.
11 And Moses went forth from Pharao, and prayed to God.
12 And the Lord brought in the opposite direction a strong wind from the sea, and took up the locusts and cast them into the Red Sea, and there was not one locust left in all the land of Egypt.
13 And the Lord hardened the heart of Pharao, and he did not send away the children of Israel.
14 And the Lord said to Moses, Stretch out thy hand to heaven, and let there be darkness over the land of Egypt—darkness that may be felt.
15 And Moses stretched out his hand to heaven, and there was ydarkness very black, even a storm over all the land of Egypt three days.
16 And for three days no man saw his brother, and no man rose up from his bed for three days: but all the children of Israel had light in all the places where they were.
17 And Pharao called Moses and Aaron, saying, Go, serve the Lord your God, only depart from among your people, and let your store depart with you.
18 But Moses said, Nay, but thou shalt give to us whole burnt-offerings and sacrifices, which we will sacrifice to the Lord our God.
19 And our cattle shall go with us, and we will not leave a hoof behind, for of them we will take to serve the Lord our God: but we know not in what manner we shall serve the Lord our God, until we arrive there.
20 But the Lord hardened the heart of Pharao, and he would not let them go.
21 And Pharao says, Depart from me, beware of seeing my face again: for when thou shalt appear before me, thou shalt die.
22 And Moses says, Thou hast said, I will not appear in thy presence again.

And the Lord said to Moses, I will yet bring one plague upon Pharao and upon Egypt, and after that he will send you forth thence; and whenever he sends you forth with every thing, he will indeed drive you out. 3 Speak therefore secretly in the ears of the people, and let every one ask of his neighbour jewels of silver and gold, and raiment. 4 And the Lord gave his people favour in the sight of the Egyptians, and they went not as one ask of his neighbour jewels of silver and gold, and raiment. 5 And every first-born in the land of Egypt shall die, from the first-born of Pharao that sits on the throne, even to the first-born of the woman-servant that is by the mill, and to the first-born of all cattle. 6 And there shall be a great cry through all the land of Egypt, such as has not been, and such shall not be repeated any more. 7 But among all the children of Israel shall not a dog snarl with his tongue, either at man or beast; that thou mayest know how wide a distinction the Lord will make between the Egyptians and Israel. 8 And all these thy servants shall come down to me, and do me reverence, saying, Go forth, thou and all the people over whom thou presidest, and afterwards I will go forth. 9 And Moses went forth from Pharao with wrath. And the Lord said to Moses, Pharao will not hearken to thee, that I may greatly multiply my signs and wonders in the land of Egypt. 10 And Moses and Aaron wrought all these signs and wonders in the land of Egypt before Pharao, and the Lord hardened the heart of Pharao, and he did not hearken to send forth the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt. 11 And the Lord spoke to Moses and Aaron in the land of Egypt, saying, 2 This month shall be to you the beginning of months: it is the first to you among the months of the year. 3 Speak to all the congregation of the children of Israel, saying, On the tenth of this month let them take each man a lamb according to the houses of their families, every man a lamb for his household. 4 And if there be few in a household, so that there are not enough for the lamb, he shall take with himself his neighbour that lives near to him, as to the number of souls, every one according to that which suffices him shall make a reckoning for the lamb. 5 It shall be to you a lamb unblemished, a male of a year old: ye shall take it of the lambs and the kids. 6 And it shall be kept by you till the fourteenth of this month, and all the multitude of the congregation of the children of Israel shall kill it toward evening. 7 And they shall take of the blood, and shall put it on the two door-posts, and on the lintel, in the houses in which they sojourn. 8 And they shall eat the flesh in this night roast with fire, and they shall eat unleavened bread with bitter herbs. 9 Ye shall not eat of it raw nor sodden in water, but only roast with fire, the head with the feet and the appurtenances. 10 Nothing shall be left of it till the morning, and a bone of it ye shall not break; but that which is left of it shall be burnt with fire. 11 And thus shall ye eat it: your loins girded, and your sandals on your feet, and your staves in your hands, and ye shall eat it in haste. It is a passover to the Lord. 12 And I will go through the land of Egypt in that night, and will smite every first-born in the land of Egypt both of man and beast, and on all the gods of Egypt will I execute vengeance: I am the Lord. 13 And the blood shall be for a sign to you on the houses in which ye are, and I will see the blood, and will protect you, and there shall not be on you the plague of destruction, when I smite in the land of Egypt. 14 And this day shall be to you a memorial, and ye shall keep it a feast to the Lord through all your generations: ye shall

Go and serve the Lord your God, even as ye say. 2 And take with you your sheep, and your oxen; bless me also, I pray you. 3 And the Egyptians constrained the people, so that they cast them out of the land with haste, for they said, We shall all die. 4 And the people took their dough before their meal was leavened, bound up as it was in their garments, on their shoulders. 5 And the children of Israel did as Moses commanded them, and they asked of the Egyptians silver and gold signs and apparel. 6 And the Lord gave his people favour in the sight of the Egyptians, and they lent to them; and they spoiled the Egyptians.

7 And the children of Israel departed from Ramesses to Sochoth, to the full number of six hundred thousand footmen, even men, besides the baggage. 8 And a great mixed company went up with them, and sheep and oxen and very much cattle. 9 And they baked the dough which they brought out of Egypt, unleavened cakes, for it had not been leavened; for the Egyptians cast them out, and they could not remain, neither did they prepare provision for themselves for the journey. 10 And so the sojourning of the children of Israel in the land of Egypt was four hundred and thirty years.

11 And it came to pass after the four hundred and thirty years, all the forces of the Lord came out of the land of Egypt by night. 12 It is a watch kept to the Lord, so that he should bring them out of the land of Egypt, that night. And so it was kept to the Lord, so that it should be to all the children of Israel to their generations.

13 And the Lord said to Moses and Aaron, This is the law of the passover: no stranger shall eat of it. 14 And every slave or servant bought with money—him thou shalt circumcise, and then shall he eat of it. 15 A sojourner by hire shall not eat of it. 16 In one house shall it be eaten, and ye shall not carry of the flesh out of the house; and a bone of it ye shall not break. 17 All the congregation of the children of Israel shall keep it. 18 And if any proselyte shall come to you to keep the passover to the Lord, thou shalt circumcise every male of him, and then shalt he approach to sacrifice it, and he shall be even as the original inhabitant of the land; no uncircumcised person shall eat of it. 19 There shall be one law to the native, and to the proselyte coming among you. 20 And the children of Israel did as the Lord commanded Moses and Aaron for them, so did they. 21 And it came to pass in that day that the Lord brought out the children of Israel from the land of Egypt with their forces. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,

22 Sanctify to me every first-born, first-produced, opening every womb among the children of Israel both of man and beast; it is mine. 23 And Moses said to the people, Remember this day, in which ye came forth out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage, for with a strong hand the Lord brought you forth thence; and leaven shall not be eaten. 24 For on this day ye go forth in the month of new corn. 5 And it shall come to pass when the Lord thy God shall have brought thee into the land of the Chanaanites, and the Chettites, and Amorites, and Elites, and Jeubites, and Hethites, and Pharaoh's, and shall give it thee, 6 that thou shalt set apart every offspring opening the womb, the males to the Lord, every one that opens the womb out of the herd or among thy cattle, as many as thou shalt have; thou shalt sanctify the males to the Lord. 7 Every offspring opening the womb of the ass thou shalt change for a shea lamb; and if thou wilt not change it, thou shalt redeem it; every first-born of man and thy sons shalt thou redeem. 8 And if thy son should ask thee thereafter, saying, What is this? then thou shalt say to him, With a strong hand the Lord brought us out of Egypt, 9 to every first-born of man and the first-born of beast; therefore do I sacrifice every offspring that opens the womb, the males to the Lord, and every first-born of my sons I will redeem. 10 And when Pharaoh hardened his heart so as not to send us away, he slew every first-born in the land of Egypt, both the first-born of man and the first-born of beast; therefore do I sacrifice every offspring that opens the womb, the males to the Lord, and every first-born of my sons I will redeem. 11 And when Pharaoh sent forth the people, God led them not by the way of the Phylisites, because it was near; for God said, Lest at any time the people repent when they see war, and return to Egypt. 12 And God led the people round by the way to the wilderness, to the Red Sea; 13 and in the fifth generation the children of Israel went up out of the land of Egypt. 14 And Moses took the bones of Joseph with him, for he had solemnly adjured the children of Israel, saying, God will surely visit you, and ye shall carry up my bones hence with you. 15 And the children of Israel departed from Socothon, and encamped in Othom by the wilderness of Pharaoh's swords. 16 And God led the people in the day by a pillar of cloud, to show them the way, and in the night by a pillar of fire. 17 And the pillar of cloud failed not by day, nor the pillar of fire by night, before all the people.

And the Lord spake to Moses, saying, 2 speak to the children of Israel, and let them turn and encamp before the village, between Mount Seir and the‑Unterum Bezaliel, and he shall pursue after them; and I will be glorified in Pharaoh, and in all his host, and all the Egyptians shall know that I am the Lord. And they did so. 4 And it was reported to the king of the Egyptians that the people had fled; and the heart of Pharaoh was turned, and that of his servants against the people; and they said, What is this that we have done, to let the children of Israel go, so that they should not serve us? 5 So Pharaoh rooked his chariots, and led off all his people with himself: 6 having also six hundred chosen chariots, and all the cavalry of the Egyptians, and rulers over all. 7 And the Lord hardened the heart of Pharaoh king of Egypt, and of his servants, and he pursued after the children of Israel; and the children of Israel encamped before the sea; and all the cavalry of Pharaoh, and the horsemen, and his host were before the village, over against Beal‑sephon. 8 And Pharaoh approached, and the children of Israel having looked up, beheld, and the Egyptians encamped before them; and they were very greatly terrified, and the children of Israel cried to the Lord; 9 and said to Moses, because there were no graves in the land of Egypt, hast thou brought us forth to slay us in the wilderness? What is this that thou hast done to us, having brought us out of Egypt? 10 Is not this the word we spake to thee in Egypt, saying, Let us alone that we may serve the Egyptians? for it is better for us to serve the Egyptians than to die in this wilderness.

11 And Moses said to the people, Be of good courage: stand and see the salvation which the Lord will perform for you this day; for as ye have seen the Egyptians to‑day, ye shall see them again no more for ever. 12 The Lord shall fight for you, and ye shall hold your peace. 13 And the Lord said to Moses, Why criest thou unto me? speak to the children of Israel, and let them go. 14 And do thou lift up thy rod, and stretch forth thy hand over the sea, and dividest it, and the children of Israel shall enter into the midst of the sea on the dry land. 15 And lo! I will harden the heart of Pharaoh and of all the Egyptians, and they shall go in after them; and I will be glorified upon Pharaoh, and on all his host, and on his chariots and his horses. 16 And all the Egyptians shall know that I am the Lord, when I have glorified the child Pharo and upon his chariots and his horses. 17 And the angel of God that went before the camp of the children of Israel removed and went behind, and the pillar of the cloud did not go before them anymore. 18 And Pharaoh pursued them with all his host, and were very greatly terrified, and the Egyptians sought to recover their horses. 19 And the Lord turned to pomp the children of Israel from the Egyptians, and delivered them out of their hand; and he chased them with horses and chariots, and with horsemen and archers.
moved from before them and stood behind them. 29 And it went between the camp of the Egyptians and the camp of Israel, and stood; and there was darkness and blackness; and the night passed, and they came not near one another during the whole night. 30 And Moses stretched forth his hand over the sea, and the Lord carried back the sea with a strong south wind all the night, and made the sea dry, and the water was divided. 31 And the children of Israel went into the midst of the sea on the dry land, and the water of it was a wall on the right hand and a wall on the left. 32 And the Egyptians pursued them and went in after them, and every horse of Pharaoh, and his chariots, and his horsemen, into the midst of the sea. 33 And it came to pass in the morning watch that the Lord looked forth on the camp of the Egyptians through the pillar of fire and cloud, and troubled the camp of the Egyptians, 34 and bound the axletrees of the chariots, so that they could not use them; and the Egyptians went on all their way with difficulty; and the Egyptians said, Let us flee from the face of Israel, for the Lord fights for them against the Egyptians. 35 And the Lord said to Moses, Stretch forth thine hand over the sea, and let the water be turned back to its place, and let it cover the Egyptians coming both upon the chariots and the riders. 36 And Moses stretched forth his hand over the sea, and the water returned to its place toward day: and the Egyptians fled from the water, and the Lord shook off the Egyptians into the midst of the sea. 37 And the water returned and covered the chariots and the riders, and all the forces of Pharaoh, who entered after them into the sea; and there was not left of them even one. 38 But the children of Israel went along dry land in the midst of the sea, and the water was to them a wall on the right hand, and a wall on the left. 39 So the Lord delivered Israel in that day from the hand of the Egyptians, and Israel saw the Egyptians dead by the shore of the sea. 40 And Israel saw the mighty hand, the things which the Lord did to the Egyptians, and the people feared the Lord: and they believed God and Moses his servant.

Then sang Moses and the children of Israel this song to God, and spoke, saying, Let us sing to the Lord, for he is greatly glorified: horse and rider he has thrown into the sea. 42 He was to me a helper and protector for salvation: this is my God, and I will glorify him.
concealed in the midst of the sea. The enemy said, I will pursue, I will overtake, I will divide the spoils; I will satisfy my soul, I will destroy with my sword, my hand shall have dominion. Thou sendest forth thy wind, the sea covered them; they sank like lead in the mighty water. Who is like to thee among the gods, O Lord? who is like to thee, glorified in holiness, marvellous in glorious, doing wonders? Thou stretchedst forth thy right hand, the earth swallowed them up.

Thou hast guided in thy righteousness this thy people whom thou hast redeemed, by thy strength thou hast called them into thy holy resting-place. The nations heard and were angry, pangs have seized on the dwellers among thePhilistines. Then the princes of Edom, and the chiefs of the Moabites hasted; trembling took hold upon them, all the inhabitants of Channan melted away. Let trembling and fear fall upon them; by the greatness of thine arm, let them become as stone; till thou people pass over, O Lord, till this people proud over which thou hast purchased. Bring them in and plant them in the mountain of their inheritance, in thy prepared habitation, which thou, O Lord, hast prepared; the sanctuary, O Lord, which thine hands have made ready. The Lord reigns for ever and ever and ever.

For the horse of Pharoah went in with the chariots and horsemen into the sea, and the Lord brought upon them the water of the sea, but the children of Israel walked through dry land in the midst of the sea.

And Mariam the prophetess, the sister of Aaron, having taken a timbrel in her hand—then there went forth all the women after her with timbrels and dances. And Mariam led them, saying, Let us sing to the Lord, for he has been very greatly glorified: the horse and rider has he cast into the sea.

So Moses brought up the children of Israel from the Red Sea, and brought them into the wilderness of Sur; and they went three days in the wilderness, and found no water to drink; they came to Merhah, and could not drink of Merhah, for it was bitter; therefore he named the name of that place, Bitterness. And the people murmured against Moses, saying, What shall we drink? And Moses cried to the Lord, and the Lord shewed him a tree, and he cast it into the water, and the water was sweetened; there he established to him ordinances and judgments, and there he proved him, and said, If thou wilt indeed hear the voice of the Lord thy God, and do things pleasing before him, and wilt hearken to his commands, and keep all his ordinances, no disease which I have brought upon the Egyptians will I bring upon thee, for I am the Lord thy God that heals thee. And they came to Ælim, and there were there twelve fountains of water, and seventy stems of palm-trees; and they encamped there by the waters.

And they departed from Ælim, and all the congregation of the children of Israel came to the wilderness of Sin, which is between Ælim and Sina; and on the fifteenth day, in the second month after their departure from Ælim.
2 And the children of Israel murmured against Moses, saying, "Would God that we had died by the hand of the Lord in the land of Egypt, when we sat by the flesh-pots and drank our fill of fresh milk and honey; why have you brought us into this wilderness to starve us and to make the children of Israel hunger?"

3 And the Lord said to Moses, "I have heard the crying of the Israelites whom they cry to. I have heard their cry because of their oppressors, and I have come to deliver them. And I will send a plague on Egypt, and you will see my power and I will set you apart as holy people among all the people of the earth."

4 And Moses and Aaron went and said to Pharaoh, "Thus says the Lord, God of the Hebrews, let my people go, that they may worship me in the wilderness."

5 But Pharaoh said, "Who is the Lord, that I should obey his voice and let Israel go, unless I feel the rod in my hand?"

6 And Pharaoh hardened his heart, and was not willing to let the Israelites go, as the Lord had said to him.

7 And the Lord said to Moses and Aaron, "Pharaoh will not obey you. Take your staff and cast it down before Pharaoh, and he will know that I am the Lord."

8 And Moses and Aaron took their staffs and cast them down before Pharaoh, and the staff became a snake. But Pharaoh did not hearken to them.

9 And the Lord said to Moses, "Pharaoh has hardened his heart. Cast fire from heaven upon the land of Egypt, and it may be that Pharaoh will think that I am the Lord."

10 And Moses and Aaron cast down their staff, and it became a serpent. But Pharaoh did not hearken to them, for the purpose of the Lord was to harden his heart.

11 And the Lord said to Moses, "Pharaoh has hardened his heart. Take your staff, and cast it down before Pharaoh, that it may become a snake, and he will know that I am the Lord."

12 And Moses cast down his staff, and it became a snake. But Pharaoh did not hearken to him, for the purpose of the Lord was to harden his heart.

13 And the Lord said to Moses, "Pharaoh has hardened his heart. Take your staff and cast it down before Pharaoh, and it shall turn into dust, that he may know that I am the Lord."

14 And Moses cast down his staff, and it became dust. But Pharaoh did not hearken to him, for the purpose of the Lord was to harden his heart.

15 And the Lord said to Moses, "Pharaoh has hardened his heart. Take your staff and cast it down before Pharaoh, and it shall become a snake, and he will know that I am the Lord."

17 And the Lord said to Moses, "Pharaoh has hardened his heart. Take your staff and cast it down before Pharaoh, that it may become the arrow of death, that it may slay those whom I call by name."

18 And Moses cast down his staff, and it became the arrow of death. But Pharaoh did not hearken to him, for the purpose of the Lord was to harden his heart.

19 And the Lord said to Moses, "Pharaoh has hardened his heart. Take your staff and cast it down before Pharaoh, and it shall become a serpent, that he may know that I am the Lord."

20 And Moses cast down his staff, and it became a serpent. But Pharaoh did not hearken to him, for the purpose of the Lord was to harden his heart.

And it came to pass on the sixth day, they gathered double what was necessary, two homers for one man; and all the chiefs of the synagogue went in and reported it to Moses and Aaron. And Moses said unto them, Is not this the word which the Lord spoke? To-morrow is the sabbath, a holy rest to the Lord: bake that ye will bake, and seethe that ye will seethe, and all that is over leave to be laid by for the morrow. And they left of it till the morning, as Moses commanded them; and it stank not, neither was there a worm in it. And Moses said, Eat that to-day, for to-day is a sabbath to the Lord; if it shall not be found in the plain. Six days ye shall gather it, and on the seventh day is a sabbath, for there shall be none on that day. And it came to pass on the seventh day that some of the people went forth to gather, and found none. And the Lord said to Moses, How long are ye unwilling to hearken to my commands and my law? See, for the Lord has given you this day as the sabbath, therefore he has given you on the sixth day the bread of two days; ye shall sit each of you in your houses; let no one go forth from his place on the seventh day. And the people kept sabbath on the seventh day.

And Moses said to Aaron, Take a golden pot, and cast it into one full homer of manna; and thou shalt lay it up before God, to be kept for your generations; that they may see the bread which ye ate in the wilderness, when the Lord led you forth out of the land of Egypt. And Moses said to Aaron, Take a golden pot, and cast it into one full homer of manna; and thou shalt lay it up before God, to be kept for your generations; that they may see the bread which ye ate in the wilderness, when the Lord led you forth out of the land of Egypt. And Moses said to Aaron, Take a golden pot, and cast it into one full homer of manna; and thou shalt lay it up before God, to be kept for your generations; that they may see the bread which ye ate in the wilderness, when the Lord led you forth out of the land of Egypt. and rescued them out of the hand of the Egyptians and out of the hand of Pharaoh.

And Jothor said, Blessèd be the Lord, because he has rescued them out of the hand of the Egyptians and out of the hand of Pharaoh.

Now know I that the Lord is great above all gods, because of this, and I will do as thou hast said.

And Moses the father-in-law of Moses took whole burnt-offerings and sacrifices for God, for Aaron and all the elders of Israel came to eat bread with the father-in-law of Moses before God.

And it came to pass after the morrow that Moses sat to judge the people, and all the people did go by Moses from morning till evening.

And Jothor had also seen afar that Moses y'did to the people, says, What is this that thou dost to the people? wherefore sittest thou alone, and all the people stand by thee from morning till evening?

And Moses says to his father-in-law, Because the people come to me to seek judgment from God, and whenever there is a dispute among them, and they come to me, I give judgment upon each, and I teach them the ordinances of God and his law.

And the father-in-law of Moses said to him, Thou dost not this thing rightly, thou wilt wear away with intolerable weariness, both those and all this people which is with theee: this thing is hard, thou wilt not be able to endure it thyself alone. Now then hearken to me, and I will advise thee, and God shall be with thee: be thou to the people in the things pertaining to God, and thou shalt bring their matters to God.

And thou shalt testify to them the ordinances of God and his law, and thou shalt shew to them the ways in which they shall walk, and the works which they shall do.

And do thou look out for thyself out of all the people able men, fearing God, righteous men, hating pride, and thou shalt set over them the people captains of thousands and captains of hundreds, and captains of fifties, and captains of tens.

And they shall judge the people at all times, and the too burdensome matter they shall bring to thee, but they shall judge the smaller cases; so they shall relieve thee and help thee. If thou wilt do this thing, God shall strengthen thee, and thou shalt be able to attend, and all this people shall come with peace into their own place.

And Moses hearkened to the voice of his father-in-law, and did whatsoever he said to him.

And Moses chose out able men out of all Israel, and he made them captains of thousands and captains of hundreds, and captains of fifties and captains of tens over the people. And they judged the people at all times, and every too burdensome matter they brought to Moses, but every light matter they judged themselves.

And Moses dismissed his father-in-law, and he returned to his own land.

And in the third month of the departure of the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt, on the same day, they came into the wilderness of Sina.

And they departed from Raphidin, and came into the wilderness of Sina, and there Israel enwrapped before the mountain.

to the mount of God, and God called him out of the mountain, saying, These things shalt thou say to the house of Jacob, and thou shalt report them to the children of Israel. 4 You have seen all that I have done to the Egyptians, and I took you up as upon eagles' wings, and I brought you near to myself. 5 And now if ye will indeed hear my voice, and keep my covenant, ye shall be to me a peculiar people above all nations; for the whole earth is mine. 6 And ye shall be to me a royal priesthood and a holy nation: these are the words which the Lord spake of you. 7 And Moses went down from the mount with him. 8 And Moses called the elders of Israel, and said unto them, Take your stand, and I will speak thereunto you of all the words which the Lord shall answer with you. 9 And seventy elders arose, and they said unto Moses, Behold, we will go with thee, for we will do all the Lord hath said. 10 And Moses said unto the Lord, See, thou speakest with us, and we hear thee: but speak thou not unto us iniquity, lest we die. 11 And the Lord said unto Moses, Go down to the people, and consecrate them today and tomorrow, and let them wash their garments, 12 And let them take their anointing oil and their garments, and rub the oil thereof upon their heads, and sanctify themselves. 13 And let them take two baths, and let them wash their garments, and let them wash their other garments, and let them come thither. 14 And let Aaron call the elders of the children of Israel, and say unto them, Assemble yourselves before me, that I may set on you the testimony of the Lord. 15 And Moses called to the elders of the children of Israel, and said, Come up unto the Lord, and he will give you the two tables, that ye may hear the voice of the Lord, and teach them. 16 And the glory of the Lord appeared unto them out of the cloud. 17 And the Lord spoke unto Moses, saying, I have heard the voice of the children of Israel, which they cry unto me, saying, Let me see what great things thou doest with us, that I also may see, and that I may be sure, and may believe thee, and that I may speak in thy name unto this people. 18 And the Lord said to Moses, Why murmur ye against me? 19 And Moses said, What shall I answer this people, which hath spoken unto me, saying, Give us also a sign, whereby we may know that thou art able to do these things? 20 And Moses spoke to the Lord, saying, I will come out, and look upon the glory of the Lord, and I shall be strong enough to speak. 21 And the Lord said to Moses, Go in peace. 22 And Moses stood with his rod in his hand before the Lord. 23 And the Lord said unto Moses, Take this rod, and cast it before the Lord. And he did so. 24 And there came a cloud, and covered the tent of meeting, and there was a thick cloud over the tent, and the glory of the Lord appeared. 25 And Moses entered into the tent, and came out, and spoke with the Lord. 26 And the Lord said unto Moses, When there is an outpouring of glory, and a cloud, and a thick cloud, and it shall be over the tabernacle, then I shall speak to him in the cloud, and in the thick cloud shall I be heard. 27 And I will come out, and I will speak with him, and I will set him forth in My covenant, and in the testimony of My law, and in the testimony of the law of Israel, which I gave to the children of Israel. 28 And he shall set over him one of his priests, and shall make him known to him. 29 And I will speak to him through the cloud. 30 And the Lord said to Moses, Go in peace, and I will come to you in three days. 31 And Moses went out, and washed his garments, and came in again, and saw that the glory of the Lord had appeared upon the tent. 32 And he took his rod, and entered in, and cast it before the Lord, and came out, and spake with the Lord. 33 And the Lord said to Moses, Go in peace. 34 And Moses went up into the mountain, and was there for forty days. 35 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, Take the breastplate, and put it on Aaron, and the ephod, 36 And the.uuida

* Greek change. ἀναλλαγές is used in this sense elsewhere. q. d. remove by destroying.
And Moses said to God, The people will not be able to approach to the mount of Sinai, for thou hast solemnly charged us, saying, Set bounds to the mountain and sanctify it. 2 And the Lord said to him, Go, descend, and come up thou and Aaron with thee, and let not the priests and the people force their way to come up to God, lest the Lord destroy some of them.

And Moses went down to the people, and spoke to them.

And the Lord spoke all these words, saying: 1 I am the Lord thy God, who brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage. 2 Thou shalt have no other gods beside me. 3 Thou shalt not make to thyself an idol, nor likenesses of anything, whatever things are in the heaven above, and whatever are in the earth beneath, and whatever are in the waters under the earth. 4 Thou shalt not bow down to them, nor serve them; for I am the Lord thy God, a jealous God, recompensing the sins of the fathers upon the children, to the third and fourth generation to them that hate me, 5 and bestowing mercy on them that love me to thousands of them, and on them that keep my commandments. 6 Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain; for the Lord thy God will not acquit him that takes his name in vain. 7 Remember the sabbath day to keep it holy. 8 Six days thou shalt labour, and shalt perform all thy work. 9 But on the seventh day is the sabbath of the Lord thy God; on it thou shalt do no work, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, thy servant, nor thy maid servant, thine ox nor thine ass, nor any cattle of thine, nor the stranger that sojourns with thee. 10 In six days the Lord made the heaven and the earth, and the sea and all things in them, and rested on the seventh day; therefore the Lord blessed the seventh day, and hallowed it. 11 Honour thy father and thy mother, that it may be well with thee, and that thou mayest live long upon the good land, which the Lord thy God gives to thee. 12 Thou shalt not commit adultery. 13 Thou shalt not steal. 14 Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbour. 15 Thou shalt not covet thy neighbour's wife; thou shalt not covet thy neighbour's house; nor his field, nor his servant, nor his maid, nor his ox, nor any of his cattle, nor anything that belongs to thy neighbour.

And all the people perceived the thundering, and the flashes, and the voice of the trumpet, and the mountain smoking; and all the people feared and stood afar off; 18 and said to Moses, Speak thou to us, and let not God speak to us, lest we die. 19 And Moses, nor his elder, nor none of the tribe of Israel, went into the midst of the cloud; for God was come to thee to try thee, that his fear may be among you, that ye sin not. 20 And the people stood afar off, and Moses went into the darkness where God was.

And the Lord said to Moses, Thus shalt thou say to the house of Jacob, and thou shalt report it to the children of Israel, Ye have seen that God speaks to you from the heaven.

Ye shall not make to yourselves
Theodorus, and they who renew their vows shall not wear the vestments of the Lord.

24 "He must not make an altar of earth, and upon it ye shall sacrifice your whole burnt-offerings, and your peace-offerings, and your sheaves and your calves in every place where I shall record my name; and I will come to thee and bless thee.

25 "And if thou wouldst build thee an altar of stones, thou shalt not build them heuow stones; for thou hast lifted up thy tool upon them, and they are defiled. And thou shalt not go up to my altar by steps, that thou mayest not uncover thy nakedness upon it.

And these are the ordinances which thou shalt set before them. If thou buy a Hebrew servant, six years shall he serve thee, and in the seventh year he shall go forth free for nothing.

If he should have come in alone, he shall also go forth alone; and if his wife should have gone in together with him, his wife also shall go out. Moreover, if his master give him a wife, and she have born him sons or daughters, the wife and the children shall be his master's; and he shall go forth free for nothing.

If the servant should answer and say, I love my master and wife and children, I will not go away free; his master shall bring him to the judgment-seat of God, and then shall he bring him to the door, to the door-post, and his master shall bore his ear through with an awl, and he shall serve him for ever.

And if any one sell his daughter as domestic, she shall not depart as the maidservants depart. If she be not pleasing to her master, after she has betrothed herself to him, he shall let her go free; but he is not at liberty to sell her to a foreign nation, because he has trampled with her. And if he should have betrothed her to his son, he shall do her according to the right of daughters.

And if he take another to himself, he shall not deprive her of necessaries and her apparel, and her companionship with him. And if he will not do these three things to her, she shall go out free without money.

And if any man smite another and he die, let him be certainly put to death. But as for him that did it not willingly, but God delivered him into his hands, I will give thee a place whither the slayer may flee. And if it be a hired servant, he that smite him shall flee into one lie in wait for his neighbour to slay him by craft, and he go for refuge, thou shalt take him from my altar to put him to death.

Whoever smites his father or his mother, let him be certainly put to death. He that reviles his father or his mother shall surely die. Whosoever shall steal one of the children of Israel, and prevail over him and sell him, and he be found with him, let him certainly die. And if two men revile each other and smite the one the other with a stone or his fist, and he die not, but be laid upon his bed; if the man arise and walk abroad on his steed, that smite him shall be clear; only he shall pay for his loss of time, and for his healing. And if a man smite his male-servant or his female-servant, with a rod, and the party die under his hands, he shall be surely punished. But if the servant continue to live a day or two,
let not the master be punished; for he is his money. 22 And if two men strive and smite a woman with child, and her child be born imperfectly formed, he shall be forced to pay a penalty; as the woman's husband may lay upon him, he shall pay with a valuation. 23 But if it be perfectly formed, he shall give life for life, 24 eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot, burning for burning, wound for wound, stripe for stripe. 25 And if one smite the eye of his man-servant, or the eye of his maid-servant, and put it out, he shall let them go free for their eye's sake. 26 And if he smite the tooth of his man-servant, or the tooth of his maid-servant, he shall send them away free for their tooth's sake. 27 And if a bull gore a man or woman and they die, the bull shall be stoned with stones, and his flesh shall not be eaten; but the owner of the bull shall be clear. 28 But if the bull should have been given to goaring in former time, and men should have told his owner, and he have not removed him, he shall have slain a man or woman, the bull shall be stoned, and his owner shall die also. 29 And if a ransom should be imposed on him, he shall pay for the ransom of his soul as much as they a thousand shekels of silver. 30 And if the bull gore a son or daughter, let them do to him according to this ordinance. 31 And if the bull gore a man-servant or maid-servant, he shall pay to their master thirty silver didrachems, and the bull shall be stoned. 32 And if any one open a pit or dig a cavity in the land, and cover it not, and an ox or an ass fall in there, the owner of the pit shall make compensation; he shall give money to their owner, and the dead shall be his own. 33 And if any man's bull gore the bull of his neighbour, and it die, they shall sell the living bull and divide the money, and they shall divide the dead bull. 34 But if the bull be in the possession of its owner, and it has been given to goaring in former time, and they have testified to his owner, and he have not removed him, he shall repay bull for bull, but the dead shall be his own. 35 And if one steal an ox or a sheep, and kill it or sell it, he shall pay five calves for a calf, and four sheep for a sheep. 36 And if the thief be found in the breach made by himself and be smitten and die, there shall not be blood shed for him. 37 But if the sun be risen upon him, he is guilty, he shall die instead; and if a thief have nothing, let him be sold in compensation for what he has stolen. 42 And if the thing stolen be left and be in his hand alive, whether ox or ass, he shall make two-fold compensation. 43 And if any one should feed down a field or a vineyard, and should send in his beast to feed down another field, he shall make compensation of his own field according to his produce; and if he shall have fed down the whole field, he shall pay for compensation the best of his own field and the best of his vineyard. 44 And if fire have gone forth and caught thorns, and should also set on fire threshing-flours or ears of corn or a field, he that kindled the fire shall make compensation.
And if any one give to his neighbour money or goods to keep, and they be stolen out of the man’s house, if the thief be found, he shall repay double. {3} But if the thief be not found, the master of the house shall come forward before God, and shall swear that surely he has not wroght wickedly in regard of any part of his neighbour’s deposit, {9} according to every injury alleged, both concerning a calf, and an ass, and a sheep, and a garment, and every alleged loss, whatsoever in fact it may be,—the judgment of both shall proceed before God, and he that is told shall repay his neighbour double. {10} And if any one give to his neighbour to keep a calf or sheep or any beast, and it be wounded or die or be taken, and no one know, {11} an oath of God shall be between both, each swearing that he has surely not at all been guilty in the matter of his neighbour’s deposit; and so his master shall the one that lies, with shall not make compensation. {12} And if it be stolen from him, he shall make compensation to the owner. {13} And if it be seized of beasts, he shall bring him to witness the prey, and he shall not make compensation. {14} And if any one borrow ought of his neighbour, and it be wounded or die or be carried away, and the owner of it be not with it, he shall make compensation. {15} But if the owner be with it, he shall not make compensation; but if it be a hired thing, there shall be a compensation to him instead of his hire.

And if any one deceive a virgin that is not betrothed, and lie with her, she shall surely endow her for a wife to himself. {16} And if her father positively refuse, and will not consent to give her to him for a wife, he shall pay five compensation to her father according to the amount of the dowry of virgins. {17} Ye shall not save the lives of her parents.

Every one that is guilty of beast shall surely put to death. {18} He that sacrifices to any gods but to the Lord alone, shall be destroyed by death.

And ye shall not hurt a stranger, nor afflict him; for ye were strangers in the land of Egypt. {19} Ye shall shun no widow or orphan.

And if ye should afflict them by ill-treatment, and they should cry aloud to me, I will surely hear their voice. {20} And I will be very angry, and will slay you with the sword and your wives shall be widows and your children orphans. {21} And if thou shouldst lend money to thy poor brother, who is poor by thee, thou shalt not be hard upon him thou shalt not exact usury of him. {22} And if thou take thy neighbour’s garment for a pledge thou shalt restore it to him before sunset.

For this is his clothing, this is the only covering of his nakedness; wherein shall he sleep? {23} If then he shall cry to me, I will hear him from him, for I am the Lord thy God. {24} Thou shalt not revile the gods, nor speak ill of the ruler of thy people. {25} Thou shalt not keep back the first-fruits of thythreshing floor and press. The first-born of thy sons thou shalt give to me. {26} So shalt thou do with thy calf and thy sheep and thine ass; seven days shall it be under the mother, and the eighth day thou shalt give it to me. And ye shall be holy men to me; and ye shall not eat flesh taken of beasts, ye shall cast it to the dog.

Thou shalt not receive a vain report: thou shalt not agree with the unjust man to become an unjust witness. Thou shalt not associate with the multitude for evil; thou shalt not join thyself with a multitude to do evil with them, and pass them with the multitude so as to shut out judgment. And thou shalt not spare a poor man in judgment. And if thou meet thine enemy's ox or his ass going astray, thou shalt turn them back and restore them to him. And if thou see thine enemy's ass fallen under its burden, thou shalt not pass by it, but shalt help to raise it with him.

Thou shalt not wrest the sentence of the poor in his judgment. Thou shalt abstain from every unjust thing: thou shalt not slay the innocent and just, and thou shalt not justify the wicked for gifts. And thou shalt not receive gifts; for gifts blind the eyes of the seeing, and corrupt just words. And ye shall not afflict a stranger, for ye know the heart of a stranger, for ye yourselves strangers in the land of Egypt. Six years thou shalt sow thy land, and gather in the fruits of it. But in the seventh year thou shalt let it rest, and leave it, and the poor of thy nation shall feed; and the wild beasts of the field shall eat that which remains: thus shall thou do to thy vineyard and to thine oliveyard. Six days shalt thou do thy works, and on the seventh day there shall be rest, that thine ox and thine ass may rest, and that the son of thy maidservant and the stranger may be refreshed. Observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you; and ye shall make no mention of the name of other gods, neither shall they be heard out of your mouths. Keep a feast to me three times in the year. Take heed to keep the feast of unleavened bread: seven days ye shall eat unleavened bread, as I charged thee at the season of the month of new corn, for in it thou camest out of Egypt: thou shalt not appear before me empty. And thou shalt keep the feast of harvest, of the first-fruits of thy labours, whatsoever thou shalt have sown in thy field, and the feast of completion at the end of the year in the gathering in of thy fruits out of thy field. Three times in the year shall all thy males appear before the Lord thy God. For when I shall have cast out the nations from before thee, and shall have widened thy borders, thou shalt not offer the blood of thy sacrifices with leaven, neither must the fat of my feast abide till the morning. Thou shalt bring the first-offerings of the first-fruits of thy land into the house of the Lord thy God. Thou shalt not seethe a lamb in its mother's milk. And, behold, I send my angel before thy face, that he may keep thee in the way, that he may bring thee into the land which I have prepared for thee. Take heed to thyself and hearken to him, and disobey him not; for he will not give way to thee, for my name is on him. If ye will indeed hear my voice, and if thou wilt do all the things I shall charge thee with, and keep my cove-
24 And Moses wrote all the words of the Lord: and Moses rose up early in the morning, and built an altar under the mount, and set up a pillar at the border thereof, and called the name of the place, Jehovah of hosts, the altar of incense.

25 And Moses spake, and the children of Israel answered, and spake unto all the congregation, saying, whatsoever the Lord shall say unto you, do.

26 And Moses took the sum of the children of Israel by their fathers' houses, by their tribes; every man of them by his family; and every man of them by his fathers' house.

27 And all the spirits of holy assembly answered, and said, the Lord, the God of Israel, shall dwell between his people; he will be their God, and they shall be his people.

28 And they answered, and said, the Lord shall add unto thee more people more than the stars of heaven, and more than the sand which is upon the sea, to make thy name great, like as it is this day.

29 And the Lord said unto Moses, Build me an ark of gopher wood; of cubits five the length thereof, and of cubits three the beam thereof.

30 And make doors in the sides thereof; and cover it with plates of brass.

31 And thou shalt put in it golden dishes, and shewbread, and the sweet incense; and set up the candlestick thereof, and the table thereof, and set in theArk the testimony.

32 And Aaron and his sons shall come, and shall wash their hands and feet thereat.

33 And they shall offer a holocaust unto the Lord, and present an offering made by fire, and a sacrifice of peace offerings.

34 And they shall put in it the holy anointing oil, and anoint the ark, and anoint the altar, and anoint the table, and anoint the oil for the light, and anoint the tabernacle, and all its vessels, and consecrate the priests, and consecrate the Levites, and consecrate Aaron and his sons, that they may minister in the holy place; and anoint them to minister therein.

35 And thou shalt bring into the tabernacle, with the ark, a statute for Israel, and thou shalt set up the table before it, and the candlestick beside the ark, on the south side, and thou shalt hang up the vail, and shalt set up the tabernacle.
sprinkled it upon the people, and said, Behold the blood of the covenant, which the Lord has made with you concerning all these words. 9 And Moses went up, and Aaron, and Nadab and Abihu, and seventy of the elders of Israel. 10 And they saw the place where the God of Israel stood, and under his feet was as it were a work of sapphire slabs, and as it was the flower of the fir-tree, according to the firmament of heaven in its purity. 11 And of the chosen ones of Israel there was not even one missing, and they appeared in the place of God, and did eat and drink. 12 And the Lord said to Moses, Come up, me and Joshua into the mountain, and be there; and I will give thee the tables of stone, the law and the commandments, which I have written to give them laws. 13 And Moses rose up and Joshua his attendant, and they went up into the mount of God. 14 And to the elders they said, Rest there till we return to you; and behold, Aaron and Or are with you: if any man have a cause to be tried, let them go to them. 15 And Moses and Joshua went up to the mouth of the cloud, and the glory of the Lord appeared. 16 And the glory of God came down upon the mount Sina, and the cloud covered it six days; and the Lord called Moses on the seventh day out of the midst of the cloud. 17 And the appearance of the glory of the Lord was as burning fire on the top of the mountain, before the children of Israel. 18 And Moses went into the midst of the cloud, and went up to the mountain, and was there in the mountain forty days and forty nights.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 2 Speak to the children of Israel, and take first-fruits of all, who may be deposited in their heart. 3 And ye shall take my first-fruits; and the first-fruits of brass, and purple, and double scarlet, and fine spun linen, and goats' hair; and rams'skins dyed red, and blue skins, and incorruptible wood, 4 and oil for the light, incense for anointing oil, and for the composition of incense, and sardius stones, and stones for the work of the tabernacle, and the tabernacle, and the altar, 5 and thou shalt make me a sanctuary, and I will appear among you. 6 And thou shalt make for me according to all things which I shewed thee in the mountain; even the pattern of the tabernacle, and the pattern of all its furniture: so shall thou make it. 7 And thou shalt make the ark of testimony, incorruptible wood; the length of two cubits and a half, and the breadth of a cubit and a half, and the height of a cubit and a half. 8 And thou shalt gird it with pure gold, thou shalt gird it within and without; and thou shalt make for it golden rings twisted round about. 9 And thou shalt cast for it four golden rings, and shalt put them on the four sides; two rings on the one side, and two rings on the other side. 10 And thou shalt make staves of incorruptible wood, and shall gird them with gold. 11 And thou shalt put the staves into the rings on the sides of the ark, to bear the ark with them. 12 The staves shall rest...
main fixed in the rings of the ark. And thou shalt put into the ark the testimonies which I shall give thee. And thou shalt make a propitiatory, a lid of pure gold; the length of two cubits and a half, and the breadth of a cubit and a half. And thou shalt make two cherubs of pure gold, and thou shalt put them on both sides of the propitiatory.

They shall be made, one cherub on this side, and another cherub on the other side of the propitiatory; and thou shalt make the two cherubs on the two sides. The cherubs shall stretch forth their wings above, overshadowing the propitiatory with their wings; and their faces shall be toward the faces of the cherubs, and their faces shall be toward the propitiatory. And thou shalt set the propitiatory on the ark above, and thou shalt put into the ark the testimonies which I shall give thee. And I will make myself known to thee from thence, and I will speak to thee above the propitiatory between the two cherubs, which are upon the ark of testimony, which I have made to give thee the children of Israel. And thou shalt make a golden table of pure gold, in length two cubits, and in breadth a cubit, and in height a cubit and a half. And thou shalt make for it golden wafers twisted round about, and thou shalt make for it a crown of a hand-breadth round about.

And thou shalt make a twisted wreath for the crown round about. And thou shalt make four golden rings; and thou shalt put the four rings upon the four parts of its feet; the rings on the sides of the ark. And the rings shall be for bearings for the staves, that they may bear the table with them. And thou shalt make the staves of incorruptible wood, and thou shalt gild them with pure gold; and the table shall be borne with them. And thou shalt make its dishes and its censers, and its bowls, and its cups, with which the priests shall offer burnt offerings, and all drinks-offerings of pure gold; and thou shalt make them. And thou shalt set upon the table shewbread before me continually.

And thou shalt make a candlestick of pure gold; thou shalt make the candlestick of graven work: its stem and its branches, and its bowls and its knops and its lilies shall be of one piece. And six branches proceeding sideways, three branches of the candlestick from one side of it, and three branches of the candlestick from the other side. And three bowls fashioned like almonds, on each branch a knob and a lily; so to the six branches proceeding from the candlestick, and in the candlestick four bowls fashioned like almonds, in each branch knobs and the flowers of one piece, altogether graven of one piece of pure gold. And thou shalt make its seven lamps: and thou shalt set it on it the lamps, and they
And thou shalt make the tabernacle, ten curtains of fine linen spun, and blue and purple, and scarlet spun with cherubims: thou shalt make them with work of a weaver. The length of one curtain shall be eight and twenty cubits, and one curtain shall be the breadth of four cubits: there shall be the same measure to all the curtains. And the five curtains shall be joined one to another, and the other five curtains shall be closely connected the one with the other. And thou shalt make for them loops of blue on the edge of one curtain, on one side for the coupling, and so shalt thou make on the edge of the outer curtain for the second coupling. Fifty loops shalt thou make for one curtain, and fifty loops shalt thou make on the part of the curtain answering to the coupling of the second, opposite each other, corresponding to each other at each point. And thou shalt make fifty golden rings; and thou shalt join the curtains to each other, with the rings, and it shall be one tabernacle. And thou shalt make for a covering of the tabernacle skins with the hair on, thou shalt make them eleven skins. The length of one skin thirty cubits, and the breadth of one skin four cubits, that be the same measure to the eleven skins. And thou shalt join the five skins together, and the six skins together; and thou shalt double the sixth skin in front of the tabernacle. And thou shalt make fifty loops on the border of one skin, which is in the midst for the jointings; and thou shalt make fifty loops on the edge of the second skin that joins it.

And thou shalt make fifty brazen rings; and thou shalt join the rings by the loops, and thou shalt join the skins, and they shall be one. And thou shalt fix at the end that which is over in the skins of the tabernacle the loom that is left, shalt thou fold over, according to the overplus of the skins of the tabernacle; thou shalt fold it over behind the tabernacle. A cubit on this side, and a cubit on that side of that which remains of the skins, of the length of the skins of the tabernacle: it shall be folding over the sides of the tabernacle on this side and that side, that it may cover it. And thou shalt make for a covering of the tabernacle rams' skins dyed red, and blue skins as coverings above.

And thou shalt make the posts of the tabernacle of incorruptible wood. Of ten cubits shalt thou make one post, and the breadth of one post of a cubit and a half. Two joints shalt thou make in one post, answering the one to the other: so shalt thou do to all the posts of the tabernacle. And thou shalt make posts to the tabernacle, twenty posts on the north side. And thou shalt make to the twenty posts forty silver sockets; two sockets to one post on each side.
And thou shalt make a veil of blue and purple and scarlet wool, and fine linen spin: thou shalt make it cherubim in woven work. And thou shalt set it upon four posts of incorruptible wood overlaid with gold; and their tops shall be gold, and their four sockets shall be of silver. And thou shalt put the veil on the posts, and thou shalt carry in itther within the veil the ark of the testimony; and the veil shall make a separation for you between the holy and the holy of holies. And thou shalt spread before the veil a table of sheshumme and the candle throughout the table the south side of the tabernacle; and thou shalt put the table on the north side of the tabernacle. And thou shalt make a screen for the door of the tabernacle of blue, and purple, and spun scarlet and fine linen spun, the work of the embroiderer. And thou shalt make for the veil five posts, and thou shalt gild them with gold; and their chapiters shall be gold; and thou shalt cast for them five brazen sockets.

And thou shalt make an altar of incorruptible wood, of five cubits in the length, and five cubits in the breadth; the altar shall be square, and the height of it shall be of three cubits. And thou shalt make the horns on the four corners; the horns shall be of the same piece, and thou shalt overlay them with brass. And thou shalt make a rim for the altar; and its covering and its cups, and its flesh-hooks, and its fire-pan, and all its vessels shalt thou make of brass.

with net-work; and thou shalt make for the grate four brazen rings under the four sides. 2 And thou shalt put them below under the grate of the altar, and the grate shall extend to the middle of the altar. 3 And thou shalt make for the altar staves of incorruptible wood, and thou shalt put the staves into the rings under the grate of the altar, to carry it. 4 And thou shalt make it hollow with boards: according to what was shewed thee in the mount, so thou shalt make it. 5 And thou shalt make a court for the tabernacle, curtains of the court of fine linen: twenty pillars, and their sockets; and their pillars twenty, and twenty brazen sockets after for them, and their rings and their clasps of silver. 6 Thus shall there be to the side toward the north curtains of a hundred cubits in length; and their pillars twenty, and their sockets twenty of brass. 7 And the curtains of the court on the south side, the length of a hundred cubits; and their pillars twenty, and their sockets twenty of brass. 8 And the curtains toward the breadth of the tabernacle toward the west curtains of fifty cubits; their pillars ten, and their sockets ten. 9 And in the breadth of the tabernacle toward the south, curtains of fifty cubits; their pillars ten, and their sockets ten. 10 And the height of the curtains shall be of fifty cubits for the one side of the gate; their pillars three, and their sockets three. 11 And for the second side the height of the curtains shall be of fifteen cubits; their pillars three, and their sockets three. 12 And a veil for the door of the court, the height of it of twenty cubits of blue linen, and of purple, and spun scarlet, and of fine linen; and with the art of the embroider; their pillars four, and their sockets four. 13 All the pillars of the court round about overlaid with silver, and their chapiters silver and their brass sockets. 14 And the length of the court shall be a hundred cubits on each side, and the breadth fifty on each side, and the height five cubits of fine linen; and their sockets of brass. 15 And all the furniture of the tabernacle, and all the instruments and the pins of the court shall be of brass. 16 And do thou charge the children of Israel, and let them take for thee refined pure olive-oil beaten to burn for light, that a lamp may burn continually. 17 In the tabernacle of the testimony, without the veil that is before the ark of the covenant, shall Aaron and his sons burn it from evening until morning, before the Lord: it is a perpetual ordinance throughout your generations of the children of Israel. 18 And do thou take thyself both Aaron thy brother, and his sons, even them of the children of Israel; so that Aaron and Nadab and Abihu, and Eleazar and Ithamar, sons of Aaron, may minister to me. 19 And thou shalt make holy apparel for Aaron thy brother, for honour and glory. 20 And he shall make the holy apparel of Aaron for the sanctuary, in which apparel he shall minister to

4 For the sons of Aaron: the ephod shall he make, and the breastplate, and the golden earring, and the girdle, and the mitre, and the robe; and the ephod shall he make for his sons as well.

5 And these are the garments which they shall make: the breast-plate and the shoulder-piece, and the full-length robe, and the tunique with a fringe, and the tire, and the girdle; and they shall make holy garments for Aaron and his sons to minister before the Lord as priests. And they shall take the gold, and the blue, and the purple, and the scarlet, and the fine linen.

6 And they shall make the shoulder-piece of fine linen spun, the woven work of the embroiderer. It shall have two shoulderpieces joined together, fastened on the two sides. And the woven work of the shoulderpieces which is upon it, shall be of one piece according to the work, of pure gold and blue and purple, and scarlet and fine twined linen. And thou shalt take the two stones, the stones of emerald, and thou shalt grave on them the names of the children of Israel. Six names on the first stone, and the other six names on the second stone, according to their births. It shall be the work of the stone-engraver's art; as he engraves the images of the children of Israel after the names thereof, so shalt thou engrave two stones with the names of the children of Israel. And thou shalt put the two stones upon the shoulders of the shoulderpiece: they are memorial-stones for the children of Israel; and Aaron shall bear the names of the children of Israel before the Lord on his two shoulders, a memorial for them. And thou shalt make two rings of pure gold; and thou shalt make two fringes of pure gold, variegated with flowers, wreathe-work; and thou shalt put the wreathe fringes on the rings, fastening them on their shoulder-pieces in front.

And thou shalt make the oracle of judgment, the work of the embroiderer; in keeping with the ephod, thou shalt make it of gold, and blue and purple, and scarlet and fine linen spun. Thou shalt make it square: it shall be double; of a span the length of it, and of a span the breadth. And thou shalt interweave with it a texture of four rows of stone; there shall be a row of stones, a sardius, a topaz, an emerald, the first row. And the second row, a carnelian, a sapphire, and a jasper. And the third row, a agate, an amethyst, and a beryl, and an onyx stone, set round with gold, bound together with gold: let them be according to their row. And let the stones of the names of the children of Israel be twelve according to their names, engravings as of seals: let them be for the twelve tribes according to the name. And thou shalt make on the oracle a chain-work of pure gold. And Aaron shall take the names of the children of Israel, on the oracle of judgment on his breast; a memorial before God for him as he goes into the sanctuary. And thou shalt put the fringes on the oracle of judgment: thou shalt put the wreathe on both sides of the oracle. And thou shalt put the two rings on both the shoulders of the ephod in front. And thou shalt put the 5 Manifestation and the Truth on the oracle of judgment; and it shall be on the breast of Aaron, when he goes into the holy place before the Lord; and Aaron shall bear the judgments of the children of Israel on his breast before the Lord continually. 27 And thou shalt make the full-length tunic of fine linen, and fine linen pants, and a fine linen head-girdle. 28 And the opening of it shall be in the middle having a fringe round about the opening, the work of the weaver, woven together in the joining of the same piece that it might not be rent. 29 And under the fringe of the robe below thou shalt make as it were pomegranates of a flowering pomegranate tree, of blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine linen, under the fringe of the robe round about; golden pomegranates of the same shape, and bells round about between these. 30 A bell by the side of a golden pomegranate, and flower-work on the fringe of the robe round about. 31 And the sound of Aaron shall be audible when he ministers, as he goes into the sanctuary before the Lord, and as he goes out, that he die not. 32 And thou shalt make a plate of pure gold, and thou shalt grave on it as the graving of a signet, Holiness of the Lord. 33 And thou shalt put it on the spin blue cloth, and it shall be on the mitre; it shall be in the front of the mitre. 34 And it shall be on the forehead of Aaron; and Aaron shall bear the iniquity for them, to make an atonement for them before the Lord, all the holy things, all that the children of Israel shall sanctify of every gift of their holy things, and it shall be on the forehead of Aaron continually acceptable for them before the Lord. 35 And the fringes of the garments shall be of fine linen; and thou shalt make a tire of fine linen, and thou shalt make a girdle, the work of the embroiderer. 36 And for the sons of Aaron thou shalt make tunics and girdles, and thou shalt make for them tires for honour and glory. 37 And thou shalt put them on Aaron thy brother, and his sons with him, and thou shalt anoint them and fill their hands: and thou shalt sanctify them, that they may minister to me in the priest's office. 38 And thou shalt make for them linen drawers to cover the nakedness of their flesh; they shall reach from the loins to the thighs. 39 And Aaron shall have them, and his sons, whenever they enter into the tabernacle of witness, or when they shall advance to the altar of the sanctuary to minister, so they shall not bring sin upon themselves, lest they die: it is a perpetual statute for him, and for his seed after him.

And these are the things which thou shalt do to them: thou shalt sanctify them, so that they shall serve me in the priesthood; and thou shalt take one young calf from the herd, and two unblemished rams; and unleavened cakes anointed with oil, and unleavened cakes of fine flour of wheat. And thou shalt make them of fine flour of wheat. And thou shalt put them on one basket, and thou shalt offer them on the basket, and the young calf and the two rams. And thou shalt bring Aaron and his sons to the doors of the tabernacle of testimony, and thou shalt wash them with all the holy water which thou hast taken the garments, thou shalt put on Aaron thy brother both the full-length robe and the ephod and the oracle; and thou shalt join for him the oracle to the ephod. 6 And thou shalt make to the mitre, and thou shalt put the plate, even the holy name, on the mitre. 7 And thou shalt take of the anointing oil, and thou shalt pour it on his head, and shalt anoint him, 8 and thou shalt bring his sons, and put garments on them. 9 And thou shalt gird them with sashes, and put the girdles on them, and put the tares upon them, and they shall have a priestly office to me for ever, and thou shalt anoint Aaron and his sons, and put garments on them. 10 And thou shalt bring the calf to the door of the tabernacle of witness; and Aaron and his sons shall lay their hands on the head of the calf, before the Lord, by the doors of the tabernacle of witness. 11 And thou shalt slay the calf before the Lord, by the doors of the tabernacle of witness. 12 And thou shalt take of the blood of the calf, and put it on the horns of the altar, with thy finger, but all the rest of the blood thou shalt pour out at the foot of the altar. 13 And thou shalt take all the fat that is on the belly, and the lobe of the liver, and the two kidneys, and the fat that is upon them, and shall put them upon the altar; 14 But the flesh of the calf, and his skin, and his dung, shalt thou burn without fire without the camp; for it is an offering on account of sin. 15 And thou shalt take one ram, and Aaron and his sons shall lay their hands on the head of the ram. 16 And thou shalt kill it, and take the blood and pour it on the altar round about. 17 And thou shalt divide the ram by his several limbs, and thou shalt take of the blood thereof and pour it upon the altar; 18 And thou shalt take of the divided parts with the head. 19 And thou shalt offer the whole ram on the altar, a burnt-offering to the Lord for a sweet-smelling savour: it is an offering of incense to the Lord. 20 And thou shalt take the second ram, and Aaron and his sons shall lay their hands on the head of the ram. 21 And thou shalt kill it, and take the blood thereof and pour it on the altar; 22 And thou shalt take of the blood thereof and put it on the tip of Aaron’s right ear, and on the thumb of his right hand, and on the great toe of his right foot, and on the tips of the right ears of his sons, and on the thumbs of their right hands, and on the great toes of their right feet. 23 And thou shalt take of the blood of the ram, and of the anointing oil, and thou shalt sprinkle it up on his garments, and on his sons and on his sons’ garments with him; and he shall be sanctified and his apparel, and his sons and his sons’ apparel with him: but the blood of the ram thou shalt pour round about upon the altar. 24 And thou shalt take from the ram its fat, both the fat that covers the belly, and the lobe of the liver, and the two kidneys, and the fat that is upon them, and the right shoulder, for this is a consecration. 25 And one cake made with oil, and one cake from the basket of unleavened bread set forth before the Lord. 26 And thou shalt put them all on the hands of Aaron, and on the hands of his sons, and thou shalt separate them as a separate offering before the Lord. 27 And thou shalt take them from their hands, and shalt offer them up on the altar of whole burnt-offering for a sweet-smelling savour before the Lord: it is an offering to the Lord. 25 And thou shalt take the breast from the ram of consecration which is Aaron's, and thou shalt separate it as a separate offering before the Lord, and it shall be to thee for a portion, and thou shalt sanctify the offered breast and the shoulder of removal which has been separated, and which has been removed from the ram of consecration, of the portion of Aaron and of that of his sons. 26 And it shall be a perpetual statute of the children of Israel to Aaron and his sons, for this is a separate offering; and it shall be a special offering from the children of Israel, from the peace-offerings of the children of Israel, a special offering to the Lord. 27 And the apparel of the sanctuary which is Aaron's shall be his sons' after him, for them to be anointed in them, and to fill their hands. 28 The priest his successor from among his sons who shall go into the tabernacle of witness to minister in the holy place, shall put them on seven days. 29 And thou shalt take the ram of consecration, and thou shalt boil the flesh in the holy place. 30 And Aaron and his sons shall eat the flesh of the ram, and the loaves in the basket, by the doors of the tabernacle of witness. 31 They shall eat the offerings with which they were sanctified to fill their hands, to sanctify them; and a stranger shall not eat of them, for they are holy. 32 And if any man be left of the flesh of the sacrifice of consecration and of the loaves until the morning, thou shalt burn the remainder with fire: it shall not be eaten, for it is a holy thing. 33 And thus shalt thou do for Aaron and for his sons according to all things that I have commanded thee; seven days shalt thou fill their hands. 34 And thou shalt sacrifice the calf of the sin-offering on the day of purification, and thou shalt purify the altar when thou dost perform consecration upon it, and thou shalt anoint it so as to sanctify it. 35 Seven days shalt thou purify the altar and sanctify it, and the altar shall be hallowed by every one that touches the altar shall be hallowed. 36 And these are the offerings which thou shalt offer upon the altar: two unblemished lambs of a year old daily on the altar continually, a constant offering. 37 One lamb thou shalt offer in the morning, and the second lamb thou shalt offer in the evening. 38 And a tenth measure of fine flour mingled with the fourth part of an hin of beaten oil, and a drink-offering the fourth part of a hin of wine for one lamb. 39 And thou shalt offer the second lamb in the evening, after the manner of the morning-offering, and according to the drink-offering of the morning-offering; thou shalt offer it an offering to the Lord for a sweet-smelling savour, a perpetual sacrifice throughout your generations, at the door of the tabernacle of witness before the Lord; wherein I will be known to thee from thence, so as to speak to thee. 40 And I will there give orders to the children of Israel, and I will be sanctified in my glory. 41 And I will sanctify the tabernacle of testimony and the altar, and I will sanctify Aaron and his sons, to minister as priests to me. And I shall be

And they shall know that I am the Lord their God, who brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, to be called upon by them, and to be their God. And they shall make for it a wreathe of gold round-around, and its sides and; and thou shalt make it a wreathe border of gold round-round. And thou shalt make under its wreathen border two rings of pure gold; thou shalt make it to the two corners on the two sides, and they shall be bearings for the staves, so as to bear it with them. And thou shall make the staves of incorruptible wood, and shalt gild them with gold. And thou shall set it before the veil that is over the ark of the testimonies, wherein I will make my self known to thee. And Aaron shall burn upon it fine compound incense every morning; whosoever he trims the lamps he shall burn incense upon it. And when Aaron lights the lamps in the evening, he shall burn incense upon it; a constant incense-offering always before the Lord for their generations. And thou shall not offer strange incense upon it, nor an offering made by fire, nor a sacrifice, and thou shalt not pour a drink-offering upon it. And once in the year Aaron shall make atonement on its horns, he shall purge it with the blood of purification for their generations: it is most holy to the Lord.

And the Lord spake to Moses, saying,
if thou take account of the children of Israel in the surveying of them, and they shall give every one a ransom for his soul to the Lord, then there shall not be among them a's destruction in the visiting of them. And this is what they shall give, as many as pass the survey, half a didrachm which is according to the didrachm of the sanctuary: twenty oboli to the didrachm, but the half of the didrachm is the offering to the Lord. Every one that passes the survey from twenty years old and upwards shall give the offering to the Lord. The rich shall not give more, and the poor shall not give less than the half didrachm in giving the offering to the Lord, to make atonement for yours souls. And thou shalt take the money of the offering from the children of Israel, and shalt give it for the service of the tabernacle of testimony; and it shall be to the children of Israel a memorial before the Lord, to make atonement for your souls.
And the Lord spake to Moses, saying,
make a brazen laver, and a brazen base for it, for washing; and thou shalt put it between the tabernacle of witness and the altar, and thou shalt pour forth water into
it. And Aaron and his sons shall wash their hands and their feet with water from it. 20. Whenever they shall go into the tabernacle of witness, they shall wash themselves with water, so they shall not die, whenever they advance to the altar to do service and to offer the whole burnt-offerings to the Lord. 21. They shall wash their hands and feet with water, whenever after they shall go into the tabernacle of witness; they shall wash themselves with water, that they die not; and it shall be for them a perpetual statute, for him and for his posterity after him. 22. And the Lord spake to Moses, saying, 23. Do thou also take sweet herbs, the flower of choice myrrh five hundred shekels, and the half of this two hundred and fifty shekels of sweet-smelling cinnamon, and two hundred and fifty shekels of sweet-smelling calamus, 24. and of γ κασσία five hundred shekels of the sanctuary, and a hin of olive oil. 25. And thou shalt make it a holy anointing oil, a perfumed ointment tempered by the art of the perfumer: it shall be a holy anointing oil. 26. And thou shalt anoint with it the tabernacle of witness, and the ark of the tabernacle of witness, 27. and all its furniture, and the candlestick and all its furniture, and the altar of incense, 28. and the altar of whole burnt-offerings and all its furniture, and the table and all its furniture, and the laver. 29. And thou shalt sanctify them, and they shall be most holy: every one that toucheth them shall be hallowed. 30. And thou shalt anoint Aaron and his sons, and sanctify them that they may minister to me as priests. 31. And thou shalt speak to the children of Israel, saying, This shall be to you a holy anointing oil throughout your generations. 32. On man's flesh it shall not be poured, and ye shall not make anointing oil for yourselves according to this composition: it is holy, and shall be holiness to you. 33. Whosoever shall make it in like manner, and whosoever shall give of it to a stranger, shall be destroyed from among his people. 34. And the Lord said to Moses, Take for yourself sweet herbs, stacte, onycha, sweet galbanum, and transparent frankincense; there shall be an equal weight of each. 35. And they shall make it with perfumed incense, tempered with the art of the perfumer, a pure holy oil. 36. And of these thou shalt beat some small and thou shalt put it before the testimony in the tabernacle of testimony, whencesoever I will make myself known to thee: it shall be to you a most holy incense. 37. Ye shall not make any for yourselves according to this composition: it shall be to you a holy anointing oil. 38. Whosoever shall make any in like manner, as to smell it, shall perish from his people. 39. And the Lord spake to Moses, saying, 40. Behold, I have hitherto been called by name Beledel, the son of Uri, the son of the tribe of Juda. 41. And I have filled him with a divine spirit of wisdom, and understanding, and knowledge, to invent in every work, 42. and to frame works, to labour in gold, and silver, and brass, and blue, and purple, and scarlet, 43. and works in stone, and for artificers' work in wood, to work at all works.

And I have appointed him and Eliab the son of Achisamach of the tribe of Dan, and to every one understanding in heart. I have given understanding; and they shall ye knowing all things as I have appointed them; 12 the tabernacle of witness, and the ark of the covenant, and the propitiatory that is upon it, and the furniture of the tabernacle, 13 and the altars, and the table and all its furniture, 14 and Aaron's robes of ministry, and the robes of his sons to minister to me as priests, 15 and the anointing oil and the compound incense which is the same, and all that I have commanded thee shall they make thee. 16 And the Lord spake to Moses, saying, 17 Do thou also charge the children of Israel, saying, Take heed and keep my sabbaths; for they are a sign unto me among you throughout your generations, that ye may know that I am the Lord that sanctifieth you. 18 And ye shall keep the sabbaths, because this is holy to you. 19 All that profanes it shall surely be put to death: every one who shall do a work on it, that soul shall be destroyed from among his people. 20 Six days thou shalt do works, but the seventh day is the sabbath, a holy rest to the Lord: every one who shall do a work on the seventh day shall be put to death. 21 And the children of Israel shall keep the sabbaths, to observe them throughout their generations. 22 It is a perpetual covenant with me and the children of Israel, it is a perpetual sign with me; for in six days the Lord made the heaven and the earth, and on the seventh day he ceased, and rested. 23 And he gave to Moses when he left off speaking to him in mount Sinai, the two tables of testimony, tables of stone written upon with the finger of God. 24 And when the people saw that Moses delayed to come down from the mountain, the people combined against Aaron, and said to him, Arise and make gods us gods who shall go before us; for this Moses, the man who brought us forth out of the land of Egypt— 25 we do not know what is become of him. 26 And Aaron said to them, Take off the golden ear-rings which are in the ears of your wives and daughters, and bring them to me. 27 And all the people took off the golden ear-rings that were in their ears, and brought them to Aaron. 28 And he received them at their hands, and formed them with a graving tool; and made them a molten calf, and said, These are thy gods, O Israel, which brought thee up out of the land of Egypt. 29 And Aaron made proclamation saying, To-morrow is a feast of the Lord. 30 And having risen early on the morrow, he offered whole burnt-offerings, and offered a peace-offering; and the people ate their dough and rose up to play. 31 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, Go quickly, descend hence, for thy people whom thou broughtst up out of the land of Egypt have transgressed; they have quickly gone out of the way which thou commandedst; they have made for themselves a calf.
and worshipped it, and sacrificed to it, and said, 11 These are thy gods, O Israel, who brought thee up out of the land of Egypt.

And now let me alone, and I will be very angry with them and consume them, and I will make thee a greater nation than they. 12 Take heed lest at any time thou shalt forget the Lord, and thou shalt make thee an idol, and cast thou from thee all the earth; cease from thy wrathful anger, and be merciful to the sin of thy people, remembering Abraham and Isaac and Jacob thy servants, to whom thou hast sworn by thyself, and hast spoken to them, saying, I will greatly multiply your seed as the stars of heaven for multitude, and all this land which thou spakest of to give to them, so that they shall possess it for ever. 14 And the Lord was prevailed upon to preserve his people.

And Moses turned and went down from the mountain, and the two tables of testimony were in his hands, tables of stone written on both their sides: they were written within and without. 17 And the tables were the word of God, and the writing of the writing of God written on the tables. 18 And Joshua heard the voice of the people crying, says to Moses, There is a noise of war in the camp. 18 And Moses says, It is not the voice of them that begin the battle, nor the voice of them that begin the cry of defeat, but the voice of them that begin the banquet of wine do I hear.

And when he drew nigh to the camp, he sees the calf and the dances; and Moses being very angry cast the two tables out of his hands, and broke them to pieces under the mountain. 20 And having taken the calf which they made, he consumed it with fire, and ground it very small, and scattered it on the wind, and said to the men of Israel, Who made you gods? 21 And Moses said to Aaron, What has this people done to thee, that thou hast brought upon them a great sin? 22 And Aaron said to Moses, Be not angry, my lord, for thou knowest the impetuousity of this people. 23 For they say to me, Make gods, which shall go before us; for as for this man Moses, who brought us out of Egypt, we do not know what is become of him. 24 And I said to them, If any one has golden ornaments, take them off; and they gave them me, and I cast them into the fire, and there came out this calf. 25 And when Moses saw that the people was scattered, — for Aaron had scattered them so as to be a rejoicing to their enemies, — 26 then stood Moses at the gate of the camp, and said, Who is on the Lord's side? let him come to me. Then all the sons of Levi came to him. 27 And he says to them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Put every one his sword on his thigh, and go through and return from gate to gate through the camp, and slay every one his brother, and every one his neighbour, and every one him that is nearest to him. 28 And the sons of Levi did as Moses spoke to them, and the Lord consumed them, the Lord destroyed them. 29 But Moses rose up with his sons, and came to the mountain of God, to the tent of meeting. And there was an impulse of the Lord to meet him.

114 Εἴδωλα. The text is a translation of the Hebrew Bible, specifically the book of Exodus, chapters 32-33. The text contains a narrative where Moses, after receiving the Ten Commandments, returns to the Israelites who have made an idol and broken the covenant. God Commands Moses to destroy the idol and punish the Israelites. Moses' response is to intercede on their behalf, leading to a series of events and consequences.
Moses: and it came to pass, that Moses said to the people, Ye have sinned a great sin; and now I will go up to God, that I may make atonement for your sin. 3 And Moses returned to the Lord and said, I pray, O Lord, this people has sinned a great sin, and they have made for themselves golden gods. 4 And now if thou wilt forgive their sin, forgive it; and if not, blot me out of thy book, which thou hast written. 5 And the Lord said to Moses, If any one has sinned against me, I will blot them out of my book. 6 And now go, descend, and lead this people into the place of which I spoke to thee: behold, my angel shall go before thee, and the Lord shall be before his face, and shall make the calamity which thou hast written.

And the Lord said to Moses, Go forward, go up hence, thou and thy people, whom thou broughtest out of the land of Egypt, into the land which I spake to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, saying, I will give it to your seed; 2 and I will send at the same time my angel before thee, and he shall cast out the Amorite and the Chettite, and the Pherezite and the Gergesite, and the Ebrite, and the Japhusite. 3 And I will bring thee into a land flowing with milk and honey; for I will not go up with thee, because thou art a stiff-necked people, lest I consume thee by the way. 4 And the people having heard this grievous saying, mourned in mourning apparel. 5 For the Lord said to the children of Israel, Ye are a stiff-necked people; take heed lest I bring on you another plague, and destroy you; now then put off your glorious apparel, and your ornaments, and I will shew thee what I will do to thee.

So the sons of Israel took off their ornaments and their array, and the mount of Choreb. 7 And Moses took his tabernacle and pitched it without the camp, at a distance from the camp; and it was called the Tabernacle of Testimony: and it came to pass that every one that sought the Lord went forth to the tabernacle which was without the camp. 8 And whenever Moses entered into the tabernacle without the camp, all the people stood and worshipped by the doors of his tent; and when Moses departed, they took notice until he entered into the tabernacle. 9 And when Moses entered into the tabernacle, the pillar of the cloud descended, and stood at the door of the tabernacle, and God talked to Moses. 10 And all the people saw the pillar of the cloud standing by the door of the tabernacle, and all the people stood and worshipped every one 5 at the door of his tent. 11 And the Lord spoke to Moses face to face, as if one should speak to his friend; and he retired into the camp: but his servant Joshua the son of Nauve, a young man, departed not forth from the tabernacle.

12 And Moses said to the Lord, Lo! thou sayest to me, Lead on this people; but thou hast not shewed me whom thou wilt send with me, but thou hast said to me, I know thee above all, and thou hast favour with me.

13 If then I have found favour in thy sight, reveal thyself to me, that I may evidently see thee; that I may find favour in thy sight, and that I may know that this great nation is thy people. 14 And he says, I myself will go before thee, and give thee rest. 15 And he says to him, If thou go not up with us thyself, bring me not up hence. 16 And how shall it be surely known, that both I and this people have found favour with thee, except only if thou go with us? So both I and this people shall be glorified beyond all the nations, as many as are upon the earth.

17 And the Lord said to Moses, I will also do for thee this thing, which thou hast said. And be ready by the morrow; and Moses and Aaron said, Thou shalt not be able to see my face; for no man shall see my face, and live.

18 And the Lord said, Behold, there is a place by thee: thou shalt stand upon the rock; 19 and when my glory shall pass by, then I will put thee into a hole of the rock; and I will cover thee over with my hand, until I have passed by. 20 And I will remove my hand, and then shalt thou see my back parts; but my face shall not appear to thee.

21 And the Lord said to Moses, Hew for thyself two tables of stone, as also the first were, and come up to me to the mountain; and I will write upon the tables the words, which were on the first tables, which thou broke, and thou shalt stand there for me on the top of the mountain. 22 And let no one go up with thee, nor be seen in all the mountain; and let not the sheep and oxen feed near that mountain. 23 And Moses hewed two tables of stone, as also the first were; and Moses having arisen early, went up to the mount Sinai, as the Lord appointed him; and Moses took the two tables of stone. 24 And the Lord descended in a cloud, and stood near him there, and called by the name of the Lord. 25 And the Lord passed by before his face, and proclaimed, The Lord God, pitiful and merciful, longsuffering, and very compassionate, and true, 26 and keeping justice and mercy for thousands, taking away iniquity, and unrighteousness, and sins; and he will not clear the guilty; bringing the iniquity of the fathers upon the children, and to the children's children, to the third and fourth generation. 27 And Moses hasted, and bowed to the earth and worshipped; 28 and, If I have found grace before thee, let my Lord go with us; for the people is 10 And the Lord said to Moses, Behold, I establish a covenant for thee in the presence of all thy people; I will do glorious things, which have not been done in all the earth, or in any nation; and all the people among whom thou art shall see the works of the Lord, that they are wonderful, which I will do for thee.

11 And thou shalt take heed to all things which I command thee; for thou shalt not add to any word of mine, nor take from any word of mine.

12 And the Lord said to Moses, Go to the people, and sanctify them to-day, and to-morrow, and let them wash their souls, and offer presents, to-day and to-morrow; that the flesh may be tender for you; for at even, ye shall offer your burnt-offerings and sacrifices, with the flesh of that day to be sanctified, but the flesh of the morrow shall be holy; for ye shall offer it again in the morning.

13 And they shall eat the flesh of the first-fruits of the increase of the land in the day on which ye bring your burnt-offerings to the Lord; ye shall eat it in the place where ye are, and in your own tabernacles.

21 And the Lord said to Moses, Go to the people, and sanctify them to-day, and to-morrow, and let them wash their souls, and offer presents, to-day and to-morrow, that the flesh may be tender for you; for at even, ye shall offer your burnt-offerings and sacrifices, with the flesh of that day to be sanctified, but the flesh of the morrow shall be holy; for ye shall offer it again in the morning.

22 And they shall eat the flesh of the first-fruits of the increase of the land in the day on which ye bring your burnt-offerings to the Lord; ye shall eat it in the place where ye are, and in your own tabernacles.
and forty nights; he did not eat bread, and he did not drink water; and he wrote upon the tables these words of the covenant, the ten sayings.

And when Moses went down from the mountain, there were the two tables in the hands of Moses,—as then he went down from the mountain, Moses knew not that the appearance of the skin of his face was glorified, when God spoke to him. And Aaron and all the elders of Israel saw Moses, and the appearance of the skin of his face was made glorious, and they feared to approach him. And Moses called them, and Aaron and all the rulers of the synagogue turned towards him, and Moses spoke to them.

And afterwards all the children of Israel came to him, and he commanded them all things, whatsoever the Lord had commanded him in the mount of Sinai. And he ceased speaking to them, he put a veil on his face. And whenever Moses went in before the Lord to speak to him, he took off the veil till he went out, and he went forth and spoke to all the children of Israel whatsoever the Lord commanded him. And the children of Israel saw the face of Moses, that it was glorified; and Moses put the veil over his face, till he went in to speak with him.

And Moses gathered all the congregation of the children of Israel together, and said, These are the words which the Lord has spoken for you to do them. Six days shall thou perform works, but on the seventh day shall be rest—a holy sabbath—a rest for the Lord; every one that does work on it, let him die. Ye shall not burn a fire in any of your dwellings on the sabbath-day; I am the Lord. And Moses spoke to all the congregation of the children of Israel, saying. This is the thing which the Lord has appointed you, saying, Take of yourselves an offering for the Lord; every one that engages in his heart shall bring the first-fruits to the Lord; gold, silver, brass, blue, purple, double scarlet spun, and fine linen spun, and goat's hair, and rams' skins dyed red, and skins dyed blue, and incorruptible wood, and sardine stones, and stones for engraving for the shoulde-piece and full-length robe. And every man that is wise in heart among you, let him come and work all things whatsoever the Lord has commanded. The tabernacle, and the cords, and the covering, and the veil, and the ark of the testimony, and its staves, and its propitiatory, and the veil, and the curstains of the court, and its posts, and the emerald stones, and the incense, and the anointing oil, and the table and all its furniture, and the candle-stick for the light and all its furniture, and the altar and all its furniture, and the holy garments of Aaron the priest, and the garments in which they shall do service, and the garments of priesthood for the sons of Aaron and the anointing oil, and the compound incense.
And all the congregation of the children of Israel went out from Moses. And they brought, they whose heart prompted them, and they to whomsoever it seemed good in their mind, each an offering: and they brought an offering to the Lord for all the works of the tabernacle of witness, and all the services of the sanctuary. And the men, even every one to whom it seemed good in his heart, brought, from the women, even brought seals and ear-rings, and finger-rings, and necklaces, and bracelets, every article of gold. And all as many as brought ornaments of gold to the Lord, and with whomsoever fine linen was found; and they brought skins dyed blue, and rams' skins dyed red. And every one that offered an offering brought silver and brass, the offerings to the Lord; and they with whom was found incorruptible wood; and they brought offerings for all the works of the preparation. And every woman skilled in her heart to spin with her hands, brought spun articles, the blue, and the purple, and the scarlet, and the fine twined linen, and the embroidered work, and the goats' hair. And the rulers brought the emerald stones, and the stones for setting in the ephod, and the oracles, and the compounds both for the anointing oil, and the composition of the incense. And every man and woman whose mind brought them to come in and do all the works as many as the Lord appointed them to do by Moses—thou the children of Israel brought an offering to the Lord. And Moses said to the children of Israel, Behold, God has called by name Beseleel the son of Urias the son of Or, of the tribe of Juda, and has filled him with a divine spirit of wisdom and understanding, and knowledge of all things, to labour skillfully in all works of cunning workmanship, to form the gold and the silver and the brass, and to work in stone, and to fashion the wood, and to work in every work of wisdom. And God gave improvement in understanding both to him, and to Eliab the son of Aelisamach of the tribe of Dan. And God filled them with understanding and perception, to understand and work all the works of the sanctuary, and to weave the woves and embroidered work with scarlet and fine linen, to do all work of curious workmanship and embroidery. And Beseleel wrought, and Eliab and every one wise in understanding, to whom was given wisdom and knowledge, to understand and to do all the works, to work in the holy offices, according to all things which the Lord appointed. And Moses called Beseleel and Eliab, and all that had wisdom, to whom God gave knowledge in their heart, and all who were freely willing to come forward to the works, to perform them. And they received from Moses all the gifts brought for all the works of the sanctuary to do them; and they continued to receive the gifts brought, from those who brought them in the morning. And there came all the wise men who wrought the works of the sanctuary, each according to his own work, which they wrought. 4 And one said to Moses, The people bring an abundance too great in proportion to all the works which the Lord has appointed them to do. 5 And Moses commanded, and proclaimed in the camp, saying, Let neither man nor woman any longer labour for the offerings of the sanctuary; and the people were restrained from bringing any more. 6 And the people brought gold in abundance, such as was sufficient for making the furniture, and they left some besides. 7 And every wise one among those that wrought made the robes of the holy places, which belong to Aaron the priest, as the Lord commanded Moses. 8 And he made the ephod of gold, and blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine linen twined. 9 And the plates were divided, the threads of gold, so as to interweave with the blue and purple, and with the scarlet, and the fine linen twined, they made it a woven work; 10 shoulder-pieces joined from both sides, a work woven by mutual twisting of the parts into one another. 11 They made it of the same material according to the making of it, of gold, blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine linen twined, as the Lord commanded Moses; 12 and they made the two emerald stones clasped together and set in gold, graven and cut after the cutting of a seal with the names of the children of Israel; 13 and he put them on the shoulder-pieces of the ephod, as stones of memorial of the children of Israel, as the Lord appointed Moses. 14 And they made the oracle, a work woven with embroidery, according to the work of the ephod, of gold, and blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine linen twined. 15 They made the oracle square and double, the length of a span, and the breadth of a span,—double. 16 And there was interwoven with it a woven work of four rows of stones, a series of stones, the first row, a sardius and topaz and emerald; 17 and the second row, a carbuncle and sapphire and jasper; 18 and the third row, a figure and agate and amethyst; 19 and the fourth row a chrysolite and beryl and onyx set round about with gold, and fastened with gold. 20 And the stones were twelve according to the names of the children of Israel, graven according to their names 21 like seals, each according to his own name for the twelve tribes. 22 And they made on the oracle turned wreaths, wreathen work, of pure gold, 23 and they made two golden rings and two golden rings on both the upper corners of the oracle; 24 and they put the golden wreaths on the rings on both sides of the oracle, and the two wreaths into the two couplings. 25 And they put them on the two rings, and they put them on the shoulders of the ephod opposite each other in front of it. The people brought more two golden rings, and put them on the two projections on the top of the oracle, and on the top of the hinder part of the ephod within. 26 And they made two golden rings, and put them on both the shoulders of the ephod under the ephah; each according to his own work, which they wrought. 27 And one said to Moses, The people bring an abundance too great in proportion to all the works which the Lord has appointed them to do. 28 And Moses commanded, and proclaimed in the camp, saying, Let neither man nor woman any longer labour for the offerings of the sanctuary; and the people were restrained from bringing any more. 29 And the people brought gold in abundance, such as was sufficient for making the furniture, and they left some besides. 30 And every wise one among those that wrought made the robes of the holy places, which belong to Aaron the priest, as the Lord commanded Moses. 31 And he made the ephod of gold, and blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine linen twined. 32 And the plates were divided, the threads of gold, so as to interweave with the blue and purple, and with the scarlet, and the fine linen twined, they made it a woven work; 33 shoulder-pieces joined from both sides, a work woven by mutual twisting of the parts into one another. 34 They made it of the same material according to the making of it, of gold, blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine linen twined, as the Lord commanded Moses; 35 and they made the two emerald stones clasped together and set in gold, graven and cut after the cutting of a seal with the names of the children of Israel; 36 and he put them on the shoulder-pieces of the ephod, as stones of memorial of the children of Israel, as the Lord appointed Moses. 37 And they made the oracle, a work woven with embroidery, according to the work of the ephod, of gold, and blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine linen twined. 38 They made the oracle square and double, the length of a span, and the breadth of a span,—double. 39 And there was interwoven with it a woven work of four rows of stones, a series of stones, the first row, a sardius and topaz and emerald; 40 and the second row, a carbuncle and sapphire and jasper; 41 and the third row, a figure and agate and amethyst; 42 and the fourth row a chrysolite and beryl and onyx set round about with gold, and fastened with gold. 43 And the stones were twelve according to the names of the children of Israel, graven according to their names like seals, each according to his own name for the twelve tribes. 44 And they made on the oracle turned wreaths, wreathen work, of pure gold, 45 and they made two golden rings and two golden rings on both the upper corners of the oracle; 46 and they put the golden wreaths on the rings on both sides of the oracle, and the two wreaths into the two couplings. 47 And they put them on the two rings, and they put them on the shoulders of the ephod opposite each other in front of it. The people brought more two golden rings, and put them on the two projections on the top of the oracle, and on the top of the hinder part of the ephod within. 48 And they made two golden rings, and put them on both the shoulders of the ephod under it, in front by the coupling above the connection of the ephod. And he fastened the oracle by the rings that were on it to the rings of the ephod, which were fastened with a string of blue, joined together with the woven work of the ephod; that the oracle should not be loosed from the ephod, as the Lord commanded Moses. And they made the tunic under the ephod, woven work, all of blue. And the opening of the tunic in the midst woven closely together, the opening having a fringe round about, that it might not be rent. And they made on the border of the tunic below pomegranates as of a flowering pomegranate tree, of blue, and purple, and spin scarlet, and fine linen twined. And they made golden bells, and put the bells on the border of the tunic round about between the pomegranates: a golden bell and a pomegranate for the border of the tunic round about, for the ministration, as the Lord commanded Moses. And they made vestments of fine linen, a woven work, for Aaron and his sons, and the tides of fine linen, and the mitre of fine linen, the ephod, the ephod of fine linen twined; and their girdles of fine linen twined, and blue, and purple, and scarlet spun, the work of an embroider, according as the Lord commanded Moses. And they made the golden plate, a dedicated thing of the sanctuary, of pure gold; and he wrote upon it graven letters as of a seal, Holiness to the Lord. And they put it on the border of blue, so that it should be on the mitre above, as the Lord commanded Moses.

And they made ten curtains for the tabernacle; of eight and twenty cubits the length of one curtain: the same measure was to all, and the breadth of one curtain was of four cubits. And they made the veil of blue, and purple, and spun scarlet, and fine linen twined, the woven work with cherubs. And they put it on four posts of incorruptible wood overlaid with gold; and their chapiters and their sockets were silver. And they made the veil of the door of the tabernacle of witness of blue, and purple, and spin scarlet, and fine linen twined, woven work with cherubs, and their posts five, and the rings; and they gilded their chapiters and their clasps with gold, and they had five sockets of brass.

And they made the court toward the south; the curtains of the court of fine linen twined, a hundred cubits every way, and their posts twenty, and their sockets twenty; and on the north side a hundred every way, and on the south side a hundred every way, and their posts twenty and their sockets twenty. And on the west side curtains of fifty cubits, their posts ten and their sockets ten. And on the east side curtains of fifty cubits of fifteen cubits behind, and their pillars, three, and their sockets three. And at the second back on this side and on that by the gate of the court, curtains of fifteen cubits, their pillars three and their sockets three; all the curtains of the tabernacle of fine linen twined.

And the sockets of their pillars of brass, and their hooks of silver, and their chapiters overlaid with silver, and all the posts of the court overlaid with silver; and the veil of the gate of the court, the work of an hundred cubits of blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine linen twined; the length of twenty cubits, and the height and the breadth of five cubits, made equal to the curtains of the court; and their pillars four, and their sockets four of brass, and their hooks of silver, and their chapiters overlaid with silver. And all the pins round about of brass, and they were overlaid with silver. And this was the construction of the tabernacle of witness, accordingly as it was appointed to Moses; so that the public service should belong to the Levites, through Ithamar the son of Aaron the priest.

And Beseelel the son of Urias of the tribe of Judah, did as the Lord commanded Moses. And Eliab the son of Achisamach of the tribe of Dan was there, who was chief artificer in the woven works and needle-works and embroideries, in weaving with the scarlet and fine linen.

And Beseelel made the ark; and overlaid it with pure gold within and without; and he cast for it four golden rings, two on the one side, and two on the other, wide enough for the staves, that men should bear it with the rings. And he made the propitiatory over the ark of pure gold, and the two cherubs of gold; one cherub on the one end of the propitiatory, and another cherub on the other end of the propitiatory, overshadowing the propitiatory with their wings. And he made the set table of pure gold, and cast for it four rings; two on the one side and two on the other, broad, so that men should lift it with the staves in them. And he made the staves of the ark and of the table, and gilded them.

And he made the furniture of the table, both the dishes, and the censers, and the cups, and the bowls with which he should offer drink-offerings, of gold. And he made the candlestick which gives light, of gold; the stem solid, and the branches from both its sides; and blossoms proceeding from its branches, three on this side, and three on the other, made equal to each other. And as to their lamps, which are on the ends, knobs proceeded from them; and sockets proceeding from them, that the lamps might be upon them; and the seventh socket, on the top of the candlestick, on the summit above, entirely of solid gold. And on the golden plates of the stems and the plates of the surmounts, and its funnels gold. He overlaid the posts of the tabernacle with silver, and cast for each post golden rings, and gilded the bars with gold; and he gilded the posts of the veil with gold, and made the hooks of gold. He made also the rings of the tabernacle of gold; and the rings of the court, and the rings for drawing out the veil above of brass. 20 He cast the silver chapters of the tabernacle, and the brazen chapters of the door of the tabernacle, and the gate of the court; and he made silver hooks for the posts, he overlaid them with silver on the posts. 21 He made the pins of the tabernacle and the pins of the court of brass. 22 He made the brazen altar of the brazen censers, which belonged to the men engaged in addition with the gathering of the Core. 23 He made all the vessels of the altar and its grate, and its base, and its bowls, and the brazen flesh-hooks. 24 He made an appendage for the altar of network under the grate, beneath it as far as the middle of it; and he fastened to it four brazen rings on the four parts of the appendage of the altar, wide enough for the bars, so as to bear the altar with them. 25 He made the holy anointing oil and the composition of the incense, the pure work of the perfumer. 26 He made the brazen altar, and the brazen base of it the mirrors of the women that fasted, which fasted by the doors of the tabernacle of witness, in the day in which he set it up.

And he made the laver, that yait it Moses and Aaron and his sons might wash their hands and their feet: when they went into the tabernacle of witness, or whenever they should advance to the altar to do service, they washed yait it, as the Lord commanded Moses.

All the gold that was employed for the works according to all the fabrication of the holy things, was of the gold of the offerings, twenty-nine talents, and seven hundred and twenty shekels according to the holy shekel. 2 And the offering of silver from the men that were numbered of the congregation a hundred talents, and a thousand seven hundred and seventy-five shekels, one drachm an apiece, even the half shekel, according to the holy shekel, that passed the survey from twenty years old and upwards to the number of six hundred and twenty, and three thousand five hundred and fifty. 3 And the hundred talents of silver went to the casting of the hundred chapters of the tabernacle, and to the chapters of the veil; 4 hundred chapters to the hundred talents, a talent to a chapter. 5 And the thousand seven hundred and seventy-five shekels he formed into hooks for the pillars, and he girt their chapters and adorned them.

And the brass of the offering was seventy talents, and a thousand five hundred shekels; 6 And they made of it the bases of the boats of the tabernacle of witness, 7 and the bases of the court round about, and the bases of the gate of the court, and the pins of the tabernacle, and the pins of the court round about; 8 and the brazen appendage of the altar, and all the vessels of the altar, and all the instruments of the tabernacle of witness. 9 And the children of Israel did as the Lord commanded Moses, so did they. 12 And of the gold that remained of the offering they made vessels to minister with before the Lord. 13 And the blue that was left, and the purple, and the scarlet, they made garments of ministry for Aaron, so that he should minister with them in the sanctuary; 14 And the table of shewbread and the tabernacle, and its furniture, its bases and its bars and the posts; 15 and the ark of the covenant, and its bearers, and the altar and all its furniture. 16 And they made the anointing oil, and the incense of composition, and the pure candlestick, and its lamps, and lamps for burning, and oil for the light, and the table of shewbread, and all its furniture, and the shewbread upon it, and the garments of the sanctuary which belong to Aaron, and the garments of his sons, for the priestly ministry; and the curtains of the court, and the posts, and the veil of the door of the tabernacle, and the gate of the court, and all the vessels of the tabernacle, and all its instruments; and the skins, even rams skins dyed red, and the blue coverings, and the coverings of the other things, and the pins, and all the instruments for the works of the tabernacle of witness. 21 Whatsoever things the Lord appointed Moses, so did the children of Israel make all the work; and they did all that the Lord commanded Moses, so did they make them; and Moses blessed them.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 2 On the first day of the first month, at the new moon, thou shalt set up the tabernacle of witness, and thou shalt place in it the ark of the testimony, and shalt cover the ark with the veil, and thou shalt bring in the table and shewbread upon it, and the golden candlestick and lamps before the ark of the testimony, and shalt set them in the tabernacle, and the altar of burnt-offerings before the ark. 3 And thou shalt put a covering of a veil over the door of the tabernacle. 4 And thou shalt put the altar of burnt-offerings by the doors of the tabernacle of witness, and thou shalt set up the tabernacle round about, and thou shalt hallow all that belongs to it round about. 5 And thou shalt take the anointing oil, and shalt anoint the tabernacle, and all its vessels, and shalt sanctify it, and all its furniture, and it shall be holy. 6 And thou shalt anoint the altar of burnt-offerings, and all its furniture, and shalt hallow the altar, and the altar shall be most holy. 7 And thou shalt bring Aaron and his sons to the doors of the tabernacle of witness, and thou shalt wash them with water. 8 And thou shalt put on Aaron the holy garments, and thou shalt anoint him, and thou shalt sanctify him, and he shall minister to me as priest. 9 And thou shalt bring up his sons, and shalt put garments on them. 10 And thou shalt anoint them as thou didst anoint their father, and they shall minister to me as priests; and it shall be that they shall have an everlasting anointing of priesthood, throughout their

Or, store, possession, etc.: as in Gen. 43.
16 And Moses did all things whatsoever the Lord commanded him, so did he.

17 And it came to pass in the first month, in the second year after their going forth out of Egypt, at the new moon, that the tabernacle was set up. And Moses set up the tabernacle, and put on the chapters, and put the bars into their places, and set up the posts. And he stretched out the curtains over the tabernacle, and put the veil of the tabernacle on it above as the Lord commanded Moses. And he took the testimonies, and put them into the ark; and he put the staves by the sides of the ark. And he brought the ark into the tabernacle, and put on it the covering of the veil, and covered the ark of the testimony, as the Lord commanded Moses. And he put the table in the tabernacle of witness, on the north side without the veil of the tabernacle. And he put on it the shewbread before the Lord, as the Lord commanded Moses. And he put the golden altar in the tabernacle of witness before the veil; and he burnt on it incense of composition, as the Lord commanded Moses. And he put the altar of the burnt-offerings by the doors of the tabernacle. And he set up the court round about the tabernacle and the altar; and Moses accomplished all the works.

31 And the cloud covered the tabernacle of witness, and the tabernacle was filled with the glory of the Lord. And Moses was not able to enter into the tabernacle of testimony, because the cloud overshadowed it, and the tabernacle was filled with the glory of the Lord. And when the cloud went up from the tabernacle, the children of Israel prepared to depart with their baggage. And if the cloud went not up, they did not prepare to depart, till the day when the cloud went up. For a cloud was on the tabernacle by day, and fire was on it by night before all Israel, in all their journeys.
AND the Lord called Moses again and spoke to him out of the tabernacle of witness, saying, Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, 2 If any man of you shall bring gifts to the Lord, ye shall bring your gifts of the cattle and of the oxen and of the sheep. 3 If his gift be a whole-burnt-offering, he shall bring an unblemished male of the herd to the door of the tabernacle of witness, he shall bring it as acceptable before the Lord. 4 And he shall lay his hand on the head of the burnt-offering as a thing acceptable for him, to make atonement for him. 5 And they shall slay the calf before the altar; and the sons of Aaron the priests shall bring the blood, and they shall pour the blood round about on the altar, which is at the doors of the tabernacle of witness. 6 And having flayed the whole burnt-offering, they shall divide it by its limbs. 7 And the sons of Aaron the priests shall put fire on the altar, and shall pile wood on the fire. 8 And the sons of Aaron the priests shall pile up the divided parts, and the head, and the fat on the wood on the fire, the wood which is on the altar. 9 And the entrails and the feet they shall wash in water, and the priests shall put all on the altar: it is a burnt-offering, a sacrifice, a smell of sweet savour to the Lord. 10 And if his gift be of the sheep to the Lord, or of the lambs, or of the kids for whole-burnt-offerings, he shall bring it a male without blemish. 11 And he shall lay his hand on its head; and they shall kill it by the side of the altar, toward the north before the Lord, and the sons of Aaron the priests shall pour its blood on the altar round about. 12 And they shall divide it by its limbs, and its head and its fat, and the priests shall pile them up on the wood which is on the fire, on the altar. 13 And they shall wash the entrails and the feet with water, and the priest shall bring all the parts and put them on the altar: it is a burnt-offering, a sacrifice, a smell of sweet savour to the Lord. 14 And if he bring his gift, a burnt-offering to the Lord, of birds, then shall he bring his gift of doves or pigeons. 15 And the priest shall bring it to the altar, and shall wring off its head; and the priest shall put it on the altar, and shall wring out the blood at the bottom of the altar. 16 And he shall take away the crop with the feathers, and shall cast it forth by

7 And he shall break it off from the altar toward the east to the place of the ashes. And he shall pour oil upon it, and shall put frankincense on it: it is a sacrifice.

8 And he shall bring it to the priests the sons of Aaron, and shall蓬 from it a handful of the fine flour with the oil, and all its frankincense, then the priest shall put the memorial of it on the altar: it is a sacrifice, an odour of sweet savour to the Lord.

9 And the remainder of the sacrifice shall be for Aaron and his sons, a most holy portion from the sacrifices of the Lord. And if he bring as a gift a sacrifice baked from the oven, a gift to the Lord of fine flour, he shall bring unleavened bread kneaded with oil, and unleavened wafers on a pan.

10 And if thy gift be a sacrifice from a pan, it is fine flour mingled with oil, unleavened offerings. And thou shalt break them into fragments and pour oil upon them: it is a sacrifice to the Lord. And if thy gift be a sacrifice from the heart, it shall be made of fine flour with oil.

11 And he shall offer the sacrifice which he shall make of these to the Lord, and shall bring it to the priest. And the priest shall approach the altar, and shall take away from the sacrifice a memorial of it, and the priest shall place it on the altar: a burnt offering, a smell of sweet savour to the Lord. And that which is left of the sacrifice shall be for Aaron and his sons, most holy from the burnt-offerings of the Lord. Ye shall not leave any sacrifice which ye shall bring to the Lord; for as to any leaven, or any honey, ye shall not bring of it to offer a gift to the Lord. Ye shall bring them in the way of fruits to the Lord, but they shall not be offered on the altar for a sweet-smelling savour to the Lord.

12 And every gift of your sacrifice shall be seasoned with salt; omit not the salt of the house of the Lord from your sacrifices: on every gift of your sacrifice ye shall offer salt to the Lord your God.

13 And if thou wouldst offer a sacrifice of first-fruits to the Lord, it shall be new grains ground and roasted for the Lord; so shall thou bring the sacrifice of the first-fruits.

14 And thou shalt pour oil upon it, and shall put frankincense on it: it is a sacrifice. And the priest shall offer the memorial of it; it is not to be taken from the grains with the oil, and all its frankincense: it is a burnt-offering to the Lord.

And if his gift to the Lord be a peace-offering, whether it be male or whether it be female, he shall bring it unblemished before the Lord. And he shall lay his hands on the head of the gift, and shall slay it before the Lord, by the doors of the tabernacle of witness and the priests the sons of Aaron shall pour the blood on the altar of burnt-offerings round about. And they shall bring of the peace-offering a burnt-sacrifice to the Lord, the fat covering the belly, and all the fat on the belly. And the two kidneys and the fat that is upon them; he shall take away that which is on the thighs, and the caul above the liver together with the kidneys. 5 And the priests the sons of Aaron shall offer them on the altar on the burnt-offering, on the wood which is on the fire, upon the altar; it is a burnt-offering, a smell of a burnt-offering, a sacrifice of sweet savour to the Lord. 6 And if his gift be of the sheep, a peace-offering to the Lord, male or female, he shall bring it unblemished. 7 If he bring a lamb for his gift, he shall bring it before the Lord. 8 And he shall lay his hands upon the head of his offering, and shall slay it by the door of the tabernacle of witness; and the priests the sons of Aaron shall pour out the blood on the altar round about. 9 And he shall bring of the peace-offering a burnt-sacrifice to the Lord: the fat and the hinder part unblemished he shall take away with the loins, and having taken away all the fat that covers the belly, and all the fat that is on the belly, 10 and both the kidneys and the fat that is upon them, and that which is on the thighs, and the caul which is on the liver with the kidneys, 11 the priest shall offer these on the altar: it is a sacrifice of sweet savour, a burnt-offering to the Lord. 12 And if his offering be of the goats, then shall he bring it before the Lord. 13 And he shall lay his hands on its head, and they shall slay it by the door of the tabernacle of witness: and the priests the sons of Aaron shall pour out the blood on the altar round about. 14 And he shall offer of it a burnt-offering to the Lord, even the fat that covers the belly, and all the fat that is on the belly, 15 and both the kidneys, and the fat that is upon them, that which is upon the thighs, and the caul of the liver with the kidneys, shall he take away. 16 And the priest shall offer it upon the altar: it is a burnt-offering, a smell of sweet savour to the Lord. 17 It is a perpetual statute throughout your generations, in all your habitations: ye shall eat no fat and no blood.

And the Lord spake to Moses, saying, 2 Speak to the children of Israel, saying, If a soul shall sin unwillingly before the Lord, 3 in any of the commandments of the Lord concerning things which he ought not to do, and shall do some of them; 4 if the anointed priest sin so as to cause the people to sin, then shall he bring for his sin, which he has sinned, an unblemished calf of the herd for his sin. 5 And he shall bring the calf of the door of the tabernacle of witness before the Lord, and he shall put his hand on the head of the calf before the Lord, and shall slay the calf in the presence of the Lord. 6 And the anointed priest who has consecrated himself by reason of the blood of the calf, shall then bring it into the tabernacle of witness. 7 And the priest shall dip his finger into the blood, and sprinkle of the blood seven times before the Lord, over against the holy veil. 8 And the priest shall put of the blood of the calf on the horns of the altar of the compound incense which is before the Lord, which is in the tabernacle of witness; and all the blood of the calf shall he pour out by the foot of the altar of whole-burnt-offerings, which is by the doors of the tabernacle of witness. And all the fat of the calf of the sin-offering shall be take off from it; the fat that covers the inwards, and all the fat that is on the inwards, and the two kidneys, and the fat that is upon the thigs, and the caul that is on the liver with the kidneys, them shall he take away, as he takes it away from the calf of the sacrifice of peace-offering, so shall the priest offer it on the altar of burnt-offering. And they shall take the skin of the calf, and all his flesh with the head and the extremities and the belly of the bull, the priest shall carry out of the whole calf out of the camp into a clean place, where they pour out the ashes, and they shall consume it there on wood with fire: it shall be burnt on the 7 ashes poured out.

And if the whole congregation of Israel trespass ignorantly, and a thing should escape the notice of the congregation, and they should do one thing forbidden in any of the commands of the Lord, which ought not to be done, and should transgress: and the sin wherein they have sinned should become known to them, then shall the congregation bring an unblemished calf of the herd for a sin-offering, and they shall bring it to the doors of the tabernacle of witness. And the elders of the congregation shall lay their hands on the head of the calf before the Lord, and they shall slay the calf before the Lord. And the anointed priest shall bring in of the blood of the calf into the tabernacle of witness. And the priest shall dip his finger into some of the blood of the calf, and shall sprinkle it seven times before the Lord, in front of the veil of the sanctuary. And the priest shall put some of the blood on the horns of the altar of incense of composition, which is before the Lord, which is in the tabernacle of witness; and he shall pour out all the blood at the bottom of the altar of whole-burnt-offerings, which is by the door of the tabernacle of witness. And he shall take away all the fat from the calf, and shall lay it upon the altar. And he shall do to the calf as he did to the calf of the sin-offering, so shall it be done; and the priest shall make atonement for them, and the trespass shall be forgiven them. And they shall carry forth the calf whole without the camp, and they shall burn the calf as they burnt the former calf: it is the sin-offering of the congregation.

And if a ruler sin, and break one of all the commands of the Lord his God, doing the thing which ought not to be done, unwillingly, and shall sin and trespass, and his trespass wherein he has sinned, be known to him,—then shall he offer for his gift a kid of the goats, a male without blemish. And he shall lay his hand upon the head of the kid, and they shall kill it in the place where they kill the victims for whole-burnt-offerings before the Lord; it is a sin-offering.

And the priest shall put some of the blood of the sin-offering with his finger on the horns of the altar of whole-burnt-offering;
And he shall pour out all its blood on the bottom of the altar of whole-burnt-offerings. And he shall offer up all his fat on the altar, as the fat of the sacrifice of peace-offering; and the priest shall make atonement for him concerning his sin, and it shall be forgiven him.

And if a soul of the people of the land should sin unwillingly, in doing a thing contrary to any of the commandments of the Lord, which ought not to be done, and shall transgress, and his sin should be known to him, wherein he has sinned, then shall he bring a kid of the goats, a female without blemish shall he bring for his sin, which he has sinned. And he shall lay his hand on the head of his sin-offering, and they shall slay the kid of the sin-offering in the place where they slay the victims for whole-burnt-offerings.

And the priest shall take of its blood with his finger, and shall put it on the horns of the altar of whole-burnt-offerings; and all its blood shall pour forth at the foot of the altar. And he shall take away all the fat, as the fat is taken away from the sacrifice of peace-offering, and the priest shall offer it on the altar for a smell of sweet savour to the Lord; and the priest shall make atonement for him, and his sin shall be forgiven him.

And if he should offer a lamb for his sin-offering, he shall offer it a female without blemish. And he shall lay his hand on the head of the sin-offering, and they shall kill it in the place where they kill the victims for whole-burnt-offerings. And the priest shall take of the blood of the sin-offering with his finger, and shall put it on the horns of the altar of whole-burnt-offerings, and he shall pour out all its blood by the bottom of the altar of whole-burnt-offerings. And he shall take away all his fat, as the fat of the lamb of the sacrifice of peace-offering is taken away, and the priest shall put it on the altar for a whole-burnt-offering to the Lord; and the priest shall make atonement for him for his sin which he has sinned, and it shall be forgiven him.

And if a soul sin, and hear the voice of swearing, and he is a witness or has seen or been conscious, if he do not report it, he shall bear his iniquity. That soul which shall touch any unclean thing, or carcase, or that which is unclean being taken of beasts, or the dead bodies of abominable reptiles which are unclean, or carcases of unclean cattle, or should touch the uncleaness of a man, of whatever kind, which he may touch and be defiled by, and it should have escaped him, but afterwards he should know,—then he shall have transgressed. That unrighteous soul, which determines with the dead bodies of to do evil or to do good according to whatsoever a man may determine with an oath, and it shall have escaped his notice, and he shall afterwards know it, and so he should sin in some one of these things:—then shall he declare his sin in the things wherein he has sinned by that sin. And he shall bring for his transgressions against the Lord, for his sin which he has sinned, a ewe lamb of the flock, or a kid of the goats, for a sin-offering; and the priest shall make an atonement for him for his sin which he has sinned, and his sin shall 7 and he found him guilty of the sin which he had sinned, two turtle-doves or two young pigeons to the Lord; one for a sin-offering, and the other for a burnt-offering. 8 And he shall bring them to the priest, and the priest shall bring the sin-offering. 9 But the priest shall make the second a whole-burnt-offering, as it is fit; and the priest shall make atonement for his sin which he has sinned, and it shall be forgiven him.

11 And if he cannot afford a pair of turtle-doves, or two young pigeons, then shall he bring as his gift for his sin, the tenth part of an ephah of fine flour for a sin-offering; he shall not, pour oil upon it, nor shall he put frankincense upon it, because it is a sin-offering. 12 And he shall bring it to the priest; and the priest having taken a handful of it, shall lay the memorial of it on the altar of whole-burnt-offerings to the Lord; it is a sin-offering.

14, 15 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 16 And he shall make compensation for that wherein he has sinned in the holy things of the Lord, and shall add the fifth part to it, and give it to the priest; and the priest shall make atonement for him with the ram of transgression, the Lord, let him be excused; and his sin shall be forgiven him. 17 And the soul which shall sin, and do one thing against any of the commandments of the Lord, which it is not right to do, and has not known it, and shall have transgressed, and shall have contracted guilt, he shall even bring a ram without blemish from the flock, valued at a price of silver for his transgression to the priest; and the priest shall make atonement for his trespass of ignorance, wherein he ignorantly trespassed, and he knew it not; and it shall be forgiven him. For he has surely been guilty of transgression before the Lord.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 18 The soul which shall have sinned, and willfully overlooked the commandments of the Lord, and shall have falsely in the affairs of his neighbour in the matter of a deposit, or concerning fellowship, or concerning plunder, or has in anything wronged his neighbour, 19 or has found that which was lost, and shall have lied concerning it, and shall have sworn unjustly concerning any one of the things, whatsoever a man may do, so as to sin hereby; fit shall come to pass, whensoever he shall have sinned, and transgressed, that he shall restore the plunder which he hath stolen, or redress the injury which he has committed, or restore the deposit which was entrusted to him, or the lost article which he has found of any kind, about which he swore unjustly, he shall even restore it in full; and he shall add to it a fifth part besides; he shall restore it to him whose it is in the lump in which he happened to find it. And he shall bring to the Lord for his trespass, a ram of the flock, without blemish, of value to the amount of the thing in which he trespassed. And the priest shall make atonement for him before the Lord, and he shall be forgiven for any one of the things which he did and trespassed in it.

"Charge Aaron and his sons, saying: 'This is the law of whole burnt-offering: this is the whole-burnt-offering, when it is burned on the altar all the even till the morning: and the fire of the altar shall burn on it, it shall not be put out. And the priest shall put on the linen tunic, and he shall put the linen drawers on his body; and shall take away that which has been thoroughly burnt, which the fire shall have consumed, even the whole-burnt-offering from the altar, and he shall put it near the altar. And he shall put off his robe, and put on another robe, and he shall take forth the offering that has been burnt without the camp into a clean place. And the fire on the altar shall be kept burning on it, and shall not be extinguished: and the priest shall burn on it wood every morning, and shall heap on it the whole-burnt-offering, and shall lay on it the fat of the peace-offering. And the fire shall always burn on the altar; it shall not be extinguished. This is the law of the sacrifice, which the sons of Aaron shall bring near before the Lord, before the altar. And he shall take from it a handful of the fine flour of the sacrifice with its oil, and with all its frankincense, which are upon the sacrifice, and he shall offer up on the altar a burnt-offering as a sweet-smelling savour, a memorial of it to the Lord. And Aaron and his sons shall lay on that which is left of it: it shall be eaten without leave in a holy place; they shall eat it in the court of the tabernacle of witness. It shall not be baked with leaven. I have given it as a portion to them of the burnt-offerings of the Lord: it is most holy, as the offering for sin, and as the offering for trespasses. Every one of the priests that eateth of it shall eat it: it is a perpetual ordinance throughout your generations of the burnt-offerings of the Lord; whatsoever he shall touch them shall be hallowed."

"This is the gift of Aaron and of his sons, which they shall offer to the Lord in the day when he is anointed, the tenth of an ephah of fine flour for a sacrifice continually, the half of it in the morning, and the half of it in the evening. fragments, an offering of a sweet savour unto the Lord. 22 The anointed priest who is in his place, one of his sons, shall offer it: it is a perpetual statute it shall all be consumed. 23 And every sacrifice of a priest shall be thoroughly burnt, and shall not be eaten. 24 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 25 Speak to Aaron and to his sons, saying, This is the law of the sin-offering;— in the place where they slay the whole-burnt-offering, they shall slay the sin-offering. 26 But it is a holy place: in a holy place it shall be eaten, in the court of the tabernacle of witness. 27 Every one that touches the flesh of it shall be holy, and whosoever garment any of its blood shall have been sprinkled, whosoever 28 If it be consumed in the fire, the flesh of it shall be eaten; in the holy place it shall be eaten, in the court of the tabernacle of witness. 29 And every one that toucheth the flesh of it shall be holy unto the Lord. 30 And no offerings for sin, of whose blood there shall be brought any into the tabernacle of witness to make atonement in the holy place, shall be eaten: it shall be burned with fire. 31 And this is the law of the trespass-offering: it is most holy. 32 In the place where they slay the whole-burnt-offering, they shall slay the ram of the trespass-offering before the Lord, and he shall pour out the blood at the bottom of the altar round about. 33 And he shall offer all the fat from it: and the vains, and all the fat that covers the inwards, and all the fat that is upon the inward parts, and the two kidneys, and the fat that is upon them, that which is upon the thighs, and the caul upon the liver with the kidney, he shall take them away. 34 And the priest shall offer them on the altar a burnt-offering to the Lord; it is for trespass. 35 Every male of the priest shall eat them, in the holy place. 36 And every sacrifice which shall be made in the oven, and every one which shall be prepared on the hearth, or on a frying-pan, it is the property of the priest that offers it: it shall be his. 37 And every sacrifice made up with oil, or not made up with oil, shall belong to the sons of Aaron, an equal portion to each.

This is the law of the sacrifice of peace-offering, which they shall bring to the Lord. 2 If a man would offer it for praise, then shall he bring, for the sacrifice of praise, leaves of fine flour made up with oil, and unleavened cakes anointed with oil, and fine flour kneaded with oil. 3 With leavened bread he shall offer his gifts, with the peace-offering of praise. 4 And he shall bring one of all his gifts, a separate offering to the Lord: it shall belong to the priest who pours forth the blood of the peace-offering. And the flesh of the sacrifice of the peace-offering shall be his, and it shall be eaten in the day in which it is offered; they shall eat none of it till the morning. And if it be a raven, or he offer his gift of his own will, on whatsoever day he shall offer his sacrifice, it shall be eaten, and on the morrow. And that which is left of the flesh of the sacrifice till the third day, shall be consumed with fire. And if he do all at one offering of the flesh of the sacrifice, it shall not be accepted for him that offers; it shall not be reckoned to him, it is pollution; and whatsoever soul shall eat of it, shall bear his iniquity. And whatsoever flesh shall have touched any unclean thing, it shall not be eaten, it shall be consumed with fire; every one that is clean may eat thereof, or the unclean, only not in his habitation, or of beasts of the unclean, such shall eat thereof, and shall wash his clothes. And let the Levites eat thereof in the place of the Most Holy. And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying, Speak to the children of Israel, saying, Ye shall eat no fat of oxen, or sheep, or goats. Ye shall neither eat the blood thereof, for the blood of the flesh make separation for the soul. And thou shalt have none of the carcase of the peace-offerings in all your habitations. And whatsoever soul shall touch any unclean thing, either of the uncleanness of a man, or of unclean quadrupeds, or any unclean abominable thing, and shall eat of the flesh of the sacrifice of the peace-offering, which is the Lord's, and his uncleanness be upon him, that soul shall perish from his people. And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying, Thou shalt also speak to the children of Israel, saying, He that offers a sacrifice of peace-offering, shall bring his gift to the Lord for the sacrifice of peace-offering. His hands shall bring the burnt-offerings to the Lord; the fat which is on the breast and the lobe of the liver, he shall bring them, so as to set them for a gift before the Lord. And the priest shall offer the fat upon the altar, and the breast shall be Aaron's and his sons', and ye shall give the right shoulder for a portion. For I have taken the wave-breast and shoulder of separation from the children of Israel from the sacrifices of the peace-offering, and I have given them to Aaron the priest and his sons, a perpetual ordinance due from the children of Israel. This is the anointing of Aaron, and the anointing of his sons, their portion of the burnt-offerings of the Lord, in the day in which he brought them forward to minister in the presence of the Lord; as the Lord commanded to give to them in the day in which he anointed them of the sons

1 Or, separation; 2 or, choice piece offered; 3 or, offering.
And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 2 Take Aaron and his sons, and his robes and the anointing oil, and the calf for the sin-offering, and the two rams, and the basket of unleavened bread, and assemble the whole congregation at the door of the tabernacle of witness. 4 And Moses did as the Lord appointed him, and he assembled the congregation at the door of the tabernacle of witness. 5 And Moses said to the congregation, This is the thing which the Lord has commanded you to do. 6 And Moses brought nigh Aaron and his sons, and washed them with water, and put on him the coat, and girded him with the girdle, and clothed him with the ephod, and put on him the ephod; 7 and girded him with a girdle according to the make of the ephod, and clasped him closely with it; and put upon it the oracle, and put upon the oracle the Mani-festation and the Truth. 8 And he put the mitre on his head, and put upon the mitre in front the golden plate, the most holy thing, as the Lord commanded Moses.

And Moses took of the anointing oil, and sprinkled it seven times on the altar; and anointed the altar, and hallowed it, and all things on it, and the laver, and its foot, and sanctified them; and anointed the tabernacle and all its furniture, and hallowed it. 11 And Moses poured of the anointing oil on the head of Aaron, and anointed him, and sanctified him. 12 And Moses brought the sons of Aaron near, and put on them coats and girded them with girdles, and put on them bonnets, as the Lord commanded Moses.

And Moses brought near the calf for the sin-offering, and Aaron and his sons laid their hands on the head of the calf for the sin-offering. 15 And he slew it; and Moses took of the blood, and put it on the horns of the altar round about with his finger; and he purified the altar, and poured out the blood at the bottom of the altar, and sanctified it, to make atonement upon it. 16 And Moses took all the fat that was upon the inwards, and the lobe on the liver, and both the kidneys, and the fat that was upon them, and Moses offered them on the altar. 17 But the calf, and his hide, and his dung, he burnt with fire without the camp, as the Lord commanded Moses.
And Moses slew the ram: and Moses poured the blood on the altar round about.
And he divided the ram by its limbs, and Moses offered the head, and the limbs, and the fat: and he washed his belly, and the feet. And Moses offered up the whole ram on the altar: it is a whole-burnt-offering for a sweet-savouring savor; it is a burnt-offering to the Lord, as the Lord commanded Moses.

And Moses brought the second ram, the ram of consecration, and Aaron and his sons laid their hands on the head of the ram, and he slew him: and Moses took his blood, and put it upon the tip of Aaron's right ear, and on the thumb of his right hand, and on the great toe of his right foot. And Moses poured out the blood on the altar round about. And he took the fat, and the rump, and the fat on the belly, and the lobe of the liver, and the two kidneys, and the fat that is upon them, and the right shoulder.

And from the basket of consecration, which was before the Lord, he took one unleavened loaf, and one loaf made with oil, and one cake; and put them upon the altar, and the right shoulder: and put them all on the hands of Aaron, and upon the hands of his sons, and offered them up for a wave-offering before the Lord. And Moses took them at their hands, and Aaron and his sons, and the garments of his sons with him. And he sanctified Aaron and his garments, and his sons, and the garments of his sons with him. And Moses said to Aaron and to his sons, Boil the flesh in the tent of the tabernacle of witness in the holy place; and there ye shall eat it and the loaves in the basket of consecration, as it has been appointed me, the Lord saying, Aaron and his sons shall eat them. And that which is left of the flesh and of the loaves burn ye with fire. And ye shall not go out from the door of the tabernacle of witness, seven days, until the day be fulfilled, the day of your consecration; for in seven days shall he consecrate you, as he did in this day on which the Lord commanded me to do so, to make an atonement for you. And ye shall remain seven days at the door of the tabernacle of witness, day and night; ye shall observe the ordinances of the Lord, that ye die not; for so has kefalhi of the Lord. And it came to pass on the eighth day, that Moses called Aaron and his sons, and the elders of Israel, and Moses said to Aaron, Take to thyself a young calf of the herd for a sin-offering, and a ram for a whole-burnt-offering, unblemished, and bring them before the Lord, and speak to the elders of Israel, saying, Take one kid of the goats for a sin-offering, and a young calf, and a lamb of a year old for a whole-burnt-offering, spotless, and a calf and a ram for a peace offering before the Lord, and fine flour mingled with oil, for to-day the Lord will appear among you. And they took as Moses commanded them before the tabernacle of witness, and all the congregation drew nigh, and they stood before the Lord. And Moses said, This is the thing which the Lord has spoken; do it, and the glory of the Lord shall appear among you. And Moses said to Aaron, Draw nigh to the altar, and offer thy sin-offering, and thy whole-burnt-offering, and make an atonement for the house; and offer the gifts of the people, and make atonement for them, as the Lord commanded Moses. And Aaron drew nigh to the altar, and slew the calf of his sin-offering. And the sons of Aaron brought the blood to him, and he dipped his finger into the blood, and put it on the horns of the altar, and he poured out the blood at the bottom of the altar. And he offered up on the altar the fat and the kidneys and the lobe of the liver of the sin-offering, according as the Lord commanded Moses. And the flesh and the hide he burnt with fire outside of the camp. And he slew the whole-burnt-offering; and the sons of Aaron brought the blood to him, and he poured it on the altar round about. And they brought the whole-burnt-offering, according to its pieces; and the head he put upon the altar. And he washed the belly and the feet with water, and he put them on the whole-burnt-offering on the altar.

And he brought the gift of the people, and took the goat of the sin-offering of the people, and slew it, and purified it as also the first. And he brought the whole-burnt-offering, and offered it in due form. And he brought the sacrifice and filled his hands with it, and laid it on the altar, besides the morning whole-burnt-offering. And he slew the calf, and the ram of the sacrifice of peace-offering of the people; and the sons of Aaron brought the blood to him, and he poured it out on the altar round about. And he took the fat of the calf, and the hind quarters of the ram, and the fat covering the belly, and the two kidneys, and the fat upon them, and the caul on the liver. And he put the fat on the breasts, and offered the fat on the altar. And Aaron separated the breast and the right shoulder, as a choice-offering, before the Lord, as the Lord commanded Moses. And Aaron lifted up his hands on the people and blessed them; and after him did Aaron offered the whole-burnt-offerings, and the peace-offerings, he came down. And Moses and Aaron entered into the tabernacle of witness. And they came out and blessed all the people, and the glory of the Lord appeared to all the people. And fire came forth from the Lord, and devoured the offerings on the altar, both the whole-burnt-offerings and the fat; and all the people saw, and were amazed, and fell upon their faces.

And the two sons of Aaron, Nadab and Abiu, took each his censer, and put fire therein, and threw incense thereon, and offered strange fire before the Lord, which the Lord did not command them, and fire came forth from the Lord, and devoured them, and they died before the Lord. And Moses said to Aaron, This is the thing which the Lord spake, saying, I will be sanctified among them, and glorified in their congregation; and Aaron was pricked in his heart. And Moses called Mishael, and Elisaphan, sons of Oziel, sons of the brother of Aaron's father, and said to them, Draw near and take your brethren from before the sanctuary out of the camp. And they came near and took their brethren out of the camp, as Moses said. And Moses said to Aaron, and Eleazar and Ithamar his sons that were left, Ye shall not make bare your heads, and ye shall not tear your garments; that ye die not, and so there should be wrath on all the congregation: but your brethren, even all the house of Israel, shall lament for the burning, with which they were burnt by the Lord. And ye shall not go forth from the door of the tabernacle of witness, that ye die not; for the Lord's anointing oil is upon you: and they did according to the word of Moses.

Ye shall not drink wine nor strong drink thou, and thy sons with thee, whensoever ye enter into the tabernacle of witness, or when ye approach the altar, so shall ye not die; it is a perpetually statute for your generations. To distinguish between sacrificed and profane, and between clean and unclean, and to teach the children of Israel all the statutes, which the Lord spake to them by Moses. And Moses said to Aaron, and to Eleazar and Ithamar, the sons of Aaron who survived, Take the sacrifice which is left of the burnt-offerings of the Lord, and ye shall eat unleavened bread by the altar: it is most holy. And ye shall eat it in the holy place; for this is a statute for thee and for thy sons, of the burnt-offerings to the Lord; for so it has been commanded me. And ye shall eat the breast, of separation, and the shoulder of the choice-offering in the holy place, thou and thy sons and thy brother with thee; for it has been given as an ordinance for thee and an ordinance for thy sons, of the sacrifices of peace-offering of the children of Israel. They shall
And Moses diligently sought the goat of the sin-offering, but it had been consumed by fire; and Moses was angry with Eleazar and Itamar the sons of Aaron that were left, saying, "Why did ye not eat the sin-offering in the holy place? for because it is most holy he has given you this to eat, that ye might take away the sin of the congregation, and make atonement for the people before the Lord. For the blood of it was not brought into the holy place: ye shall eat it within, before the Lord, as the Lord commanded me. And Aaron spoke to Moses, saying, If they have brought nigh to-day their sin-offerings, and their whole burnt-offerings before the Lord, and these events shall have happened yet ye shall eat of the sin-offering to-day, it is pleasing to the Lord? And Moses heard it, and it pleased him.

And the Lord spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying, "Speak ye to the sons of Israel, saying, These are the beasts which shall eat of all beasts that are upon the earth. Every beast parting the hoof and making divisions of two claws, and chewing the cud among beasts, these ye shall eat. But of these ye shall not eat, of those that chew the cud, and of those that part the hoofs, and divide claws; the camel, because it chews the cud, but does not divide the hoof, this is unclean to you. And the rabbit, because it chews the cud, but does not divide the hoof, this is unclean to you. And the hare, because it does not chew the cud, and does not divide the hoof, this is unclean to you. And the swine, because this animal divides the hoof, and makes claws of the hoof, and it does not chew the cud, it is unclean to you. Ye shall not eat of their flesh, and ye shall not touch their carcases; these are unclean to you.

And these are what ye shall eat of all that are in the waters: all things that have fins and scales in the waters, and in the seas, and in the brooks, these ye shall eat. And all things which have not fins or scales in the water, or in the seas, and in the brooks, of all which the waters produce, and of every soul living in the water, these are an abomination to you. Ye shall not eat their flesh, ye shall abhor their carcases.

And all things that have not fins or scales of those that are in the waters, these are an abomination to you. And these are the things which ye shall abhor of birds, and they shall not be eaten, they are an abomination: the eagle and the ossifrage, and the sea-eagle. And the vulture, and the kite, and the like to it; and the sparrow, and the owl, and the sea-mew, and the like to it; and every raven, and the birds like it, the hawk and his like, 7 and the night-raven and the corromphant and the stork, 8 and the red-bill, and pelican, and swan, 9 and the heron, and the Flapwing, and the like to it, and the hoopoe and the bat. 10 And all winged creatures that creep, which go upon four feet, are abominations to you. 11 But these ye shall eat: the caterpillar and his like, and the attaccus and his like, and the yeantharius and his like, and the locust and his like. 23 Every creeping thing among the birds, 4 which has four feet, is an abomination to you. 24 And by these ye shall be defiled; every one that touches their carcasses shall be unclean till the evening. 25 And every one that takes of their dead bodies shall wash his garments, and shall be unclean till the evening. 26 And whenever among the beasts divides the hoof and makes the dust stick, that is unclean to you; every one that touches their dead bodies shall be unclean till evening. 27 And every one among all the wild beasts that moves upon its fore feet, which goes on all four, is unclean to you; every one that touches their dead bodies shall be unclean till evening. 28 And he that takes of their dead bodies shall wash his garments, and shall be unclean till evening: these are unclean to you. 29 And these are unclean to you of all the reptiles which are on the earth; every one who touches their carcasses shall be unclean till evening. 30 And on whatsoever one of their dead bodies shall fall it shall be unclean; 31 whatever wooden vessel, or garment, or skin, or sack it may be, every vessel in which work shall be done shall be dipped in water, and shall be unclean till evening; and then it shall be clean. 32 And every earthen vessel into which one of these things shall fall, whatsoever is inside it, shall be unclean, and it shall be broken. 33 And all food that is eaten, on which water shall come from such a vessel, shall be unclean; and every beverage which is drunk in any such vessel, shall be unclean. 34 And every thing on which there shall fall of their dead bodies shall be unclean; ovens and stands for jars shall be broken down; these are unclean, and they shall be unclean to you. 35 Only if the water be of fountains of water, or a pool, or confluence of water, shall be clean; but he that touches their carcasses shall be unclean. 36 And if one of their carcasses should fall upon any sowing seed which shall be sown, it shall be clean. 37 But if water be poured upon any seed, and one of their dead bodies fall upon it, it is unclean to you. 38 And if one of the cattle die, which it is lawful for you to eat, he that touches their carcasses shall be unclean till evening. 39 And he that eats of their carcasses shall wash his garments, and be unclean till evening; and he that carries any of their carcases shall wash his garments, and bathe himself in water, and be unclean till evening. * And every reptile that creeps on the earth, this shall be an abomination to you; it shall not be eaten. * And every animal that creeps on the earth shall be an abomination; and every one that goes on four feet continually, which abounds with feet among all the reptiles creeping upon the earth—ye shall not eat it, for it is an abomination to you. * And ye shall not defile your souls with any of the reptiles that creep upon the earth, * and ye shall not be polluted with them; ye shall not abominate them, for I am the Lord your God. * For I am the Lord your God; and ye shall be sanctified, and ye shall be holy, because I the Lord your God am holy; * and ye shall not defile your souls with any of the reptiles creeping upon the earth. * For I am the Lord who brought you up out of the land of Egypt to be your God; and ye shall be holy, for I the Lord am holy. * This is the law concerning beasts and birds and every living creature moving in the water, and every living creature creeping on the earth; * to distinguish between the unclean and the clean; and between those that bring forth alive, such as should be eaten, and those that bring forth alive, such as should not be eaten.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, * Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, Whosoever woman shall have conceived and born a male child shall be unclean seven days, she shall be unclean according to the days of separation for her monthly courses. * And on the eighth day she shall circumcise the flesh of his foreskin. * And for thirty-three days she shall continue in her unclean blood; she shall touch nothing holy, and shall not enter the sanctuary, until the days of her purification be fulfilled. * But if she should have born a female child, then she shall be unclean twelve seven days, according to the time of her monthly courses; and for sixty-six days shall she remain in her unclean blood. * And when the days of her purification shall have been fulfilled for a son or a daughter, she shall bring a lamb of a year old without blemish for a whole-burnt-offering, and a young pigeon or turtle-dove for a sin-offering to the door of the tabernacle of witness, to the priest. * And he shall present it before the Lord, and the priest shall make atonement for her, and shall purge her from the fountain of her blood; this is the law of her who bears a male or a female. * And if she cannot afford a lamb, then she shall take two turtle-doves or two young pigeons, one for a whole-burnt-offering, and one for a sin-offering; and the priest shall make atonement for her, and she shall be purified.

And the Lord spake to Moses and Aaron, saying, * If any man should have in the skin of his flesh a bright clear spot, and there should be in the skin of his flesh a plague of leprosy, he shall be brought to Aaron the priest, or to one of his sons the priests. * And the priest shall view the spot in the skin of his flesh; and if the hair in the spot

24. And if the flesh be in his skin in a state of fiery inflammation, and there should be in his skin the part which is healed of the inflammation, bright, clear, and white, suffused with red or very white; 25 then the priest shall look upon him, and, behold, if the hair being white is changed to a bright colour, and its appearance is lower than the skin, it is a leprosy; it has broken out in the inflammation, and the priest shall pronounce him unclean; it is a plague of leprosy. 26 But if the priest should look, and, behold, there is not in the bright spot any white hair, and it should not be lower than the skin, and it should be dark, then the priest shall separate him seven days. 27 And the priest shall look upon him on the seventh day; and if the spot be much spread in the skin, then the priest shall pronounce him unclean: it is a plague of leprosy, it has broken out in the ulcer.

28. Then if the priest look, and, behold, there is not in the bright spot any white hair, and it should not be lower than the skin, and it should be dark, then the priest shall separate him seven days. 29 And if a man or a woman have in them a plague of leprosy in the head or the beard; 30 then the priest shall look upon it, and, behold, if the appearance of it be yellow, and in it there be thin yellowish hair, then the priest shall pronounce him unclean; it is a scurff, it is a leprosy of the head or a leprosy of the beard.

31. And if the priest should see the plague of the scurf, and, behold, the appearance of it be not beneath the skin, and there is no yellowish hair in it, then the priest shall set apart him that hath the plague of the scurf seven days. 32 And the priest shall look at the plague on the seventh day; and, behold, if the scurf be not spread, and there be no yellowish hair on it, and the appearance of the scurf is not hollow under the skin; 33 then the skin shall be shaven, but the scurf shall not be shaven; and the priest shall set aside the person having the scurf the second time for seven days. 34 And the priest shall see the scurf on the seventh day; and, behold, if the scurf is not spread in the skin after the man’s being shaved, and the appearance of the scurf is not hollow beneath the skin, then the priest shall pronounce him clean; and he shall wash his garments, and be clean. 35 But if the scurf be indeed spread in the skin after he has been purified; then the priest shall look and, behold, if the scurf be spread in the skin, the priest shall not examine concerning the yellow hair, for he is unclean. 36 But if the scurf remain before him in its place, and a dark hair should have arisen in it, the scurf is healed: he is clean, and the priest shall pronounce him clean. 37 And if a man or a woman should have in the skin of their flesh spots of a bright whiteness, 38 then the manifestly spread over the skin, then the priest shall pronounce him unclean: it is a plague of leprosy; it has broken out in the ulcer.
priest shall look; and, behold, there being bright spots of a bright whiteness in the skin of their flesh, it is a letter; it bursts forth in the skin; and he is clean. 41 And if any one's head should lose the hair, he is only bald; he is clean. 42 And if his head should lose the hair in front, he is forehead bald; he is clean. 43 And if there should be in his baldness of head, or his baldness of forehead, a white or flaky plague, it is leprosy in his baldness of head, or baldness of forehead. 44 And the priest shall look upon him, and, behold, if the appearance of the plague be white or inflamed in his baldness of head or baldness in front, as the appearance of leprosy in the skin of his flesh, 45 he is a leperous man; the priest shall surely pronounce him unclean, his plague is in the baldness of his head. And he shall be put away from the camp. 46 All the days in which the plague shall be upon him, being unclean, he shall be esteemed unclean; he shall dwell apart, his house shall be without the camp. 47 And if a garment have it in the plague of leprosy, a garment of wool, or a garment of flax, 48 either in the warp or in the woof, or in the linen, or in the woollen threads, or in a skin, or in any workmanship of skin, and the plague be greenish or reddish in the garment, either in the warp, or in the woof, or in any scum of skin, it is a plague of leprosy, and he shall show it to the priest. 49 And the priest shall look upon the plague, and the priest shall set apart that which has the plague seven days. 50 And the priest shall look upon the plague on the seventh day; and if the plague is not spread in the garment, either in the warp or in the woof, or in the skin, in whatsoever things skins may be used in their workmanship, the plague is a confirmed leprosy; it is unclean. 51 He shall burn the garment, either the warp or woof in woollen garments or in flaxen, or in any teasel of skin, and there may be the plague because it is a confirmed leprosy; it shall be burnt with fire. 52 And if the priest should see, and the plague be not spread in the garment, either in the warp or in the woof, or in any teasel of skin, 53 then the priest shall give directions, and one shall wash that on which there may have been the plague, and the priest shall set it aside a second time for seven days. 54 And the priest shall look upon it after the plague has been washed; and if this, even the plague, has not changed its appearance, and the plague does not spread, it is unclean; it shall be burnt with fire. It is burnt in the garment, in the warp, or in the woof. 55 And if the priest should look, and the spot be dark after it has been washed, he shall tear it off from the garment, either from the warp or from the woof, or from the skin. 56 And if it should still appear in the garment, either in the warp or in the woof, or in any other material, it is a leprosy bursting forth; that wherein the plague shall be burnt with fire. 57 And the garment, or the

8 This is the law of the plague of leprosy of a woollen or linen garment, either of the warp, or woof, or any other article of skin, which shall be washed, and the plague depart from it. And also if a leper shall he be brought to the priest. 9 And the priest shall come forth out of the camp, and the priest shall look, and belove, the plague of the leprosy is removed from the leper. 10 And the priest shall give directions, and they shall take for him that is cleansed two clean live birds, and cedar wood, and spun scarlet, and hyssop. 11 And the priest shall give direction, and they shall kill one bird over an earthen vessel over running water. 12 And as for the living bird he shall take it, and the cedar wood, and the spun scarlet, and the hyssop, and he shall dip them and the living bird into the blood of the bird that was slain over running water.

And he shall sprinkle seven times upon him that is unclean, and he shall be clean; and he shall let go the living bird into the field. 13 And the man that has been cleansed shall wash his garments, and shall shave off all his hair, and shall wash himself in water, and shall be clean; and after that he shall go into the camp, and shall remain out of his house seven days.

And it shall come to pass on the seventh day, he shall shave off all his hair, his head and his beard, and his eye-brows, even all his hair he shall shave; and he shall wash his garments, and wash his body with water, and shall be clean. 14 And on the eighth day he shall take two lambs without spot of a year old, and one ewe lamb without spot of a year old, and three-tenths of a litre of fine flour, for a sin-offering, and a cup of oil. 15 And the priest that cleanseth shall present the man under purification, and these offerings before the Lord, at the door of the tabernacle of witness. And the priest shall take one lamb, and offer him for a trespass-offering, and the cup of oil, and set them apart for a special offering before the Lord. And they shall kill the lamb in the place where they kill the whole burnt-offerings, and the sin-offerings, in the holy places; for it is a sin-offering: as the trespass-offering, it belongs to the priest, it is most holy. And the priest shall take of the blood of the trespass-offering, and the priest shall put it on the tip of the right ear of the person under cleansing, and on the thumb of his right hand, and on the great toe of his right foot. And the priest shall take of the cup of oil, and shall pour it upon his own left hand. And he shall dip with the tip of his right hand into some of the oil that is in his left hand, and he shall sprinkle with his finger seven times before the Lord. And the remaining oil that is in his hand, the priest shall put on the tip of the right ear of him that is under cleansing, and on the thumb of his right hand.
and, and on the great toe of his right foot, on the place of the blood of the trespass-offering. 19 And the remaining oil that is on the hand of the priest, the priest shall put on the head of the cleansed leper, and the whole burnt-offering shall be for him before the Lord. 20 And the priest shall sacrifice the sin-offering, and the priest shall make atonement for the person under purification to cleanse him from his sin, and afterwards the priest shall slay the whole-burnt-offering. 21 And the priest shall offer the whole burnt-offering and the sin-offering upon the altar before the Lord; and the priest shall make atonement for him; and he shall be cleansed. 22 And if he should be poor, and cannot afford so much, he shall take one lamb for his transgression for a separate-offering, so as to make propitiation for him before the Lord. 23 And their part shall be mingled with oil for a sacrifice, and one cup of oil, and two turtle-doves, or two young pigeons, as he can afford; and the one shall be for a sin-offering, and the other for a whole-burnt-offering. 24 And he shall bring them on the eighth day, to purify him, to the priest, to the door of the tabernacle of the congregation before the Lord. 25 And the priest shall take the lamb of the trespass-offering, and the cup of oil, and place them for a set-offering before the Lord. 26 And he shall slay the lamb of the trespass-offering, and the priest shall take of the blood of the trespass-offering, and put it on the tip of the right ear of him that is under purification, and on the thumb of his right hand, and on the great toe of his right foot. 27 And the priest shall pour of the oil on his own left hand. 28 And the priest shall sprinkle with the 5th finger of his right hand some of the oil that is in his left hand seven times before the Lord. 29 And their part shall be put of the oil that is on his hand on the tip of the right ear of him that is under purification, and on the thumb of his right hand, and on the great toe of his right foot, on the place of the blood of the trespass-offering. 30 And that which is left of the oil which is on the hand of the priest he shall put on the head of him that is purified, and the priest shall make atonement for him before the Lord. 31 And he shall offer one of the turtle-doves or of the young pigeons, as 5 he can afford it, the one for a sin-offering, the other for a whole-burnt-offering with meat-offering, and the priest shall make an atonement before the Lord for him that is under purification. 32 This is the law for him in whom is the plague of leprosy, and who cannot afford the offerings for his purification. 33 And the Lord spake unto Moses and Aaron saying: 34 Whosoever ye shall enter into the land of the Canaanites, which I give you for a possession, and I shall put the plague of leprosy in the houses of the land of your possession; 35 then the owner of the house shall come and report to the priest, saying, I have seen as it were a plague in the house. 36 And the priest shall give orders to remove the furniture of the house, before the priest comes in to see the plague,

147. And therefore none of the things in the house shall become unclean; and afterwards the priest shall go in to examine the house.

37. And he shall look on the plague, and, behold, if the plague be in the walls of the house, he will see greenish or reddish cavities, and the appearance of them will be beneath the surface of the walls.

38. And the priest shall come out of the house to the door of the house, and the priest shall separate the house seven days.

39. And the priest shall return on the seventh day and view the house; and, behold, if the plague is spread in the walls of the house, then the priest shall give orders, and they shall take away the stones in which the plague is, and shall cast them out of the city into an unclean place.

40. And they shall scrape the house within round about, and shall pour out the dust scraped off outside the city into an unclean place.

41. And they shall take other scraped stones, and put them in the place of the former stones, and they shall take other plaster and plaster the house.

42. And if the plague should remain, and break out in the house after they have taken away the stones and after the house is scraped, and after it has been plastered,

43. then the priest shall go in and see if the plague is spread in the house: it is a confirmed leprosy in the house, it is unclean.

44. And they shall take down the house, and its timbers and its stones, and they shall carry out all the mortar of the city into an unclean place.

45. And he that goes into the house at any time, during its separation, shall be unclean until evening.

46. And he that sleeps in the house shall wash his garments, and be unclean until evening; and he that eats in the house shall wash his garments, and be unclean until evening.

47. And if the priest shall arrive and enter and see, and behold the plague be not at all spread in the house after the house has been plastered, then the priest shall declare the house clean, because the plague is healed.

48. And he shall take to purify the house two clean living birds, and cedar wood, and spun scarlet, and hyssop. And he shall slay one bird in the scarlet running water. And he shall take the cedar wood and the spun scarlet, and the hyssop, and the living bird; and shall dip it into the blood of the bird slain over running water, and with them he shall sprinkle the house seven times.

49. And he shall purify the house with the blood of the bird, and with the running water, and with the living bird, and with the cedar wood, and with the hyssop, and with the scarlet; and he shall let the living bird go out of the city into the field, and shall make atonement for the house, and it shall be clean.

50. This is the law concerning every plague of leprosy and scurf, and of the leprosy of a garment, and of a house, and of a sore, and of a clear spot, and of a shining one, and of declaring in what day it is unclean, and in what day it shall be purified: this is the law of the leprosy.

And the Lord spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying, 2 Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, Whatever man shall... have an issue out of his body, his issue is uncle.

14 And this is the law of his uncleanness; whoever has a conorrhoas out of his body, this is his uncleanness in him by reason of the issue, by which his body is affected through the issue: all the days of the issue of his body, by which his body is affected through the issue, there is his uncleanness.

15 Every bed on which he has that the issue shall happen to lie, is unclean, and every seat on which he has the issue may happen to sit, shall be unclean.

16 And the man who shall touch his bed, shall wash his garments, and bathe himself in water, and shall be unclean until evening.

17 And whosoever sits on the seat on which he has the issue may have sat, shall wash his garments, and bathe himself in water, and shall be unclean until evening.

18 And he that touches the skin of him that has the issue, shall wash his garments, and bathe himself in water, and shall be unclean until evening.

19 And every ass's saddle, on which the man with the issue shall have mounted, shall be unclean until evening.

20 And every one that touches whatsoever shall have been under him shall be unclean until evening; and he that takes them up shall wash his garments, and bathe himself in water, and shall be unclean until evening.

21 And the earthen vessel which he that has the issue shall happen to touch, shall be broken; and a wooden vessel shall be washed with water, and shall be clean.

22 And if he that has the issue should dip into water, then shall he be unclean until evening; and his garments, and the water with which he washes his body, shall be unclean.

23 And on the eighth day he shall take to himself two turtle-doves or two young pigeons, and he shall bring them before the Lord to the doors of the tabernacle of witness, and shall give them to the priest.

24 And the priest shall offer them one for a sin-offering, and the other for a whole-burnt-offering; and the priest shall make atone-ment for him before the Lord for his issue.

25 And the man whose seed of copulation shall happen to go forth from him, shall wash his whole body, and shall be unclean until evening, and his garments, and every skin on which there shall be the seed of copulation shall both be washed with water, and be unclean until evening.

26 And a woman, if a man shall lie with her with seed of copulation—she shall both bathe themselves in water and shall be unclean until evening;

25 And if any one shall lie with her, and her uncleanness be upon him, he shall be unclean seven days; and every bed on which he shall have lain shall be unclean.

26 And if a woman have an issue of blood many days, not in the time of her separation; if the blood should also flow after her separation, all the days of the issue of her uncleanness shall be as the days of her separation: she shall be unclean.

27 And every bed on which she shall lie all the days of her flux shall be to her as the bed of her separation, and every seat whereon she shall sit shall be unclean according to the uncleanness of her separation. Every one that touches it shall be unclean; and he shall wash his garments, and bathe his body in water, and shall be unclean.

28 But if she be cleansed from her flux, then she shall number to herself seven days, and afterwards she shall be clean. And on the eighth day she shall take two turtle-doves, or two young pigeons, and shall bring them to the priest, to the door of the tabernacle of witness. And the priest shall offer one for a sin-offering, and the other for a whole-burnt-offering, and the priest shall make atonement for her before the Lord for her unclean flux.

29 And ye shall cause the children of Israel to beware of their uncleanesses; so they shall not die for their uncleanness, in polluting my tabernacle that is among them. None of the children of Israel, who has an issue, and if one discharge seed of copulation, so that he should be polluted by it. And this is the law for her that has the issue of blood in her separation, and as to the person who has an issue of seed, in his issue: it is a law for the male and the female, and for the man who shall have lain with her that is set apart.

And the Lord spoke to Moses after the two sons of Aaron died in bringing strange fire before the Lord, so they died. And the Lord said to Moses, Speak to Aaron thy brother, and let him not come in at all times into the holy place within the veil before the propitiatory, which is upon the ark of the testimony; and he shall not die; for I will appear in a cloud on the propitiatory.

31 Thus shall Aaron enter into the holy place; with a calf of the herd for a sin-offering, and a heifer for a whole-burnt-offering.

32 And he shall put on the consecrated linen tunic, and he shall have on his flesh the linen drawers, and shall gird himself with a linen girdle, and shall put on the linen cap, they are holy garments; and he shall bathe all
And he shall take of the congregation of the children of Israel two kids of the goats for a sin-offering, and one lamb for a whole-burnt-offering. And Aaron shall bring the calf for his own sin-offering, and shall make atonement for himself, and for his house. And he shall take the two goats, and place them before the Lord by the door of the tabernacle of witness. And Aaron shall cast lots upon the two goats, one lot for the Lord, and the other for the scape-goat. And Aaron shall bring forward the goat upon which the Lord shall lay upon his hands; and it shall be for the sin-offering for Aaron. And the goat upon which the lot of the scape-goat came, he shall present alive before the Lord, to make atonement upon him, so as to send him away for a sin-offering. And Aaron shall make atonement for himself, and for his house, and shall kill the calf for his sin-offering. And he shall take his censer full of coals of fire off the altar, which is before the Lord; and he shall fill his hands with fine incense, and shall bring it within the veil. And he shall put the incense on the fire before the Lord; and the smoke of the incense shall cover the mercy-seat over the testimony, and he shall not die. And he shall take of the blood of the calf, and sprinkle with his finger on the mercy-seat eastward; before the mercy-seat shall he sprinkle seven times of the blood with his finger. And he shall kill the goat for the sin-offering that is for the people, before the Lord; and he shall bring in of its blood within the veil, and shall do with its blood as he did with the blood of the calf, and shall sprinkle its blood on the mercy-seat, in front of the mercy-seat. And there shall be no man in the tabernacle of witness, when he goes in to make atonement in the holy place, until he shall have come out: and he shall make atonement for himself, and for his house, and for all the congregation of the children of Israel. And he shall come forth to the altar that is before the Lord; and he shall make atonement for it, and he shall take of the blood of the calf, and of the blood of the goat, and shall put it on the horns of the altar round about. And he shall sprinkle some of the blood upon it seven times with his finger, and shall purge it, and hallow it from the uncleanness of the children of Israel. And he shall finish making atonement for the sanctuary and for the tabernacle of witness, and for the altar; and he shall make a cleansing for the priests, and he shall bring the living goat; and Aaron shall lay his hands on the head of the live goat, and he shall declare over him all the iniquities of the children of Israel, and all their unrighteousnesses, and all their sins; and he shall lay his hands on the head of the living goat, and cast all their iniquities and all their unrighteousnesses upon it, and shall lay it alive upon the hill that is before the house of the Lord.
22 And when he hath made him pure, he shall take of the water for cleansing, and pour it over the man; and he shall purify him; and the water shall become unclean.

23 And every thing that toucheth the man shall be unclean: but if any man touch him afterwards without blemish, he shall be clean.

24 And every thing that shall touch him shall be unclean: this is for ever: and he shall wash his garments, and bathe his body in water, and shall be clean.

25 And if water be not available, then they shall take dust, and pour water upon the man.

26 And he shall wash his garments, and bathe his body, and be clean.

27 And the man shall bathe in water, and be clean; and his uncleanness shall be cleansed: and he shall be clean.

28 And this shall be a perpetual statute for you and for your generations: you shall wash with water the flesh of your solemn vow, and shall suffer the impurities of your solemn vow.

29 And you shall not make yourselves unclean for the dead, who is defiled.

30 And the man who shall fall asleep in the tabernacle of witness shall bear his sin.

31 And he shall purge the tabernacle of witness, the tabernacle of the congregation, and the altar: and he shall purify the tabernacle of witness, the house of the congregation, and the altar, because the children of Israel are children of the flesh, and I dwell among them.

32 And Aaron shall bear the iniquities of the holy place, because it is his he has to do for them, and for his house, and for the people, and for the priests.

33 And he shall offer the bull for the sin-offering for himself and for his house, and for the people, as for the priests.

34 And he shall offer the fat for the sin-offering on the altar.

35 And he shall send forth the goat that has been set apart to be let go, shall wash his garments, and bathe his body in water, and afterwards shall enter into the camp.

36 And the man who shall be consecrated to the most holy sabbath, and who shall wash his garments, and bathe his body in water, and afterwards shall enter into the camp.

37 And this shall be a perpetual statute for you and for your generations: you shall wash with water the flesh of your solemn vow, and shall suffer the impurities of your solemn vow.

38 And you shall not make yourselves unclean for the dead, who is defiled.

39 And the man who shall fall asleep in the tabernacle of witness shall bear his sin.

40 And he shall purge the tabernacle of witness, the tabernacle of the congregation, and the altar: and he shall purify the tabernacle of witness, the house of the congregation, and the altar, because the children of Israel are children of the flesh, and I dwell among them.

41 And Aaron shall bear the iniquities of the holy place, because it is his he has to do for them, and for his house, and for the people, and for the priests.

42 And he shall offer the fat for the sin-offering for himself and for his house, and for the people, as for the priests.

tabernacle of the Lord; blood shall be imputed to that man, he has shed blood; that soul shall be cut off from his people. 5 That the children of Israel may offer their sacrifices, all that they shall slay in the fields, and bring them to the door of the tabernacle of witness to the priest, and they shall sacrifice them as a peace-offering to the Lord. 6 And the priest shall pour the blood on the altar round about before the Lord by the doors of the tabernacle of witness, and shall offer the fat for a sweet-smelling savour to the Lord. 7 And the soul that shall no longer offer their sacrifices to vain gods after which they go a whoring; it shall be a perpetual statute to you for your generations. 8 And thou shalt say to them, Whatever man of the children of Israel, or of the sons of the proselytes abiding among you, shall eat any blood, I will even set my face against that soul that eats blood, and will cut it off from among his people. 9 And whatever man of the children of Israel, or of the strangers abiding among you, shall take any animal in hunting, beast, or bird, which is eaten, then shall he pour out the blood, and cover it in the dust. 10 For the blood of all flesh is its life; and I said to the children of Israel, Ye shall not eat blood. 11 And I said to the children of Israel, Ye shall not eat any animal that has its soul, or is taken of beasts, either among the natives or among the strangers, shall wash his garments, and bathe himself in water, and shall be unclean until evening; then shall he be clean. 12 But if he do not wash his garments, and do not bathe his body in water, then shall he bear his iniquity. 13 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 14 Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, I am the Lord your God. 15 Ye shall not do according to the devices of Egypt, in which ye dwelt; and according to the devices of the land of Canaan, into which I bring you, ye shall not do; and ye shall not walk in their ordinances. 16 Ye shall observe my judgments, and shall keep my ordinances, and shall walk in them: I am the Lord your God. 17 So ye shall keep all my judgments, and all my ordinances; and ye shall do them; which if a man do, he shall live in them: I am the Lord your God. 18 No man shall draw nigh to any of his near kindred to uncover their nakedness; I am the Lord. 19 Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy father, or the nakedness of thy mother, for she is thy mother; thou shalt not uncover her nakedness. Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy father's wife; it is thy father's nakedness. The nakedness of thy sister by thy father, or by thy mother, born at home or abroad, their nakedness thou shalt not uncover; because it is thy nakedness. Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy son's daughter, or thy daughter's daughter, their nakedness thou shalt not uncover; because it is thy nakedness. Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy mother's sister, for she is near akin to thy father. Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy father's brother, and thou shalt not go in to his wife; for she is thy sister. Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy daughter-in-law, for she is thy son's wife, thou dost uncover her nakedness. Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy brother's wife: it is thy brother's nakedness. The nakedness of a woman and her daughter shalt thou not uncover; her son's daughter, and her daughter's daughter, shalt thou not take, to uncover their nakedness, for they are thy kinswomen; it is impurity. Thou shalt not take a wife in addition to her sister, as a rival, to uncover her nakedness in opposition to her, while she is yet living. And thou shalt not go in to a woman under separation for her uncleanness, to uncover her nakedness. And thou shalt not lie with thy neighbour's wife, to defile thyself with her. And thou shalt not give of thy seed to serve a ruler; and thou shalt not profane my holy name; I am the Lord. And thou shalt not lie with a man as with a woman, for it is an abomination. Neither shalt thou lie with any quadruped in copulation, to be polluted with it: neither shall a woman present herself before any quadruped to have connexion with it; for it is an abomination. Do not pollute yourselves with any of these things: for all these things the nations are defiled, which I drive out before you, and the land is polluted; and I have recomposed their iniquity to them because of it, and the land is aggrieved with them that dwell upon it. And ye shall keep all my statutes and all my ordinances, and ye shall do none of these abominations; neither the native, nor the stranger that joins himself with you: (for all these abominations the men of the land did who were before you, and the land was defiled,) and lest the land be aggrieved with you in your polluting it, as it was aggrieved with the nations before you. For whosoever doeth any of these abominations, the souls that do them shall be destroyed from among their people. And ye shall keep mine ordinances, that ye may not do any of the abominable practices, which have taken place before your time: and ye shall not be polluted in them; for I am the Lord your God. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying Speak to the congregation of the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, Ye shall be holy: for I the Lord your God am holy.

Let every one of you reverence his father and his mother; and ye shall keep my sabbaths: I am the Lord your God. Ye shall not follow idols, and ye shall not make to yourselves molten gods. If ye will not sacrifice a peace-offering to the Lord, ye shall offer it acceptable to yourselves.

In what day soever ye shall sacrifice it, it shall be eaten; and on the following day, and if any of it should be left till the third day, it shall be thoroughly burnt with fire. And if it should be eaten neither on the third day, it is unclean, for sacrifice: it shall not be accepted, and he that eats it shall bear his iniquity, because he has profaned the holy things of the Lord; and the souls that eat it shall be destroyed from among their people.

And when ye reap the harvest of your land, ye shall not completely reap your field with exactness, and thou shalt not gather that which falls from thy reaping. And thou shalt not go over the gathering of thy vineyard, neither shalt thou gather the remaining grapes of thy vineyard: thou shalt leave them for the poor and for the stranger: I am the Lord your God.

Yea, for the Lord, ye shall not lie, neither shall ye bear false witness as an informer against your neighbour. And ye shall not swear unjustly by my name, and ye shall not profane the holy name of your God: I am the Lord your God.

Thou shalt not injure thy neighbour, neither do thou rob him, neither shall the wages of thy hired servant remain with thee until the morning.

Thou shalt not revile the deaf, neither shalt thou put a stumbling-block in the way of the blind; and thou shalt fear the Lord thy God: I am the Lord thy God. Thou shalt not act unjustly in judgment: thou shalt not hear the word of thy neighbour, nor the person of the mighty: with justice shalt thou judge thy neighbour. Thou shalt not walk deceitfully among thy people; thou shalt not rise up against the blood of thy neighbour: I am the Lord your God.

Thou shalt not hate thy brother in thine heart; thou shalt in any wise rebuke thy neighbour, and shalt not bear sin on his account. And thy hand shall not be avenge thee; and thou shalt not be angry with the children of thy people: and thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself; I am the Lord.

Ye shall observe my law: thou shalt not let thy cattle gender with one of a different kind; and thou shalt not sow thy vineyard with diverse seed; and thou shalt not put upon thyself a mingled garment woven of two materials. And if any one lie carnally with a woman, and she should be a house-servant kept for a man, and she has not been ransomed, and her freedom has not been given to her, she shall be visited with punishment; but they shall not die, because she was not set at liberty.

And he shall bring for his trespass to the Lord to the door of the tabernacle of witness, a ram for a trespass-offering.
the priest shall make atonement for him with the ram of the trespass-offering, before the Lord, for the sin which he sinned; and the sin which he sinned shall be forgiven him. And whenever ye shall enter into the land which the Lord your God gives you, and shall plant any fruit-tree, then shall ye purge away its uncleanness; its fruit shall be three years uncleaned to you, it shall not be eaten in the fourth year all its fruit shall be holy, 7 a subject of praise to the Lord. And in the fifth year ye shall eat the fruit, its produce is an increase to you. I am the Lord your God.

Eat not on the mountains, nor shall ye employ auguries, nor divine by inspection of birds. Ye shall not make a round cutting of the hair of your head, nor disfigure your beard. And ye shall not make cuttings in your body for a dead body, and ye shall not inscribe on yourselves any marks. I am the Lord your God. Thou shalt not profane thy daughter to prostitute her; so the land shall not go a whoring, and the land be filled with iniquity. Ye shall keep my sabbaths, and reverence my sanctuaries: I am the Lord. Ye shall not attend to those who have in them divining spirits, nor attach yourselves to enchanters, to pollute yourselves with them: I am the Lord your God. Thou shalt rise up before the hoary head, and honour the face of the old man, and shall fear thy God: I am the Lord your God. And if there should come to you a stranger in your land, ye shall not afflict him. The stranger that comes to you shall be among you as the native, and thou shalt love him as thyself; for ye were strangers in the land of Egypt: I am the Lord your God. Ye shall not act unrighteously in judgment, in measures and weights and scales. There shall be among you just balances and just weights and a just liquid measure. I am the Lord your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt. And ye shall keep all my law and my ordinances, and ye shall do them: I am the Lord your God.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, Thou shalt also say to the children of Israel, If there shall be any of the children of Israel, or of those who have become pros-elytes in Israel, who shall give of his seed to Moloch, let him be surely put to death; the nation upon the land shall stone him with stones. And I will set my face against him, and will cut him off from among his people, because he has given of his seed to Moloch, to defile my sanctuary, and profane the name of them that are consecrated to me. And if the natives of the land should in anywise overlook that man in giving of his seed to Moloch, so as not to put him to death; then will I set my face against that man and his family, and I will destroy him, and all of house of one mind with him, so that he should go a whoring to the princes, from their people.

And the soul that shall follow those who have in them divining spirits, or enchanters, so as to go a whoring after them; I will set

And ye shall be holy, for I the Lord your God am holy.

And ye shall observe my ordinances, and do them: I am the Lord that sanctifieth you.

Every man who shall speak evil of his father or his mother shall die the death: he has spoken evil of his father or his mother? He shall be guilty.

Whatever man shall commit adultery with the wife of a man, or whoever shall commit adultery with the wife of his neighbour, let them die the death, the adulterer and the adulteress.

And if any one should lie with his father's wife, he has uncovered his father's nakedness: let them both die the death, they are guilty.

And whoever shall lie with a male as with a woman, they shall both be put to death; for they have wrought wickety, they are guilty.

And whoever shall lie with a woman who has been defiled, and shall lie with her after her defilement: they shall both bear their iniquity.

And whatever man shall lie with a woman that is set apart for a flux, and shall uncover her nakedness, she has uncovered her fountain, and she has uncovered the flux of her blood: they shall both be destroyed from among their generation.

And thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy father's sister, or of the sister of thy mother; for that man has uncovered the nakedness of one near akin: they shall bear their iniquity.

Whoever shall lie with his near kinswoman, he shall bear her iniquity: this is one near akin to him: they shall die childless.

Whoever shall take his brother's wife, it is uncleanness; he has uncovered his brother's nakedness: they shall die childless.

And keep ye all my ordinances, and my judgments; and ye shall do them, and the land shall not be polluted with you: into which I will dwell, I will dwell upon it.

And walk ye not in the customs of the nations which I drive out from before you; for they have done all these things, and I have abhorred them: and I said to you, Ye shall inherit their land, and I will give it to you for a possession, even a land flowing with milk and honey: I am the Lord your God, who have separated you from all people.

And ye shall make a distinction between the clean and the unclean cattle, and between clean and unclean birds: and ye shall not defile your souls with cattle, or with birds, or with any creeping things of 8 Or, ye shall separate them.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 21 Speak to the priests the sons of Aaron, and thou shalt tell them that they shall not defile themselves for any dead person—

22 but they may mourn for their father, and for their mother, and for their wife, and for their in-law, 23 and for a virgin sister that is near to one, that is not espoused to a man; for these one shall defile himself. 24 He shall not defile himself suddenly among his people to profane himself. 25 And ye shall not shave your head for the dead, neither shall they make cashes on their flesh. 26 They shall be holy to their God, and they shall not profane the name of their God; for they offer the sacrifices of the Lord as the gifts of their God, and they shall be holy. 27 They shall not take a woman who is a harlot, or a profaned, nor a woman put away from her husband, for he is holy to the Lord his God. 28 And thou shalt hallow him; he offers the gifts of the Lord your God: he shall be holy, for I the Lord that sanctify them am holy. 29 And if the daughter of a priest should be profaned to go a whoring, she profanes the name of her father: she shall be burnt with fire. 30 And the priest that is chief among his brethren, the oil having been poured upon the head of the anointed one, and he having been consecrated to put on the garments, shall not take the mitre off his head, and shall not rend his garments: 31 neither shall he go in to any dead body, neither shall he defile himself for his father or his mother. 32 And he shall not go forth out of the sanctuary, and he shall not profane the sanctuary of his God, because the holy anointing oil of God is upon him: I am the Lord. 33 He shall take for a wife a virgin of his own tribe. 34 But a widow, or one that is put away, or profaned, or a harlot, these he shall not take; but he shall take for a wife a virgin of his own people. 35 And he shall not profane his seed among his people: I am the Lord that sanctify him. 36 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 37 Say to Aaron, A man of thy tribe throughout your generations, who shall have a blemish on him, shall not draw nigh to offer the gifts of his God. 38 No man who has a blemish on him shall draw nigh; a man blind, lame, with his nose deformed, or his hand with a broken hand or a broken foot, 39 or hump-backed, or bleared-eyed, or that has lost his eye-lashes, or a man who has a malignant ulcer, or tetter, or one that has lost a testicle. 40 Whoever of the seed of Aaron the priest has a blemish on him, shall not draw nigh to offer sacrifices to thy God.
because he has a blemish on him; he shall not draw nigh to offer the gifts of God. 10 The gifts of God are most holy, and he shall eat of the holy things. 11 Only he shall not approach the veil, and he shall not draw nigh to the altar, because he has a blemish; and he shall profane the sanctuary of his God, for I am the Lord that sanctifies them. 12 And Moses spoke to Aaron and his sons, and to all the children of Israel.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 2 Speak to Aaron and to his sons, and let them take heed concerning the holy things of the children of Israel, so they shall not profane my holy name in any of the things which they consecrate to me: I am the Lord. 3 And he who shall defile himself by touching any dead thing, and is not cleansed, shall defile the sanctuary of the Lord; and that soul shall be cut off from me: I am the Lord. 4 And the man of the seed of Aaron the priest, if he should have leprosy or issue of the reins, shall not eat of the holy things, until he be cleansed; and he that touches any uncleanness of a dead man, and is not cleansed, that soul shall have gone out from him, 5 or whosoever shall touch any unclean reptile, which will defile him, or who shall touch a man, whereby he shall defile him according to all his uncleanness: 6 whatsoever soul shall touch them shall be unclean until evening. 7 And he shall bathe his body in water, and the sun go down, and then he shall be clean; and then shall he eat of all the holy things, for they are his bread. 8 He shall not eat that which dies of itself, or is taken of beasts, 9 so that he should be polluted by them: I am the Lord. 10 And they shall keep my ordinances, that they do not bear iniquity because of them, and die because of them: they shall profane them: I am the Lord. 11 And no stranger shall eat the holy things: one that sojourns with a priest, or a hireling, shall not eat the holy things. 12 But if a priest's son shall have a soiled garment, he shall eat of his bread; and they that are born in his house, they also shall eat of his bread. 13 And if the daughter of a priest should marry a stranger, she shall not eat of the offerings of the sanctuary. 14 And if the daughter of a priest should be a widow, or put away, and have no seed, she shall return to her father's house, as in her youth: she shall eat of her father's bread, but no stranger shall eat of it. 15 And the man who shall ignorantly eat holy things, shall add the fifth part to it, and give the holy thing to the priest. 16 And they shall not profane the holy things of the children of Israel, which they offer to the Lord. 17 So shall they bring upon themselves the iniquity of the trespass in their eating their holy things: for I am the Lord that sanctifies them. 18 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 19 Speak to Aaron and his sons, and to all the congregation of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, Any man of the children of Israel, or any stranger among them shall not eat of the holy things of the Lord. 20 Whatever man shall be polluted by the dead, and shall eat of the holy thing, shall wash his flesh in water, and be unclean until evening. 21 That he may not profane holy things which I have made holy among the children of Israel. 22 And the Lord spake to Aaron, saying, 23 Speak to the children of Israel, and say to them, This shall be an everlasting statute among you, 24 that eat of what is holy shall be profaned. 25 And the Lord spake to Moses and Aaron, saying, 26 This is the law of the burnt offering made of a ram, of which ye shall make it, and the offering附加信息
of the strangers that abide among them in Israel, who shall offer his gifts according to all their confession and according to all their choice, whatsoever they may bring to the Lord for whole-burnt-offerings — your free-will-offerings shall be males without blemish of the herds, or of the sheep, or of the goats. 23 They shall not bring to the Lord anything that has a blemish in it, for it shall not be acceptable, nor shall any razor be put to your head; for the Lord shall accept none that have a defiled soul; and whatsoever man shall offer a peace-offering to the Lord, discharging a vow, or in the way of free-will-offering, or an offering in your feasts, of the herds or of the sheep, it shall be without blemish for acceptance: there shall be no blemish in it. 24 One that is blind, or broken, or has its tongue cut out, or is troubled with warts, or has a malignant ulcer, or terrors, they shall not offer these to the Lord; neither shall ye offer any of them for a burnt-offering on the altar of the Lord. 25 And a calf or a sheep with the ears cut off, or that has lost its tail, thou shalt slay them for thyself; but they shall not be accepted for thy vow. 26 That which has a broken bone, or is crushed or gelt or mutilated,—that ye shall not offer; nor shall ye offer them to the Lord, neither shall ye sacrifice them upon your land. 27 Neither shall ye offer the gifts of your God of all these things by the hand of a stranger, because there is ye corruption in them, a blemish in them: these shall not be accepted for you. 28 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 29 As for a calf, or a sheep, or a goat whenever it is born, then shall it be seven days under its mother; and on the eighth day and after they shall be accepted for sacrifices, a burnt-offering to the Lord. 30 And a bullock and a heeue, it and its young, thou shalt not kill in on day. 31 And if thou shouldest offer a sacrifice, a vow of rejoicing to the Lord, ye shall offer it so as to be accepted for you. 32 In that same day it shall be eaten; ye shall not leave of the flesh till the morrow: I am the Lord. 33 And ye shall keep my commandments and do them. 34 And ye shall not profane the name of the Holy One, and I will be sanctified in the midst of the children of Israel. I am the Lord that sanctifies you. 35 And I will bring you out of the land of Egypt, to be your God. 36 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 37 Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say unto them, The feasts of the Lord which ye shall call holy assemblies, these are my feasts. 38 Six days shalt thou do works, but on the seventh day is the sabbath; a rest, a holy convocation to the Lord: thou shalt not do any work, it is a sabbath to the Lord in all your dwellings. 39 These are the feasts to the Lord, holy convocations, which ye shall call in their seasons. 40 In the first month, on the fourteenth day of the month, between the evening times is the Lord's passover. 41 And on the fifteenth day of this month is the feast of unleavened bread to the Lord; seven days shall unleavened bread be holy for you. 42 And the first day shall be a holy convocation to you: ye shall do no servile work. And ye shall offer whole-burnt-offerings to the Lord.
And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, "Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them: When ye shall enter into the land which I give you, and reap the harvest of it, then shall ye bring a sheaf, the first-fruits of your harvest, to the priest; and he shall lift up the sheaf before the Lord, to make a remembrance for you, two leav- ers of the first day the priest shall lift it up. And ye shall offer on the day on which ye bring the sheaf, a lamb without blemish of a year old for a whole-burnt-offering to the Lord. And its meat-offering two tenth portions of fine flour mingled with oil: it is a sweet savour to the Lord, and its drink-offering the fourth part of a hin of wine. And ye shall not eat bread, or the new parched corn, until this same day, until ye offer the sacri- fices to your God: it is a perpetual statute throughout your generations in all your dwellings.

And ye shall number to yourselves from the day after the sabbath, from the day on which ye shall offer the sheaf of the heave- offering, seven full weeks: until the morrow after the last week ye shall number fifty days, and shall bring a new meat-offering to the Lord. Ye shall bring from your dwell- ing loaves as a heave-offering, two loaves: they shall be of two tenth portions of fine flour, they shall be baked with leaven of the first-fruits to the Lord. And ye shall bring with the loaves seven unblemished lambs of a year old, and one calf of the herd, and two rams without blemish, and they shall be a burnt-offering to the Lord: sweet-savour offerings and their drink-offerings shall be a sacrifice, a smell of sweet savour to the Lord. And they shall sacrifice one kid of the goats for a sin-offering, and two lambs of a year old for a peace-offering, with the loaves of the first-fruits. And the priest shall place them with the loaves of the first-fruits an offering before the Lord with the two lambs, they shall be holy to the Lord; they shall belong to the priest that brings them.

And ye shall call this day a convoca- tion: it shall be holy to you: ye shall do no servile work on it: it is a perpetual ordinance throughout your generations in all your habitations. And when ye shall reap the harvest of your land, ye shall not fully reap the remainder of the harvest of your field when thou reapest, and thou shalt not gather that which falls from thy reaping: thou shalt leave it for the poor and the stranger: I am the Lord your God.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, "Speak to the children of Israel, saying, In the seventh month, on the first day of the month, ye shall have a rest, a memorial of trumpets: it shall be to you a holy convoca- tion. Ye shall do no servile work, and ye shall offer a whole-burnt-offering to the Lord.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, "Also on the tenth day of this seventh month is a day of atonement: it shall be a holy convocation to you; and ye shall humble

28 And he made a burnt-offering for the Lord. 29 Ye shall do no work on this self-same day: for this is a day of atonement for you, to make atonement for you before the Lord your God. Every soul that shall not be humbled in that day, shall be cut off from among its people. And every soul which shall do work on that day, that soul shall be destroyed from among its people.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 34 Speak to the children of Israel, saying, On the fifteenth day of this seventh month, there shall be a feast to the Lord seven days. And on the first day shall be a holy convocation; ye shall do no servile work. Seven days shall ye offer burnt-offerings to the Lord, and the eighth day shall be a holy convocation to you; and ye shall offer whole-burnt-offerings to the Lord; it is a time of release, ye shall do no servile work. These are the feasts to the Lord, which ye shall call holy convocations, to offer burnt-offerings to the Lord, whole-burnt-offerings and their meat-offerings, and their drink-offerings, that for each day on its own, and for the sabbaths of the Lord, and besides your gifts, and besides all your vows, and besides your free-will-offerings, which ye shall give to the Lord. And on the fifteenth day of this seventh month, when ye shall have completely gathered in the fruits of the earth, ye shall keep a feast to the Lord seven days; on the first day there shall be a rest, and on the eighth day a rest. And on the first day ye shall take goodly fruit of trees, and branches of palm trees, and thick boughs of trees, and willows, and branches of osiers from the brook, to rejoice before the Lord your God seven days in the year. It is a perpetual statute for your generations: in the seventh month ye shall keep it. Seven days ye shall burn lamps to the Lord, and the native in Israel shall dwell in tents. That your posterity may see, that I made the children of Israel to dwell in tents, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt: I am the Lord your God. And Moses recounted the feasts of the Lord to the children of Israel.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 2 Charge the children of Israel, and let them take for thee pure olive oil beaten for the light, to burn a lamp continually, outside the veil in the tabernacle of witness; and Aaron and his sons shall burn it from evening until morning before the Lord continually, a perpetual statute throughout your generations. Ye shall burn the lamps on the pure lamp-stand before the Lord till the morrow. And ye shall take fine flour, and make of it twelve loaves; each loaf shall be of two tenth parts. And ye shall put them in two rows, each row containing six loaves, on the pure table before the Lord. And ye shall put on each row pure frankincense and salt; and these things shall be for loaves, for a memorial, set forth before the Lord. 3 On the sabbath day they shall be set forth before the Lord, as the sabbath offering of the Lord. 4 And the children of the land shall not search any of the sacrifices of the Lord, neither of his bread, nor come near to the uttermost holy things.

And there went forth a son of an Israelite woman, and he was son of an Egyptian man among the sons of Israel. 2 And all that were of the children of Israel, and he fought of them, the son of the Israelite woman, and a man was an Israelite. 3 And the son of the Israelite woman named THE NAME and cursed; and they brought him to Moses: and his mother's name was Salomith, daughter of Dabri of the tribe of Dan. 4 And they put him in ward, to judge him by the command of the Lord. 5 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, Bring forth him that cursed outside the camp, and all who heard shall lay their hands upon his head, and all the congregation shall stone him. 6 And speak to the sons of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, Whosoever shall curse a man, let him die, the death: let all the congregation of Israel stone him with stones. 7 And whatsoever shall smite a man, and he die, shall die, the death. 8 And whatsoever shall smite a beast, and it die, he shall render life for life.

And whatsoever shall smite a beast on the sabbath, or on the holy day, that shall it be done to him, so shall it be done to himself in return; bruise for bruise, eye for eye, tooth for tooth: as any one may smite a beast, so shall it be done to him.

And Moses spoke to the children of Israel, and they brought him that had cursed out of the camp, and stoned him with stones, and the children of Israel did as the Lord commanded Moses.

And the Lord spoke to Moses in the mount Sinai, saying, Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, Whensoever ye shall have entered into the land, which I give to you, then shall rest which I give to you, for its sabbaths to the Lord. 3 Six years shall thou sow thy field, and six years thou shalt prune thy vine, and gather in its fruit. 4 But in the seventh year shall be a sabbath, it shall be a rest to the land, a sabbath to the Lord: thou shalt not sow thy field, and thou shalt not prune thy vine. 5 And thou shalt not gather the spontaneous produc of thy field, and thou shalt not gather fully the grapes of thy dedication: it shall be a year of rest to the land. 6 And the children of the land shall be food for thee, and for thy man-servant, and for thy maid-servant, and thy
LEVITICUS XXV. 7—27.

7 Nevertheless, if he sell it between himself and his brother, according to these ordinances, shall it continue in the family of the man from whom he bought, and he shall have it back in the year of every seventh year; but in the eighteenth year he shall deliver it up free. Then it shall be, that ye shall reckone unto the Lord seven sabbaths of years thereunto, a jubilee shall be for you; every seventh year ye shall make a release. And in this year of release every man shall restore that which he bought of his neighbour according unto the measuring thereof. If any人在第七年時，當將他所買之地，還歸本主，並不要利錢。因為主使那地七年歸於本主，以行利繫之年，所以你要將土地復還，歸本主。並利繫之年，所以你要將土地復還，歸本主。並利繫之年，所以你要將土地復還，歸本主。

8 Kafè ἐξαρξήσατε σεαυτῷ ἐπὶ τὰ ἀναπάυσεις τῶν ἵματος· ἐπὶ τῇ ἑβδομάδῃ, καὶ ἐν τῇ ἑτέρᾳ ἐβδομάδῃ, καὶ ἐν τῇ τρίτῃ ἑβδομάδῃ, καὶ ἐν τῇ τέταρτῃ ἑβδομάδῃ, καὶ ἐν τῇ πενταημέρῳ. For if you will hear the voice of the Lord your God, and do his statutes and his ordinances, which I command you this day, that ye may live, and go in and possess the land which the Lord sware unto your fathers to give unto them. If your money hath been spent unto any manner of work, and if it have been spent upon victual. Wherefore as I commanded you, ye shall not go into the tabernacle of the congregation. And if the man shall die, and have no son, to inherit him, then they shall give him a wife unto his brother, that his seed may inherit his house. And of that which your brother may give you of his inheritance, ye shall not go into his house, neither enter his doors, lest you make him desolate among his people. According as ye measure ye shall do unto your brother. And if you sell anything to your brother, or buy that which is your brother's, ye shall not oppress him. And if a man has given a portion of his property for sale to another, and is taken before the judges; Then the judge shall command the creditor, saying, Give back the bond; whether it be small or great. And if he will not give it back to him, then he shall be to the creditor, until the year of release, when the land shall be delivered; then shall the creditor give it up, and he shall have nothing of it. And the son shall not rule over the father, neither the daughter over the mother; but the eldest son shall rule over his brethren. And if a man shall go in to his sister, whether she be father's daughter, mother's daughter, or sister, and shall take her, and she become his wife, and he shal return to his possession. But if his hand have not prospered sufficiently, so as that he should restore the money to him, then he that bought the possessions shall have them till the sixth year of the release; and it shall go out in the release, and the owner shall return to his possession.

And if any one should sell an inhabited house in the walled city, then there shall be the ransom of it, until the time is fulfilled: its time of ransom shall be a full year.

And if it be not resigned until then be completed of its time a full year, the house which is in the walled city shall be surely confirmed to him that bought it, throughout its generations; and it shall not go out in the release. But the houses in the villages which have not a wall round about them, shall be reckoned as the fields of the country: they shall always be redeemable, and they shall go out in the release. And the cities of the Levites, the houses of the cities in their possession, shall be always redeemable, and the Levites shall redeem them.

And if any one shall redeem a house of the Levites, then shall their sale of the houses of their possession go out in the release; because the houses of the cities of the Levites are their possession in the midst of the children of Israel. And the lands set apart for their cities shall not be sold, because this is their perpetual possession.

And if thy brother who is with thee become poor, and he fail in resources with thee, thou shalt help him as a stranger and a sojourner, and thy brother shall live with thee. Thou shalt not receive from him interest, nor increase; nor shall he go to his family, he shall hasten back to his patrimony. Because these are my servants, whom I brought out of the land of Egypt; to give you the land of Chanaan, so as to be your God.

And if thy brother by thee be lowered, and be sold to thee, he shall not serve thee with the servitude of a slave. He shall be with thee as a hireling or a sojourner, he shall work for thee till the year of release; and he shall go out in the release, and his children with him; and he shall go to his family, he shall hasten back to his patrimony. Because these are my servants, whom I brought out of the land of Egypt; such an one shall not be sold as a common servant.

Thou shalt not oppress him with labour, and shalt fear the Lord thy God. And when men are hired, and maid-servants thou shalt have, thou shalt purchase male and female servants from the nations that are round about thee. And of the sons of the sojourners that are among you, of these ye shall buy and of their relations, all that shall be in your lands; let them be to you for a possession.

And ye shall distribute them to your children after you, and they shall be to you permanent possessions for ever: but of your brethren the children of Israel, one shall not oppress his brother in labours.
Letiticus

26 And if a stranger or sojourner with thee wax rich, and thy brother in distress be sold to the stranger or the sojourner that is with thee, or to a proselyte by extraction; 27 after he is sold to him there shall be redemption for him, one of his brethren shall redeem him; 28 or his father's brother, or his brother's son, or he of the same father's house, shall redeem him; 29 or any that is buyer, he shall have him back for the money again, whereof he parted from him, from year to year.

26 And if a stranger or sojourner with thee wax rich, and thy brother in distress be sold to the stranger or the sojourner that is with thee, or to a proselyte by extraction; 27 after he is sold to him there shall be redemption for him, one of his brethren shall redeem him; 28 or his father's brother, or his brother's son, or he of the same father's house, shall redeem him; 29 or any that is buyer, he shall have him back for the money again, whereof he parted from him, from year to year.

them, and your sons should loathe my judgments, so that ye should not keep all my commands, but seek it, ye shall eat them. And I will set my face against you, and ye shall fall before your enemies, and they that hate you shall pursue you; and ye shall flee, no one pursuing you. And if ye shall refuse to hearken to me, then will I chasten you yet seven times for your sins. And I will break down the haughtiness of your pride; and I will make your heavens iron, and your earth as it were brass. And your strength shall be in vain; and your land shall not yield its seed, and the tree of your field shall not yield its fruit.

And if this ye will not obey me, but walk perversely, and not be willing to obey me, I will further bring upon you seven plagues according to your sins. And I will send upon your beast of the land, and they shall devour you, and shall consume your cattle: and I will make you few in number, and your ways shall be desolate. And if hereupon ye are not corrected, but walk perversely towards me, I will also walk with you with a perverse spirit, and I will bring upon you a sword avenging the cause of my covenant, and ye shall flee for refuge to your cities; and I will send out death against you, and ye shall be delivered into the hands of your enemies. When I afflict you with famine of bread, and with water, and wild beast of the land, and with all the enemies; and they shall render your loaves by weight, and ye shall eat, and not be satisfied.

And if hereupon ye will not obey me, but walk perversely towards me, then will I walk with you with a froward mind, and I will chasten you sevenfold according to your sins. And ye shall eat the flesh of your sons, and the flesh of your daughters shall be as carcases in the midst of your land, and will utterly destroy your wooden images made with hands; and I will lay your carcasses on the carcasses of your idols and my soul shall loathe you. And I will lay your cities waste, and I will make your sanctuaries desolate, and I will not smell the savour of your sacrifices. And I will take your land desolate, and your enemies who dwell in it shall wonder at it. And I will scatter you among the nations, and the sword shall come upon you and consume you; and your land shall be desolate, and your cities shall be desolate.

Then the land shall enjoy its sabbaths all the days of its desolation: it shall keep sabbaths which it kept not among your sabbaths, when ye dwelt in it. And to those who are left of them, and their sons, to them will I give the land, and they shall possess it, and dwell therein, as commanded them.

And ye shall observe the sabbaths of the land, and shall enjoy its sabbaths all the days of its desolation: it shall keep sabbaths which it kept not among your sabbaths, when ye dwelt in it.
And, I will remember the covenant of Jacob, and the covenant of Isaac, and the covenant of Abraam will I remember.

And I will remember the land, and the land shall be left of them; then the land shall enjoy her sabbaths, when it is deserted through them; and they shall accept the punishment of their iniquities, because they neglected my judgments, and in their soul loathed my ordinances.

And yet not even thus, while they were in the land of their enemies, did I overlook them, nor did I loathe them so as to consume them, to break my covenant made with them; for I am the Lord their God. And I will remember their former covenant, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage before the nations, to be their God; I am the Lord. These are my judgments and my ordinances, and the law which the Lord gave between himself and the children of Israel, in the mount Sina, by the hand of Moses.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, "Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, Whosoever shall vow a vow as the valuation of his soul for the Lord, the valuation of a male from twenty years old to sixty years old shall be—his valuation shall be fifty didrachms of silver by the standard of the sanctuary. And the valuation of a female shall be thirty didrachms. And if it be from five years old to twenty, the valuation of a male shall be twenty didrachms, and of a female ten didrachms. And from a month old to five years old, the valuation of a male shall be five didrachms, and of a female, three didrachms of silver. And if from sixty years old and upward, if it be a male, his valuation shall be fifteen didrachms of silver, and if a female, ten. And if the man be too poor for the valuation, he shall stand before the priest; and the priest shall value him; according to what the man who has vowed can afford, the priest shall value him.

And if it be from the cattle that are offered as a gift to the Lord, whoever shall offer one of these to the Lord, it shall be holy. 10 He shall not change it, a good for a bad, or a bad for a good; and if he do at all change it, a beast for a beast, it and the substance shall be holy. And if it be any unclean beast, of which none are offered as a gift to the Lord, he shall set the beast before the priest, and the priest shall make a valuation between the good and the bad, and accordingly as the priest shall value it, so shall it stand. 13 And if the worshipper will at all redeem it, he shall add the fifth part to its value. And whatsoever man shall consecrate his house as holy to the Lord, 14 and whatsoever man shall consecrate his field as the field of the Lord's possession, the valuation shall be according to its full valuation. 15 And if he that has sanctified it shall redeem his house, he shall add to it the fifth part of the money of the valuation, and it shall be his. 16 And if a man should hallow to the Lord a part of the field of his possession, then the valuation shall be according to its seed, fifty shekels of silver for a homer of barley. 17 And if he should sanctify his field from the year of release, it shall stand according to his valuation. 18 And if he should sanctify his field in the latter time after the release, the priest shall reckon to him the money for the remaining years, until the next year of release, and it shall be deducted as an equivalent from his full valuation. 19 And if he that sanctified the field would redeem it, he shall add to its value the fifth part of the money, and it shall be according to the valuation. 20 But the field shall be holy to the Lord after the release, as separated land; the priest shall have possession of it. 21 And if he should consecrate to the Lord of a field which he has bought, which is not of the field of his possession, 22 the priest shall reckon to him the full valuation from the year of release, and he shall pay the valuation in that day as holy to the Lord. 23 And in the year of release the land shall be restored to the man of whom the other bought it, whose the land was, and every valuation shall be by holy weights: the didrachm shall be twenty oboli. 24 And every first-born which shall be produced among thy cattle shall be the Lord's, and no man shall sanctify it: whether calf or sheep, it is the Lord's. 25 But if he should redeem an unclean beast, according to its valuation, he shall add to it the fifth part to it, and it shall be his; and if he redeem it not, it shall be sold according to its valuation. 26 And every devoted thing which a man shall devote to the Lord of all that he has, whether man or beast, or of the field of his possession, shall he not redeem it. every devoted thing shall be most holy to the Lord. 27 And whatever shall be dedicated of men, shall not be ransomed, but shall be surely put to death. 28 Every tithe of the land, both of the seed of the land, and of the fruit of trees, is the Lord's,
And the Lord spoke to Moses in the wilderness of Sina, in the tabernacle of witness, on the first day of the second month, in the second year of their departure from the land of Egypt, saying, 2 Take the sum of all the congregation of Israel according to their kindreds, according to the houses of their fathers' families, according to their number by their names, according to their heads; every male 3 from twenty years old and upwards, every one that goes forth in the forces of Israel, take account of them with their strength; thou and Aaron take account of them. 4 And with you there shall be each one of the rulers according to the tribe of each: they shall be according to the houses of their families.

And these are the names of the men who shall be present with you; of the tribe of Ruben, Elisur the son of Sediri. 6 Of Simeon, Salamiel the son of Surisadai. 7 Of Judah, Naasson the son of Amminadab. 8 Of Issachar, Nathanael the son of Phupha. 9 Of Zebulun, Eliab the son of Simeon. 10 Of Issachar, Phupha the son of Phupha. 11 Of Naphtali, Phupha the son of Japhlet. 12 Of Gad, Zuriel the son of Hur. 13 Of Reuben, Pelaq and Sibna. 14 Of the sons of Joseph, the son of them all. 15 Of Benjamin, Abidan the son of Gaddoni. 16 Of Asher, Abidan the son of Gadder. 17 Of Naphtali, Abidan the son of Hakkath. 18 Of Dan, Abidan the son of Shiloh. 19 Of Manasseh, Abidan the son of Shiloh. 20 Of Ephraim, Abidan the son of Shiloh. 21 Of Zebulun, Abidan the son of Shiloh. 22 Of Joseph, Abidan the son of Shiloh. 23 Of Benjamin, Abidan the son of Shiloh. 24 Of Asher, Abidan the son of Shiloh. 25 Of Naphtali, Abidan the son of Shiloh. 26 Of Gad, Abidan the son of Shiloh. 27 Of Reuben, Abidan the son of Shiloh. 28 Of Joseph, Abidan the son of Shiloh. 29 Of Zebulun, Abidan the son of Shiloh. 30 Of Manasseh, Abidan the son of Shiloh. 31 Of Joseph, Abidan the son of Shiloh.
and they registered them after their lineage, after their families, after the number of their names, from twenty years old and upwards, every male according to their number:

And the sons of Ruben the first-born of Israel according to their kindreds, according to their divisions, according to the houses of their families, according to the number of their names, according to their poll, all males from twenty years old and upward, every one that goes out with the host, the number of them of the tribe of Ruben, was forty-six thousand and four hundred. For the children of Simeon according to their kindreds, according to their divisions, according to the houses of their families, according to the number of their names, according to their poll, all males from twenty years old and upward, every one that goes out with the host, the number of them of the tribe of Simeon, was fifty-nine thousand and three hundred. For the sons of Juda according to their kindreds, according to their divisions, according to the houses of their families, according to the number of their names, according to their poll, all males from twenty years old and upward, every one that goes forth with the host, the number of them of the tribe of Judá, was seventy-four thousand and six hundred. For the sons of Issachar according to their kindreds, according to their divisions, according to the houses of their families, according to the number of their names, according to their poll, all males from twenty years old and upward, every one that goes forth with the host, the number of them of the tribe of Issachar, was fifty-four thousand and four hundred. For the sons of Zabulon according to their kindreds, according to their divisions, according to the houses of their families, according to the number of their names, according to their poll, all males from twenty years old and upward, every one that goes forth with the host, the number of them of the tribe of Zabulon, was fifty-seven thousand and four hundred. For the sons of Joseph, the sons of Ephraim, according to their kindreds, according to their divisions, according to the houses of their families, according to the number of their names, according to their poll, all males from twenty years old and upward, every one that goes forth with the host, the number of them of the tribe of Ephraim, was forty thousand and five hundred. For the sons of Manasse according to their kindreds, according to their divisions, according to the houses of their families, according to the number of their names, according to their poll, all males from twenty years old and upward, every one that goes forth with the host, the number of them of the tribe of Manasse, was thirty-two thousand and two hundred. For the sons of Benjamin according to their kindreds, according to their divisions, according to the number of their names, according to their poll, all males from twenty years old and upward, every one that goes forth with the host, the number of them of the tribe of Benjamin, was thirty-five thousand and six hundred

23. They and he, and they, and six, and seven, and eight, and thirty-five thousand, and one hundred; they with their forces shall set out third.

24. The order of the camp of Dan shall be northward with their forces; and the prince of the sons of Dan, Achizierz the son of Ammiadai. 25. His forces that were numbered, were sixty-two thousand and seven hundred. 26. All that were numbered of the camp of Ephraim, were one hundred and eight thousand and one hundred; they with their forces shall set out third.

27. The company of the tribe of Benjamin, and the prince of the sons of Benjamin, Abidan the son of Gedeon. 28. His forces that were numbered, were thirty-five thousand and four hundred.

29. The number of the children of Israel, was six hundred and thirty thousand and one hundred. 30. But the Levites were not numbered with them, as the Lord commanded Moses. 31. And the children of Israel did all things that the Lord commanded Moses; thus they encamped in their order, and thus they began their march in succession each according to their divisions, according to the houses of their families.

32. And these are the generations of Aaron and Moses, in the day in which the Lord spoke to Moses in mount Sinai.

33. And these are the names of the sons of Aaron; Nadab the first-born, and Abiud, Eleazar and Ithamar. 34. These are the names of the sons of Aaron, the anointed priests whom the Lord commanded to minister in the tabernacle of the testimony, which he commanded Moses. 35. And Nadab and Abiud died before the Lord, when they offered strange fire before the Lord, in the wilderness of Sinai; and they had no children; and Eleazar and Ithamar ministered in the priests' office with Aaron their father.

36. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, Take the tribe of Levi, and thou shalt set them before Aaron the priest, and they shall minister to him, and shall keep his charges, and the charges of the children of Israel, before the tabernacle of witness, to do the works of the tabernacle. 37. And they shall keep all the furniture of the tabernacle of witness, and the charges of the children of Israel, as to all the works of the tabernacle.

38. And thou shalt give the Levites to Aaron and his sons; they are given for a gift to me of the children of Israel. 39. And thou shalt appoint Aaron and his sons over the tabernacle of witness; and they shall keep their charge of priesthood, and all things belonging to the altar, and within the veil; and the stranger that touches them shall die.
spoke to Moses, saying, 12 Behold, I have taken the Levites from the midst of the children of Israel, instead of every male that opens the womb from among the children of Israel: they shall be their ransom, and the Levites shall be mine. 13 For every first-born is mine; in the day in which I smote every first-born in the land of Egypt, I sanctified myself to myself every first-born in Israel: both of man and beast, they shall be mine: I am the Lord. 14 And the Lord spoke to Moses in the wilderness of Sinai, saying, 15 Take the number of the sons of Levi, according to the houses of their families, according to their divisions; number ye them every male from a month old and upwards. 16 And Moses and Aaron numbered them by the word of the Lord, as the Lord commanded them. 17 And these were the sons of Levi by their names; Gedor, Caath, and Merari. 18 And these are the names of the sons of Gedor according to their families; Lobeni and Simei, 19 and the sons of Caath according to their families; Amram and Issaver, Chebron and Uzziel. 20 And the sons of Merari according to their families, Mooli and Musi; these are the families of the Levites according to the houses of their families. 21 To Gedor belongs the family of Lobeni, and the family of Simei; these are the families of Gedor. The numbering of them according to the number of the male from a month old and upwards, their numbering was seven thousand and five hundred. 22 And the sons of Gedor shall encamp westward behind the tabernacle. 23 And the ruler of the household of the family of Gedor was Elissaph the son of Daal. 24 And the charge of the sons of Gedor in the tabernacle of witness was the tent and the veil, and the covering of the door of the tabernacle of witness; and the curtains of the court, and the veil of the door of the court, which is by the tabernacle, and the remainder of all its works. 25 To Caath belonged one division, that of Amram, and another division, that of Issaaar, and another division, that of Chebron, and another division, that of Oziel: these are the divisions of Caath, according to number. 26 Every male from a month old and upward, eight thousand and six hundred, keeping the charges of the holy things. 27 The families of the sons of Caath, shall encamp beside the tabernacle toward the south. 28 And the chief of the house of the families of the divisions of Caath was Elisaphan the son of Oziel. 29 And their charge was the ark, and the table, and the candlestick, and the altars, and all the vessels of the sanctuary wherewith they do the holy service, and the vestments, and all their works. 30 And the chief over the chief of the Levites, was Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest, appointed to keep the charges of the holy things. 31 To Merari belonged the family of Mooli, and the family of Musi: these are the families of Merari. 32 The mastering of them according to number, every male from a month old and upwards, was six thousand and fifty. 33 And the head of the house of the families of the division of Merari, was Shuriel the son of Abichail: they shall encamp by the side of the tabernacle northward. The oversight of the charge of the sons of Merari included the chapters of the tabernacle, its base, and its pillars, and its sockets, and all their furniture, and their works, and the pillars of the court round about, and their bases, and their pins, and their cords.

They that encamp before the tabernacle of witness on the east shall be Moses and Aaron and his sons, keeping the charges of the sanctuary according to the charge of the children of Israel; and the stranger that toucheth them, shall die. All the numbering of the Levites, whom Moses and Aaron numbered by the word of the Lord, according to their families, every male from a month old and upwards, were two and twenty thousand three hundred thirty and five. And the Lord spake to Moses, saying, Count every first-born male of the children of Israel from a month old and upwards, and take the number by name. And thou shalt take the Levites for me—I am the Lord—instead of all the first-born of the sons of Israel, and the cattle of the Levites instead of all the first-born among the cattle of the children of Israel. And Moses counted, as the Lord commanded him, every first-born among the children of Israel. And all the male first-born in number by name, from a month old and upwards, were according to their numbering twenty thousand and two hundred and seventy-three. And the Lord spake to Moses, saying, Take the Levites instead of all the first-born of the sons of Israel, and the cattle of the Levites instead of their cattle, and the Levites shall be mine; I am the Lord. And for the ransoms of the two hundred and seventy-three which exceed the Levites in number of the first-born of the sons of Israel: thou shalt even take five shekels a head; thou shalt take them according to the holy oblation to the Lord. And thou shalt give the money to Aaron and his sons, the ransom of those who exceed in number among them. And Moses took the silver, the ransom of those that exceeded in number the redemption of the Levites. He took the silver from the first-born of the sons of Israel, a thousand three hundred and sixty-five shekels, according to the holy shekel. And Moses gave the ransoms of them that were over to Aaron and his sons, by the word of the Lord, as the Lord commanded Moses. And the Lord spake to Moses and Aaron, saying, Take the sum of the children of Caush from the midst of the sons of Levi, after their families, according to the houses of their fathers' households; from twenty-five years old and upward until fifty years, every one that goes in to minister, to do all the works in the tabernacle of witness. And these are the works of the sons of Caush in the tabernacle of witness; it is most holy. And Aaron and his sons shall go in, when the camp is about to move and shall take down the shadowing veil, and
And they shall put upon the ark a cover, even a blue skin, and put upon it above a garment all of blue, and shall put the staves by the rings.

And they shall put upon the table set forth for shew-bread a cloth all of purple, and the dishes, and the censers, and the cups, and the vessels with which one offers drink-offerings, and the continual loaves shall be upon it. And they shall put upon it a scarlet cloth, and they shall cover it with a blue covering of skin, and they shall put the staves into it. And they shall take a blue covering, and cover the candlestick that gives light, and its lamps, and its snuff-box, and its ridges, and all its vessels with which they minister. And they shall put it, and all its vessels, into a blue skin cover; and they shall put it on the altar. And they shall put a blue cloth for a cover on the golden altar, and shall cover it with a blue skin cover, and put in its staves.

And they shall take all the instruments of service, with which they minister in the sanctuary; and shall place them in a cloth of blue, and shall cover them with blue skin, and put on the altar.

And he shall put the covering on the altar, and they shall cover it with a cloth all of purple. And they shall put upon it all the vessels which they minister upon it, and the fire-pans, and the vessels, and cups, and the vessels, and the vessels of the altar; and they shall put on it a blue cover of skins, and shall put in its staves; and they shall take a purple cloth, and cover the laver and its foot, and they shall put it into a blue cover of skin, and put it on bars. And Aaron and his sons shall finish covering the holy things, and all the holy vessels, when the camp begins to move; and afterwards the sons of Caath shall go in to take up the furniture; but shall not touch the holy things, lest they die; these shall the sons of Caath bear in the tabernacle of witness.

Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest, is overseer—the oil of the light, and the incense of composition, and the daily meat-offering and the anointing oil, are his charge; even the oversight of the whole tabernacle, and all things that are in it in the holy place, in all the works.

And the Lord spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying, Ye shall not destroy the family of Caath out of the tribe of Levi. This do ye to them, and they shall live and not die, when they approach the holy of holies: Let Aaron and his sons advance, and they shall place them each in his post for bearing. And so they shall by no means go in to look suddenly upon the holy things, and die.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, Take the sum of the children of Gideon, and these according to the houses of their lineage, according to their fathers.

Take the number of them from five and twenty years old and upwards until the age of fifty, every one that goes in to minister, to do his part towards the ark of the testimony. And they shall put on it a cover, even a blue skin, and put upon it above a garment all of blue, and shall put the staves by the rings.

And they shall put upon the table set forth for shew-bread a cloth all of purple, and the dishes, and the censers, and the cups, and the vessels with which one offers drink-offerings, and the continual loaves shall be upon it. And they shall put upon it a scarlet cloth, and they shall cover it with a blue covering of skin, and they shall put the staves into it. And they shall take a blue covering, and cover the candlestick that gives light, and its lamps, and its snuff-box, and its ridges, and all its vessels with which they minister. And they shall put it, and all its vessels, into a blue skin cover; and they shall put it on the altar. And they shall put a blue cloth for a cover on the golden altar, and shall cover it with a blue skin cover, and put in its staves.

And he shall put the covering on the altar, and they shall cover it with a cloth all of purple. And they shall put upon it all the vessels which they minister upon it, and the fire-pans, and the vessels, and cups, and the vessels, and the vessels of the altar; and they shall put on it a blue cover of skins, and shall put in its staves; and they shall take a purple cloth, and cover the laver and its foot, and they shall put it into a blue cover of skin, and put it on bars. And Aaron and his sons shall finish covering the holy things, and all the holy vessels, when the camp begins to move; and afterwards the sons of Caath shall go in to take up the furniture; but shall not touch the holy things, lest they die; these shall the sons of Caath bear in the tabernacle of witness.
This is the public service of the family of Gedson, to minister and to bear. 21 And they shall bear the skins of the tabernacle, and the tabernacle of witness, and its veil, and the blue cover that was on it above, and the cover of the door of the tabernacle of witness. 22 And all the curtains of the court which were upon the tabernacle of witness, and the appendages, and all the vessels of service that the ministering priests shall attend to. 23 According to the direction of Aaron and his sons shall be the ministry of the sons of Gedson, in all their ministries, and in all their works; and thou shalt take account of them by name in all things borne by them. 24 This is the service of the sons of Gedson in the tabernacle of witness, and their charge by the hand of Ithamar the son of Aaron the priest.

25 The sons of Merari according to their families, according to the houses of their lineage, take ye the number of them. 26 Take the number of them from five and twenty years old and upwards until fifty years old, every one that goes in to perform the service of the tabernacle of witness. 27 And these are the charges of the things borne by them according to all their works in the tabernacle of witness: they shall bear the chapters of the tabernacle, and the bars, and its pillars, and its sockets, and the veil, and there shall be their sockets, and their pillars, and the curtain of the door of the tabernacle. 28 And they shall bear the pillars of the veil of the door of the court, and their sockets and their pins, and their cords, and all their furniture, and all their instruments of service: take ye their name by number, and all the articles of the charge of the things borne by them. 29 This is the ministering of the family of the sons of Merari in all their works in the tabernacle of witness, by the hand of Ithamar the son of Aaron the priest.

30 And Moses and Aaron and the rulers of Israel took the number of the sons of Caath according to their families, according to the houses of their lineage; from five and twenty years old and upwards to the age of fifty years, every one that goes in to minister and do service in the tabernacle of witness. 31 And the numbering of them according to their families was two thousand, seventeen hundred and fifty. 32 This is the numbering of the family of Caath, every one that ministers in the tabernacle of witness, as Moses and Aaron commanded by the word of the Lord, by the hand of Moses.

33 And the sons of Gedson were numbered according to their families, according to the houses of their lineage, from five and twenty years old and upward till fifty years old, every one that goes in to minister and to do the services in the tabernacle of witness. 34 And the numbering of them according to their families, according to the houses of their lineage, was two thousand six hundred and thirty. This is the numbering of the family of the sons of Caath according to their families, according to the houses of their lineage.

And also the family of the sons of Merari were numbered according to their divisions, according to the number of them of their fathers. 34 From five and twenty years old and upward till fifty years old, every one that goes in to minister in the services of the tabernacle of witness. 35 And the number of them according to their families, according to the houses of their lineage was three thousand and five hundred and fifty, 36 This was the numbering of the family of the sons of Merari, whom Moses and Aaron numbered by the 45 word of the Lord, by the hand of Moses. 37 All that were numbered, whom Moses and Aaron and the rulers of Israel numbered, namely, the Levites, according to their families, according to the houses of their lineage, 38 from five and twenty years old and upward till fifty years old, every one that goes in to the service of the works, and the charge of the things that are carried in the tabernacle of witness. 39 And they that were numbered were eight thousand and two hundred and eighty years.

He reviewed them by the word of the Lord by the hand of Moses, appointing each man severally over their respective work, and over their burdens; and they were numbered, as the Lord commanded Moses.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 40 Speak to the children of Israel, saying, Every man or woman who shall commit any sin that is common to man, or if that soul shall trespass against the Lord; 41 and every one who has an issue of the reins, and every one who is unclean from a dead body, 42 whether male or female, send them forth out of the camp; and they shall not defile the camps in which I dwell among them. 43 And the children of Israel did so, and sent them out of the camp, as the Lord said to Moses, so did the children of Israel.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 44 And every first-fruits in all the sanctified things among the children of Israel, whatsoever they shall offer to the Lord, shall be for the priest himself. 45 And every hallowed things of every man shall be his; and whatever man shall give any thing to the priest, the gift shall be his. 46 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 47 Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, Whosoever wife shall transgress against him, and slight and despise him, and supposing any one shall lie with her carnally, and the thing shall be hid from the eyes of her husband, and she should conceal it, and be herself defiled, and there be no witness with her, and she should not be taken; and there should come upon him a spirit of jealousy, and he should be jealous of his wife, and she be defiled; or there should come upon him a spirit of jealousy, and he should be jealous of his wife, and she should not be defiled; then shall the man bring his wife to the priest, and shall bring his gift for her, the tenth part of an ephah of barley-meal, he shall not pour oil upon it, neither shall he put frankincense upon it; for it is a sacrifice of jealousy, a sacrifice of memorial, recalling sin to remembrance.

And the priest shall bring her, and cause her to stand before the Lord, and the priest shall take pure running water in an earthen vessel, and he shall take of the dust that is on the floor of the tabernacle of witness, and the priest having taken it shall cast it into the water. And the priest shall cause the woman to stand to the Lord, and shall uncover the head of the woman, and shall put into her hands the sacrifice of memorial, the sacrifice of jealousy, and in the hand of the priest shall be the water of this conviction that brings the curse. And the priest shall adjure her, and shall say to the woman, If no one has lain with thee, and if thou hast not transgressed so as to be polluted, being under the power of thy husband, be free from this water of the conviction that causes the curse. But if being a married woman thou hast transgressed, or been polluted, and any one has lain with thee, beside thy husband, then the priest shall adjure the woman by the oaths of this curse, and the priest shall say to the woman, The Lord bring thee into a curse and under an oath in the midst of all the people, in that the Lord should cause thy thigh to swell, and thy belly to swell; and this water bringing the curse shall enter into thy womb to cause thy belly to swell, and thy thigh to rot. And the woman shall say, So be it, So be it. And the priest shall write these curses in a book, and shall blot them out with the water of the conviction that brings the curse. And he shall cause the woman to drink the water of the conviction that brings the curse; and the water of the conviction that brings the curse shall enter into her. And the priest shall take from the hand of the woman the sacrifice of jealousy, and shall present the sacrifice before the Lord, and shall bring it to the altar. And the priest shall take a handful of the woman to drink as a memorial of it, and shall offer it up upon the altar; and afterwards he shall cause the woman to drink the water. And it shall come to pass, if she be defiled, and have altogether escaped the notice of her husband, then the water of the conviction that brings the curse shall enter into her; and she shall swell in her belly, and her thigh shall rot, and the woman shall be for a curse.
in the midst of her people. 29 But if the woman have not been polluted, and be clean, then shall she be guiltless, and shall not conceive seed. 30 This is the law of jealousy, wherein a man shall regulate himself, and shall be defiled; 31 or in the case of a man whomsoever the spirit of jealousy should come, and he should be jealous of his wife, and he should place his wife before the Lord, and the priest shall execute towards her all this law. 32 Then the man shall be clear from sin, and that woman shall bear her sin.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 1 Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, Whatsoever man or woman shall specially vow a vow to separate oneself with purity to the Lord, 2 he shall purely abstain from wine and strong drink; and he shall drink no vinegar of wine or vinegar of strong drink; and whatever is made of the grape he shall not drink; neither shall he eat fresh grapes or raisins, 4 all the days of his vow: he shall eat no one of all the things that come from the vine, wine from the grape-stones to the yhusk, 5 all the days of his vow, he shall not take upon his head, until the days be fulfilled which he vowed to the Lord: he shall be holy, cherishing the long hair of the head, 6 all the days of his vow to the Lord: he shall not come nigh to any dead body, to his father or his mother, or to his brother or his sister. 7 But he shall not defile himself for them, when they have died, because the vow of God is upon him on his head.

And if any one should die suddenly by him, immediately the head of his vow shall be defiled; and he shall shave his head in whatever day he shall be purified: on the seventh day he shall be shaved. 10 And on the eighth day he shall bring two turtledoves, or two young pigeons, to the priest, to the doors of the tabernacle of witness. 11 And the priest shall offer one for a sin-offering; and the other for a whole burnt-offering; and the priest shall make stone-meal for him in the things wherein he sinned respecting the dead body, and he shall sanctify his head in that day, 12 in which he was consecrated to the Lord, all the days of his vow: and he shall bring a lamb of a year old for a trespass-offering; and the former days shall not be reckoned, because the head of his vow was polluted. 13 And this is the law of him that has vowed: in whatever day he shall have fulfilled the days of his vow, he shall himself bring his gift to the doors of the tabernacle of witness. 14 And he shall bring his gift to the Lord; one he-lamb of a year old without blemish for a sin-offering; and one ewe-lamb of a year old without blemish for a peace-offering; and a basket of unleavened bread of fine flour, even leaves kneaded with oil, and unleavened cakes anointed with oil, and their meat-offering, and their drink-offering. 15 Then the priest shall bring them before the Lord, and shall offer his sin-offering, and his whole-burnt-offering.
17 And he shall offer the ram as a sacrifice of peace-offering to the Lord with the basket of unleavened bread; and the priest shall offer its meat-offering and its drink-offering. 18 And he that has vowed shall shave the head of his consecration by the doors of the tabernacle of witness, and shall put the hairs on the first which is under the sacrifice of peace-offering.

19 And the priest shall take the sacred shoulder of the ram, and one unleavened loaf from the basket, and one un-leavened cake, and shall put them on the hands of the votary after he has shaved off his holy hair. 20 And the priest shall present them as an offering before the Lord; it shall be the holy portion for the priest beside the breast of the heave-offering, and beside the shoulder of the wave-offering; and afterwards the votary shall drink wine. 21 This is the law of the votary who shall have vowed to the Lord his gift to the Lord, concerning his vow, besides what he may be able to afford according to the value of his vow, which he may have vowed according to the law of his separation.

And it came to pass in the day in which Moses finished the setting-up of the tabernacle, that he anointed it, and consecrated it, and all its furniture, and the altar and all its furniture, he even anointed them, and consecrated them. 2 And the princes of Israel brought gifts, twelve princes of their fathers' houses: these were the heads of tribes, twelve princes: all were from the number of the children of Israel. 3 And they brought their gift before the Lord, six covered wagons, and twelve oxen; a wagon from two princes, and a calf from each: and they brought them before the tabernacle. 4 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 5 Take of them, and they shall be for the works of the services of the tabernacle of witness: and thou shalt give them to the Levites, to each one according to his ministration. 6 And Moses took the wagons and the oxen, and gave them to the Levites. 7 And he gave two wagons and four oxen to the sons of Gedson, according to their ministrations. 8 And four wagons and eight oxen he gave to the sons of Merari according to their ministrations, by the Levites, to each one the priest. 9 But to the sons of Caath he gave them not, because they have the ministrations of the sacred things: they shall bear them on their shoulders.

10 And the rulers brought gifts for the dedication of the altar, in the day in which he anointed it, and the rulers brought their gifts before the altar. 11 And the Lord said to Moses, One chief each day, they shall
4 And he brought his gift, one silver charger, its weight a hundred and thirty shekels, one silver bowl of seventy shekels according to the holy shekel; both full of fine flour kneaded with oil for a meat-offering. 5 One golden censer of ten shekels full of incense. 6 One calf of the herd, one ram, one he-lamb of a year old for a whole-burnt-offering; 7 and for a sacrifice of peace-offering, two heifers, five rams, five he-goats, five ewe-lambs of a year old: this was the gift of Naasson the son of Aminadab. 8 On the second day Nathanael son of Sogar, the prince of the tribe of Issachar, brought his offering. 9 And he brought his gift, one silver charger, its weight a hundred and thirty shekels, one silver bowl of seventy shekels according to the holy shekel; both full of fine flour kneaded with oil for a meat-offering. 10 One censer of ten golden shekels, full of incense. 11 One calf of the herd, one ram, one he-lamb of a year old for a whole-burnt-offering; 12 and one kid of the goats for a sin-offering. 13 And for a sacrifice of peace-offering, two heifers, five rams, five he-goats, five ewe-lambs of a year old: this was the gift of Nathanael the son of Sogar. 14 On the third day the prince of the sons of Zabulon, Eliab the son of Chelon. 15 He brought his gift, one silver charger, its weight a hundred and thirty shekels, one silver bowl of seventy shekels according to the holy shekel; both full of fine flour kneaded with oil for a meat-offering. 16 One censer of ten shekels, full of incense. 17 One calf of the herd, one ram, one he-lamb of a year old for a whole-burnt-offering; 18 and one kid of the goats for a sin-offering. 19 And for a sacrifice of peace-offering, two heifers, five rams, five he-goats, five ewe-lambs of a year old: this was the gift of Eliab the son of Chelon. 20 On the fourth day Elisur the son of Setiur, the prince of the children of Ruben. 21 He brought his gift, one silver charger, its weight a hundred and thirty shekels, one silver bowl of seventy shekels according to the holy shekel; both full of fine flour kneaded with oil for a meat-offering. 22 One golden censer of ten shekels, full of incense. 23 One calf of the herd, one ram, one he-lamb of a year old for a whole-burnt-offering; 24 and one kid of the goats for a sin-offering. 25 And for a sacrifice of peace-offering, two heifers, five rams, five he-goats, five ewe-lambs of a year old: this was the gift of Elisur the son of Sediur. 26 On the fifth day the prince of the children of Simeon, Salamiel the son of Suri-sadai. 27 He brought his gift, one silver charger, its weight a hundred and thirty shekels, one silver bowl of seventy shekels according to the holy shekel; both full of fine flour kneaded with oil for a meat-

One golden censer of ten shekels, full of incense.

One calf of the herd, one ram, one he-lamb of a year old for a whole-burnt-offering; and one kid of the goats for a sin-offering. And for a sacrifice of peace-offering, two heifers, five rams, five he-goats, five ewe-lambs of a year old.

This was the gift of Achire the son of Echran.

On the eleventh day of the prince of the sons of Asser, Phugel the son of Echran.

He brought his gift, one silver charger, its weight a hundred and thirty shekels; one silver bowl of seventy shekels according to the holy shkel; both full of fine flour mingled with oil for a meat-offering. One golden censer of ten shekels, full of incense.

On the twentieth day of the prince of the sons of Nephthali, Achire the son of Eznan.

He brought his gift, one silver charger, its weight a hundred and thirty shekels; one silver bowl of seventy shekels according to the holy shkel; both full of fine flour mingled with oil for a meat-offering. One golden censer of ten shekels, full of incense.

This was the dedication of the altar in the day in which Moses anointed it, by the princes of the sons of Israel; twelve silver chargers, twelve silver bowls, twelve golden censers:

Each charger of a hundred and thirty shekels; each bowl of seventy shekels according to the holy shekel; all the silver of the vessels was two thousand four hundred shekels, the shekels according to the holy shekel. Twelve golden censers full of incense: all the gold of the shekels, a hundred and twenty shekels.

All the 7 cattle for whole-burnt-offerings, twelve he-cattle of a year old, their meat-offerings, and their drink-offerings: and twelve kids of the goats for sin-offering. All the cattle for a sacrifice of peace-offering, twenty-four heifers, sixty rams, sixty he-goats of a year old, sixty ewe-lambs of a year old without blemish: this is the dedication of the altar, after he consecrated Aaron, and after he anointed him.

When Moses went into the tabernacle of witness to speak to God, then he heard the voice of the Lord speaking to him from off the mercy-seat, which is upon the ark of the testimony, between the two cherubim; and he spoke to him. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,Speak to Aaron, and thou shalt say to him, Whenever thou shalt set the lamps in order, the seven lamps shall give light opposite the candlestick. And Aaron did so: on one side opposite the candlestick he lighted its lamps, as the Lord appointed Moses. 4 And this is the construction of the candlestick: it is solid, golden—its stem, and its lilies—all solid: according to the pattern which the Lord shewed Moses, so he made the candlestick.

5 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 6 Take the Levites out of the midst of the children of Israel, and thou shalt purify them. 7 And thus shalt thou perform their purification: thou shalt sprinkle them with water of purification, and a razor shall come upon the whole of their body, and they shall wash their garments, and shall be clean.
8 And they shall take one call of the herd, and its meat-offering, fine flour mingled with oil: and thou shalt take a calf of a year old of the herd for a sin-offering. 9 And thou shall bring the Levites before the tabernacle of witness; and thou shalt assemble all the congregation of the sons of Israel. 10 And thou shalt bring the Levites before the Lord; and the Lord shall smite all the hands upon the Levites. 11 And Aaron shall separate the Levites for a gift before the Lord from the children of Israel; and they shall be prepared to perform the works of the Lord. 12 And the Levites shall lay their hands on the heads of the calves; and thou shall offer one for a sin-offering, and the other for a whole-burnt-offering to the Lord, to make atonement for them.

13 And thou shalt set the Levites before the Lord, and before Aaron, and before his sons; and thou shalt give them as a gift before the Lord. 14 And thou shalt separate the Levites from the midst of the sons of Israel, and they shall be mine. 15 And afterwards the Levites shall go in to perform the works of the tabernacle of witness; and thou shall purify them, and present them before the Lord. 16 For these are given to me for a present out of the midst of the children of Israel: I have taken them to myself instead of all the first-born of the sons of Israel that open every womb. 17 For every first-born among the children of Israel is mine, whether of man or beast: in the day in which I smote every first-born in the land of Egypt,
I sanctified them for myself; and I took the Levites in the place of every first-born among the children of Israel. 18 And I gave the Levites presented as a gift to Aaron and his sons out of the midst of the children of Israel, to do the service of the children of Israel in the tabernacle of witness, and to make atonement for the children of Israel:
thus there shall be none among the sons of Israel to draw nigh to the holy things.

19 And Moses and Aaron, and all the con-gration of the children of Israel, did to the Levites as the Lord commanded Moses concerning the Levites, so the sons of Israel did to them. 20 So the Levites purified themelves and washed their garments; and Aaron presented them as a gift before the Lord, and Aaron made atonement for them to purify them. 21 And afterwards the Levites went in to minister in their service in the tabernacle of witness before Aaron, and before his sons; as the Lord appointed Moses concerning the Levites, so they did to them. 2
And the Lord spake to Moses, saying, 3
"This is the ordinance for the Levites: From five and twenty years old and upward, they shall go in to minister in the tabernacle of witness. 4 And from fifty years old the Levite shall cease from the ministry, and shall not work any longer. 5 And his brother shall serve in the tabernacle of witness to keep charges, but he shall not minister; so shall thou do to the Levites in their charges.

And the Lord spake to Moses in the wilderness of Sinai in the second year after they had gone forth from the land of Egypt, in the first month, saying, 6 Or. "Speak, and let the children of Israel keep the passover in its season. 7 On the fourteenth day of the first month at even, thou shalt keep it according to its law, and according to its ordinance. 8 And Moses ordered the children of Israel to sacrifice the passover, 9 on the fourteenth day of the first month in the wilderness of Sinai, as the Lord appointed Moses, so the children of Israel did.

And there came men who were unclean by reason of a dead body, and they were not able to keep the passover on that day; and they came before Moses and Aaron on that day. 10 And those men said to Moses, We are unclean by reason of the dead body of a man; and, therefore, we are not able to offer the gift to the Lord in its season in the midst of the children of Israel? 11 And Moses said to them, Stand there, and I will hear what charge the Lord will give concerning you. 12 And the Lord spake to Moses, saying, 13 Speak to the children of Israel, saying, Whatever man shall be unclean by reason of the dead body of a man, shall he then keep the passover to the Lord, 14 in the second month, on the fourteenth day; in the evening they shall offer it, with unleavened bread and bitter herbs shall they eat it. 15 They shall leave off of it until the morrow, and they shall break it, and it shall be sacrificed according to the ordinance of the passover. 16 And whatsoever man shall be clean, and is not far off on a journey, and shall fail to keep the passover, that soul shall be cut off from his people, because he has not offered the gift to the Lord in its season in the midst of the children of Israel. 17 And if there should come to you a stranger in your land, and should keep to the passover to the Lord, he shall keep it according to the law of the passover and according to its ordinance: there shall be one law for you, both for the stranger, and for the native of the land.

And in the day in which the tabernacle was pitched the cloud covered the tabernacle, the place of the testimony; and in the evening there was upon the tabernacle as the appearance of fire till the morning. 18 So it was continually: the cloud covered it by day, and the appearance of fire by night. 19 And when the cloud went up from the tabernacle, then after that the children of Israel departed; and in whatever place the cloud rested, there the children of Israel would abide.
18 And the children of Israel encamped. The children of Israel shall encamp by the command of the Lord, and by the command of the Lord they shall remove: all the days in which the cloud overshadows the tabernacle, the children of Israel shall encamp. And whenever the cloud shall be removed from over the tabernacle for any days then the children of Israel shall keep the charge of God, and they shall not remove. And it shall be, whenever the cloud overshadows the tabernacle a number of days, they shall encamp by the word of the Lord, and shall remove by the command of the Lord.

And it shall come to pass, whenever the cloud shall remain from the evening till the morning, and in the morning the cloud shall go up, then shall they remove by day or by night. When the cloud continues a full month overshadowing the tabernacle, the children of Israel shall encamp, and shall not depart. For they shall depart by the command of the Lord:—they kept the charge of the Lord by the command of Moses.

And the Lord spake to Moses, saying, Make to thyself two silver trumpets: thou shalt make them of beaten work; and they shall be to thee for the purpose of calling the assembly, and of removing the camps. And thou shalt sound with them, and all the congregation shall be gathered to the door of the tabernacle of witness. And if they shall sound with one, all the rulers even the princes of Israel shall come to thee. And ye shall sound an alarm, and the camps pitched eastward shall begin to move. And ye shall sound a second alarm, and the camps pitched southward shall move; and ye shall sound a third alarm, and the camps pitched westward shall move forward; and ye shall sound a fourth alarm, and they that encamp toward the north shall move forward; they shall sound an alarm at their departure. And whenever ye shall gather the assembly, ye shall sound, but not an alarm. And the priests the sons of Aaron shall sound with the trumpets; and it shall be a perpetual ordinance for you throughout your generations. And if ye shall go forth to war in your land against your enemies that are opposed to you, then shall ye sound with the trumpets; and ye shall be had in remembrance before the Lord, and ye shall be saved from your enemies. And in the days of your gladness, and in your feasts, and in your new moons, ye shall sound with the trumpets at your whole-burnt-offerings, and at the sacrifices of your peace-offerings; and there shall be joy before the Lord, before your God: I am the Lord your God.

And it came to pass in the second year, in the second month, on the twentieth day of the month, the cloud went up from the tabernacle of witness. And the children of Israel set forward with their baggage in the wilderness of Sinai; and the cloud rested in the wilderness of Paran. And the first rank departed by the word of the Lord by the hand of Moses. And they first set in motion the order of the camp of the children of Judah with their host; and over their host was Naasasson, son of Aminadab. And over the host of the tribe of Issachar was Nathaniel, son of Sogar. And over the host of the tribe of Zebulun was Eliab, son of Chelun. And they shall take down the tabernacle, and the sons of Gedor shall set forward, and the sons of Merari, who bear the tabernacle.

And the order of the camp of Ruben set forward with their host; and over their host was Eliu the son of Sediu. And over the host of the tribe of the children of Gad, was Elisaph the son of Raquat, and the sons of Caath shall set forward bearing the holy things, and the others shall set up the tabernacle until they arrive. And the order of the camp of Ephraim shall set forward with their forces; and over their forces was Elissam the son of Semuia.

And over the forces of the sons of Manasseh was Gamiliei the son of Phudian. And over the forces of the tribe of the children of Benjamin was Abidan the son of Gedeon. And the order of the camp of the sons of Dan shall set forward the last of all the camps, with their forces: and over their forces was Achire the son of Amisadai. And over the forces of the tribe of the sons of Aser, was Phageel the son of Kehran. And over the forces of the tribe of the sons of Nephtali, was Achire the son of Enan. These are the armies of the children of Israel; and they set forward with their forces.

And Moses said to Ohab the son of Raquel the Madameian, the father-in-law of Moses, We are going forward to the place concerning which the Lord said, This will I give to you: Come with us, and we will do thee good, for the Lord has spoken good concerning Israel. And he said to him, I will not go, but I will go to my kindred. And he said, Leave us not, because thou hast been with us in the wilderness, and thou shalt be an elder among us. And it shall come to pass if thou wilt go with us, it shall even come to pass that in whatsoever things the Lord shall do good, it shall also come to pass among us.

And they departed from the mount of the Lord a three days' journey; and the ark of the covenant of the Lord went before them a three days' journey to provide rest for them. And it came to pass when the ark set forward, that Moses said, Arise, O Lord, and let thine enemies be scattered; let all the hosts of the heathen fall. And in the resting he said, Turn again, O Lord, the thousands and tens of thousands in Israel. And the cloud overshadowed them by day, when they departed from the camp.

And the people murmured sinfully before the Lord; and the Lord heard them, and was very angry; and there was a fire among them from the Lord, and devoured a part of the camp. And the people cried to Moses: and Moses prayed to the Lord, and the fire was quenched. And the name of that place was called Burning; for a fire was kindled among them from the Lord.

4 And the mixed multitude among them
lusted exceedingly; and they and the children of Israel sat down and wept and said,
Who shall give us flesh to eat?
5 We remember the fish which we ate in Egypt freely; and the cucumbers, and the melons, and the leeks, and the garlic, and the onions.
6 But now our soul is dried up; our eyes turn to nothing but to the manna.
7 And the manna is as coriander seed, and the appearance of it the appearance of hoar-frost.
8 And the people went through the field, and gathered and gathered; and the mill, or pounded it in a mortar, and baked it in a pan, and made cakes of it; and the sweetness of it was as the taste of wafer made with oil.
9 And when the dew came upon the camp
by night, the manna came down upon it.

And Moses heard them weeping by their families, every one in his door; and the Lord was very angry; and the thing was evil in the sight of the Lord.
11 And Moses came and told the Lord, Whence hast thou afflicted thy servant, and why have I not found grace in thy sight, that thou shouldst lay the weight of this people upon me? 2 Have I conceived all this people, or have I born them? that thou sayest to me.
3 Take them into thy bosom, as a nurse would take her suckling, into the land which thou hast sworn by thy spirit to give to their fathers.
4 Where have I flesh to give to all this people? for they weep to me, saying, Give us flesh, that we may eat.
5 I shall not be able to bear this people alone, for this thing is too heavy for me.
6 And if thou dost thus to me, slay me utterly, if I have found favour with thee, that I may not see my affliction.
7 And the Lord said to Moses, Gather me seventy men from the elders of Israel, whom thou thyself knowest that they are the elders of the people, and their scribes; and thou shalt bring them to the tabernacle of witness, and they shall stand there with thee.
8 And I will go down, and speak there with thee; and I will take of the spirit that is upon thee, and will put it upon them; and they shall go forth, they also, and they shall be the burden of the people, and thou shalt not bear them alone.
9 And to the people thou shalt say, Purify yourselves for the morrow, and ye shall eat flesh; for ye wept before the Lord, saying, Who shall give us flesh to eat? for it was well with us in Egypt:
and the Lord shall allow you to eat flesh, and ye shall eat flesh.
10 Ye shall not eat one day, nor two, or five days; nor shall ye eat flesh for twenty days; ye shall eat for a full month, until the flesh come out at your nostrils; and it shall be a nausea to you, because ye disobeys the Lord, who is among you, and wept before him, saying,
What had we to do to come out of Egypt?
11 And Moses said, The people among whom I am are six hundred thousand footmen; and then said, I will give them flesh to eat, and they shall eat a whole month.
12 Shall sheep and oxen be slain for them, and shall it suffice them? or shall all the fish of the sea be gathered together for them, and shall it suffice them? 12 And the Lord said to Moses, Shall not the hand of
And Moses went out, and spoke the words of the Lord to the people; and he gathered seventy men of the elders of the people, and he set them round about the tabernacle. And the Lord came down in a cloud, and spoke to him, and took of the spirit that was upon him, and put it upon the seventy men that were elders; and when the spirit rested upon them, they prophesied and ceased. And there were two men left in the camp, the name of the one was Eldad, and the name of the other Modad; and the spirit rested upon them, and there were of the number of them that were enrolled, but they did not come to the tabernacle; and they prophesied in the camp. And a young man ran and told Moses, and spoke, saying, Eldad and Modad prophesied in the camp. And Joshua the son of Nun, who attended on Moses, the chosen one, said, My lord Moses, forbid them. And Moses said to him, Art thou jealous on my account? and would that all the Lord's people were prophets; whenever the Lord shall put his spirit upon them. And Moses departed into the camp, himself and the elders of Israel.

And there went forth a wind from the Lord, and brought quails over the sea; and it brought them down upon the camp a day's journey on this side, and a day's journey on that side, round about the camp, as it were two cubits from the earth. And the people rose up all the day, and all the night, and all the next day, and gathered quails; he that gathered least, gathered ten measures; and they refreshed themselves round about the camp. The flesh was yet between their teeth, before it failed, and the Lord smote the people with a very great plague. And the name of that place was called the Graves of Lust; for there they buried the people that lusted. The people departed from the Graves of Lust to Aseroth; and the people halted at Aseroth. And Mariam and Aaron spoke against Moses, because of the Ethiopian woman whom Moses took; for he had taken an Ethiopian woman. And they said, Has the Lord spoken to Moses only? has he not spoken to us? and the Lord heard it. And the man Moses was very meek beyond all the men that were upon the earth. And the Lord said immediately to Moses and Aaron and Mariam, Come forth and stand you three of you to the tabernacle of witness. And the three came forth to the tabernacle of witness; and the Lord descended in a cloud, and stood at the door of the tabernacle of witness; and Aaron and Mariam were called; and both came forth. And he said to them, Hear my words: If there should be of you a prophet to the Lord, I will be made known to him in a vision, and in sleep will I speak to him. My servant Moses is not so; he is faithful only to speak to thee or not.

And Moses went out, and spoke the words of the Lord to the people; and he gathered seventy men of the elders of the people, and he set them round about the tabernacle. And the Lord came down in a cloud, and spoke to him, and took of the spirit that was upon him, and put it upon the seventy men that were elders; and when the spirit rested upon them, they prophesied and ceased. And Moses said to him, Art thou jealous on my account? and would that all the Lord's people were prophets; whenever the Lord shall put his spirit upon them. And Moses departed into the camp, himself and the elders of Israel.

And there went forth a wind from the Lord, and brough...
8 Now the people that possessed the land art, the men of war, according to their number, were to be taken for the service of war: three hundred and fifty thousand picked men.
9 Of the sons of Reuben, Moses took: the head of the number of the families of their fathers was Elizur, of the house of Simeon;
10 Of the sons of Simeon, Shelesh; and his son,十月, was Ammiel.
11 Of the sons of Levi, the son of Jacob, he took: the head of the number of the families of their fathers was Gershon;
12 Of the sons of Judah, the son of Jacob, he took: the head of the number of the families of their fathers was Shammua.
13 Of the sons of Issachar, the son of Jacob, he took: the head of the number of the families of their fathers was Tola.
14 Of the sons of Zebulun, the son of Jacob, he took: the head of the number of the families of their fathers was Nathaniel.
15 Of the sons of Joseph, the son of Israel, he took: the head of the number of the families of their fathers was Machir.
16 Of the sons of Dan, the son of Jacob, he took: the head of the number of the families of their fathers was Mishma.
17 Of the sons of Asher, the son of Jacob, he took: the head of the number of the families of their fathers was Shebuel.
18 Of the sons of Naphtali, the son of Jacob, he took: the head of the number of the families of their fathers was Ahiram.
19 Of the sons of Gad, the son of Jacob, he took: the head of the number of the families of their fathers was Eliahu.
20 Of the sons of the half tribe of the children of Manasseh, the son of Joseph, he took: the head of the number of the families of their fathers was Micah.
And they went up and surveyed the land from the wilderness of Sin to Khoob, as men go in to Emath. And they went up by the wilderness, and departed as far as Chebron; and there was Achiman, and Sessai, and Lomi, and the Phyrgians of Enuch. Now Chebron was built seven years before Tainin of Egypt. And they came to the valley of the cluster and surveyed it; and they cut down thence a bough and one cluster of grapes upon it, and bore it on staves, and they took of the pomegranates and the figs. And that place they called the Valley of the Cluster, because of the cluster which the children of Israel cut down from thence. And they returned from thence, having surveyed the land, after forty days. And they proceeded and came to Moses and Aaron and all the congregation of the children of Israel of the Children of Pharam Cades and they brought word to them and to all the congregation, and they shewed the fruit of the land: and they reported to him, and said, We came into the land into which thou sentest us, a land flowing with milk and honey; and this is the fruit of it. Only the nations that dwell upon it are bold, and they have very great and strong walled towns, and we saw there the children of Enach. And Amalec dwells in the land toward the south: and the Chetite and the Evite, and the Jebusite, and the Amorite dwells in the hill country: and the Canaanite dwells by the sea, and by the south-west. And Chaleb stayed Chaleb to speak before Moses, and said to him, Nay, but we will go up by all means, and will inherit it, for we shall surely prevail against them. But the men that went up with him told him, We shall not go up, for we shall not by any means be able to go up against the nation, for it is touch stronger than we. And they brought a horror of that land which they surveyed upon the children of Israel, saying, The land which we passed by to survey it, is a land that cats up its inhabitants; and all the people whom we saw in it are men of extraordinary stature. And there we saw the giants; and we were before them as locusts, yea even so were we before them. And all the congregation lifted up their voice and cried; and the people wept all that night. And all the children of Israel murmured against Moses and Aaron; and all the congregation said to them, Would we had died in the land of Egypt, or in this wilderness, would we had died! and why does the Lord bring us into this land to fall in war? our wives and our children shall be for a prey: now then it is better to return into Egypt. And they said one to another Let us make a ruler, and return into Egypt. And Moses and Aaron fell upon their face before all the congregation of the children of Israel. But Joshua the son of Nane, and Chaleb the son of Jephonne, of the number of them that spied out the land, rent their garments, and spoke to all the congregation of the children of Israel, saying, The land which 8 And the congregation bade stones with them; and the glory of the Lord appeared in the cloud on the tabernacle of witness to all the children of Israel. 9 And the Lord said to Moses, How long doth this people provoke me? and how long do they refrain to believe me, with all the signs which I have wrought among them? 10 I will smite them with a pestilence; and I will destroy thee of this sort, of thee and of thy father's house a great nation, and much greater than this. 11 And Moses said to the Lord, So Egypt shall hear, and thou hast brought up this people from them by thy might. 12 Moreover all the dwellers upon this land have heard that thou art bringing this people into a land which floweth with milk and honey, and surely they shall not see the land, which I sware to give unto their fathers; but thou shalt give it to the people of this sort, of thee and of thy father's house a great nation, and much greater than this. 13 And the Lord answering Moses, said, Not but all the congregation shall go up into the mountains to see the land, except Caleb the son of Jephunneh, and Joshua the son of Nun, because they wholly followed me. 14 And the Lord was angry with Moses, and said,Depart from this place, both thee and Aaron, and go unto the people, and tell them, I have found thee in the mountain of Horeb: 15 And I spake unto thee in mount Horeb, and said, Go down, and get thee to thy people, and I will send a angel before thee, and I will humble thee in the sight of thy people, and they shall know that I am the Lord. 16 And he said, I beseech thee, O Lord, go not up with us, lest thou be angry and bring us not into the land, nor the way: for thou hast done well to us in giving us this land. 17 And the Lord was angry with Moses, and said,Depart, and go up into mount Hor, to the top of it: and there I will be with thee, and I will humble thee in the sight of Aaron and of Moses, there shall my Presence appear to thee. 18 And he said, I beseech thee, do not so, my Lord. 19 And the anger of the Lord was kindled against Moses, and he said,From henceforward, when thine intrusted with the seeing of my face, thou shalt not go into the lists and the mountains, nor into Aaron and into Moses, as is their custom, 20 In the sight of all the congregation, that I may humble thee in their eyes, and that they may know that I am the Lord. 21 And the Lord said,Depart from among these men, and I will destroy them with the pestilence. 22 And Moses said, If Thou wilt not make thy presence to appear unto these men, and I will depart, I and Aaron only, from among this people. 23 But if Thou wilt not make thy presence to appear unto them, I will hide my face, and I will leave them, and let them be a reproach in their sight, because they have acted treacherously. 24 But the Lord said,My Presence shall go with thee, and I will give thee rest. 25 And he said, If Thy Presence go not with me, I will not go. 26 Then the Lord said,There shall there pass by me, and I will give thee rest. 27 And he said, If Thy Presence go not with me, I will not go. 28 And the Lord said,When the Lord doth give you the land which ye go to possess, as He sware by me to David, saying, Surely I will not fail thee, 29 But will give thee rest, and multiply thee, as the Lord sware to thy fathers, I will multiply thee, and I will keep my covenant with thee. 30 And thou shalt sow the eighth and reap of the seventh year; the tithes of the land shall be mine, as I have sware by my righteousness. 31 And the land shall rest, a sabbath of the Lord, a sabbath of rest, for the land, that the Lord thy God may give thee. 32 And thou shalt be: for in seven years shall it be sown, and it shall not reap, and in the sabbath year it shall not be tilled. 33 And thou shalt lodge in thy vineyards and in thy oliveyards. 34 And the land shall have rest, and the Lord shall bless thee in the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee. 35 And thou shalt remember, that thou wast a vaunt, and the land was barren, and thou wast a stranger in the land of Egypt, 36 Wherein the Lord thy God brought thee out. 37 And thou shalt remember, that it is the Lord thy God that giveth the bread of the land, and hath blessed thee. 38 And thou shalt not forget the Lord thy God, and ye shall serve him, and he shall be to thee a gracious God. 39 But if thou forsake the Lord, and serve other gods, I will smite thee with the sword, and I will destroy thee, until there shall be left of thee no men in the land. 40 And the Lord spake to Moses, saying, How long shall I endure this wicked congregation? 41 I have heard their murmuring against me. I will bring them into the land which I gave to them, and thou shalt see their evil deeds. 42 And as for thee, thou shalt not go among them, except the children of Levi thy brother, and Aaron the priest of the Lord, because I know thee, that thou hast a rebellious spirit, and I have chosen thee, I will make thee a father to the children of Israel.
have murmured concerning you. 28 Say to them, As I live, saith the Lord; surely as ye spoke in my ears, so will I do to you. Your carcases shall fall in this wilderness, and the numbers of them that were numbered from twenty years old and upward, all that murmured against me, ye shall not enter into the land, which I stretched out my hand to establish you upon it; except only Chal- leb the son of Jephonne, and Joshua the son of Nun; and your little ones, who ye should have been a prey, then will I bring into the land, and they shall inherit the land, which ye rejected. 32 And your car- cases shall fall in this wilderness forty years, and shall bear your formi- ced up unto the day of the consummation of the land, which ye consumed, and there they shall die. 34 And the men whom Moses sent to spy out the land, and who came and murmured against it to the assembly so as to bring out evil words concerning the land, 35 the men that spake against the land, even died of the plague before the Lord. And Joshua the son of Nau and Chal leb the son of Jephonne still lived of those men that went to spy out the land. 39 And Moses spoke these words to all the children of Israel; and the people mourned exceedingly. 41 And they rose early in the morning and went up unto the top of the mountain, saying, Behold, we that are here will go up to the place of which the Lord has spoken, because we have sinned. 42 And Moses said, Why do ye transgress the word of the Lord? ye shall not prosper. 43 Go not up, for the Lord is not with you; so shall ye be fallen before the enemies of the Lord. For Amalec, and the Channite are there before you, and ye shall fall by the sword; because ye have disobeyed the Lord and turned aside, and the Lord will not be among you. 45 And having forced their passage, they went up to the top of the mountain; but the ark of the covenant of the Lord and Moses stirred not out of the camp. 46 And Amalec and the Channite that dwelt in that mountain came down, and routed them, and destroyed them unto Herman; and they returned to the camp. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt command them, saying, When ye come into the land of your habitation, which I give to you, 49 and thou wilt offer whole-burnt-offer- ings to the Lord, a whole-burnt-offering or a meat-offering to perform a vow, or a free-will offering, or to offer in your feasts a sacrifice of sweet savour to the Lord, whether thou offerest them on the hearth, or in the tent of meeting, then he that offers his gift to the Lord shall bring a meat- offering of fine flour, a tenth part of an

epbah mingled with oil, even with the fourth part of a hin. 3 And for a drink-offering ye shall offer the fourth part of a hin on the whole-burnt-offering, or on the meat-offering: for every lamb thou shalt offer so much, as a sacrifice, a smell of sweet savour to the Lord. 4 And for a ram, when ye offer it as a whole-burnt-offering or as a sacrifice, thou shalt prepare as a meat-offering two tenths of fine flour mingled with oil, the third part of a hin. 5 And ye shall offer for a smell of sweet savour to the Lord wine for a drink-offering, the third part of a hin. 6 And if ye sacrifice a bullock from the herd for a whole-burnt-offering or for a sacrifice, to perform a vow or a peace-offering to the Lord, then the worshipper shall offer upon the altar the fine flour mingled with oil, even the half of a hin. 7 And wine for a drink-offering the half of a hin, a sacrifice for a smell of sweet savour to the Lord.

Thus shalt thou do to one calf or to one ram, or to one lamb of the sheep or kid of the goats. 8 According to the number of what ye shall offer, so shall ye do to each one, according to their number, according to their peace-offerings. 9 Every native of the country shall thus to offer such things as sacrifices for a smell of sweet savour to the Lord. 10 And if there should be a stranger among you in your land, or one who should be born to you among your generations, and he will offer a sacrifice, a smell of sweet savour to the Lord—so ye do, the whole congregation shall offer to the Lord.

There shall be one law for you and for the strangers abiding among you, a perpetual law for your generations: as ye are, so shall the stranger be before the Lord. 12 There shall be one law and one ordinance for you, and for the stranger that abides among you. 13 And the Lord spake to Moses, saying, 14 Speak to the sons of Israel, saying, When ye are entering into the land, into which I bring you, then it shall come to pass, when ye shall eat of the bread of the land, ye shall separate a wave-offering, a special offering to the Lord, the first-fruit of your dough. 15 Ye shall offer your bread a heave-offering: as a heave-offering from the threshing-floor, so shall ye separate it, even the first-fruits of your dough, and ye shall give the Lord a heave-offering throughout your generations.

But whenever ye shall transgress, and not perform all these commands, which the Lord spake to Moses; 17 as the Lord appointed you by the hand of Moses, from the day which the Lord appointed you and forward throughout your generations, then it shall come to pass, if a trespass be committed unwittingly, unknown to the congregation, then shall all the congregation offer a calf of the herd without blemish for a whole-burnt-offering of sweet savour to the Lord, and its meat-offering and its drink-offering according to the ordinance, and one kid of the goats for a sin-offering. 18 And the priest shall make atonement for all the congregation of the children of Israel, and the trespass shall be forgiven them, because it is involuntary; and they have brought their gift, a burnt-offering to the Lord for their trespass before the Lord, even for their involuntary sins.
And it shall be forgiven as respects all the congregation of the children of Israel, and the stranger that is abiding among you, because it is involuntary to all the people.

And if one soul sin unwillingly, he shall bring one she-goat of a year old for a sin-offering. And the priest shall make atonement for the soul that committed the trespass unwillingly, and that sinned unwillingly before the Lord, to make atonement for him. There shall be one law for the native among the children of Israel, and for the stranger that abides among them, whosoever shall commit a trespass unwillingly.

And whatever soul either of the native's or of the strangers shall do any thing with a presumptuous hand, he will provoke God; that soul shall be utterly destroyed, his sin is upon him.

And the children of Israel were in the wilderness, and they found a man gathering sticks on the sabbath-day. And they who found him gathered sticks on the sabbath-day brought it to Moses and Aaron, and to all the congregation of the children of Israel. And they placed him in custody, for they did not determine what they should do to him. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, Let the man be by all means put to death, do ye all the congregation, stone him with stones. And all the congregation brought him forth out of the camp; and all the congregation stoned him with stones outside the camp, as the Lord commanded Moses.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt tell them; and let them make for themselves fringes upon the borders of their garments throughout their generations: and ye shall put upon the fringes of the borders a lace of blue. And it shall be upon your fringes, and ye shall look on them, and ye shall remember all the commandments of the Lord: do not ye let this matter be withdrawn from your eyes in the days after which ye go whoring; that ye may remember and perform all my commands, and ye shall be holy unto your God. I am the Lord your God that brought you out of the land of Egypt, to be your God: I am the Lord your God.

And Core the son of Issachar the son of Caush the son of Levi, and Nathan and Abiron, sons of Eliab, and Aun the son of Phaleth the son of Ruben, spoke; and rose up before Moses, and two hundred and fifty men of the sons of Israel, chiefs of the assembly, and men of renown. They rose up against Moses and Aaron, and said, Let it be enough for you that all the congregation are holy, and the Lord is among them; and why do ye set up yourselves against the congregation of the Lord?

And when Moses heard it, he fell on his face: And he spoke to Core and all his assembly, saying, God has visited and known those that are his and who are holy, and has brought them to himself; and whom forth and stood by the doors of their tents, and and their wives and their children and their store.

And Moses said, Hereby shall ye know that the Lord hath sent me to perform all these works, that I have not done them of myself. 29 If these men shall die according to the death of all men; then shall these plagues be pronounced upon them. 30 But if the Lord shall shew by a wonder, and the earth shall open her mouth and swallow them up, and their tents, and all that belongs to them, and the earth shall cover them with a stone, then ye shall know that these men have provoked the Lord.
31 And when he ceased speaking all these words, the ground clave asunder beneath them.
32 And the ground opened, and swallowed them up, and their houses, and all the men that were with Core, and their cattles.
33 And they went down and all that they had, alive into Hades; and the ground covered them, and they perished from the midst of the congregation. 34 And all Israel round about them fled from the sound of them, for they said, Lest the earth swallow us up also. 35 And fire went forth from the Lord, and devoured the two hundred and fifty men that offered incense.

And the Lord said to Moses, 36 and to Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest, Take up the brazen censers out of the midst of the men that have been burnt, and scatter the strange fire yonder, for they have sancti died of these sins of them all their souls, and do thou make them beaten plates a covering to the altar, because they were brought before the Lord and hallowed; and they became a sign to the children of Israel. 37 And Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest, took the brazen censers which the men that had been burnt brought from the midst of them all, and covered them:
38 a memorial to the children of Israel that no stranger might draw nigh, who is not of the seed of Aaron, to offer incense before the Lord; so he shall not be as Core and as they that conspired with him, as the Lord spoke to him by the hand of Moses.

And the children of Israel murmured the next day against Moses and Aaron, saying, Ye have killed the people of the Lord. 41 And it came to pass when the congregation combined against Moses and Aaron, that they ran impetuously to the tabernacle of witness; and the cloud covered it, and the glory of the Lord appeared. 42 And Moses and Aaron went in, in front of the tabernacle of witness.

And the Lord spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying, Depart out of the midst of this congregation, and I will consume them at once: and they fell upon their faces. 44 And Moses said to Aaron, Take a censer, and put on it fire from the altar, and put incense on it, and carry it away quickly into the camp, and make atonement for them; for wrath is gone forth from the presence of the Lord, it has begun to destroy the people.

And Aaron took as Moses spoke to him, and ran among the congregation, for already the plague had begun among the people; and he put on incense, and made an atonement for the people. 41 And he stood between the dead and the living, and the plague ceased. 42 And they that died in the plague were fourteen thousand and seven hundred, besides those that died on account of Core. 43 And Aaron returned to Moses to the door of the tabernacle of witness, and the plague ceased.

And the Lord spake to Moses, saying, 2 Speak to the children of Israel, and take rods of them, according to the houses of their families, a rod from all their princes, according to the houses of their families, twelve rods, and write the name of each on his rod. 3 And write the name of Aaron on the rod of Levi; for it is one rod for each: they shall give them according to the tribe of the house of their families. 4 And thou shalt put them in the tabernacle of witness, before the testimony, where I will be made known to thee. 5 And it shall be, the man whom I shall choose, his rod shall blossom; and I will remove from me the murmuring of the children of Israel, which they murmur against you.

And Moses spake to the children of Israel, and all their chiefs gave him a rod each, for one chief a rod, according to the house of their families, twelve rods; and the rod of Aaron was in the midst of the rods. 7 And Moses laid up the rods before the Lord in the tabernacle of witness. 8 And it came to pass on the morrow, that Moses went in to speak unto the Lord; and the rod of Aaron, whom Moses had brought in, had blossomed, brought forth almonds, and bloomed and produced almonds. 9 And Moses brought forth all the rods from before the Lord to all the sons of Israel; and they looked, and each one took his rod.

And the Lord said to Moses, Lay up the rod of Aaron before the testimonies to be kept as a sign for the children of the disobedient; and let their murmuring cease from me, and they shall not die. 11 And Moses and Aaron went into the tabernacle of witness; and, behold, the rod of Aaron for the house of Levi blossomed, and put forth a bud, and bloomed blossoms and produced almonds. 12 And Moses brought forth all the rods from before the Lord to all the sons of Israel; and they looked, and each one took his rod.

And the Lord said to Moses, Thou and thy sons and thy father's house shall bear the sins of the holy things, and thou and thy sons shall bear the iniquity of your priesthood. 2 And take to thyself thy brethren the tribe of Levi, the family of thy father, and let them join to thee, and let them minister to thee; and thou and thy sons with thee shall minister before the tabernacle of witness. 3 And they shall keep thy charges and the charges of the tabernacle; only they shall not approach the holy vessels and the altar, so both they and you shall not die. 4 And they shall be joined to thee, and shall keep the charges of the tabernacle of witness, in all the services of the tabernacle; and a stranger shall not approach to thee. 8 And ye shall keep the charges of the holy things, and the charges of the altar, and so there shall not be anger among the children of Israel. 9 And I have taken your brethren the Levites from among the children of Israel, a present given to the Lord, to minister in the services of the tabernacle of witness. 10 And thou and thy sons after thee shall keep up your priestly ministration, according to the whole manner of the altar, and that which is within the veil; and ye shall minister in the services of your priesthood; and the stranger that comes near shall die. 11 And the Lord said to Aaron, And, behold, I have given you the charge of the first-fruits of all things consecrated to me by the children of Israel; and I have given them to thee as an honour, and to thy sons after thee. 12 All the first-fruits that are a separation unto me, even the burnt-offerings, from all their gifts, and from all their sacrifices, and from every trespass-offering of theirs, and from all their sin-offerings, whatever things they give to me of all their holy things, they shall be thy and thy sons'; in the most holy place shall ye eat them; every male shall eat them, thou and thy sons; they shall be holy to thee. 13 And this shall be to you of the first-fruits of their gifts, of all the wave-offerings of the children of Israel; to thee have I given them and to thy sons and thy daughters with thee, a perpetual ordinance; every clean person in thy house shall eat them. 14 Everyfirst-offering of oil, and everyfirst-offering of wine, their first-fruits of corn, whatsoever they may give to the Lord, to thee have I given them. 15 All the first-fruits that are a separation unto me, shall be thine: every consecrated person in thy house shall eat them. 16 Every devoted thing among the children of Israel shall be thine. 17 And every thing that opens the womb of all flesh, whatsoever they bring to the Lord, whether man or beast, shall be thine: and the first-born of man shall be surely redeemed; and thou shalt redeem the first-born of unclean cattle. 18 And the redemption of them shall be from a month old; their valuation of five shekels—it is twenty oboli according to the holy shekel. 19 But thou shalt not redeem the first-born of calves and the first-born of sheep and the first-born of goats; they are holy; and thou shalt pour their blood upon the altar, and thou shalt offer the fat as a burnt-offering for a smell of sweet savour to the Lord. 20 And the flesh shall be thine, as also the breast of the wave-offering and as the right shoulder, the Lord shall give them to thee. 21 And the special offering of the holy things, whatever the children of Israel shall specially offer to the Lord, I have given to thee and to thy sons and to thy daughters with thee, a perpetual ordinance: it is a covenant of salt for ever before the Lord, for thee and thy seed after thee.

20 And the Lord said to Aaron, Thou shalt have no inheritance in their land, neither shalt thou have any portion among them; for I am thy portion and thine inheritance in the midst of the children of Israel.

21 And, behold, I have given to the sons of Levi every tith in Israel for an inheritance, for their services, which they perform in the tabernacle of witness.

22 And the children of Israel shall no more draw nigh to the tabernacle of witness to incur fatal guilt. And the Levite himself shall perform the service of the tabernacle of witness; and they shall bear their iniquities, it is a perpetual statute throughout their generations; and in the midst of the children of Israel they shall not receive an inheritance.

23 Because I have given as a distinct portion to the Levites for an inheritance the tithes of the children of Israel, whatsoever they shall offer to the Lord; therefore I said to them, In the midst of the children of Israel they shall have no inheritances.

24 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, Thou shalt also speak to the Levites, and shalt say to them, If ye take the tith from the children of Israel, which I have given you from them for an inheritance, then shall ye separate from it a heave-offering to the Lord, a tenth of the tenth. And your heave-offerings shall be reckoned to you as corn from the floor, and an offering from the wine-press. So shall ye also separate them from all the offerings of the Lord out of all your tithes, whatsoever ye shall receive from the children of Israel; and ye shall give of them an offering to the Lord to Aaron the priest. Of all your gifts ye shall offer an offering to the Lord, and of every first-fruit the consecrated part from it.

26 And thou shalt say to them, When ye shall offer the first-fruits from it, then shall it be reckoned to the Levites as produce from the threshing-floor, and as produce from the wine-press. And ye shall eat it in any place, ye and your families; for this is your reward for your services in the tabernacle of witness. And ye shall not bear it on your head, ye shall not profane the holy things of the children of Israel, that ye die not.

And the Lord spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying, This is the constitution of the law, as the Lord has commanded, saying, Speak to the sons of Israel, and let them take for thee a red heifer without spot, which has no speck on her, and which a yoke has not been put. And thou shalt give her to Eleazar the priest; and they shall bring her out of the camp into a clean place, and shall kill her before his face. And Eleazar shall take of her blood, and sprinkle of her blood seven times in front of the tabernacle of witness. And they shall burn her to ashes before the Lord, and the ashes and her flesh and her blood, with her dung, shall be consumed. And the priest shall take cedar-wood and hyssop and scarlet wool, and they shall cast them into the midst of the burning of the heifer.
And the priest shall wash his garments, and bathe his body in water, and afterwards he shall go into the camp, and the priest shall be unclean till evening. And he that burns her shall wash his garments, and bathe his body, and shall be unclean until evening.

And a clean man shall gather up the ashes of the heifer, and lay them up in a clean place outside the camp; and they shall be for the congregation of the children of Israel to keep: it is a statute for an everlasting covenant.

And he that gathers up the ashes of the heifer shall wash his garments, and shall be unclean until evening; and it shall be a perpetual statute for the children of Israel and for the strangers joined to them.

He that touches the dead body of any man, shall be unclean seven days. He shall be purified on the third day and the seventh day, and shall be clean; but if he be not purified on the third day and the seventh day, he shall not be clean.

Every one that touches the carrion of the person of a man, if he should have died, and the man die in a house, every one that goes into the house, and all things in the house, shall be unclean seven days.

And every vessel whereby any soul touches the carcase of a dead man shall be unclean seven days.

And they shall take for the unclean of the burnt carcase of purification, and they shall pour upon them running water into a vessel. And a clean man shall take hyssop, and dip it into the water, and sprinkle it upon the house, and the furniture, and all the souls that are therein, and upon him that touched the burnt carcase, or upon the dead man, or upon the carcase of the unclean, or upon the carcase of a stillborn child; and he shall sprinkle the water on the unclean on the third day and on the seventh day, and on the seventh day he shall purify himself; and the other shall wash his garments, and bathe himself in water, and shall be unclean until evening. And whatsoever man shall be defiled, and shall not purify himself, that soul shall be cut off from amidst of the congregation, because he has defiled the holy things of the Lord; because the water of sprinkling has not been sprinkled upon him; he is unclean.

And it shall be to you a perpetual statute; and he that sprinkles the water of sprinkling shall be unclean till evening, and the soul that touches it shall be unclean till evening.

And the children of Israel, even the whole congregation, came into the wilderness of Sin; and Miriam died there, and was buried there. And there was no water for the congregation: and they gathered themselves together against Moses and Aaron.

And Aaron. 3 And the people reviled Moses, saying, Would we had died in the destruction of our brethren before the Lord!

And wherefore have ye brought up the congregation of the Lord into this wilderness, to kill us and our cattle? 4 And wherefore is this? Ye have brought us up out of Egypt, that we should come into this evil place; a place that there is no sowing, neither fishes, nor pomegranates, neither is there water to drink.

And Moses and Aaron went from before the congregation of the children of Israel, to the wilderness of Paran.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 7 Take thy rod, and call the assembly, thou and Aaron thy brother, and speak ye to the rock before them, and it shall give forth its waters; and ye shall bring forth for them water out of this rock.

And Moses lifted up his hand and struck the rock with his rod; and water came forth, and the congregation and their cattle drank.

And the Lord said to Moses and Aaron, Because ye have not believed me to sanctify me before the children of Israel, therefore ye shall not bring this congregation into the land which I have given them.

This is the water of Strife, because the children of Israel spoke insolently before the Lord, and he was sanctified in them.

And Moses sent messengers from Cades to the king of Edom, saying, Thus says thy brother Israel, saying, 11 And our fathers went down into Egypt, and we sojourned in Egypt many days, and the Egyptians afflicted us and our fathers. And we cried to the Lord, and the Lord heard our voice, and sent an angel and brought us out of Egypt, and now we are in the city of Cades, at the extremity of thy coasts.

We will pass through thy land; we will not go through the fields, nor through the vineyards, nor will we drink water out of thy cistern; we will go by the king's highway; we will not turn aside to the right hand or to the left, until we have passed thy borders.

And Edom said to him, Thou shalt not pass through me, and if otherwise, I will go forth to meet thee in war. 20 And the children of Israel say to him, We will pass by the mountain; and if I and my cattle drink of thy water, I will pay thee: but it is no matter of importance, we will go by the mountain.

And he said, Thou shalt not pass through me; and Edom went forth to meet him with a great host, and a mighty hand.

So Edom refused to allow Israel to pass through his borders, and Israel turned away from him. 23 And they departed from Cades; and the children of Israel, even the whole congregation, came to Mount Hor.
And the Lord spake unto Moses and Aaron in mount Hor, on the borders of the land of Edom, saying,

And let Aaron be gathered unto his people: for there shall be none among the children of Israel die by the plague who came out of Egypt among them: and Aaron died in mount Hor in the same land of Edom: and he was an hundred and twenty and three years old.

And Moses and Aaron gathered unto the congregation of the children of Israel: and they said unto the congregation, Take your offerings, and your presents, even your burning offerings, and your sacrifices, and your tithes, and your vow offerings, upon every offering of cattle, upon every present of the children of Israel, unto the Lord: and bring your burnt offerings, with your sacrifices for your peace offerings, to the house of the Lord.

And so spake they unto the congregation, and they gave them their offerings for the Lord, as Moses had said: so the congregation gave them their offerings by weight and by number.

And all the children of Israel gave, every man according to the will of his heart, unto the Lord a free offering by weight, of gold, and silver, and brass, and raiment, and all manner of meat offering, and of sweet savour, and of oil. And all the sons of Aaron gave unto the Lord for the burnt offering a free offering of gold, and silver, and brass.

And a few of the leaders gave a freewill offering unto the Lord, and of gold, and silver, and brass.

And Aaron and his sons brought all things, and did according to all that the Lord had commanded Moses.

The Lord spake unto Moses, saying, Take Aaron and his sons, and the elders of Israel, and put on the sacred garments, and send the elders of Israel, and put on Aaron the sacred garments: and thou shalt put upon him the diadem, and thou shalt anoint him, and consecrate him.

Thou shalt put upon him the sacred garments, and anoint him, and consecrate him, that he may be consecrated. And thou shalt cause the children of Israel to come near and present to the Lord Aaron and his sons, and put on them sacred garments.

And thou shalt speak unto Aaron, saying, Thou shalt not go out of the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, that thou be not slain: for the anointing oil of the Lord shall be upon thee. And thou shalt consecrate Aaron, and his sons, and their garments, to be an office for the Lord for ever: and thou shalt consecrate Aaron and his sons.

And he brought Aaron and his sons, and put on them sacred garments: and he girded on Aaron the sacred ephod, the breastplate also, and the ephod's girdle, and put on him the sacred mitre, and girded him with the sacred bands.

And the sacred ephod, the breastplate, and the ephod's girdle, and the sacred mitre, and the sacred bands, were of gold, and were made according to the pattern of the workmanship, and according to the manner of all the sacred garments: and Aaron and his sons girded them with sacred bands.

And he brought near the sacred garments, and put on him the sacred ephod: and he put on his garments, and girded him with the sacred girdle. And he put on the sacred breastplate, and put in the sacred ephod the sacred name.

And he took the sacred mitre, and put it on his head: and he girded him with the sacred bands. And Aaron's sons took the sacred garments, and girded them with the sacred bands, and took the sacred ephod, and put it upon Aaron: and he girded him with the sacred bands.

And he took the sacred mitre, and put it on his head: and he girded him with the sacred bands. And Aaron's sons took the sacred garments, and girded them with the sacred bands, and put on them the sacred ephod: and Aaron was girded with the sacred bands.

And he took the sacred mitre, and put it on his head: and he girded him with the sacred bands. And Aaron's sons took the sacred garments, and girded them with the sacred bands, and put on them the sacred ephod: and Aaron was girded with the sacred bands.

And he took the sacred mitre, and put it on his head: and he girded him with the sacred bands. And Aaron's sons took the sacred garments, and girded them with the sacred bands, and put on them the sacred ephod: and Aaron was girded with the sacred bands.

And he took the sacred mitre, and put it on his head: and he girded him with the sacred bands. And Aaron's sons took the sacred garments, and girded them with the sacred bands, and put on them the sacred ephod: and Aaron was girded with the sacred bands.
Numbers XXI. 15—35.

said in a book, A war of the Lord has set on fire Zoob, and the brooks of Arnon. 13 And he has appointed brooks to cause Er to dwell there; and it lies near to the coasts of Moab.

16 And thence they came to the well; this is the well of which the Lord said to Moses, Gather the people, and I will give them water to drink.

17 Then Israel sang this song at the well. Begin to sing of the well; 18 the princes digged it, the kings of their kingdom, in their lordship sunk it in the rock: and they went from the well to Manahamin, 19 and from Manahamin to Naaliel, and from Naaliel to Bamoth, and from Bamoth to g Jair, which is in the plain of Moab as seen from the top of the quarried rock that looks toward the wilderness.

20 And Moses sent ambassadors to Seon king of the Amorites, with peaceable words, saying, 21 We will pass through thy land, we will go by the road; we will not turn aside to the field or to the vineyard. 22 We will not drink water out of thy well; we will go by the king's highway, until we have past thy boundaries. 23 And Seon did not allow Israel to pass through his borders, and Seon gathered all his people, and went out to fight the battle in array against Israel into the wilderness; and he came to Jassa, and set the battle in array against Israel. 24 And Israel smote him with the slaughter of the sword, and they became possessors of his land, from Arnon to Jabor, as far as the children of Amman, for Jazer is the borders of the children of Amman. 25 And Israel took all their cities, and Israel dwelt in all the cities of the Amorites, in Esebon, and in all cities belonging to it. 26 For Esebon is the city of Seon king of the Amorites; and he before fought against the king of Moab, and they took all his land, from Arroer to Arnon. 27 Therefore say they who deal in dark speeches, Come to Esebon, that the city is built, and prepared. 28 For a fire has gone forth from Esebon, a flame from the city of Seon, and has consumed as far as Moab, and devoured the pillars of Arnon. 29 Woe to thee, Moab; thou art lost, thou people of Chamos: their sons are sold for preservation, and their daughters are captives to Seon king of the Amorites. 30 And their seed shall perish from Esebon to Dedbron; and their women have yet farther kindled a fire against Moab.

31 And Israel dwelt in all the cities of the Amorites. 32 And Moses sent to spy out Jazer; and they took it, and its villages, and cast out the Amorite that dwelt there.

33 And having returned, they went up the road that leads to Basan; and Og the king of Basan went forth to meet them, and all his people to war to Edraun. 34 And the Lord said to Moses, Fear him not; for I have delivered him and all his people, and all his land into thy hands; and thou shalt do to him as thou didst to Seon king of the Amorites, who dwelt in Esebon. 35 And he smote him and his sons, and all his people, until he left none of his to be taken alive; and they inherited his land.
And the children of Israel departed, and encamped on the west of Moab by Jordan toward Jericho. And when Balak son of Sepphor saw all that Israel did to the Amorite, 3 then Moab feared the people exceedingly because they were many; and Moab was grieved because of the children of Israel. And Moab said to the elders of Midian, Do not let this assembly lift up all that are round about us, as a cattle would lick up the green herbs of the field:—and Balak son of Sepphor was king of Moab at that time. 4 And he sent ambassadors to Balaam the son of Beor, to Pha thura, which is on a river of the land of the sons of his people, to call him, saying, Balak, a prince out of Egypt, behold, and Balak has encamped his army on the other side of the Jordan. 5 And he said to them, Tarry here night and I will answer you the things which the Lord shall say to me; and the princes of Moab stayed with Balaam.

And God came to Balaam, and said to him, Who are these men, with thee? 6 And Balaam said to God, Balak son of Sepphor, king of Moab, sent them to me, saying, 7 'Balaam, a prince has come forth out of Egypt, and has covered the face of the land, and has encamped near to me; and now come, curse me for it, if indeed I shall be able to smite it, and cast it out of the land. 8 And God said to Balaam, Thou shalt not go with them, neither shall thou curse the people whom the Lord thy God has delivered to thee; 9 but Balaam rose up in the morning, and said to the princes of Balak, Depart quickly to your lord; God does not permit me to go with you. 10 And the princes of Moab rose, and came to Balak, and said, Balaam will not come with us.

And Balak yet again sent more princes and more honourable than they. 11 And they came to Balaam, and they said to him, Thus says Balak the son of Sepphor: I beseech thee, delay not to come to me. 12 For I will greatly honour thee, and will do for thee whatsoever thou shalt say; come then, curse me this people. 13 And Balaam answered and said to the princes of Balak, If Balak would give me his house full of silver and gold, I shall not be able to go beyond the word of the Lord God, to make it little or great in my mind. 14 And now do ye also tarry here this night, and I shall know what the Lord will yet say to me. 15 And God came to Balaam by night, and said to him, If these men are come to call thee, rise and follow them; nevertheless the word which I shall speak to thee, it shall thou do. 16 And Balaam rose up in the morning, and said to the princes of Balak, I know that the Lord will not curse the children of Israel; 17 therefore I purpose to speak according to the word of the Lord God, to make it little or great. 18 Now therefore, balah, do your thing in the sight of your gods; 19 and I will go on before you. 20 And Balaam went up with Balak to the top of Peor, and to the top of Pisgah.
22 And the angel of God standing opposite in the way, and his sword drawn in his hand, then the ass turned aside out of the way, and went into the field; and Balaam smote the ass with his staff to direct her in the way.

23 And the angel of the Lord stood in the avenue of the city gates, having a fire burning and a torch in his hand; and the ass saw the angel of God, she thrust herself against the wall, and crushed Balaam's foot against the wall, and he smote her again.

24 And the angel of the Lord went further, and came and stood in a narrow place where it was impossible to turn to the right or the left.

25 And the ass saw the angel of God standing opposite in the way, and his sword drawn in his hand, then the ass turned aside out of the way, and went into the field; and Balaam smote the ass with his staff to direct her in the way.

26 And the angel of the Lord went further, and came and stood in a narrow place where it was impossible to turn to the right or the left.

27 And the ass saw the angel of God standing opposite in the way, and his sword drawn in his hand, then the ass turned aside out of the way, and went into the field; and Balaam smote the ass with his staff to direct her in the way.

28 And when the ass saw the angel of God, she thrust herself against the wall, and crushed Balaam's foot against the wall, and he smote her again.

29 And the angel of the Lord went further, and came and stood in a narrow place where it was impossible to turn to the right or the left.

30 And the ass saw the angel of God standing opposite in the way, and his sword drawn in his hand, then the ass turned aside out of the way, and went into the field; and Balaam smote the ass with his staff to direct her in the way.

31 And the angel of the Lord stood in the avenue of the city gates, having a fire burning and a torch in his hand; and the ass saw the angel of God, she thrust herself against the wall, and crushed Balaam's foot against the wall, and he smote her again.

32 And the angel of the Lord went further, and came and stood in a narrow place where it was impossible to turn to the right or the left.

33 And the ass saw the angel of God standing opposite in the way, and his sword drawn in his hand, then the ass turned aside out of the way, and went into the field; and Balaam smote the ass with his staff to direct her in the way.

34 And the angel of the Lord went further, and came and stood in a narrow place where it was impossible to turn to the right or the left.

35 And the ass saw the angel of God standing opposite in the way, and his sword drawn in his hand, then the ass turned aside out of the way, and went into the field; and Balaam smote the ass with his staff to direct her in the way.

36 And the ass saw the angel of God standing opposite in the way, and his sword drawn in his hand, then the ass turned aside out of the way, and went into the field; and Balaam smote the ass with his staff to direct her in the way.

who were with him. And it was morning; and Balac took Balam, and brought him up to the pillar of Bual, and showed him thence a part of the people.

And Balam said to Balac, Build me here seven altars, and prepare me here seven calves, and seven rams. And Balac did as Balam told him; and he offered a calf and a ram on every altar. And Balam said to Balac, Stand by thy sacrifice, and I will go and see if God will appear to me and meet me, and the word which he shall show me, I will report to thee. And Balam stood by his sacrifice. And Balam went to enquire of God; and he went straight forward, and God appeared to Balam; and Balam said to him, I have prepared the seven altars, and have offered a calf and a ram on every altar. And God put a word into the mouth of Balam, and said, Thou shalt return to Balac, and thus shalt thou speak. And he returned to him, and moreover he stood over his whole-burnt-offerings, and all the princes of Moab with him; and the Spirit of God came upon him. And he took up his parable, and said, Balac king of Moab sent for me out of Mesopotamia, out of the mountains of the east, saying, Come, curse me Jacob, and come, call for me a curse upon Israel. How can I curse whom the Lord curseth not? or how can I devote whom God devotes not? For from the top of the mountains I shall see him, and from the hills I shall observe him; behold, the people shall dwell alone, and shall not be reckoned among the nations.

Who has exactly calculated the seed of Jacob, and weighed the families of Israel? let my soul die with the souls of the righteous, and let my seed be as their seed.

And Balam said to Balac, What hast thou done to me? I called thee to curse my enemies, and behold thou hast greatly blessed them. And Balam said to Balac, Whatever the Lord shall put into my mouth, shall I not take heed to speak this? And Balam said to him, Come yet with me to another place where thou shalt not see the people, but only thou shalt see a part of them, and shalt not see them all; and curse me them from thence.

And he took him to a high place of the field to the top of the quarried rock, and he built there seven altars, and offered there a calf and a ram on every altar. And Balam said to Balac, Stand by thy sacrifice, and I will go to enquire of God. And God met Balam, and put a word into his mouth, and said, Go, and to Balac, and thus shalt thou speak. And he returned to him: and he also was standing by his whole-burnt-sacrifice, and all the princes of Moab with him; and Balam said to him, What has the Lord spoken? And he took up his parable, and said, Rise up, Balac, and hear; hear, my words, as a witness, thou son of Sepper.

God is not as man to be threatened; nor as the son of man to be threatened; shall he say and not perform? shall he speak and not keep his word? Behold, I have received commandment to bless: I will bless, and he envenomed with a blessing as with a curse. And Balam, and Balac, and all the princes of Moab with him, stood over against the Lord, as a witness, and the people, but only thou shalt see a part of them, and shalt not see them all; and curse me them from thence.

And he took him to a high place of the field to the top of the quarried rock, and he built there seven altars, and offered there a calf and a ram on every altar. And Balam said to Balac, Stand by thy sacrifice, and I will go to enquire of God. And God met Balam, and put a word into his mouth, and said, Go, and to Balac, and thus shalt thou speak. And he returned to him: and he also was standing by his whole-burnt-sacrifice, and all the princes of Moab with him; and Balam said to him, What has the Lord spoken? And he took up his parable, and said, Rise up, Balac, and hear; hear, my words, as a witness, thou son of Sepper.

God is not as man to be threatened; nor as the son of man to be threatened; shall he say and not perform? shall he speak and not keep his word? Behold, I have received commandment to bless: I will bless, and he envenomed with a blessing as with a curse. And Balam, and Balac, and all the princes of Moab with him, stood over against the Lord, as a witness, and the people, but only thou shalt see a part of them, and shalt not see them all; and curse me them from thence.

And he took him to a high place of the field to the top of the quarried rock, and he built there seven altars, and offered there a calf and a ram on every altar. And Balam said to Balac, Stand by thy sacrifice, and I will go to enquire of God. And God met Balam, and put a word into his mouth, and said, Go, and to Balac, and thus shalt thou speak. And he returned to him: and he also was standing by his whole-burnt-sacrifice, and all the princes of Moab with him; and Balam said to him, What has the Lord spoken? And he took up his parable, and said, Rise up, Balac, and hear; hear, my words, as a witness, thou son of Sepper.

And Balak said to Balaam, Neither curse the people at all for me, nor bless them at all. And Balaam answered and said to Balak, Shall I not tell thee, whatsoever thing God shall speak to me, that will I do? And Balak said to Balaam, Come and I will remove thee to another place, if it shall please God, and curse me there from thence. And Balak took Balaam to the top of Phogor, which extends to the wilderness. And Balaam said to Balak, Build me here seven altars, and prepare me and seven rams, and seven calves. And Balak did as Balaam had told him, and offered a calf and a ram on every altar.

And when Balaam saw that it pleased God to bless Israel, he did not go according to his custom to meet the omens, but turned his face toward the wilderness. And Balaam lifted up his eyes, and sees Israel encamped by their tribes, and the Spirit of God came upon him. And he took up his parable and said, Balaam son of Beor says, the man who sees truly says, he says who hears the oracle of the Mighty One, who saw a vision of God in sleep; his eyes were opened: How goodly are thy habitations, Jacob, and thy tents, Israel! As shady groves, and as gardens by a river, and as flocks within a fold: they shall drink of the waters. There shall come a man out of his seed, and he shall rule over many nations; and the kingdom of Gog shall be exalted, and his kingdom shall be increased. God led him out of Egypt; he has as it were the glory of a unicorn: he shall consume the nations of his enemies, and he shall drain their marrow, and with his hand he shall strike down, and his spear shall pierce the children of his enemies. He lay down, he rested as a lion, and as a young lion; who shall stir him up? they that bless thee are blessed, and they that curse thee are cursed.

And Balak was angry with Balaam, and clapped his hands together; and Balak said to Balaam, I called thee to curse my enemy, and behold thou hast decidedly blessed him this third time. Now therefore flee to thy place: I said, I will honour thee, but now the Lord has deprived thee of glory. And Balaam said to Balak, Did I not speak to thy messengers also whom thou sentest to me, saying, If Balach should give me his house full of silver and gold, I shall not be able to transgress the word of the Lord to punch it out of my mouth; whatsoever things God shall say, them will I speak. And now, behold, I return to my place; come, I will advise thee of what this people shall do to thy people in the last days.

18 And he took up his parable and said, Balaam the son of Beor says, the man who sees truly says, 19 hearing the oracles of God, 20 hearing the vision of God from Sinai, the Most High, and having seen a vision of God in sleep; his eyes were opened. 21 I will point to him, but not now; I bless him, but he draws not near: a star shall rise out of Jacob, a man shall spring out of Israel; and shall crush the princes of Moab, and shall spoil all the sons of Seth. 22 And Edom shall be an inheritance, and Esau his enemy shall be an inheritance of Israel, and Israel wrought valiantly. 23 And one shall arise out of Jacob, and destroy out of the city him that escapes.

20 And having seen Amalec, he took up his parable and said, Amalec is the first of the nations, and he will destroy the people.

21 And having seen the Kenite, he took up his parable and said, Thy dwelling-place is strong; yet though thou shouldst put thy nest in a rock, 22 and though Boreor should have a skillfully contrived hiding-place, the Assyrians shall bear thee away captive.

And he looked on Ocan, and took his parable and said, Oh, oh, what shall live, when God shall do these things? 24 And one shall come forth from the hands of the Cititians, and shall afflict Assur, and shall afflict the Hebrews, and they shall perish together. 25 And Balaam rose up and departed and returned to his place, and Balak went up to his own house.

And Israel sojourned in Sittim, and the people 26 profaned itself by going a-whoring after the daughters of Moab. 26 And they called them to the sacrifices of their idols; and the people ate of their sacrifices, and worshipped their idols. 27 And Israel consecrated themselves to Bel-phegor; and the Lord was very angry with Israel.

And the Lord said to Moses, Take all the princes of the people, and make them examples of judgment for the Lord in the face of the sun, and the anger of the Lord shall be turned away from Israel. 28 And Moses said to the tribes of Israel, Slay every one his friend and neighbor that hath done this wickedness.

And, behold, a man of the children of Israel came and brought his brother to a Madianitish woman before Moses, and before all the congregation of the children of Israel; and they were weeping at the door of the tabernacle of witness. 2 And Phinees the son of Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest, saw it, and rose out of the midst of the congregation, and took a javelin in his hand, 3 and went in after the Israelitish man into the chamber, and pierced them both through, both the Israelitish man, and the woman through her womb; and the plague was stayed from the children of Israel. 4 And those that died in the plague were four and twenty thousand.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 5 Phinees the son of Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest has caused my wrath to cease from the children of Israel, when I was exceedingly jealous among them, and

I did not consume the children of Israel in my jealousy. 12 Thus do thou say to him, Behold, I give him a covenant of peace: 13 and he and his seed after him shall have a perpetual covenant of priesthood, because he was zealous for his God, and made atonement for the children of Israel. 14 Now the name of the smitten Israelite man, who was smitten with theMidianitish woman, wasZambri son of Salmon, prince of a house of the tribe of Simeon. 15 And the name of theMidianitish woman who was smitten, wasChashi, daughter of Sur, a prince of the nation of Ommoth: it is a chief house among the people of Midian.

And the Lord spake to Moses, saying, Speak to the children of Israel, saying, 5 Plague the Midianites as enemies, and smite them, 6 for they are enemies to you by the treachery wherein they ensnare you throughPhogor, and through Chashi their sister, daughter of a prince of Midian, who was smitten in the day of the plague because ofPhogor.

And it came to pass after the plague, that the Lord spake to Moses and Eleazar the priest, saying, 7 Take the sum of all the congregation of Israel, twelve priests, one of the heads of the tribes of Israel, twenty years old and upward, according to the houses of their lineage, every one that goes forth to battle in Israel.

And Moses and Eleazar the priest spake in Arabothen of Moab at the Jordan by Jericho, saying, 8 This is the numbering from twenty years old and upward as the Lord commanded Moses, and the sons of Israel that came out of Egypt, are as follows: 9 Ruben was the first-born of Israel; and the sons of Ruben, the family of Eskath, and the family of Enosh; to Phallu belongs the family of the Phalluites. 10 To Aaron, the family of Asroni: to Charmi, the family of Charmi. 11 These are the families of Ruben; and their numbering was forty-three thousand and seven hundred and thirty.

And the sons of Phallu were Elia, 12 and the sons of Elia, Azabiel, and Daathan, and Abinadav; these are the families of the children of Israel, that rose up against Moses and Aaron in the gathering of Core, in the rebellion against the Lord. 13 And the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed up them and Core, when their assembly perished, when the fire devoured the two hundred and fifty, and they were 14 made a sign. 15 But the sons of Core died not.

And the sons of Simeon,—the family of the sons of Simeon: 16 to Asroni, belong the family of the Asronites; 17 to Jachin, the family of the Jachinites; 18 to Zara, the family of the Zaraites; 19 to Saul, the family of the Saulites. 20 These are the families of Simeon according to their numbering, two and twenty thousand and two hundred.

And the sons of Juda, Er and Anan; 21 and these were the sons of Juda according to their families: 22 to Selom belong the family of the Selonites; 23 to Phares, the family of the Pharesites; 24 to Zara, the family of the Zaraites. 17 And the sons of Phares were, to Arson, the family of the Aeronites; to Jannun, the family of the Jaminites.

18 These are the families of Juda according to their numbering, seventy-six thousand and five hundred.

19 And the sons of Issachar according to their families, to Thola, the family of the Tholaites; to Phus, the family of the Phuaites. 20 To Jasub, the family of the Jasmaites; to Samrum, the family of the Samraimites. 21 These are the families of Issachar according to their numbering, sixty-four thousand and four hundred.

22 The sons of Zabulon according to their families, to Sared, the family of the Saredites; to Allon, the family of the Allonites; to Aliel, the family of the Alleliters. 23 These are the families of Zabulon according to their numbering, sixty thousand and five hundred.

24 The sons of Gad according to their families, to Saphon, the family of the Saphonites; to Angi, the family of the Angites; to Suni, the family of the Sunites; 25 to Azeni, the family of the Azenites; to Adad, the family of the Addites; 26 to Arad, the family of the Aradites; to Arik, the family of the Arikites.

27 These are the families of the children of Gad according to their numbering, forty-four thousand and five hundred.

28 The sons of Aser according to their families, to Jamin, the family of the Jaminites; to Jeshu, the family of the Jeshaites; to Baria, the family of the Baraites. 29 To Chobber, the family of the Chobberites; to Melchiel, the family of the Melchietes.

30 And the name of the daughter of Aser, Sara. 31 These are the families of Aser according to their numbering, forty-three thousand and four hundred.

32 The sons of Joseph according to their families, Manasse and Ephraim.

33 The sons of Manasse. To Machir the family of the Machiriites; and Machir begot Galsad. 34 And these are the sons of Galsad, to Galadas, the family of the Galadites.

35 And these are the sons of Galadas, to Achier, the family of the Achierites; to Cheleg, the family of the Chelegites. 36 To Esriel, the family of the Esrinites; to Eronym, the family of the Sychimites.

37 To Symer, the family of the Symerarites; and to Ophar, the family of the Ofherites.

38 And to Salpas the son of Opher there were no sons, but daughters; and these were the names of the daughters of Salpas, Mala, and Nua, and Eglis, and Melcha, and Troula.

39 These are the families of Manasse according to their numbering, fifty-two thousand and seven hundred.

40 And these are the children of Ephraim, to Suthala, the family of the Suthalantees; to Tanaah, the family of the Tannahites.

41 These are the sons of Suthala, to Eden, the family of the Edenites.

42 These are the families of Ephraim according to their numbering, thirty-two thousand and five hundred; these are the families of the children of Joseph according to their families.

43 The sons of Benjamin according to their families, to Abiezer, the family of the Abierites; to Asiver, the family of the Asiverites; to Jachiren, the family of the Jachirenites.
For Sophan, the family of the Sophanites.
48 And the sons of Bale were Adar and Noeman; to Adar, the family of the Adarites; and to Noeman, the family of the Noemantites. These are the sons of Benjamin by their families according to their numbering, thirty-five and five hundred.
49 And the sons of Dan according to their families; to Same, the family of the Sameites; these are the families of Dan according to their families. All the families of Same according to their numbering, sixty-four thousand and four hundred.
50 The sons of Nephthali according to their families; to Asiel, the family of the Asialites; to Guni, the family of the Guniites. To Jeser, the family of the Jeserites; to Sellem, the family of the Sellemites. These are the families of Nephthali according to their numbering, forty thousand and three hundred.
51 This is the numbering of the children of Israel, six hundred and one thousand and seven hundred and thirty.
52 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, To these the land shall be divided, so that they may inherit according to the number of the names. To the greater number thou shalt give the greater inheritance, and to the less number thou shalt give the less inheritance; to each one, as they have been numbered, shall their inheritance be given. The land shall be divided to the names by lot, which shall be in accordance to the tribes of their families. Thou shalt divide their inheritance by lot between the many and the few.
53 And the sons of Levi according to their families; to Gedson, the family of the Gedsonites; to Caath, the family of the Caathites; to Merari, the family of the Merarites. These are the families of the sons of Levi; the family of the Lobenites, the family of the Chebronites, the family of the Coreites, and the family of the Musites; and Caath begot Amram. And the name of his wife was Jochabed, daughter of Levi, who bore these to Levi in Egypt, and she bore to Amram, Aaron and Moses, and Ma- riam their sister.
54 And to Aaron he gave one portion of the tribe, to his sons according to the gift of the inheritance of the children of Israel, which was given to them by the Lord.
55 And to his sons were given these portions, and the name of their portion was:
Ophler, the son of Garaad, the son of Machir, of the tribe of Manasseh, of the sons of Joseph, came near; and they were before the breaches of Mii, of Nun, and Egl, and Meela, and Thersa; and they stood before Moses, and before Eleazar the priest, and before the princes, and before all the congregation at the door of the tabernacle of witness, saying, Our father died in the wilderness, and he was not in the midst of the congregation; and he had no sons. Let not the name of our father be blotted out of the midst of his people, because he has no son: give us an inheritance in the midst of our father’s brethren. And Moses brought their case before the Lord.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, The daughters of Zuppaad have spoken rightly: thou shalt surely give them a possession of inheritance in the midst of their father’s brethren, and thou shalt assign their father’s inheritance to them. And thou shalt speak to the children of Israel, saying, If a man die, and have no son, ye shall assign his inheritance to his daughter. And if he have no daughter, ye shall give his inheritance to his brother. And if he have no brother, ye shall give his inheritance to his father’s brother. And if there be no brethren of his father’s brother, then thou shalt give the inheritance to his nearest relation of his tribe, to inherit his possessions; and this shall be to the children of Israel an account of judgment, as the Lord commanded Moses.

And the Lord said to Moses, Go up to the mountain that is in the country beyond Jordan, his mount Naba, and behold the land Chanaan, which I give to the sons of Israel for a possession. And thou shalt see it, and thou also shalt be added to thy people, as Aaron thy brother was added to them in mount Or. because ye transgressed my commandment in the wilderness of Sin; and they congregated, and refused to sanctify me: ye sanctified me not at the water before them. This is the water of Strife in Cades in the wilderness of Sin. And Moses said to the Lord, Let the Lord God of spirits and of all flesh look out for a man over this congregation, who shall go out before them, and who shall come in before them, and who shall lead them out, and who shall bring them in: so that the congregation of the Lord shall not be as sheep without a shepherd. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, Take to thyself Joshua the son of Nau, a man who has the Spirit in him, and thou shalt lay thy hands upon him, and thou shalt set him before Eleazar the priest, and thou shalt give him a charge before all the congregation, and thou shalt give a charge concerning him before them. And thou shalt put of thy glory upon him, that the children of Israel may hearken to him. And he shall stand before Eleazar the priest, and they shall ask of him before the Lord the judgment of the Ur'm: they shall go forth at his word, and at his word they shall come in, he and the children of Israel with one accord, and all the congregation.

And Moses did as the Lord commanded.
At the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 22 charge the children of Israel, and thou shalt speak to them, saying, ye shall observe to offer to me in my feasts my gifts, my presents, my burnt-offerings for a sweet-smelling savour. 3 and thou shalt say to them, these are the burnt-offerings, all that ye shall bring to the Lord; two lambs a year old, of a year old, and one calf, for a whole-burnt offering perpetually. 4 Thou shalt offer one lamb in the morning, and thou shalt offer the second lamb towards evening. 5 and thou shalt offer the tenth part of an ephah of fine flour for a meat-offering mingled with oil, with the fourth part of a hin. 6 it is a perpetual whole-burnt-offering, a sacrifice offered in the mount of Sina for a sweet-smelling savour to the Lord. 7 and its drink-offering, the fourth part of a hin to each lamb; in the holy place shalt thou pour strong drink as a drink-offering to the Lord. 8 and the second lamb thou shalt offer toward evening; thou shalt offer it according to its meat-offering and according to its drink-offering for a smell of sweet savour to the Lord. 9 and on the sabbath day ye shall offer two lambs of a year old without blemish, and two tenth deals of fine flour mingled with oil for a meat-offering, and a drink-offering. 10 it is a whole-burnt-offering of the sabbaths on the sabbath days, besides the continued whole-burnt-offering, and its drink offering.

11 and at the new moons ye shall bring a whole-burnt-offering to the Lord, two calves of the herd, and one ram, seven lambs of a year old without blemish. 12 three tenth deals of fine flour mingled with oil for one calf, and two tenth deals of fine flour mingled with oil for one ram. 13 a tenth deal of fine flour mingled with oil for each lamb, as a meat-offering, a sweet-smelling savour, a burnt-offering to the Lord. 14 their drink-offering shall be a tenth deal of a hin for one calf; and the third of a hin for one ram; and the fourth part of a hin of wine for one lamb; this is the whole-burnt-offering monthly throughout the months of the year. 15 and he shall offer one kid of the goats for a sin-offering to the Lord; it shall be offered beside the continual whole-burnt-offering and its drink-offering.

16 and in the first month, on the fourteenth day of the month, is the passover to the Lord. 17 and on the fifteenth day of this month is a feast; seven days ye shall eat unleavened bread. 18 and the first day shall be to you a holy convocation; ye shall do no servile work. 19 and ye shall bring whole burnt-offerings, a sacrifice to the Lord, two leaves of the herb, and an offering of a year old; they shall be to you without blemish. 20 and their meat-offering shall be fine flour mingled with oil; three tenth deals for one calf, and two tenth deals for one ram. 21 thou shalt offer a tenth for each lamb, for the seven lambs. 22 and thou shalt offer one kid of the goats for a sin-offering, to make atonement for you. 23 Beside the perpetual whole-burnt-offering in the morning, which is a whole-burnt-sacrifice for a continuance, these shall ye thus offer daily for seven days, a gift, a sacrifice for a sweet-smelling savour to the Lord; beside the continual whole-burnt-offering, thou shalt offer its drink-offering. 24 And the seventh day shall be to you a holy convocation; ye shall do no servile work in it. 25 And on the day of the new corn, when ye shall offer a new sacrifice at the festival of weeks to the Lord, there shall be to you a holy convocation; ye shall do no servile work.

And in the seventh month, on the first day of the month, there shall be to you a holy convocation; ye shall do no servile work: it shall be to you a day of blowing the trumpets. 26 And ye shall offer whole-burnt-offerings for a sweet savour to the Lord, one calf of the herd, one ram, seven lambs without blemish. 27 Their meat-offering shall be fine flour mingled with oil; there shall be three tenth deals for one calf, and two tenth deals for one ram. 28 A tenth deal for each lamb separately, for the seven lambs; and a kid of the goats for a sin-offering for you; beside the continual whole-burnt-offering; and ye shall offer to me their meat-offering. They shall be to you unblemished, and ye shall offer their drink-offerings.

And on the tenth of this month there shall be to you a holy convocation; and ye shall afflict your souls, and ye shall do no work. And ye shall bring near whole-burnt-offerings for a sweet-smelling savour to the Lord; burnt-sacrifices to the Lord, one calf of the herd, one ram, seven lambs of a year old; they shall be to you without blemish. Their meat-offering shall be fine flour mingled with oil; three tenth deals for one calf, and two tenth deals for one ram. 29 A tenth deal for each lamb separately, for the seven lambs. 30 And one kid of the goats for a sin-offering, to make atonement for you; beside the sin-offering for atonement, and the continual whole-burnt-offering, its meat-offering, and its drink-offering according to its ordinance for a sweet savour, a burnt-sacrifice to the Lord.

And on the fifteenth day of this seventh month ye shall have a holy convocation; ye shall do no servile work; and ye shall keep it a feast to the Lord seven days. 32 And ye shall bring near whole-burnt-offerings, a

The meat-offerings and their drink-offerings shall be for the fourth month, and the rams and the lambs according to their number, according to their ordinance. 16 And one kid of the goats for a sin-offering; beside the perpetual whole-burnt-offering; there shall be their meat-offerings and their drink-offerings.

On the third day eleven calves, two rams, fourteen lambs of a year old without blemish.

Their meat-offerings and their drink-offerings shall be for the calves and the rams and the lambs according to their number, according to their ordinance.

And one kid of the goats for a sin-offering; beside the perpetual whole-burnt-offering; there shall be their meat-offerings and their drink-offerings.

19 On the fourth day ten calves, two rams, fourteen lambs of a year old without spot.

There shall be their meat-offerings and their drink-offerings to the calves and the rams and the lambs according to their number, according to their ordinance. 20 And one kid of the goats for a sin-offering; beside the perpetual whole-burnt-offering; there shall be their meat-offerings and their drink-offerings.

On the fifth day nine calves, two rams, fourteen lambs of a year old without spot.

Their meat-offerings and their drink-offerings shall be for the calves and the rams and the lambs according to their number, according to their ordinance.

And one kid of the goats for a sin-offering; beside the perpetual whole-burnt-offering; there shall be their meat-offerings and their drink-offerings.

On the sixth day eight calves, two rams, fourteen lambs of a year old without blemish.

There shall be their meat-offerings and their drink-offerings to the calves and the rams and the lambs according to their number, according to their ordinance. And one kid of the goats for a sin-offering; beside the perpetual whole-burnt-offering; there shall be their meat-offerings and their drink-offerings.

On the seventh day seven calves, two rams, fourteen lambs of a year old without blemish.

Their meat-offerings and their drink-offerings shall be for the calves and the rams and the lambs according to their number, according to their ordinance.

And one kid of the goats for a sin-offering; beside the continual whole-burnt-offering; there shall be their meat-offerings and their drink-offerings.

And on the eighth day there shall be to you β"release; ye shall do...
And ye shall offer whole-burnt-offerings as sacrifices to the Lord, one calf, one ram, seven lambs of a year old without spot. 3 And there shall be their meat-offerings and their drink-offerings: to offer for himself and the lambs according to their number, according to their ordinance. 5 And one kid of the goats for a sin-offering; beside the continual whole-burnt-offering: there shall be their meat-offerings and their drink-offerings.

These sacrifices shall ye offer, saying, 6 This is the thing which the Lord has commanded. 7 Whosoever man shall vow a vow to the Lord, or swear an oath, if he bind himself with an obligation upon his soul, he shall not break his word; all that shall come out of his mouth he shall do. 8 And if a woman vow a vow to the Lord, or bind herself with an obligation in her youth in her father's house; and her father should hear her vows and her obligations, whereby with she has bound her soul, and her father should hold his peace at her, then all her vows shall stand, and all the obligations with which she has bound her soul, shall remain to her. 9 But if her father strictly forbid her in the day in which she shall hear all her vows and her obligations, which she has contracted upon her soul, they shall not stand; and the Lord shall hold her guiltless, because her father forbade her. 10 And the vow of a widow, and of her that is put away, whatsoever she shall bind upon her soul, shall stand to her. 11 And if her vow be made in the house of her husband, or the obligation upon her soul with an oath, 12 and her husband should hear, and hold his peace at her, and not disallow her, then all her vows shall stand, and all the obligations which she contracted against her soul, shall stand against her. 13 But if her husband should utterly cancel the vow in the day in which he shall hear it, none of the things which shall proceed out of her lips in her vows, and in the obligations contracted upon her soul, shall stand to her; her husband has cancelled them, and the Lord shall hold her guiltless. 14 Every vow and every binding oath to afflict her soul, her husband shall confirm it to her, or her husband shall cancel it. 15 But if he be wholly silent at her from day to day, then shall he bind upon her all her vows; and he shall confirm to her the obligations which she has bound upon herself, because he held his peace at her in the day in which he heard her. 16 And if her husband should in any wise cancel them after the day in which he heard them, then he shall bear his iniquity. 17 These are the ordinances which the Lord commanded Moses, between a man and his wife, and between a father and daughter in her youth in the house of her father.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 18 And Moses spoke to the people, saying, Arm some of you, and set yourselves in array before the Lord against Midian, to inflict vengeance on Midian. 19 Send a thousand of each tribe from all the tribes of the children of Israel to set themselves in array, 20 And they numbered the thousands of Israel a thousand of each tribe, twelve thousands; these were armed for war. 21 And Moses sent them away a thousand of every tribe with their forces, and Phinees the son of Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest, and the holy instruments, and the signal trumpets were in their hands.

And they set themselves in array against Midian, as the Lord commanded Moses; and they slew every male. 22 And they slew the kings of Midian together with their slain subjects; even Evi and Reuel, and Sur, and Ur, and Rebo, five kings of Midian; and they slew with the sword Balaam the son of Beor with their other slain. 23 And they made a prey of the women of Midian, and their store, and their cattle, and all their possessions; and they spoiled their forces. 24 And they burnt with fire all their cities in the places of their habitation, and they burnt their villages with fire. 25 And they took all their plunder, and all their spoils, and the spoils of Midian, and the spoils of the Amalekites, 26 And they brought to Moses and to Eleazar the priest, and to all the children of Israel, the captives, and the spoils, and the plunder, to the camp to Arabor Moab, which is at Jordan by Jericho. 27 And Moses and Eleazar the priest and all the rulers of the synagogue went forth out of the camp to meet them. 28 And Moses and Eleazar, and the captains of the host, the heads of thousands and the heads of hundreds who came from the battle-array. 29 And Moses said to them, Why have ye saved every female alive? 30 For they were the occasion to the children of Israel by the word of Balaam of their revolting and despising the word of the Lord, because of Phozor; and there was a plague in the congregation of the Lord. 31 Now then slay every male in all the spoil, slay every woman, who has known the lying with man. 32 And as for all the captivity of women, who have not known the lying with... man, save ye them alive. And ye shall encamp outside the great camp seven days; every one who has slain and who touches a dead body, 7 shall be purified on the third day, and ye and your garments shall be purified on the seventh day. And ye shall purify every garment and every leathern utensil, and all furniture of goat skin, and every wooden vessel.

21 And Eleazar the priest, said to the men of the host that came from the battle, This is what the Lord has commanded Moses. 22 Beside the gold, and the silver, and the brass, and the iron, and lead, and tin, 23 every thing that shall pass through the fire shall so be clean; nevertheless it shall be purified with the water of sanctification; and whatsoever will not pass through the fire shall be unclean. 24 And on the seventh day ye shall wash your garments, and be clean; and afterwards ye shall come into the camp.

25 And the Lord spake to Moses, saying, 26 Take the sum of the spoils of the captivity, both of man and beast, thou and Eleazar the priest, the heads of the families of the congregation. 27 And ye shall divide the spoils between the warriors that went out to battle, and the whole congregation. 28 And ye shall take a tribute for the Lord from the warriors that went out to battle; one soul out of five hundred, from the men, and from the cattle, even from the oxen and from the asses, and from the asses; and ye shall take them from their half. 29 And thou shalt give them to Eleazar the priest as the first-fruits of the Lord. 30 And from the half belonging to the children of Israel thou shalt take one five in fifty from the men, and from the oxen, and from the sheep, and from the cattle, and from the asses, and thou shalt give them to the Levites that keep the charges in the tabernacle of the Lord.

31 And Moses and Eleazar the priest did as the Lord commanded Moses. And that which remained of the spoil which the warriors took of the sheep and of the oxen and of the asses, and of the seventy-five thousand: and oxen, seventy-two thousand: and asses, sixty-one thousand. And persons of women who had not known lying with man, all the souls, thirty-two thousand. And the half, even the portion of them that went out to war, from the number of the sheep, was three hundred and thirty-seven thousand and five hundred. And the tribute to the Lord from the sheep was six hundred and seventy-five. And the oxen, six and thirty thousand, and the tribute to the Lord, seventy-two. And asses, thirty thousand and five hundred, and the tribute to the Lord, sixty-one thousand, and the tribute of the Lord, thirty-two souls.

34 And Moses gave the tribute to the Lord, the heave-offering of God, to Eleazar the priest, as the Lord commanded Moses: 35 from the half belonging to the children of Israel, whom Moses separated from the men of war. 36 And the half taken from the sheep, belonging to the congregation, was thirteen hundred and thirty-seven thousand and five hundred. 44 And the oxen, thirty-six thousand; 45 asses, thirty thousand and five hundred; 46 and persons, sixteen thousand. 47 And Moses took of the half belonging to the children of Israel the fiftieth part, of men and of cattle, and he gave them over to the Levites who keep the charges of the tabernacle of the Lord, as the Lord commanded Moses. 48 And all those who were appointed to be officers of thousands of the host, captains to thousands and captains of hundreds, approached Moses, and said to Moses, 'Thy servants have taken the sum of the men of war with us, and not one is missing.' And we have brought our gift to the Lord, every man who has found an article of gold, whe-er an armlet, or a chain, or a ring, or a bracelet, or a clasp for hair, to make stone-ment for us before the Lord. 49 And Moses and Eleazar the priest took the gold from them, even every wrought article. 50 And all the wrought gold, even the offering that they offered and the gold of the thousand and seven hundred and fifty shekels from the captains of thousands and the captains of hundreds. 52 For the men of war took plunder every one for himself. 53 And Moses and Eleazar the priest took the gold from the captains of thousands and captains of hundreds, and brought the vessels into the tabernacle of witness, a memorial of the children of Israel before the Lord.

And the children of Ruben and the children of Gad had a multitude of cattle, very great; and they saw the land of Gazer, and the land of Galad; and the place was a place for cattle: 2 and the children of Ruben and the children of Gad came, and spoke to Moses, and to Eleazar the priest, and to the princes of the congregation, saying,'Ataroth, and Dibon, and Jazer, and Namra, and Esebon, and Eleale, and Sebama, and Ruben and Gad: 5 and they said, 'If the Lord has delivered up before the children of Israel, is pasture land, and thy servants have cattle. And they said, 'If we have found grace in thy sight, let this land be given to thy servants for a possession, and we do not cause us to pass over Jordan.

6 And Moses said to the sons of Gad and the sons of Ruben, Shall your brethren go to war, and shall ye sit here? 7 And why do ye pervert the minds of the children of Israel, that they should not cross over into the land, which the Lord gives them? 8 Did not your fathers thus, when I sent them from Cades Barne to spy out the land? 9 And they went up to the valley of the cluster, and spied the land, and turned aside the heart of the children of Israel, that they should not go into the land, which the Lord gave them. 10 And the Lord was very angry in that day, and said, 11 Surely these men who are one hundred and twenty years old and upward, who know good and evil, shall not see the land which I swore to give to Abraam and Isaac and Jacob, for they have not closely followed after me:

4 Gr. the one out of the fifty. 4 Gr. them. 5 Gr. cattle, a multitude, greatly a multitude.
And Moses appointed to them judges Eleazar the priest, and Joshua the son of Naue, and the chiefs of the families of the tribes of Israel. 29 And Moses said to them, If the sons of Ruben and the sons of Gad shall pass over Jordan with you, every one armed for war before the Lord, and ye shall subdue the land before you, then ye shall give to them the land of Galad for a possession. 30 But if they will not pass over armed with you to war before the Lord, then shall ye cause to pass over their possessions and their wives and their cattle before you into the land of Chanan, and they shall inherit with you in the land of Chanan. 31 And the sons of Ruben and plēn Xάλεβ νίώς Ἰερουσα-μίν, καὶ Ἰρωθὲν ὁ Ἰσαακ αὐτοῦ ὁ γενόμενος, καὶ Ἰσαακ ὁ τοῦ Ναυ, ὑπὸ τῶν Ἰσραήλ, ὅτι συνεπόκουλοντο ᾿Οσίων Κυρίου. and they of Gad answered, saying, Whatever the Lord says to his servants, that will we do. 22 We will go over armed before the Lord into the land of Chanaan, and ye shall give us our inheritance beyond Jordan.

32 And Moses gave to them, even to the sons of Gad and the sons of Ruben, and to the half tribe of Manasse of the sons of Joseph, the kingdom of Seon king of the Amorites, and the kingdom of Og king of Basan, the land and its cities with its coast, the cities of the land round about.

33 And they passed by the utmost boundary of Beshan, and Arath, and Jazer, and they set them up, and Namram, and Buthar, strong cities, and folds for sheep.

34 And the sons of Ruben built Eebron, and Eleale, and Kariah, and Beel-sepphon, and Erek, and Beel-meon, surrounded with walls, and Sebama; and they called the names of the cities which they built after the names of their fathers, and after the names of their sons.

35 And a son of Machir the son of Manasse went to Galaad, and took it, and destroyed the Amorite who dwelt in it. 36 And Moses gave Galaad to Machir the son of Manasse, he dwelt there. 37 And Jair the son of Manasse went and took their seven villages, and called them the villages of Jair.

38 And Nabuau went and took Oath and her villages, and called them Nabo both after his name.

And these are the stages of the children of Israel, as they went out from the land of Egypt with their host by the hand of Moses and Aaron. 2 And Moses wrote their removals and their stages, by the word of the Lord; and these are the stages of their journeying. 3 They departed from Ramesses in the first month, on the fifteenth day of the first month; on the day after the passover of the children of Israel went forth with a high hand before all the Egyptians. And the Egyptians buried those that died of them, even all that the Lord smote, every first-born in the land of Egypt; also the Lord executed vengeance on their gods. 4 And the children of Israel departed from Ramases, in the first month, on the fifteenth day of the month, with an act of heart; 5 for there was no act of heart in this, and no stages, before the Lord. 6 They departed from Ramasses, and encamped in Socoth; 7 and they departed from Socoth and encamped in Buthan, which is a part of the wilderness. 8 And they departed from Buthan and encamped at the mouth of Iroth, which is opposite Beel-sephon, and encamped opposite Magdol. 9 And they departed from before Iroth, and crossed the middle of the sea into the wilderness after their stages; and they went a journey of three days through the wilderness, and encamped in Sieris.

9 And they departed from Sieris, and came toielim; and inielim were twelve fountains of water, and seventy palm-trees, and they encamped there by the water. 10 And they departed from ielim, and encamped by the Red Sea. 11 And they departed from the Red Sea, and encamped in the wilderness of Sin.

12 And they departed from the wilderness of Sin, and encamped in Raphak. 13 And they departed from Raphak, and encamped in the wilderness of Sin.
they departed from Raphidim, and encamped in the wilderness of Sinai. 18 And they departed from the wilderness of Sinai, and encamped at the Graves of Lust. 19 And they departed from the Graves of Lust, and encamped in Aseroth. 20 And they departed from Aseroth, and encamped in Rathamah. 21 And they departed from Rathamah, and encamped in Remmon Phares. 22 And they departed from Remmon Phares, and encamped in Lebona. 23 And they departed from Lebona, and encamped in Ressan. 24 And they departed from Ressan, and encamped in Makellath. 25 And they departed from Makellath, and encamped in Saphar. 26 And they departed from Saphar, and encamped in Charadath. 27 And they departed from Charadath, and encamped in Makeloth. 28 And they departed from Makeloth, and encamped in Kataath. 29 And they departed from Kataath, and encamped in Tarath. 30 And they departed from Tarath, and encamped in Mattaen. 31 And they departed from Mattaen, and encamped in Selma. 32 And they departed from Selma, and encamped in Masuruth. 33 And they departed from Masuruth, and encamped in Banea. 34 And they departed from Banea, and encamped in the mountain Gadgad. 35 And they departed from the mountain Gadgad, and encamped in Etebatha. 36 And they departed from Etebatha, and encamped in Ebron. 37 And they departed from Ebron, and encamped in Gesion Gaber. 38 And they departed from Gesion Gaber, and encamped in the wilderness of Sin; and they departed from the wilderness of Sin, and encamped in Etebath, from which is Cades. 39 And they departed from Cades, and encamped in mount Oren near the land of Edom. 40 And Aaron the priest went up by the command of the Lord, and died there in the fortieth year of the departure of the children of Israel from the land of Egypt, in the wilderness of Edom, on the first day of the month. 41 And Aaron was a hundred and twenty-three years old, when he died in mount Oren. 42 And Arad the Chananish king (he too dwelt in the land of Chanaan) having heard when the children of Israel were entering the land—then they departed from mount Oren, and encamped in Selma. 43 And they departed from Selma, and encamped in Phino. 44 And they departed from Phino, and encamped in Oboth. 45 And they departed from Oboth, and encamped in Gai, on the other side Jordan on the borders of Moab. 46 And they departed from Gai, and encamped in Dabeon Gad. 47 And they departed from Dabeon Gad, and encamped in Gelmon Deblathaim. 48 And they departed from Gelmon Deblathaim, and encamped on the mountains of Abarim, over against Nabau. 49 And they departed from the mountains of Abarim, and encamped on the west of Moab, at Jordan by Jerica. 50 And they encamped by Jordan between Arabah, as far as Belia to the west of Moab. 51 And the Lord spoke to Moses at the west of Moab by Jordan at Jericho, saying, according to their 7 families; and the half tribe of Manasse have received their inheritances. 12 Two tribes and half a tribe have received their inheritance beyond Jordan by Jericho from the south eastwards.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 13 These are the names of the men who are to divide the land to each tribe for an inheritance, Eleazar the priest, and Joshua the son of Nun. 14 And ye shall take one ruler from each tribe to divide the land to you by lot.

And these are the names of the men of the tribe of Judah, Caleb the son of Jephunneh. 20 Of the tribe of Simeon, Salmon the son of Joheleth. 23 Of the tribe of Benjamin, Eili, the son of Shaphan. 24 Of the tribe of Dan the prince was Baceir, the son of Elgi. 3 Of the sons of Joseph of the tribe of Ephraim, the prince was Camul the son of Sa十月. 25 Of the tribe of Zabulon, the prince was Eleazar the son of Pluram. 36 Of the tribe of Issachar, the prince was Phaltiel the son of Oz. 37 Of the tribe of Asher, the prince was Achiel the son of Selemi. 38 Of the tribe of Nephthali, the prince was Phattaiel the son of Jemu. 39 These did the Lord command to distribute the inheritances to the children of Israel in the land of Canaan.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 2 Give orders to the children of Israel, and they shall give to the Levites cities to dwell in, and the towns of the suburbs of the cities they shall give. 3 And the cities shall be for them to dwell in, and their enclosures shall be for their cattle and all their beasts. 4 And the suburbs of the cities which ye shall give to the Levites, shall be from the wall of the city and outwards two thousand cubits round about. 5 And thou shalt measure in the breadth of the city to the east side two thousand cubits, and on the south side two thousand cubits, and on the west side two thousand cubits, and on the north side two thousand cubits; and your city shall be in the midst of this, and the suburbs of the cities as described. 6 And ye shall give the cities to the Levites, the six cities of refuge which ye shall give for the slayer to flee thither, and in addition to these, forty-two cities. 7 Ye shall give to the Levites in all forty-eight cities, them and their suburbs. 8 And for the cities which ye shall give out of the possession of the children of Israel, from those that have much ye shall give much, and from those that have less ye shall give less: they shall give of their cities to the Levites each one according to his inheritance which they shall inherit.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 10 Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, Ye are to cross over Jordan into the land of Canaan. 11 And ye shall appoint to yourselves cities: they shall be to your cities of refuge for the slayer to flee to, every one who has a killed another unintentionally. 12 And the cities shall be to the Levites.

10 Gr. inherit the land for you.

13 Gr. districts, i.e. spaces marked off.

Gr. special offerings of land, g. d. glebo lands. This latter sense is probably the right one here.

A Gr. smitten a life.
22 And these be the cities which ye shall assign, even six cities, shall be cities of refuge for you. 23 And ye shall assign three cities on the one side of Jordan, and ye shall assign three cities on the other side of Jordan, that ye may dwell in them; and ye shall assign three cities, 24 that the soul which sins accidentally may flee there. 25 And these be the cities: Bezer, in the wilderness, in the plain, which is by the way from the gate of Edom; 26 and Beeroth, and Middin, 27 and Shechem in Ephraim; 28 and Hebron in Judah; 29 and Gedor in the land of Dan.

31 And those which be left of the multitude shall return to possess the land of their kinsmen, whom they have utterly destroyed. 32 But if he should smite him with an iron instrument, or cast any thing upon him from an ambuscade, and the man should die, or he should die by the hand of him that smote him, or in the heat of an enmity, or if he should thrust him through enmity, or cast any thing upon him from an ambuscade, and the man should die, and the slayer was not227 is worthy of death, for he shall be surely put to death. Ye shall not accept a ransom to excuse his fleeing to the city of refuge, so that he should again dwell in the land, until the death of the high priest. So shall ye dwell in the midst of the children of Israel; and the land shall not be purged from blood, because of the blood of him that shed it.

And ye shall not defile the land wherein ye dwell, on which I dwell in the midst of you; for I the Lord dwelleth in the midst of the children of Israel.

And the heads of the tribe of the sons of Gaalaad the son of Machir the son of Manasse, of the tribe of the sons of Joseph, drew near, and spoke before Moses, and before Eleazar the priest, and before the heads of the houses of the families of the children of Israel: and they said, The Lord commanded our lord to render the land of inheritance by lot to the children of Israel; and the Lord appointed our lord to give the inheritance of Salpaad our brother to his daughters. And they will become wolves among the children of Israel; so their inheritance shall be taken away from the possession of our fathers, and shall be added to the inheritance of the tribe into which the women shall marry, and shall be taken away from the portion of our inheritance. And if there shall be a release of the children of Israel, then shall their inheritance be added to the portion of the tribe into which the women shall marry, and their inheritance shall be taken away from the inheritance of our family's tribe.

And Moses charged the children of Israel by the commandments of the Lord, saying, Thus shall the tribe of the children of Joseph be: This is the thing which the Lord hath charged to be given as an inheritance of the tribe of Joseph's sons.

So they shall give to the tribe of Joseph's sons, even to the house of Manasseh, the sons of whom were born in Israel; only among their posterity shall they possess an inheritance, so as to be added to them beside the inheritance of their fathers. And thus shall the children of Israel inherit, each man in his tribe, according to the commandment of the Lord, by the hand of Moses.

As the Lord commanded Moses, so did they to the daughters of Salpaad. So Thare, and Eglah, and Melcha, and Nua, and Malaa, the daughters of Salpaad, married their cousins: they were married to men of the tribe of Manasseh of the sons of Joseph; and their inheritance was attached to the tribe of their father's family. These are the commandments, and the ordinances, and the judgments, which the Lord commanded by the hand of Moses, at the west of Moab, by Jericho.

These are the words which Moses spoke to all Israel on this side Jordan in the desert towards the west near the Red Sea, between Pharan Tophol, and Lobon, and Aulon, and the gold works. 2 It is a journey of eleven days from Choreb to mount Seir as far as Cades Barne. 3 And it came to pass in the fortieth year, in the eleventh month, on the first day of the month, Moses spoke to all the children of Israel, according to all things which the Lord commanded him for them: 4 after he had smitten Seon king of the Amorites who dwelt in Esebon, and Og the king of Basan who dwelt in Asaroth and in Edrain; 5 beyond Jordan in the land of Moab, Moses began to declare this law, saying, 6 The Lord your God spoke to us in Choreb, saying, Let it suffice you 7 to have dwelt so long in this mountain. 8 Turn ye and depart and enter into the mountain of the Amorites, and go to all that dwell near about Arba, to the mountain and the plain and to the south, and the land of the Chananites near the sea, and Antilbanus, as far as the great river, the river Euphrates. 9 Behold, God has delivered the land before you; go in and inherit the land, which I swear to your fathers, Abraam, and Isaac, and Jacob, to give it to them and to their seed after them.

And I spoke to you at that time, saying, I shall not be able by myself to bear you. 10 The Lord your God has multiplied you, and, behold, ye are to-day as the stars of heaven for multitude. 11 The Lord God of your fathers 12 has added more than you are, and bless you as he has spoken to you. 12 How shall I alone be able to bear your labour, and your burden, and your gainsaying? 13 I take to yourselves wise and understanding and prudent men for your tribes, and I will set leaders over you. 14 And ye answered me and said, The thing which thou hast told us is good to do. 15 So I took of you wise and understanding and prudent men, and I set them to rule over you as rulers of thousands, and rulers of hundreds, and rulers of fifties, and officers of tens, and officers to your judges. 16 And I charged your judges at that time, saying, Hear causes between your brethren, and judge rightly between a man and his brother, and the stranger that is with him. 17 Thou shalt not have respect to persons in judgment, thou shalt judge small and great equally; thou shalt not shrink from before the person of a man, for the judgment is God's; and whatsoever matter shall be too hard for you, ye shall bring it to me, and I will hear it. 18 And I charged you upon that time all the commands which ye shall perform.

And we departed from Choreb, and went through all that great wilderness and terrible, which ye saw, by the way of the mountain of the Amorite, as the Lord our God charged us, and we came as far as Cades Barne. 20 And I said to you, Ye have come as far as the mountain of the Amorite, which the Lord our God gives to you: behold, the Lord your God has delivered to us the land before you: go up and inherit it as the Lord God of your fathers said to you; fear not, neither be afraid. 21 And ye all came to me, and said, Let us send men before us, and let them go up and of the cities into which we shall enter. 22 And the saying pleased me. For I divided you twelve tribes, one man of a tribe. 23 And they turned and went up to the mountain, and they came as far as the valley of the cluster, and surveyed it. 24 And they took in their hands of the fruit of the land, and brought it to you, and said, The land is good which the Lord our God gives us.

Yet ye would not go up, but rebelled against the words of the Lord our God. 25 And ye murmured in your tents, and said, Because the Lord hated us, he has brought us out of the land of Egypt to deliver us into the hands of the Amorites, to destroy us. 26 Whither do we go up? and your brethren drew away from you away, saying, It is a great nation and populous, and mightier than we; and there are cities great and walled up to heaven: moreover we saw there the sons of the giants. 27 And the Lord was wroth with you for your words, and ye shall not go up in the land which ye went out to search after. 28 And ye said, Would God we had been as he said, we would go up and fight for ourself against the people and cities that dwell therein. 29 And the Lord was wroth with you, and delivered you up to the Amorites, and to the Hittites, and to the Canaanites, and to the Perizzites, and to the Hivites, and to the Jebusites, into their hand, and ye were destroyed. 30 After all that the Lord had done for you in Egypt, in the wilderness, and in all that ye went through by the way, 31 And in this matter ye believed not the Lord your God, 32 who goes before you in the way to choose you a place, guiding you in fire by night, shewing you the way by which ye go, and a cloud by day.

And the Lord heard the voice of your words, and being greatly provoked he swore, saying, 36 Not one of these men shall see this good land, which I swore to their fathers, except Caleb the son of Jephonne, 37 son of Aser, of the children of the tribe of Judah. 38 This Caleb encouraged the people to go up to the hill country against the south, and to its inhabitants; but the people would not go up. 39 And the Lord gave him in the land for his son for forty and five years, because he had encouraged the people to go up unto the hill country. 40 And Caleb spake before the Lord the same day, saying, Behold, I have caused mine heart to speak of the good land, which ye have spoken to go unto. 41 Yea, Lord, thou hast heard the voice of the words of this people which they spake toward me; for thou art a great God, and doing great things, and making a name for thyself. 42 Behold, where are my children, and the sons of the house where I brought up; these ye shall put in, and give them the land which ye swore to give to the fathers. 43 Let me go over, and see the land with my sons; and let me die there, that I may see the good land. 44 And the Lord said, Because thou hast wholly obeyed my voice, I will not utterly destroy thee, nor overthrow thee from among the Amorites; 45 But I will give thee one place over against the other side Jordan, only thou shalt buy up the land for an inheritance of possession to thee.

Had I believed you, and had ye dealt truly with me, surely I would have gone up with you unto the inheritance of Israel your God. 47 Only the children of Levi ye have not brought up, because there is no part for them in a possession. 48 For this cause the Lord is angry with me, and would not hear me, saying, 49 Go up to this people, and destroy it, get you up, and enter in the place which they dwell, and destructive the cities thereof. 50 And I wept with my face toward the Lord my God, and thus spake I, 51 O Lord, do not thou multiply this fury; I beseech thee, lest the Lord be angry, and it come to pass, that the Lord destroy all the children of Israel.

And the Lord seeth your words, and is angry with me, and spake unto me, saying, 54 Go up, and speak in the ears of this people, 55 Upon the words of this people, which they specially tell thee. 56 For they are a hardened and rebellious people; they are still rebellious against the Lord your God, though he smote them. 57 Wherefore then didst thou ever hearken unto the voice of their words? the Lord do all that he spake through me against you. 58 So I went down to the children of Amalek, and smote them as the Lord commanded. 59 And I came, I spake to thee, saying, I have found 60 a people, the children of the Amalekites, dwelling in the valley, and I turned back to go to battle against them, as the Lord commanded. 61 And I smote them, and took their espials, and they gave me no victual, neither 62 gave they me water; and I smote them, as the Lord commanded. 63 And I took their king Agag, but I brought him to thee. 64 And he is before thee, in the vale of Megaiddo. 65 And thou shalt smite Agag, and utterly destroy all the children of Amalek, and thou shalt not spare; according to the word which the Lord has commanded thee. 66 And thou shalt be free from the Lord, when thou goest over Jordan, and shalt dwell in the land which the Lord thy God gives thee; only thou shalt remember the Lord thy God. 67 Or ever the Lord brought you into the land of the inheritance, which he promised to give thee and to your fathers, 68 be not stiffnecked like this people; 69 for the Lord brings you into a good land, a land with large rivers and flowing waters, large rivers and large streams, which thou hadst not brought up, neither thine fathers. 70 For the桌子 of the mountain and the deep valley, and the three meadows, and the mountain of Lebanon, and Mt. Hermon, and all the mountains of Syria, and all the inhabitants thereof, and the rivers of Egypt, and all their lands, and all the inhabitants thereof, 71 and the Lord will drive them out from before you, and give you their land for an inheritance, as the Lord your God has promised thee.
And ye answered and said, We have sinned before the Lord our God; we will go up and fight according to all that the Lord our God has commanded us; and having taken every one his weapons of war, and being gathered together, ye went up to the mountain. And the Lord said to me, Tell them, Ye shall not go up, neither shall ye fight, for I am not with you; thus shall ye not be destroyed before your enemies. And I spoke to you, and ye did not hearken to me; and ye transgressed the commandment of the Lord your God, and ye turned your way, and went up into the mountain.

And the Amorite, which dwelt in that mountain came out to meet you, and pursued you as bees do, and wounded you from Seir to Hormah. And ye sat down and wept before the Lord our God, and the Lord hearkened not to your voice, neither did he take heed to you.

And ye dwelt in Cades many days, as many days as ye dwelt there.

And we turned and departed into the wilderness, by the way of the Red Sea, as the Lord spoke to me, and we compassed mount Seir many days. And the Lord said to me, Ye have compassed this mount long enough; turn therefore toward the north. And I turned the people, saying, Ye are going through the borders of your brethren the children of Esau, who dwell in Seir; and they shall fear you, and dread you greatly. Do not engage in war against them, for I will not give you of their land even enough to set your foot upon, for I have given mount Seir to the children of Esau as an inheritance. Buy food of them for money and eat; and ye shall receive water of them by measure for money, and drink. For the Lord our God has blessed thee in every work of thy hands. Consider how thou wentest through that great and terrible wilderness; behold, the Lord thy God has been with thee forty years; thou didst not lack any thing.

And we passed by our brethren the children of Esau, which dwelt in Seir, by the way of the desert of the Arabah from Aelon and from Gosion Gaber; and we turned and passed by the way of the desert of Moab. And the Lord said to me, Do not ye quarrel with the Moabites, and do not engage in war with them; for I will not give you of their land for an inheritance, for I have given Araro to the children of Lot to inherit. Formerly the Omnim dwelt in the wilderness, in the way of the Red Sea.

And ye have sinned against your God; ye shall see the land which you shall enter to possess, ye shall not see it for forty years, ye and your children.

And ye have sinned against the Lord your God; ye shall not possess the land which you shall see, ye shall eat the bread of the enemy forty years. And your children shall eat the bread of the enemy forty years, and they shall know the day that ye came out of the land of Egypt.

And your children shall say to their children in the days to come, What is this with which you have do so? And they shall answer, It is the manna, which the Lord gave us in the wilderness, while we were journeying in the wilderness; for he gave us manna, such as is not known in any other land, neither is there any like it in Israel, and we have eaten it forty years, while we journeyed in the wilderness.

And the Lord spoke to me, saying, I have set thee over these people, that thou shalt lead them into the land which I gave them, the land of Canaan, the land of their inheritance.

And I said, I am not able to bear the weight of this people alone, because it is too heavy for me. And I said, The Lord is not able to bear the weight of this people alone, because it is too heavy for me.

And the Lord said to me, I will give thee rest, and I will make thee a ruler and a judge over this people, and I will make thee like Pharaoh to the children of Israel. And the Lord said to me, I will give thee rest, and I will make thee a ruler and a judge over this people, and I will make thee like Pharaoh to the children of Israel.

And I said, I am not able to bear the weight of this people alone, because it is too heavy for me. And I said, The Lord is not able to bear the weight of this people alone, because it is too heavy for me.
Deuteronomy II. 11—30.

it, a great and numerous nation and powerful, like the Enakim. 11 These also shall be accounted as a people, after the manner of the Amorites, and of the Moabites, and of the Ammounites. 12 And the Chorhite dwelt in Seir before, and the sons of Esau destroyed them, and utterly consumed them from before them; and they dwelt in their place, as Israel did to the land of his inheritance, which the Lord gave to them. 13 Now then, arise ye, said I, and depart, and cross the valley of Zaret.

And the days in which we travelled from Cades Barne till we crossed the valley of Zaret, were thirty and eight years, until the whole generation of the men of war failed, dying out of the camp, as the Lord God spake to them. 15 And the hand of the Lord was upon them to destroy them out of the midst of the camp, until they were consumed.

And it came to pass when all the men of war dying out of the midst of the people had fallen, 17 that the Lord spake to me, saying, Thou shalt pass over this day the borders of Moab, and ye shall draw nigh to the children of Ammon: do not quarrel with them, nor wage war with them: for I will not give thee of the land of the children of Ammon for an inheritance, because I have given it to the children of Lot for an inheritance. 18 It shall be accounted a land of Raphon: for the Raphans dwelt there, and the Anammites call them Zochonim. 21 A great nation and populous, and mighty to thee, as also the Enakim: yet the Lord destroyed them from before them, and they inherited their land, and they dwelt there instead of them until this day. 22 As they did to the children of Esau that dwell in Seir, even as they destroyed the Chorhite from before them, and inherited their country, and dwelt therein instead of them until this day. 23 And the Evites which dwell in Asedoth to Gaza, and the Cappadocians who came out of Cappadocia, destroyed them, and dwelt in their room.

Now then arise and depart, and pass over the valley of Arnon: behold, I have delivered into thy hands Seon the king of Esben the Amorite, and his land: begin to inherit it: engage in war with him this day. 25 Begin to put thy terror and thy fear on the face of all the nations under heaven, who shall be troubled when they have heard thy name, and shall be in anguish before thee.

And I sent ambassadors from the wilderness of Kedamoth to Seon king of Esben with peaceable words, saying, 27 I will pass through thy land: I will go by the road, I will not turn aside to the right hand or to the left. 28 Thou shalt give me for money, and I will eat; and thou shalt give me water for money, and I will drink; and I will only go through on my feet: 29 as the sons of Esau did to me, who dwelt in Seir, and the Moabites in Arer, until I shall have passed Jordan into the land which the Lord our God gives us. 30 And the Lord God of the heavens gave me new understanding, saying, 31 I will give it into thy hand: I will give it into thy hand, and I will give it into thy hand.

Secon king of Esebon would not that we should pass by him, because the Lord our God hardened his spirit, and made his heart stubborn, that he might be delivered into thy hands, as on this day.

And the Lord said to me, Behold, I have begun to deliver before thee Secon the king of Esebon the Amorite, and his land, and do thou begin to inherit his land. And Secon the king of Esebon came forth to meet us, and all his people to war at Jassa. And the Lord our God delivered him before our face, and we smote him, and his sons, and all his people. And we took possession of all his cities at that time, and we utterly destroyed every city in succession, and their wives, and their children; we left no living prey. Only we took the cattle captive, and took the spoil of the cities. From Aroer, which is by the brink of the brook of Arnon, and the city which is in the valley, and as far as the Mount of Galaad; there was not a city which escaped us of all the cities belonging to the Amorites in our hands. Only we did not draw near to the children of Ammon, even all the parts bordering on the brook Jaboc, and the cities in the mountain country, as the Lord our God charged us.

And we turned and went by the way leading to Basan; and Og the king of Basan came out to meet us, he and all his people, to battle at Edraim. And the Lord said to me, Fear him not, for I have delivered him, and all his people, and all his land, into thy hands; and thou shalt do to him as thou didst to Secon king of the Amorites who dwelt in Esebon. And the Lord our God delivered him into our hands, even Og the king of Basan, and all his people; and we smote him until we left none of his seed.

And we mastered all his cities at that time; there was not a city which we took not from them; sixty cities, all the country round about Argob, belonging to king Og in Basan: all strong cities, lofty walls, gates and bars; besides the very many cities of the Pherezites. We utterly destroyed them as we dealt with Secon the king of Esebon, so we utterly destroyed every city in order, and the women and the children, and all the cattle; and we took for a prey to ourselves the spoil of the cities.

And we took at that time the land out of the hands of the two kings of the Amorites, who were beyond Jordan, extending from the brook of Arnon even unto Aeron. The Phcenicians call Aeron Sanior, but the Amorites has called it Sanir. All the cities of Misor, and all Galaad, and all Basan as far as Elbaan: Edraim, cities of the kingdom of Og in Basan. For only Og the king of Basan was left of the Raphain: behold, his bed was a bed of iron; behold, it is in the chief city of the children of Ammon; the length of it is nine cubits, and the breadth of it four cubits, according to the cubit of a man. \(^3\) And we inherited that land at that time from Armer, which is by the border of the torrent Arnon, and half the mount of Galaad; and I gave his cities to Ruben and to Gad. \(^4\) And the rest of Galaad, and all Basan the kingdom of Og I gave to the half-tribe of Manasse according to all that is written about Argo, all that is written about Galaad; it shall be accounted the land of Raphain. \(^5\) And Jair the son of Manasse took all the country round about Argo as far as the borders of Gargasi and Machlathi; he called them by his name Basan Thavoth Jair until this day. \(^6\) And to Machir I gave Galaad. \(^7\) And to Ruben and to Gad I gave the land under Galaad as far as the brook of Armon, the border between the brook and as far as Jabcoc: the brook is the border to the children of Amman. \(^8\) And Araba and Jordan are the boundary of Machanareth, even to the sea of Araba, the salt sea under Asedoth Phagasa eastward.

\(^{13}\) And I charged you at that time, saying, The Lord your God has given you this land by lot; arm yourselves, every one that is powerful, and go before your brethren the children of Israel. \(^{14}\) Only your wives and your children and your cattle (I know that ye have much cattle), let them dwell in your cities, which the Lord your God gives them on the other side of Jordan; then ye shall return, each one to his inheritance which I have given you.

\(^{21}\) And I commanded Joshua at that time, saying, Your eyes have seen all things, which the Lord our God did to these two kings: so shall the Lord our God do to all the kingdoms against which thou crossest over other. \(^{22}\) Ye shall not be afraid of them, because the Lord our God himself shall fight for you.

\(^{23}\) And I besought the Lord at that time, saying, Lord God, thou hast begun to shew to thy servant thy strength, and thy power, and thy mighty hand, and thy high arm: for what God is there in heaven or on the earth, who doth work such things as are done by thee? \(^{24}\) I will therefore over and see this good land that is beyond Jordan, this good mountain and Antilbanus.

\(^{25}\) And the Lord because of you did not regard me, and hearkened not to me; and the Lord said it sufficed thee: speak not of this matter to me any more. \(^{26}\) Go up to the top of the quarried rock, and look with thine eyes westward, and northward, and southward, and eastward, and behold it with thine eyes, for thou shalt not go over this Jordan. \(^{27}\) And charge Joshua, and strengthen his heart; for he shall go before the face of this people, and he shall give them the inheritance of the land which thou hast seen. \(^{28}\) And we abode in the valley near the house of Phogor.
4 And now, Israel, hear the ordinances and judgments, all that I teach you this day to do: that ye may live, and be multiplied, and that ye may go in and inherit the land, which the Lord God of your fathers gives you. 2 Ye shall not add to the word which I command you, and ye shall not take from it; keep the commandments of the Lord our God, all that I command you this day. 3 Your eyes have seen all that the Lord our God did in the case of Beel-phegor; for every man that went after Beel-phegor, the Lord your God has utterly destroyed him from among you. 4 But ye that kept close to the Lord your God are all alive to-day.

5 Behold, I have shown you ordinances and judgments as the Lord commanded me, that ye should do so in the land which ye go to inherit it. 6 And ye shall keep and do them: for this is your wisdom and understanding before all nations, as many as shall hear these ordinances, and say, Behold, this great nation is a wise and understanding people. 7 For what manner of nation is so great, which has God so set over them, as it is in fear, in hearing, in terror, in all diligence, as Israel? 8 And what manner of nation is so great, which has righteous ordinances and judgments according to all this law, which I set before you this day?

9 Take heed to thyself, and keep thy heart diligently: forget not any of the things, which thine eyes have seen, and let them not depart from thine heart all the days of thy life; and thou shalt teach thy sons and thy sons' sons, even the things that happened in the day which ye stood before the Lord your God in Choreb, in the day of the assembly; for the Lord said to me, Gather the people to me, and let them hear my words, that they may learn to fear me all the days which they live upon the earth, and they shall teach their sons. 10 And ye drew nigh and stood under the mountain; and the mountain burned with fire up to heaven: there was darkness, blackness, and tempest. 11 And the Lord spoke to you out of the midst of the fire: ye heard a voice, but ye saw no likeness, only ye heard a voice. 12 And he announced to you his covenant, which he commanded you to keep, even the ten commandments; and he wrote them on two tables of stone.

13 And the Lord commanded me at that time, to teach you ordinances and judgments, that ye should do them on the land, into which ye go to inherit it. 14 And take good heed to your hearts, for ye saw no similitude in the day in which the Lord spoke to you in Choreb in the mountain out of the midst of the fire: lest ye transgress, and make to yourselves a carved image, any kind of figure, the likeness of male or female, 15 the likeness of any beast of those that are on the earth, the likeness of any winged bird which flies under heaven, the likeness of any reptile which creeps on the earth, the likeness of any fish of those which are in the waters under the earth; and lest having looked up to the sky, and having seen the sun, the moon, and the stars, and all the heavenly bodies, thou shouldest go astray and worship them, and serve them, which the Lord thy God hath distributed to all the nations under heaven. 21 But God took you, and led you forth out of the land of Egypt, out of the iron furnace, out of Egypt, to be to him a people of inheritance, as at this day.

22 And the Lord God was angry with me for the things said by you, and I and ye shall go over this Jordan, and that I should not go over this Jordan, and that I should not enter into the land, which the Lord thy God giveth thee for an inheritance.

Deuteronomy IV. 35—V. 6.

Lord our God did in Egypt in thy sight. So that thou shouldst know that the Lord thy God he is God, and there is none beside him. His voice was made audible from heaven to instruct thee, and he shewed thee upon the earth his great fire, and thou hearest his words out of the midst of the fire.

37 Because he loved thy fathers, he also chose thee their seed after them, and he brought thee himself with his great strength out of Egypt, to destroy nations ygreater and stronger than they before, thy face, to bring thee in, to give thee their land to inherit, as thou hast it this day.

38 And thou shalt know this day, and shalt consider in thine heart, that the Lord thy God he is God in heaven above, and on the earth beneath, and there is none else but he. And keep ye his commandments, and his ordinances, all that I command you this day; that it may be well with thee, and with thy sons after thee, and that ye may live long-lived upon the earth, which the Lord thy God giveth thee for ever.

39 Then Moses separated three cities beyond Jordan westward. 40 That he slayer might flee thither, who should have slain his neighbour unintentionally, and should not have hated him in times past, and he shall flee to one of these cities and live: 41 The cities which Moses gave toJudah the son of Joseph, which was called Ephraim; 42 And there they dwelt in the wilderness of the plain country of Ruben, and Ramoth in Gilead belonging to Gad, and Gaulon in Bashan belonging to Manasseh.

44 This is the law which Moses set before the children of Israel. These are the testimonies, and the ordinances, and the judgments, which Moses spoke to the sons of Israel, when they came out of the land of Egypt; on the other side of Jordan, in the valley near the house of Phogor, in the land of Seon king of the Amorites, who dwelt in Esebon, whom Moses and the sons of Israel smote when they came out of the land of Egypt. And they inherited the land, and the land of Og king of Bashan, two kings of the Amorites, who were beyond Jordan eastward. From Aror, which is on the border of the brook Armon, even to the mount of Seon, which is Aemon. All Araba beyond Jordan eastward under Asedoth hewn in the rock.

And Moses called all Israel, and said to them, Hear, Israel, the ordinances and judgments, all that I speak in your ears this day, and ye shall learn them, and observe to do them. The Lord your God made a covenant with you in Choreb. The Lord did not make this covenant with your fathers, but with you: ye are all here alive this day.

The Lord spake to you face to face in the mountain out of the midst of the fire. And I stood between the Lord and you at that time to republish the words of the Lord, (because ye were afraid before the fire, and ye went not up to the mountain,) saying: I am the Lord thy God, who brought...

8 Thou shalt not have any other gods before my face. 9 Thou shalt not make unto thyself an image, nor likeness of any thing, whatsoever things are in the heaven above, and whatsoever are in the earth beneath, and whatsoever are in the waters under the earth.

10 Thou shalt not bow down to them, nor shalt thou serve them; for I am the Lord thy God, a jealous God, visiting the sins of the fathers upon the children to the third and fourth generation to them that hate me, and doing mercifully to thousands of them that love me, and that keep my commandments.

11 Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain, for the Lord thy God will certainly not acquit him that takes his name in vain.

12 Keep the sabbath day to sanctify it, as the Lord thy God commanded thee. 13 Six days thou shalt work, and thou shalt do all thy works; 14 but on the seventh day is the sabbath of the Lord thy God: thou shalt rest in it. 15 Honour thy father and thy mother, as the Lord thy God commanded thee; that it may be well with thee, and that thou mayest live long upon the land, which the Lord thy God gives thee.

16 Thou shalt not commit murder. 17 Thou shalt not steal. 18 Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbour. 19 Thou shalt not covet thy neighbour's wife; thou shalt not covet thy neighbour's house, nor his field, nor his man-servant, nor his maid, nor his ox, nor his ass, nor any beast of his, nor any thing that is thy neighbour's.

15 And thou shalt remember that thou wast a slave in the land of Egypt, and the Lord thy God brought thee out thence with a mighty hand, and a high arm; therefore the Lord appointed thee to keep the sabbath day and to sanctify it. 16 Honour thy father and thy mother, as the Lord thy God commanded thee; that it may be well with thee, and that thou mayest live long upon the land, which the Lord thy God gives thee.

21 These words the Lord spoke to all the assembly of you in the mountain out of the midst of the fire—there was darkness, blackness, storm, a loud voice—and he added no more, and he wrote them on two tables of stone, and he gave them to me. 22 And it came to pass when ye heard the voice out of the midst of the fire, for the mountain burned with fire, that ye came to me, even all the heads of your tribes, and your elders: 23 and ye said, Behold, the Lord our God has shewn us his glory, and we have heard his voice out of the midst of the fire: 24 this day we have seen that God shall speak to man, and he shall live. 25 And now let us not die, for this great fire will consume us, if we shall hear the voice of the Lord our God any more, and we shall die. 26 For what flesh is there which has heard the voice of the living God, speaking out of the midst of the fire, as we have heard, and

27 And the Lord heard the voice of your words as ye spoke to me; and the Lord said to me, I have heard the voice of the words of this people, even all things that they have said. They have well said all that they have spoken. 28 And the Lord said to me, Go, say to them, Return ye to your houses; but stand thou here with me, and I will tell thee all the commands, and the ordinances, and the judgments, which thou shalt teach them, and let them do so in the land which I give them for an inheritance. And ye shall take heed to do as the Lord thy God commanded thee; ye shall not turn aside to the right hand or to the left, 29 according to all the way which the Lord thy God commanded thee to walk in, that he may give thee rest; and that it may be well with thee, and ye may prolong your days on the land which ye shall inherit. And these are the commands, and the ordinances, and the judgments, which as many as the Lord our God gave commandment to teach you to do so in the land on which ye enter to inherit it. 30 That ye may fear the Lord your God, keep ye all his ordinances, and his commandments, which I command thee to-day, thou, and thy sons, and thy sons' sons, all the days of thy life, that ye may live many days.

31 Hear, therefore, O Israel, and observe to do them, that it may be well with thee, and that ye may be greatly multiplied, as the Lord God of thy fathers said that he would give thee a land flowing with milk and honey, and great cities which thou knewest not, 32 and all the judgments, which the Lord commanded the children of Israel in the wilderness, when they had gone forth from the land of Egypt. 33 Hear, O Israel, The Lord our God is one Lord. 34 And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy mind, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength. 35 And these words, all that I command thee this day, shall be in thy heart; and thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children, and shalt talk of them when thou sittest in thy house, and when thou wast abroad, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest up. 36 And thou shalt fasten them for a sign upon thy hand, and it shall be immovable before thine eyes. 37 And ye shall write them in the lintels of your houses and of your gates.

be sure lest thou forget the Lord thy God that brought thee forth out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage.
• Thou shalt fear the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve; and thou shalt cleave to him, and by his name thou shalt swear.
Go ye not after other gods of the gods of the nations round about you, but thou shalt worship the Lord thy God; and thou shalt be only free from among all nations, if thou wilt only keep his commandments.
• Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God, as ye tempted him in the temptation.

Thou shalt by all means keep the commandments of the Lord thy God, the ordinances, and the judgments, which he commanded thee.
And thou shalt do that which is pleasing and good before the Lord thy God, that it may be well with thee, and that thou mayest go in and inherit the good land, which the Lord swears to thy fathers,
• to chase all thine enemies from before thee, as the Lord said.

And it shall come to pass when thy son shall ask thee at a future time, saying, What are the testimonies, and the ordinances, and the judgments, which the Lord our God has commanded us?
Then shalt thou say to thy son, We were brought out of Egypt, from the house of bondage,

And the Lord wrought signs and great and grievous wonders in Egypt, on Pharaoh and on his house before us.

And he brought us out thence to give us this land, which he swears to our fathers,
• the Lord charged us to observe all these ordinances; to fear the Lord our God, that it may be well with us for ever, that we may live, as even to-day.
And there shall be mercy to us, if we take heed to keep all these commands before the Lord our God, as he has commanded us.

And when the Lord thy God shall bring thee into the land, into which thou goest to possess it, and shall remove great nations from before thee, the Chettite, and Gergesite, and Amorite, and Canaanite, and Pherezite, and Jebusite, seven nations more numerous and stronger than you,
• and the Lord thy God shall deliver them into thy hands, then thou shalt smite them:
• thou shalt not take a covenant with them, neither shall ye pity them:
• neither shall ye contract marriages with them: thou shalt not give thy daughter to his son, and thou shalt not take his daughter to thy son.
For he will draw away thy son from me, and he will serve other gods; and the Lord will be very angry with you, and will soon utterly destroy thee.
• But thus shall ye do to them: ye shall destroy their altars, and shall break down their pillars, and shall cut down their groves, and shall burn with fire the graven images of their gods.

7 It was not because ye are more numerous than all other nations that the Lord preferred you, and the Lord made choice of you: for ye are fewer in number than all other nations. But because the Lord loved you, and as keeping the oath which he sware to your fathers, the Lord brought you out with a strong hand, and the Lord redeemed thee from the house of bondage, out of the hand of Pharaoh king of Egypt.

8 Thou shalt know therefore, that the Lord thy God, he is God, a faithful God, who keepeth covenant and mercy for a thousand generations, and who recompenses them that hate him to their face, to destroy them utterly; and will not be slack with them that hate him: he will recompense them to their face.

9 Thou shalt keep therefore the commands, and the ordinances, and these judgments, which I command thee this day, and it shall come to pass when ye shall have heard these ordinances, and shall have kept and done them, that the Lord thy God shall keep for thee the covenant and the mercy, which he sware to thy fathers.

10 And he will love thee, and bless thee, and multiply thee: and he will bless the offspring of thy body, and the fruit of thy land, the corn, and the wine, and thine oil, the herd of thine oxen, and the flocks of thy sheep, on the land which the Lord sware to thy fathers to give thee.

11 Thou shalt be blessed beyond all nations; there shall not be among you an impotent or barren one, nor among thy cattle.

12 And the Lord thy God shall remove from thee all sickness; and none of the evil diseases of Egypt, which thou hast seen, and all that thou hast known, will he lay upon thee; but he will lay them upon all that hate thee.

13 And thou shalt eat all the spoils of the nations which the Lord thy God gives thee; thine eye shall not spare them, and thou shalt not serve their gods; for this is an ensnarement to thee.

14 But if thou shouldst say in thine heart, This nation is greater than I, how shall I be able to destroy them utterly? thou shalt not fear them; thou shalt surely remember all that the Lord thy God did to Pharaoh and to all the Egyptians: the great temptations which thine eyes have seen, those signs and great wonders, the strong hand, and the high arm, through which the Lord thy God brought thee forth: so the Lord your God will do to all the nations, whom thou, in least of their presence. And the Lord thy God shall send against them the hornets, until they that are left and they that are hidden from thee be utterly destroyed.

15 Thou shalt not be wounded before them, because the Lord thy God is in the midst of thee, a great and a powerful God. And the Lord thy God shall consume these nations before thee by little and little: thou shalt not be able to consume them speedily, lest the land become desert, and the wild beasts of the field be multiplied against thee. 22 And the Lord thy God shall deliver them into thy hands, and thou shalt destroy them with a great destruction, until ye shall have utterly destroyed them. 23 And he shall deliver their kings into thy hands, and ye shall destroy their name from that place; none shall stand up in opposition before thee, until thou shalt have utterly destroyed them.

Ye shall burn with fire the graven images of their gods: thou shalt not covet their silver, neither shalt thou take thyself gold from them, lest thou shouldst offend thereby, because it is an abomination to the Lord thy God. 26 And thou shalt not bring an abomination into thine house, so shalt thou utterly hate it, and altogether abominate it, because it is an accursed thing.

Ye shall observe to do all the commands which I charge you this day, that ye may live and be multiplied, and enter in and inherit the land, which the Lord your God doth give thee. 2 And thou shalt remember all the way which the Lord thy God led thee in the wilderness, that he might afflict thee, and try thee, and that the things in thine heart might be made manifest, whether thou wouldst keep his commandments or no. 3 And he afflicted thee and straitened thee with hunger, and fed thee with manna, which thy fathers knew not; that he might make thee know that man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceeds out of the mouth of God shall man live.

Thy garments grew not old from off thee, thy shoes were not worn from off thee, thy feet were not painfully hardened, lo! these forty years.

And thou shalt know in thine heart, that as if any man should chasten his son, so the Lord thy God will chasten thee. 4 And thou shalt keep the commands of the Lord thy God, to walk in his ways, and to fear him.

For the Lord thy God will bring thee into a good and extensive land, where are waters, and fountains 6 of deep places issuing through the plains and through the mountains: a land of wheat and barley, wherein are vines, figs, pomegranates; a land of oil and olive; a land on which thou shalt not eat thy bread with poverty, and thou shalt not want any thing upon it; a land whose stones are iron, and out of its mountains thou shalt dig brass. 8 And thou shalt est and be filled, and shalt bless the Lord thy God on the good land, which he has given thee. 10 Take heed to thyself that thou forget not the Lord thy God, so as not to keep his commands, and his judgments, and ordinances, which I command thee this day: lest when thou hast eaten and art full, and hast builded goodly houses, and dwelt in them, 12 and thy oxen and thy sheep are multiplied to thee, and thy silver and thy gold are multiplied to thee, and all thy possessions are multiplied to thee, 14 thou shouldst exalt in heart,

Also in Choreb ye provoked the Lord, and the Lord was angry with you to destroy you; \( ^{25} \) when I went up into the mountain to receive the tables of stone, the tables of the covenant, which the Lord made with you, and I was in the mountain forty days and forty nights, I ate no bread and drank no water. And the Lord gave me the two tables of stone written with the finger of God, and on them there had been written all the words which the Lord spoke to you in the mountain in the day of the assembly.
And it came to pass after forty days and forty nights, the Lord gave me the two tables of stone, the tables of the covenant.

And the Lord said to me, Arise, go down quickly from hence, for the people whom thou broughtest out of the land of Egypt have transgressed; they have made themselves a molten image, and have made themselves themselves a molten image.

And the Lord spake to me, saying, I have spoken to thee once and again, saying, I have seen this people, and, behold, it is a stiff-necked people. And now suffer me utterly to destroy them, and I will blot out their name from under heaven, and will make of thee a nation great and strong, and more numerous than they.

And I turned and went down from the mountain; and the mountain burned with fire to heaven; and the two tables of the testimonies were in my two hands. And when I saw that ye had sinned against the Lord your God, and had made to yourselves a molten image, and had gone astray before the Lord God to provoke him. And I was greatly terrified because of the wrath and anger, because the Lord was provoked with you utterly to destroy you; yet the Lord hearkened to me at this time also. And he was angry with Aaron to destroy him utterly, as I prayed for Aaron also at that time. And your sin which ye had made, even the calf, I took, and burnt it with fire, and pounded it and ground it down till it became fine; and it became like dust, and I cast the dust into the brook that descended from the mountain.

Also in the burning, and in the temptation, and at the graves of lust, ye provoked the Lord.

And when the Lord sent you for a leader, Moses, and Aaron, and sent you before the Lord, and gave the commandment to you, Go up and inherit the land which I give to you, then ye disobeyed the word of the Lord your God, and believed him not, and hearkened not to his voice. Ye were disobedient in the things relating to the Lord from the day in which he became known to you. And I prayed to God, and said, O Lord, King of gods, destroy not thy people and thine inheritance, whom thou didst redeem, whom thou broughtest out of the land of Egypt with thy great power and with thy strong hand and with thy high arm. Remember Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob thy servants, to whom thou swarest by thyself; look not upon the hardiness of heart of this people, and their impurities, and their sins.

Lest the inhabitants of the land whome thou broughtest...
Deuteronomy XIX. 29—X. 18.

... us out speak, saying, Because the Lord could not bring them into the land which he spake to them, and because he hated them, lo, he brought them forth to slay them in the wilderness. 29And these are thy people and thy portion, whom thou broughtest out of the land of Egypt, with thy strong hand, and with thy mighty arm.

At that time the Lord said to me, Hew for thyself two stone tables, as the first, and come up to me into the mountain, and thou shalt make for thyself an ark of wood. 2And thou shalt write upon the tables the words which were on the first tables which thou didst break, and thou shalt put them into the ark. 3So I made an ark of boards of incorruptible wood, and I hewed tables of stone like the first, and I went up to the mountain, and the two tables were in my hand. 4And he wrote upon the tables according to the first writing the ten commandments, which the Lord spake to you in the mountain out of the midst of the fire, and the Lord gave them to me. 5And I turned and came down from the mountain, and there was the table of the covenant, and the two tables which I had made; and there they were, as the Lord commanded me. 6And the children of Israel departed from Beeroh, the sons of Jakim to Misadai; there Aaron died, and there he was buried, and Eleazar his son was priest in his stead. 7Thence they departed to Gadgad; and from Gadgad to Ethbeba, a land wherein are torrents of water.

8At that time the Lord separated the tribe of Levi, to bear the ark of the covenant of the Lord, to stand near before the Lord, to minister and bless in his name to this day. 9Therefore the Levites have no part nor inheritance among their brethren; the Lord himself is their inheritance, as he said to them. 10And I # remained in the mount with the Lord forty days and forty nights, and the Lord heard me at that time also, and the Lord would not destroy you. 11And the Lord said to me, Go, set out before this people, and let them go in and inherit the land, which I swore to their fathers to give to them.

12And now, Israel, what does the Lord thy God require of thee, but to fear the Lord thy God, and to walk in all his ways, and to love him, and to serve the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul; for the stranger and orphan and widow, and he loves the stranger to give him food and raiment. And ye shall love the stranger; for ye were strangers in the land of Egypt.

13to keep the commandments of the Lord thy God, and his ordinances, and his statutes, which I command thee this day.

14Only the Lord choose thy fathers to love them, and he chose out their seed after them, even you, beyond all nations, as at this day. 15Therefore ye shall circumcise the hardness of your heart, and ye shall not harden your neck. 16For the Lord thy God, he is God of gods, and Lord of lords, the great, and strong, and terrible God, who does not accept persons, nor will he be at any means accept a bribe: 17executing judgment...

30 Thou shalt fear the Lord thy God, and serve him, and shalt cleave unto him, and shalt swear by his name. He is thy boast, and he is thy God, who has wrought in the midst of thee these great and glorious things, which thine eyes have seen. With seventy souls your fathers went down into Egypt; but the Lord thy God has made thee as the stars of heaven in multitude.

Therefore thou shalt love the Lord thy God, and shalt observe his appointments, and his ordinances, and his commandments, and his judgments, always. And ye shall know this day; for I speak not to your children, who know not and have not seen the discipline of the Lord thy God, and his wonderful works, and his strong hand, and his high arm, and his miracles, and his wonders, which he wrought in the midst of Egypt on Pharaoh king of Egypt, and all his land; and what he did to the host of the Egyptians, and to their chariots, and their cattle, and their camp; how he made the water of the Red Sea to overwhelm the face of them as they pursued after you, and the Lord destroyed them until this day; and all the things which he did to you in the wilderness until ye came into this place; and all things that he did to Dathan and Abiram the sons of Eliab the son of Ruben, whom the earth opening her mouth swallowed up, and their houses, and their tents, and all their substance that was with them, in the midst of all Israel: For your eyes have seen all the mighty works of the Lord, which he wrought among you to-day.

And ye shall keep all his commandments, as many as I command thee to-day, that ye may live, and be multiplied, and that ye may go in and inherit the land, into which ye go across Jordan to inherit it: that ye may live long upon the land, which the Lord your God giveth you for an inheritance, and to your seed after them, a land flowing with milk and honey. For the land into which thou goest to inherit it, is not as the land of Egypt, whence ye came out, whenever they sow the seed, and water it with their feet, as a garden of herbs: but the land into which thou goest to inherit it, is a land of mountains and plains; it shall drink water of the rain of heaven. A land which the Lord thy God surveys continually, the eyes of the Lord thy God are upon it from the beginning of the year to the end of the year.

Now if ye will indeed hearken to all the commands which I charge thee this day, to love the Lord thy God, and to serve him with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, then he shall give to thy land the early and latter rain in its season, and thou shalt bring in thy corn, and thy wine, and thy oil. And he shall give to thy fields the cattle; and when thou hast eaten and art full, take heed to thyself that thy

And ye shall store these words in your heart and in your soul, and ye shall bind them as a sign upon your hand, and they shall be fixed before your eyes. And ye shall teach them to your children, so as to speak about them when thou sittest in the house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou sleepest, and when thou risest up. And ye shall write them in your heart and in your soul, and the fear of the Lord shall be upon your children, and upon your children's children, upon the land which the Lord swore to your fathers to give to them, as the days of heaven upon the earth.

And it shall come to pass, that if ye will indeed hearken to all these commands, which I charge thee to observe this day, to love the Lord your God, and to walk in all his ways, and to cleave close to him; then the Lord shall cast out all these nations from before you, and ye shall inherit great nations, and shall dwell in the face of all the land, on which ye shall tread, as he told you.

Behold, I set before you this day the blessing and the curse; the blessing, if ye hearken to the commands of the Lord your God, all that I command you this day; and the curse, if ye do not hearken to the commands of the Lord our God, as many as I command you this day, and ye wander from the way which I have commanded you, having gone to serve other gods, which ye knew not; and when they do come to pass, when the Lord thy God shall have brought thee into the land into which thou goest over to inherit it, then thou shalt put blessing on mount Gerizim, and the curse upon mount Ebal.

Lo! are not these beyond Jordan, behind, westward in the land of Chanaan, which lies westward near Golgo, by the high oak. For ye are passing over Jordan, to go in and inherit the land, which the Lord our God gives you to inherit always, and ye shall dwell in it.

And ye shall take heed to do all his ordinances, and these judgments, as many as I set before you to-day. And these are the ordinances and the judgments, which ye shall observe to do in the land, which the Lord God of your fathers gives you for an inheritance, all the days which ye live upon the land. Ye shall utterly destroy all the places in which they served their gods, whose land ye inherit, on the high mountains and on the hills, and under the thick tree. 3 And ye shall destroy their altars, and break in pieces their pillars, and ye shall cut down their groves, and ye shall burn with fire the graven images of their gods, and ye shall abolish their name out of that place. 4 Ye shall not do so to the Lord your God. But in the place which the Lord thy God shall choose in one of thy cities to name his name there, and to be called upon, ye shall even seek him out and go thither. 6 And ye shall carry thither your whole burnt-offerings, and your sacrifices, and your first-fruits, and your "vowed-offerings, and your freewill-offerings, and your offerings of thanksgiving, the first-born of your herds, and of your flocks. 7 And ye shall eat there before the Lord your God, ye and your sons, your daughters, and your men-servants, and your maid-servants, and the Levite that is at your gates; because he has no portion or inheritance with you. 8 Take heed to thyself that thou offer not thy whole burnt-offerings in any other place which the Lord thy God shall choose, in one of thy tribes, there shall ye offer thy whole burnt-offerings, and there shalt thou do all things whatsoever I charge thee this day. 9 But thou shalt kill according to all thy desire, and shalt eat flesh according to the blessing of the Lord thy God, which he has given thee in every city; the unclean that is within thee and the clean shall eat it on equal terms, as the doe or the stag. 10 Only ye shall not eat the blood; ye shall pour it out on the ground as water. 11 Thou shalt not be able to eat in thy cities the tithes of thy corn, and of thy wine, and of thine oil, the first-born of thine herd and of thy flock, and all your vows as many as ye shall have vowed, and your thank-offerings, and the first-fruits of thine hands. 12 But before the Lord thy God thou shalt eat it, in the place which the Lord thy God shall choose for himself, thou, and thy son, and thy daughter, thy manservant, and thy maidservant, and the 19 Take heed to thyself that thou do not desert the Levite all the time that thou livest upon the earth. 20 And if the Lord thy God shall enlarge thy borders, as he said to thee, and thou shalt say, I will eat flesh; if thy soul should desire to eat flesh, thou shalt eat flesh according to all the desire of thy soul. 21 And if the place be far from thee, which the Lord thy God shall choose to give thee for an inheritance, then thou mayest kill of thy herd and of thy flock which God shall have given thee, even as I commanded thee, and thou shalt eat in thy cities according to the desire of thy soul. 22 As the doe and the stag are eaten, so shall thou eat it; the unclean in thee and the clean shall eat it in like manner. 23 Take diligent heed that thou eat not upon the altar the blood of the peace-offerings. 24 For the life of every living thing is the blood thereof: therefore I said unto the priests, the sons of Levi, ye shall eat it in the place of the most holy, because it is offered for the life of their souls. 25 Ye shall not eat it out on the ground as water. 26 Thou shalt not eat it, that it may be well with thee and with thy sons after thee, if thou shalt do that which is good and pleasing before the Lord thy God. 27 But thou shalt take thy holy things, if thou hast none, and thy vowed-offerings, and come to the priests, the sons of Levi, and give them into their hands. 28 Of the peace-offerings of thy blood which thou shalt offer to the Lord, thou shalt the priests, the sons of Levi, give a portion; for it is their due. 29 And the Levite, thy brother, in the gate which is in thy place, shall come, and thou shalt give unto him of thy bread and thy meat, and of thy blood and thy drink, after the portion of the priests, which the Lord hath given to them, and after the portion of the Levite, which I give them among thee. 30 And thou shalt consider in thine heart, that thou didst not abide in the wilderness, as all the congregation did, 31 till the Lord thy God had given thee rest, and thou didst dwell in cities which thy fathers did not know. 32 And thou shalt be unto me as a stranger, and a stranger thou shalt dwell in the land. 33 Thou shalt not make for thee a god which is like unto me, for I the Lord thy God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children, upon the third and upon the fourth generation of them that hate me; and shewing mercy unto thousands of them that love me, and keep my commandments. 34 Thou shalt not go up in unto a vineyard of thy neighbor two or three times, nor pluck of his grapes; thou shalt not go into his garden. 35 Thou shalt not curse the deaf, nor put out the eye of the blind; but shalt fear thy God: for I am the Lord your God. 36 Thou shalt do no unrighteousness in judgment: thou shalt not respect person, nor hear a cause with partiality, but thou shalt hear the cause of thy fellow citizen. 37 Thou shalt not pervert the justice due to the stranger, nor to the widow, nor to the fatherless; for I the Lord thy God am a judge. 38 Thou shalt remember that thou wast a bondman in the land of Egypt, and the Lord thy God redeemed thee; therefore I command thee this thing today. 39 And thou shalt say in thine heart, because he hath done this unto me, that I might come hither; it was not because I sought thee out, that therefore thou shouldest say, He hath done it unto me wickedly. 40 But because the Lord thy God loved thee, and because he would keep the oath which he sware unto thee to thy fathers, therefore hath he brought thee forth out of the land of Egypt, to give thee the land of the Canaanites, and of the Hittites, and of the Amorites, and of the Perizzites, and of the Hivites, and of the Jebusites. 41 Know therefore this day, that he is thy Lord; thou shalt love him, and keep his commandments, and hearken unto his voice, and serve him, and cleave unto him: for he is thy life, and the length of thy days; that thou mayest live long upon the land which the Lord sware unto thy fathers, to give it them and to them. 42 Moreover the Lord was jealousy for the just, and will not forsake his saints; they shall be preserved for ever: but the seed of the wicked shall be cut off for ever.
attach yourselves to him. And that prophet or that dreamer of a dream, shall die; for he has spoken to make thee err from the Lord thy God, who brought thee out of the land of Egypt, who redeemed thee from bondage, to thrust thee out of the way which the Lord thy God commanded thee to walk in: so shalt thou abolish the evil from among you.

And if thy brother by thy father or mother, or thy son, or daughter, or thy wife in thy bosom, or friend who is equal to thine own soul, entreat thee secretly, saying, Let us now go and worship other gods, whom ye know not, then thou shalt enquire and ask, and search diligently, and behold, if the thing be clearly true, and this abomination has taken place among you, thou shalt utter destroy all the land that thou hast protected; and thy hands shall be upon him among the first to slay him, and the hands of all the people at the last. And they shall stone him with stones, and he shall die, because he sought to draw thee away from the Lord thy God which brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage.

And all Israel shall hear, and fear, and shall not again do according to this evil thing among you.

And if in one of the cities which the Lord God gives thee to dwell therein, thou shalt hear men saying, Evil thing has been done in thy midst, which thou hast not known, then thou shalt enquire and ask, and search diligently, and behold, if the thing be clearly true, and this abomination has taken place among you, thou shalt utter destroy all the land that thou hast protected; and thy hands shall be upon him among the first to slay him, and the hands of all the people at the last. And they shall stone him with stones, and he shall die, because he sought to draw thee away from the Lord thy God which brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage.

And all Israel shall hear, and fear, and shall not again do according to this evil thing among you.

And if ye have not known, and men shall say, Behold, ye have done evil in thy midst, which thou hast not known, then thou shalt enquire and ask, and search diligently, and behold, if the thing be clearly true, and this abomination has taken place among you, thou shalt utter destroy all the land that thou hast protected; and thy hands shall be upon him among the first to slay him, and the hands of all the people at the last. And they shall stone him with stones, and he shall die, because he sought to draw thee away from the Lord thy God which brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage.

And all Israel shall hear, and fear, and shall not again do according to this evil thing among you.

And they shall stone him with stones, and he shall die, because he sought to draw thee away from the Lord thy God which brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage.

And all Israel shall hear, and fear, and shall not again do according to this evil thing among you.
divides the hoofs, and makes claws of two divisions, and that chews the cud among beasts, these ye shall eat. And these ye shall not eat of them that chew the cud, and of those that divide the hoofs, and make distinct claws; the camel, and the hare, and the rabbit; because they chew the cud, and do not divide the hoof, these are unclean to you; ye shall not eat the swine, because he divides the hoof, and makes claws of the hoof, yet he chews not the cud, he is unclean to you; ye shall not eat of their flesh, ye shall not touch their dead bodies.

And these ye shall eat of all that are in the water, ye shall eat all that have fins and scales. And all that have not fins and scales ye shall not eat; they are unclean to you. Ye shall eat every clean bird. And these of them ye shall not eat; the eagle, and the ossifrage, and the sea-eagle, and the vulture, and the kite and the like to it, and the sparrow, and the owl, and the sea-mew, and the heron, and the swan, and the stork, and the Cormorant, and the hawk, and its like, and the hoopoe, and the raven, and the pelican, and the ruddy and the like to it, and the red-bill and the bat.

All winged animals that creep are unclean to you; ye shall not eat of them. Ye shall eat every clean bird. And these of them ye shall eat nothing that dies of itself; it shall be given to the sojourner in the cities, and ye shall eat it, or thou shalt sell it to a stranger, because thou art a holy people to the Lord thy God. Thou shalt not boil a lamb in his mother's milk.

Thou shalt tithe a tenth of all the produce of thy seed, the fruit of thy field year by year. And thou shalt eat it in the place which the Lord thy God shall choose to have his name called there; ye shall bring the tithe of thy corn and of thy wine, and of thy oil, the first-born of thy herd and of thy flock, that thou mayest learn to fear the Lord thy God always. And if the journey be too far for thee, and thou art not able to bring them, because the place is far from thee which the Lord thy God shall choose to have his name called there, for the Lord thy God will bless thee; then thou shalt sell them for money, and thou shalt take the money in thy hands, and thou shalt go to the place which the Lord thy God shall choose. And thou shalt give the money for whatsoever thy soul shall desire, for oxen or for sheep, or for wine, or thou shalt lay it out on strong drink, or on whatsoever thy soul may desire, and thou shalt eat there before the Lord thy God, and thou shalt rejoice and thy house, and the Levite that is in thy cities, because he has not a portion or inheritance with thee.

After three years thou shalt bring out all the tithes of thy fruits, in that year thou shalt lay it up in thy cities. And the Levite shall come, because he has no part or lot with thee, and the stranger, and the orphan, and the widow which is in thy cities; and they shall eat, and be filled, that the Lord thy God may bless thee in all the works which thou shalt do.
Every seven years thou shalt make a release. 2 And this is the ordinance of the release: thou shalt remit every private debt which thy neighbour owes thee, and thou shalt not ask counsel of it from thy brother, for it hath been called a release to the Lord thy God. 3 Of a stranger thou shalt ask again whatsoever he has of thine, but to thy brother thou shalt remit his debt to thee. 4 For thus there shall not be a poor person in the midst of thee, for the Lord thy God has blessed thee in the land which the Lord thy God gives thee by inheritance, that thou shouldst inherit it. 5 And if ye shall indeed hearken to the voice of the Lord your God, to keep and do all these commandments, as many as I charge thee this day, (for the Lord thy God has blessed thee in the way of which he spoke to thee to the land, the Lord thy God gives thee by inheritance, that thou shouldst inherit it), then shall thy brother not borrow of thee, neither shalt thou lend on usury. 6 Thou shalt not lend to thy brother; and thou shalt lend to him as much as he wants according to his need. 7 And if thou shall be in the midst of thee a poor man of thy brethren in one of thy cities in the land, which the Lord thy God gives thee, thou shalt not harden thine heart, neither shalt thou say, ‘what shall I do with thine hand?’ but shalt lend him thine hand freely. 8 Thou shalt lend to him thine hand freely, and shalt lend to him as much as he wants according to his need. 9 And if there shall be in the midst of thee a poor man of thy brethren in one of thy cities in the land, which the Lord thy God gives thee, thou shalt not harden thine heart, neither shalt thou say, ‘what shall I do with thine hand?’ but shalt lend him thine hand freely. 10 Thou shalt lend to him thine hand freely, and shalt lend to him as much as he wants according to his need. 11 And if there shall be in the midst of thee a poor man of thy brethren in one of thy cities in the land, which the Lord thy God gives thee, thou shalt not harden thine heart, neither shalt thou say, ‘what shall I do with thine hand?’ but shalt lend him thine hand freely. 12 Thou shalt lend to him thine hand freely, and shalt lend to him as much as he wants according to his need. 13 And when thou shalt send him out from thee, thou shalt not send him out empty. 14 Thou shalt give him provision for the way from thy flock, and from thy corn, and from thy wine; as the Lord thy God has blessed thee, thou shalt give to him. 15 And thou shalt remember that thou wast a servant in the land of Egypt, and the Lord thy God brought thee out thence, therefore I charge thee to do this thing. 16 And if he should say to thee, I will not go out from thee, because he continues to love thee and thy house, because he is well with thee; 17 then thou shalt take an awl, and bore his ear through to the door, and the Lord thy God has blessed thee, thou shalt give to him. 18 It shall not seem hard to thee when they are sent out free from thee, because thy servant has served thee six years according to

19 Then is the anniversary hire of a hired servant; for the Lord thy God shall bless thee in all things whatsoever thou mayest do.

20 Every first-born that is born of thy cattle, of thy flock, and of thy herd, shall be a present unto the Lord thy God.

21 And if there be a blemish therein, aslam or blind, or lame, whatsoever have any blemish, whatsoever shall not sacrifice it to the Lord thy God.

22 Thou shalt eat it in thy cities, in the unclean in thee, and in the clean eateth it in like manner, as the doe or the stag.

23 Only ye shall not eat the blood; thou shalt pour it out on the earth as water.

Observe the month of new corn, and thou shalt sacrifice the passover to the Lord thy God; because in the month of new corn thou comest out of Egypt by night. And thou shalt sacrifice the passover to the Lord thy God, sheaf and order in the place where the Lord thy God shall choose to have his name called upon it.

3 Thou shalt not eat leaven with it; seven days shalt thou eat unleavened bread with it, bread of affliction, because ye came forth out of Egypt in haste; that ye may remember the day of your coming forth out of the land of Egypt all the days of your life. Leaven shall not be seen with thee in all thine borders for seven days, and there shall not be left of the flesh which thou shalt sacrifice at even on the first day until the morning. Thou shalt not have power to sacrifice the passover in any of the cities, which the Lord thy God gives thee.

But in the place which the Lord thy God shall choose to have his name called there, thou shalt sacrifice the passover at even at the setting of the sun, at the time when thou camest out of Egypt.

And thou shalt boil and roast and eat it in the place, which the Lord thy God shall choose; and thou shalt return in the morning, and go to thy house.

Six days shalt thou eat unleavened bread, and on the seventh day is a holy convocation, a feast to the Lord thy God; thou shalt not do in it any work, save what must be done by any one.

Seven weeks shalt thou number to thyself; when thou hast begun to put the sickle to the corn, thou shalt begin to number seven weeks. And thou shalt keep the feast of weeks to the Lord thy God, accordingly as thy hand has power in as many things as the Lord thy God shall give thee.

And thou shalt rejoice before the Lord thy God, thou and thy son, and thy daughter, thy man-servant, and thy maid-servant, and the Levite, and the stranger, and the orphan, and the widow which dwells among you, in whatsoever place the Lord thy God shall choose, that his name should be called there.

And thou shalt remember that thou wast a servant in the land of Egypt, and thou shalt observe and do these commands. Thou shalt keep for thyself the feast of tabernacles seven days, when thou

10 And thou shalt write all these words upon stones, and shalt set them in the temple of the Lord your God, in the place which he shall choose; 11 And thou shalt rise up in the sight of all Israel, to set them in judgment; according to all that they shall sin against me, according to all their transgressions, and all their sins.

12 And it shall be, when all these things are come upon thee, in the latter days, when thy days are fulfilled, that thou shalt.return into this place. 13 And thou shalt return and say in thine heart, Wherefore have these evil things befallen unto me, and to this people, and to this land?

14 Then shalt thou say in thine heart, It is because my sins were more than of all their sins, because I have forsaken the Lord, the God of Israel, and gone and served other gods; therefore hath the Lord brought upon me all this evil.

15 Now therefore, give you ear unto my voice, O Israel; the Lord God of thy fathers is of a truth God of gods, and Lord of lords, a God that will not respect persons, nor take reward: he doth execute judgment for the fatherless and the widow, and loveth the stranger, in giving him food and raiment.

16 So the stranger, whosoever he be that dwelleth among you, shall not be exempted from obser-vation of the Lord thy God, for ye are come out of the land of Egypt, to be a people unto the Lord thy God; as all the nations are; 17 That thou mayest fear the Lord thy God, to keep all his statutes and his commandments, which I command thee, thou and thy son after thee.

18 And it shall come to pass, when thou com-est into the land which the Lord God of thy fathers hath given thee, and hast possessed it, and dwellest therein, that thou shalt set in all the gates of Jerusalem, which thou shalt set up, in the gates of Joshu-a the Son of Nun, of this song, and shalt write it in a book, according to all these words.

19 For I will cause to be heard in that day, great solemnity upon the heaven and upon the earth, a sound of weeping and mourning, 20 Such as never was, neither shall be any more, even to the ears of he who shall hear it. And upon the land of Assyria shall the Lord execute judgment and might as he did in the land of Egypt.

22 And thou shalt say in thine heart, Wherefore have these evil things befallen unto me, and to this people, and to this land?

23 Then shalt thou say in thine heart, It is because my sins were more than of all their sins, because I have forsaken the Lord, the God of Israel, and have gone and served other gods; therefore hath the Lord brought upon me all this evil.

24 So the stranger, whosoever he be that dwelleth among you, shall not be exempted from observance of the Lord thy God, for ye are come out of the land of Egypt, to be a people unto the Lord thy God; as all the nations are; 25 That thou mayest fear the Lord thy God, to keep all his statutes and his commandments, which I command thee, thou and thy son after thee.

26 And it shall come to pass, when thou comest into the land which the Lord God of thy fathers hath given thee, and hast possessed it, and dwellest therein, that thou shalt set in all the gates of Jerusalem, which thou shalt set up, in the gates of Joshua the Son of Nun, of this song, and shalt write it in a book, according to all these words.

27 For I will cause to be heard in that day, great solemnity upon the heaven and upon the earth, a sound of weeping and mourning, such as never was, neither shall be any more, even to the ears of him who shall hear it. And upon the land of Assyria shall the Lord execute judgment and might as he did in the land of Egypt.

28 And it shall come to pass, when all these words are come upon thee, in the latter days, that thou return into this place. 29 And thou shalt say in thine heart, Wherefore have these evil things befallen unto me, and to this people, and to this land?

30 Then shalt thou say in thine heart, It is because my sins were more than of all their sins, because I have forsaken the Lord, the God of Israel, and have gone and served other gods; therefore hath the Lord brought upon me all this evil.

And upon the land of Assyria shall the Lord execute judgment and might as he did in the land of Egypt.

And if a Levite come from one of the cities of all the children of Israel, where he himself dwells, accordingly as his mind desires, to the place which he shall have chosen, he shall minister to the name of the Lord his God, as all his brethren the Levites, who stand there present before the Lord thy God. He shall destroy them from before thy face. And when thou shalt have entered into the land which the Lord thy God gives thee, thou shalt not learn to do according to the abominations of those nations.

There shall not be found in thee one who purses his son or his daughter with fire, one who deals with omens, and augury, a sorcerer employing incantation, one who has in him a divining spirit, an observer of signs, questioning the dead. For every one that does these things is an abomination to the Lord thy God; for because of these abominations the Lord thy God will destroy them from before thy face. Thou shalt be perfect before the Lord thy God. For all these nations whose land thou shalt inherit, they will listen to omens and divinations; but the Lord thy God has not permitted thee so to do.

The Lord thy God shall raise up to thee a prophet of thy brethren, like me; him shall ye hear: according to all things which thou didst desire of the Lord thy God in Choreb in the day of the assembly, saying, We will not again hear the voice of the Lord thy God, and we will not any more see this great fire, and so we shall not die. And the Lord said unto me, They have spoken right all that they have said to thee. I will raise up to them a prophet of their brethren, like thee; and I will put my words in his mouth, and he shall speak to them as I shall command him. And whatever man shall not hearken to whatsoever words that prophet shall speak in my name, whosoever is the prophet that shall prophesy in my name, which I have not commanded him to speak, or whosoever speaks in the name of other gods, that prophet shall die. But if thou shalt say in thine heart, How shall we know the word which the Lord has not spoken? whatsoever words that prophet shall speak in my name, which I have not commanded him to speak, and whosoever shall speak in the name of other gods, that prophet shall die. But if thou shalt say, How shall we know the word which the Lord has not spoken? and whosoever speaks in my name, of which I have not commanded him to speak, and which thou shalt say in thine heart, How shall we know the word which the Lord has not spoken? he shall not speak in my name, thou shalt pronounce that he speak in my name, and thou shalt strike him dead. And when the Lord thy God shall have destroyed the nations, which God gives thee, even the land, and ye shall inherit them, and dwell in their cities, and in their houses; thou shalt separate for thyself three cities in the midst of thy land, which the Lord thy God gives thee. Take a survey of thy way, and thou shalt divide the coasts of thy land, which the Lord thy God apportions to thee, into three parts, and there shall be there a refuge for every manslayer. And this shall be the ordinance of the manslayer, who shall flee thither, and shall

... than thyself; thou shalt not be afraid of them, for the Lord thy God is with thee, who brought thee up out of the land of Egypt. And it shall come to pass whenever thou shalt draw nigh to battle, that the priest shall draw nigh and speak to the people, and shall say to them, 'Hear, O Israel; ye are going this day to battle against your enemies; let not thy heart faint, fear not, neither be confounded, neither turn aside from your face. For it is the Lord your God who advanceth with you, to fight with you against your enemies, and to save you. And the scribes shall speak to the people, saying, What man is he that has built this new house, and has not dedicated it? Let him go and return to his house, lest he die in the war, and another man dedicate it. And what man is he that has planted a vineyard, and has not made merry with it? Let him go and return to his house, lest he die in the battle, and another man take her. And the scribes shall speak further to the people, and say, What man is he that has betrothed a wife, and has not taken her? Let him go and return to his house, lest he die in the battle, and another man take her. And the scribes shall speak further to the people, that they shall appoint generals of the army to be leaders of the people.

And if thou shalt draw nigh to a city to overcome them by war, then call them out peaceably. If then they should answer peaceably to thee, and open to thee, it shall be that all the people found in it shall be tributary and subject to thee. But if they will not hearken to thee, but wage war against thee, thou shalt invest it; until the Lord thy God deliver it into thy hand, and thou shalt smite every male of it with the edge of the sword; except the women and the children, and all the cattle, and whatsoever shall be in the city, and all the plunder thou shalt take as spoil for thyself, and shalt eat all the plunder of thine enemies whom the Lord thy God giveth thee. Thus shalt thou do to all the cities that are very far off from thee, not being of the cities of these nations which the Lord thy God giveth thee to inherit their land.

Of these ye shall not take any thing alive; but ye shall surely curse them, the Chettites, and the Amorites, and the Canaanites, and the Hittites, and the Perizzites, and the Jebusites, and the Amaleites, and all the nations which the Lord thy God commanded thee: that they may not teach you to do all their abominations, which they did to their gods, and ye should sin before the Lord thy God. And if thou shouldest besiege a city many days to prevail against it by war to take it, thou shalt not eat of the city's bread, nor apply an iron tool to them, but thou shalt eat of it, and shalt not cut it down: Is the tree that is in the field a man, to enter before thee into the work of the

And if any man has a disobedient and contentious son, who hearkens not to the voice of his father and the voice of his mother, and they should correct him, and he should not hearken to them; then shall his father and his mother take hold of him, and bring him forth to the elders of his city, and to the gate of the place where they dwell, and shall say to the men of their city, This our son is disobedient and contentious, he hearkens not to our voice, he is a reveller and a drunkard. 21 And the men of his city shall stone him with stones, and he shall die; and thou shalt remove the evil one from yourselves, and the rest shall hear and fear.

And if there be sin in any one, and the judgment of death be upon him, and he be put to death, and ye hang him on a tree: 24 his body shall not remain all right upon the tree, but ye shall by all means bury it in that day; for ye shall not hang upon a tree the house of God; and ye shall no means defile the land which the Lord thy God gives thee for an inheritance.

When thou seest the calf of thy brother or his sheep wandering in the way, thou shalt not overlook them; thou shalt by all means turn them back to thy brother, and thou shalt restore them to him. And if thy brother be not nigh, and thou dost not know him, thou shalt bring it into thy house within; and it shall be with thee until thy brother shall seek them, and thou shalt restore them to him. Thus shalt thou do to his ass, and thus shalt thou do to his garment, and thus shalt thou do to every thing that thy brother has lost; whatsoever shall have been lost by him, and thou shalt have found, thou shalt not have power to overlook. 3 Thou shalt not see the ass of thy brother, or his calf, fallen in the way: thou shalt not overlook them, thou shalt surely help him to raise them up.

The apparel of a man shall not be on a woman: nor shall a man put on woman's dress: for every one that does these things is an abomination to the Lord thy God. 4 And if thou shouldest come upon a brood of birds before thy face in the way or upon any tree, or upon the earth, young or eggs, and the mother be brooding on the young or the eggs, thou shalt not take the dam with the young ones. 5 Thou shalt by all means let the mother go, but thou shalt take the young to thyself; that it may be well with thee, and that thou mayest live long.

If thou shouldest build a new house, then shalt thou make a parapet to thy house; so thou shalt not bring blood-guiltiness upon thy house, if one should in any wise fall from it. 6 Thou shalt not sow thy vineyard with diverse seed, lest the fruit be devoted, and whatsoever seed thou mayest sow, with the fruit of thy vineyard. 7 Thou shalt not plough with an ox and an ass together. 8 Thou shalt not wear a mingled garment, woollen and linen together. 9 Thou shalt make fringes on the four borders of thy garments, with which soever thou mayest be clothed.

And the first of his children, and to him belongs the birthright. 10 And if any man has a disobedient and contentious son, who hearkens not to the voice of his father and the voice of his mother, and they should correct him, and he should not hearken to them; then shall his father and his mother take hold of him, and bring him forth to the elders of his city, and to the gate of the place where they dwell, and shall say to the men of their city, This our son is disobedient and contentious, he hearkens not to our voice, he is a reveller and a drunkard. 21 And the men of his city shall stone him with stones, and he shall die; and thou shalt remove the evil one from yourselves, and the rest shall hear and fear.

13 'And he that feareth his wife, and that maketh her a name, shall be exalted in the gate, and shall not be ashamed in the congregation of his father's people.

14 And if a wife separate herself from her husband, and her husband take another wife, and run after her, and she be found to be unchaste, and there be no cursed one against her; then shall it be, that her husband that took her another wife shall bring her to his gates, and make her fast to the post of gate, and shall make her fast, and she shall be instruments of reproach among her father's people. And she shall be bare of apparel, and shall eat ashes, and shall be cast out of the city, and shall be made a reproach among her father's people. And if the man be willing to take her back again, and take her, and she be not with child, then she shall be let to go, and he shall not be able to ransom her any more.

15 And if the man be not willing to take her again to be his wife, then shall she be free, and shall be able to marry any man whom she pleaseth: only shall she be free from all bondages.

16 And these are the statutes of the land, which the Lord commanded in Mount Sinai, by the hand of Moses for Israel.

and as thou hast vowed a gift to the Lord God, so shalt thou do that which thou hast spoken with thy mouth.

And if thou shouldest go into the corn field of thy neighbour, then thou mayest gather the ears with thy hands; but thou shalt not put the sickle to thy neighbour's corn. And if thou shouldst go into the vineyard of thy neighbour, thou shalt eat grapes sufficient to satisfy thy desire; but thou mayest not put them into a vessel.

And if any one should take a wife, and should dwell with her, then it shall come to pass if she should not have found favour before him, because he has found some unconcerning thing in her, that he shall write for her a bill of divorce, and give it into her hands, and he shall send her away out of his house. And if she should go away and be married to another man, and the last husband should hate her, and write for her a bill of divorce; and should give it into her hands, and send her away out of his house, and the last husband should die, who took her to himself for a wife; the former husband who sent her away shall not be able to return and take her to himself for a wife, after she has been defiled; because it is an abomination before the Lord thy God, and ye shall not defile the land, which the Lord thy God gives thee to inherit.

And if any one should have recently taken a wife, she shall not go out to war, neither shall any thing be laid upon him; he shall be yoke in his house; for one year he shall cheer his wife whom he has taken.

8 Thou shalt not take for a pledge the under millstone, nor the upper millstone; for he who does so takes life for a pledge. And if a man should be caught stealing one of his brethren of the children of Israel, and having overcome him he should sell him, that thief shall die; so shall thou remove that evil one from yourselves. Take heed to thyself in regard of the plague of leprosy: thou shalt take great heed to do according thereto, as I commanded thee. And he that is Levite, shall report to you, take heed to do, as I have charged you. Remember all that the Lord thy God did to Marium in the way, when ye were going out of Egypt.

11 If thy neighbour owe thee a debt, any debt whatsoever, thou shalt not go into his house to take his pledge; thou shalt stand without, and the man who is in thy debt shall bring the pledge out to thee. And if the man be poor, thou shalt not sleep with his pledge. Thou shalt surely restore his pledge at sunset, and he shall sleep in his garment, and he shall bless thee; and it shall be mercy to thee before the Lord thy God.

15 Thou shalt not unjustly withhold the wages of the poor and needy of thy brethren, or of the strangers who are in thy land, who dwell among you. And the Lord shall repay thee in the same day, the sun shall not go down upon it, because he is poor and he trusts in it; and he shall cry against thee to the Lord, and it shall be sin in thee. The fathers shall not be put to death for the children, and the sons shall not be put to death for the fathers; every one shall be put to death.
for his own sin. 19 Thou shalt not wrest the judgment of the stranger and the fatherless, and widow; thou shalt not take the widow's garment for a pledge. 20 And thou shalt remember that thou wast a bondman in the land of Egypt, and the Lord thy God redeemed thee from thence; therefore I charge thee this thing.

And when thou shalt have reapèd corn in thine field, and shalt have forgotten a sheaf in thine field, thou shalt not return to take it; it shall be for the stranger, and the orphan, and the widow, that the Lord thy God may bless thee in all the works of thy hands. 22 And when thou shouldest gather thine olives, thou shalt not return to collect the remainder; it shall be for the stranger, and the fatherless, and the widow, and thou shalt remember that thou wast a bondman in the land of Egypt; therefore I command thee to do this thing.

And if there be a dispute between men, and they come to judge before the judges, that they may judge them; and they have not a judge to decide between them, then shall they come unto the gate of the city, and shall say, This is our case, why hast thou done such a thing unto thy brother? And they shall judge them, and decide it justly.

And if a stranger be with thee, or one that sojourneth among you, and he be in difficulty, and hath an lawsuit, then shall you help him, and judge him justly. 25 And thou shalt not delight in the blood of thy brother, to commit murder. And thou shalt not meddle with blood, to commit murder. Thou shalt not meddle with blood.

For in six days the Lord made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is, and rested on the seventh day. Wherefore the Lord blessed the sabbath day, and hallowed it. 28 And it came to pass in the seventh day, that God rested from all his works which he had made; wherefore he blessed the seventh day, and hallowed it. 29 For in six days the Lord made heaven and earth, sea, and all that in them is, and rested on the seventh day. Wherefore the Lord blessed the seventh day, and hallowed it. 30 For in six days the Lord made heaven and earth, sea, and all that in them is, and rested on the seventh day. Wherefore the Lord blessed the seventh day, and hallowed it.
Deuteronomy XXV. 12—XXVI. 11.

And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,

12 Thou shalt not bring the fruit of thy harvest nor gleaning of thy field for the poor man; but shalt let them come unto themselves, that the poor of my people may eat them; and so shalt thou do for thy vineyard, and for thy oliveyard.

13 Be not covetous when thou goest to thy neighbour's house to borrow, nor be thou hasty to enter in to take of his goods to bring him nigh to thee.

14 Be not partial in thine judgment; hear the small and the great equally; do not be afraid of the face of man, that he will judge against thee.

15 In all judgment give impartiality; hear the cause of thy neighbour that is small, and the cause of the stranger that is stranger; do not for any man, or for any cause, be partial in thine judgment.

16 And the Lord shall be judge over thee, and over thy children, and over thy servants, and over all that thou shalt possess; and over thine heart and over thine soul.

17 So shalt thou remember the Lord, thy God, and shalt walk in his ways, and shalt keep his commandments and his statutes and his ordinances, and his judgments, and shalt worship him, and shalt serve him.

18 And the Lord shall be very merciful unto thee, and will turn away thine heart from covetousness.

19 And the Lord shall make thee fat, and thy soul shall flourish; and the Lord shall make thee exceeding fruitful in the land which the Lord sware unto thy fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob.

20 And the Lord shall bring thee into the land which the Lord sware unto thy fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob, and shall give it thee.

21 And thou shalt eat the good of the land, and shalt set thine heart and thy soul to serveth the Lord thy God; and thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul.

22 And the Lord shall make thee exceeding happy, and thou shalt eat up the good of the land, and shalt enjoy abundance of cattle, and have endure peace in the land which the Lord sware unto thy fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob.

23 And the Lord shall make thee the head, and not the tail, in the land which the Lord sware unto thy fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob.

24 And the Lord shall make thee to be產業 of the people, and thou shalt be fruitful as the fruitful earth, and shalt eat the good of the land; and thou shalt multiply and be multiplied; and thou shalt bring forth seed unto the land which thou sowest.

25 And the Lord shall make thee the head, and not the tail, in the land which the Lord sware unto thy fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob.

26 And the Lord shall make thee to be exceeding prosperous in all the good things that the Lord sware unto thy fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob.

27 And the Lord shall make thee the head, and not the tail, in the land which the Lord sware unto thy fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob.
12 And when thou shalt have completed all the titheings of thy fruits in the third year, thou shalt give the second tenth to the Levite, and stranger, and fatherless, and widow; and they shall eat it in thy cities, and be merry.

13 And thou shalt say before the Lord thy God, I have fully collected the holy things out of my house, and I have given them to the Levite, and the stranger, and the orphan, according to all the commandments which thou didst command me.

14 And I have not eaten of it, I have not gathered of them, I have not eaten of them for an unclean purpose, and I have not given of them to the dead: I have hearkened to the voice of the Lord our God. I have done as thou hast commanded me.

15 And thou shalt speak in the ears of thy children, saying, 'And this law shall be to thee for a charge forever, that thou mayest do according to all that is written in this book of the law.'
people to the Lord thy God. 10 And thou shalt hearken to the voice of the Lord thy God, and shalt do all his commands, and his ordinances, as many as I command thee this day.

11 And Moses charged the people on that day, saying, 12 These shall stand to bless the people on mount Garizim having gone over Jordan; Symeon, Levi, Judas, Issachar, Joseph, and Benjamin. 13 And these shall stand for cursing on mount Gebal; Ruben, Gad, and Aser, Zabulon, Dan, and Nephthali.

14 And the Levites shall answer and say to all Israel with a loud voice, 15 Cursed is the man whoseover shall make a graven image or molten image, an abomination to the Lord, the work of the hands of craftsmen, and shall put it in a secret place: and all the people shall answer and say, So be it. 16 Cursed is the man that dishonours his father or his mother: and all the people shall say, So be it. 17 Cursed is he that removes his neighbour's landmarks: and all the people shall say, So be it.

18 Cursed is he that makes the blind to wander in the way: and all the people shall say, So be it. 19 Cursed is he that perverteth the judgment of the stranger, and orphan, and widow: and all the people shall say, So be it. 20 Cursed is he that lieth with his father's wife, because he has uncovered his father's skirt: and all the people shall say, So be it. 21 Cursed is he that lieth with any beast: and all the people shall say, So be it. 22 Cursed is he that lieth with his sister by his father or his mother: and all the people shall say, So be it. 23 Cursed is he that lieth with his daughter-in-law: and all the people shall say, So be it. 24 Cursed is he that embleth his neighbour secretly: and all the people shall say, So be it.

25 Cursed is he that takes a bribe to slay an innocent man: and all the people shall say, So be it. 26 Cursed is every man that continueth not in all the words of this law to do them: and all the people shall say, So be it.

And it shall come to pass, if thou wilt indeed hear the voice of the Lord thy God, to observe and do all these commands, which I charge thee this day, that the Lord thy God shall set thee on high above all the nations of the earth; 2 and all these blessings shall come upon thee, and shall find thee. If thou wilt indeed hear the voice of the Lord thy God, 3 blessed shall thou be in the city, and blessed shalt thou be in the field. 4 Blessed shall be the offspring of thy body, and the fruits of thy land, and the herds of thy oxen, and the flocks of thy sheep. 5 Blessed shall be thy barns, and thy stores. 6 Blessed shalt thou be in thy coming in, and blessed shalt thou be in thy going out.

7 The Lord deliver thine enemies that withstand thee utterly broken before thy face: they shall come out against thee one way, and they shall flee seven ways from before thee. 8 The Lord send upon thee his blessing in thy barns, and on all which thou shalt put thine hand, in the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee. 9 The Lord raise thee up for himself a holy people, as he hath sworn to thy fathers; and thou shalt be his treasured possession. 10 All the nations of the earth shall see that thou art called by the name of the Lord thy God, and shall stand in awe of thee. 11 And the Lord thy God shall multiply thee good in the off-spring of thy body, and in the fruits of thy land, on thy land which the Lord sware to thy fathers to give to thee.

12 May the Lord open to thee his good treasure, the heaven, to give rain to thy land in season: may he bless all the works of thy hands: so shalt thou lend to many nations, but they shall not lend to thee. 13 Thou shalt not turn aside from any of the commandments, which I charge thee this day, to the right hand or to the left, but shalt do them. 14 But it shall come to pass, if thou wilt not hearken to the voice of the Lord thy God, to observe all his commandments, as I have commanded thee, then all these curses shall come upon thee, and overtake thee. 15 Cursed shalt thou be in the city, and cursed shalt thou be in the field. 16 Cursed shalt be thy barns and thy storehouses. 17 Cursed shall be the off-spring of thy body, and the fruits of thy land, the herds of thine oxen, and the flocks of thy sheep. 18 Cursed shalt thou be in thy coming in, and cursed shalt thou be in thy going out.

The Lord send upon thee want, and famine, and consumption on all things on which thou shalt put thy hand, until he shall have utterly destroyed thee, and until he shall have consumed thee from off the land into which thou goest to inherit it. 21 The Lord smite thee with distress, and fever, and cold, and inflammation, and blighting, and paleness, and they shall pursue thee until they have destroyed thee. 22 And thou shalt have over thine head a sky of brass, and the earth under thee shall be iron. 23 The Lord thy God make the rain of thy land dust; and dust shall come down from heaven, until it shall have destroyed thee, and until it shall have quickly consumed thee. 24 And thou shalt have before thine eyes thine enemies: thou shalt go out against them one way, and flee from their face seven ways: and thou shalt be a dispersion in all the kingdoms of the earth. 25 And thy dead men shall be food to the birds of the sky, and to the beasts of the earth; and there shall be none to scare them away.
Deuteronomy XXVIII. 28—47.

Lord smite thee with the brush of Egypt in the seat, and with a malignant scab, and itch, so that thou canst not be healed. 28 The Lord smite thee with insanity, and blindness, and astonishment of mind. 29 And thou shalt grope at mid-day, as a blind man would grope in the darkness, and thou shalt not prosper in thy ways; and then thou shalt be unjustly treated, and plundered continually, and there shall be no helper. 30 Thou shalt take a wife, and another man shall have her; thou shalt build a house, and thou shalt not dwell in it; thou shalt plant a vineyard, and shalt not gather the grapes of it. 31 Thy calf shall be slain before thee, and thou shalt not eat of it; thine ass shall be violently taken away from thee, and shall not be restored to thee: thy sheep shall be given to thine enemies, and thou shalt have no helper. 32 Thy sons and thy daughters shall be given to another nation, and thine eyes wasting away shall look for them: thine hand shall have no strength. 33 A nation which thou knowest not shall eat the produce of thy land, and all thy labours; and thou shalt be injured and crushed always. 34 And thou shalt be distracted, because of the sights of thine eyes which thou shalt see.

35 The Lord smite thee with an evil sore, on the knees and the legs, so that thou shalt not be able to be healed from the sole of thy foot to the crown of thy head. 36 The Lord carry away thee and thy princes, whom thou shalt set over thee, to a nation which neither thou nor thy fathers know; and thou shalt there serve other gods, wood and stone. 37 And thou shalt be there for a wonder, and a parable, and a tale, among all the nations, to which the Lord thy God shall carry thee away.

38 Thou shalt carry forth much seed into the field, and thou shalt bring in little, because the locust shall devour it. 39 Thou shalt plant a vineyard, and dress it, and shall not drink the wine, neither shall thou delight thyself with it, because the vines shall yield no fruit. 40 Thou shalt have olive trees in all thy borders, and thou shalt not anoint thee with oil, because thine olive shall utterly cast its fruit. 41 Thou shalt beget sons and daughters, and they shall not be thine, for they shall depart into captivity. 42 All thy trees and the fruits of thy land shall the bountiful consume. 43 The stranger that is within thee shall get up very high, and thou shalt come down very low. 44 He shall lend to thee, and thou shalt not lend to him: he shall be the head, and thou shalt be the tail.

45 And all these curses shall come upon thee, and shall pursue thee, and shall overtake thee, until he shall have consumed thee, and until he shall have destroyed thee; because thou didst not hearken to the voice of the Lord thy God, to keep his commands, and his ordinances which he has commanded thee. 46 And these things shall be signs in thee, and wonders among thy seed for ever; because thou didst not serve the Lord thy God with gladness and a good heart, because of the abundance of all things.
6 And thou shalt serve thine enemies, which the Lord will send forth against thee, in hunger, and in thirst, and in nakedness, and in the want of all things; and thou shalt wear upon thy neck a yoke of iron until he shall have destroyed thee. 7 The Lord shall bring upon thee a nation from the extremity of the earth, even as the swift eagle; a nation whose voice thou shalt not understand; 8 a nation bold in countenance, which shall not respect the person of the aged, and shall not pity the young. 9 And it shall eat up the young of thy cattle, and the fruits of thy land, so as not to leave to thee corn, wine, or oil, the herd of thy oxen, and the flock of thy sheep, until it shall have destroyed thee; 10 and have utterly crushed thee in thy cities, until the high and strong walls be destroyed, in which thou trustedest, in all thy land; and it shall afflict thee in thy cities, which he has given to thee. 11 And thou shalt eat the fruit of thy enemies, the flesh of thy children, and of thy daughters, all that has given thee, in thy straitness and thy affliction, with which thine enemy shall afflict thee. 12 He that is tender and very delicate among thee, thine eye has not seen to go upon the earth for delicacy and tenderness, shall look with an evil eye upon her husband in her bosom, and her son and her daughter, 13 and every one who comes out between her feet, and the child which she shall bear; for she shall eat them because of his having nothing left him in thy straitness, and in thy affliction, with which thine enemy shall afflict thee in all thy cities. 14 And she that is tender and delicate among thee, the foot that has not sinned to go upon the earth for delicacy and tenderness, shall look with an evil eye upon her husband in her bosom, and her son and her daughter, 15 and every one who comes out between her feet, and the child which she shall bear; for she shall eat them because of his having nothing left him in thy straitness, and in thy affliction, with which thine enemy shall afflict thee in all thy cities. 16 If thou wilt not hearken to do all the words of this law, which have been written in this book, to fear this glorious and wonderful name, the Lord thy God; 17 (for he shall magnify thy plagues, and the plagues of thy seed, and thee secretly, thy straitness, and in thy affliction, with which thine enemy shall afflict thee in thy cities. 18 If thou wilt not hearken to do all the words of this law, which have been written in this book, to fear this glorious and wonderful name, the Lord thy God; 19 (for he shall magnify thy plagues, and the plagues of thy seed, and thee secretly, thy straitness, and in thy affliction, with which thine enemy shall afflict thee in thy cities. 20 And he shall bring upon thee all the evil of Egypt, of which thou wast afraid, and they shall cleave to thee. 21 And the Lord shall bring upon thee every sickness, and every plague that is not written in the book of this law, until he shall have destroyed thee. 22 And ye shall be few in number, whereas ye were as the stars of the sky in multitude; because thou didst not hearken to the voice of the Lord thy God. 23 And it shall come to pass, that as the Lord rejoiced over you to do you good, and to multiply you, so the Lord will rejoice over you to destroy you; and ye shall be quickly removed from the land, into which ye go to inherit it. 24 And the Lord thy God shall scatter thee among all nations, from one end of the earth to the other; and thou shalt there serve other gods, wood and stone, which thou hast not known, nor thy fathers. Moreover, thou shalt not make for thee gods of wood, or of stone.

29 Ye are the children of thy fathers, Adam and Eve, and your descendants shall inherit the land of Canaan, which is cursed with famine and thirst. And the land shall yield its fruits abundantly to you, and you shall be exalted above all nations that have been upon the earth.

30 But if you do not obey the Lord your God, nor walk in his ways, he will smite you with plagues, and you shall die in the land of Egypt.

31 Therefore serve the Lord your God, and he will give you all these blessings:

32 Life in the land of Canaan, prosperity, and health, and length of days, and contentment, and peace, and safety, and joy.

33 And with these blessings he will bestow upon you: blessing upon your bread and upon your water, and upon the fruit of your body, and upon the fruit of your land, and upon the fruit of your vineyards.

34 And if you do not obey the Lord your God, and walk in his ways, he will afflict you with great plagues, and you shall die in the land of Egypt.

35 Therefore serve the Lord your God, and he will give you all these blessings.

36 And with these blessings he will bestow upon you: blessing upon your bread and upon your water, and upon the fruit of your body, and upon the fruit of your land, and upon the fruit of your vineyards.

37 And if you do not obey the Lord your God, and walk in his ways, he will afflict you with great plagues, and you shall die in the land of Egypt.

38 Therefore serve the Lord your God, and he will give you all these blessings.

39 And with these blessings he will bestow upon you: blessing upon your bread and upon your water, and upon the fruit of your body, and upon the fruit of your land, and upon the fruit of your vineyards.

40 And if you do not obey the Lord your God, and walk in his ways, he will afflict you with great plagues, and you shall die in the land of Egypt.

41 Therefore serve the Lord your God, and he will give you all these blessings.

42 And with these blessings he will bestow upon you: blessing upon your bread and upon your water, and upon the fruit of your body, and upon the fruit of your land, and upon the fruit of your vineyards.

43 And if you do not obey the Lord your God, and walk in his ways, he will afflict you with great plagues, and you shall die in the land of Egypt.

44 Therefore serve the Lord your God, and he will give you all these blessings.

45 And with these blessings he will bestow upon you: blessing upon your bread and upon your water, and upon the fruit of your body, and upon the fruit of your land, and upon the fruit of your vineyards.

46 And if you do not obey the Lord your God, and walk in his ways, he will afflict you with great plagues, and you shall die in the land of Egypt.

47 Therefore serve the Lord your God, and he will give you all these blessings.

48 And with these blessings he will bestow upon you: blessing upon your bread and upon your water, and upon the fruit of your body, and upon the fruit of your land, and upon the fruit of your vineyards.

49 And if you do not obey the Lord your God, and walk in his ways, he will afflict you with great plagues, and you shall die in the land of Egypt.

50 Therefore serve the Lord your God, and he will give you all these blessings.

51 And with these blessings he will bestow upon you: blessing upon your bread and upon your water, and upon the fruit of your body, and upon the fruit of your land, and upon the fruit of your vineyards.

52 And if you do not obey the Lord your God, and walk in his ways, he will afflict you with great plagues, and you shall die in the land of Egypt.

53 Therefore serve the Lord your God, and he will give you all these blessings.

54 And with these blessings he will bestow upon you: blessing upon your bread and upon your water, and upon the fruit of your body, and upon the fruit of your land, and upon the fruit of your vineyards.

55 And if you do not obey the Lord your God, and walk in his ways, he will afflict you with great plagues, and you shall die in the land of Egypt.

56 Therefore serve the Lord your God, and he will give you all these blessings.

57 And with these blessings he will bestow upon you: blessing upon your bread and upon your water, and upon the fruit of your body, and upon the fruit of your land, and upon the fruit of your vineyards.

58 And if you do not obey the Lord your God, and walk in his ways, he will afflict you with great plagues, and you shall die in the land of Egypt.

59 Therefore serve the Lord your God, and he will give you all these blessings.

60 And with these blessings he will bestow upon you: blessing upon your bread and upon your water, and upon the fruit of your body, and upon the fruit of your land, and upon the fruit of your vineyards.

61 And if you do not obey the Lord your God, and walk in his ways, he will afflict you with great plagues, and you shall die in the land of Egypt.

62 Therefore serve the Lord your God, and he will give you all these blessings.

63 And with these blessings he will bestow upon you: blessing upon your bread and upon your water, and upon the fruit of your body, and upon the fruit of your land, and upon the fruit of your vineyards.

64 And if you do not obey the Lord your God, and walk in his ways, he will afflict you with great plagues, and you shall die in the land of Egypt.

65 Therefore serve the Lord your God, and he will give you all these blessings.

66 And with these blessings he will bestow upon you: blessing upon your bread and upon your water, and upon the fruit of your body, and upon the fruit of your land, and upon the fruit of your vineyards.

67 And if you do not obey the Lord your God, and walk in his ways, he will afflict you with great plagues, and you shall die in the land of Egypt.

68 Therefore serve the Lord your God, and he will give you all these blessings.
which are among them. 13 Least there be among you man, or woman, or family, or tribe, whose heart has turned aside from the Lord your God, having gone to serve the gods of these nations; lest there be in you a root springing up up with gall and bitterness. 14 And if one of you shall hear the words of this curse, and shall slumber himself in his heart, saying, Let good happen to me, for I will walk in the error of my heart, lest the sinner destroy the guiltless with him. 15 God shall by no means be willing to pardon him, but then the wrath of the Lord and his jealousy shall come out against that man; and all the curses of this covenant shall attach themselves to him, which are written in this book, and the Lord shall blot out his name from under heaven. 16 And the Lord shall separate that man for evil of all the children of Israel, according to all the curses which are written in the book of this law.

And another generation shall say—even your sons who shall rise up after you, and the stranger who shall come from a land afar off, and shall see the plagues of that land and their diseases, which the Lord has sent upon the nations, and upon the burning salt, (the whole land shall not be sown, neither shall any green thing spring, nor rise upon it, as Sodom and Gomorrah were overthrown, Adama and Seboim, which the Lord overthrew in his wrath and anger:)—and all the nations shall say, Why has the Lord done thus, and what did he see to do this great fierce anger? 17 And men shall say, Because they forsook the covenant of the Lord God of their fathers, the things which he appointed to their fathers, when he brought them out of the land of Egypt: 18 and they went and served other gods, which they knew not, neither did he call them to mind among all the nations. Wherein the Lord shall have scattered thee, 19 and shall return to the Lord thy God, and shall hearken to his voice, according to all things which I charge thee this day, with all thy heart, and with all thy soul; 20 then the Lord shall heal thine iniquities, and shall pity thee, and shall again gather thee out from all the nations, among which the Lord has scattered thee. 21 If thy dispersion be from one end of heaven to the other, thence will the Lord thy God gather thee, and thence will the Lord thy God take thee. 22 And the Lord thy God shall bring thee in from thence unto the land without thy fathers have dwelt, and shall give thee great and good inheritance, which he sware to give thee.
Deuteronomy XXX. 6—XXXI. 2.

6 And the Lord thy God will put these curses upon thine enemies, and upon those that hate thee, who have persecuted thee.

7 And thou shalt return and hearken to the voice of the Lord thy God, and shall keep his commands, all that I charge thee this day.

8 And the Lord thy God shall bless thee in every work of thine hands, in the offspring of thy body, and in the offspring of thy cattle, and in the fruits of thy land, because the Lord thy God will again rejoice over thee for good, as he rejoiced over thy fathers:

9 if thou wilt hearken to the voice of the Lord thy God, to keep his commandments, and his ordinances, and his judgments, written in this book of law, if thou turn to the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul. 10 For this commandment which I charge thee this day is not grievous, neither is it far from thee.

11 It is not in heaven above, as if there were one saying, Who shall go up for us into heaven, and shall take it for us, and we will hear and do it? Neither is it beyond the sea, saying, Who will go over for us to the other side of the sea, and take it for us, and make it audible to us, and we will do it?

12 The word is very near thee, in thy mouth, and in thine heart, that thou mayest live, and that thou mayest go in and possess the land, which the Lord sware unto thy fathers.

13 Behold, I have set before thee this day life and death, good and evil:

14 If thou wilt hearken to the commands of the Lord thy God, which I command thee this day, to love the Lord thy God, to walk in all his ways, and to keep his ordinances, and his judgments; then ye shall live, and shall be multiplied; and the Lord thy God shall bless thee in all the land into which thou goest to inherit it.

15 But if thou wilt not hearken unto the voice of the Lord thy God, to keep his commandments and his ordinances and his judgments which I command thee this day; then shall all these curses come upon thee, and shall pursue thee, until thou exceed them:

16 Curses, and cursing, and blindness, and a flesh-corruption, and an everlasting curse and perpetual blindness, and an everlasting curse shall come upon thee, until thou exceed them. 17 And the Lord shall smite thee with Consumption, and with Fever of Cholera, and with the Swelling of the Throat, and with the Dropsy, and with the Fester, and with the Aurous, and with the Lice, and with the Scab, and with theги, and with the Fester and with the Dropsy, and with the Fester and with the Dropsy, and with the Fester and with the Dropsy, and with the Fester and with the Dropsy.
And Moses wrote the words of this law in a book, and gave it to the priests the sons of Levi who bear the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and to the elders of the sons of Israel.

And Moses charged them in that day, saying, After seven years, in the time of the year of release, in the feast of tabernacles, when all Israel come together to appear before the Lord your God, in the place which the Lord shall choose, ye shall read this law before all Israel in their ears, Phrasing assembled the people, the men, and the women, and that child, and the stranger that is in your cities, that they may hear, and that they may learn to fear the Lord your God; and they shall hearken to do all the words of this law. And their sons who have not known shall hear, and shall learn to fear the Lord thy God all the days that they live upon the land, into which ye go over Jordan to inherit it.

And the Lord said to Moses, Behold, the days of thy death are at hand; call Joshua, and stand ye by the doors of the tabernacle of testimony, and I will give him a charge. And Moses and Joshua went to the tabernacle of testimony, and stood by the doors of the tabernacle of testimony.

And the Lord descended in a cloud, and stood by the doors of the tabernacle of testimony; and the pillar of the cloud stood by the doors of the tabernacle of testimony. And the Lord said to Moses, Behold, thou shalt sleep with thy fathers; this people will arise and go a whoring after the strange gods of the land, into which they are entering: and they will forsake me, and break my covenant, which I made with them. And I will be very angry with them in that day, and I will leave them and turn my face from them, and they shall be devoured; and many evils and afflictions shall come upon them; and they shall say in that

And now write the words of this song, and teach it to the children of Israel, and ye shall put it into their mouth, that this song may witness for me among the children of Israel, and be a witness for me among the heathen. And I will bring them into the good land, which I sware to their fathers, to give to them a land flowing with milk and honey: and they shall eat and be filled and satisfy themselves; then will they turn aside after other gods, and serve them, and they will provoke me, and break my covenant. And this song shall stand up to witness against them for they shall not forget it out of their mouth, or out of the mouth of their seed; for I know their wickedness, what they are doing here this day, before I have brought them into the good land, which I sware to their fathers.

And Moses wrote this song in that day, and taught it to the children of Israel. And he charged Joshua, and said, Be courageous and strong, for thou shalt bring the sons of Israel into the land, which the Lord sware to them, and he shall be with thee.

And when Moses finished writing all the words of this law in a book, even to the end; then he charged the Levites who bear the ark of the covenant of the Lord, saying, Take the book of this law, and ye shall put it in the side of the ark of the covenant of the Lord your God; and it shall be there among you for a testimony. For I know thy provocation, and thy stiff neck; for yet during my life with you at this day, ye have been provoking in your conduct toward God: how shall ye not also be so after my death? Gather together to me the heads of your tribes, and your elders, and your judges, and your officers, that I may speak in their ears all these words; and I call both heaven and earth to witness against them.

For I know that after my death ye will utterly transgress, and turn aside out of the way which I have commanded you; and evils shall come upon you yea in the latter days, because ye will do evil before the Lord, to provoke him to anger by the works of your hands.

Attend, O heaven, and I will speak; and let the earth hear the words out of my mouth. Let my speech be looked for as the rain, and my words come down as dew, as the shower upon the herbage, and as snow upon the grass. For I have called on the name of the Lord; assaie ye greatness to our God. As for God, his way is true, and all his ways are judgment; God is faithful, and there is no unrighteousness in him; just and holy is the Lord.
have sinned, not pleasing him; spotted children, a froward and perverted generation. 2 Do you not perceive that the Lord is the God of the living? of the things which are, and the things which are not. 3 Remember the days of old, consider the years of past ages, ask thy father and he will tell thee, thine elders, and they will declare unto thee. 4 When the Most High divided nations, he set the bounds of the nations according to the speech of God, and according to the counsel of the Holy One; he is the highest by his strength. 5 They shall not be moved when this generation is gone out: but as long as the sun shall be in its place, and the moon cause the new moons to appear, 6 When he shall cause the voice of his power to be heard, when the voice of the battle, to awe the earth: then shall the nations be afflicted at the presence of the Lord, and at the glory of his power. 7 Yet he filleth the hungry with good things, and the thirsty shall be filled with the water of life. 8 Therefore shall God destroy them with a destruction irrevocable.

9 "O death, where is thy victory? O grave, where is thy spoil? 10 The victory of Christ has destroyed your power. 11 The Lord's grace is over all. 12 As a lion looketh about, and a young lion is stirred up, when he hath a prey, so is the king against them: 13 They are stirred up, as the smoke, and as the fire, and as the sword; they shall be consumed utterly. 14 And they shall strive against the Lord, and against his servant Jesus, of whom ye have said, He shall sit upon the throne of David. 15 Princes shall drop in their stools, and every king shall ask counsel of the dust. 16 Then said I, O Lord God, thou hast made heaven and earth by thy word, and hast extended them to everlasting generations, 17 And hast appointed them for judgment, and not for our destruction, to bring us to thy holy place. 18 O Lord God, thy name forever and ever, and rein to thyself glory. 19 Therefore he said, I will cause them to know that I am the Lord, though I have taken them out of the land of Egypt. 20 And I will declare my glory among them; I will not be silent: I will be glorious among the heathen. 21 For I will return, and I will not be satisfied until vengeance is done upon the heathen, and upon all the heathen, that have not believed in the name of the Lord. 22 When the Most High divided nations, he set the bounds of the nations according to the speech of God, and according to the counsel of the Holy One; he is the highest by his strength. 23 1 have seen the captivity of my people, the children of Israel, and hear the voice of the cry of the children of Jacob, and of Israel, is laid low because of the Assyrians. 24 The Lord has set the captivity of his people, and delivered them from the hand of all their oppressors. 25 And we know that you have delivered us from our enemies. 26 Therefore I will sing praises unto the Lord, the God of Israel; for it is good to sing praises unto thy name, O Most High."

among men. 27 Were it not for the wrath of the enemy, lest they should live long, lest their enemies should combine against them; lest they should say, Our own high arm, and not the Lord, has done all these things. 28 It is a nation that has lost counsel, neither is there understanding in them. 29 They had not sense to understand: let them reserve these things against the time to come. 30 How should one pursue a thousand, and two rout tens of thousands, if God had not sold them, and the Lord delivered them into their hand? for their gods are not as our God, but our enemies are void of understanding. 31 For their vine is of the vine of Sodom, and their vine-branch of Gomorrha: their grape is a grape of gall, their cluster is one of bitterness. 32 Their wine is the rage of serpents, and the incurable rage of asps. 33 Lo! are not these things stored up by me, and sealed among my treasures? 34 In the day of vengeance I will recompense, whosoever their foot shall be trampled on; for the day of their destruction is near to them, and the judgments at hand are close upon you. 35 For the Lord shall judge his people, and shall be comforted over his servants; for he saw that they were utterly weakened, and failed in the hostile invasion, and were become feeble: and the Lord said, Wherefore are your gods, whom you trusted? 36 the fat of whose sacrifices ye ate, and ye drank the wine of their drink-offerings? let them arise and help you, and be your protectors. 37 Behold, behold that I am he, and there is no god beside me: I kill, and I will make to live: I will smile, and I will heal; and there is none who shall deliver out of my hands. 38 For I will lift up my hand to heaven, and swear by my right hand, and I will say, I live for ever. 39 For I will sharpen my sword like lightning, and my hand shall take hold of judgment; and I will render judgment to my enemies, and will recompense them that hate me. 40 I will make my weapons drunk with blood, and my sword shall devour flesh: it shall glut itself with the blood of the wounded, and from the captivity of the heads of their enemies that rule over them.

Rejoice, ye heavens, with him, and let all the angels of God worship him; 6 rejoice ye Gentiles, with his people, and let all the sons of God strengthen themselves in him; for he will avenge the blood of his sons, and he will render vengeance, and recompense justice to his enemies, and will reward them that hate him; and the Lord shall purge the land of his people.

And Moses wrote this song in that day, and taught it to the children of Israel; and Moses went in and spoke all the words of this law in the ears of the people, he and Josua the son of Nau, 9 And Moses finished speaking to all Israel. 10 And he said to them, Take heed with your heart to all these words, which I testify to you this day, which ye shall command your sons, to observe and do all the words of this law. 11 For this is no vain word to you, for it is your life, and because of this word ye shall live long upon the land, into which ye go over Jordan to inherit it. 48 And the Lord spoke unto Moses saying, 49 Go up to the mount Abaram, this mountain Nabau which is in the land of Moab over against Jericho, and behold the land of Chanaan, which I give to the sons of Israel: 50 and die in the mount whither thou goest up, and be added to thy people; as Aaron thy brother died in Mount Hor, and was added to his people. 51 For ye rebelled against the word of the Lord in the wilderness, and saw my anger. 52 Wherefore ye shall not enter into the land which I sware I would give unto the sons of Israel, except each of you should be cut off. 53 Only Caleb the son of Jepun shall enter into the land, because he was wholly with me in encouraging the people to enter in, and to go up to the land, though ye rebelled against my word.

And the Lord's blessing was upon Moses, the man of God blessed the children of Israel before his death. 2 And he said, The Lord is come from Sinai, and has appeared from Seir to us, and has hasted out of the mount of Pharan, with the ten thousands of 3 Cades; on his right hand were his angels with him. 4 And he spared his people and did not destroy them; and in his presence was the fire of God's glory. 5 And he shall be prince with the beloved one, when the princes of the people are gathered together with the tribes of Israel. 6 Let Ruben live, and not die; and let him be many in number.

And this is the blessing of Judah; Hear, Lord, the voice of Judah, and do thou visit his people; his hands shall contend for him, and thou shalt be a help from his enemies. 8 And to Levi he said, Give to Levi his manifestation, his goings forth shall be from his generation, when they tempt in the temptation; they reviled him at the water of strife. 9 Who says to his father and mother, I have not seen thee; and he knew not his brethren, and he refused to know his sons: he kept thine oracles, and observed thy covenant. 10 They shall declare thy name to Jacob, and thy word to Israel: they shall place incense in the time of thy wrath continually upon thine altar. 11 Bless, Lord, his strength, and accept the works of his hands; break the loins of his enemies that have risen up against him, and let not them that hate him rise up. 12 And to Benjamin he said, The Lord's beloved of the Lord shall dwell in confidence, and God overshadow him always, and he rested between his shoulders. 13 And to Joseph he said, His land is of the blessing of the Lord, of the seasons of the year and dew, of the deeps of wells below, and of the fruits of the changes of the sun in season, and of the produce of the months, from the first of the month of the ancient mountains, and from the top of the everlasting hills, and of the fulness of the land in season: and let the things pleasing to him that dwelt in the bush come on the head of Joseph, and on the crown of him who was glorified above his brethren. 14 His beauty is as the firstling of his bull, his horns are the horns of a unicorn; with them shall he thrust the nations at once, even from the end of the earth: these are the ten thousands of Ephraim, and these are the thousands of Manasseh. 2 And to Zabulon he said, Rejoice, Zabulon, in thy going out, and Issachar in his tents. 3 They shall utterly destroy the nations, and ye shall call men there, and there offer the sacrifice of righteousness; for the wealth of the sea shall sicken thee, and so shall the mart of them that dwell by the sea-coast.

2 And to Gad he said, Blessed be he that enlarges Gad; as a lion he rested, having broken the arm and the ruler. 3 And he saw his first-fruits, that there the land of the princes gathered with the chiefs of the people was divided; the Lord wrought righteousness, and his judgment with Israel. 4 And to Dan he said, Dan is a lion's whelp, and shall leap out of Basan. 5 And to Nephthali he said, Nephthali has the fulness of good things; and let him be filled with blessing from the Lord; he shall inherit the west and the south. 6 And to Asar he said, Asar is blessed with children; and he shall be acceptable to his brethren: he shall dip his foot in oil. 7 His sandal shall be iron and brass; as thy days, so shall be thy strength.

8 There is not any such as the God of the beloved; who rides upon the heaven is thy helper, and the magnificent One of the firmament. 9 And the rule of God shall protect thee, and that under the strength of the everlasting arms; and he shall cast forth the enemy from before thy face, saying, Perish. 10 And Israel shall dwell in confidence alone on the land of Jacob, with corn and wine; and the sky shall be misty with dew upon thee. 11 Blessed art thou, O Israel; who is like to thee, O people saved by the Lord? thy helper shall hold his shield over thee, and his sword is thy boast; and thine enemies shall speak falsely to thee, and thou shalt tread upon their neck.

And Moses went up from Arabor Moab to the top of Pisgah, that is over against Jericho, which is before Jericho; and the Lord shewed him all the mountain of Galaad to Dan, and all the land of Nephthali, 2 and all the land of Ephraim and Manasseh, and all the land of Juda to the farthest sea; 3 and the wilderness, and the country round about Jericho, the city of palm-trees, to Sego.

And the Lord said to Moses, This is the land of which I spake to Abar, and Isaac, and Jacob, saying, To your seed will I give it: and I have shewed it to thine eyes, but thou shalt not go in thither.

5 So Moses the servant of the Lord died in the land of Moab by the word of the Lord. 6 And they buried him in Gai near the house of Phogor; and no one has seen his sepulchre to this day. 7 And Moses was a hundred and twenty years old at his death; his eyes were not dimmed, nor were his natural forces abated. 8 And the children of Israel wept for Moses in Abar both of Moab at Jordan near Jericho thirty days; and the days of the sad mourning for Moses were completed.

9 And Joshua the son of Naué was filled with the spirit of knowledge, for Moses had laid his hands upon him; and the children of Israel hearkened to him; and they did as the Lord commanded Moses.

spot on which ye shall tread I will give it you, as I said to Moses. The wilderness and Antililianus, as far as the great river, the river Euphrates, and as far as the extremity of the sea; your coasts shall be from the setting of the sun. Not a man shall stand against you all the days of thy life; and as I was with Moses, so will I also be with thee, and I will not fail thee, or neglect thee.
Be strong and quit thyself like a man, for thou shalt divide the land to this people, which I swear to give to your fathers. Be strong, therefore, and quit thyself like a man, to observe and do as Moses my servant commanded thee; and thou shalt not turn to the right hand or to the left, that thou mayest be wise in whatsoever thou mayest do.
And the book of this law shall not depart out of thy mouth; but thou shalt meditate therein all day and night, that thou mayest know how to do all things that are written in it;
then shalt thou prosper, and make thy ways prosperous, and then shalt thou be wise.
Lo! I have commanded thee; be strong and courageous, be not cowardly nor fearful, for the Lord thy God is with thee in all places whither thou goest. And Joshua commanded the scribes of the people, saying,
Go into the midst of the camp of the people,
and command the people, saying, Prepare provisions; for yet three days and shall go over this Jordan, entering in to take possession of the land, which the Lord God of your fathers gives to you.
...And to Ruben, and to Gad, and to the half tribe of Manasseh, Joshua, 13 Remember the word which Moses the servant of the Lord commanded you, saying, The Lord your God has caused you to rest, and has given you this land, 14 Let your wives and your children and your cattle dwell in the land, which he has given you; and ye shall go over 15 well armed before your brethren, every one of you who is strong: and ye shall fight on their side; 16 until the Lord our God shall have given your brethren rest, as also to you, and they also shall have inherited the land, which the Lord your God gives them; then ye shall depart each one to his inheritance, which Moses gave you beyond Jordan eastward. 17 And they answered Joshua and said, We will do all things which thou commandest us, and we will go to every place whither thou shalt send us. Whereinsoever we hearkened to Moses we will hearken to thee; only let thou, thou and the Lord our God be with us, that we be not destroyed, 18 And whosoever shall disobey thee, and whosoever shall not hearken to thy words as thou shalt command him, let him die; but be thou strong and courageous.

And Joshua the son of Naun sent out of Sattin two young men to spy the land, saying, Go up and view the land and Jericho; and the two young men went and entered into Jericho; and they entered into the house of a harlot, whose name was Raab, and lodged there.

And it was reported to the king of Jericho, saying, Men of the sons of Israel have come in hither to spy the land.  And the king of Jericho sent and spoke to Raab, saying, Bring out the men that entered into thine house this night; for they are come to spy out the land.  And the woman took the two men and hid them; and she spoke to the men that entered into the house, who had come in to me, but when the gate was shut in the evening, the men went out; I know not whither they are gone: follow after them, if ye may overtake them.  But she had brought them up upon the house, and hid them in the flax-stalks that were spread by her on the house.  And the men followed after them in the way to Jordan to the fords; and the gate was shut.

And it came to pass when the men who pursued after them were gone forth, and before the spies had lain down to sleep, that she came up to them on the top of the house;  and she said to them, I know that the Lord has given you the land; for the fear of you has fallen upon us.  For we have heard that the Lord God dried up the Red Sea before you, when ye came out of the land of Egypt, and all that he did to the two kings of the Amorites, who were beyond Jordan, to Seon and Og, whom ye utterly destroyed.  And when we heard it we were amazed in our heart, and there was no longer any spirit in any of us because of you, for the Lord your God is God in heaven above, and on the earth beneath.  And now swear to me by the Lord God; since I... deal mercifully with you, so do ye also deal mercifully with the house of my father; and father, and my brethren, and all my house, and all that they have, and ye shall rescue my soul from death.

And the men said to her, Our life for yours even to death; and she said, When the Lord shall have delivered the city to you, ye shall deal mercifully with her and truly with me. 14 And she let them down by the window; 15 and she said to them, Depart into the hill-country, lest the pursuers meet you, and ye shall be hidden there three days until your pursuers return from after you, and afterwards ye shall depart on your way.

And the men said to her, We are dear of this thine oath. 17 Behold, we shall enter into a part of the city, and thou shalt set thy sign; thou shalt bind this scarlet cord in the window, by which thou hast let us down, and thou shalt bring in to thyself, into thy house, thy father, and thy mother, and thy brethren, and all the family of thy father. 18 And it shall be, when they shall go out and pass out of the door of thy house, his guilt shall be upon him, and we shall be quit of this thine oath; and we will be responsible for all that shall be found with thee in thy house. 20 But if any one should injure us, or betray these our matters, we shall be quit of this thine oath.

And she said to him, Let it be according to thy word; and she sent them out, and they departed. 22 And they came to the hill-country, and remained there three days; and the pursuers searched all the roads, and found them not.

And the two young men returned, and came down out of the mountain; and they went over to Joshua the son of Nau, and told him all things that had happened to them. 24 And they said to Joshua, The Lord has delivered all the land into our power, and all the inhabitants of that land tremble because of us.

And Joshua rose up early in the morning, and departed from Sattin; and they came as far as Jordan, and lodged there before they crossed over. 2 And it came to pass after three days, that the officers went through the camp; 3 and they charged the people, saying, When ye shall see the ark of the covenant of the Lord our God, and our priests and the Levites bearing it, ye shall depart from your places, and ye shall go after it. 4 But let there be a distance between you and it; ye shall stand as much as two thousand cubits behind it. Do not draw nigh to it, that ye may know the way which ye are to go; for ye have not gone the way before.

And Joshua said to the people, Sanctify yourselves against to-morrow, for to-morrow the Lord will do wonders among you. 8 And Joshua said to the priests, Take up the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and go before the people: and the priests took up the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and went before the people. 9 And the Lord
Joshua III. 8—IV. 7.

The Lord said to Joshua, This day I begin to exalt thee before all the children of Israel, that they may know that as I was with Moses, so will I also be with thee. And now charge the priests that bear the ark of the covenant, saying, As soon as ye shall enter on a place of rest of Jordan, then ye shall stand in Jordan.

And Joshua said to the children of Israel, Be hither, and hearken to the word of the Lord our God. Hereby ye shall know that the living God is among you, and will utterly destroy from before your face the Chanaanite, and the Chettite, and the Pherezite, and the Jebusite, and the Amorite, and the Geresite, and the Gezerite, and the Debirite.

Behold, the ark of the covenant of the Lord of all the earth passes over Jordan. Choose for yourselves twelve men of the sons of Israel, one of each tribe. And it shall come to pass, when the feet of the priests that bear the ark of the covenant of the Lord of the whole earth rest in the water of Jordan below shall fail, and the water coming down from above shall stop.

And the people removed from their tents to cross over Jordan, and the priests bore the ark of the covenant of the Lord before the people. And when the priests that bore the ark of the covenant of the Lord entered upon Jordan, and the feet of the priests that bore the ark of the covenant of the Lord were dipped in part of the water of Jordan; (now Jordan overflowed all its banks about the time of wheat harvest:) then the waters that came down from above stopped; there stood one solid heap very far off, as far as the region of Karatharim, and the lower part came down to the sea of Araba, the salt sea, till it completely failed; and the people stood opposite Jericho. And the priests that bore the ark of the covenant of the Lord stood on dry land in the midst of Jordan; and all the children of Israel went through on dry land, until all the people had completely gone over Jordan.

And when the people had completely passed over Jordan, the Lord spoke to Joshua, saying, Take men from the people, one of each tribe, and charge them; and ye shall take out of the midst of Jordan twelve stones, and having carried them across together with yourselves, place them in your camp, where ye shall encamp for the night.

And Joshua having called twelve men of distinction among the children of Israel, one of each tribe, said to them, Advance before me in the presence of the Lord into the midst of Jordan, and each having taken up a stone from thence, let him carry it on his shoulders, according to the number of the twelve tribes of Israel: that these may be to you continually for an appointed sign, that when thy son asks thee in future, saying, What are these stones to us? then thou mayest explain to thy son, saying, The river Jordan was dried up from before the ark of the covenant of the Lord of the whole earth, when it passed over; and these stones shall be for a memorial for you for the children of Israel for ever.

And the children of Israel did so, as the Lord commanded Joshua; and they took up twelve stones out of the midst of Jordan, (as the Lord commanded Joshua, when the children of Israel had completely passed over,) and carried these stones with them into the camp, and laid them there for a memorial. 6 And Joshua set also other twelve stones in Jordan itself, in the place that was under the feet of the priests that bore the ark of the covenant of the Lord; and there they are to this day.

And the priests that bore the ark of the covenant stood in Jordan, until Joshua had finished all that the Lord commanded him to report to the people; and the people hastened and passed over. 11 And it came to pass when all the people had passed over, that the ark of the covenant of the Lord passed over before the people, and the priests, that bore it.

And the sons of Ruben, and the sons of Gad, and the half tribe of Manasse passed over armed before the children of Israel, as Moses commanded them. 12 Forty thousand were armed for battle went over before the Lord to war, to the city of Jericho. 13 In that day the Lord magnified Joshua before all the people of Israel; and they feared him, as they did Moses, as long as he lived.

And the Lord spoke to Joshua, saying, 16 Charge the priests that bear the ark of the covenant of the testimony of the Lord, to go up out of Jordan. 17 And it came to pass when the priests who bore the ark of the covenant of the Lord were gone up out of Jordan, and set their feet upon the land, that the water of Jordan returned impetuously to its place, and went as before over all its banks.

And the people went up out of Jordan on the tenth day of the first month; and the children of Israel encamped in Galgal in the region eastward from Jericho. 20 And Joshua set these twelve stones which he took out of Jordan, in Galgal, 21 saying, When your sons ask you, saying, What are these stones? 22 Tell your sons, that Israel went over this Jordan on dry land, 23 when the Lord our God had dried up the water of Jordan from before them, until they had passed over; as the Lord our God did to the Red Sea, which the Lord our God dried up from before us, until we passed over.

That all the nations of the earth might know, that the power of the Lord is mighty, and that ye might worship the Lord our God in every work.

And it came to pass when the kings of the Amorites who were beyond Jordan heard, and the kings of Phoenicia by the sea, that the Lord God had dried up the river Jordan from before the children of Israel when they passed over, that their hearts failed, and

And about this time the Lord said to Joshua, Make thee sharp knives of sharp stone, and sit down, and circumcise the children of Israel the second time. 3 And Joshua made sharp knives of stone, and circumcised the children of Israel at the place called the “Hill of Foreskins.” 4 And this is the way in which Joshua purified the children of Israel; as many as were born in the land, and as many as were uncircumcised of them that came out, all these Joshua circumsiced; for forty and two years Israel wandered in the wilderness of Mabdaris—Wherefore most of the fighting men that came out of the land of Egypt, were uncircumcised, who disobeyed the commands of God; concerning whom also he determined that they should not see the land, which shall be given to their fathers, even a land flowing with milk and honey. 7 And in their place he raised up their sons, whom Joshua circumcised, because they were uncircumcised, having been born by the way. 8 And when they had been circumcised, they rested and continuing there in the camp till they were healed.

And the Lord said to Joshua the son of Nun, On this day shall the Lord do wonders in your sight; for I am about to cause you to destroy Chanaan, all the people, and all that is in the land, and their kings; and I will make your name famous in this day, among the nations round about, and in all the people; 12 and the children of Israel kept the passover on the fourteenth day of the month at evening, to the westward of Jericho on the opposite side of the Jordan in the plain. 13 And they ate of the grain of the earth unleavened and new corn. 14 In this day the manna failed, after they had eaten of the corn of the land, and the children of Israel no longer had manna; and they took the fruits of the land of the Phoenicians in that year.

And it came to pass when Joshua was in Jericho, that he looked up with his eyes and saw a man standing before him, and there was a drawn sword in his hand; and Joshua drew near and said to him, Art thou for us or on the side of our enemies? 14 And he said to him, I am now come, the chief captain of the host of the Lord. 15 And Joshua fell on his face upon the earth, and said to him, Lord, what commandest thou thy servant? 16 And the captain of the Lord’s host said to Joshua, Loose thy shoe off thy feet, for the place whereon thou now standest is holy.

Now Jericho was closely shut up and besieged, and none went out of it, and none came in. And the Lord said to Joshua, Behold, I deliver Jericho into thy power, and its king in it, 5 and its mighty men. And of thou set the men of war round about it. 6 And it shall be that when ye shall sound with the trumpet, all the people shall shout together. 7 And when they have shouted, the walls of the city shall fall of themselves; and all the people shall enter, each one rushing directly into the city.

And Joshua the son of Nun went in to the priests, and spoke to them, saying, Charge the people to go round, and encompass the city; and let your men of war pass armed before the Lord. And let seven priests having seven sacred trumpets proceed thus before the Lord, and let them sound loudly; and let the ark of the covenant of the Lord follow. And let the men of war proceed before, and the priests bring up the ark of the Lord behind the ark of the covenant, sounding the trumpets. And Joshua commanded the people, saying, Cry not out, nor let any one hear your voice, until he himself declare to you the time to cry out, and then ye shall cry out. And the ark of the covenant of God having gone round immediately returned into the camp, and lodged there.

And on the second day, Joshua rose up in the morning, and the priests took up the ark of the covenant of the Lord. And the seven priests bearing the seven trumpets went on before the Lord; and after that the men of war went on, and the remainder of the multitude went after the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and the priests sounded with the trumpets. And all the rest of the multitude compassed the city six times from within a short distance, and went back again into the camp; this they did six days.

And on the seventh day they rose up early, and compassed the city on that day seven times. And it came to pass at the seventh circuit the priests blew the trumpets; and Joshua said to the children of Israel, Shout, for the Lord has given you the city. And the city shall be devoted, it and all things that are in it, to the Lord of hosts: only do ye save Rahab the harlot, and all things in her house. But keep yourselves strictly from the accursed thing, lest ye set your mind upon and take of the accursed thing, and ye make the camp of the children of Israel an accursed thing, and destroy the children of Israel. And the gold and silver, or old or brass, or iron, shall be holy to the Lord; it shall be carried into the treasury of the Lord.

And the priests sounded with the trumpets: and when the people heard the trumpets, all the people shouted at once with a loud and strong shout; and all the wall fell round about, and all the people went up into the city: and Joshua devoted it to destruction, and all things that were in the city, the man and woman, young man and old, and calf and ass, with the edge of the sword. And Joshua said to the two young men who had acted as spies, Go into the house of the woman, and bring her out thence, and all that she has. And the two young men who had spied out the city entered into the house of the woman, and brought out Raab the harlot, and her father, and her mother, and her brethren, and all that she had; and they set her without the camp of Israel. And the city was burned with fire with all things that were in it; only of the silver, and gold, and brass, and

And Joshua saved alive Raab the harlot, and all the house of her father, and caused her to dwell in Israel until this day, because she hid the spies which Joshua sent to spy out Jericho. And Joshua adjured them on that day before the Lord, saying, Cursed be the man that shall build that city; he shall lay the foundation of it in his first-born, and he shall set up the gates of it in his youngest son. And so did Hozan of Bethel; he laid the foundation in Abdon his first-born, and set up the gates of it in his youngest surviving son.

And the Lord was with Joshua, and his name was in all the land.

But the children of Israel committed a great trespass, and purloined part of the accursed thing; and Achar the son of Charmi, the son of Zambri, of the tribe of Judah, took of the accursed thing; and the Lord was very angry with the children of Israel.

And Joshua sent men to Gai, which is by Bethel, saying, Spy out Gai; and the men went up and spied Gai. And they returned to Joshua, and said unto him, Let not all the people go up; but let about two or three thousand men go up and take the city by siege: carry not up thither the whole people, for the enemy are few. And there went up about three thousand men, and they fled from before the men of Gai. And the men of Gai slew of them to the number of thirty-six men, and they pursued them from the gate, and destroyed them from the steep hill; and the heart of the people was alarmed and became as water.

And Joshua tore his garments; and Joshua fell on the earth on his face before the Lord until evening, he and the elders of Israel; and they cast dust on their heads. And Joshua said, I pray, Lord, wherefore has thy servant brought this people over Jordan to deliver them to the Amorite to destroy us? y would we have remained and settled here? And when the Chananite and all the inhabitants of the land hear it, they shall compass us round and destroy us from off the land: and what wilt thou do for thy great name?

And the Lord said to Joshua, Rise up; why hast thou fallen upon thy face? The people has sinned, and transgressed the covenant which I made with them; they have stolen from the cursed thing, and put it into their store. And the children of Israel will not be able to stand before their enemies; they will turn their back before their enemies, for they have become an accursed thing: I will not any longer be with you, unless ye remove the cursed thing from yourselves. Rise, sanctify the people and tell them to sanctify themselves for the morrow: thus says the Lord God of Israel. The accursed thing is among you; ye shall not be able to stand before your enemies, until ye shall have removed the cursed thing from among you. 11 And ye shall all be gathered together by your tribes in the morning, and it shall come to pass that the tribe which the Lord shall show, ye shall bring by families; and the household which the Lord shall shew, ye shall bring by man. 15 And the man who shall be pointed out, shall be burnt with fire, and all that he has; because he has transgressed the covenant of the Lord, and has wrought wickedness in Israel.

And Joshua rose up early, and brought the people by their tribes; and the tribe of Judah was pointed out. 17 And it was brought by their families, and the family of the Zaraites was pointed out. 18 And it was brought man by man, and Achar the son of Zambri the son of Zara was pointed out.

And Joshua said to Achar, Give glory this day to the Lord God of Israel, and make confession. 20 And Achar answered Joshua, and said, Indeed I have sinned against the Lord God of Israel: thus and thus have I done; 21 I saw in the spoil an embroidered mantle, and two hundred drachmas of silver, and one golden wedge of fifty drachmas, and I desired them, and I took them; and, behold, they are hid in my tent, and the silver is hid under them. 22 And Joshua sent messengers, and they ran to the tent into the camp; and these things were hidden in his tent, and the silver under them. 23 And they brought them out of the tent, and brought them to Joshua and the elders of Israel, and they laid them before the Lord.

And Joshua took Achar the son of Zara, and brought him to the valley of Achor, and his sons, and his daughters, and his sons-in-law, and his wives, and all that belonged to him; 24 And Joshua said to Achar, Why hast thou destroyed us? the Lord destroy thee this day. And all Israel stoned him with stones. 25 And they set up over him a great heap of stones; and the Lord ceased from his fierce anger. Therefore he called the place Eямec Achor. 26 And the Lord said to Joshua, Fear not, nor be timorous; take with thee all the men of war, and arise, go up to Gái; behold, I have given into thy hands the king of Gái, and his land. 27 And thou shalt do to Gái, as thou didst to Jericho and its king; and thou shalt take to thyself the spoil of its cattle; set now for thyself an ambush for the city behind.

And Joshua and all the men of war rose to go up to Gái; and Joshua chose out thirty thousand mighty men, and he sent them away by night. 4 And he charged them, saying, Do ye lie in ambush behind the city; do not go far from the city, and ye shall all be ready. 5 And I and all with me will draw near to the city: and it shall come to pass

14 And ye shall gather together, and shew me the heifer, and a turtledove. 15 And ye shall bring me every heifer of seven years old, and ye shall not remove her ears: and ye shall pluck out her tail, and gird her with a girdle. 16 And ye shall bring me the turtledove, the young sparrow: and ye shall offer them on my altar, and I will accept them, saith the Lord. 17 And ye shall bring me the heifer of seven years old, and ye shall not plow with her. 18 And ye shall let her eat grass, and she shall not be plowed with an iron plow. 19 And ye shall bring me the turtledove, and the young sparrow: and ye shall bring me for a burnt offering to the Lord. 20 And ye shall say, Thus saith the Lord: I have taken away the reproach of Israel, that they have said, the Lord's house was broken, and therefore he is broken. 21 And I will provide for them a man, who shall gather up all the reproach of them that have reproached them. 22 And ye shall say, Thus saith the Lord: Behold, I have given my servant for a prey, and all who are chosen among them have I given him for a spoil: and I have given him all the kingdoms, that they may come and serve him. 23 And he shall say, The Lord is my strength and my song, and he is become my salvation. 24 And he shall say, Deliver me, O Lord, and I will be delivered: give me ears, and I will hear: deliver me, and I will be delivered: give me eyes, and I will see. 25 And he shall say, The Lord is my strength and my song, and he is become my salvation. 26 And he shall say, Deliver me, O Lord, and I will be delivered: give me ears, and I will hear: deliver me, and I will be delivered: give me eyes, and I will see. 27 And he shall say, The Lord is my strength and my song, and he is become my salvation. 28 And he shall say, Deliver me, O Lord, and I will be delivered: give me ears, and I will hear: deliver me, and I will be delivered: give me eyes, and I will see. 29 And he shall say, The Lord is my strength and my song, and he is become my salvation. 30 And he shall say, Deliver me, O Lord, and I will be delivered: give me ears, and I will hear: deliver me, and I will be delivered: give me eyes, and I will see. 31 And he shall say, The Lord is my strength and my song, and he is become my salvation. 32 And he shall say, Deliver me, O Lord, and I will be delivered: give me ears, and I will hear: deliver me, and I will be delivered: give me eyes, and I will see. 33 And he shall say, The Lord is my strength and my song, and he is become my salvation. 34 And he shall say, Deliver me, O Lord, and I will be delivered: give me ears, and I will hear: deliver me, and I will be delivered: give me eyes, and I will see. 35 And he shall say, The Lord is my strength and my song, and he is become my salvation. 36 And he shall say, Deliver me, O Lord, and I will be delivered: give me ears, and I will hear: deliver me, and I will be delivered: give me eyes, and I will see. 37 And he shall say, The Lord is my strength and my song, and he is become my salvation. 38 And he shall say, Deliver me, O Lord, and I will be delivered: give me ears, and I will hear: deliver me, and I will be delivered: give me eyes, and I will see. 39 And he shall say, The Lord is my strength and my song, and he is become my salvation. 40 And he shall say, Deliver me, O Lord, and I will be delivered: give me ears, and I will hear: deliver me, and I will be delivered: give me eyes, and I will see. 41 And he shall say, The Lord is my strength and my song, and he is become my salvation. 42 And he shall say, Deliver me, O Lord, and I will be delivered: give me ears, and I will hear: deliver me, and I will be delivered: give me eyes, and I will see. 43 And he shall say, The Lord is my strength and my song, and he is become my salvation. 44 And he shall say, Deliver me, O Lord, and I will be delivered: give me ears, and I will hear: deliver me, and I will be delivered: give me eyes, and I will see. 45 And he shall say, The Lord is my strength and my song, and he is become my salvation. 46 And he shall say, Deliver me, O Lord, and I will be delivered: give me ears, and I will hear: deliver me, and I will be delivered: give me eyes, and I will see. 47 And he shall say, The Lord is my strength and my song, and he is become my salvation. 48 And he shall say, Deliver me, O Lord, and I will be delivered: give me ears, and I will hear: deliver me, and I will be delivered: give me eyes, and I will see. 49 And he shall say, The Lord is my strength and my song, and he is become my salvation. 50 And he shall say, Deliver me, O Lord, and I will be delivered: give me ears, and I will hear: deliver me, and I will be delivered: give me eyes, and I will see.
And they pursued them, and smote them even beyond Gái, and they took great spoil: 15 and they returned unto Gái, and did to Gái what Joshua had commanded them: 16 and they smote Gái, and burnt it with fire, and the inhabitants thereof: 17 and they smote all the cities thereof, and all the kings thereof: and they devoted every city, and all the inhabitants thereof, both man and woman, to the sword: and Gái was not excepted. 18 And all the spoil thereof, and all its most precious things, did Joshua take, and brought them unto Béthel." children of Israel took as spoil for themselves according to the command of the Lord, as the Lord commanded Joshua.

28 And Joshua burnt the city with fire: he made it an uninhabited heap for ever, even to this day.

29 And he hanged the king of Gai on a gallows; and he remained on the tree till evening: and when the sun went down, Joshua gave charge, and they took down his body from the tree, and cast it into a pit, and they set over him a heap of stones until this day.

And when the kings of the Amorites on the other side of Jordan, who were in the mountain country, and in the plain, and in all the coast of the great sea, and those who were near Antilbanus, and the Chettites, and the Canaanites, and the Evalites, and the Amorites, and the Gerizites, and the Jebusites, heard of it, they came all together at the same time to make war against Joshua and Israel.

Then Joshua built an altar to the Lord God of Israel in mount Gerizab, as Moses the servant of the Lord commanded the children of Israel, as it is written in the law of Moses, an altar of unhewn stones, on which iron had not been lifted up; and he offered there whole-burnt-offerings to the Lord, and a peace-offering. And Joshua wrote upon the stones a copy of the law, even the law of Moses, before the children of Israel.

32 And all Israel, and their elders, and their judges, and their scribes, passed on one side and on the other before the ark; and the priests and the Levites took up the ark of the covenant of the Lord; and the stranger and the native were there, who were half of them near mount Garizin, and half near mount Gerizab, as Moses the servant of the Lord commanded at first, to bless the people.

33 And afterwards Joshua read accordingly all the words of this law, the blessings and the curses, according to all things written in the law of Moses.

34 There was not a word of all that Moses charged Joshua, which Joshua read not in the ears of all the assembly of the children of Israel, the men, and the women, and the children, and the strangers that joined themselves to Israel.

35 And the inhabitants of Gabaon heard of all that the Lord did to Jericho and Gai.

36 And they also wrought craftily, and they went and made provision and prepared themselves; and having taken old sacks on their shoulders, and old and rent and patched coats of goatskins, and the upper part of their shoes and their sandals old and clouted on their feet, and their garments old upon them—and the bread of their provision was dry and mouldy and corrupt.

37 And they came to Joshua into the camp of Israel at Gilgal, and said to Joshua and Israel, We are come from a far land: now then make a covenant with us.

and how should I make a covenant with thee? 8 And they said to Joshua, We are thy servants: and Joshua said to them, Whence are ye, and whence have ye come? 9 And they said, Thy servants are come from a very far country in the name of the Lord thy God: for we have heard his name, and all that he did in Egypt, 10 and all that he did to the kings of the Amorites, who were beyond Jordan, to Seon king of the Amorites, and Og king of Bashan, who dwelt in Astaroth and in Edrom. 11 And our elders and all that inhabit our land said when they heard spoke to us, saying, Take to yourselves provision for the way, and go to meet them; and ye shall say to them, We are thy servants, and now make a covenant with us. 12 These are the loaves—we took them hot for our journey on the day on which we came out to come to you; and now they are dried and become mouldy. 13 And these are the skins of wine which we filled when new, and they are rent; and our garments and our shoes are worn out because of the very long journey.

14 And the chiefs took of their provision, and asked not counsel of the Lord. 15 And Joshua made peace with them, and they made a covenant with them to preserve them; and the princes of the congregation sware to them.

16 And it came to pass three days after they had made a covenant with them, they heard that they were near neighbours, and that they dwelt among them. 17 And the children of Israel departed and came to their cities; and their cities were Gabaon, and Kephirah, and Berot, and the cities of Jair. 18 And the children of Israel fought not with them, because all the princes sware to them by the Lord God of Israel; and all the congregation murmured at the princes.

19 And the princes said to all the congregation: We have sworn to them by the Lord God of Israel, and now we shall not be able to touch them. 20 This we will do; take them alive, and we will preserve them alive to make a work of reparation for us, for the Lord our God, was among us; 21 and thou shalt live, and shall be heirs of wood and drawers of water to all the congregation, as the princes said to them.

22 And Joshua called them together and said to them, Why have ye deceived me, saying, We live very far from you; whereas ye are fellow-countrymen of those who dwell among us? 23 And now ye are cursed: there shall not fail of you a slave, or a hewer of wood, or a drawer of water to me and my God. 24 And they answered Joshua, saying, It was reported to us what the Lord thy God charged his servant Moses, to give you this land, and to destroy us and all that dwelt on it from before you; and we feared very much for our lives because of you, and therefore we did this thing. 25 And now, behold, we are in your power; do to us as it is pleasing to you, and as it seems good to you.

26 And they did so to them; and Joshua rescued them in that day out of the hands of the children of Israel, and they did not slay them. 3 And Joshua made them in that day hewers of wood and drawers of water to the whole congregation, and for the altar of God; therefore the inhabitants of Gabaon became hewers of wood and drawers of water for the altar of God until this day, even for the place which the Lord should choose.

And when Adoni-bezek king of Jerusalem heard that Joshua had taken Gai, and had destroyed it, as he did to Jericho and its king, even so they did to Gai and its king, and that the inhabitants of Gabaon had gone over to Joshua and Israel, then they were greatly terrified by them, for the king knew that Gabaon was a great city, as one of the chief cities, and all its men were mighty. 5 So Adoni-bezek king of Jerusalem sent to Elam king of Hebron, and to Phideon king of Jerimoth, and to Jephtha king of Lachis, and to Dabin king of Odollam, saying, 6 Come up hither to me, and help me, and let us take Gabaon; for the Gabaonites have gone over to Joshua and to the children of Israel. 4 And the five kings of the Jebusites went up, the king of Jerusalem, and the king of Chebron, and the king of Jerimoth, and the king of Lachis, and the king of Odollam, they and all their people; and encamped around Gabaon, and besieged it.

And the inhabitants of Gabaon sent to Joshua into the camp to Galgala, saying, Slack not thy hands from thy servants: come up quickly to us, and help us, and rescue us: for all the kings of the Amorites which dwell in the hill country are gathered together against us. 7 And Joshua went up from Galgala, he and all the people of war with him, every one mighty in strength.

And the Lord said to Joshua, Fear them not, for I have delivered them into thy hands; there shall not one of them be left before you. 9 And when Joshua came suddenly upon them, he had advanced all the night out of Galgala. 10 And the Lord struck them with terror before the children of Israel; and the Lord destroyed them with a great slaughter at Gabaon; and they pursued them by the way of the going up of Oronim, and they smote them to Azzae and to Makeda. 11 And when they fled from the face of the children of Israel at the descent of Oronim, then the Lord cast upon them halestones from heaven to Azzea; and they were more that did die by the halestones, than those whom the children of Israel slew with the sword in the battle.

Then Joshua spoke to the Lord, in the day in which the Lord delivered the Amorite into the power of Israel, when he destroyed them in Gabaon, and they were destroyed from before the children of Israel; and Joshua said, Let the sun stand over against Gabaon, and the moon over against the valley of Aelon. 14 And the sun and the 29 And these five kings fled, and hid themselves in a cave that is in Makeda. And it was told Joshua, saying, The five kings have been found hid in the cave that is in Makeda. And Joshua said unto the Lord God, stones to the mouth of the cave, and set men to watch over them. But do not ye stand, but pursue after your enemies, and attack the rear of them, and do not suffer them to enter into their cities; for the Lord our God has delivered them into our hands. And it came to pass when Joshua and all Israel ceased destroying them utterly with a very great slaughter, that they that escaped took refuge in the strong cities.

30 And all the people returned safe to Joshua to Makeda; and no one of the children of Israel murmured with his tongue.

31 And Joshua said, Open the cave, and bring out these five kings out of the cave. And they brought out the five kings out of the cave, the king of Jerusalem, and the king of Chebron, and the king of Jerimoth, and the king of Lachis, and the king of Odollam. And when they brought them out to Joshua, then Joshua called together all Israel, and the chiefs of the army that went with him, to saying to them, Come forward and set your feet on their necks; and they came and set their feet on their necks. And Joshua said to them, Do not fear them, neither be cowardly; be courageous and strong, for thus the Lord will do all your enemies, against whom ye fight. And Joshua slew them, and hanged them on five trees; and they hung upon the trees until the third day. And it came to pass when the soles of their feet were dried, that Joshua commanded, and they took them down from the trees, and cast them into the cave into which they had fled for refuge, and rolled stones to the cave, which remain till this day.

32 And they took Makeda on that day, and slew the inhabitants with the edge of the sword, and they utterly destroyed everything that was in it; and there was none left in it that was preserved and had escaped; and they did to the king of Makeda, as they did to the king of Jericho.

33 And Joshua and all Israel with him departed out of Makeda to Lebna, and besieged Lebna. And the Lord delivered it into the hands of Israel: and they took it, and its king, and slew the inhabitants with the edge of the sword, and every thing breathing in it; and there was not left in it any that survived and escaped; and they did to its king, as they did to the king of Jericho.
And Joshua and all Israel with him departed from Lebna to Lachis, and he encamped about it, and besieged it. 22 And the Lord delivered Lachis into the hands of Israel; and they took it on the second day, and they put the inhabitants to death with the edge of the sword, and utterly destroyed it, as they had done to Lebna. 23 Then Elam the king of Gazer went up to help Lachis; and Joshua smote him and his people with the edge of the sword, until he was preserved and escaped.

And Joshua and all Israel with him departed from Lachis to Ophellam, and he besieged it and took it. 25 And the Lord delivered it into the hands of Israel; and he took it on that day, and slew the inhabitants with the edge of the sword, and every thing breathing in it, as they did to Lachis.

And Joshua and all Israel returned to Dabir; and they encamped about it; 26 and they took it, and its king, and its villages; and he smote it with the edge of the sword, and they destroyed it, and every thing breathing in it; and they did not leave in it any one that was preserved: as they did to Chebron and her king, so they did to Dabir and her king.

And Joshua smote all the land of the hill country, and 27 Naegb and the plain country, and Asedoth, and her kings; they did not leave of them one that was saved: and they utterly destroyed every thing that had the breath of life, as the Lord God of Israel commanded, 28 from Cades Barne to Gaaz, all Gosom, as far as Gabsoon. And Joshua smote, once for all, all their kings, and their land, because the Lord God of Israel fought on the side of Israel.

And when Jabis the king of Asor heard, he sent to Jobab king of Maron, and to the king of Symon, and to the king of Asiph, 29 and to the kings who were by the great Sidon, to the hill country and to Araba opposite Kenerotho, and to the plain, and to Pheneaaddor, 30 and to the Chaniotes on the coast eastward, and to the Amorites on the coast, and the Chettites, and the Pherezites, and the Jebusites in the mountains, and the Erites, and those dwelling under mount Aenon in the land Massuya. 31 And they and their kings with them went forth, as the sand of the sea in multitude, and horses, and very many chariots. 32 And all the kings assembled in person, and came to the same place, and encamped at the waters of Maron to war with Israel.

And the Lord said to Joshua, Be not afraid of them, for to-morrow at this time

I will put them to flight before Israel: thou shalt hough their horses, and burn their chariots with fire. And Joshua and all the men of war came upon them at the water of Maron suddenly; and they attacked them in the hill country. And the Lord delivered them into the power of Israel; and they smote them and pursued them to great Sidon, and to the plains of Massoch eastward; and they destroyed them till there was not one of them left that survived. And Joshua did to them, as the Lord commanded him: he houghed their horses, and burned their chariots with fire.

And Joshua returned at that time, and took Asor and her king; now Asor in former time was the chief of these kingdoms. And they slew with the sword all that breathed in it, and utterly destroyed them all, and there was no living thing left in it; and they burnt Asor with fire. And Joshua took all the cities of the kingdom, and their kings, and slew them with the edge of the sword; and utterly slew them, as Moses the servant of the Lord commanded. But all the walled cities Israel burnt not; but Israel burnt Asor only. And the children of Israel took all its spoils to themselves; and they slew all the men with the edge of the sword, until he destroyed them; they left not one of them breathing. As the Lord commanded his servant Moses, even so Moses commanded Joshua; and so Joshua did, he transgressed no precept of all that Moses commanded him.

And Joshua took all the hill country, and all the land of Nageb, and all the land of Gosem, and the plain country, and that toward the west, and the mountain of Israel and the low country by the mountain; from the mountain of Chelecha, and that which goes up to Seir, and as far as Balagad, and the plains of Libanus, under mount Aenon; and he took all their kings, and destroyed, and slew them. And for many days Joshua waged war with these kings.

And there was no city which Israel took not; they took all in war. For it was of the Lord to harden their hearts to go forth to war against Israel, that they might be utterly destroyed, that mercy should not be granted to them, but that they should be utterly destroyed, as the Lord said to Moses.

And Joshua came at that time, and utterly destroyed the Enakim out of the hill country, from Chebron and from Dabir, and from Anabol, and from all the east of Israel, and from all the mountain of Juda with their cities; and Joshua utterly destroyed them. There was not any one left of the Enakim by the children of Israel, only there was left of them in Gaza, and in Gath, and in Asedlo.

And Joshua took all the land, as the Lord commanded Moses; and Joshua gave them for an inheritance to Israel by division according to their tribes; and the land ceased from war.

And these are the kings of the land, whom the children of Israel slew, and inherited the land beyond Jordan from the east, from the valley of Arnon to the mount of Aeron, and all the land of Araba on the east. 2 Seon king of the Amorites, who dwelt in Esebon, ruling from Arnon, which is in the valley, 3 on the side of the valley, and half Geon as far as Jordan, the border of the children of Ammon. 4 And Araba as far as the sea of Chenereth eastward, and as far as the sea of Araba; the salt sea eastward by the way to Asimoth, from the man under Seadoc Phasa. 5 And Og king of Bashan, who dwelt in Ashtaroth and in Edram, was left of the giants; 6 ruling from from Mount Hor and from Sechem, and over all the land of Busan to the borders of Gerzego, and Machi, and the half of Gaal of the borders of Seon king of Esebon. 7 Moses the servant of the Lord and the children of Israel smote them; and Moses gave them by way of inheritance to Ruben, and to the half tribe of Manasse.

And these are the kings of the Amorites, whom Joshua and the children of Israel slew beyond Jordan by the sea of Balasagh in the plain of Libanus, and as far as the mountain of Chelchsa, as men go up to Seir; and Joshua gave it to the tribes of Israel to inherit according to their portion; 2 in the mountain, and in the plain, and in Araba, and in Anadoth, and in the wilderness, and Nageb; the Chettite, the Amorite, and the Enanite, and the Chananite, and the Pherezite, and the Kebuse.

And Joshua was old and very advanced in years; 2 and the Lord said to Joshua, Thou art advanced in years, and there is much land left to inherit. 3 And this is the land that is left: the borders of the Phylistines, the Gersrite, and the Chananite, 4 from the wilderness before Egypt, as far as the borders of Accaron on the left of the Chananites the land is reckoned to the five principalities of the Phylistines, to the inhabitant of Gaza, and of Azotus, and of Accaron, and of Gath, and of the borders of the Amorites. 5 And all the land of Gath, and the borders of the Philistines, and all Libanus

Ammon to Araba, which is before Arab. And from Esebon to Araborah by Massephle, and Botanim, and Maan to the borders of Debon, and Enadom, and Othargai, and Benthanaabra, and Soccoetha, and Sa phan, and the rest of the kingdom of Seon king of Moab. And Jordan shall be the boundary as far as part of the sea of Chene reth beyond Jordan eastward. This is the inheritance of the children of God according to their families and according to their cities: according to their families they will turn their backs before their enemies, because the Lord hath helped them in Jordan eastward.

And Moses gave to half the tribe of Manasse according to their families. And their borders were from Maan, and all the kingdom of Basan, and all the kingdom of Og king of Basan, and all the villages of Jair, which are in the region of Heri sixty cities: 33 that gave to the half of Galaad, and in Astaroth, and in Edrain, royal and in Og in the land of Basan, Moses gave to the sons of Machir the sons of Manasse, even to the half-tribe sons of Machir, the sons of Manasse, according to their families.

These are they whom Moses caused to inherit in Araborah Moab, beyond Jordan by Jericho eastward. And these are they of the children of Israel that received their inheritance in Chanaan, to whom Eleazar the priest, and Joshua the son of Naue, and the heads of the families of the tribes of the children of Israel, divided the land. They inherited according to their lots, as the Lord commanded by the hand of Joshua to the nine tribes and the half tribe, on the other side of Jordan. But to the Levites he gave no inheritance among them. For the sons of Joseph were two tribes, Manasse and Ephraim; and there was no inheritance given to the Levites, only cities to dwell in, and their suburbs separated for the cattle, and their cattle. As the Lord commanded Moses, so did the children of Israel; and they divided the land.

And the children of Juda came to Joshua in Galgal, and Chaleb the son of Jeppone the Kenite, whom Moses had sent him, and he knewest the word that the Lord spoke to Moses the man of God concerning me and thee in Cades Barne. For I was forty years old when Moses the servant of God sent me out of Cades Barne to spy out the land; and I returned him an answer according to his mind and heart; which was quickened in me by the Lord. And Moses sware on that day, saying, The land on which thou art gone up, shall be thy inheritance and thy children's for ever, because thou hast applied thyself to follow the Lord our God. And now the Lord has kept me alive, as he said: this is the forty-fifth year since the Lord spoke that word to Moses; and Israel journeyed in the wilderness; and now, behold, I am this day eighty-five years old. I am still strong this day, as when the Lord sent me: just so strong am I now to go out and to the wilderness to this day. Now therefore give me this land which the Lord sware: and I will receive it according to all that the Lord has sware.

Moses said to Joshua the son of Nun, a merciful young man! the Lord will be with thee as he was with Moses. Take strong men out of all Israel, and set them over the people, and they shall judge them. And the Lord said to Joshua, Fear not, neither be thou dismayed, because thou art with great power in the land. And Moses said to Joshua, If this people obey thee of old, as they have obeyed me, then thou shalt be strong to lead this people into the land which the Lord sware to their fathers, to give them. Only Fear the Lord, and serve him, and keep his commandments and his statutes and his judgments, that ye may live long upon the earth. And Joshua served the Lord all the days of Moses. And Moses commanded him, and said, Be strong and of a good courage: for thou shalt bring the children of Israel into the land which I sware to give them. But as for me, I am an old man, and full of years. The Lord help thee; and give thee strength, and have mercy on thee, and keep thee as he sware to thy fathers. And Joshua rose up early in the morning, and went out, and passed over Jordan, he and all the children of Israel. Then the people took twelve men out of all the tribes of Israel, according to the number of the tribes of Israel, every man out of his tribe. And Joshua sent them to spy out the land, and said, Go, and view the land, which the Lord sware unto us. So they went, and went into the land, and came to the house of a certain man at Ai, and entered in, and troubled the man and his family, and struck them with the edge of the sword, and struck also the other inhabitants in the land. And they went in, and came to the house of a certain Levite, in the city of Ai, and came to the house of the man whose daughter-in-law was wife of Joshua the son of Nun, which was born in Egypt. And the Levite went in, and sat with his wife in a house, as he did to this day. Then the Levite and his wife were Israelites, and had gone out of Egypt in the time of Moses. And the Levite had taken for wife an Israelitish woman, a daughter of Levi, which was born in Egypt. And they came to the house of the Levite, and sat with him. And he ate bread with him, and he drank wine, and gave of the flesh that he had brought, without knowing it, to the man who was come in.

And Joshua sent men from Jordan to the house of the priest of Bethel, which were on the other side, which were in Bethel, and said, Take a stone, and set it up for a witness between me and the Lord. And he did so, setting it up for a witness in Mount Ebal. And Joshuacommanded Joshua the son of Nabal, to go, and to take ten men of his company, and to give to the Levite, which was come up out of Egypt, of the flesh which he had brought, while he was yet speaking, and while the Levite was yet speaking. And Joshua took him a stone, and set it on a high mountain, as the Lord commanded. Then Joshua said, If all the people were present before the Lord in the first place, then should the Lord be one Lord. However, since it cannot be, come, I pray thee, with me, and I will shew thee what the Lord hath done for me, and shall shew it to thee, and tell thee of all the travail which the Lord hath done for me. And Joshua said to the Levite, Bring thee an offering from what is good, from what is of the firstfruits, and from what is specially consecrated, and give me thine offering. And the Levite gave to Joshua the offering, and he gave him bread, which he had brought out of Egypt; two loaves of barley bread baked, and of the finest flour, and wine, and oil. And the meat which the Levite brought, he gave to Joshua, and to his sons, according to the commandment of the Lord, which he gave to the children of Israel.
12 And Joshua blessed him, and gave Chiebron to the son of Jephone the son of Kenez for an inheritance. Therefore Chiebron became the inheritance of Chiebron the son of Jephone the Kenezite until this day, because he followed the commandment of the Lord to go in the land of Canaan at the time of the division of the inheritance of the cities of refuge. And the borders of the land of Chiebron before was the city Arbah, it is the metropolis of the Enakim: and the land rested from war.

And the borders of the tribe of Juda according to their families were from the borders of Idumea from the wilderness of Sin, as far as Cades southward.

And their boundaries eastward are all the salt sea as far as Jordan; and their borders from the north, and from the border of the sea, and from part of Jordan— the borders go up to Bethaglaam, and they go along from the north to Betbaraba, and the borders go on up to the stone of Beon the son of Ruben. And the borders continue on to the fourth part of the valley of Achor, and go down to Galgal, which is before the approach of Adammin, which is southward in the valley, and terminate at the water of the fountain of the sun; and their going forth shall be the fountain of the old woman.

And the border goes forth from the top of the mountain terminates at the fountain of the water of Naphtho, and terminates at mount Ephron; and the border will lead to Baal; this is the city of Jerim.

And the border will go round from Baal to the sea, and will go on to the mount of Assar behind the city of Jerim northwards; this is Chaslon: and it will come down to the city of the Sun, and will go on to the south. And the border terminates behind Accaron northward, and the border continues at Socchoth, and the borders will go on to the south, and will terminate at Lebra, and the issue of the borders will be at the sea; and their borders shall be toward the sea, the great sea shall be the boundary. These are the borders of the children of Juda round about according to their families.

These seems to have been a reading of the word 'Yah' as if part of 'Yah.'
and to Chaleb the son of Jephone he gave a portion in the midst of the children of Juda by the command of God; and Joshua gave him the city of Arboc the metropolis of Ennas; this is Chebron. 14 And Chaleb the son of Jephone destroyed thence the three sons of Enac, Susaged, and Tholami, and Chaleb went up thence to the inhabitants of Dabir; and the name of Dabir before was the city of Letters. 16 And Chaleb said, Whosoever shall take and destroy the city of Letters, and master it, to him will I give my daughter Ascha to wife. 17 And Gothoniel the son of Chenez the brother of Chaleb took it; and he gave him Ascha his daughter to wife. 18 And it came to pass as she went out that she counselled him, saying, I will ask of my father a field; and she cried from off her ass; and Chaleb said to her, What is it? 19 And she said to him, Give me a blessing, for thou hast set me in the land of promise; give me Botanitis; and he gave her Gomethna the upper, and Gomethna the lower. 20 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Juda. 21 And their cities were cities belonging to the tribe of the children of Juda on the borders of Edom by the wilderness, and Beeseloth, and Ara, and Arson, and Avaril, and Cades, and Assorain, and Manem, and Balmenan, and their villages, and the cities of Aseron, this is Assor, and Sen, and Salma, and Molada, and Seri, and Bapahlah, and Cholesa, and Beer-saboe; and their villages, and their hamlets, and Bagellon, and Asor, and Elbott, and dad, and Bethel, and Herma, and Sekelac, and Mackaram, and Sibhena, and Labos, and Sale, and Erromoth; twenty-nine cities, and their villages.

In the plain country Aciel, and Raa, and Assa, and Ramin, and Tano, and Hithoth, and Marmari, and Jageuth, and Odom, and Membra, and Sedabo, and Jazecca. 26 And Sقار and Gader were their villages; fourteen cities, and their villages; 27 Senna, and Adesan, and Magadalga, and Dalad, and Maspha, and Jarchaeel, and Basesoth, and Ideasale; 28 and Chabba, and Maaches, and Maachos, and Gedidor, and Bagadill, and Noman, and Macchedan; sixteen cities, and their villages; 29 Lebsa, and Ithaa, and Aono, and Jana, and Nasib, and Keilam, and Akiezi, and Kezip, and Bathues, and Ariel; ten cities, and their villages; 30 Accaron and her villages, and their hamlets that are from Accaron, Gemma, and all the cities that are near Amedoth and their villages. 31 Asiedoth, and her village, and her hamlets; Gaza, and her villages and its hamlets as far as the river of Egypt, and the great sea is the boundary. 32 And in the hill country Samir, and Jethier, and Socha, and Renna and the city of Letters, this is Dabir; 33 and Anon, and Es, and Gom, and Chalu, and Channa, and Gelom; eleven cities, and their villages; 34 Zerem, and Ren- na, and Soma, and Jemmain, and Bethache, and Phraea, and Euma, and the city of Arboc, this is Chebron, and Soraith; nine

55 these are their villages: 56 Maor, and Carmel, and Ozib, and Itan, and Jareel, and Arima, and Zamar, and Gabaa, and Thanannah: nine cities, and their villages:
57 Elha, and Bethsuer, and Geddon, and Magaroth, and Bethanam, and Thecum: six cities, and their villages:
58 Theco, and Ephratha, this is Bethleem, and Phagor, and Etan, and Culon, and Tatam, and Thobes, and Carem, and Galem, and Theftier, and Calcans: eleven cities, and their villages, Cariathbaal, this is the city of Jairim, and Sotheba: two cities, and their villages:
59 and Baddarigea, and Tharabam, and Enon; 60 and Mechoza, and Naphlashon, and the cities of Sadon, and Ancades: seven cities, and their villages.

And the Jebusites dwelt in Jerusalem, and the children of Juda could not destroy them; and the Jebusites dwelt in Jerusalem to this day.

And the borders of the children of Joseph were from Jordan by Jericho eastward; and they will go up from Jericho to the hill country, to the wilderness, to Bethel.

And they will go out to Bethel, and will proceed to the borders of Achataroth. And they will go from Tharabam to the borders of Apalith, as far as the borders of Bethoron the lower, and the going forth of them shall be to the sea.

And the sons of Joseph, Ephraim and Manasse, took their inheritance.

And the borders of the children of Ephraim were according to their families, and the borders of the inheritance were eastward to Ararat, and Ezero as far as Bethoron the upper, and Gazara.

And the borders will proceed to the sea to Icasnon north of Tharba; they will go round eastward to Thenasa, and Selles, and will pass on eastward to Janoca, and to Macho, and Tatam, and Etan, and these are their villages; and they will come to Jericho, and will issue from Jordan, and will proceed from Bethhoron to the sea, and their termination will be at the sea: this is the inheritance of the tribe of Ephraim according to their families.

And the cities separated to the sons of Ephraim were in the midst of the inheritance of the sons of Manasse, all the cities and their villages.

And Ephraim did not destroy the Chananite who dwelt in Gazzer, and the Chananite dwelt in Ephraim until this day, until Pharaoh the king of Egypt went up and took it, and burnt it with fire; and the Chananites, and Pherizes, and the dwellers in Gaza they destroyed, and Pharaoh gave them for a dowry to his daughter.

And the borders of the tribe of the children of Manasse, (for the son of the first-born of Joseph,) assigned to Machir the first-born of Manasse the father of Galaad, for he was a warrior, were in the land of Galaad and of Basan.

And there was land assigned to the other sons of Manasse according to their families; to the sons of Jezi, and to the sons of Kelez, and to the sons of Jezioth, and to the sons of Sychem, and to the sons of Sermim, and to the sons of Opher; these are the males according to their families.
And Salpaad the sons of Opher had no sons but daughters: and these are the names of the daughters of Salpaad; Maala, and Nuna, and Eglah, and Melchea, and Thersa. 4 And they stood before Eleazar the priest, and before the heads of the house of their fathers, and they wept for their lot being taken by lot. 5 And Eleazar the priest said unto them, Fear not; stand ye up and take the possession of the land which the Lord sware unto your fathers, to possess it. 6 And the lot fell to them from Zaanath unto thie Lood, whereof they were to possess, to the borders of Ephraim. 7 And the borders thereof were Zaanath, and Elathh, and the valley of Lebanon toward the south, unto the sea. 8 And the lot of the daughters of Salpaad, the issue of their father, came up, and spake before Eleazar the priest, and before the heads of the house of their fathers: 9 And they said, The lot which fell unto our fathers to possess is too little for us. Give us other inheritances: for we are many, and our fathers are few. 10 And the heads of the house of their fathers answered, and said unto them, We will not drink the wine of the gentiles of the land, nor eat their bread: 11 For our land sufficient is for us, and we have also daughters, and sons: why should we spoil them, that we may take wives of the gentiles, to seed us, and that our brothers might be numbered like the gentiles? 12 And the congregation of the congregation of the children of Israel answered, and said, We will do according to all that they have spoken. 13 And the daughters of Salpaad rose up and spake before the congregation of the children of Israel at the entrance of the tabernacle, and said, The Lord hath heard the voice of the daughters of Salpaad: why then should the name of Salpaad the son of Opher be taken to be more excellent than the names of his brethren? 14 And Moses took the two sisters, and brought them before Eleazar the priest, and the heads of the house of their fathers the sons of Israel, and set them forward by lot before the congregation of the Lord. 15 And the lot fell unto them for lot of Reuben, and they were to inherit it: and the congregation of the children of Israel gave them their inheritance by lot. 16 And the lot of the sons of Reuben, which was Heshbon, and all his villages, and all his cities, and all his daughters, and all his cities of his daughters. 17 And the sons of Reuben dwelt in Heshbon, and all his cities, and in all his villages, even unto Salmon, as far as Nebo, in the heights of seir. 18 And Cnew the Moabite city which is on the plain, and Bethpeor, and the border of Moab round about, was their possession. 19 And Moab was an inheritance unto the children of Reuben according to their families: and the border of Moab was the border of the children of Reuben round about. 20 And Moses spake unto the children of Reuben and unto the children of Israel, saying, If you take the Moabites for an inheritance, then must you not inherit any thing of the land of Israel: for I give you all the Jordan eastward, even the whole land of Gilead. 21 And the children of Reuben and the children of Israel spake unto Moses, saying, Behold, thou speakest unto us, saying, The children of Reuben and the children of Gad must inherit Moab, for it is a land whereof no gentile dwelleth. 22 Now therefore give us inheri-

And the sons of Joseph answered Joshua, saying, Wherefore hast thou caused us to inherit one inheritance, and one line? whereas I am a great people, and God has blessed me. 14 And Joshua said unto them, If thou be a great people, go up to the forest, and clear the land for thyself, if mount Ephraim be too little for thee. 15 And they said, The mount of Ephraim does not please us, and the Chananite dwelling in it. In Bethaniss and in its villages, and in the valley of Jezreel, has choice cavalry and iron. 16 And Joshua said to the sons of Joseph, If thou art a great people, and hast great strength, thou shalt not have only one inheritance. 17 For thou shalt have the wood, for thou shalt have the water, and thou shalt clear it, and the land shall be thine: even when thou shalt have utterly destroyed the Chananite, for he has chosen cavalry, yet thou art stronger than he. 18 And all the congregation of the children of Israel were assembled at Sela, and there they pitched the tabernacle of witness; and the land was subdued by them.

And the sons of Israel remained, even those who had not received their inheritance, seven tribes. 3 And Joshua said to the sons of Israel, How long will ye be slack to inherit the land, which the Lord our God has given you? 4 But ye said, There shall not be among us a man to go over and divide it, 5 even anathem, that ye should not give inheritance to the congregation of the Lord in the land of Canaan. 6 And the congregation answered and said, He shall go over before the congregation of the Lord, and divide it according to the number of the families of the children of Israel. 7 And the children of Reuben, and the children of Gad, and half the tribe of Manasseh, chose men to be站起来 before the congregation of the Lord, to go up and divide it according to the inheritance of the Lord. 8 And when they came near before the congregation of the Lord, they set up before the congregation of the Lord six men, of each tribe, 9 Judah, and the inhabitants of the land of Jerusalem, half the tribe of Manasseh, and Issachar, 10 and Zebulun, the children of Reuben, and the children of Gad, and half the tribe of Manasseh. 11 Then the children of Issachar, and Zebulun, and the children of Naphtali, set up before the congregation of the Lord, sixmen. 12 And the children of Reuben, and the children of Gad, and half the tribe of Manasseh, placed themselves on the other side of Jordan, in the land of Gilead. 13 And they said before the children of Israel, 14 even before the congregation of the Lord, 15 and all the men of Israel heard whatsoever Israel heard: 16 who went forth, and brought the description hither to me, and I will 2 give you a lot before the Lord. 17 And Joshua said, Stand up, and step forward, city by city, through the inheritance of the Lord, to the border westward. 18 And the lot of the tribe of Benjamin came forth first according to their families: and the borders of their lot came forth between the children of Judah and the children of Joseph. 19 And their borders were northward: the borders shall go up from Jordan behind Jericho northward, and shall go up to the mountain westward, and the issue of it shall be Bethon of Maspeth, a city which is in front of Bethon, southward, and its termination shall be at Cariath-Baal, this is Cariath-Jarin, a city of the children of Judah; this is the part toward the west.

2 And the sons of Israel remained, even those who had not received their inheritance, seven tribes. 3 And Joshua said to the sons of Israel, How long will ye be slack to inherit the land, which the Lord our God has given you? 4 But ye said, There shall not be among us a man to go over and divide it, 5 even anathem, that ye should not give inheritance to the congregation of the Lord in the land of Canaan. 6 And the congregation answered and said, He shall go over before the congregation of the Lord, and divide it according to the number of the families of the children of Israel. 7 And the children of Reuben, and the children of Gad, and half the tribe of Manasseh, chose men to be站起来 before the congregation of the Lord, to go up and divide it according to the inheritance of the Lord. 8 And when they came near before the congregation of the Lord, they set up before the congregation of the Lord six men, of each tribe, 9 Judah, and the inhabitants of the land of Jerusalem, half the tribe of Manasseh, and Issachar, 10 and Zebulun, the children of Reuben, and the children of Gad, and half the tribe of Manasseh. 11 Then the children of Issachar, and Zebulun, and the children of Naphtali, set up before the congregation of the Lord, sixmen. 12 And the children of Reuben, and the children of Gad, and half the tribe of Manasseh, placed themselves on the other side of Jordan, in the land of Gilead. 13 And they said before the children of Israel, 14 even before the congregation of the Lord, 15 and all the men of Israel heard whatsoever Israel heard: 16 who went forth, and brought the description hither to me, and I will 2 give you a lot before the Lord. 17 And Joshua said, Stand up, and step forward, city by city, through the inheritance of the Lord, to the border westward. 18 And the lot of the tribe of Benjamin came forth first according to their families: and the borders of their lot came forth between the children of Judah and the children of Joseph. 19 And their borders were northward: the borders shall go up from Jordan behind Jericho northward, and shall go up to the mountain westward, and the issue of it shall be Bethon of Maspeth, a city which is in front of Bethon, southward, and its termination shall be at Cariath-Baal, this is Cariath-Jarin, a city of the children of Judah; this is the part toward the west.

And the south side on the part of Cariath-Baal; and the borders shall go across to Gazon, to the fountain of the water of Naphtho. 20 And the borders shall extend down on the south side to the forest of Sonnam, which is on the side of Memph Raphan northward, and it shall come down to Gazon behind Jebusai southward: it shall come down to the fountain of Rogel, and the borders shall go across to the fountain of Bethamsyes: and shall proceed to Gaillon, which is in front of the going up of Bethems, and shall they come down to the stone of the sons of Ruben; and shall pass over behind Betharabah northward, and shall go down to the borders behind the sea northward.
And the termination of the borders shall be at the creek of the salt sea northward to the side of Jordan southward: these are their southern borders.

And Jordan shall be their boundary on the east: this is the inheritance of the children of Benjamin, these are their borders round about according to their families.

And the cities of the children of Benjamin according to their families were Jericho, and Bethgego, and Amecas, 2 and Betha, and Gibeon, and Beerbona, 3 and with them, Sera, and Betholoth, 4 and Eeain, and Phara, and Ephrah, 5 and Carapha, and Cephira, and Moni, and Gabaa, twelve cities and their villages: 6 Gabaon, and Rama, and Beerotha; 7 and Massema, and Miron, and Amoke; 8 and Phira, and Caphan, and Nakan, and Selecan, and Tharela, 9 and Jebna (this is Jerusalem); and Gathoth, darim, thirteen cities, and their villages: this is the inheritance of the sons of Benjamin according to their families.

And the second lot came out for the children of Simeon; and their inheritance was in the midst of the lots of the children of Judah. And their lot was Simeon, and Saphon, and Gharoth, 10 and Arsola, and Bola, and Jeter, and Asan; four cities and their villages, round about their cities as far as Bethlehem southward: this is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Simeon according to their families. The inheritance of the tribe of the children of Simeon was a part of the lot of Judah, for the portion of the children of Judah was greater than theirs; and the children of Simeon were few: for the land of Judah was a land narrower than the land of Benjamin.

And the third lot came out to Zabulon according to their families: the bounds of their inheritance shall be—Esedekgola shall be their border, 11 the sea and Magelda, and it shall reach to Bethaphus in the valley, which is opposite Dejman. 12 And the border returned and passed northward to Bethaphepa, and was turned northward to Bethaphthath, and passed on to Dabiroth, and shall proceed upward to Phangai. 13 And thence it shall come round in the opposite direction eastward to Gerebe to the city of Catasem, and shall go on to Remmonas Matharam as Balaclay direct, and pass on to Chaslothath, and shall pass on to Dabiroth, and shall proceed upward to Phangai. 14 And the fourth lot came out to Issachar. 15 And their borders were Jazel, and Chassloth, and Sunam, 16 and Agin, and Siona, and Reeroroth, 17 and Anachereth, and Dabiron, and Kison, and Rebes, 18 and Remmas, and Jon, and Tomman, and Emar, and Bersaph as. 19 And the boundaries shall border upon Gether, and upon Salim westward, and upon Bethanath; and the extremity of Benjamin is at the sea.

the city which he asked for, Thamnasarach, which is in the mount of Ephraim; and he built the city, and dwelt in it.

And he divided the land by lot to Eleazar the priest, and to Joshua the son of Nau, and the heads of families among the tribes of Israel, according to the lots, in Sela before the Lord by the doors of the tabernacle of the testimony, and they went to take possession of the land.

And the Lord spake to Joshua, saying,

Speak to the children of Israel, saying, 'Assign the cities of refuge, of which I spake to you by Moses.

And Joshua separated Cades in Galilee in the mount Nephthali, and Sychem in the mount Ephraim, and the city of Arboc, this is Chebron, in the mountains of Juda.

And beyond Jordan he appointed Bosor in the wilderness in the plain out of the tribe of Ruben, and Aremoth in Galad out of the tribe of Gad, and Gaulon in the country of Basan out of the tribe of Manasse.

These were the cities selected for the sons of Israel, and for the stranger abiding among them, that every one who smites a soul unintentionally should flee thither, that he should not die by the hand of the avenger of blood, until he have stood before the congregation for judgment.

And the heads of the families of the sons of Levi drew near to Eleazar the priest, and to Joshua the son of Nau, and to the heads of the families of the tribes of Israel. And they spoke to them in Sela in the land of Chanaan, saying, The Lord gave commandment by Moses to give us cities to dwell in, and cities of refuge about for our cattle. So the children of Israel gave to the Levites in their inheritance by the command of the Lord the cities and the country round.

And the lot came out for the children of Caath; and the sons of Aaron, the priests the Levites, had by lot thirteen cities out of the tribe of Simeon, and out of the tribe of Ephraim, and out of the tribe of Dan, and out of the half tribe of Manasse.

And the sons of Gedson had thirteen cities, out of the tribe of Issachar, and out of the tribe of Asher, and out of the tribe of Nephthali, and out of the half tribe of Manasse in Basan.

And the sons of Merari according to their families had by lot twelve cities, out of the tribe of Ruben, and out of the tribe of Gad, and out of the tribe of Zabulon.

And the children of Israel gave to the Levites the cities and their suburbs, as the Lord commanded Moses, by lot.

And the tribe of the children of Juda, and the tribe of the children of Symeon, and part of the tribe of the children of Benjamin gave these cities, and they were assigned 10 to the sons of Aaron from the family of Caath of the sons of Levi, for the lot fell to these. 11 And the suburbs belonging to them; and these were given to them, and they gave them the city of refuge for the slayer, first in the mountain country of Judah, and the suburbs round it. 12 But the cities of the city, and its villages Joshua gave to the sons of Chaleb the son of Jephunneh for a possession.

13 And to the sons of Aaron he gave the city of refuge for the slayer, Chebron, and its suburbs; and he gave them the cities of Simeon, and its suburbs; and he gave them the cities of Judah, and its suburbs; and he gave them the cities of Caleb, and its suburbs; and he gave them the cities of Hebron, and its suburbs; and he gave them the cities of the sons of Levi, and its suburbs: nine cities from these two tribes. 14 And from the tribe of Benjamin, Gabaaon and its suburbs; and Gatheth and its suburbs; and Anaathoth and its suburbs; and Ghamala and its suburbs; four cities. 15 All the cities of the sons of Aaron the priests, thirteen.

16 And to the families, even the sons of Caath the Levites, that were left of the sons of Caath, there was given 1 their city, 17 out of the tribe of Ephraim and its suburbs; and they gave them the city of refuge for the slayer, Sychem, and its suburbs, and Gazaera and its appendages, and its suburbs; 18 and Gatheth and its suburbs; four cities: 19 and of the tribe of Dan, Helothaim and its suburbs; and Getheremmon and its suburbs: four cities. 20 And out of the half tribe of Manasseh, Tanaach and its suburbs; and Debba and its suburbs; and Remmath and its suburbs; and the well of Letters, and its suburbs; four cities. 21 And out of the tribe of Aser, Basalla and its suburbs; and Dabbon and its suburbs; and Chelet and its suburbs; and Kedid and its suburbs; and Jetbe and its suburbs: four cities. 22 And of the tribe of Naphtali, the city set apart for the slayer, Cades in Galilee, and its suburbs; and Nemmath, and its suburbs; and Themmon and its suburbs: three cities. 23 All the cities of Gedor according to their families were thirteen cities.

Joshua XXI. 10—33.
And to the family of the sons of Merari the Levites that remained, he gave out of the tribe of Zabuon, Maa, and its suburbs; and Cades and its suburbs, and Sella and its suburbs; three cities. And beyond Jordan over against Jericho, out of the tribe of Ruben, the city of refuge for the slayer, Bosor in the wilderness Miso and its suburbs; and Jazer and its suburbs; and Decon and its suburbs; and Mapha and its suburbs; four cities. And out of the tribe of Gad the city of refuge for the slayer, both Ramoth in Galad, and its suburbs; Canim and its suburbs; and Esbon and its suburbs; and Jazer and its suburbs; the cities were four in all. All these cities were given to the sons of Merari according to the families of them that were left out of the tribe of Levi; and their limits were the twelve cities.

All the cities of the Levites in the midst of the possession of the children of Israel, were forty-eight cities, and their suburbs round about these cities: a city and the suburbs round about the city to all the cities, and Joshua ceased dividing the land by their borders: and the children of Israel gave a portion to Joshua because of the commandment of the Lord: they gave him the city which he asked: they gave him Thammasachar in mount Ephrain; and Joshua built the city, and dwelt in it: and Joshua took the knives of stone, wherewith he circumcised the children of Israel that were born in the desert by the way, and put them in Thammasachar.

So the Lord gave to Israel all the land which he sware to give to their fathers: and they inherited it, and dwelt in it.

And the Lord gave them rest round about, as he sware to their fathers: not one of all their enemies maintained his ground against them; the Lord delivered all their enemies into their hand. There failed not one of the good things which the Lord spoke to the children of Israel; all came to pass.

Then Joshua called together the sons of Ruben, and the sons of Gad, and the half tribe of Manasse, and said to them, Ye have heard all that Moses the servant of the Lord commanded you, and ye have hearkened to voice in all that he commanded you. Ye have not deserted your brethren these many days: until this day ye have kept the commandment of the Lord your God. And now the Lord our God has given our brethren rest, as he told them: now then return and depart to your homes, and to the land of your possession, which Moses the servant of the Lord commanded you to do; to love the Lord our God, to walk in all his ways, to keep his commands, and to cleave to him, and serve him with all your mind,
And the half tribe of Manasseh, which is the half of the children of Manasseh, by their tribes, \(\text{v}^{13}\) the tribe of Manasseh built the altar and the place of assembly and the tabernacle of the congregation, and the place of assembly of God, to which the congregation of Israel went to commit obeisance the day after the passing of the congregation of Israel through the Jordan.

And to one half the tribe of Manasseh Moses gave a portion in the land of Bashan, and to the other half Joshua gave a portion with his brethren on the other side of Jordan westward; and when Joshua sent them away to their homes, then he blessed them.

And they departed with much wealth to their houses, and they divided the spoil of their enemies with their brethren; very much cattle, and silver, and gold, and iron, and much raiment.

The sons of Ruben, the sons of Gad, and the half tribe of Manasseh, departed from the children of Israel in Seba, in the land of Chanaan, to go away into Galad, into the land of their possession, which they inherited by the command of the Lord, by the hand of Moses.

And they came to Galad of Jordan, which is in the land of Chanaan; and the children of Ruben and the children of Gad and the half tribe of Manasseh built there an altar by Jordan, a great altar to look at.

And the children of Israel heard say, Behold, the sons of Ruben, and the sons of Gad, and the half tribe of Manasseh have built an altar at the borders of the land of Chanaan at Galad of Jordan, on the opposite side to the children of Israel.

And all the children of Israel gathered together to Seba, so as to go up and fight against them.

And the children of Israel sent to the sons of Ruben, and the sons of Gad, and to the sons of the half tribe of Manasseh into the land of Galad, both Phinees the son of Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest, and ten of the chiefs with him; there was one chief of every household out of all the tribes of Israel; (the heads of families are the captains of thousands in Israel).

And they came to the sons of Ruben, and to the sons of Gad, and to the half tribe of Manasseh into the land of Galad; and they spoke to them, saying, Thus says the whole congregation of the Lord, What is this transgression which ye have committed against your brothers, the Lord God of Israel, in that ye have built you an altar of yourselves, an altar to the Lord? Is the sin of Phogor too little for you, whereas we have not been cleansed from it until this day, though there was a plague among the congregation of the Lord?

And ye have this day revicted the Lord; and it shall come to pass if ye revolt this day from the Lord, that to-morrow there shall be wrath upon all Israel.

And now if the land of your possession be too little, cross over to the land of the possession of the Lord, where the tabernacle of the Lord dwells, and receive ye an inheritance among your brethren, and do not become apostates from God, neither do ye apostatize from the Lord, because they that have built an altar apart from the altar of the Lord our God.

Lo! did not Achar the son of Zara commit a trespass taking of the accursed thing, and there was wrath on the whole congregation of Israel; and he died alone in his own sin.

And the sons of Ruben, and the sons of Gad, and the half tribe of Manasse answered, and spoke to the captains of the thousands of Israel, saying, 22 God even God is the Lord, and God even God himself knows, and Israel he shall know; if we have transgressed before the Lord by our ostas, let him our Lord; 23 And we have built to ourselves an altar, so as to apostatize from the Lord our God, so as to offer upon it a sacrifice of whole-burnt-offerings, so as to offer upon it a sacrifice of peace-offering,—the Lord shall require it.

But we have done this for the sake of precaution concerning this thing, saying, Lest the Lord your God should say to our sons, What have ye to do with the Lord God of Israel? 24 Whereas the Lord has set boundaries between us and you, even Jordan, and ye have no portion in the Lord: so your sons shall alienate our sons, that they should not worship the Lord. 25 And we will do this altar, not for burnt-offerings, nor for meat-offerings; 26 but that this may be a witness between you and us, and between our posterity after us, that we may do service to the Lord before him, with our burnt-offerings and our meat-offerings and our peace-offerings, so your sons shall not say to our sons, Ye have no portion in the Lord. 27 And we said, If ever it should come to pass that they should speak so to us, or to our posterity hereafter; then shall they say, Behold the likeness of the altar of the Lord, which our fathers made, not for the sake of burnt-offerings, nor for the sake of meat-offerings, but it is a witness between you and us, and between our sons. 28 And be it from us therefore that we should turn away from the Lord this day so as to apostatize from the Lord, so as that we should build an altar for burnt-offerings, and for peace-offerings, besides the altar of the Lord our God, which he shall have in the tabernacle.

And Phinees the priest and all the chiefs of the congregation of Israel who were with him 29 heard the words which the children of Ruben, and the children of Gad, and the half tribe of Manasse spoke; and it pleased them. 30 And Phinees the priest said to the sons of Ruben, and to the sons of Gad, and to the half of the tribe of Manasse, To-day we know that the Lord is with us, because ye have not trespassed grievously against the Lord, and because ye have delivered the children of Israel out of the hand of the Lord. 31 So Phinees the priest and the princes departed from the children of Ruben, and from the children of Gad, and from the half tribe of Manasse out of Galaad into the land of Chanaan to the children of Israel; and reported the words to them. 32 And it pleased the children of Israel; and they spoke to the children of Israel, and blessed the God of the children of Israel, and told them to go up no more to war against the others to destroy the land of the children of Ruben, Gad, and half the tribe of Manasse.
And Joshua gave a name to the altar of the children of Ruben, and the children of Gad, and of the half tribe of Manasse; and said, It is a testimony in the midst of them, that the Lord is their God.

And it came to pass after many days after the Lord had given Israel rest from all his enemies round about, that Joshua was old and advanced in years. 2And Joshua called together all the children of Israel, and their elders, and their judges, and their officers; and said to them, I am old and advanced in years. 3And ye have seen all that the Lord our God has done to all these nations before us; for it is the Lord your God who has fought for you. 4See, that I have given you to these nations that are left to you by lots to your tribes, all the nations beginning at Jordan; and some I have destroyed; and the boundaries shall be at the great sea westward.

And the Lord our God, he shall destroy them before us, until they utterly perish; and he shall send against them the wild beasts, until he shall have utterly destroyed them and their kings from before you; and ye shall inherit their land, as the Lord our God said to you. 6Do ye therefore strive diligently to observe and do all things written in the book of the law of Moses that ye turn not to the right hand or to the left; 7that ye go not in among these nations that are left; and the names of their gods shall not be named among you. neither shall ye serve them, neither shall ye bow down to them. 8But ye shall cleave to the Lord our God, as ye have done until this day. 9And the Lord shall destroy them before you, even great and strong nations; and no one shall stand before you until this day. 10One of you has chased a thousand, for the Lord our God, he fought for you, as he said to us.

And take ye great heed to love the Lord our God. 12For if ye shall turn aside and attach yourselves to these nations that are left with you, and make marriages with them, and become mingled with them and they with you, 13know that the Lord will no more destroy these nations from before you; and they will be to you snares and stumbling-blocks, and nails in your heels, and darts in your eyes, until ye be destroyed from off this good land, which the Lord your God has given you.

But I hasten to go the way of death, as all that are upon the earth also die: and know ye that your heart and your soul, that not one word has fallen to the ground of all the words which the Lord our God has spoken respecting all that concerns us: there has not one of them failed. 15And it shall come to pass, that as all the good things are come upon us which the Lord spoke concerning you, so the Lord God will bring upon you all the evil things, until he shall have destroyed you from off this good land, which the Lord has given you, when ye transgress the covenant of the Lord our God, which he has charged you, and go and serve other gods, and bow down to them.

And Joshua gathered all the tribes of Israel to Selo, and convinced their elders, and their officers, and their judges, and set them before God.

And Joshua said to all the people, Thus says the Lord God of Israel, Your fathers at first sojourned beyond the river, even Thara, the father of Abraam and the father of Nachor; and they served other gods. And I took your father Abraam from the other side of the river, and I guided him through all the land, and I multiplied his seed; and I gave to him Isaac, and to Isaac Jacob and Esau; and I gave to Esau mount Seir for him to inherit: and Jacob and his sons went down to Egypt, and became there a great and populous and mighty nation: and the Egyptians afflicted them. And I smote Egypt with the wonders that I wrought among them. And afterwards Gog brought out our fathers from Egypt, and ye entered into the Red Sea; and the Egyptians pursued after our fathers with chariots and horses into the Red Sea. And we cried aloud to the Lord; and he put a cloud and darkness between us and the Egyptians, and he brought the sea upon them, and covered them: and your eyes have seen all that the Lord did in the land of Egypt; and ye were in the wilderness many days.

And he brought us into the land of the Amorites that dwelt beyond Jordan, and the Lord delivered them into our hands; and ye inherited their land, and utterly destroyed them from before you.

And Balac, king of Moab, son of Seuphor, rose up, and made war against Israel, and sent and called Balaam to curse us. But the Lord thy God would not destroy thee, and he greatly blessed us, and rescued us out of their hands, and delivered them to us. And ye crossed over Jordan, and came to Jericho; and the inhabitants of Jericho fought against us, the Amorite, and the Canaanite, and the Pherezite, and the Zbruite, and the Jebusite, and the Chettite, and the Gergesite, and the Lord delivered them into our hands. And he sent forth the hornet before you; and he drove them out from before you, even twelve kings of the Amorites, not with thy sword, nor with thy bow.

And he gave you a land on which ye did not labour, and cities which ye did not build, and ye were settled in them; and ye eat of vineyards and oliveyards which ye did not plant.
And now fear the Lord, and serve him, in righteousness and justice; and remove the strange gods, which our fathers served beyond the river, and in Egypt; and serve the Lord. 15 But if it seem not good to you to serve the Lord, choose to yourselves this day whom ye will serve, whether the gods of your fathers that were on the other side of the river, or the gods of the Amorites among whom ye dwell upon your land: but I and my house will serve the Lord, for he is holy.

And the people answered and said, Far be it from us to forsake the Lord, so as to serve other gods. 17 The Lord our God, he is God; he brought us up and our fathers from Egypt, and kept us in all the way wherein we walked, and among all the nations through whom we passed. 18 And the Lord cast out the Amorite, and all the nations that inhabited the land from before us; ye saw we will serve the Lord, for he is our God.

And Joshua said to the people, Indeed ye will not be able to serve the Lord, for he is holy; and he being jealous will not forgive your sins and your transgressions. 21 And whereas ye shall forsake the Lord and serve other gods, then shall he come upon you, and砝主 ye shall serve, and ye shall perish.

And Joshua said to the people, Ye are witnesses against yourselves, that ye have chosen the Lord to serve him. 23 And now take away the strange gods that are among you, and set your heart right toward the Lord God of Israel. 24 And the people said to Joshua, We will serve the Lord, and we will hearken to his voice.

So Joshua made a covenant with the people on that day, and gave them a law and an ordinance in Selah before the tabernacle of the Lord God of Israel. 26 And he wrote these words in the book of the laws of God: and Joshua took a great stone, and set it up under the oak before the Lord. 27 And Joshua said to the people, Behold, this stone shall be among you for a witness, for it has heard all the words that have been spoken to it by the Lord; for he has spoken to you this day; and this stone shall be among you for a witness in the last days, whenever ye shall deal falsely with the Lord my God.

And Joshua dismissed the people, and they went every man to his place. 29 And Israel served the Lord all the days of Joshua, and all the days of the elders that heard all the words that Joshua spake to the children of Israel. 30 And Israel served the Lord all the days of Joshua, and all the days of the elders, and all that knew all the works of the Lord which he wrought for Israel.

And it came to pass after these things that Joshua the son of Nun, the servant of the Lord died, at the age of a hundred and ten years. 33 And they buried him by the borders of his inheritance in Thamnath-reach in the mount of Ebalim, northward of the mount of Galaad: there they put him into the tomb in which they buried him, the knives of stone with which
And it came to pass after the death of Joshua, that the children of Israel enquired of the Lord, saying, Who shall go up for us first against the Canaanites, to fight against them? 32 And the Lord said, Judas shall go up: behold, I have delivered the land into his hand. 33 And Judas said to his brother Symeon, Come up with me into my lot, and let us array ourselves against the Canaanites, and I also will go with thee into thy lot: and Symeon went with him. 34 And Judas went up; and the Lord delivered the Canaanite and the Pherezite into their hands, and they smote them in Bezek to the number of ten thousand men. 35 And they overtook Adonibezek in Bezek, and fought against him; and they smote the Canaanite and the Pherezite. 36 And Adonibezek fled, and they pursued after him, and took him, and cut off his thumbs and his great toes. 37 And Adonibezek said, Seventy kings, having their thumbs and their great toes cut off, gathered their food into Egypt, and came to the brook of Jericho. 38 But Judas overtook him, and slew him with the sword, and cut off his thumbs and his great toes. 39 And Judas took all the goods of Bezek, and his brother Symeon, and all that were found in Bezek, great and small, and withered up the kings, and brought their heads down to Jerusalem. 40 And Judas and his brother Symeon went up, and smote Gabaar, and smote them with the sword. 41 And they overtook Adonibezek in Gabaar, and smote him with the sword, and cut off his thumbs and his great toes. 42 And Adonibezek said, The three hundred thousand chosen men of Ephraim. 43 And the Lord said, Let them go over, and smite Adonibezek in Gabaar. 44 And Judas and his brother Symeon went up, and smote Adonibezek in Gabaar, and smote him with the sword, and cut off his thumbs and his great toes. 45 And Judas and his brother Symeon and the children of Levi smote Adonibezek, and cut off his thumbs and his great toes. 46 And they took all the goods of Bezek, and his brother Symeon, and all that were found in Bezek, great and small, and withersmote the kings, and brought their heads down to Jerusalem. 47 And they took all the goods of Gabaar, and his brother Symeon, and all that were found in Gabaar, great and small, and withered up the kings, and brought their heads down to Jerusalem. 48 And they went over to the children of Judah, and to the children of Joseph, and to all the children of the south, and fought against them. 49 And they smote the children of the south, and took possession of the land of them, to the brook of Jericho. 50 And they smote Adonibezek in Gabaar, and smote him with the sword, and cut off his thumbs and his great toes. 51 And they took all the goods of Bezek, and his brother Symeon, and all that were found in Bezek, great and small, and withered up the kings, and brought their heads down to Jerusalem.
under my table: as I therefore have done so God has requited me: and the brought him to Jerusalem, and he died there.

And the children of Judas fought against Jerusalem, and took it, and smote it with the edge of the sword, and they burnt the city with fire. And afterwards the children of Judas went down to fight with the Chananite dwelling in the hill country, and the south, and the plain country: And Judas went to the Chananites who dwelt in Chebron; and Chebron came out against him; (and the name of Chebron before was Carinathbaroseph; and they smote Sessi, and Achiman, and Tholmi, children of Enac. And they went up thence to the inhabitants of Dabir; but the name of Dabir was before Carinathseph, the city of Letters.

And Chaleb said, Whosoever shall smite the city of Letters, and shall first take it, I will give to his daughter Ascha to wife. And Gothoniel the younger son of Kenez the brother of Chaleb took it; and Chaleb gave him his daughter Ascha to wife. And it came to pass as she went in, that Gothoniel urged her to ask a field of her father; and she murmured and cried from off her ass, Thou hast sent me forth into a south land: and Chaleb said to her, What is thy request? And Ascha said to him, Give me, I pray thee, a blessing, for thou hast sent me forth into a south land, and thou shalt give me the ransom of my life: and Chaleb gave her according to her heart the ransom of the upper springs and the ransom of the low springs.

And the children of Jothor the Kenite the father-in-law of Moses went up from the city of palm-trees with the children of Judas, to the wilderness that is in the south of Juda, which is at the descent of Arad, and they dwelt with the people.

And Judas went with Symeon his brother, and smote the Chananite that inhabited Sebeph, and they utterly destroyed them; and they called the name of the city Ana-thema. But Judas did not inherit Gaza nor her coasts, nor Ascalon nor her coasts, nor Accaron nor her coasts, nor Azotos nor the lands about it. And the Lord was with Judas, and he inherited the mountain; for they were not able to destroy the inhabitants of the valley, for Rechab prevented them. And they gave Chebron to Chaleb, as Moses said; and thence he inherited the three cities of the children of Enac.

But the children of Benjamin did not take the inheritance of the Jebusite, who dwelt in Jerusalem; and the Jebusite dwelt with the children of Benjamin in Jerusalem until this day.

And the sons of Joseph, they also went up to Bethel; and the Lord was with them. And they encamped and surveyed Bethel: and the name of the city before was Luz.

And the spies looked, and beheld, a man went out of the city, and they took him; and they said to him, Shew us the way into the city, and we will deal mercifully with thee. 21 And he shewed them the way into the city; and they smote the city with the edge of the sword; but they let go the man and his family. 22 And the man went into the land of Chettim, and built him a city, and called the name of it Luzia; this is its name until this day.

27 And Manasse did not drive out the inhabitants of Bethsan, which is a city of Sycanias, nor her b towns, nor her suburbs; nor Thana, nor her towns; nor the inhabitants of Dor, nor her towns; nor the inhabitant of Balsac, nor her suburbs, nor her towns; nor the inhabitants of Magedo, nor her suburbs, nor her towns; nor the inhabitants of Jeblam, nor her suburbs, nor her towns; and the Chananite became to dwell in this land. 28 And it came to pass when Israel was strong, that he made the Chananite tributary, but did not utterly drive them out: and Ephraim did not drive out the Chananite that dwelt in Gazer; and the Chananite dwelt in the midst of him in Gazer, and became tributary.

29 And Zabulon did not drive out the inhabitants of Dedron, nor the inhabitants of Domman: and the Chananite dwelt in the midst of them, and became tributary to them. 30 And Asar dwelt in the midst of the Chananite who inhabited the land, for he did not drive him out. 31 And Nepthali did not drive out the inhabitants of Bethsanam, nor the inhabitants of Bethnanach: and Nepthali dwelt in the midst of the Chananite who inhabited the land: but the inhabitants of Bethsanam and of Bethnenach became tributary to them.

32 And the Amorite drove out the children of Dan into the mountain, for they did not suffer them to come down into the valley. 33 And the Amorite began to dwell in the mountain of shells, in which are bears, and foxes, in Myrsion, and in Thalabin; and the land of the house of Joseph was heavy upon the Amorite, and he became tributary to them. 34 And the border of the Amorite was from the going up of Acrabin, from the rock and upwards.

And an angel of the Lord went up from Galgal to the place of weeping, and to Bethel, and to the house of Israel, and said to them, Thus saith the Lord, I brought you up out of Egypt, and I brought you into the land that I sware to your fathers; and I said, I will never break my covenant that I have made with you. 2 And I will not make any covenant with them that dwell in this land, neither shall ye worship their gods: but ye shall destroy their graven images, ye shall pull down their altars: but ye heartened not to my voice, for ye did these things. 3 And I said, I will not drive them out from before you, but they shall be for a
#distress to you, and their gods shall be to you for a snare. 4And it came to pass that when the angel of the Lord spake these words to all the children of Israel, that the people lifted up their voice, and wept.
5And they named the name of that place
Weepings; and they sacrificed there to the Lord.
6And Joshua dismissed the people, and they went every man to his inheritance, to inherit the land. 7And the people served the Lord all the days of Joshua, and all the days of the elders that lived many days with Joshua, as many as knew all the great work of the Lord, what things he had wrought in Israel.
8And Joshua the son of Naue, the servant of the Lord, died, at hundred and ten years old. 9And they buried him in the border of his inheritance, in Thamaathares, in mount Ephraim, on the north of the mountain of Gass. 10And all the officers that were laid to their fathers: and another generation rose up after them, who knew not the Lord, nor yet the work which he wrought in Israel.
11And the children of Israel wrought evil before the Lord, and served Baalim. 12And they forsook the Lord God of their fathers, who brought them out of the land of Egypt, and walked after other gods, of the gods of the nations round about them; and they worshipped them. 13And they provoked the Lord, and forsook him, and served Baal and the Astartes.
14And the Lord was very angry with Israel; and he gave them into the hands of the spoilers, and they spoiled them; and he sold them into the hands of their enemies, and they resisted their enemies.
15And the Lord raised up judges, and the Lord saved them out of the hands of those that spoiled them; and yet they hearkened not to the judges; 6for they went a whoring after other gods, and worshipped them; and they turned quickly out of the way which their fathers walked to hearken to the words of the Lord; they did not so. 18And because the Lord raised them up judges, so the Lord was with the judge, and saved them out of the hand of their enemies all the days of the judge; for the Lord was moved at their groaning by reason of them that besieged them and afflicted them.
19And it came to pass when the judge died, that they went back, and again corrupted themselves worse than their fathers to go after other gods to serve them and to worship them: they abandoned not their devices nor their stubborn ways.
20And the Lord was very angry with Israel, and said, Forasmuch as this nation has forsaken my covenant which I commanded their fathers, and has not hearkened to my voice, therefore I will not any more cast out a man of the nations from before their face, which Joshua the son of Nau left in the land. And the Lord left them, 2) so prove Israel, and whether they would keep the way of the Lord, to walk in it, as their fathers kept it, or no. 3) So the Lord 3) will leave these nations, so as not to cast them out suddenly; and he delivered them not into the hand of Joshua.

And these are the nations which the Lord left to prove Israel with them, all that had not known the wars of Chanaan. 2) Only for the sake of the generations of Israel, to teach them war, only the men before they knew them not. 3) The five lords of the Philistines, and every Canaanite, and the Sidonian, and the Evite who dwelt in Libanus from the mount of Aeronon to Leboemath. And this was done in order to prove Israel by them, to know whether they would obey the commands of the Lord, which he charged their fathers by the hand of Moses.

5) And the children of Israel dwelt in the midst of the Canaanite, and the Chettite, and the Amorite, and the Pherezite, and the Jebusite. 6) And they took their daughters for wives to themselves, and they gave their daughters to their sons, and served other gods. And the children of Israel did evil in the sight of the Lord, and forgot the Lord their God, and served Baalim and the groves. 8) And the Lord was very angry with Israel, and sold them into the hand of Chusarsatham king of Syria of the rivers; and the children of Israel served Chusarsatham eight years.

9) And the children of Israel cried to the Lord; and the Lord raised up a saviour to Israel, and he saved them, Gomieniel the son of Kenez, the brother of Chaleb younger than himself. 10) And the Spirit of the Lord came upon him, and he judged Israel; and he went out to war against Chusarsatham: and the Lord delivered into his hand Chusarsatham king of Syria of the rivers, and his hand prevailed against Chusarsatham. 11) And the land was quiet forty years. And Gomieniel the son of Kenez died.

12) And the children of Israel continued to do evil before the Lord; and the Lord strengthened Eglom king of Moab against Israel, because they had done evil before the Lord. 13) And he gathered to himself all the children of Ammon and Amalec, and went and smote Israel, and took possession of the city of Palm-trees. 14) And the children of Israel served Eglom the king of Moab eighteen years.

15) And the children of Israel cried to the Lord; and he raised up to them a saviour, Aod the son of Gera a 5) son of Jemeni, a man 5) who used both hands alike: and the children of Israel sent gifts by his hand to Eglom king of Moab. 16) And Aod made himself a dagger of two edges, of a span long, and he girded it under his cloak upon his right thigh. 17) And he went, and brought the presents to Eglom king of Moab, and Eglom was a very handsom man.
18 And it came to pass when God had made an end of offering his gifts, that he dismissed those that brought the gifts. 19 And he himself returned from the quarries that are by Galgal; and God said, I have a secret errand to thee, O king! and Eglom said to him, Be silent; and he sent away from his presence all who would go with him. 20 And God went in to him; and he sat in his own upper summer chamber quite alone; and God said, I have a message from God to thee, O king; and Eglom rose up from his throne near him. 21 And it came to pass as he arose, that God stretched forth his left hand, and took the dagger of his right thigh, and plunged it into his belly, 22 and drove in also the haft after the blade, and the fat closed in upon the blade, for he drew not out the dagger from his belly.

23 And God went out to the porch, and passed out by the appointed guards, and shut the doors of the chamber upon him, and looked them. 24 And he went out; and Eglom's servants came, and saw, and beheld, the doors of the upper chamber were locked; and they said, Does he not uncover his feet in the summer-chamber? 25 And they waited till they were ashamed, and, behold, there was no one that opened the doors of the upper chamber; and they took the key, and opened them; and, behold, their lord was fallen down dead upon the earth.

26 And God escaped while they were in a tumult, and no one paid attention to him; and he passed the quarries, and escaped to Sietrothah. 27 And it came to pass when God came into the land of Israel, that he blew the horn in mount Ephraim, and the children of Israel came down with him from the mountain, and he was before them. 28 And he said to them, Come down after me, for the Lord God has delivered our enemies, even Moab, into our hands; and they went down after him, and seized on the fords of Jordan before Moab, and he did not suffer a man to pass over. 29 And they smote Moab on that day about ten thousand men, every lusty person and every mighty man; and not a man escaped. 30 So Moab was humbled in that day under the hand of Israel, and the land had rest eighty years; and God judged them till he died. 31 And after him rose up Samegar the son of Dinach, and smote the Philistines to the number of six hundred men with a ploughshare such as is drawn by oxen; and he too delivered Israel.

And the children of Israel continued to do evil against the Lord; and God was dead.
And she sat under the palm-tree of Debora between Ramah and Bethel in mount Ephraim; and the children of Israel went up to her for judgment.

And Debora sent and called Barac the son of Abimelech out of Cades Nephthali, and said unto him, Has not the Lord God of Israel commanded thee? and thou shalt depart to mount Thabor, and shalt take with thyself ten thousand men of the sons of Nephthali, and of the sons of Zabulon.

And I will bring to thee the torrent of Kison Sisara the captain of the host of Jabin, and his chariots, and his multitude, and I will deliver them into thine hands.

And Barac said to her, If thou wilt go with me, I will go; and if thou wilt not go, I will not go; for I know not the day on which the Lord prospereth his messenger with me.

And she said, I will surely go with thee: but know that thy honour shall not be so much in mine eyes, when the Lord shall deliver Jabin king of Hazor unto thee, and I have smitten his chariot, and his horse, and his array.

And Barac called Zabulon and Nephthali out of Caed, and there went up at his feet ten thousand men, and Debora went up with him.

And Chaber the Kenite had removed from Caina, from the sons of Jobab the father-in-law of Moses, and pitched his tent by the oak of the covetous ones, which is near Kedes.

And it was told Sisara that Barac the son of Abineem was gone up to mount Thabor.

And Sisara summoned all his chariots, nine hundred chariots of iron and all the people with him, from Arisoth of the Gentiles to the brook of Kison.

And Debora said to Barac, Rise up, for this is the day on which the Lord hath delivered Sisara into thy hand, for the Lord shall go forth before thee: and Barac went down from mount Thabor, and ten thousand men after him. And the Lord discomfited Sisara before Barac; and Sisara descended from off his chariot, and fled on his feet. And Barac pursued after the chariots and after the army, into Arisoth of the Gentiles; and the whole army of Sisara fell by the edge of the sword, there was not one left.

And Sisara fled on his feet to the tent of Jael the wife of Chaber the Kenite his friend; for there was peace between Jabin king of Asor and the house of Chaber the Kenite. And Jael went out to meet Sisara, and said to him, Turn aside, my lord, turn aside to me, fear not: and he turned aside to her into the tent; and she covered him with a mantle.

And Sisara said to her, Give me, I pray thee, a little water to drink, for I am thirsty: and she opened him a bottle of milk, and gave him to drink, and covered him. And Sisara said to her, Stand now by the door of the tent, and it shall come to pass if any man come to thee, and ask of thee, and say, Is there any man here? then thou shalt... and the hand of the children of Israel prevailed more and more against Jabin king of Canaan, until they utterly destroyed Jabin king of Canaan.

And Debbora and Barac son of Abineem sang in that day, saying,

A revelation was made in Israel when the people were made willing: Praise ye the Lord.

Hear, ye kings, and hearken, rulers: I will sing, it is I who will sing to the Lord, it is I, I will sing a psalm to the Lord the God of Israel; in the banquet of the strong, in the going forth on Seir, when thou wentest forth out of the land of Edom, the earth quaked and the heaven dropped dews, and the clouds dropped water. The mountains were shaken before the face of the Lord Eloi, this Sina before the face of the Lord God of Israel.

In the days of Samegar son of Anath, in the days of Jael, they deserted the ways, and, by ways in crooked paths. The mighty men in Israel failed, they failed until Debbora arose, until she arose a mother in Israel.

There new gods; then the cities of rulers fought; there was not a shield or spear seen among forty thousand in Israel.

My heart inclines to the orders given in Israel; ye that are willing among the people, bless the Lord.

Ye that are about a she-ass at noon-day, ye that sit on the judgment-seat, and walk by the roads of them that sit in judgment by the way; declare ye that are delivered from the noise of disturbers among the drawers of water; there shall they relate righteous acts: O Lord, increase righteous acts in Israel; then the people of the Lord went down to the cities.

Awake, awake, Debbora, awake, awake, utter a song: arise, Barac, and lead thy captivity captive, son of Abineem.

Then went down the remnant to the strong, the people of the Lord went down for him among the mighty ones from me.

Ephraim rooted them out in Amaele, behind thee was Benjamin among thy people: the inhabitants of Machir came down with me searching out the enemy, and from Zabulon came they that drew with the scribe's pen of record.

And princes in Issachar were with Debbora and Barac, thus she sent Barac on his feet in the valleys into the portions of Ruben; great pangs reached to the heart.

Why did they sit between the sheep-folds to hear the bleating of the sheep, and the bleating of the lambs?

There were great workings of hearts.

Gaal is on the other side of Jordan where he pitched his tents; and why does Dan remain in ships? As we set down on the sea-coasts, and he will tabernacle at his ports. 18 The people Zabulon exposed their soul to death, and Nephthali came to the high places of their land. 19 Kings set themselves in array, then the kings of Channah fought in Thanach at the water of Mageddo; they took no gift of money. 20 The sires from heaven set themselves in array, they set themselves to fight with Sisara out of their paths. 21 The book of Kison swept them away, the ancient brook, the book Kison: my mighty soul will trample him down. 22 When the hoofs of the horse were entangled, his mighty ones earnestly hustled. 23 The Lord said the angel of the Lord; cursed is every one that dwells in it, because they came not to the help of the Lord, to his help among the mighty. 24 Blessed among women be Jael wife of Chabber the Kenite; let her be blessed above women in tents. 25 She asked water for Sisara, she gave him milk in a dish; she brought butter of princes. 26 She stretched forth her left hand to the nail, and her right hand to the workman's hammer, and she smote Sisara with it, she nailed through his head and smote him; she nailed through his temples. 27 He rolled down between her feet; he bowed and fell; where he bowed, there he fell dead. 28 The mother of Sisara looked down through the window out of the loophole, saying, Why was his chariot ashamed? why did the wheels of his chariots tarry? 29 Her wise ladies answered her, and she returned answers to herself, say, Will they not now divide the spoil? they will surely be gracious to every man: there are spoils of dyed garments for Sisara, spoils of various dyed garments, dyed embroidered garments, they are the spoils for his neck. 30 Thus let all thine enemies perish, O Lord; and that love him shall be as the noon day of the sun in strength. 31 And the land had rest forty years. 32 And the children of Israel did evil in the sight of the Lord, and the Lord gave them into the hand of Madiam seven years. 33 And the hand of Madiam prevailed against Israel; and the children of Israel made for themselves because of Madiam the caves in the mountains, and the dens, and the holes in the rocks. 34 And it came to pass when the children of Israel sowed, that Madiam and Amalec went up, and the children of the east went up together with them. 35 And they encamped against them, and destroyed their fruits until they came to Seir. 36 And they left not the support of life in the land of Israel, not even ox or ass among the herds. 37 For they and their stock came up, and their tents were with them, as the locust in multitude, and there was no number to them and their camels; and they came to the land of Israel, and laid it waste. 38 And Israel was greatly impoverished because of Madiam. 39 And the children of Israel cried to the Lord, because of Madiam.
8 And the Lord sent a prophet to the children of Israel; and he said to them, Thus says the Lord God of Israel, I am he that brought you up out of the land of Egypt, and I brought you up out of the house of your bondage. 9 And I delivered you out of the hand of Egypt, and out of the hand of all that afflicted you, and I cast them out before you; and I gave you their land. 10 And I said to you, I am the Lord your God: ye shall not fear the gods of the Amorites, in whose land ye dwell; but ye heartened not to my voice.

8 And Gedeon went in, and prepared a kid of the goats, and an ephah of fine flour unleavened; and he put the flesh in the basket, and poured the broth into the pot, and brought it to his mother, and said, Let me, I pray thee, set it before Ephraim, thou father's eldest son; and he said, Bring it quick to me, and I will eat of my son's flesh to set my eyes on him. 9 And Gedeon said to his father's house, Bring a kid, and let us eat of the flesh of the kid of the goats of Ephraim; for he was the eldest son; and his mother kept nothing back of the flesh or of the broth. 10 And Gedeon said, I have a secret thing; if no one tell it me, I will not eat of it. Then said Shurah his father, What is this secret thing which thou hast kept back? Tell me now. And he told him; and he said, Peace be to thee. 11 And Gedeon went in and said to his wife Zilpah, the daughter of Brucham, of the family of the Manassites, Behold, I have seen the Angel of the Lord, who said to me, Go, set a kid in a basket, and put it in the basket against Ephraim, the son of Jeredim. 12 And Zilpah said to him, Shall I indeed set the kid before my lord? 13 And he said, Bring it quick, and I will eat of the flesh of my son. 14 And she brought it, and he ate of it, and said to her, Get thee away. And she went away from him, and put the kid in the basket. 15 And he said to her, Stand in a covert. And she stood at a covert of the house, and said, Let me, I pray thee, look over the field. 16 And the Angel of the Lord came again to get him, and stood in the same place where he had stood before. 17 And Gedeon said, See, Lord, if thou beest truly God, come not near to thy servant: 18 But let a man, I pray thee, bear witness between me and thee, and between my son and thee, when thou wilt come to speak again to thy servant; 19 And when thou hast thrown down Ephraim, as I have heard they have said of thee, Ephraim is my first-born, Manasse is my mightier than I, 20 Then said the Angel of the Lord, I will not come near thee, but I will put my presence upon this ladder, and I will push it up and down while I am speaking. 21 Then said Gedeon, If I have seen thee, Lord, I would not have spoken this word. 22 And he said, Whence camest thou, and whom hast thou seen, Gedeon? 23 And he said, I have seen the Angel of the Lord, and he came up over against me, and said, Go, set a kid in a basket, and put it in the basket against Ephraim, the son of Jeredim. 24 And he said, If I have seen thee, Lord, I would not have spoken this word. 25 And he said, Whence camest thou, and in what manner hast thou seen me? And he said, I am an angel of God, and I have come to thee in the night. 26 Then said Gedeon, But if now I have seen thee, Lord, how can I speak to my lord? 27 And the Angel of the Lord said to him,Peace be to thee; fear not; thou shalt not die. 28 And Gedeon built there an altar to the Lord, and called it The peace of the Lord: until this day, as it is still in Ephratha of the father of Josi. 29 And it came to pass in that night, that the Lord said to him, Take the young bullock which thy father has, even the second bullock of seven years old, and thou shalt destroy the altar of Baal which thy father has, and the grove which is by it thou shalt destroy. 26 And thou shalt build an altar to the Lord thy God on the top of this Maazon in the ordering it, and thou shalt take the second bullock, and shalt offer up whole-burnt-offerings with the wood of the grove, which thou shalt destroy. 27 And Gideon took ten men of his servants, and did as the Lord spoke to him, and he came and tore the house of his father and the men of the city if he should do it by day, that he did it by night. 28 And the men of the city arose up early in the morning; and behold, the altar of Baal had been demolished, and the grove by it had been destroyed; and they saw the second bullock, which Gideon offered on the altar that had been built. 29 And a man said to his neighbour, Who has done this thing? and they enquired and searched, and learnt that Gideon the son of Joas had done this thing. 30 And the men of the city said to Joas, Bring out thy son, and let him die, because he has destroyed the altar of Baal, and because he has destroyed the grove that is by it. 31 And Gideon the son of Joas said to all the men who rose up against him, Do ye now plead for Baal, or will ye save him? whoever will plead for him, let him be slain this morning: if he be a god, let him save himself, because he has thrown down his altar. 32 And he called in that day Jerobal, saying, Let Baal plead thereby, because his altar has been thrown down.

33 And all Madam, and Amalek, and the sons of the east gathered themselves together, and encamped in the valley of Jerizôl. 34 And the Spirit of the Lord came upon Gideon, and he blew with the horn, and Abiezer came to help after him. 35 And Gideon sent messengers into all Manasseh, and into Aser, and into Zabulon, and into Nephathali; and he went up to meet them.

36 And Gideon said to God, If thou wilt save Israel by my hand, as thou hast said, 37 behold, I put the fleece of wool in the threshing-floor; if there be dew on the fleece only, and drought on all the ground, I shall know that thou wilt save Israel by my hand, as thou hast said. 38 And it was so; and he rose up early in the morning, and wrung the fleece, and dwelt upon from the fleece, a bowl full of water. 39 And Gideon said to God, Let not, I pray thee, thine anger be kindled against me, and I will speak yet once; I will even yet make one trial more with the fleece: let now the drought be upon the fleece only, and upon all the ground there be dew. 40 And God did so in that night; and there was drought on the fleece only, and upon all the ground there was dew.

And Jerobal rose early, the same is Gideon, and all the people with him, and encamped at the fountain of Arad; and the camp of Madiam was to the north of him, reaching from Gabathaamori, in the valley.

_2_ And the Lord said to Gideon. The people with thee are many, so that I may not deliver Madiam into their hand, lest at any time Israel boast against me, saying, My hand has saved me. _3_ And now speak in the ears of the people, saying, Who is afraid and fearful? let him turn and depart from this mountain Gedeon: _4_ and then the Lord turned the people twenty-two thousand, and ten thousand were left. _5_ And the Lord said to Gideon, The people is yet numerous; bring them down to the water, and I will purge them there for thee: and it shall come to pass that of whomsoever I shall say to thee, This one shall go with thee, even he shall go with thee; and of whomsoever I shall say to thee, These shall not go with thee, even he shall not go with thee. _6_ And he brought the people down to the water; and the Lord said to Gideon, Whosoever shall lap the water of his tongue as if a dog should lap, thou shalt set him apart, and also whosoever shall bow down upon his knees to drink water: _7_ and the number of those that lapped with their hand to their mouth was three hundred men; and all the rest of the people bowed upon their knees to drink water. _8_ And the Lord said to Gideon, I will save you by the three hundred men that lapped, and I will give Madiam into thy hand; and all the rest of the people shall go every one to his place. _9_ And they took the provision of the people in their hand, and their horns; and he sent away every man of Israel each to his tent, and he strengthened the three hundred; and the army of Madiam were beneath him in the valley.

_9_ And it came to pass in that night that the Lord said to him, Arise, go down into the camp, for I have delivered it into thy hand. _10_ And if thou art afraid to go down go down thou and thy servant Phara into the camp. _11_ And thou shalt hear what they say, and shalt do as they say. _12_ And they took of the multitude of the people, even of the tents of the Israelites, two thousand men, and Phara went down with them. _13_ And the Lord said to Gideon,_14_ Behold, I have dreamed a dream, and he said, Behold, I have dreamed a dream and behold, a cake of barley bread rolling into the camp of Midian, and it came as far as a tent, and smote it, and it fell, and it turned it up, and the tent fell. _15_ And his neighbour answered and said, This is none other than the sword of Gideon, son of Joas, a man of Israel: God has delivered Madiam and all the host into his hand.

_16_ And it came to pass when Gideon heard the account of the dream and the interpretation of it, that he worshipped the Lord, and returned to the camp of Israel, and said, Rise, for the Lord has delivered the camp of Midian into our hand. 2 And he divided the three hundred men into three companies, and put horns in the hands of all, and empty pitchers, and torches in the pitchers: 3 and he said to them, Ye shall stand in ambush against the host; behold, I will go into the host, and it shall come to pass that as I do, so shall ye do. 4 And I will sound with the horn, and all ye with me shall sound with the horn round about the whole camp, and ye shall say, For the Lord and Gideon.

And Gideon and the hundred men that were with him came to the extremity of the army in the beginning of the middle watch; and they completely roused the guards, and sounded with the horns, and they broke the pitchers that were in their hands, and the three companies sounded with the horns, and broke the pitchers, and held the torches in their left hands, and in their right hands their horns to sound with; and they cried out, A sword for the Lord and for Gideon. 6 And every man stood in his place round about the host; and all the hosts ran, and sounded an alarm, and fled. 7 And they sounded with the three hundred horns; and the Lord set every man's sword in all the host against his neighbour, and all the hosts fled, and pursued Midian. 8 And the hosts fled as Bethshean Tagarmatha Abel-meula to Tabath; and the men of Ephraim who were Madiam, and Amalek, and Ammon, and all the Amorites, and the Zemarim, they followed after Midian.

Gideon sent messengers into all mount Ephraim, saying, Come down to meet Midian, and take to yourselves the water as far as Bethera and Jordan; and every man of Ephraim cried out, and they took the water before hand unto Bethera and Jordan. 10 And they took the princes of Midian, even Oreb and Zeb; and they slew Oreb on the rock of Chebar, and they slew Zeb in Japheth-zephel; and they pursued Midian, and brought the heads of Oreb and Zeb to Gideon from beyond Jordan.

And the men of Ephraim said to Gideon, What is this that thou hast done to us, in that thou didst not call us when thou wentest to fight with Midian? and they chode with him sharply. 11 And he said to them, What have I now done in comparison of you? is not the gleaning of Ephraim better than the vintage of Abiezer? The Lord has delivered into your hand the princes of Midian, Oreb and Zeb; and what could I do in comparison of you? Then was their spirit calmed toward him, when he spoke this word.

And Gideon came to Jordan, and went over, himself and the three hundred with him, hungry, yet pursuing. 13 And he said to the men of Socchoth, Give, I pray you, bread to feed this people that follow me, because they are faint, and behold, I am following after Zeebe and Salmana, kings of Midian. 14 And the princes of Socchoth said, Are the hands of Zeebe and Salmana, among the Lemurians, as the hands of Ephraim and Simeon among the Israelites? 15 And he said to the men of Socchoth, Be not afraid; I have not come against you this day, but against the inhabitants of Midian.

7 And Gideon said, Therefore when the Lord gives Zebee and Salmana into my hand, then will I blast your flesh with the thorns of the wilderness, and the Barenim. 8 And he went up thence to Phanuel, and spoke to them likewise: and the men of Phanuel answered him as the men of Socchoth had answered him. 9 And Gideon said to the men of Phanuel, Where I return in peace, I will break down this tower.

10 And Zebee and Salmana were in Carcan, and their host was with them, about fifteen thousand, all that were left of all the host of the aliens; and they that fell were a hundred and twenty thousand men that drew the sword. 11 And Gideon went up by the way of them that dwelt in tents, eastward of Nam and Jegebal; and he smote the host, and the host was secure. 12 And Gideon and Salmana fled; and he pursued after them, and took the two kings of Madiam, Zebee and Salmana, and discomfitted all the army.

13 And Gideon the son of Joas returned from the battle, down from the battle of Ares. 14 And he took prisoner a young lad of the men of Socchoth, and questioned him; and he wrote to him the names of the princes of Socchoth and of their elders, seventy-seven men. 15 And Gideon came to the princes of Socchoth, and said, Behold Zebee and Salmana, about whom ye reproached me, saying, Are the hands of Zebee and Salmana now in thy hand, that we should give bread to thy men that are faint? 16 And he took the elders of the city with the thorns of the wilderness and the Barenim, and with them he tore the men of the city. 17 And he overthrew the tower of Phanuel, and slew the men of the city.

18 And he said to Zebee and Salmana, Where are the men whom ye slew in Thabor? and they said, As thou, so were they, according to the likeness of the son of a king. 19 And Gideon said, They were my brethren and the sons of my mother: as the Lord lives, if ye had preserved them alive, I would not have slain you. 20 And he said to Jether his first-born, Rize and slay them; but the lad drew not his sword, for he was afraid, for he was yet very young. 21 And Zebee and Salmana said, Rize thou and fall upon him; for he is the son of a man; and Gideon arose, and slew Zebee and Salmana; and he took the round ornaments that were on the necks of their camels.

22 And the men of Israel said to Gideon, Rule, my lord, over us, both thou, and thy son, and thy son's son; for thou hast saved us out of the hand of Madiam. 23 And Gideon said to them, I will not rule, and my son shall not rule among you; the Lord shall rule over you. 24 And Gideon said to them, I will make a request of you, and do ye give me every man an earring out of his spoil; for they had golden earrings, for they were Ismaelites. 25 And they said, We now in thy hand, that we should give bread to thy host? 7 And Gideon said, Where are the men whom ye slew in Thabor? and they said, As thou, so were they, according to the likeness of the son of a king. 19 And Gideon said, They were my brethren and the sons of my mother: as the Lord lives, if ye had preserved them alive, I would not have slain you. 20 And he said to Jether his first-born, Rize and slay them; but the lad drew not his sword, for he was afraid, for he was yet very young. 21 And Zebee and Salmana said, Rize thou and fall upon him; for he is the son of a man; and Gideon arose, and slew Zebee and Salmana; and he took the round ornaments that were on the necks of their camels.

22 And the men of Israel said to Gideon, Rule, my lord, over us, both thou, and thy son, and thy son's son; for thou hast saved us out of the hand of Madiam. 23 And Gideon said to them, I will not rule, and my son shall not rule among you; the Lord shall rule over you. 24 And Gideon said to them, I will make a request of you, and do ye give me every man an earring out of his spoil; for they had golden earrings, for they were Ismaelites. 25 And they said, We

And Madiam was straitened before the children of Israel, and they did not lift up their head any more; and the land had rest forty years in the days of Gideon. And Jerobaal the son of Joas went and sat in his house. And Gideon had seventy sons begotten of his body, for he had many wives. And his concubine was in Sychem, and she also bore him a son, and gave him the name Abimelech. And Gideon son of Joas was an Ephod in the shepheard of Joas his father in Ephratha of Abi-Esdri. And it came to pass when Gideon was dead, that the children of Israel turned, and went a whoring after Baalim, and made for themselves a covenant with Baal, that he should be their god. And the children of Israel reneged not the Lord their God, who had delivered them out of the hand of all that afflicted them round about. And they did not deal mercifully with the house of Jerobaal, (the same is Gideon) according to all the good which he did to Israel.

And Abimelech son of Jerobaal went to Sychem to his mother's brethren; and he spake to them and to all the kindred of the house of his mother's father, saying, Speak, I pray you, in the ears of all the men of Sychem, saying, Which is better for you, that seventy men, even all the sons of Jero- baal, should reign over you, or that one man should reign over you? Remember that I am your bone and your flesh. And his mother's brethren spake concerning him in the ears of all the men of Sychem all these words; and their heart turned after Abimelech, for they said, He is our brother. And they gave him seventy pieces of silver out of the house of Baalberith; and Abimelech hired himself vain and cowardly men, and they went after him. And he went to the house of his father to Ephratha, and slew his brethren the sons of Jerobaal, seventy men upon one stone; but Joatham the youngest son of Jerobaal was left, for he hid himself.

And the men of Sicima, and all the house of Bethmaalo, were gathered together, and they went and made Abimelech king by the oak of Sediton, which was at Sicima.

And it was reported to Joatham, and he went and stood on the top of mount Garis, and lifted up his voice, and wept, and said to them, Hear me, ye men of Sicima, and God shall hear you.

8 The trees went forth on a time to anoint a king over them; and thereunto went to the olive, Reínum over us. 9 But the olive said to them, Shall I leave my fatness, with which men shall glorify God, and go to be promoted over the trees? 10 And the trees said to the fig-tree, Come, reign over us. 11 But the fig-tree said to them, Shall I leave my sweetness and my good fruits, and go to be promoted over the trees? 12 And the trees said to the vine, Come, reign over us. 13 And the vine said to them, Shall I leave my wine that cheers God and men, and go to be promoted over the trees? 14 Then all the trees said to the bramble, Come thou and reign over us. 15 And the bramble said to the trees, If ye in truth anoint me to reign over you, come, stand under my shadow; and if not, let fire come out from me and devour the cedars of Libanus.

16 And now, if ye have done it in truth and integrity, and have made Abimelech king, and if ye have wrought well with Jerobaal, and with his house, and if ye have done to him according to the reward of his hand, and have my father fought for you, and put his life in jeopardy, and delivered you out of the hand of Midiam; 17 and ye are risen up this day against the house of my father, and have slain his sons, being seventy men, upon one stone, and have made Abimelech the son of his bondwoman king over the men of Sicima, because he is your brother; 18 if then ye have done truly and faithfully with Jerobaal, and with his house this day, rejoice ye in Abimelech, and let him also rejoice over you; 19 but if not, let fire come out from Abimelech, and devour the men of Sicima, and the house of Beth-maalo; and let fire come out from the men of Sicima and from the house of Beth-maalo, and devour Abimelech.

20 And Joatham fled, and ran away, and went as far as Beer, and dwelt there out of the way of his brother Abimelech.

22 And Abimelech reigned over Israel three years. 23 And God sent an evil spirit between Abimelech and the men of Sicima; and the men of Sicima dealt treacherously with the house of Abimelech: 24 to bring the injury done to the seventy sons of Jerobaal, and to lay their blood upon their brother Abimelech, who slew them, and upon the men of Sicima, because they strengthened his hands to slay his brethren. 25 And the men of Sicima set liers in wait against him on the top of the mountains, and robbed every one who passed by them on the way; and it was reported to the king Abimelech.

26 And Gaal son of Jobel came, and his brethren, and passed by Sicima, and the men of Sicima trusted in him. 27 And they went out into the field, and gathered their grapes, and trod them, and made merry; and they brought the grapes into the house of their god, and ate and drank, and cursed Abimelech. 28 And Gaal the son of Jobel said, Who is Abimelech, and who is the son of Sycem, that we should fear him? 29 He is not the son of Jerubbaal, and is not Zebul his steward, his servant with the son of Emmor the father of Sycem? and why should we serve him? 30 And would that this people were under my hand! then would I remove Abimelech, and I would say to him, Multiply thy nest, and come out.

And Zebul the ruler of the city heard the words of Gaal the son of Jobel, and he was very angry. 31 And he sent messengers to Abimelech secretly, saying, Behold, Gaal the son of Jobel and his brethren are come to Sycem; and behold, they have besieged the city against thee. 32 And now rise up by night, thou and the people with thee, and lay wait in the field: and it shall come to pass in the morning at sunrise, thou shalt rise up early and draw toward the city; and behold, heand the people with him ye will come forth against thee, and thou shalt do to him according to thy power.

And Abimelech and all the people that were with him rose up by night, and formed an ambuscade against Sycem in four companies. 33 And Gaal the son of Jobel went forth, and stood by the door of the gate of the city: and Abimelech and the people with him rose up from the ambuscade. 34 And Gaal the son of Jobel saw the people, and said to Zebul, Behold, a people come down from the top of the mountains, and Zebul said to him, Thou seest the shadow of the mountains as men. 35 And Gaal continued to speak and said, Behold, a people comes down 5 westward from the part bordering on the middle of the land, and another company comes by the way of Helon: 36 And Zebul said to him, Where is thy mouth as thou spakest, Who is Abimelech that we should serve him? Is not this the people whom thou despisest? go forth now, and set the battle in array against him. 37 And Gaal went forth before the men of Sycem, and set the battle in array against Abimelech and Abimelech pursued him, and he fled from him before him; and many fell down slain as far as the door of the gate.

And Abimelech entered into Aremath, and Zebul cast out Gaal and his brethren, so that they should not dwell in Sycem. 41 And it came to pass on the second day that the people went out into the field, and one brought word to Abimelech. 42 And he took the people, and divided them into three companies, and formed an ambush in the field; and he looked, and, behold, the people went forth out of the city, and he rose up against them, and smote them. 43 And Abimelech and the chiefs of companies that were with him rushed forward, and stood by the door of the gate of the city: and the two other companies rushed forward upon all that were in the field, and smote them. 44 And Abimelech fought against the city all that day, and took the city, and slew the people that were in it, and destroyed the city, and sowed it with salt.

And all the men of the tower of Sychem heard, and came to the gathering of Bethel-berith. 45 And it was reported to Abimelech, that all the men of the tower of Sychem had anointed Abimelech king over them. 46 And Abimelech went up to the mount of Sehon, and all the people that were with him; and Abimelech took an axe in his hand, and cut down a branch of a tree, and took it, and laid it on his shoulders; and said to the people that were with him, What ye see me doing, do quickly as I. 47 And they cut down likewise every man a branch, and went after Abimelech, and laid them against the place of gathering, and burnt the place of gathering over them with fire; and they died, even all the men of the tower of Sichem, about a thousand men and women.

And Abimelech went out of Bethel-berith, and encamped against Thebes, and took it. 48 And there was a strong tower in the midst of the city; and thither all the men of the city fled, and shut the door without them, and went up on the roof of the tower. 49 And Abimelech drew near to the tower, and they besieged it; and Abimelech drew near to the door of the tower to burn it with fire. 50 And a woman cast a piece of a millstone upon the head of Abimelech, and broke his skull.

Abimelech rose quickly, and said, I will not hurt thee, young man. 51 And he cried out quickly to the young man his lord, and said to him, Draw thy sword, and slay me, lest at any time they should say, A woman slew him, and his young man thrust him through and he died. 52 And the men of Israel saw that Abimelech was dead; and they went each to his place.

So God requited the wickedness of Abimelech, which he wrought against his father, in slaying his seventy brethren.

And all the wickedness of the men of Sychem God requited upon their head; and the curse of Joatham the son of Jerobaal came upon them.

And after Abimelech Thola the son of Phua rose up to save Israel, being the son of his father's brother, a man of Issachar; and he dwelt in Samir in mount Ephraim.

And he judged Israel twenty-three years, and died, and was buried in Samir.

And after him arose Jair of Gaalad, and he judged Israel twenty-two years. 4 And he had thirty-two sons riding on thirty-two colts, and they had thirty-two cities; and they called them Jair's towns until this day in the land of Gaalad. 5 And Jair died, and was buried in Rhammon.

And the children of Israel did evil again in the sight of the Lord, and served Baalim, and Ashtaroth, and the gods of Aram, and the gods of Sidon, and the gods of Moab, and the gods of the children of Ammon, and the gods of the Phylistines; and they forsook the Lord, and did not serve him.

And the Lord was very angry with Israel, and sold them into the hand of the Phylistines, and into the hand of the children of Ammon. 7 And they afflicted and bruised the children of Israel at that time eighteen years, all the children of Israel beyond
And the children of Israel cried to the Lord, saying, We have sinned against thee, because we turned aside, and served Baalim. And the Lord said to the children of Israel, Did I not save you from Egypt, and from the Amorite, and from the princes of Ammon, and from the Pharaohs, and from the Sidonians, and Amalec, and Midian, which afflicted you? and ye cried to me, and I saved you out of their hand? Yea, yet ye have forsaken me, and served other gods; therefore I will not save you any more. Go, and cry to the gods whom ye have chosen to yourselves, and let them save you in the time of your affliction.

And the children of Israel said to the Lord, We have sinned; do thou to us according to thy great goodness, and turn thou our captivity, only deliver us this day. And they put away the strange gods from the midst of them, and served the Lord only, and his soul was pained for the trouble of Israel.

And the children of Ammon went up, and encamped in Gilead; and the children of Israel were gathered together and encamped on the hill. And the people the princes of Ammon said every man to his neighbour, Who is he that shall begin to fight against the children of Ammon? shall he even be head over all that dwell in Gilead.

And Jephthah the Gileadite was a mighty man; and he was the son of a harlot, who bore Jephthah to Gilead. And the wife of Gilead bore him sons; and the sons of his wife grew up, and they cast out Jephthah, and said to him, Thou shalt not inherit in the house of our father, for thou art the son of a concubine.

And Jephthah fled from the face of his brethren, and dwelt in the land of Tob; and vain men gathered to Jephthah, and went out with him. And it came to pass when the children of Ammon prepared to fight with Israel, that the elders of Gilead went to fetch Jephthah from the land of Tob. And they said to Jephthah, Come, and be our head, and we will fight with the sons of Ammon. And Jephthah said to the elders of Gilead, Did ye not hate me, and cast me out of my father's house, and banish me from you? and wherefore are ye come to me now when ye want me? And the elders of Gilead said to Jephthah, Therefore have we now turned to thee, that thou shouldest go with us, and fight against the sons of Ammon, and be our head over all the inhabitants of Gilead. And Jephthah said to the elders of Gilead, If ye turn back to fight with the children of Ammon, and the Lord should deliver them before me, then will I be your head. And the elders of Gilead said to Jephthah, The Lord be witness between us, if we will not do according to thy word.

6 Or, near the watch-tower. Heb. תִּבְנֵי, name of a town. = Or, exalted in strength. = Gr. and thou shalt.
And Jephthah went with the elders of Gàlad, and the people made him head and ruler over them; and Jephthah spoke all his words before the Lord in Massephah.

And Jephthah sent messengers to the king of the children of Ammon, saying, What have I to do with thee, that thou hast come against me to fight in my land?

And the king of the children of Ammon said to the messengers of Jephthah, Because Israel took my land when he went up out of Egypt, from Arnon to Jaboc, and to Jordan; now then return them peaceably and I will depart.

And Jephthah again sent messengers to the king of the children of Ammon, and said to him, Thus says Jephthah, Israel took not the land of Moab, nor the land of the children of Ammon; for in their going up out of Egypt Israel went in the wilderness as far as the sea of Siph, and came to Cades.

And Israel sent messengers to the king of Edom, saying, I will pass, if it please thee, by thy land; and the king of Edom 3 passed not: and Israel also sent to the king of Moab, now he did not consent; and Israel sojourned in Cades.

And Jephthah journeyed in the wilderness, and compassed the land of Edom and the land of Moab: and they came by the east of the land of Moab, and encamped in the country beyond Arnon, and came not within the borders of Moab for Arnon is the border of Moab.

And Israel sent messengers to Seon king of the Amorite, king of Sebbon, and Israel said to him, Let us pass, we pray thee, by thy land to our place.

And Seon did not trust Israel to pass by his coast; and Seon gathered all his people, and they encamped at Jasa; and he set the battle in array against Israel.

And the Lord God of Israel delivered Seon and all his people into the hand of Israel, and they smote them; and Israel inherited their land all the Amorite who dwelt in that land, from Arnon to and to Jaboc, and from the wilderness to Jordan.

And now the Lord God of Israel has removed the Amorite from before his people Israel, and shall thou inherit this land? Wilt thou not inherit those possessions which Chamos thy god shall cause thee to inherit; and shall we inherit the land of all those whom the Lord our God has removed from before thee? And now art thou any better than Balac son of Sephor, king of Moab? Did he indeed fight with Israel, or indeed make war with him, when Israel dwelt in Sebbon and in its coasts, and in the land of Aror and in its coasts, and in all the cities by Jordan, three hundred years? and wherefore didst thou not recover them in that time? And now I have not sinned against thee, but thou wrongest me in preparing war against me: may the Lord the Judge judge this day between the children of Israel and the children of Ammon.

But the king of the children of Ammon hearkened not to the words of Jephthah which he sent to him.
the Lord came upon Jephthae, and he passed over Galaad, and Manasse, and passed by the watch-tower of Galaad to the other side of the children of Ammon.

And Jephthae vowed a vow to the Lord, and said, If thou wilt indeed deliver the children of Ammon into my hand, 1 then it shall come to pass that whatever shall first come out of my mouth I shall offer up for a whole-burnt-offering. 2 And Jephthae advanced to meet the sons of Ammon to fight against them; and the Lord delivered them into his hand. 3 And he came to Arnon, in number twenty cities, and as far as Ebelcharrim, with a very great destruction: and the children of Ammon were straitened before the children of Israel.

And Jephthae came to Masseph in his house, and beheld, his daughter came forth to meet him with timbrels and dances; and she was his only child, he had not another son or daughter. 4 And it came to pass when he saw her, that he rent his garments, and said, Ah, ah, my daughter, thou hast indeed troubled me, and thou wast the cause of my trouble; and I have opened my mouth against thee because of the Lord, and I shall not be able to return from it. 5 And she said to him, Father, hast thou opened thy mouth to the Lord? Do to me accordingly as the word went out of thy mouth, in that the Lord hath wrought vengeance for thee on thine enemies of the children of Ammon. 6 And she sent her away for two months; and she went, and her companions, and she bewailed her virginity on the mountains.

And she passed at the end of the two months that she returned to her father; and he performed upon her his vow which he vowed; and she knew no man. 7 And it was an ordinance in Israel, That the daughters of Israel went from year to year to bewail the daughter of Jephthae the Galaadite for four days in a year.

And the men of Ephraim assembled themselves, and passed on to the north, and said to Jephthae, Wherefore didst thou go over to fight with the children of Ammon, and didst not call us to go with thee? we will burn thy house over thee with fire. 2 And Jephthae said to them, I and my people and the children of Ammon were very much engaged in war; and I called for you, and ye did not save me out of their hand. 3 And I saw that thou spelt no helper, and I put my life in my hand, and passed on to the sons of Ammon; and the Lord delivered them into my hand; and wherefore are ye come up against me this day to fight with me?

And Jephthae gathered all the men of Galaad, and fought with Ephraim; and the men of Galaad smote Ephraim, because they that were escaped of Ephraim said, Ye are of Galaad in the midst of Ephraim and in the midst of Manasse. 4 And Galaad took the fords of Jordan before Ephraim; and they that escaped of Ephraim said to them, Let us go over and the men of Galaad said, Art thou an Ephraimite? and he said, No. 5 Then they said to him, Say now & Stachys; and he did not rightly pronounce it so; and they took him, and slew him at the fords of Jordan; and there fell at that time of Ephraim two and forty thousand.

5 Period of days, i. e. year. 6 Gr. I was a man, a warrior. 8 Gr. art. 9 Gr. saviour or deliverer.
Judges XII. 5—XIII. 9.

And Jephthae judged Israel six years; and Jahdihube the Galadite died, and was buried in his city Galaad.

And after him Abiaasan of Bethlehem judged Israel. 9 And he had thirty sons, and thirty daughters, whom he sent forth; and he brought in thirty daughters for his sons from without; and he judged Israel seven years. 10 And Abiaasan died, and was buried in Bethlehem.

And after him Elom of Zabulon judged Israel ten years. 11 And Elom of Zabulon died, and was buried in Elom in the land of Zabulon.

And after him Abdon the son of Ellel, the Pharaohonite, judged Israel. 14 And he had forty sons, and thirty grandsons, that rode upon seventy colts; and he judged Israel eight years. 15 And Abdon the son of Ellel, the Pharaohonite, died, and was buried in Pharaohon in the land of Ephraim in the mount of Amalec.

And the children of Israel yet again committed iniquity before the Lord; and the Lord delivered them into the hand of the Philistines forty years.

And there was a man of Sarai, of the family of the kindred of Dan, and his name was Manoë, and his wife was barren, and bore not. 3 And an angel of the Lord appeared to the woman, and said to her, Behold, thou art barren and hast not borne; yet thou shalt conceive a son. 4 And now be very cautious, and drink no wine nor strong drink, and eat no unclean thing; 5 for behold, thou art with child, and shall bring forth a son; and there shall come no razor upon his head, for the child shall be a Nazarite to God from the womb; and he shall begin to save Israel from the hand of the Philistines.

And the woman went in, and spoke to her husband, saying, A man of God came to me, and his appearance was as of an angel of God, very dreadful; and I did not ask him whence he was, and he did not tell me his name. 7 And he said to me, Behold, thou art with child, and shall bring forth a son; and now drink no wine nor strong drink, and eat no unclean thing; for the child shall be holy to God from the womb until the day of his death.

And Manoë prayed to the Lord and said, 8 I pray thee, Lord my God, concerning this child of mine that came forth; let him now come to us once more, and teach us what we shall do to the child about to be born.

and the angel of God came yet again to the woman: and she sat in the field, and Manoë her husband was not with her. 19 And the woman hasted, and ran, and brought word to her husband, and said to him, Behold the man which came in the other day to me has appeared to me. 20 And Manoë arose and followed his wife, and came to the man, and said to him, Art thou the man that spoke to the woman? and the angel said, I am. 21 And Manoë said, Now shall thy word come to pass: what shall be the ordering of the child, and our dealings with him? 22 And the angel of the Lord said to Manoë, Of all things concerning which I spoke to the woman, she shall beware. 23 She shall eat of nothing that comes of the vine yielding wine, and let her not drink wine or strong liquor, and let her not eat anything unclean: all things that I have charged her she shall observe. 24 And Manoë said to the angel of the Lord, Let us detain thee here, and prepare before thee a kid of the goats. 25 And the angel of the Lord said to Manoë, If thou shouldest detain me, I will not eat of thy bread: and if thou wouldest offer a whole-burnt-offering, to the Lord, 26 then said Manoë, What be thy name, that when thy word shall come to pass, we may glorify thee? 27 And the angel of the Lord said to him, Why dost thou thus ask after my name? whereas it is a wonderful thing. 28 And Manoë and his wife looked on the angel, and he was no more visible to them. 29 And it came to pass when the flame went up above the altar toward heaven, that the angel of the Lord went up in the flame: and Manoë and his wife were looking on, and they fell upon their face to the earth. 30 And the angel appeared no more to Manoë, and to his wife: then Manoë knew that this was an angel of the Lord. 31 And Manoë said to his wife, We shall surely die, because we have seen God. 32 But his wife said to him, If the Lord had pleased, he would not have shewn us all these things, neither would he have caused us to hear all these things as at this time. 33 And the woman brought forth a son, and was called his name Samuel: and the Spirit of the Lord began to go out with him in the camp of Dan, and between Sarna and Esthoul. 34 And Sampson went down to Thamnatha, and saw a woman in Thamnatha of the daughters of the #Philistines. 35 And he went up and told his father and his mother, and said, I have seen a woman in Thamnatha of the daughters of the #Philistines: and now take her to me for a wife. 36 And his father and his mother said to him, Are there no daughters of brethren, and is the #angel of the Lord unto #Samuel. 37 And Samuel took a bottle of oil, and poured thereof on his head, and kissed him, and said, Is it not because the Lord has anointed thee to be #people's king? 38 And Samuel said, What is the word of the Lord unto thee? And he said, It is a secret thing unto thee, and upon me; but he will make it known unto thee and to thine house, and to all his #people.

15 And Manoë went home, and his wife bare a son, and called his name Samuel: and he became #one of the #Sapmolinans. 16 And the woman brought forth a son, and was called his name Samuel: and the Spirit of the Lord began to go out with him in the camp of Dan, and between Sarna and Esthoul. 17 And Sampson went down to Thamnatha, and saw a woman in Thamnatha of the daughters of the #Philistines: and he went up and told his father and his mother, and said, I have seen a woman in Thamnatha of the daughters of the #Philistines: and now take her to me for a wife. 18 And his father and his mother said to him, Are there no daughters of brethren, and is the #angel of the Lord unto #Samuel. 19 And Samuel took a bottle of oil, and poured thereof on his head, and kissed him, and said, Is it not because the Lord has anointed thee to be #people's king? 20 And Samuel said, What is the word of the Lord unto thee? And he said, It is a secret thing unto thee, and upon me; but he will make it known unto thee and to thine house, and to all his #people.
there not a woman of all my people, that thou goest to take a wife of the unclean circumsic Philistines?

And Sampson said to his father, Take her for me, for she is right in my eyes. And his father and his mother knew not that it was of the Lord, that he sought to be revenged upon the Philistines. And at that time the Philistines lorded it over Israel.

And Sampson and his father and his mother went down to Thammatha, and he came to the vineyard of Thammatha; and behold, a young lion roared vin meeting him. And the Spirit of the Lord came powerfully upon him, and he crushed him as he would have crushed a kid of the goats, and there was nothing in his hands: and he told not his father and his mother what he had done. And they went down and spoke to the woman, and she was pleasing in the eyes of Sampson.

And after some time he returned to take her, and he turned aside to see the carcasse of the lion; and behold, a swarm of bees, and honey were in the mouth of the lion. And he took it into his hands, and went on eating, and he went to his father and his mother, and gave to them, and they did eat; but he told them not that he took the honey out of the mouth of the lion.

And his father went down to the woman, and Sampson made there a banquet for seven days, for so the young men are used to do. And it came to pass when they saw him, that they took thirty guests, and they were with him.

And Sampson said to them, I propound you a riddle: if ye will indeed tell it me, and discover it within the seven days of the feast, I will give you thirty sheets and thirty changes of raiment. And if ye cannot tell it me, ye shall give me thirty napkins and thirty changes of apparel: and they said to him, Propound thy riddle, and we will hear it. And he said to them, Meat came forth of the eater, and sweetness out of the strong: and they could not tell the riddle for three days.

And it came to pass on the fourth day, that they said to the wife of Sampson, Deceive now thy husband, and let him tell thee the riddle, lest we burn thee and thy father’s house with fire: did ye invite us to do us violence? And Sampson’s wife wept before him, and said, Thou dost but hate me, and loveth me not; for the riddle which thou hast propounded to the children of my people, thou hast not told me: and Sampson said to her, If I have not told it to my father and my mother, shall I tell it to thee? And she wept before him the seven days, during which their banquet lasted: and it came to pass on the seventh day, that he told her, because she troubled him; and she told it to the children of her people. And the men of the city said to him on the seventh day, before sunrise, What is sweeter than honey? and what is stronger than a lion? and Sampson said to them, If ye had not ploughed with my
And the Spirit of the Lord came upon him powerfully, and he went down to Ascalon, and destroyed of the inhabitants thirty men, and took their garments, and gave the changes of raiment to them that told the riddle: and Sampson was very angry, and went up to the house of his father. And the wife of Sampson was given to one of his friends, with whom he was on terms of friendship.

And it came to pass after a time, in the days of wheat harvest, that Sampson visited his wife with a kid, and said, I will go in to my wife even into the chamber: but her father did not suffer him to go in. And her father spoke, saying, I said that thou didst surely hate her, and I gave her to one of thy friends; is not her younger sister better than she? let her be to thee instead of her.

And Sampson said to them, Even for once am I guiltless with regard to the Philistines, in that I do mischief among them. And Sampson went and caught three hundred foxes, and took torches, and turned tail to them, and put firebrands between their tails, and fastened it. And he set fire to the torches, and sent the foxes into the corn of the Philistines; and every thing was burnt from the threshing floor to the standing corn, and even to the vineyard and olives. And the Philistines said, Who has done this thing? and they said, Sampson son-in-law of the Thamnites, because he has taken his wife, and given her to one of his friends; and the Philistines went up, and burnt her and her father’s house with fire.

And Sampson said to them, Though ye may have dealt thus with her, yet will I be avenged of you, and afterwards I will cease. And he smote them leg on thigh with a great overthrow; and went down and dwelt in a cave of the rock Etam.

And the Philistines went up, and encamped in Juda, and spread themselves abroad in Lechi. And the men of Judah said, We will hide ourselves and the Philistines said, We are come up to bind Sampson, and to do to him as he has done to us. And the three thousand men of Juda went down to the hole of the rock Etam, and they said to Sampson, Knowest thou not that the Philistines rule over us? and what is this that thou hast done to us? and Sampson said to them, As they did to me, so have I done to them. And they said to him, We are come down to bind thee to deliver thee into the hand of the Philistines: and Sampson said to them, Swear to me that ye will not fall upon me yourselves. And they spoke to him, saying, No, but their will only be bind thee fast and deliver thee into their hand, and will by no means slay thee: and they bound him with two new ropes, and brought him from that rock.

And they came to Lechi: and the Philistines shouted, and ran to meet him: and the Spirit of the Lord came mightily upon him, and the ropes that were upon his arms became as tow which is burnt with fire; and his bonds were consumed from off his hands. 15 And he found the jaw-bone of an ass that had been cast away, and he put forth his hand and took it, and amote with it a thousand men. 16 And Sampson said, With the jaw-bone of an ass have I utterly destroyed them, for with the jaw-bone of an ass have I smitten a thousand men.

4 And it came to pass when he ceased speaking, that he cast the jaw-bone out of his hand, and called that place the Lifting of the jaw-bone.

5 And he was very thirsty, and wept before the Lord, and said, Thou hast been well pleased to grant this great deliverance by the hand of thy servant, and now shalt I die for thirst, and fall into the hand of the uncircumcised?

6 And God broke open a hollow place in the jaw, and there came thence water, and he drank; and his spirit returned and he revived: therefore the name of the fountain was called 'The well of the invoker,' which is in Lechi, until this day.

7 And he judged Israel in the days of the Philistines twenty years.

8 And Sampson went to Gaza, and saw there a harlot, and went in to her. 9 And it was reported to the Gazites, saying, Sampson is come hither: and they compassed him and laid wait for him all night in the gate of the city, and they were quiet all the night, saying, Let us wait till the dawn appear, and we will slay him. 10 And Sampson avel till midnight, and rose up at midnight, and took hold of the doors of the gate of the city with the two posts, and lifted them up with the bar, and laid them on his shoulders, and he went up to the top of the mountain that is before Chebron, and laid them there.

11 And it came to pass after this that he loved a woman in 2 Alsorech, and her name was Dalida. 12 And the princes of the Philistines came up to her, and said to her, Béguile him, and see wherein his great strength is, and wherewith we shall prevail against him, and bind him to humble him; and we will give thee 5 each ten thousand pieces of silver.

13 And Dalida said to Sampson, Tell me, I pray thee, wherein is thy great strength, and wherewith thou shalt be bound that they mayest not break thee. 14 And Sampson said to her, If they bind me with seven moist cords that have not been spoiled, then shall I be weak and be as one of ordinary men.

15 And the princes of the Philistines brought to her seven moist cords that had not been spoiled, and she bound him with them. 16 And the lords sat in wait remained with her in the chamber; and she said to him, The Philistines are upon thee, Sampson: and he broke the cords as if any one should break a thread of tow when it has touched the fire, and his strength was not known.

17 And Dalida said to Sampson, Behold, thou hast cheated me, and told me lies: now then tell me wherewith thou shalt be bound. 18 And he said to her, If they should bind me fast with new ropes with which work has not been done, then shall I be weak, and shall be as another man. 9 And Dalida took new ropes, and bound him with them, and the liers in wait came out of the chamber, and she said, The Philistines are upon thee, Sampson; and he broke them off his arms like a thread.

10 And Dalida said to Sampson, Behold, thou hast deceived me, and told me lies; tell me, how much money art thou to be bound with them with? And thou mayest be bound; and he said to her, If thou shouldst weave the seven locks of my head with the web, and shouldst fasten them with the pin into the wall, then shall I be weak as another man. 11 And it came to pass when he was asleep, that Dalida took the seven locks of his head, and wove them with the web, and fastened them with the pin into the wall, and she said, The Philistines are upon thee, Sampson; and he awoke out of his sleep, and carried away the pin of the web out of the wall.

12 And Dalida said to Sampson, How sayest thou, I love thee, when thy heart is not with me? this third time thou hast deceived me, and hast not told me wherein is thy great strength. 13 And she pressed him sore with her words continually, and straitened him, that his spirit failed almost to death. Then he told her all his heart, and said to her, A razor hast not come upon my head, because I have been a holy one of God from my mother's womb; if then I should be shaven, my strength will depart from me, and I shall be weak, and I shall be as all other men.

14 And Dalida saw that he told her all his heart, and she sent and called the princes of the Philistines, saying, Come up yet this once; for he has told me all his heart. And the chiefs of the Philistines went up to her, and brought the money in their hands. 15 And Dalida made Sampson sleep upon her knees; and she called a man, and he shaved the seven locks of his head, and she began to humble him, and his strength departed from him. 16 And Dalida said, The Philistines are upon thee, Sampson; and he awoke out of his sleep, and said, I will go out as at former times, and shake myself; and he knew not that the Lord was departed from him. 17 And the chiefs of the Philistines met to offer a great sacrifice to their god Dagon, and to make merriment; and they said, God has given into our hand our enemy Sampson. 18 And the people saw him, and sang praises to their god; for our god, said they, has delivered into our hand our enemy, who wasted our land, and who multiplied our slain. 19 And when their heart was merry, then they made merry; and they said, May the spirits of Sampson of the prison-house, and let him play before us: and they called Sampson out of the prison-house, and he played before them; and they smote him with the palms of their hands, and he played therebefore them with might and strength.

19 And Dalida, knowing that he was very strong, said, When my master comes up, and when he is weary, and I have put him to sleep there, and I have fastened him, and I have put the pin into the wall, then shall I say to him,

19 And Dalida, knowing that he was very strong, said, When my master comes up, and when he is weary, and I have put him to sleep there, and I have fastened him, and I have put the pin into the wall, then shall I say to him, and set him between the pillars. 28 And Sampson said to the young man that held his hand, Suffer me to feel the pillars on which the house rests, and I will stay myself upon them. 29 And the house was full of men and women, and there were all the chiefs of the Philistines, and on the roof were about three thousand men and women looking at the sports of Sampson.

30 And Sampson went before the Lord, and said, O Lord, my Lord, remember me, I pray thee, and strengthen me, O God, yet this once, and I will require one recompense of the Philistines, for my eyes see them upon me. 31 And the house was full of men and women, and there were all the chiefs of the Philistines, and on the roof were about three thousand men and women looking at the sports of Sampson.

And there was a man of mount Ephraim, and his name was Michaias. 2 And he said to his mother, The eleven hundred pieces of silver which thou didst keep to thyself, and about which thou cursedst me, and spakest of in my ears, behold, the silver is with me; I took it: and his mother said, Blessed be the Lord my son the Lord. 3 And he restored the eleven hundred pieces of silver to his mother; and his mother said, I had wholly consecrated the money to the Lord out of my hand for my son, to make a graven and a molten image, and now I will restore it to thee. 4 But he returned the silver to his mother; and his mother took two hundred pieces of silver, and gave them to a silversmith, and he made it a graven and a molten image; and it was in the house of Michaias.

5 And the house of Michaias was to him the house of God, and he made an ephod and teraphim, and he consecrated one of his sons, and he became to him a priest.

6 And in those days there was no king in Israel; every man did that which was right in his own eyes. 7 And there was a young man in Bethlehem of the tribe of Judah, and he was a Levite, and he was sojourning there. 8 And the man departed from Bethlehem the city of Judah to sojourn in wherever place he might find; and he came as far as Mount Ephraim, and to the house of Michaias to accomplish his journey. 9 And Michaias said to him, Whence comest thou? and he said to him, I am a son of Bethlehem Judah, and I go to sojourn in any place I may find. 10 And Michaias said to him, Dwell with me, and be to me a father and a priest; and I will give thee ten pieces of silver by the year, and a change of raiment, and thy living. 11 And the Levite went and began to dwell with the man; and the young man was to him as one of his sons. And Michaias consecrated the Levite, and he became to him a priest, and he was in the house of Michaias. And Michaias said, Now I know that the Lord will do me good; because a Levite has become my priest.

In those days there was no king in Israel; and in those days the tribe of Dan sought for itself an inheritance to inhabit, because no inheritance had fallen to it until that day in the midst of the tribes of the children of Israel. And the sons of Dan sent from their family to survey a land, from Samaria to Esthbaal, to spy out the land and to search it; and they said to him, Go and search out the land. And they came as far as the mount of Ephraim to the house of Michaias and they lodged there, in the house of Michaias, and they recognised the voice of the young man the Levite, and turned in thither; and said to him, Who brought thee in hither? and what dost thou in this place? and what hast thou here? And he said to them, Thus and thus did Michaias to me, and he hired me, and I became his priest. And they said to him, Enquire now of God, and we shall know whether our way will prosper, on which we are going. And the priest said to them, Go in peace; your way in which ye go, is before the Lord.

And the five men went on, and came to Laisa; and they saw the people in the midst of it dwelling securely, at ease as is the manner of the Sidonians, and there is no one perverting or shaming a matter in the land, no heir extorting treasures; and they are far from the Sidonians, and they have no intercourse with any one. And the five men came to their brethren to Saras and Estbaal, and said to their brethren, Why sit ye here idle? And they said, Arise, and let us go up against them, for we have seen the land, and, behold, it is very good, yet ye are still; delay not to go, and to enter in to possess the land. And they consented, and they came upon a people secure, and the land is extensive, for God has given it into your hand; a place where there is no want of anything that the earth affords.

And there departed thence of the families of Dan, from Saras and from Estbaal, six hundred men, girded with weapons of war. And they went up, and encamped in Cariathiarim in Juda; therefore it was called in that place the camp of Dan, until this day: behold, it is behind Cariathiarim.

And they went on thence to the mount of Ephraim, and came to the house of Michaias. And the five men who went to spy out the land of Laisa answered, and said to their brethren, Ye know that there is in this place an opal, and the repentin, and a graven and a molten image; and now consider what ye shall do. And they turned aside there, and went into the house of the young man, the Levite, even into the house of Michaias, and asked him how he was. And the six hundred men of the sons of Dan who were girded with their weapons of her to himself; and he had his young man with him, and a pair of asses; and she brought him into the house of her father; and the father of the damsel saw him, and was pleased to meet him. And his father-in-law, the father of the damsel, constrained him, and he stood with him for three days; and they ate and drank, and lodged there. And it came to pass on the fourth day that they rose early, and he stood up to depart; and he said to the damsel's father, Strengthen thy heart with a morsel of bread, and afterwards ye shall go. So they two sat down together and ate and drank; and the father of the damsel said to her husband, Tarry now the night, and let thy heart be merry. And the man rose up to depart; but his father-in-law constrained him, and he stood and lodged there.

And he rose early in the morning on the fifth day to depart; and the father of the damsel said, Strengthen now thine heart, and quity thyself as a soldier till the day declines; and the two ate. And the man rose up to depart, and his young man; but his father-in-law the father of the damsel said to him, Behold now, the day has declined toward evening; lodge here, and let thy heart rejoice; and ye shall rise early to-morrow for your journey, and thou shalt go to thy habitations.

But the man would not lodge there, but he arose and went his way, and came to the part opposite Jebus, (this is Jerusalem,) and there was with him a pair of asses saddled, and his concubine was with him.

And they came as far as Jebus; and the day had far advanced, and the young man said to his master, Come, I pray thee, and let us turn aside to this city the Jebusites, and let us lodge in it. And his master said to him, We will not turn aside to a strange city, where there is not one of the children of Israel, but we will pass on as far as Gaba. And he said to his young man, Come, and let us draw nigh to one of the places of lodging, lodge there, or Rama. And they passed by and went on, and the sun went down upon them near to Gaba, which is in Benjamin. And they turned aside thence to go in to lodge in Gaba; and they went in, and sat down in the street of the city, and there was no one who conducted them into a house to lodge.

And behold, an old man came out of the field from his work in the evening; and the man was of mount Ephraim, and he sojourned in Gaba, and the men of the place were sons of Benjamin. And he lifted up his eyes, and saw a traveller in the street of the city; and the old man said to him, Whither goest thou, and whither dost thou come? And he said to him, We are passing by from Bethlehem Judah to the sides of mount Ephraim: I am from thence, and I went as far as Bethlehem Judah, and I am going home, and there is no man to take me into his house. Yet is there straw and food for our asses, and bread and wine for me and my handmaid and the young man with thy servants: there is no want of any,
And the old man said, Peace be to thee; only be every want of thine upon me, only do this thing, and means lodge in the street. 21 And he brought him into his house, and made room for his asses; and they washed their feet, and ate and drank.

22 And they were comforting their heart when, behold, the men of the city, sons of transgressors, compassed the house, knocking at the door: and they spoke to the old man the owner of the house, saying, Bring out the man who came into thy house, that we may know him. 23 And the master of the house came out to them, and said, Nay, brethren, let us not do evil. 24 But the men would not consent to hearken to him; so the man laid hold of his concubine, and brought her out to them. 25 And they knew her, and abused her all night till the morning, and let her go when the morning dawned. 26 And the woman came toward morning, and fell down at the door of the house, where her husband was, until it was light. 27 And her husband rose up in the morning, and opened the doors of the house, and went forth to go on his journey; and, behold, the woman his concubine had fallen down by the doors of the house, and her hands were on the threshold. 28 And he said to her, Rise, and let us go; and she answered not, for she was dead: and he took her upon his ass, and went to his place.

29 And he took his sword, and laid hold of his concubine, and divided her into twelve parts, and sent them to every coast of Israel. 30 And it was so, that everyone who saw it said, Surely the punishment of Sinners is mighty. 31 And all the children of Israel went out, and all the congregation was gathered as one man, from Dan even to Bersabee, and in the land of Galad, to the Lord at Massepa. 32 And all the tribes of Israel stood before the Lord in the assembly of the people of God, four hundred thousand footmen that drew sword. 33 And the children of Benjamin heard that the children of Israel were gone up to Massepa: and the children of Israel came and said, Tell us, where did this wickedness take place? 34 And the Levite, the husband of the woman that was slain, answered and said, I and my concubine went to Gabaa of Benjamin to lodge. 35 And the men of Gabaa rose up against me, and compassed the house by night against me; they wished to slay me, and they have humbled my concubine, and she is dead. 36 And I laid hold of my concubine, and divided her in pieces, and sent the parts into every coast of the inheritance of the children of Israel; for they have wrought lewdness and abomination in Israel. 7 Behold, all ye children of Israel; and consider and take counsel here among yourselves. 8 And all the people rose up as one man, saying, No one of us shall return to his tent, and no one of us shall return to his house. 9 And now this is the thing which shall be done in Gabaa; we will go up against it by lot. Moreover we will take ten men for a hundred, and a hundred for a thousand, and a man for a thousand, and a thousand for ten thousand, to take provision, to cause them to come to Gabaa of Benjamin, to do to it according to all the abomination, which they wrought in Israel. 11 And all the men of Israel were gathered to the city as one man.

And the tribes of Israel sent men through the whole tribe of Benjamin, saying, What is this wickedness that has been wrought among you? 12 Now then give up the men the sons of transgressors that are in Gabaa, and we will put them to death, and purge out wickedness from Israel: but the children of Benjamin counted not to hearken to the voice of their brethren the children of Israel. 14 And the children of Benjamin were gathered from their cities to Gabaa, to go forth to fight with the children of Israel. 15 And the children of Benjamin from their cities were numbered in that day, twenty-three thousand, every man drawing a sword, besides the inhabitants of Gabaa, who were numbered seven hundred chosen men of all the people, able to use both hands alike; all these could sling with stones at a hair, and not miss. 17 And the men of Israel, exclusive of Benjamin, were numbered four hundred thousand men who drew sword; all these were men of war. 18 And they arose and went up to Bethel, and enquired of God; and the children of Israel said, Who shall go up for us first to fight with the children of Benjamin? And the Lord said, Juda shall go up first as leader. 19 And the children of Israel rose up in the morning, and encamped against Gabaa. 20 And they went out, all the men of Israel, to fight with Benjamin, and engaged with them at Gabaa. 21 And the sons of Benjamin went forth from Gabaa, and they destroyed in Israel on that day two and twenty thousand men down to the ground. 22 And the men of Israel strengthened themselves, and again engaged in battle in the place where they had engaged on the first day. 23 And the children of Israel went up, and went before the Lord till evening, and enquired of the Lord, saying, Shall we again draw near to battle with our brethren the children of Benjamin? and the Lord said, Go up against them. 24 And the children of Israel advanced against the children of Benjamin on the second day. And the children of Benjamin went forth to meet them from Gabaa on the second day, and

And the children of Israel went up against the children of Benjamin on the third day, and arrayed themselves against Geba as before.

And the children of Benjamin went out to meet the people, and they were all drawn out of the city, and began to smite and slay the people as before in the roads, whereof one went up to Bethel, and one to Gibeah in the field, about thirty men before the Lord.

And the children of Benjamin said, They fall before us as at the first: but the children of Israel said, Let us flee, and draw them out of the city into the roads; and they did so.

And all the men rose up out of their places, and engaged in Baal Thamar; and the liers in wait of Israel advanced from their place from Michmas.

And there came water against Gibeah toward ten thousand chosen men out of all Israel; and the fight was severe; and they knew not that evil was coming upon them.

And the Lord smote Benjamin before the children of Israel; and the children of Israel destroyed of Benjamin in that day a hundred and twenty-five thousand men: all these died children of Benjamin; and the children of Benjamin saw that they were smitten; and the men of Israel gave place to Benjamin, because they trusted in the ambush which they had prepared against Gibaa.

And when they retreated, then the liers in wait rose up, and they moved toward Gibaa, and the whole ambush came forth, and they smote the city with the edge of the sword.

And the children of Israel had a signal of battle with the liers in wait, that they should send up a signal of smoke from the city.

And the children of Israel saw that the liers in wait had seized Gibaa, and they stood in line of battle; and Benjamin began to smite down five wounded ones among the men of Israel about thirty men; for they said, Surely they fall again before us, as in the first battle.

And the signal went up increasingly over the city as a pillar of smoke; and Benjamin looked behind him, and beheld the destruction of the city went up to heaven.

And the men of Israel turned back, and the men of Benjamin hasted, because they destroyed the children of Israel yet further eighteen thousand men down to the ground; all these drew sword.

And the children of Israel and all the people went up, and came to Bethel; and they wept, and sat there before the Lord; and they fasted on that day until evening, and offered whole-burnt-offerings and perfect sacrifices, before the Lord, for the ark of the Lord God was there in those days; and Phinees the son of Eleazar the son of Aaron took it before in those days; and the children of Israel enquired of the Lord, saying, Shall we yet again go forth to fight with our brethren the sons of Benjamin? and the Lord said, Go up, to-morrow I will give them into your hands.

saw that evil: had come upon them. 43 And they turned to the way of the wilderness from before the children of Israel, and fled: but the battle overtook them, and they from the cities destroyed them in the midst of them.

45 And they cut down Benjamin, and pursued him from Nau closely till they came opposite Gaba on the east. 44 And there fell of Benjamin eighteen thousand men: all these were men of might. 45 And the rest turned, and fled to the wilderness to the rock of Remmon; and the children of Israel picked off of them five thousand men; and the children of Israel went down after them as far as Gedan, and they smote of them two thousand men.

And all that fell of Benjamin were twenty-five thousand men that drew sword in that day: all these were men of might. 47 And the rest turned, and fled to the wilderness to the rock of Remmon, even six hundred men; and they sojourned four months in the rock of Remmon.

And the children of Israel returned to the children of Benjamin, and smote them with the edge of the sword from Metha, even to the cattle, and every thing that was found in all the cities: and they burnt with fire the cities they found.

Now the children of Israel swore in Massepath, saying, No man of us shall give his daughter to Benjamin for a wife. 2 And the people came to Bethel, and sat there until evening before God: and they lifted up their voice and wept with a great weeping; 3 and said, Wherefore, O Lord God of Israel, has this come to pass, that to-day one tribe should be counted as missing from Israel? 4 And it came to pass on the morrow that the people rose up early, and built there an altar, and offered upon it whole-burnt-offerings and peace-offerings.

And the children of Israel said, Who of all the tribes of Israel, went not up in the congregation to the Lord? for there was a great oath concerning those who went not up to the Lord to Massepath, saying, He shall surely be put to death.

And the children of Israel relented toward Benjamin their brother, and said, To-day one tribe is cut off from Israel. 7 What shall we do for the wives for the rest that remain? whereas we have sworn by the Lord, not to give them of our daughters for wives. 8 And they said, What one man is there of the tribes of Israel, who went not up to the Lord to Massepath? and, behold, no man came to the camp from Jab est. 9 And the people were numbered, and there was not there a man from the inhabitants of Jab es. 10 And the congregation sent thither twelve thousand men of the strongest, and charged them, saying, Go ye and smite the inhabitants of Jab est with the edge of the sword. 11 And this shall ye do: every male and every woman that has known the lying with man ye shall devote to destruction, but the virgins ye shall save alive: and they did so.

12 And they found among the inhabitants of Jabis Galaad four hundred young virgins, who had not known man by lying with him; and they brought them to Selom in the land of Chanaan.

13 And all the congregation sent and spoke to the children of Benjamin in the rock Rammon, and invited them to make peace.

14 And Benjamin returned to the children of Israel, at that time, and the children of Israel gave them the women whom they had saved alive of the daughters of Jabis Galaad: and they were content.

15 And the people repented for Benjamin, because the Lord had made a breach in the tribes of Israel.

16 And the elders of the congregation said, What shall we do for wives for them that remain? for the women have been destroyed out of Benjamin. 17 And they said, There must be an inheritance of them that are escaped of Benjamin; and so a tribe shall not be destroyed out of Israel. 18 For we shall not be able to give them wives of our daughters, because we are few among the children of Israel, saying, Cursed is he that gives a wife to Benjamin.

19 And they said, Lo! now there is a feast of the Lord from year to year in Selom, which is on the north of Bethel, eastward on the way that goes up from Bethel to Sychem, and from the south of Lebona.

20 And they charged the children of Benjamin, saying, Go and lie in wait in the vineyards; and ye shall see; and lo! if there come out the daughters of the inhabitants of Selom to dance in dances, then shall ye go out of the vineyards and seize for yourselves every man a wife of the daughters of Selom, and go ye into the land of Benjamin.

21 And it shall come to pass, when their fathers or their brethren come to dispute with us, that we will say to them, Grant them freely to us, for we have not taken every man his wife in the battle: because ye did not give to them according to the occasion, ye transgressed.

22 And the children of Benjamin did so; and they took wives according to their number from the dancers whom they seized: and they went and returned to their inheritance, and built the cities, and dwelt in them.

23 And the children of Israel went thence at that time every man to his tribe and his kindred; and they went thence every man to his inheritance.

24 And in those days there was no king in Israel; every man did that which was right in his own sight.
And it came to pass when the judges ruled, that there was a famine in the land: and a man went from Bethlehu Judah to sojourn in the land of Moab, he, and his wife, and his two sons. 2 And the man's name was Elimelech, and his wife's name Noemim, and the names of his two sons Maalon and Chenioth, Ephrathites of Bethlem of Judah:
and they came to the land of Moab, and were there.

3 And Elimelech the husband of Noemim died; and she was left, and her two sons.
4 And they took to themselves wives, women of Moab; the name of the one was Orpha, and the name of the second Ruth; and they dwelt there about ten years. 5 And both Maalon and Chenioth died also; and the woman was left of her husband and her two sons.

6 And she rose up and her two daughters-in-law, and they returned out of the country of Moab, for she heard in the country of Moab that the Lord had visited his people to give them bread. 7 And she went forth out of the place where she was, and her two daughters-in-law with her; and they went by the way to return to the land of Juda.

8 And Noemim said to her daughters-in-law, Go now, return each to the house of her mother; the Lord deal mercifully with you, as ye have dealt with the dead, and with me. 9 The Lord grant you that ye may find rest each of you in the house of her husband: and she kissed them; and they lifted up their voice, and wept. 10 And they said to her, We will return with thee to thy people.

11 And Noemim said, Return now, my daughters; why do ye go with me? have I yet sons in my womb to be your husbands? 12 Turn now, my daughters, for I am too old to be married: for I said, Suppose I were married, and should bear sons; 13 would ye wait for them till they should be grown? or would ye refrain from being married for their sakes? Not so, my daughters; for I am grieved for you, that the hand of the Lord has gone forth against me. 14 And they lifted up their voice, and wept again; and Orpha kissed her mother-in-law and returned to her people; but Ruth followed her.

And Noemin said to Ruth, Benoid, thy sister-in-law has returned to her people and to her gods; turn now thou also and come to the

And Ruth said, Intreat me not to leave thee, or to return from following thee; for whithersoever thou goest, I will go, and wheresoever thou lodgest, I will lodge; thy people shall be my people, and thy God my God.

And Noemin seeing that she was determined to go with her, ceased to speak to her any more.

And they went both of them until they came to Bethleem: and it came to pass, when they arrived at Bethleem, that all the city ran with them, and they said, Is this Noemin? And she said to them, Nay, do not call me Noemin; call me 'Bitter,' for the Mighty One has dealt very bitterly with me. I went out full, and the Lord has brought me back empty; and why call ye me Noemin, whereas the Lord has humbled me, and the Mighty One has afflicted me?

So Noemin and Ruth the Moabitess, her daughter-in-law, returned from the country of Moab; and they arrived at Bethleem in the beginning of barley harvest.

And Noemin had a friend an acquaintance of her husband, and the man was a mighty man of the kindred of Elimelech, and his name was Booz.

And Ruth the Moabitess said to Noemin, Let me go now to the field, and I will glean among the ears behind the reapers; and if thou shalt bountifully deal with me, come and glean in the field behind the reapers; and she happened by chance to come on a portion of the land of Booz, of the kindred of Elimelech.

And, behold, Booz came from Bethleem, and said to the reapers, The Lord be with you.

And Booz said to his servant who was set over the reapers, Whose is this damsel? And his servant who was set over the reapers answered and said, It is the Moabitish damsel who returned with Noemin out of the land of Moab.

And she said, I pray you, let me glean and gather among the sheaves after the reapers: and she came and stood from morning till evening, and rested not even a little in the field.

And Booz said to Ruth, Hast thou not heard, my daughter? go not to glean in another field; and depart not thou hence, join thyself here with my damsels.

Let thine eyes be on the field where my men shall reap, and thou shalt go after them: behold, I have charged the young men not to touch thee; and when thou shalt thirst, then thou shalt go to the vessels, and drink of that which the young men shall have drawn.

And she fell upon her face, and did reverence to the ground, and said to him, How is it that I have found grace in thine eyes, that thou shouldst take notice of me, whereas I am a stranger?

And Booz answered and said to her, It * i.e. wife of a husband's brother: no English word exactly answers to this.

has fully been told me how thou hast dealt with thy mother-in-law after the death of thy husband; and how thou didst leave thy father and thy mother, and the land of thy birth, and camest to a people whom thou knewest not, before. 2 The Lord recompense the thy work: may a full reward be given thee of the Lord God of Israel, to whom thou hast come to trust under his wings. 3 And she said, Let me find grace in thy sight, my lord, be cause of the Lord, that I may speak a word in thy ear. 4 And Booz answered and said, "How dost thou know that I speak to thee?" And she answered and said, "Inasmuch as I am thine handmaid, why dost thou ask this thing of me?" 5 And he said, "Hearken to me, my daughter. 6 When thou goest again from this day forward, thou shalt not go other way to the right hand or to the left; and the man that meeteth thee shall be the father of thy husband, according to the word of the Lord. 7 And now make a vow to the Lord, 'I will do this thing.' And she said, 'I will do this thing.' 8 And she rose up at the dawning of the day, and came to Booz the field of barley, and said, 'I am come to glean in thine harvest.' And he said, 'Hast thou not heard, my maid? 9 And she said, 'Yea, I have heard it, from this time mine heartcried, and I was very sorry for my mother-in-law. 10 Now therefore, when I know that thou wilt do this thing this day, and that thou wouldest shew kindness to me, because thou didst shew kindness to the mother-in-law of my husband, thy friend, make me light of the eye.' 11 And Booz answered, 'She shall go beside thee this day, until thou fins the meal, and shalt afterward go on thine way.' And Booz said to his young men that were with him, 'Now let the young man follow his master, for what the young man shall see, that thou shalt do. 12 For he shall go down beside me, and he shall come in to my bed; and if it be to be a son to me, then well; but if not, then thou shalt let the young man go on his way.' 13 So Ruth the Moabitess went, and she followed close behind Booz; and he lay until the morning, and rose early. 14 And when Booz had washed himself, and had poured out wine, and went into the bed chamber, Ruth the Moabitess hadnot left off his feet. 15 And Booz said to her, 'Maiden, in whose house dost thou lodge? And she said, 'In the house of Loopham.' 16 And he said to her, 'Where is he and all that thou hast seen of his household?' And she said, 'All was seen after thee hast had grace, and found grace in the eyes of the father of this young man.' 17 And Booz answered and said, 'All that thou hast seen of him shall I do for him, and more besides; for he is a kinsman.' 18 And Booz said to Ruth, 'Wilt thou eat, and shalt thou go from hence?' And she said, 'I will eat a morsel of bread, and after that will I go to my place.' 19 And he said to her, 'Eat, and delight thy heart, and eat abundantly.' 20 And she sat beside the reapers, and saw how Booz translated, and rose up early in the morn- ing, and left off the work. 21 Then Rehoboam came from Ephrath, and sat among the reapers; 22 and Ruth said, 'Let me find grace in thy sight, my lord, and let me gather a handful of the standing grain in the field when thouwert after it.' 23 And he answered and said to her, 'Thou mayst gather till thou fin- this thine afternoon; and thou shalt come and eat with my servants.' 24 And she went to the field, and gathered grain. And it came to pass, at evening, that her manager of the field came near, and said, 'What is this thou doest here, and why art thou not with thy young women?' 25 And she said, 'How dost thou know that I am not?' And he said, 'All the women in the land are not as thou art.' 26 Then the manager of the field said, 'Thou art not less than the first woman; and see thou art not more than the last woman.' 27 And Ruth said, 'Let mine head be sprinkled with water, and let mine hands be dipped in wine, when I shall find grace in thine eyes.' And he answered and said to her, 'Go, then.' 28 And she went, and gathered barley together, and fell within the end of the barley harvest, and gathered no more; but Booz commanded the young men who were with him, saying, 'Let the young man follow Ruth, and cause her to glean in the rear of you.' 29 And Ruth gleaned in the field of Booz, and gathered barley together, and it was about an ephah, and she took it up. And she went into the house of Booz, and he said, 'What hast thou done, and wherein hast thou laboured, and is not this enough for thee?' 30 And she answered and said, 'What have I done, that thou shouldst lower thy eyes upon such a wretched one as I am? And she laid hold of Booz's feet, and kissed his feet, and said, 'Upon the head of Booz shall be mercy, from the Lord thy God; and upon the hands of Booz thy servant shall not the dew of heaven fall nor the early rain.' 31 And he said to her, 'Let it be so; I will give thee an heritage among the brethren of Naomi; go to the woman, and she shall show thee what to do.' 32 Then Booz went to the gate of the city, and sat there. And, lo, Ruth the Moabitess came to the gate with a cluster of ears on her head. And he said, 'What see I today, seeing the eunuch of Naomi, and Ruth the Moabitess, come to the gate?' 33 And Naomi said to her daughter-in-law, 'Do not I know that he will comfort and enrich thee? Ruth, the young widow of Booz the Moabitess, came to the gate, and said, 'Booz, my kinsman, I pray thee, hear me. 34 And Naomi said to her daughter-in-law, 'Hast thou not seen, my son, how the Lord hath comforted his widow, and how he giveth thee a home of his kinsman?' 35 And Ruth said, 'He answered me kindly, and he laid his hands upon me.' 36 Then Booz answered and said to Naomi, 'Hast thou not known, my beloved, of all that the young man doeth to his kinsman Booz, and what his hands have done to thee this day from the barley harvest until now?' 37 Then Naomi said to her daughter-in-law, 'Go to my son, to Booz the kinsman of my son-in-law.' And she went to Booz, who was sitting in the gate. And she said, 'Let me, I pray thee, fall on thy neck, my kinsman, and let me be gathered to thy bones.' 38 And he answered, 'Why askest thou this of me today? Am I not thy father-in-law?' 39 And she said, 'So he answered, and said, 'Hast thou not known?' And she said, 'No.' 40 And Booz said, 'Then hear me, my daughter. 41 Behold, thou hast kept all that thou hast promised to do, and hast not forsaken the army of the Lord, nor forsaken the house of my father-in-law. 42 And when Ruth the Moabitess came forth from the field, Booz the kinsman of Naomi took her, and she became his wife. And Booz hiss son was Obed. And he made Naomi fruitful, and she became the nurse of her son. 43 And these are the words of those who were of the genealogy of Obed: they were the sons of Obed: all the days of the age of Obed were seven and thirty years. 44 And he took unto him another wife, and her name was Chilion. And after she had brought forth, she died. 45 And she conceived, and bare Jeduthun. And he made Naomi fruitful again, and she became the nurse of her son. 46 And these are the words of those who were of the genealogy of Jeduthun: they were the sons of Jeduthun: all the days of the age of Jeduthun were fifty and five years. 47 And these are the words of those who were of the genealogy of Jeduthun: they were the sons of Jeduthun: all the days of the age of Jeduthun were fifty and five years. 48 Then David said, 'Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, who did keep his oath to David, saying, He will not fail to do well to his seed so long as the sun endureth. 49 For the Lord has prepared me a portion in thy seed.' And when David had caused Solomon to reign over Israel, he gave him all his chariots and his concubines, and gave his daughter to Pharaoh's son. 50 And the Lord was with Solomon, and he prospered greatly in all his ways, and sat on the throne of his father David. And the Lord made Israel to rest all the days of Solomon. And Solomon ruled over all the kingdoms from the river unto the land of the Philistines, and unto the border of Egypt. And Solomon had four thousand stalls of horses, and chariots, and horsemen he had four hundred. 51 And the king made silver as abundant as clay, and so much gold as is not weighed; 52 that Solomon had ships of Tarshish come to Jerusalem once every three years, bringing gold, and very precious spices, and ivory, and apes, and apes. And the king made ships for Hiram of Tyre: and he sent maritime men of Ezion-geber, which is over Jordan, in the land of Edom. And they went to Ophir, and brought back.prize of gold, and brought it to king Solomon.

6 And Ruth went down to the threshing-floor, and did according to all that her mother-in-law enjoined her. 7 And Booz ate and drank, and his heart was glad, and he came to lie down by the side of the heap of corn; and she came secretly, and lifted up the covering of his feet. 8 And it came to pass at midnight that the man was amazed, and troubled, and a woman lay at his feet. 9 And he said, Who art thou? and she said, I am thine handmaid Ruth; spread therefore thy skirt over thine handmaid, for thou art a near relation.

10 And Booz said, Blessed be thou of the Lord God, my daughter, for thou hast made thy latter kindness greater than the former. In that thou followest not after young men, whether poor or rich. 11 And now fear not, my daughter, whatever thou shalt say I will do to thee; for all the tribe of my people knows that thou art a virtuous woman. 12 And now I am truly akin to thee; nevertheless there is a kinsman nearer than I. 13 Lodge here for the night, and it shall be in the morning, if he will do the part thee well—let him do it; but if he will not do the part of a kinsman to thee, I will do the kinsman's part to thee, as the Lord lives; lie down till the morning.

14 And she lay at his feet until the morning; and she rose up before a man could know his neighbour; and Booz said, Let it not be known that a woman came into the floor.

15 And he said to her, Bring the apron that is upon thee: and she held it, and he measured six measures of barley, and put them upon her, and she went into the city.

16 And Ruth went in to her mother-in-law, and she said to her, My daughter! and Ruth told her all that the man had done to her. And she said to her, He gave me these six measures of barley, for he said to me, Go, sit down here, yea such a one; and he turned aside and sat down. 17 And Booz took ten men of the elders of the city, and said, Sit ye here; and they sat down.

18 And Booz said to the relative, The matter regards the portion of the field which was our brother Elimelech's which was given to Noemin, now returning out of the land of Moab; 19 and I said, I will sinnom thee, saying, by a kinsman to thee that sit, and before the elders of my people: if thou wilt redeem it, redeem it, but if thou wilt not redeem it, tell me, and I shall know; for there is no one beside thee to do the office of a kinsman, and I am after thee: and he said, I am here; I will redeem it. And Booz said, In the day of thy buying the field of the hand of Noeamin and of Ruth... the Monibites the wife of the deceased, thou must also buy her, so as to raise up the name of the dead upon his inheritance. 6 And the kinsman said, I shall not be able to redeem it for myself; lest I mar my own inheritance: do thou redeem my right for thyself, for I shall not be able to redeem it.

7 And this was in former time the ordinance in Israel for redemption, and for a bargain, to confirm every word: A man loosed his shoe, and gave it to his neighbour that redeemed his right; and this was a testimony in Israel. 8 And the kinsman said to Booz, Buy my right for thyself: and he took off his shoe and gave it to him.

9 And Booz said to the elders and to all the people, Ye are this day witnesses, that I have bought all that was Elimelech's, and all that that belonging to Chelaion and Naaman, of the hand of Noemin. 10 Moreover I have bought for myself a wife Ruth the Moabitess, the wife of Mahlon, to raise up the name of the dead upon his inheritance; so that the name of the dead shall not be destroyed from among his brethren, and from the tribe of his people: ye are this day witnesses.

11 And all the people who were in the gate said, We are witnesses: and the elders said, The Lord hath made thy wife which goeth into thy house, as Rachel and as Leah, who both together built the house of Israel, and wrought mightily in Ephratha, and there shall be a name to thee in Bethleem. 12 And let thy house be as the house of Phares, whom Tamar bore to Judah, of the seed which the Lord shall give thee of this handmaid.

13 And Booz took Ruth, and she became his wife, and he went in to her; and the Lord gave her conception, and she bore a son. 14 And the women said to Noemin, Blessed is the Lord, who has not suffered a redeemer to fail thee this day, even to make thy name famous in Israel. 15 And he shall be to thee a restorer of thy soul, and one to cherish thy old age; for thy daughter-in-law, who has loved thee, who is better to thee than seven sons, has born him. 16 And Noemin took the child and laid it in her bosom, and became a nurse to it.

17 And the neighbours gave it a name, saying, A son has been born to Noemin; and they called his name Obed; this is the father of Jesse the father of David. 18 And these are the generations of Phares: Phares begot Esrom: 19 Esrom begot Aram; and Aram begot Aminadab. 20 And Aminadab begot Naasson: and Naasson begot salmon. 21 And Salmon begot Booz; and Booz begot Obed. 22 And Obed begot Jesse: and Jesse begot David.

There was a man of Armathaim Siphah, of mount Ephraim, and his name was Helkana, a son of Jeremeel the son of Elias the son of Thoke, in Nasib Ephraim. 2 And he had two wives; the name of the one was Anna, and the name of the second Phennana. And Phennana had children, but Anna had no child.

3 And the man went up β from year to year from his city, from Armathaim, to worship and sacrifice to the Lord God of Sabaoth at Selom: and there were Hel in and his two sons Ophni and Eleææ, the priests of the Lord.

4 And the day came, and Helkana sacrificed, and gave portions to his wife Phennana and her children. 5 And to Anna he gave a prime portion, because she had no child, only Helkana loved Anna more than the other; but the Lord had closed her womb. 6 For the Lord gave her no child in her affliction, and according to the despondency of her affliction; and she was dispirited on this account, that the Lord shut up her womb so as not to give her a child.

7 So she did year by year, in going up to the house of the Lord; and she was dispirited, and wept, and did not eat.

8 And Helkana her husband said to her, Anna: and she said to him, Here am I, my lord: and he said to her, What ails thee that thou weepest? and why dost thou not eat? and why doth thy heart smite thee? 9 Am I not better to thee than ten children?

10 And Anna rose up after they had eaten in Selom, and stood before the Lord: and Hel the priest was on a seat by the δ threshold of the temple of the Lord.

11 And she was very much grieved in spirit, and prayed to the Lord, and wept abundantly. 12 And she vowed a vow to the Lord, saying, O Lord God of Sabaoth, if thou wilt indeed look upon the humiliation of thine handmaid, and remember me, and give to thine handmaid a man-child, then will I indeed dedicate him θ to thee till the day of his death; and he shall drink no wine nor strong drink, and no razor shall come upon his head.

13 And it came to pass, while she was long praying before the Lord, that Hel the priest marked her mouth. 14 And she was speaking... in her heart, and her lips moved, but her voice was not heard: and Heli accounted her a drunken woman. 14 And the servant of Heli said to her, How long wilt thou be drunken? take away thy wine from thee, and go out from the presence of the Lord. 15 And Anna answered and said, Nay, my lord, I beseam a hard day, and I have no strong drink. 16 And she said, Thine handmaid hath found favour in thine eyes: and the woman went her way, and entered into her lodging, and ate and drank with her husband, and her countenance was no more sad. 17 And they rise early in the morning, and worship the Lord, and they go their way, and Heli went into the house of Paalmathim, and knew his wife Anna; and the Lord remembered her, and she conceived. 18 And it came to pass, when the time was come, that she brought forth a son, and called his name Samuel, and said, Because I asked him of the Lord God of Sabaoth. 19 And the man Heli and all his house went up to offer in Selom the yearly sacrifice, and his vows, and all the tithes of his land. 20 But Anna did not go up with him, for she said to her husband, I will not go up until the child goes up, when I have weaned him, and he shall be presented before the Lord, and he shall abide there continually. 21 And Heli said to her husband, Go, and do as thou hast said, but may the Lord establish his word to thee. 22 And she went up with him to Selom with a calf of three years old, and loaves, and an ephah of flour, and a bottle of wine: and she entered into the house of the Lord in Selom, and the child with them. 23 And they brought him before the Lord; and his father slew his offering which he offered from year to year to the Lord; and he brought near the child, and slew the calf; and Anna the mother of the child brought him to Heli. 24 And she said, I pray thee, my lord, as thy soul liveth, I am the woman that stood in thy presence with thee while praying to the Lord. 25 For this child I prayed; and the Lord has given me my request that I asked of him. 26 And I lend him to the Lord all his days that he lives, a loan to the Lord: and she said, My heart is established in the Lord, my horn is exalted in my God; my mouth is enlarged over my enemies, I have rejoiced in thy salvation. 27 For there is none holy as the Lord, and there is none righteous as thy God; there is none saving beside thee. 28 But not, and utter not high things; let not high-sounding words come out of your mouth, for the Lord is a God of knowledge,

what his sons did to the children of Israel. And he said to them, Why do ye according to this thing, which I hear from the mouth of all the people of the Lord? Nay my sons, for the report which I hear is not good; do not so, for the reports which I hear are not good, so that the people do not serve God through their fathers. And all against another, then shall they pray for him to the Lord; but if a man sin against the Lord, who shall interreat for him? But they hearkened not to the voice of their father, because the Lord would by all means destroy them. And the child Samuel advanced, and was in favour with God and with men.

he said, I did not come; return, go to sleep; and he returned and went to sleep.

6 And the Lord called again, Samuel, Samuel; and he went to Heli the second time, and said, Behold, here am I, for thou didst call me: and he said, I called thee not; return, go to sleep. 7 And it was before Samuel knew the Lord, and before Samuel had called the Lord. 8 And the Lord called Samuel again for the third time: and he arose and went to Heli, and said, Behold, I am here, for thou didst call me: and Heli perceived that the Lord had called the child. 9 And he said, Return, child, go to sleep; and it shall come to pass if he shall call thee, that thou shalt say, Speak, for thy servant heareth: and Samuel went and lay down in his place. 10 And the Lord came, and stood, and called him as before: and Samuel said, Speak, for thy servant heareth.

11 And the Lord said to Samuel, Behold, I execute my words in Israel; whomsoever I choose will I make my prophet, and will pour upon him the spirit of my grace. 12 And I will raise him up a prophet from among the children of Israel; and he shall go before him, and I will give unto him the words that he shall speak. 13 And Samuel said, How shall I know the word that thou shalt speak unto me be the word of the Lord? 14 And the Lord said, Go down, for thou art a chosen man of the Lord, and he shall be king over Israel. 15 And when Samuel turned round, behold, the Lord stood behind him, and said, I am the Lord, and I will be king over Israel. 16 And Samuel said, What shall I do, when there shall come before me a hundred thousand men,Jerusalem, to ask the Lord their welfare? 17 But the Lord said, What is he that asketh me, seeing I have called him? 18 And Samuel said, What is it, Lord, that I speak to the Lord? He said, Return, come again, for the spirit of the Lord is not withdrawn from thee.
And the people came to the camp, and the elders of Israel said, Why has the Lord caused us to fall this day before the Philistines? Let us take the ark of our God out of Selom, and let it proceed from the midst of us, and it shall save us from the hand of our enemies.

And the people sent to Selom, and they take thence the ark of the Lord who dwells between the cherubs: and both the sons of Heli, Ophni and Phinees, were with the ark.

And it came to pass when the ark of the Lord entered into the camp, that all Israel cried out with a loud voice, and the earth resounded.

And the Philistines heard the cry, and the Philistines said, What is this great cry in the camp of the Hebrews? and they understood that the ark of the Lord was come into the camp.

And the Philistines feared, and said, These are the gods that are come to them into the camp.

Woe to us, O Lord, deliver us to-day, for such a thing has not happened aforetime: woe to us, who shall deliver us out of the hand of these mighty Gods? these are the gods of the Egyptians, that smote the Egyptians with every plague, and in the wilderness.

Strengthen yourselves and behave yourselves like men, O ye Philistines, that ye may not serve the Hebrews as they have served us, but be ye men and fight with them.

And they fought with them; and the men of Israel fell, and they fled every man to his tent; and there was a very great slaughter; and there fell of Israel thirty thousand fighting men. And the ark of God was taken, and both the sons of Heli, Ophni and Phinees, died.

And there ran a man of Benjamin on the battle, and he came to Selom on that day: and his clothes were rent, and earth was upon his head. And he came, and beheld, Heli was upon the seat by the gate looking along the way, for his heart was greatly alarmed for the ark of God: and the man entered into the city to bring tidings; and the city cried out.

And Heli heard the sound of the battle, and said, What is this voice of this cry? and the man hasted and went in, and reported to Heli. Now Heli was ninety years old, and his eyes saw not. And Heli said to them that stood round about him, What is the voice of this sound? And the man hasted and advanced to Heli, and said to him, I am he that is come out of the camp, and I have fled from the battle to-day: and Heli said, What is the event, my son? And the young man answered and said, The men of Israel fled from the face of the Philistines, and there was a great slaughter among the people, and both thy sons are dead, and the ark of God is taken.

And it came to pass, when he mentioned the ark of God, that he fell from the seat backward near the gate, and his back was broken, and he died; for he was an old man and heavy: and he judged Israel twenty years.

And his daughter-in-law the wife of Phinees was with child, about to bring forth; and she heard the tidings, that the ark of God was taken, and that her father-in-law and her husband were dead; and she wept and was delivered, for her pains came upon her. 10 And it came to pass after it went about to Geth, that the hand of the Lord came upon the city, a very great confusion; and he smote the men of the city small and great, and smote them in their secret parts: and the Gittites made to themselves images of emerods.

11 And they send away the ark of God to Ascalon and it came to pass when the ark of God went into Ascalon, that the men of Ascalon cried out, saying, Why have ye brought back the ark of the God of Israel to us, to kill us and our people? 12 And they send and gather the lords of the Philistines, and they said, Send away the ark of the God of Israel, and let it lodge in its place; and let it not slay us and our people.
there was a very great confusion in all the city, when the ark of the God of Israel entered the city, and those that were smitten and died not were smitten with emerods; and the cry of the city went up to heaven. And the ark was seven months in the country of the Philistines, and their land brought forth swarms of mice. And the Philistines called their priests, and their prophets, and their enchanter, saying, What shall we do? that the ark of the Lord? teach us wherewith we shall send it away to its place. And they said, If ye send away the ark of the covenant of the Lord God of Israel, do not on any account send it away empty, but by all means render it to us for an offering for the plague: and then shall ye be healed, and an atonement shall be made for you: should not his hand be thus stayed from off you? And they said, What is the offering for the plague which we shall return to it? And they said, According to the number of the lords of the Philistines, five golden emerods, for the plague was on you, and on your rulers, and on the people; and golden mice, because they destroy your land: and ye shall give glory to the Lord, that he may lighten his hand from off you, and from off your gods, and from off your land. And why do ye harden your hearts, as Egypt and Pharaoh hardened their hearts? was it not so when he mocked them, that he let 8 the people go, and they departed? And now take wood and make a new waggon, and take two cows, that have calved for the first time, without their calves: and do ye yoke the cows to the waggon, and lead away the calves from behind them home. And ye shall take the ark and put it on the waggon; and ye shall restore it to the golden articles for the trespass-offering in a offerer by the side of it: and ye shall let it go, and send it away, and ye shall depart. And ye shall see, if it shall go the way of its coasts along by Bethsams, he has brought upon us this great affliction; and if not, then shall we know that his hand has not touched us, but this 10 is a chance which has happened to us. And the Philistines did so; and they took two cows that had calved for the first time, and yoked them to the waggon, and led away the calves at home. And they set the ark of the Lord, and the coffer, and the golden mice, on the waggon. The men of Bethsams were reaping the wheat harvest in the valley; and they lifted up their eyes, and saw the ark of the Lord, and rejoiced to meet it. And the waggon entered into the field of Osee, which was in Bethsams, and they set there by it a great stone; and they split the wood of the waggon, and offered up the cows for a whole-burnt-offering to the Lord. And the Levites brought up the ark of the Lord, and the coffer with

And at the golden emeralds which the lords of the Philistines gave as a trespass-offering to the Lord; and the five lords of the Philistines saw, and returned to Ascalon in that day.

And these are the golden emeralds which the lords of the Philistines gave as a trespass-offering to the Lord; and the five lords of the Philistines saw, and returned to Ascalon in that day.

And the sons of Jechonias were not pleased with the men of Bethsams, because they saw the ark of the Lord; and the Lord smote among them seventy men, and fifty thousand more returned, because the Lord had inflicted on the people a very great plague.

And the men of Bethsams said, Who shall be able to pass before this holy Lord God? and to whom shall the ark of the Lord go up from us?

And they send messengers to the inhabitants of Carithamirm, saying, The Philistines have brought back the ark of the Lord, go down, and take it home to yourselves.

And the men of Carithamirm come, and bring up the ark of the covenant of the Lord: and they bring it into the house of Aminadab in the hill; and they sanctified Eleazar his son to keep the ark of the covenant of the Lord.

And it came to pass from the time that the ark was in Carithamirm, the days were multiplied, and the time was twenty years; and all the house of Israel looked after the Lord.

And Samuel spoke to all the house of Israel, saying, If ye do all with your heart return to the Lord, take away the strange gods from among you, and the groves, and prepare your hearts to serve the Lord, and serve him only; and he shall deliver you from the hand of the Philistines.

And the children of Israel took away Baalim and the groves of Astaroth, and served the Lord only.

And Samuel said, Gather all Israel to Massephath, and I will pray for you to the Lord.

And they were gathered together to Massephath, and they drew water, and poured it out upon the earth before the Lord. And they fasted on that day, and said, We have sinned before the Lord. And Samuel judged the children of Israel in Massephath.

And the Philistines heard that all the children of Israel were gathered together to Massephath: and the lords of the Philistines were afraid against the children of Israel heard, and they feared before the Philistines.

And the children of Israel said to Samuel, Cease not to cry to the Lord thy God for us, and he shall save us out of the hand of the Philistines.

And Samuel took a sucking lamb, and offered it up as a whole-burnt-offering with all the people to the Lord: and Samuel cried to the Lord, and the golden articles upon it, and placed them on the great stone, and the men of Bethsams offered whole-burnt-offerings and meat-offerings on that day to the Lord.

the Lord for Israel, and the Lord heard him. 10 And Samuel was offering the whole-burnt-offering; and the Philistines drew near to war against Israel; and the Lord thundered with a mighty sound in that night upon the Philistines, and they were confounded and overthrown before Israel. 11 And the men of Israel went forth out of Massephath, and pursued the Philistines, and smote them to the parts under Beth-chor.

12 And Samuel took a stone, and set it up between Massephath and the old city, and he called the name of it Abenezer, stone of the helper; and he said, Hitherto has the Lord helped us.

13 So the Lord humbled the Philistines, and they did not any more come into the border of Israel; and the hand of the Lord was against the Philistines all the days of Samuel. 14 And Samuel judged Israel all the days of his life. 15 And he went year by year, and went round Bethel, and Gilgal, and Massephath; and he judged Israel in all those cities which the Philistines took from the children of Israel were restored; and they restored them to Israel from Ascalon to Azob; and they took the coast of Israel out of the hand of the Philistines; and there was peace between Israel and the Amorite.

16 And Samuel judged Israel all the days of his life. 17 And he went year by year, and went round Bethel, and Gilgal, and Massephath; and he judged Israel in all those cities which the Philistines took from the children of Israel were restored; and they restored them to Israel from Ascalon to Azob; and they took the coast of Israel out of the hand of the Philistines; and there was peace between Israel and the Amorite.

18 And Samuel gathered themselves together, and came to Armathaim, because there was his house; and there he judged Israel, and built there an altar to the Lord.

And it came to pass when Samuel was old, that he made his sons judges over Israel. 2 And these are the names of his sons; Joel the first-born, and the name of the second Abin, judges in Bersebec. 3 And his sons did not walk in his way; and they turned aside after gain and took gifts, and perverted judgments.

4 And the men of Israel gather themselves together, and came to Armathaim to Samuel, and they said to him, Behold, thou art grown old, and thy sons walk not in thy way; and now set over us a king to judge us, as also the nations have.

6 And the thing was evil in the eyes of Samuel, when they said, Give us a king to judge us; and Samuel prayed to the Lord.

And the Lord said to Samuel, Hear the voice of the people, in whatever they shall say to thee; for they have not rejected thee, but they have rejected me from reigning over them. 8 According to all their doings which they have done to me, from the day that I brought them out of Egypt until this day, even as they have deserted me, and served other gods, so they do also to thee. 9 And now hearken to their voice; only thou shalt solemnly testify to them, and thou shalt describe to them the manner of the king who shall reign over them.

10 And Samuel spoke every word of the Lord to the people who asked of him a king. 11 And he said, This shall be the manner of the king that shall rule over you: he shall take your sons, and put them in his chariots, and among his horsemen, and running before his chariots, and his manner shall be to make them to himself captains of hundreds and captains of thousands; and to reap his harvest, and gather his vintage, and prepare his instruments of war, and the implements of his chariots. And he will take your daughters to be perfumers, and cooks, and bakers. And he will take your fields, and your vineyards, and your good herds and your asses, and will take the tenth of them for his works. And he will tithe your flocks; and ye shall be his servants. And ye shall cry out in that day because of your king whom ye have chosen to yourselves, and the Lord shall not hear you in those days, because ye have chosen to yourselves a king. But the people would not hearken to Samuel; and they said to him, Nay, but there shall be a king over us. And we also will be like all the nations; and our king shall judge us, and shall settle our cases, and give us leave to go in peace our way before him. And Samuel said to the men of Israel, Every one return to your own town. And there was a man of the sons of Benjamin, and his name was Boaz, the son of Abiel, the son of Jareb, the son of Barnabas, the son of Michael, the son of Jeshua, the son of Joaah; and the Lord was with him. And this man had a son, and his name was Saul, of great stature, a goodly man; and there was not among the sons of Israel a goodlier than he, high above all the people from his shoulders and upward. And the asses of Saul the father of Saul were lost; and Saul said to his son, Take with thee one of the young men, and arise, and go and seek the asses. And they went through mount Ephraim, and they went through the land of Selcha, and found them not: and they passed through the land of Segalim, and they were not there; and they passed through the land of Jamin, and found them not. And when they came to Siph, then Saul said to his young man that was with him, Come and let us return, lest my father leave the asses, and take care for us. And the young man said to him, Behold now, there is a man of God in this city, and the man is of high repute; all that he shall speak will surely come to pass. And when let us go, that he may tell us our way wherein we have set out. And Saul said to his young man that was with him, Lo, then, we will go; but what shall we bring the man of God? for the loaves are spent out of our vessels, and we have nothing more with us that belongs to us to bring to the man of

And the young man answered Saul again, and said, Behold, there is found in my hand a fourth part of a shekel of silver: and thou shalt give it to the man of God;
and he shall tell us our way. 9 Now before time in Israel every one in going to enquire of God said, Come and let us go to the seer;
for the people beforehand called the prophet,
the seer. 10 And Saul said to his servant,
Well said, come and let us go; and they went to the city where the man of God was.

11 As they went up the ascent to the city,
they found damsels come out to draw water,
and they say to them, Is the seer here?
12 And the virgins answered them, and they
to say to them, He is; behold, he is before you:
now he is coming to the city, because of the day, for to day there is a sacrifice for the people in Bama. 13 As soon as ye shall enter into the city; so shall ye find him in the city, before he goes up to Bama to eat; for the people will not eat until he comes in, for he blesses the sacrifice, and afterwards the guests eat; now then go up, for ye shall find him of the scholars. 14 And they go up to the city; and as they were entering into the midst of the city, behold, Samuel came out to meet them, to go up to Bama.

15 And the Lord uncovered the ear of Samuel one day before Saul came to him, saying, 16 At this time to-morrow I will send to thee a man out of the land of Benjamin,
and thou shalt anoint him to be ruler over my people Israel, and he shall save my people out of the hand of the Philistines;
for I have looked upon the humiliation of my people, for their cry is come unto me. 17 And Samuel looked upon Saul, and the Lord answered him, Behold the man of whom I spoke to thee. This one shall rule over my people.

18 And Saul drew near to Samuel into the midst of the city, and said, Tell me now which is the house of the seer? 19 And Samuel answered Saul, and said, I am he:
go up before me to Bama, and eat with me to-day, and I will send thee away in the morning, and I will tell thee all that is in thine heart. 20 And concerning thine asse
that have been lost these three days, care not for them, for they are found. And to whom does the excellency of Israel belong? does it not to thee and to thy father's house? 21 And Saul answered and said, Am
I not the son of a Benjamite, the least tribe of the people of Israel? and of the least family of the whole tribe of Benjamin? and why hast thou spoken to me according to this word?

22 And Samuel took Saul and his servant,
and brought them to the inn, and set them
there a place among the chief of those that were called, about seventy men. 23 And Samuel said to the cook, Give me the portion which I gave thee, which I told thee
to set by thee. 24 Now the cook had boiled
the shoulder, and he set it before Saul; and Samuel said to Saul, Behold that which is

1/ God. 2/ And the young man answered Saul again, and said, Behold, there is found in my hand a fourth part of a shekel of silver:
3/ and thou shalt give it to the man of God;
and he shall tell us our way. 4/ Now before
time in Israel every one in going to enquire of God said, Come and let us go to the seer;
4/ for the people beforehand called the prophet,
the seer. 5/ And Saul said to his servant,
Well said, come and let us go; and they went to the city where the man of God was.

6/ As they went up the ascent to the city,
they found damsels come out to draw water,
and they say to them, Is the seer here?
7/ And the virgins answered them, and they
to say to them, He is; behold, he is before you:
7/ now he is coming to the city, because of the day, for to day there is a sacrifice for the people in Bama. 8/ As soon as ye shall enter into the city; so shall ye find him in the city, before he goes up to Bama to eat; for the people will not eat until he comes in, for he blesses the sacrifice, and afterwards the
guests eat; now then go up, for ye shall find him of the scholars. 9/ And they go up to the city;
and as they were entering into the midst of the city, behold, Samuel came out to meet them, to go up to Bama.

10/ And the Lord uncovered the ear of Samuel one day before Saul came to him, saying, 11/ At this time to-morrow I will send
to thee a man out of the land of Benjamin,
and thou shalt anoint him to be ruler over
my people Israel, and he shall save my people out of the hand of the Philistines;
for I have looked upon the humiliation of
my people, for their cry is come unto me. 12/ And Samuel looked upon Saul, and the Lord answered him, Behold the man of whom I spoke to thee. This one shall rule
over my people.

13/ And Saul drew near to Samuel into the midst of the city, and said, Tell me now
which is the house of the seer? 14/ And Samuel answered Saul, and said, I am he:
go up before me to Bama, and eat with me
to-day, and I will send thee away in the morning, and I will tell thee all that is in thine heart. 15/ And concerning thine asse
that have been lost these three days, care
not for them, for they are found. And to whom does the excellency of Israel belong? does it not to thee and to thy father's house? 16/ And Saul answered and said, Am
I not the son of a Benjamite, the least tribe
of the people of Israel? and of the least
family of the whole tribe of Benjamin? and
why hast thou spoken to me according to this word?

17/ And Samuel took Saul and his servant,
and brought them to the inn, and set them
there a place among the chief of those that were called, about seventy men. 18/ And Samuel said to the cook, Give me the
portion which I gave thee, which I told thee
to set by thee. 19/ Now the cook had boiled
the shoulder, and he set it before Saul; and Samuel said to Saul, Behold that which is

1. Gr. day. 2. Or, the day before. 3. Lit. brought near. 4. Gr. of what kind?
25 And he went down from Bama into the city; and they prepared a lodging for Saul on the roof, and he lay down.
26 And it came to pass when the morning dawned, that Samuel called Saul on the roof, saying, "Rise, up, and I will dismiss thee. And Saul arose, and he and Samuel went out. As they went down to a part of the city, Samuel said to Saul, "Speak to the young man, and let him pass on before us; and do thou stand as to-day, and hearken to the word of God." And Samuel took a viands, and poured it on his head, and kissed him, and said to him, "Has not the Lord anointed thee for a ruler over his people, over Israel? and thou shalt rule among the people of the Lord, and thou shalt save them out of the hand of their enemies; and this shall be the sign to thee that the Lord has anointed thee for a ruler over his inheritance: As soon as thou shalt depart hence, thou shalt find two men by the burial-place of Rachel on the mount of Benjamin, exulting greatly; and they shall say to thee, The asses are found which ye went to seek; and, behold, thy father has given up the matter of the asses, and he is anxious for you, saying, What shall I do for my son? And thou shalt go and tell him for thy father, and he shall give thee double thereof. And after thou shalt go to Bethlehem, and thou shalt find there three men going up to God to Bethel, one bearing three kids, and another bearing three vessels of bread, and another bearing a bottle of wine. And they shall ask thee how thou dost, and shall give thee two presents of bread, and thou shalt receive them of their hand. And afterward thou shall go to the hill of God, where is the encampment of the Philistines; there is Naish the Philistine: and it shall come to pass when ye shall have entered into the city, that thou shalt meet a band of prophets coming down from the Bama; and before them will be lutes, and a drum, and a pipe, and a harp, and they shall prophesy. And the Spirit of the Lord shall depart from me, and thou shalt prophesy with them, and shalt be turned into another man. And it shall come to pass when these signs shall come upon thee, then do thou whatsoever thy hand shall find, because God is with thee. And thou shalt go down in front of Galgal, and behold. I come down to thee to offer a whole-burnt-offering and peace-offerings. Seven days shalt thou wait until I shall come to thee, and I will make known to thee what thou shalt do. And it came to pass when he had turned his back to depart from Samuel, God gave him another heart; and all these signs came to pass in that day. And he comes thence to the hill, and behold a band of prophets opposite to him; and the Spirit of God came upon him, and he prophesied in the midst of them. And all that had known him before came, and saw, and, behold, he was in the midst of the prophets: and the people said every one to his neighbour. What has this that has happened to the son of Kis? is Saul also among the prophets? And one of them answered and said, And who is his father? and therefore it became a proverb, Is Saul also among the prophets? And he ceased prophesying, and comes to the hill.

And his kinsman said to him and to his servant, Whither went ye? and they said, To seek Naas, and we saw that they were lost, and we went in to Samuel. And his kinsman said to Saul, Tell me, I pray thee, What did Samuel say to thee? And Saul said to his kinsman, He verily told me that the asses were found. But the matter of the kingdom he told him not.

And Samuel summoned all the people before the Lord to Massaphath. And he said to the children of Israel, Thus has the Lord God of Israel brought up the children of Israel out of Egypt, and I rescued you out of the hand of Pharoa king of Egypt, and out of all the kingdoms that afflicted you. And ye have this day rejected God, who is himself your Deliverer out of all your evils and afflictions; and ye said, Nay, but thou shalt set a king over us, and now stand before the Lord according to your tribes, and according to your families.

And Samuel brought nigh all the tribes of Israel, and the tribe of Benjamin is taken by lot. And he brings near the tribe of Benjamin by families, and the family of Mactari is taken by lot: and they bring near the family of Mactari, man by man, and Saul the son of Kis is taken; and he sought him, but he was not found.

And Samuel asked yet again of the Lord, Will the man come hither? and the Lord said, Behold, he is hid among the stuff. And he brought near the stuff, and searched, and found him.

And Samuel said to all the people, Have ye seen whom the Lord has chosen to himself, that there is none like to him among you all? And all the people took notice, and said, Let the king live! And Samuel told to the people the manner of the king, and wrote it in a book, and set it before the Lord: and Samuel sent away all the people, and each went to his place.

And Saul departed to his house to Gabaa; and there went with Saul mighty men whose hearts God had touched. But evil men said, Who is this man that shall save us? and they despised him, and brought him no gifts.

And it came to pass about a month after this, that Naas the Ammanite went up, and encamped against Jabies Gallaad: and all the men of Jabies said to Naas the Ammanite, Make a covenant with us, and we will serve thee. And Naas the Ammanite said to them, On these terms will I make a covenant with you, that I should yput out all your right eyes, and I will lay a reproach upon your men; and I will set thee about thirty thousand soldiers, and I will fight against thee for three days. And thy hands shall be heavy upon thy bones: And I will give them into thine hand, and they shall be thine servants.

And they said to Naas, What shall we say to these people? and Naas answered, Speak to the men of Jabies, To whom I have given the covenant, that they shall say to their brethren, Let us not be afraid of them: for he who fighteth against thee shall perish from the Lord, and he shall not save him: therefore let us hold the covenant, and serve thee; for thy hand is mighty. And they took Naas with them, and the people followed Naas the Ammanite, and came to him: and Naas the Ammanite said to the men of Jabies, Who said to you that you should serve the Lord? And the men of Jabies answered, The Lord is our God, and we have served our God. And he said to them, Who will say to the Lord, the God of Hosts, What?” And all the people answered, As the Lord liveth, we will not serve the Lord.

And Naas the Ammanite set up a black stone, In place of the covenant, against the Lord, the God of Hosts, and against the hosts of Israel, and对付 thee.

And the word of the Lord came to Samuel. And Samuel said, He that Câmara of the Lord, and doeth not his will, the same sin is to him. Therefore the men of Jabies made the stone to be called Baasab. And they said, Let Naas the Ammanite take it, he is the father of the division.

And he bounded the rock, and took a large knife, and cut down the rock in two pieces, and the one piece was offered to the Lord, and the other piece was given to Naas the Ammanite. And Naas the Ammanite said to Samuel, To whom the Lord has spoken, to him will I give all that is mine.

And Samuel said to Naas the Ammanite, I am he that spoke to thee. Go in peace. And he went in peace, and served the Lord, and Samuel served the Lord, and the Lord was with him. And Samuel took the white stone, and set it up near the place where they sat, the two elders, between the rock and the hill. And Samuel said, This is the stone that is set up between the two elders, between the rock and the hill; and the Lord has taken the division of the messengers of Jabies from the hand of Naas the Ammanite, and given it to Samuel, and has set him over them, and the Lord has set him over all Israel. And Samuel said, The Lord has sent you to deal with me, and he said, To the holy place.

And Naas the Ammanite said, Nay, I will not eat in the holy place. And Samuel said, The Lord has sent you to deal with me, and he said, To the holy place. And Samuel said, The Lord has sent you to deal with me, and he said, To the holy place. And Samuel said, The Lord has sent you to deal with me, and he said, To the holy place. And Samuel said, The Lord has sent you to deal with me, and he said, To the holy place. And Samuel said, The Lord has sent you to deal with me, and he said, To the holy place. And Samuel said, The Lord has sent you to deal with me, and he said, To the holy place. And Samuel said, The Lord has sent you to deal with me, and he said, To the holy place.
3 And the men of Jabesh said to him, Allow us seven days, and we will send messengers into all the coasts of Israel: if there should be no one to deliver us, we will come out to you.
4 And the messengers came to Gabaa to Saul, and they speak the words into the ears of the people; and all the people lifted up their voice, and wept. 5 And, behold, Saul came after the early morning out of the field: and Saul said, Why do the people weep? and they tell him the words of the men of Jabesh. 6 And the Spirit of the Lord came upon Saul when he heard these words, and his anger was greatly kindled against them. 7 And he took two cows, and cut them in pieces, and sent them into all the coasts of Israel by the hand of messengers, saying, Whoso comes not forth after Saul and after Samuel, so shall they do to his oxen: and a transport from the Lord came upon the people of Israel, and they 8 came out to battle as one man. 9 And he reviews them at Bezez in Bama, every man of Israel six hundred thousand, and the men of Juda seventy thousand.

9 And he said to the messengers that came, Thus shall ye say to the men of Jabesh, Tomorrow ye shall have deliverance when the sun is hot; and the messengers came to the city, and told the men of Jabes, and they rejoiced. 10 And the men of Jabes said to Naas the Ammonite, Tomorrow we will come forth to you, and ye shall do to us what seems good in your sight.

11 And it came to pass on the morrow, that Saul divided the people into three companies, and they go into the midst of the camp in the morning watch, and they smote the children of Ammon until the day was hot; and it came to pass that those who were left were scattered, and there were not left among them two together.

12 And the people said to Samuel, Who has said that Saul shall not reign over us? Give up the men, and we will put them to death. 13 And Saul said, No man shall die this day, for to-day the Lord has wrought deliverance in Israel.

14 And Samuel spoke to the people, saying, Let us go to Galgala, and there renew the kingdom. 15 And all the people went to Galgala, and Samuel anointed Saul there to be king before the Lord in Galgala, and there he offered meat-offerings and peace-offerings before the Lord: and Samuel and all Israel rejoiced exceedingly.

16 And all Israel, Behold, I have hearkened to your voice in all things that ye have said to me, and I have set a king over you. 17 And now, behold, the king goes before you; and I am grown old and shall rest; and, behold, my sons are among you; and, behold, I have gone about before you from my youth to this day. 18 Behold, therefore, and answer me against me before the Lord, who of all my sons have I taken? or whom have I oppressed? or whom have I been violent with? or from whose hand have I taken a bribe, even to a sandal? bear witness against me, and I will make restitution to you. 'And they said to Samuel, Thou hast not injured us, and thou hast not oppressed us; and thou hast not afflicted us, and thou hast not taken anything from any one's hand.

3 And Samuel said to the people, The Lord is witness among you, and his anointed is witness this day, that ye have not found anything in my hand: and they said, He is witness.

4 And Samuel spoke to the people, saying, The Lord who appointed Moses and Aaron is witness, who brought our fathers up out of Egypt. 7 And now stand still, and I will judge you before the Lord; and I will relate to you all the righteousness of the Lord, the things which he has wrought among you and your fathers. When Jacob and his sons went into Egypt, and Egypt humbled them, then our fathers cried to the Lord, and the Lord sent Moses and Aaron; and they brought our fathers out of Egypt, and he made them to dwell in this place. 9 And they forgot the Lord their God, and sold them into the hands of Siara captain of the host of Jabis king of Asor, and into the hands of the Philistines, and into the hands of the king of Moab; and he fought with them. 10 And they cried to the Lord, and said, We have sinned; for we have forsaken the Lord, and have served Baalim and the groves: and now deliver us out of the hand of our enemies, and we will serve thee. 11 And he sent Jeroab, and Barac, and Jephthae, and Samuel, and said, I will have vengeance of my enemies, and will deliver you out of the hand of your enemies. And they dwelt in security. 12 And ye saw that Naas king of the children of Ammon came against you, and ye said, Nay, none but a king shall reign over us; whereas the Lord our God is our king.

13 And now behold the king whom ye have chosen, and behold, the Lord has set a king over you. If ye should fear the Lord, and serve him, and hearken to his voice, and not resist the mouth of the Lord, and ye and your king that reigns over you should follow the Lord, well. 18 But if ye should not hearken to the voice of the Lord, and ye should resist the mouth of the Lord, then shall the hand of the Lord be upon you and upon your king.

18 And now stand still, and see this great thing, which the Lord will do before your eyes. 'Is it not wheat-harvest to-day? I will call upon the Lord, and he shall send thunder and rain; and know ye and see, that your wickedness is great which ye have wrought before the Lord, having asked for yourselves a king.

18 And Samuel called upon the Lord, and the Lord sent thunders and rain in that day; and all the people feared greatly the Lord and Samuel. 19 And all the people said to Samuel, Pray for thy servants to the Lord thy God, and let us not die; for we have added to all our sins this iniquity, in asking for us a king.

20 And Samuel said to the people, Fear not:
And Jonathan smote Nasib the Philistine that dwelt in the full; and the Philistines hear of it, and Saul sounds the trumpet throughout all the land.

And they that went over were thirty thousand chariots, and six thousand horsemen, and people as the sand by the seashore: and they came up, and encamp in Machmas, opposite Bethoron southward.

And the men of Israel saw that they were in a strait so that they could not draw nigh, and the people hid themselves in caves, and sheepfolds, and rocks, and ditches, and pits. And they that went over went over Jordan behind Saul with all the Israelites; and Saul was yet in Galgala, and all the people followed after him in amazement.

And he continued seven days for the appointed testimony, as Samuel told him, and Samuel came not to Galgala, and his people were dispersed from him. And Saul said, Bring hither victims, that I may offer whole-burnt-offerings and peace-offerings, and he offered the whole-burnt-offering.

And it came to pass when he had finished offering the whole-burnt-offering, that Samuel arrived, and Saul went out to meet him, and to bless him. And Samuel said, What hast thou done? and Saul said, Because I saw the people hath scattered from me, and thou art not present as thou didst purposest, and I feared the heat of the people; therefore I did it.
manned thee, as now the Lord would have confirmed thy kingdom over Israel for ever.

But now thy kingdom shall not stand to thee, and the Lord shall seek for himself a man after his own heart, and the Lord shall appoint him to be a ruler over his people, because thou hast not kept all that the Lord commanded thee.

And Samuel arose, and departed from Galgala, and the remnant of the people went after Saul to meet him after the men of war, when he arose to go to Galgala to Gaba of Benjamin. And Saul numbered the people that were found with him, about six hundred men. And Saul and Jonathan his son, and the people that were found with them, halted in Gaba of Benjamin; and they went: and the Philistines had encamped in Machmas. And men came forth to destroy out of the land of the Philistines in three companies; one company turning by the way of Gophera toward the land of Sogal, and another company turning the way of Bethoron, and another company turning by the way of Gabae that turns aside to Gai of Sabim. And there was not found a smith in all the land of Israel, for the Philistines said, Let the Hebrews make themselves sword or spear. And all Israel went down to the land of the Philistines to forge every one his reap-hook and his tool, and every one his axe and his sickle.

And it was near the time of harvest in the year—now their tools were valued at three sickels for a plough-share, and there was the same rate for the axe and the sickle. And it came to pass in the days of the war of Machmas, that there was not a sword or spear found in the hand of all the people, that were with Saul and Jonathan; but with Saul and Jonathan his son was found.

And there went out some from the camp of the Philistines to the place beyond Machmas.

And when a certain day arrived, Jonathan the son of Saul said to the young man that bore his armour, Come, and let us go over to Messab of the Philistines that is on the other side also; wonder; but he told not his father. And Saul sat on the top of the hill under the pomegranate tree that is in Magdon, and there were with him about six hundred men. And Achia son of Achitob, the brother of Jochabed the son of Phinees, the son of Hell, was the priest of God in Selom wearing an ephod: and the people knew not that Jonathan was gone. And in the midst of the passage whereby Jonathan sought to pass over to the encampment of the Philistines, there was both a sharp rock on this side, and a sharp rock on the other side: the name of the one was Bases, and the name of the other Senna. The one way was northward to one coming to Machmas, and the other way was southward to one coming to Gabae.

And Jonathan said to the young man that bore his armour, Come, let us go over to Mesab of these uncircumcised, if perchance the Lord may do something for us; for the Lord is not straitened to save

Kurios, ως νυν ἐτοίμασε Κύριος τὴν βασιλείαν σου ἐπὶ Ἰσραήλ ἔως αἰώνος. Και νυν ἡ βασιλεία σου οὐκ ἐστὶν σου, 14 καὶ ἐκτίθη Κύριος ἐν τῷ αὐτῷ κατὰ τὴν καρδίαν αὐτοῦ καὶ ἐνετείλατο Κύριος αὐτῷ ἐξ ἀρχαίας ἐπὶ τὸν λαὸν αὐτοῦ, οὐκ ὁ εὐφίλαφος ὁ δεσποτὲ σου Κύριος.

And as the Lord had appointed, he took the sword of Saul that day, and cut off his head, and the Philistines went about saying, Saul also and his sons are dead. And his servants gathered the heads of Saul and his sons together, and they killed them, and put them in judgment at Jeshimon, and buried them in the tomb of his father Kish. And all Israel and Judah mourned him. And the Philistines laid on Saul and his sons: and they put out his eyes, and cut off his head, and sent the tidings throughout all the land of the Philistines, and they put a large stone upon his head. And they buried him in the tomb of his father Kish in Beth-geber:

Therefore they call his name Nahash. 18 And his servants gathered the heads of Saul and his sons together, and they cut them off, and sent it to the men of Jabesh-gilead, saying, Behold, this is the head of the man whose thorns and thistles the Philosophers condemned. 19 And the Philistines buried their dead in their own places. 20 And they rose up early in the morning, and spoiled the garrison of the Philistines in the valley of salt, and recovered their own dead, and the heads of Saul and his sons, and went and buried them in the tomb of his father Kish in Beth-geber, and the Philistines went up into their tents.
by many or by few. 7 And his armour-bearer said to him, Do all that thine heart inclines toward: behold, I am with thee, my heart is as thy heart. 8 And Jonathan said, Behold, we will go over to the men, and γ will come down suddenly upon them. 9 If they should say thus to us, Stand aloof there until we shall send you word; then we will stand still by ourselves, and will not go up against them. 10 But if they should say thus to us, Come up to us if thou wilt, and we will go up, for the Lord has delivered them into our hands; this shall be a sign to us.

11 And they both went in to Messab of the Philistines: and the Philistines said, Behold, the Hebrews come forth out of their caves, where they had hidden themselves. 12 And the men of Messab answered Jonathan and his armour-bearer, and said, Come up to us, and we will shew you a thing: and Jonathan said to his armour-bearer, Come up after me, for the Lord has delivered them into the hands of Israel. 13 And Jonathan and his armour-bearer entered into the vineyard of their neighbour, i.e., philistines, and came to a stone wall, and Jonathan said to his armour-bearer, Come up after me, and slay me; and if I find favour in the eyes of the people, then will it be well with thee; but if they say, The man is not here, 14 Then shall it be well with thee: and if they shall say, He is not here, then shall it be well with thee, 15 And go thou, pass over before me, and refresh thy heart: I will go over after thee, and will persuade the Philistines. 16 And Jonathan said to his armour-bearer, Charge me, therefore, with thy sword: for thus shall it be done to me. And Jonathan said, As thy soul lives, I will not willingly leave thee. 17 And Jonathan said to his armour-bearer, Charge me, therefore, with thy sword: for thus shall it be done to me. 18 And Jonathan said to his armour-bearer, Charge me, therefore, with thy sword: for thus shall it be done to me. 19 And Jonathan said to his armour-bearer, Charge me, therefore, with thy sword: for thus shall it be done to me. 20 And Jonathan said to his armour-bearer, Charge me, therefore, with thy sword: for thus shall it be done to me. 21 And Jonathan said to his armour-bearer, Charge me, therefore, with thy sword: for thus shall it be done to me. 22 And Jonathan said to his armour-bearer, Charge me, therefore, with thy sword: for thus shall it be done to me. 23 And Jonathan said to his armour-bearer, Charge me, therefore, with thy sword: for thus shall it be done to me.

24 And Saul committed a great trespass of ignorance in that day, and he lays a curse on the people, saying, Cursed is the man who shall eat bread before the evening; so I will avenge myself on my enemy: and none of the people tasted bread, though all the land was dining. 25 And Saul was a wood 26 And the people went into the place of the bread, and, behold, they continued speaking; and, behold, there was none that put his hand to his mouth, for the people feared the oath of the Lord. 27 And Jonathan had not heard when his father adjured the people; and he reached forth the end of the staff that was in his hand, and dipped it into the honeycomb, and returned his hand to his mouth, and his eyes recovered their sight. 28 And one of the people answered and said, Thy father solemnly adjured the people, saying, Cursed is the man who shall eat bread to-day. And the people were very faint, and Jonathan knew it, and said, My father has destroyed the bread from my eyes; I have received sight now that I have tasted a little of this honey. 29 Surely if the people had this day eaten freely of the spoils of their enemies which they found, the slaughter among the Philistines would have been greater. 30 And on that day he smote some of the Philistines in Machaon, and the people were very faint. And the people turned to the spoil; and the people took flocks, and herds, and calves, and slew them on the ground, and the people ate with the blood. 31 And it was reported to Saul, saying, The people have sinned against the Lord, eating with the blood: and Saul said, Out of Getshemem roll as head stone to me hither. 32 And Saul said, Disperse yourselves among the people, and tell them to bring hither every one his calf, and every one his sheaf: and let them slay it on this stone and sin against the Lord in eating with the blood: and the people brought each one that which was in his hand, and they slew them there. 33 And Saul built an altar there to the Lord: this was the first altar that Saul built to the Lord. 34 And Saul said, Let us go down after the Philistines this night, and let us plunder among them till the day break, and let us not leave a man among them. And they said, Do all that is good in thy sight: and the priest said, Let us draw nigh hither to God. 35 And Saul enquired of God, If I go down after the Philistines, wilt thou deliver them into the hands of Israel? And he answered him not in that day. 36 And Saul said, Bring hither all the chiefs of Israel, and know and see by whom this sin has been committed this day. 37 For as the Lord lives who has hastened Israel, if answer should be against my son Jonathan, he shall surely die. And there was no one that answered out of all the people. 38 And he said to all the men of Israel, Ye shall be under subjection, and I and Jonathan my son will be under subjection; and the people said to Saul, Do that which is good in thy sight. 31 And Saul said, O Lord God of Israel, why hast thou not answered thy servant this day? is the iniquity in me, or in Jonathan my son? Lord God of Israel, give a clear manifestation; and if the lot should declare this, give, I pray thee, the people Israel, give, I pray thee, holiness. And Jonathan and Saul are taken, and the people escaped. 32 And Saul said, Cast lots between me and my son Jonathan: whomsoever the Lord shall cause to be taken by lot, let him die: and the people said to Saul, This thing is not to be done: and Saul prevailed against the people, and they cast lots between him and Jonathan his son, and Jonathan was taken by lot. 33 And Saul said to Jonathan, Tell me what thou hast done: and Jonathan told him, and said, I did taste a little honey, with the end of my staff that was in my hand, and, lo! I am to die. 34 And Saul said to him, God do so to me, and more also, thou, and Jonathan thy son. 35 And the people said to Saul, Shall he that has wrought this great salvation in Israel be put to death this day? As the Lord lives, there shall not fall to the ground one of the hairs of his head; for the people of God have wrought successfully this day. 36 And the people prayed for Jonathan in that day, and he died not. 37 And Saul went up from following the Philistines: and the Philistines departed to their place.

38 And Saul received the kingdom, by lot he inherits the office of ruling over Israel: and he fought against all his enemies round about, against Mobb, and against the children of Ammon, and against the children of Edom, and against Bethsean, and against the king of Jabin, and against the Philistines: whithersoever he turned, he was victorious. 39 And he wrought valiantly, and smote Amalec, and rescued Israel out of the hand of them that trampled on him.

40 And the sons of Saul were Jonathan, and Jessu, and Melchisa: and these were the names of his two daughters, the name of the first-born Merob, and the name of the second Michal. And the name of his wife was Achinoam, daughter of Achima: and the name of his captain of the host was Abenner, the son of Ner, son of a kinsman of Saul. 41 And Kis was the father of Saul, and Ner, the father of Abenner, was son of Jamin, son of Abiel.

42 And the war was vehement against the Philistines all the days of Saul; and when Saul saw any valiant man, then he took him to himself. And Samuel said to Saul, The Lord sent me to anoint thee king over Israel: and now hear the voice of the Lord. 43 Thus said the Lord of hosts, Now will I take vengeance for what Amalec did to Israel, when he met him in the way as he came up out of Egypt. 44 And now go, and thou shalt smite Amalec and all that belongs to him, and thou shalt not save anything of him alive, but thou shalt utterly destroy him: and thou shalt devote him and all his to destruction, and thou shalt spare nothing belonging to him; and thou shalt slay both man and woman, and infant and suckling, and calf and sheep, and camel and ass.

And Saul summoned the people, and he numbered them in Galgala, four hundred thousand regular troops, and Jada three thousand regular troops. And Saul came to the cities of Amalec, and laid wait in the valley. And Saul said to the Kinite, Go, and depart out of the midst of the Amaleckites, lest I put thee with them; for thou dealdest mercifully with the children of Israel when they went up out of Egypt. So the Kinite departed from the midst of Amalec. And Saul smote Amalec from Evial to Sur fronting Egypt.

And he took Agag the king of Amalec alive, and he slew all the people and 5 Hierim with the edge of the sword. And Saul and all the people saved Agag alive, and the 9 best of the flocks, and of the herds, and of the fruitful fields and wine vats, and of all the good things; and they would not destroy them: but every worthless and refuse thing they destroyed.

And the word of the Lord came to Samuel, saying, I have repented that I have made Saul to be king: for he has turned his back from following me, and has not kept my word. And Samuel was grieved, and cried to the Lord all night. And Samuel rose early and went to meet Israel in the morning, and it was told Saul, saying, Samuel has come to Carmel, and he has raised up help for himself: and he turned his chariot, and came near to Gally to Saul; and behold, he was offering up a whole-burnt-offering to the Lord, the chief of the spoils which he brought out of Amalec.

And Samuel came to Saul; and Saul said to him, Blessed art thou of the Lord: I have performed all that the Lord said. And Saul said, What is the charge of this flock in my ears? And Samuel said, I have brought them out of Amalec, that which the people preserved, even the best of the sheep, and of the cattle, that it might be sacrificed to the Lord thy God, and the rest have I utterly destroyed. And Saul said to Saul, Stay, and I will tell thee what the Lord has said to me this night: and he said to him, Say on.

And Saul said to Art thou not little in my eyes, though a leader of one of the tribes of Israel? and yet the Lord anointed thee to be king over Israel. And the Lord sent thee on a journey, and said to thee, Go, and utterly destroy: thou shalt slay the sinners against me, even the Amalekites; and thou shalt war against them until thou have consumed them. And why didst thou not hearken to the voice of the Lord, but didst haste to fasten upon the spoils, and didst that which was evil in the sight of the Lord? And Saul said to Samuel, Because I listened to the voice of the people; yet I went the way by which the Lord sent me, and I brought Agag the king of Amalec, and I destroyed Amalec. 21 But the people took of the spoils the best flocks and herds out of that which was destroyed, to sacrifice before the Lord our God in Galgal. 22 And Samuel said, Does the Lord take pleasure in whole-burnt offerings and sacrifices, as in hearing the words of the Lord? behold, obedience is better than a sacrifice, and to hear the word of the Lord and to do it, better than the fat of rams. 23 For sin is as division; idols bring on pain and grief. Because thou hast rejected the word of the Lord, the Lord also shall reject thee from being king over Israel.

24 And Saul said to Samuel, I have sinned, in that I have transgressed the word of the Lord and thy direction; for I feared the people, and I hearkened to their voice. 25 Now remove, I pray thee, from me, I go the way that I have gone. And Samuel said, Go in peace.

26 And Samuel turned his face to depart, and Saul caught hold of the skirt of his garment, and it rent from the thigh. 27 And Samuel said to Saul, As the Lord liveth, I cannot speak of God with thee. 28 And Saul said, Let me, I pray thee, have a lamp brought near me. And Samuel brought a lamp near Saul. 29 And Saul said to Samuel, I have sinned: for I have gone before the people, saying, The evil which ye saw I have done. 30 And now, make bold, and speak: for why slayeth thou thine servant? I have done a thing, and thou knowest it, and I have not told thee. 31 And Samuel said, Far be it from me to slay the man of God, which the Lord hath spoken. 32 And Saul said, Am I not a king over Israel? nevertheless now turn thou thou to me, in that I have sinned, and turn again with me, that I may worship the Lord. 33 And Samuel said, I will make known unto thee what the Lord will do to thee to morrow, and what he will do to thy spoil. 34 And Samuel said, There is a burnt offering made to-day, and Multitude of peace offerings upon it: 35 And the Lord said to Samuel, Go, and fall before the people; and it shall be, when I come down before thee, that thou shalt offer up to me the burnt offering and the peace offerings: and afterward shalt thou come to me, and shall present to me the people. And Samuel did so.

I. KINGS XVI. 4—22.

And Samuel did all that the Lord told him; and he came to Bethleem: and the elders of the city were amazed at meeting him, and said, 8Did thou come peaceably, thou and I? 9And he said, 9I come to sacrifice to the Lord. Sanctify yourselves, and rejoice with me this day: and he sanctified Jesse and his sons, and he called them to the sacrifice. 10And it came to pass when they came in, that he saw Eliaab, and said, Surely the Lord's anointed is before him. 11But the Lord said to Samuel, Look not on his appearance, nor on his stature, for God sees not as man sees; for man looks at the outward appearance, but God looks at the heart. 12And Jesse called Aminadab, and he passed before Samuel; and he said, Neither has God chosen this one. 13And Jesse caused Sam to pass by: and he said, Neither has God chosen this one. 10And Jesse caused his seven sons to pass before Samuel; and Samuel said, The Lord has not chosen these.

11And Samuel said to Jesse, 9Hast thou no more sons? 11And Jesse said, There is yet a little one, behold, he tends the flock. 12And Samuel said to Jesse, Send and fetch him, for we may not sit down till he comes. 13And he sent and fetched him: and he was ruddy, with beauty of eyes, and very goodly to behold. And the Lord said to Samuel, Arise, and anoint David, for he is good. 14And Samuel took the horn of oil, and anointed him in the midst of his brethren: and the Spirit of the Lord came upon David from that day forward: and Samuel arose, and departed to Armathaim.

14And the Spirit of the Lord departed from Saul, and an evil spirit from the Lord tormented him. 15And Saul's servants said to him, Behold now, an evil spirit from the Lord torments thee. 16And now thy servants speak before thee, and let them seek for our lord a man skilled to play on the harp: and it shall come to pass when an evil spirit comes upon thee and he shall play on his harp, that thou shalt be well, and he shall refresh thee. 17And Saul said to his servants, Look now out for a skilful player, and bring him to me. 18And one of his servants answered and said, Behold, I have seen a son of Jesse the Bethlehemite, and he understands playing on the harp, and the man is prudent, and a warrior, and wise in speech, and the man is handsome, and the Lord is with him. 19And Saul sent messengers to Jesse, saying, Send me thy son David who is with thy flock. 20And Jesse took a homer of bread, and a bottle of wine, and one kid of the goats, and sent them by the hand of his son David to Saul.

21And David went in to Saul, and stood before him; and he loved him daily, and he became his armour-bearer. 22And Saul sent to Jesse, saying, Let David, I pray thee, stand before me, for he has found grace in my eyes. And it came to pass, when the evil spirit was upon Saul, that David took his harp, and played with his hand: and Saul was refreshed, and it was well with him, and the evil spirit departed from him.

And the Philistines gather their armies to battle, and gather themselves to Socchoth of Judea, and encamp between Socchoth and Aznoth-Tiberias. And Saul and the men of Israel encamped to meet them in the valley; and the battle was arrayed against the Philistines. And the Philistines stand on the mountain on one side, and Israel stands on the mountain on the other side, and the valley was between them.

And there went forth a mighty man out of the army of the Philistines, Goliath by name, out of Gath, whose height was four cubits and a span. And he had a helmet of brass upon his head, and he wore a breastplate of brass plate was five thousand shekels of brass and iron. And greaves of brass were upon his legs, and a brazen target was between his shoulders. And the staff of his spear was like a weavers' beam, and the spear's head was formed of six hundred shekels of iron; and his armours were wrought before him. And he stood and cried unto the army of Israel, and said to them, Why are ye come forth to set yourselves in battle array against us? Am not I a Philistine, and ye Hebrews of Saul? choose for yourselves a man, and let him come down to me. And if he shall be able to fight against me, and shall smite me, then will we be your servants: but if I should prevail and smite him, ye shall be our servants, and serve us. And the Philistine said, Behold, I have defied the armies of Israel this very day: give me a man, and we will both of us fight in single combat.

And Saul and all Israel heard these words of the Philistine, and they were dismayed, and greatly terrified.

And David said to Saul, Let not, I pray thee, the heart of my lord be dejected within him: thy servant will go, and fight with this Philistine. And Saul said to David, Thou wilt not in anywise be able to go against this Philistine to fight with him, for thou art a mere youth, and he a man of war from his youth.

And David said to Saul, Thy servant was tending the flock for his father; and when a lion came and a she-bear, and took a sheep out of the flock, then I went forth after him, and smote him, and drew the spoil out of his mouth: and as he rose up against me, then I caught hold of his throat, and smote him, and slew him. Thy servant smote both the lion and the bear, and the uncircumcised Philistine shall be as one of them: shall I not go and smite him, and remove this day a reproach from Israel? for who is this uncircumcised one, who has defied the army of the living God?

The Lord who delivered me out of the paw of the lion and out of the paw of the bear, he will deliver me out of the hand of this uncircumcised Philistine. And Saul said to David, Go, and the Lord shall be with thee.

And Saul clothed David with a military coat, and put his brazen helmet on his head. And he girt David with his sword over his coat: and he made trial walking with them once and again: and David said to Saul, I shall not be able to go with these, for I have not proved them: so they removed from him. And he took his staff in his hand, and he chose for himself five smooth stones out of the brook, and put them in the shepherd's scrip which he had for his store, and his sling was in his hand; and he approached the Philistine.

And Goliath saw David, and despised him: for he was a lad, anduddy, 6 with a fair countenance. And the Philistine said to David, Am I as a dog, that thou comest against me with a staff and stones? [and David said, Nay, but worse than a dog.] And the Philistine despised David by his gods. And the Philistine said to David, Come to me, and I will give thy flesh to the birds of the air, and to the beasts of the earth.

And David said to the Philistine, Thou comest to me with sword, and with spear, and with shield; but I come to thee in the name of the Lord God of hosts of the army of Israel, which thou hast defied. This day shall the Lord deliver thee into my hand: and I will slay thee, and take away thy head from off thee, and will give thy limbs and the limbs of the house of the Philistines this day to the birds of the air, and to the wild beasts of the earth; and all the earth shall know that there is a God in Israel. And all this assembly shall know that the Lord delivers not by sword or spear, for the battle is the Lord's, and the Lord will deliver you into our hands.

And the Philistine arose and went to meet David. And David stretched out his hand to his scrip, and took thence a stone, and slung it, and smote the Philistine on his forehead, and the stone penetrated through the helmet into his forehead, and he fell upon his face to the ground. And David ran, and stood upon him, and took his sword, and slew him, and cut off his head: and the Philistines saw that their champion was dead, and they fled.

And the men of Israel and Juda arose, and shouted and pursued them as far as the entrance to Gath, and as far as the gate of Ascalon: and the slain men of the Philistines fell in the way of the gates, both to Gath, and to Accaron. And the men of Israel returned from pursuing after the Philistines, and they destroyed their camp. And David took the head of the Philistine, and brought it to Jerusalem; but he put his armour in his tent.
And there came out women in dances to meet David out of all the cities of Israel, with timbrels, and with rejoiceing, and with cymbals. 7 And the women sang as they went, and said, Saul has smitten his thousands, and David his ten thousands. 8 And it seemed evil in the eyes of Saul concerning this matter, and he said, To David they have given ten thousands, and to me they have given thousands. 9 And Saul was alarmed on account of David. 10 And he removed him from him, and made him a captain of a thousand for himself; and he went out and came in before the people. 11 And David was prudent in all his ways, and the Lord was with him. 12 And Saul saw that he was very wise, and he was afraid of him. 13 And all Israel and Jada loved David, because he came in and went out before the people. 14 And Melchol the daughter of Saul loved David; and it was told Saul, and the thing was pleasing in his eyes. 15 And Saul said, I will give her to him, and she shall be a stumbling-block to him. Now the hand of the Philistines was against Saul. 16 And Saul charged his servants, saying, Speak ye privately to David, saying, Behold, the king delights in thee, and all his servants love thee, and do thou become the king's son-in-law. 17 And the servants of Saul spoke these words in the ears of David; and David said, Is it a light thing in thy eyes to become son-in-law to the king? whereas I am an humble man, and not honourable? 18 And the servants of Saul reported to him according to these words, which David spoke. 19 And Saul said, Thus shall ye speak to David, The king wants no gift but a hundred foreskins of the Philistines, to avenge himself on the king's enemies. Now Saul thought to cast him into the hands of the Philistines. 20 And the servants of Saul reported these words to David, and David was well pleased to become the son-in-law to the king. 21 And David arose, and went, he and his men, and smote among the Philistines a hundred men; and he brought their foreskins, and he becomes the king's son-in-law, and Saul gives him Melchol his daughter to wife. 22 And Saul saw that the Lord was with David, and that all Israel loved him. 23 And he was yet more afraid of David.

And Saul spoke to Jonathan his son, and to all his servants, to slay David. 2 And Jonathan, Saul's son, loved David much; and Jonathan told David, saying, Saul seeks to kill thee: take heed to thyself therefore to-morrow morning, and hide thyself, and dwell in secret. 3 And I will go forth, and stand near my father in the field where thou shalt be, and I will speak concerning thee to my father; and I will see what his answer may be, and I will tell thee. 4 And Jonathan spoke favourably concerning David to Saul his father, and said to him. Let not the king sin against thy servant David, for he has not sinned against thee, and his deeds are very good. 5 And he put his life in his hand, and smote the Philistines, and the Lord wrought a great deliverance; and all Israel saw, and rejoiced: why then dost thou sin against innocent blood, to slay David without a cause? 6 And Saul hearkened to the voice of Jonathan; and Saul swore, saying, As the Lord lives, he shall not die. 7 And Jonathan called David, and told him all these words; and Jonathan brought David in to Saul, and he was before him as in former times. 8 And there was again war against Saul; and David did valiantly, and fought against the Philistines, and smote them with a very great slaughter, and they fled from before him.

And an evil spirit from God was upon Saul, and he was resting in his house, and a spear was in his hand, and David was playing on the harp with his hands. 10 And Saul sought to smite David with the spear; and David withdrew suddenly from the presence of Saul; and he drove the spear into the wall; and David retired to the wall, and Saul departed, and fled, and escaped. And Melchol took images, and laid them on the bed, and she put the eider of a goat by his head, and covered them with clothes.

And Saul sent messengers to take David; and they say that he is sick. 12 And he sends to David, saying, Bring him to me on the bed, that I may slay him. And the messengers come, and, behold, the images were on the bed, and the goat's head at his head. 13 And Saul said to Melchol, Why hast thou thus deceived me, and suffered my enemy to depart, and he has escaped? And Melchol said to Saul, He said, Let me go, and if not, I will slay thee.

So David fled, and escaped, and comes to Samuel to Armathaim, and tells him all that Saul had done to him; and Samuel and David went, and dwelt in Navath in Ramah.

And it was told Saul, saying, Behold, David is in Navath in Ramah. 20 And Saul sent messengers to take David, and they saw the assembly of the prophets, and Samuel stood as appointed over them; and the Spirit of God came upon the messengers of Saul, and they prophesy. 21 And it was told Saul, and he sent other messengers, and they also prophesied: and Saul sat again a third time as messengers, and they also prophesied. 22 And Saul was very angry, and went himself also to Armathaim, and he comes as far as the well of the threshing-floor that is in Seph, and he asked and 23 And David said, Where are Samuel and David? and they said, Behold, in Navath in Rama. And he went thence to Navath in Rama, and there came the Spirit of God upon him. And he returned to Beth-lehem, and told his father, and all his elders, all that the Lord had done, and all with which he had come and the message of them, and how the king had made him ruler over the men of Israel, and the Lord was with him.

And David fled from Navath in Rama, and comes into the presence of Jonathan; and he said, What have I done, and what is my fault, and wherein have I sinned before thy father, that he seeks my life? And Jonathan said to him, Far be it from thee: thou shalt not die: behold, my father will not do any thing great or small without discovering it to me; and why should my father hide this matter from me? this thing is not so. And David answered Jonathan, and said, Thy father knows surely that I have found grace in thy sight, and he said, Let not Jonathan know this, lest he refuse his consent: but as the Lord liveth and thy soul lives, as I said, the space is filled up between me and death. And Jonathan said to David, What does thy soul desire, and what shall I do for thee?

And David said to Jonathan, Behold, to-morrow is the new moon, and I shall not eat bread, nor drink water, nor take my rest, till evening. And if thy father do in any wise enquire of me, then shalt thou say, David earnestly asked leave of me to run to Bethlehem his city; for there is there a yearly sacrifice for all the family. And if he shall say thus, Well,—all is safe for thy servant: but if he shall answer harsly to thee, then know that evil is determined by him. And thou shalt deal mercifully with thy servant; for thou hast brought thy servant into a covenant of the Lord with thyself: and if there is iniquity in thy servant, slay me thyself: but why dost thou thus bring me to thy father?

And Jonathan said, That be far from thee: for if I surely know that evil is determined by thee, although it should not be against thy cities, I will tell thee. And David said to Jonathan, Who can tell me if thy father should answer roughly? And Jonathan said to David, Go, and abide in the field. And they went out both into the field.

And Jonathan said to David, The Lord God of Israel knows that I will sound my father as I have an opportunity, three several times, and, behold, if good should be determined concerning David, and I do not send to thee to the field, God do so to Jonathan and more also: as I shall also report the evil to thee, and make it known to thee, and I will let thee go; and thou shalt depart in peace, and the Lord shall be with thee, as he was with my father. And if indeed I continue to live, then shalt thou deal mercifully with me; and if I indeed die, thou shalt not withdraw thy mercy from my house for ever: and if thou dost not, when the Lord cuts off the enemies of David each from the face of the earth, should it happen that the name of Jonathan be discovered by the house of David, then let the Lord seek out the enemies of David, and Jonathan aware yet again to David, because he loved the soul of him that loved him.

13 And Jonathan said, Tomorrow is the new moon, and thou wilt be enscribed for, because thy seat will be observed as vacant.

14 And thou shalt stay three days, and watch an open country, and shalt come to thy place where thou mayest hide thyself in the day of thy business, and thou shalt wait by that ergob. 15 And I will shoot three arrows, aiming them at a mark. 16 And behold, I will send a lad, saying, Go find me the arrow. 17 If I should expressly say to the lad, The arrow is here, and on this side of thee, take it; then come, for it is well with thee, and there is no reason for fear, as the Lord lives: but if I should say thus to the young man, The arrow is on that side of thee, and beyond; go, for the Lord hath sent thee away. 18 And as for the word which thou and I have spoken, behold, the Lord shall be between me and thee for even and for ever.

24 So David hides himself in the field, and the new month arrives, and the king comes to the table to eat. 25 And he sat upon his seat as in former times, even on his seat by the wall, and he went before Jonathan; and Abner sat on one side of Saul, and the place of David was empty. 26 And Saul said nothing on that day, for he said, It seems to have fallen out that he is not clean, because he has not purified himself.

27 And it came to pass on the morrow, on the second day of the month, that the place of David was empty; and Saul said to Jonathan his son, Why has not the son of Jesse attended both yesterday and to-day at the table? 28 And Jonathan answered Saul, and said to him, David asked leave of me to go as far as Bethlehem his city; 29 and he said, Let me go, I pray thee, for we have a family sacrifice in the city, and my brethren have sent for me, and now, if I have found grace in thine eyes, I will even go over and see my brethren: therefore he is not present at the table of the king.

30 And Saul was exceedingly angry with Jonathan, and said to him, Thou son of traitorous damsels! for do I not know that thou art an accomplice with the son of Jesse to thy shame, and to the shame of thy mother's nakedness? 31 For so long as the son of Jesse is upon the earth, thy kingdom shall not be established: now therefore send and take the young man, for he shall surely die. 32 And Jonathan answered Saul, Why is he to die, what has he done? 33 And Saul lifted up his spear against Jonathan to slay him: so Jonathan knew that this evil intent was turned on by his father to slay David. 34 And Jonathan sprang up from the table in great anger, and did not eat.

The meaning of the Heb. is here greatly obscured.  The Heb. is here greatly obscured.  A corruption of the Heb.  An open country.  A proper name.  Lit. deserting in a military sense.  Gr. all the days that.  Gr. is a son of death.
35 And Jonathan went out to the field, as he appointed to do for the signal to David, and a little boy was with him. 36 And he said to the boy, Run, find me the arrows which I shoot: and the boy ran, and Jonathan shot an arrow, and sent it beyond him. 37 And the boy came to the place where the arrow went, and Jonathan cried out after the lad, and said, The arrow is on that side of thee and beyond thee. 38 And Jonathan cried out after his boy, saying, Make all speed, and stay not. And Jonathan's boy gathered up the arrows, and brought the arrows to his master. 39 And the boy knew nothing, only Jonathan gave him the arrows, and said to him, Go, enter into the city.

And when the lad went in, then David arose from the threshing-floor, and fell upon his face, and did obeisance to him three times, and they kissed each other, and went for each other, for a great while. 41 And Jonathan said to David, Go in peace, and as we have both sworn in the name of the Lord, saying, The Lord shall be witness between me and thee, and between my seed and thy seed for ever—even so let it be. And David arose and departed, and Jonathan went into the city.

And David comes to Nob to Abimelech the priest: and Abimelech was amazed at meeting him, and said to him, Why art thou alone, and nobody with thee? 2 And David said to the priest, The king gave me a command today, and said to me, Let no one know the matter on which I send thee, and concerning which I have charged thee: and I have charged my servants to be in the place that is called, the faithfulness of God, 3 and now if there are under thy hand five loaves, give into my hand what is ready. 4 And the priest answered David, and said, There are no common loaves under my hand, for I have none but holy loaves: if the young men have been kept at least from women, then they shall eat them. 5 And David answered the priest, and said to him, Yea, we have been kept from women for three days: when I came forth for the journey all the young men were purified for this cause, but this expiation is unclean, wherefore it shall be sanctified this day because of my weapons.

6 So Abimelech the priest gave him the showbread; for there were no loaves there, but only the presence loaves which had been removed from the presence of the Lord: in order that the bread should be set on, on the day on which he took them.

7 And there was there on that day one of Saul's servants detained before the Lord, and his name was Doeg the Syrian, tending the mules of Saul. 8 And David said to Saul's servants...
Abimelech, See if there is here under thy hand spear or sword, for I have not brought in my hand my sword or my weapons, for the word of the king was urgent. And the men of Goliath the Philistine, whom thou smote in the valley of Elah; and it was wrapped in a yelcho: if thou wilt take it, take it for thyself, for there is no other except it here. And David said, Behold, there is none like it; give it me.

10 And he gave it him; and David arose, and fled in that day from the presence of Saul; and David came to Anachus king of Geth. 11 And the servants of Anachus said to him, Is this not David, the king of the land? Did not the dancing women begin the song to him, saying, Saul hath smitten his thousands, and David his ten thousands? 12 And David laid up the words in his heart, and was greatly afraid of Anachus king of Geth. 13 And he changed his appearance before him, and feigned himself a false character in that day; and drummed upon the doors of the city, and used extravagant gestures with his hands, and fell against the doors of the gate, and his spittle ran down upon his beard. 14 And Anachus said to his servants, Lo! ye see the man is mad: why have ye brought him in to me? Am I in want of madmen? that ye have brought him in to me to play the madman? he shall not come into the house.

And David departed thence, and escaped; and he comes to the cave of Odollam, and his brethren hear, and the house of his father, and they go down to him there. 2 And there gathered to him every one that was in distress, and every one that was in debt, and every one that was troubled in mind; and he was a leader over them, and there were with him about four thousand men.

3 And David departed thence to Massphath of Moab, and said to the king of Moab, Let, I pray thee, my father and my mother be with thee, until I know what God will do to me. 4 And he persuaded the king of Moab, and they dwelt with him continually, while David was in the hold. 5 And Gad said to David, Go in and dwell in the land of Judah. So David went, and came and dwelt in the city of Saric.

6 And Saul heard that David was discovered, and his men with him: now Saul dwelt in the hill below the field that is in Rana, and his spear was in his hand, and all his servants stood near him. 7 And Saul said to his servants that stood by him, Hear now, ye sons of Benjamin, will the son of Jesse indeed give all of ye fields and vineyards, and will he make you all captains of hundreds and captains of thousands? 8 that ye are all conspiring against me, and there is no one that informs me, whereas my son has made a covenant with the son of Jesse, and there is no one of you that is sorry for me, and inform me that my son has stirred up my servant against me for an enemy, as if it is this day?

9 And Doce the Syrian who was over the mules of Saul answered and said, I saw the son of Jesse as he came to Nomba to Abimelech son of Achitob the priest. 10 And the priest enjoined God for him, and gave him provisions, and gave him the sword of Goliath the Philistine.

11 And the king sent to call Abimelech son of Achitob and all his father's sons, the priests that were in Nomba; and they all came to the king. 12 And Saul said, Hear now, the word of Achitob. And he said, Lo! I am here, speak, my lord. 13 And Saul said to him, Why have thou and the son of Jesse conspired against me, that thou shouldst give him bread and a sword, and shouldst enquire of God for him, to raise him up against me as an enemy, as he is this day? 14 And he answered the king, and said, And where is there among all thy servants so faithful a heart as David the son of Jesse? 15 And the king said to Doec, Turn thou, and fall upon the priests: and Doec the Syrian turned, and slew the priests of the Lord, because their hand was with David, and because they knew that he fled, and they did not inform me. But the servants of the king would not lift their hands to fall upon the priests of the Lord. 16 And the king said to Doec, Turn thou, and fall upon the priests: and Doec the Syrian turned, and slew the priests of the Lord in that day, and rent his clothes and his people, all wearing an ephod. 17 And he smote Nomba the city of the priests with the edge of the sword, both man and woman, infant and suckling, and calf, and ox, and sheep.

18 And one son of Abimelech son of Achitob escapes, and his name was Abiathar, and he fled after David. 19 And Abiathar told David that Saul had slain all the priests of the Lord. 20 And David said to Abiathar, I knew it in that day, that Doec the Syrian would tell Saul; I am guilty of the death of the house of thy father. 21 Dwell with me; fear not, for wherever I shall seek a place of safety for my life, I will also seek a place for thy life, for thou art safely guarded with me.

And it was told David, saying, Behold, the Philistines war in Keila, and they rob, they trample on the threshing-flours. 2 And David enquired of the Lord, saying, Shall I go and smite these Philistines? And the Lord said, Go, and thou shalt smite these Philistines, and shall save Keila. 3 And the men of David said to him, Behold, we are afraid here in Judaea: and how shall it be if we go to Keila? shall we go after the spoils of the Philistines? 4 And David enquired yet again of the Lord; and the Lord answered him, and said to him, Arise and go down to Kirjathaim, for I will deliver the Philistines into thy hands. So David and his men with him went to Keilah, and fought with the Philistines; and they fled from before him, and he carried off their cattle, and smote them with a great slaughter; and David rescued the inhabitants of Keilah.

And it came to pass after this that David inquired of the Lord, saying, Shall I go up into any of the cities of Judah? And the Lord said to him, Go up. And he said, Where shall I go? And he said, Unto Keilah. And David said to them who went with him, Say to the inhabitants of Keilah, The men of Judah are come to you, for to keep you, because the Philistines are upon you. And they were inclined to open the doors to David; and David's men came in, and smote the inhabitants of Keilah, and took the city.

And David said to Abiathar the priest, son of Ahimelech, and of the house of Abiathar, Say, I pray thee, to the king, Alas, and what shall I do? And Abiathar said to David, For this reason the Lord brought thee up out of the land of Egypt, and smote the Egyptians, and also brought thee out of the hand of Saul. And now the army of Philistines is upon thee, and the Lord hath delivered them into thy hand. Therefore may the Lord give thee success this day, that the army of Philistines be delivered into thy hand.

And David said to Abiathar the priest, Say now to the king,遂 shall the Lord deliver me into the hand of the Philistines, and shall slay me. But Abiathar said to David, How dost thou know that the kingdom is thine, and that the kingdom of Israel is thine? Behold, the Lord has delivered the army of the Philistines into thy hand.

And David say to Abiathar the priest, Go, return to the land of Judah. And if Saul come to the city of Ziph, do not hearken to him in concerning me. For the Lord hath delivered me into his hand. And David went, and Abiathar also went with him, and they came to Naioth, the son of Anan, to the city of Jabesh.

And it came to pass, when David was in Naioth of Jabesh, that the spirit of the Lord was upon him, and David played the harp, and all the men were said to be in a madness. And David played the harp with his hand, and his hand was lightened upon him, and the spirit of the Lord came upon him, and he sang with his lips, and said, Howbeit Saul sought him to slay him. But the Lord delivered him, and said, Saul shall die by the hand of the sword of the Philistines. And when the Lord delivered David against Saul, he said to him, He is to be slain by the hand of the sword of the Lord. And David said to Abiathar the priest, son of Ahimelech, Bring me the ephod. And Abiathar the priest brought him the ephod. And David said, LORD God of Israel, come to me, I beseech thee. And it shall be, when it is a time, that I will hew thee into pieces, and my son with thee, but not now. For thou hast shown this day to Hosanna, that thou art a man of God, and that the people of Israel is God's. And David went up thence, and dwelt in a forest in the mount of Horon. And there was no bread, nor water, nor fire, but the Lord delivered him out of all his troubles. And it came to pass every morning, that the Spirit of the Lord was upon him, and he prophesied in the midst of the congregation, but when the Spirit of the Lord was departed from him, then he went to his place again. And the Spirit of the Lord was upon David, even as he was upon Saul. And he said to him, The Spirit of the Lord is departed from Saul, and he is become an outcast, like a wild ass.

And David said to Abiathar the priest, son of Ahimelech, Bring the ephod. And Abiathar the priest took the ephod, and came, and said to David, And the Spirit of the Lord was departed from Saul, and he is become an outcast, like a wild ass. And David said to Abiathar the priest, Is it well that thou hast gone with me, seeing all Saul's house is circumcised, but my flesh is uncircumcised? And Abiathar answered, I have sinned against the Lord. Behold, I have kept the blood of Saul, and the blood of his sons with me, for he knew not that it was of me that I did it. And David said to Abiathar, Go, return to the land of Judah. And be blessed of the Lord. And Abiathar returned to his own city. And David continued in the forest in the mount of Horon.
24 And the Ziphites arose, and went before Saul: and David and his men were in the wilderness of Maon, westward, to the right of Jezreel.

25 And Saul and his men went to seek him: and they brought word to David, and he went down to the rock that was in the wilderness of Maon; and Saul heard, and followed after to the wilderness of Maon.

26 And Saul said to David and his men, Go up, and smite the Philistines, and take them up; that we may avenge blood.

27 And there came a messenger to Saul, saying, Haste thee, and come hither, for the Philistines have invaded the land.

28 So Saul returned from pursuing after the Philistines; and went to meet the Philistines: therefore that place was called The divided Rock.

And David rose up from thence, and dwelt in the narrow passes of Engaddi.

And it came to pass when Saul returned from pursuing after the Philistines, that it was reported to him, saying, David is in the wilderness of Engaddi. And he took with him three thousand men, chosen out of all Israel, and went to seek David and his men in front of Saadaim. And he came to the flocks of sheep that were by the way, and there was a cave there; and Saul went in to make preparation, and David and his men were sitting in the innermost part of the cave. And the men of David said to him, Behold, this is the day of which the Lord spoke to thee, that he would deliver thine enemy into thine hands; and thou shalt do to him as it is good in thy sight. So David arose and cut off the skirt of Saul's garment secretly.

And it came to pass after this that David's heart smote him, because he had cut off the skirt of his garment. And David said to his men, The Lord forbid it me, that I should do this thing to my lord the anointed of the Lord, and raise up an astonishment against myself; I will not lift up my hand against my lord, for he is the anointed of the Lord. So David persuaded his men by his words, and did not suffer them to arise and slay Saul: and Saul arose and went his way.

And David rose up and went after him out of the cave; and David cried after Saul, saying, My lord, O king! and Saul looked behind him, and David bowed with his face to the ground, and did obeisance to him.

And David said to Saul, Why dost thou hearken to the words of the people, saying, Behold, David seeketh thy life? Behold, thine eyes have seen it now how that the Lord has delivered thee this day into my hands in the cave; and I would not slay thee, but spared thee, and said, I will not lift up my hand against my lord, for he is the Lord's anointed. And behold, the skirt of thy mantle is in my hand, I cut off the skirt, and did not slay thee: know then and see to-day, there is no evil in my hand, nor impiety, nor rebellion; and I have not sinned against thee, yet thou hast slain my young men, and hast caused me to take my soul in my hand. 10 The Lord judge between me and thee, and the Lord requite thee on thyself: but my hand shall not be upon thee. 11 As the old proverb saith, out of the evil come good; and out of the wicked also come good. 12 And now after whom dost thou come forth, O king of Israel? after whom dost thou pursue? after a dead dog, and after a flea? 13 The Lord be judge and umpire between me and thee, the Lord look upon and judge my cause, and rescue me out of thine hand. 14 And it came to pass when David had finished speaking these words to Saul, that Saul said, Is this thy voice, son David? and Saul lifted up his voice, and wept. 15 And Saul said to David, Thou art more righteous than I, for thou hast recompensed me good, but I have recompensed thee evil. 16 And thou hast told me to-day what good thou hast done me, how the Lord shut me up into thine hands to-day, and thou didst not slay me. 17 And if any one should find thy enemy in distress, and should send him forth in a good way, then the Lord will reward him good, but I have recompensed thee evil. 18 And now, behold, I know that thou shalt surely reign, and the kingdom of Israel shall be established in thy hand. 19 Now then swear to me by the Lord, that thou wilt not destroy my seed after me, that thou wilt not blot out my name from the house of my father. 20 So David swore to Saul: and Saul departed to his place, and David and his men went up to the stronghold of Messeera. 21 And Samuel died, and all Israel assembled, and bewailed him, and they bury him in his house in Aarnathaim: and David arose, and went down to the wilderness of Maon. 22 And there was a man in Maon, and his flocks were in Carmel, and he was a very great man; and he had three thousand sheep, and a thousand sheep-goats: and he happened to be shearing his flock in Carmel. 23 And the man's name was Nabal, and his wife's name was Abigaia: and his wife was of good understanding and very beautiful in person: but the man was harsh and evil in his doing, and the man was churlish. 24 And David heard in the wilderness, that Nabal the Carmelite was shearing his sheep. 25 And David sent ten young men, and he said to the young men, Go up to Carmel, and go to Nabal, and ask him in my name what he is. 26 And they said to him, May thou and thy house be prosperity, and all thine be prosperity. 27 And now, behold, I have heard that thy shepherds who were with us in the wilderness are shearing thy sheep, and we hindered them not, neither did we demand any thing from them all the time they were in Carmel. 28 Ask thy servants, and they will tell thee. Let them then thy servants find grace in thine eyes, for we are come on a good way to the ten thousand, that we may give grace to all the people, and to thy young men.

So the servants come and speak these words to Nabal, according to all these words in the name of David. And Nabal sprang up, and answered the servants of David, and said, Who is David? and who is the son of Jesse? now-a-days there is abundance of servants who depart every one from his master. And shall I take my bread, and my water, and the flesh that I have slain for my shearsers, and shall I give it to men of whom I know not whence they are? So the servants of David turned back, and returned, and came and reported to David according to these words. And David said to his men, Gird on every man his sword. And they went up after David, about four hundred men: and two hundred abode with the stuff.

And one of the servants reported to Abigia the wife of Nabal, saying, Behold, David sent messengers out of the wilderness to salute our lord; but he turned away from them. And the men were very good to us; they did not hinder us, neither did they demand from us any thing all the days that we were with them. And when we were in the field, they were as a wall round about us, both by night and by day, all the days that we were with them feeding the flock. And now do thou consider, and see what thou wilt do; for mischief is determined against our lord and against his house; and he is a vile character, and one cannot speak to him.

And Abigia hasted, and took two hundred loaves, and two vessels of wine, and five sheep ready dressed, and five ephahs of fine flour, and one homer of dried grapes, and two hundred cakes of figs, and put them upon asses. And she said to her servants, Go on before me, and behold I come after you: but she told not her husband. And it came to pass when she had mounted her ass and was going down by the covert of the mountain, behold, David and his men came down to meet her, and she met them. And David said, Perhaps I have kept all his possessions in the wilderness that he should wrong me, and we did not order the taking any thing of all his goods; yet he has rewarded me evil for good. So God do to David and more also, if I leave one mule of all that belong to Nabal until the morning.

And Abigia saw David, and she hasted, and alighted from her ass; and she fell before David on her face, and did obeisance to him, bowing to the ground, even to his feet, and said, On me, my lord, be my wrong: let, I pray thee, thy servant speak in thine ears, and hear thou the words of thy servant. Let not my lord, I pray thee, take to heart this pestilent man, for according to his name, so is he; Nabal is his name, and folly is with him; but I thy handmaid saw not the servants of my lord whom thou didst send.
And now, my lord, as the Lord lives, and thy soul lives, as the Lord has kept thee from coming against innocent blood, and as I have exalted thee this day above thy fellows. 22 And now accept this gift of thine servants, for the Lord has kept thee from doing harm, and I have exalted thee this day above thy fellows. 23 And now accept this gift of thine servants; for the Lord has kept thee from doing harm, and I have exalted thee this day above thy fellows. 24 And now accept this gift of thine servants, for the Lord has kept thee from doing harm, and I have exalted thee this day above thy fellows.

1. KINGS XXV. 43—XXVI. 16.

Thus David and Abessa go in among the people by night: and behold, Saul was fast asleep in the chariot, and his spear was stuck in the ground near his head, and Abenner and his people slept round about him. And Abessa said to David, The Lord has this day shut up thine enemy into thine hands, and now I will smite him to the earth with the spear to the ground once for all, and I will not smite him again. And David said to Abessa, Do not lay him low, for who shall lift up his hand against the anointed of the Lord, and be guiltless? And David said, As the Lord lives, if the Lord smite him not, or his day come and he die, or he go down to battle and be added to his fell comrade, let me smite him. The Lord forbid it me that I should lift up my hand against the anointed of the Lord: and now take, I pray thee, the spear from his bolster, and the pitcher of water, and let us return home. So David took the spear, and the pitcher of water from his bolster, and they went home: and there was no one that saw, and no one that knew, and there was no one that awoke, all being asleep, for a stupor from the Lord had fallen upon them. So David went over to the other side, and stood upon the top of a hill afar off, and there was a good distance between them. And David called to the people, and spoke to Abenner, saying, Wilt thou not answer, Abenner? and Abenner answered, who art thou that callest? And David said to Abenner, Art not thou a man? and who is like thee in Israel? Why then dost thou not guard thy lord the king? for one out of the people went in to destroy thy lord the king. And this thing is not good...
And Saul said, I have sinned: turn, son David, for I will not hurt thee, because my life was precious in thine eyes; and to-day, I have been foolish and have erred exceedingly.

And David answered and said, Behold, the spear of the king: let one of the servants come over and take it. And the Lord shall recompense each according to his righteousness and his truth, since the Lord delivered thee this day into my hands, and I would not lift my hand against the Lord's anointed. And behold, thy life has been precious this very day in my eyes, so let my life be precious before the Lord, and may he protect me, and deliver me out of all affliction. And Saul said to David, Blessed be thou, my son; and thou shalt surely do valiantly, and surely prevail. And David went on his way, and Saul returned to his place.

And David dwelt in his heart. Now shall I one day delivered for death into the hands of Saul; and there is no good thing for me unless I should escape into the land of the Philistines, and Saul should cease from seeking me through every coast of Israel. So David arose, and the six hundred men that were with him, and he went to Anochus, son of Ammach, king of Beth. And David dwelt with Anochus, and he and his men, each with his family; and David and both his wives, Achinnaam the Jezreelitess, and Abigail the daughter of Nabal theBethite. And it was told Saul that David had fled to Geth; and he no longer sought after him.

And David said to Anochus, If now thy servant has found grace in thine eyes, let them give me, I pray thee, a place in one of the cities of the country, and I will dwell there; for why does thy servant dwell with thee in a royal city? And he gave him Sekelac in that day; therefore Sekelac came into possession of the king of Judah to this day.

And the number of the days that David dwelt in the country of the Philistines was four months.
And David and his men went up, and made an attack on all the Gessrites and on the Amalekites: and behold, the land was inhabited, (even the land 8from Gelapsur) by those who come from the fortified cities even to the land of Egypt. 9And he smote the land, and saved neither man nor woman alive; and they took flocks, and herds, and asses, and camels, and raiment; and they returned and came to Anchus. 10And Anchus said to David, On whom have ye made an attack to-day? And David said to Anchus, On the south of Judea, and on the south of Jerusalem, and on the south of the Kenezite. 11And I have not sought a man or woman alive to bring them to Geth, saying, Lest they carry a report to Geth against us, saying, These things David does. And this was his manner all the days that David dwelt in the country of the Philistines.

So David had the full confidence of Anchus, who said, He is thoroughly disregarded among his people in Israel, and he shall be my servant for ever.

And it came to pass in those days that the Philistines gathered themselves together with their armies to go out to fight with Israel; and Anchus said to David, Know surely, that thou shalt go forth to battle with me, thou, and thy men. 2And David said to Anchus, Thus now thou shalt know what thy servant will do. And Anchus said to David, So will I make thee captain of my body-guard continually.

And Samuel died, and all Israel lamented for him, and they bury him in his city, in Armathaim. And Saul had removed those who had in them divining spirits, and the wizards, out of the land. 4And the Philistines assembled themselves, and came and encamp in Sonam: and Saul gathers all the men of Israel, and they encamp in Gelbue. 5And Saul saw the camp of the Philistines, and he was alarmed, and his heart was greatly dismayed. 6And Saul enquired of the Lord; and the Lord answered him not by dreams, nor by manifestations, nor by prophets.

Then Saul said to his servants, Seek for me a woman who has in her a divining spirit, and I will go to her, and enquire of her: and his servants said to him, Behold, there is a woman who has in her a divining spirit at Aendor.

And Saul disguised himself, and put on other raiment, and he goes, and he sees, and two men with him, and they come to the woman by night; and he said to her, Divine to me, I pray thee, by the divining spirit within thee, and bring up to me him whom I shall name to thee. 9And the woman said to him, Behold now, thou knowest what Saul has done, how he has cut off’s those who had in them divining spirits, and the wizards from the land, and why do thou send a snare for my life to destroy it? 10And Saul sware to her, and said, As the Lord lives, no injury shall come upon thee on this account. 11And the woman said, Whom shall I bring up to thee? and he said, Bring up to me Samuel. 12And the woman saw Samuel, and cried out with a loud voice: and the woman said to Saul, Why hast thou deceived me? for thou art Saul. And the king said to her, Fear not; tell me whom thou hast seen. And the woman said to him, I saw gods ascending out of the earth. And he said to her, What didst thou perceive? and she said to him, An upright man ascending out of the earth, and he was clothed with a mantle. And Saul knew that this was Samuel, and he stooped with his face to the earth, and did obeisance to him.

And Samuel said, Why hast thou troubled me, that I should come up? And Saul said, I am greatly distressed, and the Philistines war against me, and God has departed from me, and no longer hearkens to me either by the hand of prophets or by dreams: and now I have called thee to tell me what I shall do. And Samuel said, Why askest thou me, whereas the Lord has departed from thee, and taken part with thy neighbour? And the Lord has done to thee, as the Lord spoke by me, and the Lord will rend thy kingdom out of thy hand, and will give it to thy neighbour David, because thou didst not hearken to the voice of the Lord, and didst not execute his fierce anger upon Amalec, therefore the Lord has hasted this thing this day.

And the Lord shall deliver Israel with thee into the hands of the Philistines, and to-morrow thou and thy sons with thee shall fall, and the Lord shall deliver the army of Israel into the hands of the Philistines.

And Saul instantly fell at his full length upon the earth, and was greatly afraid because of the words of Samuel; and there was no longer any strength in him, for he had eaten no bread all that day, and all that night. And the woman said to Saul, Do thou, and I will set before thee a morsel of bread, and eat, and thou shalt be strengthened, for thou wilt be going on thy way. But he would not eat; so his servants and the woman constrained him, and he hearkened to their voice, and rose up from the earth, and sat upon a bench. And the woman had a fat heifer in the house; and she hasted and slew it; and she took meal and kneaded it, and baked unleavened cakes.

And she brought the meat before Saul, and before his servants; and they ate, and rose up, and departed that night.

And the Philistines gather all their armies to Aphek, and Israel encamped in Aedor, which is in Jezreel. And the lords of the Philistines went up by hundreds and thousands, and David and his men went in the rear with Anchus. And the lords of the Philistines said, Who are these that pass by? And Anchus said to the captains of the Philistines, Is not this David the king of the house of Israel, who has caused Saul to descend from the kingdom of the house of Israel? And the Philistines said, How is it then that Saul has hasted and made obeisance to him, and is come to meet him? And the men of Israel had heard that the Philistines were gone up, and all Israel was constrained to go out to battle against the Philistines. And the Philistines gathered and encamped at Aphek, and the Israelites also gathered and encamped at Aphek.

And the Philistines encamped on the one side of Michmash, and Israel on the other side of Michmash, and the battle was at Michmash.

And Saul chose out three thousand men of Benjamin, and set them in array to meet the Philistines, who were encamped at Michmash.

And the Philistines encamped upon the mountain of Lebo-Mahanaim, and the Israelites upon the mountain of Dan. And the Philistines encamped on Ephes-dammim, and the Israelites encamped at Aphek.

And the Philistines encamped against Israel, and drew up their forces to battle against the Israelites, and the Philistines encamped in the valley of Rephaim, and the Israelites encamped in the valley of Rephaim.

And the Philistines encamped in the valley of Rephaim, and the Israelites encamped in the valley of Rephaim.

And the Philistines encamped in the valley of Rephaim, and the Israelites encamped in the valley of Rephaim.

And the Philistines encamped in the valley of Rephaim, and the Israelites encamped in the valley of Rephaim.

And the Philistines encamped in the valley of Rephaim, and the Israelites encamped in the valley of Rephaim.

And the Philistines encamped in the valley of Rephaim, and the Israelites encamped in the valley of Rephaim.

And the Philistines encamped in the valley of Rephaim, and the Israelites encamped in the valley of Rephaim.

And the Philistines encamped in the valley of Rephaim, and the Israelites encamped in the valley of Rephaim.

And the Philistines encamped in the valley of Rephaim, and the Israelites encamped in the valley of Rephaim.

And the Philistines encamped in the valley of Rephaim, and the Israelites encamped in the valley of Rephaim.

And the Philistines encamped in the valley of Rephaim, and the Israelites encamped in the valley of Rephaim.

And the Philistines encamped in the valley of Rephaim, and the Israelites encamped in the valley of Rephaim.

And the Philistines encamped in the valley of Rephaim, and the Israelites encamped in the valley of Rephaim.

And the Philistines encamped in the valley of Rephaim, and the Israelites encamped in the valley of Rephaim.
servant of Saul of king of Israel; he has been with us # some time; even this second year and I have not found at all let in him from the day that he attached himself to me, even until this day. ¶ And the captains of the Philistines were displeased at him, and they say to him, Send the man away, and let him return to his place, where thou didst set him; and let him not come with us to the war, and let him not be a vauntor in the camp: and wherewith will the people be reconciled to his master? will it not be with the heads of those men? ¶ Is not this David whom they # celebrated in dances, saying, Saul has smitten his thousands, and David his ten thousands?

And Anchus called David, and said to him, At the Lord lives thou art right and approved in my eyes, and so is thy going out and thy coming in with me in the army, and I have not found any evil to charge against thee from the day that thou camest to me until this day: but thou art not approved in the eyes of the lords. ¶ Now then return and go in peace, thus thou shalt not do evil in the sight of the lords of the Philistines.

And David said to Anchus, What have I done to thee? and what hast thou found in thy servant from the first day that I was before thee even until this day, that I should not come and war against the enemies of the lord my king?

And Anchus answered David, I know that thou art good in my eyes, but the lords of the Philistines say, He shall not come with us to the war. ¶ Now then rise up early in the morning, thou and the servants of thy lord that are come with thee, and go to the place where I appointed you, and entertain no evil thought in thy heart, for thou art good in my sight: and rise early for your journey when it is light, and depart.

So David arose early, and he and his men, to depart and guard the land of the Philistines: and the Philistines went up to Jezreel to battle.

And it came to pass when David and his men had entered Sekelac on the third day, that Amalec had made an incursion upon the south, and upon Sekelac, and smitten Sekelac, and burnt it with fire. ¶ And as to the women and all things that were in it, great and small, they slew neither man nor woman, but carried them captives, and went on their way.

3 And David and his men came into the city, and, behold, it was burnt with fire; and there were their wives, and their sons, and their daughters, were carried captives. ¶ And David and his men lifted up their voice, and wept till there was no longer any power within them to weep. ¶ And both the wives of David were carried captive, Achinaam the Jezraelites, and Abigai, the wife of Nabal the Carmelite. ¶ And David was greatly distressed, because the people spoke of stoning him, because the soul of all the people was grieved, each for his son and his daughters: but David strengthened himself in the Lord his God.
I. Kings XXX. 7—23.

And David said to Abiathar the priest the son of Achimelech, Bring near the ephod. And David enquired of the Lord, saying, Shall I pursue after this troop? shall I overtake them? and he said to him, Pursue; for thou shalt surely overtake them, and thou shalt surely rescue the captives. So David went, and he and the six hundred men gat him down, and they made him king, even him and his men. And when they came, and the brook Bosor, and the superfluous ones stopped. And he pursued them with four hundred men; and there remained behind two hundred men, who tarried on the other side of the brook Bosor.

And they find an Egyptian in the field, and they smote him, and brought him to David; and they gave him bread and he ate, and his spirit was restored in him; for he had not eaten bread and had not drunk water three days and three nights. And David said to him, Whose art thou? and whence art thou? And he said, I am an Egyptian, servant of an Amalekite; and my master left me, because I was taken ill three days ago. And we made an incursion on the south of the Chelethite, and on the parts of Judah, and on the south of Cheleb, and we burnt Sekelet with fire, and David smote him. Wilt thou bring me down to this troop? and he said, Swear now to me by God, that thou wilt not kill me, and that thou wilt not deliver me into the hands of my master, and I will bring thee down upon this troop.

So he brought him down thither, and behold, there were scattered abroad upon the surface of the land, and he was drinking, and feasting by reason of all the great spoils which they had taken out of the land of the Philistines, and out of the land of Juda. And David came upon them, and smote them from the morning till the evening, and on the next day; and not one of them bodeed. And they were more in number than the sand which is upon the seashore, unto which it is not possible for man to count them; and David saved himself, and his men.

And David recovered all that the Amalekites had taken, and he rescued both his wives. And nothing was wanting to them of great or small, either of the spoils, or of the sons and daughters, or anything that they had taken: whatsoever was found among them, and David recovered all. And he took all the flocks and the herds, and led them away before the spoils: and it was said of these spoils, These are the spoils of David.

And David comes to the two hundred men who were left behind that they should not follow after David, and he had caused them to remain by the brook Bosor; and they came forth to meet David, and to meet his people with him: and David drew near to the people, and they asked him how he did. Then every ill-disposed and bad man of the soldiers who had gone with David, answered at it, because they did not pursue together with us, we will not give them of the spoils which we have recovered, only let each one lead away with him his wife and his children, and let them return.
David said, Ye shall not do so. after this: the Lord hath delivered the enemy into your hands. 21 And Saul said to David, Thou art not mine equal in battle: 22 The Lord deliver thee this day in the hand of thine enemies. 23 And Saul said to his armour-bearer, Draw thy sword, and thrust me through myself; lest these men say, Saul hath died in battle. 24 But the armour-bearer said, And who is thine equal in Israel? whom art thou that thou shouldest be a king over me? 25 And Saul leaped up upon his bed, and died. 26 And the men of Israel turned, and fled, and Saul escaped, and went into a hideous rock of Carmel, and no man followed after him. 27 And Saul said, I will go into the thickets of the wood, perhaps I shall find hidage. 28 But Saul said, Alas, my brethren; I have offended God, and it is known to me, that Saul hath sinned against the Lord. 29 But the armour-bearer said, And who is thine equal in Israel, that thou shouldest be king over me? 30 Then said Saul to his armour-bearer, Draw thy sword, and fell upon me; for my hand shall fall upon the Philistines. 31 And the armour-bearer said, I will not fall upon the dead man. 32 And Saul took a sword, and fell upon it. 33 And when his armour-bearer said to him, What hast thou done? thou hast sinned; and an evil shall befall thee in the latter days. 34 For as thou hast heard how the Lord delivered this people into thy hand, and delivered them out of the hand of Saul, he is this day an dead of the Lord. 35 Then said Saul to his armour-bearer, Draw thy sword, and thrust me through myself; lest these men say, He is fled only. But the armour-bearer said, I will most surely stand thee between the dead and living. 36 And he said, I pray thee, stand thee up, and I will call upon the Lord, that he may deliver me out of thine hand. 37 And Saul fell upon his bed, and died: and when his armour-bearer saw that Saul was dead, he fell also upon his sword, and died: so that both of them died together. 38 And when the men of Judah came to the place which is in the wood, behold, there was a great stone. And Saul said to his armour-bearer, Come, let us go over to the place. And when they were come over, behold, there was a band of Philistines coming down to the rock of Gibeah. 39 And there came a man out of the city, and said to the man that told Saul, What answer hast thou given to this man? And he said, I have given him a bad answer. 40 And the man answered him, And is it a light thing to speak to the king, say, Wherefore hast thou killed me? 41 And Saul said to the man that told him, Am I a dog, that I should bite thee? And the man answered Saul, and said, I have told thee, saying, That thou hast done a bad thing. 42 And when they passed over the valley of Aijalon, there was a band of prophets coming down from the hill of Gedera, and they prophesied: 43 And one of the prophets said to Saul, Saul, Saul, wherefore hast thou smitten me? And he answered, I have smitten thee because thou hast rejected the word of the Lord. 44 And the king said to his armour-bearer, Raise me up, for I would die. 45 And the armour-bearer said, Let me smite thee five times with the sword before I die. So he smote him five times. 46 And said to his armour-bearer, Give me now the sword; for it is known to me that I must die to-day. And the armour-bearer said, As the Lord liveth, I cannot do these things. 47 And Saul said to his armour-bearer, Draw thy sword, and fell upon me; perhaps the Lord will show himself to me by thine hand. And the armour-bearer was afraid; for he did not, and was gentle. Then Saul said, Stand, hold thy sword, for to-morrow I will give thee a reward. 48 So Saul took the sword, and fell upon it. 49 And when Saul saw that he had done nothing, then he said, Stand, hold thy sword, for to-morrow I will give thee another reward. And the armour-bearer said, As the Lord liveth, I cannot do these things. 50 Then said Saul to his armour-bearer, Two swords shall I give thee. And he said, As the Lord liveth, one. 51 And Saul said to his armour-bearer, Do as thou hast been taught. And he made him lie down upon his bed, and he died. 52 And when Saul saw that he was dead, he fell also upon his sword; and died. 53 So both of them died, both Saul and the armour-bearer. And the people said one to another, Shall we go to Gibeah of Benjamin to count again the inheritance among us? 54 And they found him dead, and set him in the tent, and shut the tent doors upon him.
And it came to pass after Saul was dead, that David returned from smiting Amalec, and David abode two days in Sekelad. And it came to pass on the third day, that, behold, a man came from the camp, from the people of Saul, and his garments were rent, and earth was upon his head; and it came to pass when he went in to David, that he fell upon the earth, and did obeisance to him. And David said to him, Whence comest thou? and he said to him, I have escaped out of the camp of Israel. And David said to him, What is the matter? tell me. And he said, The people fled out of the battle, and many of the people have fallen and are dead, and Saul and Jonathan his son are dead. And David said to the young man who brought him the tidings, How knowest thou that Saul and Jonathan his son are dead? And the young man that brought the tidings, said to him, I happened accidentally to be upon mount Gelbe; and, behold, Saul was leaning upon his spear, and, behold, the chariots and captains of horse pressed hard upon him. And he looked behind him, and saw me, and called me; and I said, Behold, here am I. And he said to me, Who art thou? and I said, I am an Amalekite. And he said to me, Stand, I pray thee, over me, and slay me, for a dreadful darkness has come upon me, for all my life is in me. So I stood over him and slew him, because I knew he would not live after he was fallen; and I took the crown that was upon his head, and the bracelet that was upon his arm, and I have brought them hither to my lord. And David laid hold of his garments, KAI ἔγενετο μετὰ τὸ ἀποθανεῖν Σαούλ, καὶ Δαυίδ ἀνέστραψε· τόποι τῶν Αμαλή, καὶ ἐκάθισε Δαυίδ ἐν Σεκελακ ἡμέρας δύο. and rent them; and all the men who were with him rent their garments. 12 And they lamented, and wept, and fasted till evening, for Saul and for Jonathan his son, and for the people of Judah, and for the house of Israel, because they were smitten with the sword. 13 And David said to the young man who brought the tidings to him, Whence art thou? and he said, I am the son of an Amalekite sojourner.

14 And David said to him, How was it with Saul, and with the house of Jonathan his son? 15 And he said, Saul died; 16 and David said, Is there not here a king's son? 17 And they told David, and he went to Gath; and all his brethren went with him, and they told it to their father. 18 And Saul smote Amalekite who brought tidings to David, saying, Why didst thou let this man go, and let him escape that day? 19 And David said to his father, Why should I sorrow for him, as one that hateth life? and he is my brother, and his mother, and his brother's mother, and his sister, and his brother's sister. 20 And when David had turned aside to make his bed, and Saul had turned aside to lie down, it was told David, saying, Saul is set at Gath, and is lying down to die there. 21 And the men of Judah said, What will David have? for they said, He seeketh the death of our master Saul, and the death of his son Jonathan. 22 And they said, Is not Saul's enemy Goliath the Gittite, whom thou smote with the stone? now therefore, take his weapon, and his armor, and set it for a token for the people to look upon. 23 And he took his armor, and put it in his place, and he sat down on his place, and went out as he went into battle, and he struck the Philistines, and they fled before him. 24 And when the men of Israel saw him, they praised the Lord. 25 And David said, Whose spear is that? and the men of Israel said, Is not this Saul the king? and they praised the Lord. 26 And the men of Israel said unto David, Go up to the king, and say so. 27 And David went to the king, and said, Doth thy servant have this for a token? and the king said, Is it not a man of war? and is there not in the young men such a man as this? 28 And David said, There is none like that, neither is there any such or his like. 29 And the king said, Whither was he? and David said, Behold, he is beside thee, to-day, in the field. 30 And the king said, Make me a coat after the manner of this, and set it for a token upon the young man. 31 And they made for the young man a coat of violet stuff, and set it for a token upon David. 32 And David said, Whatsoever is lacking will I restore to thee. 33 And David said to the young man, Where wast thou? and the young man said, Standing by the carriage. 34 And he said to David, Truly thy servant went with the young men of my lord Saul, when there was war with the Philistines; and there was no man among all the young men of Israel, that did not go with Saul and his son Jonathan. 35 And the young man answered and said, Why should I do this? seeing my lord Saul is dead today, and the young men of my lord are grown tedious to death. 36 And if thy servant had known in the field where my lord was, and who sat on the saddle of my lord's ass, I would not have come to tell my lord. 37 And he said, What hast thou lacked here, that thou hast gone so early from place to place? 38 And David said unto him, Whither wentst thou? and he said, To view the charge. 39 And David said unto him, Bless God, who hath given up the hand of thine master's enemy. 40 And David said to the young man, Whose spear is that? and he said, As the spear of one that goeth hither and thither in the army. 41 And David said unto him, Take it; for Whence art thou? and he said, Of the desert of J shadow. 42 And David said to him, Go with me, and I will give thee a reward. 43 And he said, What shall I do for thee, great king? and David said to him, Thou shalt feed my flock, and shalt take care of my heritage, the herd, and the flock, and shalt feed my children, and shalt keep my household, and it shall be done for thee. 44 And he said, What wilt thou give me, that I may go from thee? and David said to him, Thou shalt not go hence; for I will give thee that which I have in my house, and in my heritage, a portion of the bread of my table, and of the wine of my table, and of the oil, and of the milk, and of the flesh of my table. 45 And he said, What is one more, great king? and David said to him, Wherefore hast thou undertaken to be my son today? 46 And there was war between the Philistines and Israel; and Abigail the wife of Nabal was the daughter of Talmai the son of Maacah, which was of the Gadites. 47 And it was so, when David was in the wilderness, that he heard that Abagium the wife of Nabal was beautiful. 48 And David said, Shall there no good thing be said of the woman, and shall she not be spoken well of in her husband's lifetime? and Abigail spake good of her husband Nabal. 49 And it came to pass, when David heard that Nabal smote DAVID 41 the seven hundred men and three hundred men, that David said, I will not take of his life, to leave a name for Nabal in his lifetimes. 50 And it came to pass, when Saul heard of it, that he was comforted: and Saul said, Is there not peace between me and David? and David said, There is peace between me and my Lord. 51 And Saul said, Whence art thou? and David said, I am the son of thy ser vant Jonathan. 52 And Saul said, My son Jonathan loved thee, and David attached himself to me, and I am sure that he will do kindness to thee. 53 And Saul said, Blessed be thou of the Lord; I have not seen a man like thee since the day that Jonathan my son died, and that he died for thee. 54 And David said, If I have not found grace in thy sight, then receive my head, 55 and let not my head be put down to the ground before the feet of my Lord, for David said to Saul, Why should the heads of thy servants be put down to the ground before the feet of my Lord? 56 And Saul said, Fear not. And David said, My Lord lives, and the Lord will defend me from all ills. 57 And Saul said to David, Go in peace, and the Lord be with thee. And David went out, and Saul sent him a present.
men of Jabio of the country of Galadon have buried Saul. 5 And David sent messengers to the rulers of Jabio of the country of Galadon, and David said to them, Blessed be ye of the Lord, because ye have wrought this much for your lord, even toward Saul the anointed of the Lord, and ye have buried him and Jonathan his son. 6 And now may the Lord deal in mercy and truth toward you: and I also will require toward you this good deed, because ye have done this. 7 And now let, your hands be made strong, and Jemah, the son of Saul is dead, and moreover the house of Juda have anointed me to be king over them.

But Abenner, the son of Ner, the commander-in-chief of Saul's army, took Jebothe of Saul, and brought him up from Chebron, and met them at the fountain of Gabaon, and said, 8 And the days which David reigned in Chebron over the house of Juda were seven years and six months. 9 And Abenner the son of Ner went forth, and the servants of Jebothe the son of Saul, from Manaeem to Gabaon. 10 And Joab the son of Sarua, and the servants of David, went forth from Chebron, and met them at the fountain of Gabaon, and at the place where they sat down by the fountain on this side, and those that were on that side. 11 And Abenner said to Joab, Let them do, and let them arise, and play before us. And Joab said, Let them arise. 12 And there arose of the men of Benjamin, belonging to Jebothe the son of Saul, and twelve of the servants of David. 13 And they seized every one the head of his neighbour with his hand, and his sword was thrust into the side of his neighbour, and they fell down together, and the name of that place was called The portion of the treacherous, which is in Gabaon. 14 And the battle was very severe on that day; and Abenner and the men of Israel were worsted before the servants of David. 15 And there were there the three sons of Sarua, Joab, and Abessa, and Asael: and Asael was swift in his feet as a roe in the field. 16 And Asael followed after Abenner, and turned not to go to the right hand or to the left from following Abenner. 17 And Abenner looked behind him, and said, Art thou Asael himself? and he said, I am. 18 And Abenner said to him, Turn thou to the right hand or to the left, and lay hold for thyself of that which is in the hand of thee: but Asael would not turn back from following him. 19 And Abenner said yet again to Asael, Stand aloof from me, lest I smite thee to the ground? and how should I lift up my face to Joab? 20 And what does this mean? return to Joab thy brother. But he would not stand 25 And they gave in charge to the king's son Abner all the people, and to the men of Israel, and to Joab the son of Zeruiah.

26 When David had said to Abner, "Come and let us go together into the camp, and speak face to face."

27 Abner said, "Very well; I will come to thee, but first let me go and say grace to the king." And Joab bade Abner go in peace. Then Abner went into the king's presence, and said to him, "O king! I have counsel for thee, but I fear to speak in thy presence because Joab thy servant is with the king, and in an evil manner against me.

28 "Therefore, if thou wilt deliver me, I will speak unto the king; but if not, I will speak nothing." Then David said, "Good; let Abner go. And he went to the king, and said, "My lord the king! SAUL was my father and I was thy servant; and yet I said, "Why have I not been crowned king in place of thee?"

29 And he answered, "The Lord keep it, and give thee one better than I am, to rule over his people Israel; and I am but a stranger in his house, and a stranger in Israel.

30 But in me there is no iniquity; I have done nothing to deserve death; for I have not deserted the king, neither have I been wicked against thee.

31 "Why then hast thou not been king?"

32 Abner said, "The king delivered me from the hand of Saul, and said to me, 'Be strong, and save both the king and his house, and the men of Judah;' and I have been to this day a father to the king.

33 "And now the king seeks to put me to death today, because I counselled him not to go out to meet Joab the son of Zeruiah; for Joab conspired against the king, and the king knew it not.

34 "Therefore, I counselled this people, that I might deliver thee from the hand of their servant Joab, and I counselled thee to come, till I should come to thee, and make my peace with thee." And the king said to Abner, "Very well; I will do as thou hast said; be strong against Saul."

35 And Abner said, "Very well; I will make peace between thee and Saul. I will send word to thee, and thou shalt know what I will do; but see that thou art safe in the hand of my master."

36 And Abner went to the camp, and told Saul, "Abner came to me, and said, 'The king has counselled me to come to thee, and I said, 'Very well, I will go.'"

37 "And Abner said unto me, 'Very well; I will make peace between thee and the people who are with thee; but see that thou art safe in the hand of my master.'"

38 Then Saul said, "Is there not peace between me and thee, and between my people and thy people, and shall I not be thy servant?"

39 And Abner said, "Very well; I will make peace between thee and Saul. I will go, and will speak for thee to Saul; and God shall be with thee as he has been with thee till now.

40 "And now, I counsel thee, go to hearken to the voice of God, and do that which is good, and thou shalt have a sure reward for that which thou dost; but if thou refuse, then wickedness shall pursue thee, until thou die with violence.'

41 Then the king said to Abner, "Go again to Ashtaroth; and I will send thee a present forthwith." And Abner said, "Very well; I will go; I will see Saul, and I will bring the king's commission with me; but I will see what Saul will do." And Abner returned to Ashtaroth; and Saul sent him a present.
And Jebosesthe could not any longer answer Abenner a word, because he feared him.

And Abenner sent messengers to David to Theamah where he was, immediately, saying, Make thy covenant with me, and behold, I will bring back to thee all the house of Israel. And David said, With a good will will I will make with thee a covenant: only I demand one condition of thee, saying, Thou shalt not see my face, unless thou bring Melochel the daughter of Saul, when thou constest to see my face. And David sent messengers to Jebosesthe the son of Saul, saying, Restore me my wife Melochel, whom I took for a hundred foreskins of the Philistines. And Jebosesthe sent, and took her from her husband, even from Phaltiel the son of Selle. And her husband went with her weeping behind her as far as Barakim. And Abenner said to him, Go, return; and he returned.

And Abenner spoke to the elders of Israel, saying, In former days ye sought David to reign over you; and now perform it: for the Lord has spoken concerning David, saying, By the hand of my servant David I will save Israel out of the hand of all their enemies. And Abenner spoke in the ears of Benjamin; and Abenner went to speak in the ears of David at Chebron, all that seemed good in the eyes of Israel and in the eyes of the house of Benjamin. And Abenner came to David to Chebron, and with him twenty men: and David made for Abenner and his men with him a banquet of wine. And Abenner said to David, I will arise now, and go, and gather all the tribes of Israel with thee: and I will make with him a covenant, and thou shalt reign over all whom thy soul desires. And David sent away Abenner, and he departed in peace.

And, behold, the servants of David and Joab arrived from their expedition, and they brought much spoil with them: and Abenner was not with David in Chebron, because he had sent him away, and he had departed in peace. And Joab and all his army came, and it was reported to Joab, saying, Abenner the son of Ner is come to David, and David has let him go, and he has departed in peace. And Joab went in to the king, and said, What is this that thou hast done? behold, Abenner came to thee; and why hast thou let him go, and he has departed in peace? and the king said, Why didst thou not the mischief of Abenner the son of Ner, that he came to deceive thee, and to know thy going out and thy coming in, and to know all things that thou doest?

And Joab returned from David, and sent messengers to Abenner after him; and they bring him back from the well of Seiram: but David knew it not. 28 And David heard of it afterwards, and said, I and my kingdom are guiltless before the Lord even for ever of the blood of Abenner the son of Ner. 29 Let it fall upon the head of Joab, and upon all the house of his father; and let there not be wanting of the house of Joab one that has an issue, or a leper, or a blemish, or any thing that falls by the sword, or that fails. 30 For Joab and Abessa his brother laid wait continually for Abenner, because he slew Abenner their brother at Gabaon in the battle.

31 And David said to Joab and to all the people with him, 'Renew your garments, and gird yourselves with sackcloth, and lament before Abenner. And king David followed the bier. 32 And they bury Abenner in Chebron; and the king lifted up his voice and wept at his tomb, and all the people wept for Abenner.

33 And the king mourned over Abenner, and said, Shall Abenner die according to the death of Nabal? 34 Thy hands were not bound, and thy feet were not put in fetters: one brought thee not near as Nabal; thou didst fall before children of iniquity. 35 And all the people assembled to seek for him. And all the people came to cause David to eat bread while it was yet day: and David swore, saying, God do so to me, and more also, if I eat bread or any thing else before the sun goes down. 36 And all the people took notice, and all things that the king did before the people were pleasing in their sight. 37 So all the people and all Israel perceived in that day, that it was not of the king to slay Abenner the son of Ner.

38 And the king said to his servants, Know ye not that a great prince is this day fallen in Israel? 39 And that I am this day a mere kinsman of his, and as it were a subject of his: the loss of Sarim are too hard for me: the Lord reward the evil-doer according to his wickedness. And Jebosthe the son of Saul heard that Abenner the son of Ner had died in Chebron; and his hands were paralysed, and all the men of Israel grew faint. 40 And Jebosthe the son of Saul had two sons that were captains of bands: the name of the one was Banna, and the name of the other Rechab, sons of Remmon the Berotherite of the children of Benjamin; for Beroth was reckoned to the children of Benjamin. 41 And the Berotherites ran away to Gathim, and were sojourners there until this day.

42 And Jonathan Saul's son had a son lame of his feet, five years old, and he was in the way when the news of Saul and Jonathan his son came from Jezreel, and his nurse took him up, and fed; and it came to pass as he hasted and retreated, that he fell, and he brought back Abenner to Chebron, and Joab caused him to turn aside from the gate to speak to him, laying wait for him: and he smote him there in the loins, and he died for the blood of Asael the brother of Joab.
And Rechab and Baana the sons of Remmon the Berothite went, and they came in the heat of the day into the house of Jeboseheth; and he was sleeping on a bed at noon. 6 And, behold, the porter of the house winnowed wheat, and he shivered and slept: and the brothers Rechab and Baana of the house of Beroth, came to the house of Jeboseheth; and Jeboseheth was sleeping on his bed in his chamber: and they smeared him, and slay him, and take off his head: and they took his head, and went all the night by the western road.

And they brought the head of Jeboseheth to David to Chebron, and they said to the king, Behold the head of Jeboseheth the son of Saul thy enemy, who sought thy life; and the Lord has executed for my lord the king vengeance on his enemies, as it is this day; even on Saul thy enemy, and on his seed.

And David answered Rechab and Baana his brother, the sons of Remmon the Berothite, and said to them, As the Lord lives, who has delivered us out of the hand of all our enemies, and of all the kings of the land: 10 he that reported to me that Saul was dead, even he was as one bringing glad tidings before me: but I seized him and slew him in Sekelac, to whom I ought, as he thought, to have given a reward for his tidings.

And now evil men have slain a righteous man in his house on his bed: now then I will require his blood of your hand, and I will destroy you from off the earth.

And David commanded his young men, and they slay them, and cut off their hands and their feet; and they hung them up at the fountain in Chebron: and they buried the head of Jeboseheth in the tomb of Abner the son of Ner.

And all the tribes of Israel come to David to Chebron, and they said to him, Behold, we are thy bone and thy flesh. 7 And David answered the multitude, saying,遂 the Lord now has delivered us out of the hand of all our enemies; and the Lord has said to me, 8 And David, thirty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned forty years. Seven years and six months he reigned in Judah, and thirty-three years he reigned over all Israel and Judah in Jerusalem.

And David and his men departed to Jerusalem, to the Jebusite that inhabited the land: and it was said to David, Thou shalt not come in hither; for the blind and the lame withstood him, saying, David shall not come in hither. 7 And David took first the hold of Sion: this is the city of David.

And David said on that day, Every one that smites the Jebusite, let him attack with the dagger both the lame and the blind, and those that hate the soul of David. Therefore they say, The lame and the blind shall not enter into the house of the Lord. 9 And David dwelt in the hold, and it was called the city of David, and he built the city itself round about from the citadel, and he built him a house. 10 And David advanced and became great, and the Lord Almighty was with him.

11 And Chiram king of Tyre sent messengers to David, and cedar wood, and carpenters, and stone-masons: and they built a house for David. 12 And David knew that the Lord had prepared him to be king over Israel, and that his kingdom was exalted for the sake of his people Israel.

And David took again wives and concubines out of Jerusalem, after he came from Chebron: and David had still more sons and daughters born to him. 14 And these are the names of those that were born to him in Jerusalem: Sammua, and S Oblad, and Nethan, and Sibna, and Seran, and Ezer, and Ira, and Eshrith, and Ehez, and Yabsin, and Selma, and Sor, and Natan, and Boas, and ZVerse 20:000, and Jozabad, and Samoah, and Nethan, and Ira, and Sinah, and Kebat, and interviewing. 17 And knew our of the Philistines, they see. And the Philistines heard that David was anointed king over Israel; and all the Philistines went up to seek David; and David heard of it, and went down to the strong hold. 18 And the Philistines came, and assembled in the valley of the giants.

19 And David enquired of the Lord, saying, Shall I go up against the Philistines? and will thou deliver them into my hand? and the Lord said to David, Go up, for I will surely deliver the Philistines into thine hand. 20 And David came from 9 Upper Breaches, and smote the Philistines there: and David said, The Lord has destroyed the hostile Philistines before me, as water is dispersed; therefore the name of that place was called 9 Over Breaches. 21 And they left there their gods, and David and his men with him took them.

22 And the Philistines came up yet again, and assembled in the valley of Giants. 23 And David enquired of the Lord, and the Lord said, Thou shalt not go up against the Philistines: turn from them, and thou shalt meet them near the place of 9 weeping. 24 And it shall come to pass when thou hearest the sound of a clashing together from the grove of weeping, then thou shalt go down to them, for then the Lord shall go forth before thee, and make thee deliver thy enemies before thee. 25 And David did as the Lord commanded him, and smote the Philistines from Gabaon as far as the land of Gazara.

And David again gathered all the young men of Israel, about seventy thousand. 2 And David arose, and went, and he and all the people that were with him, and some of the rulers of Juda, on an expedition to a distant place, to bring back thence the ark of God, on which the name of the Lord of Hosts who dwells between the cherubs upon it is called.
And they put the ark of the Lord on a new waggon, and took it out of the house of Aminadab who lived on the hill; and Oza and his brethren the sons of Aminadab drove the waggon with the ark. And his brethren went before the ark. And David and the children of Israel were playing before the Lord on well-tuned instruments mightily, and with songs, and with harps, and with lutes, and with drums, and with cymbals, and with pipes.

And they come as far as the threshing floor of Nachor; and Oza reached forth his hand to the ark of God to keep it steady, and took hold of it; for the ox shook it out of its place. And the Lord was very angry with Oza; and God smote him there; and he died there by the ark of the Lord before God. And David was dispirited because the Lord made a breach upon Oza; and that place was called the breach of Oza until this day. And David feared the Lord in that day, saying, How shall the ark of the Lord come in to me? And David would not bring in the ark of the covenant of the Lord to himself into the city of David. And David turned it aside into the house of Abbedara the Gethite. And the ark of the Lord lodged in the house of Abbedara the Gethite three months, and the Lord blessed all the house of Abbedara, and all his possessions.

And it was reported to king David, saying, The Lord has blessed the house of Abbedara, and all that he has, because of the ark of the Lord. And David went, and brought up the ark of the Lord from the house of Abbedara to the city of David with gladness. And there were with him bearing the ark seven bands, and for a sacrifice a calf and lambs. And David sounded with well-tuned instruments before the Lord, and David was clothed with a fine long robe. And David and all the house of Israel brought up the ark of the Lord with shouting, and with the sound of a trumpet.

And it came to pass as the ark arrived at the city of David, that Melchol the daughter of Saul looked through the window, and saw king David dancing and playing before the Lord; and she despised him in her heart.

And they bring the ark of the Lord, and set it in its place in the midst of the tabernacle which David pitched for it: and David offered whole-burnt-offerings before the Lord, and peace-offerings. And David made an end of offering the whole-burnt-offerings and peace-offerings, and blessed the people in the name of the Lord of Hosts. And he distributed to all the people, even to all the host of Israel from Dan to Berseba, both men and women, to every one a cake of bread, and a joint of meat, and a cake from the shew-bread; and all the people departed every one to his home.

And David returned to bless his house. And Melchol the daughter of Saul came... out to meet David and saluted him, and said,
How was the king of Israel glorified to-day, who was to-day uncovered in the eyes of the handmaids of his servants, as one of the dancers wantonly uncovers himself? 21 And David said to Melchol, I will dance before the Lord. Blessed be the Lord who chose me for thy father, and before all his house, and all Israel: therefore I will play, and dance before the Lord. 22 And I will again uncover myself thus, and I will be vile in eyes, and with the maid-servants by whom thou saidst that I was not had in honour. 23 And Melchol the daughter of Saul had no child till the day of her death.
And it came to pass when the king sat in his house, and the Lord had given him an inheritance on every side free from all his enemies round about him; 2 that the king said to Nathan the prophet, Behold now,
I live in a house of cedar, and the ark of the Lord dwells in the midst of a tent. 3 And Nathan said to the king, Go and do all that is in thine heart, for the Lord is with thee.
And it came to pass in that night, that the word of the Lord came to Nathan, saying, 4 Go, and say to my servant David, Thus says the Lord, Thou shalt not build me a house for me to dwell in. 5 For I have not dwelt in a house since the day that I brought up the children of Israel out of Egypt to this day, but have been walking in a lodge and in a tent, 6 wheresoever I went with all Israel. Have I ever spoken to any of the tribes of Israel, which I commanded to tend my people Israel, saying, Why have ye not built me a house of cedar?
And now thus shalt thou say to my servant David, Thus says the Lord Almighty,
I took thee from the sheep-cote, that thou shouldst be a prince over my people, over Israel. 9 And I was with thee wheresoever thou wentest, and I destroyed all thine enemies before thee, and I made thee renowned according to the renown of the great ones on the earth. 10 And I will appoint a place for my people Israel, and will plant them, and they shall dwell by themselves, and shall be no more distressed; and the son of iniquity shall no more afflict them, as he has done from the beginning, 11 from the days when I appointed judges over my people Israel: and I will give thee rest from all thine enemies, and the Lord will tell thee that thou shalt build a house unto him. 12 And it shall come to pass when thy days shall have been fulfilled, and thou shalt rest, and shalt go unto thy fathers, that I will raise up thy seed after thee, even thine own issue, and I will establish his kingdom. 13 He shall build for me a house to my name, and I will set up his throne even for ever. 14 I will be to him a father, and he shall be to me a son. And when he happens to trans-
gress, then will I chasten him with the rod of men, and with the stripes of men.
before me, and his throne shall be set up for ever.

18And king David came in, and sat before the Lord, and said, Who am I, O Lord my God, and what is my house, that thou hast brought me thus far? 19Whereas I was very little before thee, O Lord my God, yet thou spakest concerning the house of thy servant for a long time to come. And is this the law of man, O Lord my God? 20And what shall David yet say to thee? and now thou knowest thy servant, O Lord my God.

21And thou hast wrought for thy servant’s sake, and according to thy heart thou hast wrought all this greatness, to make it known to thy servant, 22that he may magnify thee, O my Lord; for there is no one ylike thee, and there is no God but thou among all of whom we have heard with our ears. 23And what other nation in the earth is there, whose God is so near to them as thou art to us, O Lord our God? whereas God was his guide, to redeem for himself a people to make them a name, to do mightily and nobly, and so that thou shouldest cast out nations and their tabernacles from the presence of thy people, whom thou didst redeem for thyself out of Egypt? 24And thou hast prepared for thyself a people, and for ever and thou, Lord, art become their God. 25And now, O my Lord, the Almighty Lord God of Israel, confirm the word for ever which thou hast spoken concerning thy servant and his house: and now as thou hast said, 26Let thy name be magnified for ever.

27Almighty Lord God of Israel, thou hast spoken concerning thy servant, saying, I will build thee a house: therefore thy servant has found in his heart to pray this prayer to thee. 28And now, O Lord my Lord, thou art God; and thy words will be true, and thy servant has spoken these good things concerning thy servant. 29And now begin and bless the house of thy servant, that may continue forever before thee: for thou, O Lord my Lord, hast spoken, and the house of thy servant shall be blessed with thy blessing so as to continue for ever.

And it came to pass after this, that David smote the Philistines, and put them to flight, and David took the tribute from out of the hand of the Philistines.

2And David smote Moab, and measured them out with lines, having laid them down on the ground: and there were two lines for slaying, and two lines he kept alive: and Moab became servants to David, yielding tribute.

3And David smote Adraazar the son of Raab king of Suba, as he went to extend his power to the river Euphrates. 4And David took a thousand of his chariots, and seven thousand horsemen, and twenty thousand footmen: and David houghed all his chariots, and left them for chariot service to himself. 5And Syria of Damascus comes to help Adraazar king of Suba, and David smote twenty-two thousand men belonging to the Syrian. 6And David placed a garrison in Syria near Damascus, and the Syrians became servants and tributaries to David: and David received Adraazar, whithersoever he went. 2 And David took the golden bracelets which were on the servants of Adraazar king of Suba, and brought them to Jerusalem. And Susakim king of Egypt took them, when he went up to Jerusalem in the days of Roboam son of Solomon. 3 And King David took from Metebel, and from the cities of Adraazar, very much brass: with that Solomon made the brazen sea, and the pillars, and the lavers, and all the furniture.

9 And Tho'i the king of Hemath heard that David had smitten all the host of Adraazar. 10 And Tho'i sent Jadduram his son to king David, to ask him of his welfare, and to congratulate him on his fighting against Adraazar and smiting him, for he was an enemy to Adraazar: and in his hands were vessels of silver, and vessels of gold, and vessels of brass. 11 And these king David consecrated to the Lord, with the silver and with the gold which he consecrated out of all the cities which he conquered, 12 out of Idumea, and out of Moab, and from the children of Ammon, and from the Philistines, and from Amalec, and from the spoils of Adraazar son of Raab king of Suba.

13 And David made himself a name: and when he returned he smote Idumea in Gebelem to the number of eighteen thousand. 14 And he set garrisons in Idumea, even in all Idumea: and all the Idumeans were servants to the king. And the Lord preserved David wherever he went.

15 And David reigned over all Israel: and David wrought judgment and justice over all his people. 16 And Joab the son of Saruia was over the host; and Josaphat the son of Achilud was keeper of the records. 17 And Sadoc the son of Achitob, and Achimelech son of Abiathar, were priests; and Sasa was the scribe, and Banas son of Jodaas was councillor, and the Chelethite and the Phelethite, and the sons of David, were princes of the court.

And David said, Is there yet any one left in the house of Saul, that I may deal kindly with him for Jonathan's sake? 2 And there was a servant of the house of Saul, and his name was Siba: and they call him to David; and the king said to him, Art thou Siba? and he said, I am thy servant. 3 And the king said, Is there yet a man left of the house of Saul, that I may act towards him with the mercy of God? and Siba said to the king, There is yet a son of Jonathan, lame of his feet. 4 And the king said, Where is he? and Siba said to the king, Behold, he is in the house of Machir the son of Amiel of Lodabar. 5 And king David sent, and took him out of the house of Machir the son of Amiel of Lodabar.

6 And Memphibosthe the son of Jonathan the son of Saul comes to king David, and he fell upon his face and did obeisance to him: and David said to him, Memphibosthe: and he said, Behold thy servant. 7 And David said to him, Fear not, for I will surely deal mercifully with thee for the sake of Jonathan thy father, and I will restore to thee all the land of Saul the father of thy father; and thou shalt eat bread at my table continually. 3 And Methimboth did obey, and said, Whom shall I find thy servant, that thou hast looked upon a dead dog like me? 4 And the king called Siba the servant of Saul, and said to him, All that belongeth to Saul and to his house have I given to the son of thy lord. 5 And thou, and thy sons, and thy servants, shall till the land for him; and thou shalt bring in bread to the son of thy lord, and he shall eat bread: and Methimboth the son of thy lord shall eat bread continually at my table. 6 Now Siba had fifteen sons and twenty servants. 7 And Siba said to the king, According to all that my lord the king has commanded his servant, so will thy servant do. And Methimboth did eat at the table of David, as one of the sons of the king. 8 And Methimboth had a little son, and his name was Micha: and all the household of Siba dined at the table of Methimboth. 9 And Methimboth dwelt in Jerusalem, for he continually ate at the table of the king; and he was lame in both his feet.

And it came to pass after this that the king of the children of Ammon died, and Annon his son reigned in his stead. 10 And David said, I will shew mercy to Annon the son of Naas, as his father dealt mercifully with me. And David sent to comfort his father concerning his father by the hand of his servants; and the servants of David came into the land of the children of Ammon. 11 And the princes of the children of Ammon said to Annon their lord, Is it to honour thy father before thee that David has sent comforters to thee? Has not David rather sent his servants to thee that they should search the city, and spy it out and examine it? 12 And Annon took the servants of David, and shaved their beards, and cut off their garments in the midst as far as their hannahs, and sent them away.

And they brought David word concerning the men; and he sent to meet them, for the men were greatly dishonoured: and the king said, Remain in Jericho till your beards have grown, and then ye shall return.

And the children of Ammon saw that the people of David were ashamed; and the children of Ammon sent, and hired the Syrians of Baathram, and the Syrians of Suba, and Roob, twenty thousand footmen, and the king of Amalec with a thousand men, and Istop with twelve thousand men.

And David heard, and sent Joab and all his host, even the mighty men. 15 And the children of Ammon went forth, and set the battle in array by the door of the gate: those of Syria, Suba, and Roob, and Istop, and Amalec, being by themselves in the field. 16 And Joab saw that the front of the battle was against him from that which was opposed in front and from behind, and he chose out some of all the young men of Israel, and they set themselves in array καταστήσω σοι πάντα ἀγρόν Σαουλ πατρός τοῦ πατρός σου, καὶ σὺ φαγῇ ἄρτον ἐπὶ τῆς τραπέζης μου διαπάντως. 10 καὶ ἐπῆρε σὺν, πάντα ὡσε ἐπὶ τοῦ Σαουλ καὶ ὅλω τοῦ ῥίκου αὐτοῦ δέδωκα τῷ νῷ του κυρίου σου. 11 καὶ ἔργα αὐτῷ τὴν γῆν ἐστὶ, καὶ οἱ πάντες σου, καὶ οἱ δοῦλοι σου, καὶ εἴσοδες τῷ νῷ του κυρίου σου ἄρτος, καὶ ἐδέσα αὐτοῖς. 12 καὶ Μεθιμβοσθεῦς δύον του κυρίου σου φάγεται διαπάντως ἀρτον ἐπὶ τῆς τραπέζης μου καὶ τῷ Σίβα ἦσαν παντεκαδέκα νῦι, καὶ έκίσκον δοῦλοι. 13 εἶπε Σίβα πρὸς τὸν βασιλέα, κατά πάντα ὡσε ἐνέταται ο κύριος μου ο βασιλεὺς τοῦ δύοι αὐτοῦ, οὕτως ποιήσῃ αὐτὸς δοῦλοι σου καὶ Μεθιμβοσθεῦς ἔστωσεν ἐπὶ τῆς τραπέζης Σαῦλ καὶ Σίβα τοῦ βασιλεύον. 15 καὶ τῷ Μεθιμβοσθεῦς δύος μικρὸς ἤν, καὶ ὠνόμα αὐτῷ Μιχα: καὶ πάσα ἡ κατοικία τοῦ οἰκον Σίβα δοῦλοι τοῦ Μεθιμβοσθεῦς. 16 καὶ Μεθιμβοσθεῦς κατηρκή ἐν Ιερουσαλήμ, ὅτι ἐπὶ τῆς τραπέζης του βασιλέως αὐτοῦ διαπάντως ὡσε, καὶ αὐτὸς ἦν χωλὸς ἀμφοτέρου τοῖς ποιοῖς αὐτοῦ.

10 Thus Syrías. And the rest of the people he gave into the hands of Abessa his brother, and they set the battle in array opposite to the children of Ammon. And he said, If Syria be too strong for me, then shall ye help me: and if the children of Ammon be too strong for thee, then will we be ready to help thee. Be thou courageous, and let us be strong for our people, and for the sake of the cities of our God, and the Lord shall do that which is good in his eyes.

11 And Joab and his people with him advanced to battle against Syria, and they fled from before him. And the children of Ammon saw that the Syrians were fled, and they fled from before Abessa, and entered into the city; and Joab returned from the children of Ammon, and came to Jerusalem.

12 And the Syrians saw that they were worsted before Israel, and they gathered themselves together. And Adraazar sent and gathered the Syrians from the other side of the river Β' Chalamak, and they came to Α'Elam; and Soab the captain of the host of Adraazar was yat their head.

13 And it was reported to David, and he gathered all Israel, and went over Jordan, and came to Α'Elam; and the Syrians set the battle in array against David, and fought with him. And Syria fled from before Israel, and David destroyed of Syria seven hundred chariots, and forty thousand horsemen, and men, and Soab the captain of his host, and he died there. And all the kings the servants of Adraazar saw that they were put to the worse before Israel, and they went over to Israel, and served them: and Syria was afraid to help the children of Ammon any more.

And it came to pass when the time of the year for kings going out to battle had come round, that David sent Joab, and his servants, and all Israel; and they destroyed the children of Ammon, and besieged Rabbath: but David remained at Jerusalem.

And it came to pass toward evening, that David arose off his couch, and walked on the roof of the king's house, and saw from the roof a woman bathing; and the woman was very beautiful to look upon. And David sent and enquired about the woman: and one said, Is not this Bersabee the daughter of Eliab, the wife of Urias the Chettite? And David sent messengers, and took her, and went in to her, and he lay with her: and she was purified from her uncleanness, and returned to her house. And the woman conceived; and she sent and told David, and said, I am with child. And David sent to Joab, saying, Send me Urias the Chettite; and Joab sent Urias to David.

And Urias arrived and went in to him, and David asked him how Joab was, and how the people were, and how the war went on. And David said to Urias, Go to thy house, and wash thy feet: and Urias departed from the house of the king, and a portion of meat from the king followed him. 14 And Urias slept at the door of the house of the king with the servants of his lord, and went not down to his house. 15 And they brought David word, saying, Urias has not gone down to his house. And David said to Urias, Art thou not come from a journey? why hast thou not gone down to thy house? 16 And Urias said to David, The ark, and Israel, and Judah dwell in tents; and my lord Joab, and the servants of my lord, are encamped in the open fields; and shall I go into my house to eat and drink, and lie with my wife? how should I do this thing? as thy soul lives, I will not do this thing. 17 And David said to Urias, Remain here to-day also, and to-morrow I will let thee go. So Urias remained in Jerusalem that day and the day following.

18 And David called him, and he ate before him, and he made him drunk: and he went out in the evening to lie upon his bed with the servants of his lord, and went not down to his house.

19 And the morning came, and David wrote a letter to Joab, and sent it by the hand of Urias. 20 And he wrote in the letter, saying, Station Urias in front of the severe part of the fight, and retreat from behind him, so shall he be wounded and die.

21 And it came to pass while Joab was watching against the city, that he set Urias in a place where he knew that valiant men were. 22 And the men of the city went out, and fought with Joab; and some of the people of the servants of David fell, and Urias the Chettite died also.

23 And Joab sent, and reported to David all the events of the war, so as to tell them to the king. 24 And he charged the messenger, saying, When thou hast finished reporting all the events of the war to the king, then shall it come to pass if the anger of the king shall arise, and he shall say to thee, Why did ye draw nigh to the city to fight? knew ye not that they would shoot from the wall? Who smote Abimelech the son of Jerobaal son of Ner? did not a woman cast a piece of a millstone upon him from above a wall, and he died in Thamassai? why did ye draw near to the wall? then thou shalt say, Thy servant Urias the Chettite is also dead.

25 And the messenger of Joab went to the king to Jerusalem, and he came and reported to David all that Joab told him, all the affairs of the war. And David was very angry with Joab, and said to the messenger, Why did ye draw nigh to the wall to fight? knew ye not that ye would be wounded from off the wall? Who smote Abimelech the son of Jerobaal? did not a woman cast upon him a piece of millstone from the wall, and he died in Thamassai? why did ye draw near to the wall? 26 And he said to David, The men prevailed against us, and they came out against us into the field, and we came upon them even to the
And the Lord sent Nathan the prophet to David; and he went in to him, and said to him, There were two men in one city; one rich, and the other poor. 2And the rich had very many flocks and herds, but the poor had one little ewe lamb, which he purchased, and preserved, and reared; and it grew up with him, and with all his children; and it did eat of his bread, and drank of his cup, and lay in his bosom. 3And after a time his son fell sick; and the sick man cried, saying, My father, give me the ewe lamb, which I have preserved, to eat thereof. 4And David said to his servant, Tell me, what is this matter? 5And the servant answered and said, It is the son of thy servant who is dead. 6And David said to the servant, What hast thou brought me again? bring it to me, that I may consume it. 7And the servant said, Behold, dead is the son of the woman, which I did bring unto my lord the king. 8And the king said, Is this the one of whom I said unto thee, Bring unto me theUIView of thy servant, whom I have preserved to this day? 9Then David's anger was greatly excited against the man, and he said, As the LORD liveth, the man that hath done this hath surely got to die. 10And Nathan said unto David, Art thou the man? the LORD shall set thee king over Israel. 11And he shall strike thee with a disease in thine body, and with the disease of long-standing, with a grievous sore continually. 12And the LORD sent a disease upon the king, from his bones. And the king consulted his physicians, but they could find nothing: then he said, Is there not one skilled in sorcery? let him come to me. 13And one came of the sons of voy, and stood before the king, and said unto him, Why is thy face thus? 14And the king answered and said unto the servant that told him, Is this the one of whom I said unto thee, Bring unto me the UIView of thy servant, whom I have preserved to this day? 15And David sent one of his servants unto king Saul, saying, What is not this? why is thy anger so hot against thy servant? 16And the servant answered and said, He is a worthy man, and his eyes are set against me, and I know not what he shall do to me. 17And the king said with a heavy heart, Is there no other scarce thing but this also shall befall me? 18And David's servant came again, and told him. And the king said, Is this the one of whom I said unto thee, Bring unto me the UIView of the man, whom I have preserved to this day? 19And Nathan said, There is the UIView of David. 20And the LORD said, In this thing hast thou done well, in thy eyes. Now shall the kingdom be not taken away from thee. 21Only, in the eyes of the LORD it is not good for thee to take unto thee anotherUIView of thy wife, because she is taken away from thee in the day of thine enemies, and in the days of those that hate thee; 22but thou shalt not take unto thee anotherUIView of her, seeing that she is taken away from thee. 23Now therefore set the sick man well, and let him take of his food, and let him strengthen his bowels. 24And the archers shot at thy servants from off the wall, and some of the king's servants died. 25And David said to the messenger, Thus shall thou say to Joab, Let not the matter be grievous in thine eyes, for the sword devours one way at one time, and the other way at another: strengthen thine army against the city, and destroy it, and strengthen thine hand. 26And there was war between David and the Philistines, and they fought with each other. 27And king Saul was informed that it was David, and all the men of Judah were with him. 28And king Saul sent unto David, saying, Go down,服 from the face of the king, and serve with me, and I will give thee great substance: for thou hast dealt very well with thy servant David. 29And David said unto king Saul, In all points where I have sinned against thee, behold, I will do the same. 30Now therefore, how long wilt thou favoure me, mine enemy, and be a slayer of mine friends? 31And Saul said, Thou shalt not die. 32And they two made a covenant before the LORD: and David went home. 33And Saul perceived that David had done very wisely, and that he was moved by the zeal of Israel and by the zeal of Judah against him. 34And Saul said to David, Bless thee, David, my son, most greatly; for thine hand hath preserved me from the sword, and thine eyes have made great a king over Israel.
against the Lord. And Nathan said to David, And the Lord has put away thy sin; thou shalt not die. 13 Only becausethou hast given great occasion of provocation to the enemies of the Lord by this thing, thy son also that is born to thee shall surely die.

And Nathan departed to his house. And the Lord smote the child, which the wife of Uriah the Chittite bore to David, and it was ill. 16 And David enquired of God concerning the child, and David fasted, and went in and lay all night upon the ground. 17 And the elders of his house arose and went to him to raise him up from the ground, but he would not rise, nor did he eat bread with them.

And it came to pass on the seventh day that the child died: and the servants of David were afraid to tell him that the child was dead; for they said, Behold, while the child was yet alive we spoke to him, and he hearkened not to our voice; and how should we tell him that the child is dead?—so would he do himself harm. 19 And David understood that his servants were whispering, and David perceived that the child was dead: and David said to his servants, Is the child dead? and they said, He is dead.

Then David rose up from the earth, and washed, and anointed himself, and changed his raiment, and went into the house of God, and worshipped him; and went into his own house, and called for bread to eat, and then David dined before him and ate.

And his servants said to him, What is this thing that thou hast done concerning the child? while it was yet living thou didst fast, and weep, and watch; and when the child was dead thou didst rise up, and didst eat bread, and drink. 22 And David said, While the child was yet alive I fasted and wept: for I thought, when I came forth out of the house of the Lord, then should he die.

And David comforted Bersabee his wife, and he went in to her, and lay with her; and she conceived and bare a son, and he called his name Solomon, and the Lord loved him. 24 And he sent by the hand of Nathan the prophet, and called his name Jededia, for the Lord's sake.

And Joab fought against Rabbath of the children of Ammon, and took the royal city. 26 And Joab sent messengers to David, and said, I have fought against Rabbath, and taken the city of waters. And now gather the rest of the people, and encamp against the city, and take it beforehand; lest I take the city first, and my name be called upon it.

And David gathered all the people, and went to Rabbath, and fought against it, and took it. 28 And he took the crown of 9 Mochom their king from off his head, and the weight of it was a talent of gold, with precious stones, and it was upon the head of David; and he carried forth very much spoil.

II. KINGS XII. 31—XIII. 15.

And it happened after this that Absa-lom the son of David had a very beautiful sister, and her name was Tamar; and Amnon the son of David loved her. 2 And Amnon was distressed even to sickness, because of Themam his sister; for she was a virgin, and it seemed very difficult for Amnon to do anything to her. 3 And Amnon had a friend, and his name was Jonadab, the son of Samaa the brother of David; and Jonadab was a very cunning man. 4 And he said to him, What ails thee that thou art thus weak, O son of the king, morning by morning, 5 wilt thou not tell me? and Amnon said, I love Tamar the sister of my brother. 6 And Jonadab said to him, Lie upon thy bed, and make thyself sick, and thy father shall come in to see thee; and thou shalt say to him, Let, I pray thee, my sister Tamar come to me, and make a couple of cakes in my sight, and I will eat them at her hand. 7 And David sent to Tamar to the house, saying, Go now to thy brother's house, and dress him food. 8 And Themam went to the house of her brother Amnon, and he was lying down; and she took the dough and kneaded it, and made cakes in his sight, and baked the cakes. 9 And she took the frying-pan and poured them out before him, but he would not eat. And Amnon said, Send out every man from me about me. And they removed every man from about him. 10 And Amnon said to Themam, Bring in the food into the closet, and I will eat of thy hand. And Themam took the cakes which she had made, and brought them to her brother Amnon into the chamber. 11 And she brought them to him to eat, and he caught hold of her, and said to her, Come, lie with me, my sister. 12 And she said to him, Nay, my brother, do not humble me, for it is not lawful to be so done in Israel; do not this folly. 13 And I, whither shall I remove my reproach? and thou shalt be as one of the fools in Israel. And now, speak, I pray thee, to the king, for surely he will not keep me from thee. 14 But Amnon would not hearken to her voice; and he prevailed against her, and humbled her, and lay with her.

Then Amnon hated her with very great hatred; for the hatred with which he hated her was greater than the hatred with which he had loved her, for the last wickedness was greater than the first; and Amnon said... to her, Rise, and be gone. 16 And Themar spoke to him concerning this great mischief, greater than the other that thou didst me, to send me away; but Amnon would not hearken to her voice. 17 And he called his servant who had charge of the house, and said to him, Put now this woman out from me, and shut the door after her. 18 And she had on her a variegated robe, for so was her mother's daughter, the king's sister. And they were virgins attired in their apparel: and his servant led her forth, and shut the door after her.

And Themar took ashes, and put them on her head; and she rent the variegated garment that was upon her; and she laid her hands on her head, and went crying continually. 20 And Absalom her brother said to her, Has thy brother Amnon been with thee? now then, my sister, be silent, for he is thy brother: be not careful to mention this matter. So Themar dwelt as a widow in the house of his brother Absalom.

And king David heard of all these things, and was very angry; but he did not grieve the spirit of his son Amnon, because he loved him as the first-born. 22 And Absalom spoke not to Amnon, good or bad, because Absalom hated Amnon, on account of his humbling his sister Tamar. And it came to pass at the end of two years, that they were shearing sheep for Absalom in Belasor near Ephraim: and Absalom invited all the king's sons. 24 And Absalom came to the king, and said, Behold, thy servant has a sheep-shearing; let now the king and his servants go with thy servant. 25 And the king said to Absalom, Nay, my son, let us not all go, and let us not be burdensome to thee. And he pressed him; but he would not go, but blessed him. 26 And Absalom said to him, And if not, let, I pray thee, my brother Amnon go with us. And the king said to him, Why should he go with thee? 27 And Absalom pressed him, and he went with him Amnon and all the king's sons; and Absalom made a banquet like the banquet of the king.

And Absalom charged his servants, saying, Mark when the heart of Amnon shall be merry with wine, and I shall say to you, Smite Amnon, and slay him: fear not; for is it not he that commanded you? be courageous, and be valiant. 29 And the servants of Absalom did to Amnon as Absalom commanded them: and all the sons of the king rose up, and they mounted every man his mule, and fled.

And it came to pass, when they were in the way, that a report came to David, saying, Absalom has slain all the king's sons, and there is not one of them left. 31 Then the king arose, and rent his garments, and laid upon the ground: and all his servants that were standing round him rent their garments. 32 And Jonadab the son of Samaa brother of David, answered and said, Let not my lord the king say that he has slain all the young men the sons of the king, for Ammon only of them all is dead; for he was appointed to death by the mouth of Abessalom from the day that he humbled his sister Themar. 33 And now let not my lord the king take the matter to heart, saying, All the king's sons are dead: for Ammon only of them all is dead.

And Abessalom escaped: and the young man the watchman lifted up his eyes, and looked; and, behold, much people went in the way behind him from the side of the mountain in the desert: and the watchman came and told the king, and said, I have seen men by the way of Oronen, by the side of the mountain. 35 And Jonadab said to the king, Behold, the king's sons are present: according to the word of thy servant, so has it happened. 36 And it came to pass when he had finished speaking, that, behold, the king's sons came, and lifted up their voices and wept: and the king also and all his servants wept with a very great weeping.

But Abessalom fled, and went to Thouni son of Enniud king of Getsur to the land of Chamaachad: and king David mourned for his son continually. 38 So Abessalom fled, and departed to Gedsur, and was there three years. 39 And king David ceased to go out after Abessalom, for he was comforted concerning Amnon, touching his death.

And Joab the son of Sarua knew that the heart of the king was toward Abessalom. 32 And Joab sent to Thecoe, and took thence a cunning woman, and said to her, Mourn, and pray to me, and put on mourning apparel, and anoint thee not with oil, and thou shalt be as a woman mourning for one that is dead thus for many days. 33 And thou shalt go to the king, and speak to him according to this word. And Joab put the words in her mouth.

So the woman of Thecoe went in to the king and fell upon her face to the earth, and did him obeisance and said, Help, O king, help. 3 And the king said to her, What is the matter with thee?

And she said, I am indeed a widow woman, and my husband is dead. 3 And moreover thy handmaid had two sons, and they fought together in the field, and there was no one to part them; and the one smote the other his brother, and slew him. 4 And behold, the whole family rose up against thine handmaid, and they said, Give up the one that smote his brother, and we will put him to death for the life of his brother, whom he slew, and we will take away even your heir: so they will quench my coal that is left, so as not to leave my husband remnant or name on the face of the earth.

3 And the king said to the woman, Go in peace to thy house, and I will give commandments concerning thee. 4 And the woman of Thecoe said to the king, On me, my lord, O king, and on my father's house be the iniquity, and the king and his throne be guiltless. 5 And the king said, Who was it that spoke to thee? thou shalt even bring him to me, and one shall not touch him any more. 6 And she said, Let now the king remember concerning his Lord God in that the avenger of blood is multiplied to destroy, and let them not take away my son. And he said, As the Lord lives, not a hair of thy son shall fall to the ground. 7 And the woman said, Let now thy servant speak a word to my lord the king. And he said, Say on. 8 And the woman said, Why hast thou devised this thing against the people of God? or is this word out of the king's mouth as a transgression, so that the king should not bring back his banished? 9 For we shall surely die, and be as water poured upon the earth, which shall not be gathered up, and God shall take the life, even as he devises to thrust forth from him his outcast. 10 And now whereas I came to speak this word to my lord the king, the reason is that the people will see me, and thy handmaid will say, Let one now speak to my lord the king, if peradventure the king will perform the request of his handmaid: 11 for the king will hear. Let him rescue his handmaid out of the hand of the man that seeketh to cast out me and my son from the inheritance of God. 12 And the woman said, if now the word of my lord the king be gracious,--well: for as an angel of God, so is my lord the king, to hear good and evil: and the Lord thy God shall be with thee. 13 And the king answered, and said to the woman, Hide not from me, I pray thee, the matter? and let the king and the woman said, Let my lord the king by all means speak. 14 And the king said, Is not the hand of Joab in all this matter with thee? and the woman said to the king, As thy soul lives, my lord, O king, 5 there is no turning to the right hand or to the left from all that my lord the king has spoken; for thy servant Joab himself charged me, and he put all these words in the mouth of thine handmaid. 15 In order that this form of speech might come about it was that thy servant Joab has framed this matter: and my lord is wise as is the wisdom of an angel of God, to know all things that are in the earth. 16 And the king said to Joab, Behold now, I have done to thee according to this thy word: go, bring back the young man Abesalon. 17 And Joab fell on his face to the ground, and did obeisance, and blessed the king: and Joab said, To-day thy servant knows that I have found grace in thy sight, my lord, O king, for my lord the king has performed the request of his servant. 18 And Joab arose, and went to Gedera, and brought Abesalon to Jerusalem. 19 And the king said, Let him return to his house, and not

And there was not a man in Israel so very comely as Abessalom; from the sole of his foot even to the crown of his head there was no blemish in him.

And when he had polled his head, (and it was at the beginning of every year that he polled it, because the hair grew heavy upon him,) even when he polled it, he weighed two hundred shekels according to the royal shekel.

And there were born to Abessalom three sons and one daughter, and her name was Thomar; she was a very beautiful woman, and she becomes the wife of Ro- boom son of Solomon, and she bears to him Abia.

28 And Abessalom remained in Jerusalem two 6 full years, and he saw not the king's face. 29 And Abessalom sent to Joab to bring him in to the king, and he would not come to him: and he sent to him the second time, and Abessalom sent to him the third time.

And Abessalom said to his servants, Behold, Joab's portion in the field is next to mine, and he has it in barley; go and set it on fire. And the servants of Abessalom set the field on fire: and the servants of Joab came to him with their clothes rent, and they said to him, The servants of Abessalom have set the field on fire. And Joab arose, and came to Gedsur, and said to Abessalom, Wherefore went ye thither, to be present at the death of him that died in the field?

And Abessalom said to Joab, Behold, I sent thee, saying, Come hither, and I will send thee to the king, saying, Why didst thou come thither? Why camest thou to the field? And Joab said, I will not return from the field to the king.

And Joab went in to the king, and brought him word: and he called Abessalom, and he went in to the king, and did him obeisance, and fell upon his face to the ground in the presence of the king; and the king kissed Abessalom.

And it came to pass after this that Abessalom prepared for himself chariots and horses, and fifty men to run before him. 3 And Abessalom rose early, and stood by the side of the way of the gate: and it came to pass that every man who had a cause, came to the king for judgment, and Abessalom cried to him, and said to him, Of what city art thou? And he said, Thy servant is of one of the tribes of Israel.

And Abessalom said to him, See, thy affairs are right and thou art right, in that the king has no one appointed of the king to hear thee. And Abessalom said, O that one would make me a judge in the land; then every man who had a dispute or a cause would come to me, and I would judge him!

And it came to pass when a man came near to do him obeisance, that he stretched out his hand, and took hold of him, and kissed him. And Abessalom did after this manner to all Israel that came to the king for judgment.

and Abassalom gained the hearts of the men of Israel. 7 And it came to pass after forty years, that Abassalom said to his father, I will go now, and pay my vows, which I vowed to the Lord: for I said to myself, I will not return to my father's house. 8 For thy servant vowed a vow when I dwelt at Geder in Syria, saying, If the Lord should indeed restore me to Jerusalem, then will I serve the Lord. 9 And the king said to him, Go in peace. And he arose and went to Chebron.

10 And Abassalom sent spies throughout all the tribes of Israel, saying, When ye hear the sound of the trumpet, then shall ye say, Abassalom is become king in Chebron. 11 And there went with Abassalom two hundred chosen men from Jerusalem; and they went in their simplicity, and knew not anything. 12 And Abassalom sent to Achitophel the Theconite, the counsellor of David, from his city, from Gola, where he was sacrificing: and there was a strong concispicacy; and the people with Abassalom were increasingly numerous.

13 And there came a messenger to David, saying, The heart of the men of Israel is gone after Abassalom. 14 And David said to all his servants who were with him in Jerusalem, Rise, and let us flee; for we have no refuge from Abassalom: make haste and go, lest he overtake us swiftly, and bring evil upon us, and smite the city with the edge of the sword. 15 And the king's servants said to the king, In all things which our lord the king chooses, behold, we are thy servants.

16 And the king and all his house went out on foot; and the king left ten women of his concubines to keep the house. 17 And the king and all his servants passed on by his side, and every Chelethite, and every Phelethite, and they stood by the olive tree in the wilderness: and all the people marched near him, and all his court, and all the men of might, and all the men of war, six hundred; and they were present at his side: and every Chelethite, and every Phelethite, and all the six hundred Gittites that came on foot out of Geth, and they went on before the king.

18 And the king said to Ethii the Gittite, Why dost thou also go with us? return, and dwell with the king, for thou art a stranger, and thou hast come forth as a sojourner out of thy place. 19 Whereas thou comest yesterday, shall I to-day cause thee to turn with us, and shalt thou thus change thy place? thou didst come forth yesterday, and to-day shall I set thee in motion to go along with us? I indeed will go whithersoever I may go: return then, and cause thy brethren to return with thee, and may the Lord deal mercifully and truly with thee. 20 And Ethii answered the king and said, As the Lord lives, who has spoken this day such things as my lord the king lives, in the place wheresoever my lord the king chooses, so may my lord the king live: and may he live a thousand years. 21 And the king said, Go, return. And Ethii returned to Jerusalem.

Ros; and, behold, Siba the servant of Memphibothe came to meet him; and he had a couple of asses laden, and upon them two hundred loaves, and a hundred bunches of raisins, and a hundred cakes of dates, and seven bottles of wine, and came to Siba,
What meaniest thou by these? and Siba said, The asses are for the household of the
The king to sit upon, and the loaves and the dates are for the young men to eat, and the wine is for them that are faint in the wilderness to drink. 2 And the king said, And where is the son of the thy master? and Siba said to the king, Behold, he remains in Jerusalem; for he said, To-day shall the house of Israel restore to me the kingdom of my father. 3 And the king said to Siba, Behold, all Memphibothe's property is thine. And Siba did obeisance and said, My lord, O killing, let me find grace in thine eyes.
And king David came to Ichohim; and,
behald, he came out from between a man of the family of the house of Saul, and his name was Semei the son of Gera. He came forth and cursed as he went, 6 and cast stones at David, and at all the servants of king David: and all the people and all the mighty men were on the right and left hand of the king. 2 And thus Semei said when he cursed him, Go out, go out, thou bloody man, and man of sin. 7 The Lord has returned upon thee all the blood of the house of Saul, because thou hast reigned in his stead; and the Lord has given the kingdom into the hand of Abessalom thy son: and, behold, thou art taken in thy mischief, because thou art a bloody man.
And Abessa the son of Saruia said to the king, Why does this dead dog curse my lord the king? let me go over now and take off his head. 9 And the king said, What have I to do with you, ye sons of Saruia? even let him alone, and so let him curse, for the Lord has told him to curse David: and who said, Why hast thou done thus? 10 And David said to Abessa and to all his servants, Behold, my son who came forth out of my bowels seeks my life; still more now may the son of Benjamin: let him curse, because the Lord has told him. 11 If by any means the Lord may look on my affliction, thus shall he return me good for his cursing this day.
And David and all the men with him went on the way; and Semei went by the side of the hill next to him, cursing as he going, and casting stones at him, and sprinkling him with dirt. 14 And the king, and all the people with him, came away and refreshed themselves there.
And Abessalom and all the men of Israel went into Jerusalem, and Achitophel with him. 15 And it came to pass when Chusi the chief friend of David came to Abessalom, that Chusi said to Abessalom, Let the king live. 16 And Abessalom said to Chusi, Is this thy kindness to thy friend?
why wentest thou not forth with thy friend?
And Chusi said to Abessalom, Nay, but following whom the Lord, and this people, and all Israel have chosen,—his will I be,
19 and with him will I dwell. 19 And again, whom shall I serve? should I not in the presence of him die? 19 As a servant in the sight of thy father, so will I be in thy presence.

20 And Abba'salom said to Achitophel, Deliberate among yourselves concerning what we should do. 20 And Achitophel said to Abba'salom, Go in to thy father's concubines, whom he left to keep his house; and let the king rise up in the morning, as he goeth out to the field, and say, I will not return to my father, for she is dis-honoured thy father; and the hands of all that are with thee shall be strengthened.

21 And they pitched a tent for Abba'salom on the roof, and Abba'salom went in to his father's concubines in the sight of all Israel. 21 And the counsel of Achitophel, which he counselled in former days, was as if one should enquire of the word of God: so was all the counsel of Achitophel both to David and also to Abba'salom.

22 And Achitophel said to Abba'salom, Let me now choose out for myself twelve thousand men, and I will arise and follow after David this night: 22 and I will come upon him when he is weary and weak-handed, and I will strike him with terror, and all the people with him shall flee. 22 And I will bring back all the people to thee, as a bride returns to her husband: only thou seekest the life of one man, and all the people shall have peace. 22 And the saying was right in the eyes of Abba'salom, and in the eyes of all the elders of Israel.

23 And Abba'salom said to Chusi the Arachite, and let us hear what is in his mouth, even in his also. 23 And Chusi went in to Abba'salom, and Abba'salom spoke to him, saying, After this manner spoke Achi'kophel: shall we do according to his word? but if not, do thou speak. 23 And Chusi said to Abba'salom, This counsel which Achitophel has counselled this one time is good. 23 And Chusi said, Thou knowest thy father and his men, that they are very mighty, and bitter in their spirit, as a bereaved bear in the field, 23 and as a wild boar in the plain: and thy father 23 is a man of war, and will not give the people rest. 23 For, behold, he is now hidden in one of the hills, or in some other place: and it shall come to pass when he falls upon them at the beginning, that some one will certainly hear, and say, There has been a slaughter among the people that follow after Abba'salom. 23 Then even he that is strong, whose heart is as the heart of a lion,—it shall utterly melt: for all Israel knows that thy father is mighty, and they that are with him are mighty men.

24 For thus I have counselled, that all Israel be generally gathered to thee from Dan even to Bersabee, as the sand that is upon the sea-shore for multitude: and that thy presence 24 go in the midst of them. 24 And we will come upon him in one of the places where we shall find him, and we will encamp against him, as the dew falls upon the earth; and we will not leave of him and of his men so much as one. 24 And if he shall have taken refuge with his army in a city then shall all Israel take ropes to that city, and we will draw it even into the river, that there may not be left there even a stone. 14 And Absalom, and all the men of Israel said, The counsel of Chusi the Armithe, is better than the counsel of Achitophel. For the Lord ordained to disconcer the good counsel of Achitophel, that the Lord might bring all evil upon Absalom.

15 And Chusi the Armithe said to Sadoch and Abiathar the priests, Thus and thus Achitophel counselled Absalom and the elders of Israel; and thus and thus have I counselled. 16 And now send quickly and report to David, saying, Lodge not this night in Arboth of the wilderness: even go and make haste, lest one swallow up the king, and all the people with him.

17 And Jonathan and Achimmaeus stood by the well of Rogel, and a maid-servant went and reported to them, and they go and tell king David; for they might not be seen to enter into the city. 18 But a young man saw them and told Absalom: and the two went quickly, and entered into the house of a man in Baurim; and he had a well in his court, and they went down into it. 19 And a woman took a covering, and spread it over the mouth of the well, and \\<o>spread out dry corn upon it to dry, and the thing was not known. 20 And the servants of Absalom came to the woman into the house, and said, Where are Achimmaeas and Jonathan? and the woman said to them, They are gone a little way beyond the water. And they sought and found them not, and returned to Jerusalem. 21 And it came to pass after they were gone, that they came up out of the pit, and went on their way; and reported to king David, and said to David, Arise ye and go quickly over the water, for thus has Achitophel counselled concerning you.

22 And David rose up and all the people with him, and they passed over Jordan till the morning light; there was not one missing who did not pass over Jordan.

23 And Achitophel saw that his counsel was not followed, and he saddled his ass, and rose and departed to his house into his city; and he gave orders to his household, and hanged himself, and died, and was buried in the sepulchre of his father.

24 And David passed over to Manaim: and Absalom crossed over Jordan, he and all the men of Israel with him. 25 And Absalom appointed Amessai in the room of Joab over the host. And Amessai was the son of a man whose name was Jether of Jezreel: he went in to Abigail the daughter of Naas, the sister of Saruah the mother of Joab. 26 And all Israel and Absalom encamped in the land of Gashab.

27 And it came to pass when David came to Manaim, that Ushi the son of Naas, Rabbath of the sons of Ammon, and Machir son of Amiel of Lodabar, and Berzelli the Galadinite of Rogellim, brought ten em.
18 And David numbered the people with him, and set over them captains of thousands and captains of hundreds.

2 And David sent away the people, the third part under the hand of Joab, and the third part under the hand of Abessa the son of Saruia, the brother of Joab, and the third part under the hand of Ethi the Gittite.

3 And David said to the people, I also will surely go out with you. And they said, Thou shalt not go out: for if we should indeed flee, they will not care for us; and if half of us should die, they will not mind us; for thou art ten thousand of us: and now it is well that thou shalt be to us an aid to help us in the city.

4 And the king said to them, Whatsoever shall seem good in your eyes I will do. And the king stood by the side of the gate, and all the people went out by hundreds and by thousands.

5 And the king commanded Joab and Abessa and Ethi, saying, Spare for me the young man Abessalom. And all the people heard the king charging all the commanders concerning Abessalom.

6 And all the people went out into the wood against Israel: and the battle was in the wood of Ephraim. 7 And the people of Israel fell down before the servants of David, and there was a great slaughter in that day, even twenty thousand men. 8 And the battle there was scattered over the face of all the land: and the wood consumed more of the people than the sword consumed among the people in that day.

9 And Abessalom's men went to Joab, and said, even in this day, David said, spare for me this man Abessalom. 10 And Abessalom was mounted on his mule, and the mule came under the thick boughs of a great oak; and his head was entangled in the oak, and he was suspended between heaven and earth; and the mule passed on under him.

11 And a man saw it, and reported to Joab, and said, Behold, I saw Abessalom hanging in an oak.

12 And Joel said to the man who reported it to him, And, behold, thou didst see him: why didst thou not smite him there to the ground? And I would have given thee ten pieces of silver, and a girdle.

13 And the man said to Joab, Were I even to receive a thousand shekels of silver, I would not lift my hand against the king's son: for in our ears the king charged thee and Abessalom and Ethri, saying, Take care of the young man Abssalom for me, so as to do no harm to his life: and nothing of the matter will be concealed from the king, and thou wilt set thyself against me. And Joab said, I will begin this: I will not thus remain with thee. And Joab took three darts in his hand, and thrust them into the heart of Abessalom, while he was yet alive in the heart of the oak. 15 And ten young men that bore Joab's armour compassed Abassalom, and smote him and slew him. 16 And Joab blew the trumpet, and the people returned from pursuing Israel, for Joab spared the people. 17 And he took Abassalom, and cast him into a great cavern in the wood, into a deep pit, and set up over him a very great heap of stones: and all Israel fled every man to his tent. 18 Abassalom, while yet alive had taken and set up for himself the pillar 8 near which he was taken, and set it up so as to have the pillar in the king's dale; for he said he had no son to keep his name in remembrance; and he called the pillar, Abassalom's hand, until this day.

19 And Achimaas the son of Sadoc said, Let me run now and carry glad tidings to the king, for the Lord has delivered him from the hand of his enemies. 20 And Joab said to him, Thou shalt not be a messenger of glad tidings this day; thou shalt bear them out, but on this day thou shalt bear no tidings, because the king's son is dead. 21 And Joab said to Chusli, Go, report to the king all that thou hast seen. And Chusli did obeisance to Joab, and went out. 22 And Achimaas the son of Sadoc said again to Joab, Nay, let me go, for I have news for thee. And Joab said, Why wouldst thou thus run, my son? attend, thou hast no tidings for profit if thou go. 23 And he said, Why should I not run? and Joab said to him, Run. And Achimaas ran along the way of Kechar, and out of Chusli.

24 And David was sitting between the two gates: and the watchman went up on the top of the gate of the wall, and lifted up his eyes, and looked, and beheld a man running alone before him. 25 And the watchman cried out, and reported to the king. And the king said, If he be alone, there are good tidings in his mouth. And the man came and drew near. 26 And the watchman saw another man running: and the watchman cried at the gate, and said, And look, another man running alone. And the king said, He also brings glad tidings. 27 And the watchman said, I see the running of the first as the running of Achimaas the son of Sadoc. And the king said, He is a good man, and will come to report glad tidings.

28 And Achimaas cried out and said to the king, Peace. And he did obeisance to the king with his face to the ground, and said, Blessed be the Lord thy God, who has delivered up the men that lifted up their hands against my lord the king. 29 And the king said, Is the young man Abassalom safe? and Achimaas said, I saw a great multitude at the time of Joab's sending the king's servant and thy servant, and I knew not what was there. 30 And the king said, Turn aside, stand still here. And he turned aside, and stood.

31 And, behold, Chusli came up, and said to the king, Let my lord the king hear glad tidings, for the Lord has avenged thee this
II. KINGS XVIII. 32—XIX. 13.

And they brought Joab word, saying, Behold, the king weeps and mourns for Abassalom. And the victory was turned that day into mourning to all the people, for the people heard say that day, The king grieves after his son. And the people stole away that day to go into the city, as people steal away when they are ashamed as they flee in the battle. And the king hid his face: and the king cried with a loud voice, My son Abassalom! Abassalom my son!

And Joab went in to the king, into the house, and said, Thou hast this day shamed all his countenance, that thou hast delivered thee this day, and have saved the lives of thy sons and of thy daughters, and the lives of thy wives, and of thy concubines, forasmuch as thou lovest them that hate thee, and hast them that love thee; and thou hast this day declared, that thy princes and thy servants are nothing in thy sight: for I know this day, that if Abassalom were alive, and all of us dead to-day, then it would have been right in thy sight. And now arise, and go forth, and speak comfortably to thy servants; for I have sworn by the Lord, that unless thou wilt go forth to-day, there shall not a man remain with thee this night: and know for thyself, this thing will indeed be evil to thee beyond all that evil that has come upon thee from thy youth until now. Then the king arose, and sat in the gate; and all the people reported, saying, Behold, the king sits in the gate. And all the people went in before the king to the gate; for Israel had fled every man to his tent.

And all the people disputed among all the tribes of Israel, saying, King David delivered us from all our enemies, and rescued us from the hand of the Philistines: and now his son has fled from the land and from his kingdom, and from Abassalom. And Abassalom, whom we anointed over us, is dead in battle: and now why are ye silent about bringing back the king? And the word of all Israel came to the king.

And king David sent to Sadoc and Abia-thar the priests, saying, Speak to the elders of Israel, saying, Why are ye the last to bring back the king to his house? whereas the word of all Israel is come to the king to his house. Ye are my brethren, ye are my bones and my flesh: why are ye the last to bring back the king to his house? And e shall say to Amessai, Art thou not my bone and my flesh? and now God do so to me, and more also, if thou shalt not be commander of the host before me continually in the room of Joab. 4And he bowed the heart of all the men of Juda as that of one man; and they went to the king, saying, Return thither all thy thrall servants. 13And the king returned, and came as far as Jordan. And the men of Juda came to Galgala on their way to meet the king, to cause the king to pass over Jordan.

16 And Semei the son of Gera, the Benjaminite of Baurim, hasted and went down with the men of Juda to meet king David. 17And a thousand men of Benjamin were with him, and Siba the servant of the house of Saul, and his fifteen sons with him, and his twenty servants with him: and they went directly down to Jordan before the king, 18and they performed the service of bringing the king over; and there went over a ferry-boat to remove the household of the king, and to do that which was right in his eyes. And Semei the son of Gera fell on the mouth of the ferry-boat as he went over Jordan; 19and said to the king, Let not my lord now impute iniquity, and remember not all the iniquity of thy servant in the day in which my lord went out from Jerusalem, that the king should mind it. 20For thy servant knows that I have sinned; and, behold, I am come to-day before all Israel and the house of Joseph, to go down and meet my lord the king.

21 And Abessai the son of Saruia answered and said, Shall not Semei therefore be put to death, because he cursed the Lord's anointed? 22And David said, What have I to do with you, ye sons of Saruia, that ye as it were in lie wait against me this day? to-day man in Israel shall be put to death, for I know not if this day reign over Israel. 23And the king said to Semei, Thou shalt not die: and the king spake to him.

24 And Memphibosthe the son of Saul's son went down to meet the king, and had not dressed his feet, nor pared his nails, nor shaven himself, neither had he washed his garments, from the day that the king departed, until the day when he arrived in peace.

25 And it came to pass when he went into Jerusalem to meet the king, that the king said to him, Why didst thou not go with me, Memphibosthe? 26And Memphibosthe said to him, My lord, O king, my servant deceived me; for thy servant said to him, Saddle me the ass, and I will ride upon it, and go with the king; for thy servant is lame. 27And he has dealt deceitfully with thy servant to my lord the king: but my lord the king is as an angel of God, and do thou that which is good in thine eyes. 28For all the house of my father were but as dead men before my lord the king; yet thou hast set thy servant among them that eat at thy table: and what right have I any longer even to cry to the king?

8 Gr. the man.
And the king said to him, Why spakest thou any longer of thy matters? I have said, Thou and Siba shall divide the land. And Memphiosthe said to the king, Yes, let him take all, since my lord the king has come in peace to his house.

And Berzelli the Galadite came down from Rogellim, and crossed over Jordan with the king, that he might conduct the king over Jordan. And Berzelli was a very old man, ye eighties years old; and he had maintained the king when he dwelt in Manaim; for he was a very great man. And the king said to Berzelli, Thou shalt go over Jordan with me and shall not go with old age with me in Jerusalem. And Berzelli said to the king, How many are the days of the years of my life, that I should go up with the king to Jerusalem? I am this day eighty years old: can I then distinguish between good and evil? Can thy servant taste any longer what I eat or drink? can I any longer hear the voice of men or singing women? and wherefore shall thy servant any longer be a burden to my lord the king? Thy servant will go a little way over Jordan with the king: and why does the king return me this recompense?

Let, I pray thee, thy servant remain, and I will die in my city, by the tomb of my father and of my mother. And, behold, thy servant Chamaam shall go over with my lord the king; and do thou to him as it seems good in thine eyes. And the king said, Let Chamaam go over with me, and I will do to him what is good in my sight; and whatsoever thou shalt choose at my hand, I will do for thee.

And all the people went over Jordan, and the king went over: and the king kissed Berzelli, and blessed him; and he returned to his place. And the king went over to Galgala, and Chamaam went over with him: and all the men of Juda went over with the king, and also half the people of Israel.

And behold, all the men of Israel came to the king, and said to the king, Why have our brethren the men of Juda stolen thee away, and caused the king and all his house to pass over Jordan, and all the men of David with him? And all the men of Juda answered the men of Israel, and said, Because the king is near of kin to us: and why were you thus angry concerning this matter? have we indeed eaten of the king's food? or has he given us any portion? or has he taken us a portion? And the men of Israel answered the men of Juda, and said, We have ten parts in the king, and we are older than you, we have also an interest in David above you: and why have ye thus insulted us, and why was not our advice taken before that of Juda, to bring back our king? And the speech of the men of Juda was sharper than the speech of the men of Israel.

And there was a transgressor so called there, and his name was Sabee, a Benjamite, the son of Bechori: and he blew the trumpet, and said, We have no portion in David, neither have we any inheritance in the son of Jesse: to thy tents, O Israel, every one.

* Gr. as it were a little.  \( Gr. every man. \)
And all the men of Israel went up from following David after Sabee, the son of Bochori: but the men of Juda adhered to their king, from Jordan even to Jerusalem.

And David went into his house at Jerusalem: and the king took the ten women his concubines, whom he had left to keep the house, and he put them in a place of custody, and he numbered them not, and went not in to them; and they were kept living as widows, till the day of their death.

And the king said to Amessai, Call to me the men of Juda for three days, and do thou be present here. And Amessai went to call Juda, and delayed beyond the time which David appointed him. And David said to Amessai, Now shall Sabee the son of Bochori do us more harm than Abessalom: now then take thou with thee the servants of thy lord, and follow after him, lest he find for himself strong cities, so will he blind our eyes. And there went out after him Amessai and the men of Joab, and the Cherethites, and the Phelathites, and all the mighty men: and they went out from Jerusalem to pursue after Sabee the son of Bochori.

And they were by the great stone that is in Gabamon: and Amessai went in before them: and Joab had upon him a military cloak over his apparel, and over it he was girded with a dagger fastened upon his loins in its scabbard: and the dagger came out, it even came out and fell.

And Joab said to Amessai, Art thou in health, my brother? and the right hand of Joab took hold of the beard of Amessai to kiss him. And Amessai observed not the dagger that was in the hand of Joab: and Joab smote him with it on the loins, and his bowels were shed out upon the ground, and he did not repeat the blow, and he died: and Joab and Abessal his brother pursued after Sabee the son of Bochori. And there stood over him one of the servants of Joab, and said, Who is he that is for Joab, and who is on the side of David following Joab? And Amessai was wakering in blood in the midst of the way. And a man saw all that the people stood still; and he removed Amessai out of the path into a field, and he cast a garment upon him, because he saw every one that came to him standing still. And when he was quickly removed from the road, every man of Israel passed after Joab to pursue after Sabee the son of Bochori.

And he went through all the tribes of Israel to Abel, and to Bethmachia; and all in Charrti were assembled, and followed after him. And they came and besieged him in Abel and Pharman: and they raised a mound against the city and it stood close to the wall; and all the people with Joab proposed to throw down the wall.

And a wise woman cried from the wall, and said, Hear, hear; say, I pray ye, to Joab, Draw near hither, and I will speak to him.

And he drew nigh to her, and the woman said to him, Art thou Joab? and he said, I am he. And she said, Hearken, my lord the king, which say, Why was there also a dead body found in thy field? And he said, It is an harlot that was taken by our men in the field. And he said, Thou shalt speak, thou shalt not say, I am an harlot. And he said, Thou shalt say, I was staking the children of the men of Israel. And he said to Joab, Call the city, and hear counsel. And Joab said, They will tell thee. And Joab said to the king, Thou seest, O king, who is for thee, and who is for me: see, and hear the cause, and consider it.

And the king said, Go forth, and see the cause. And Joab went forth, and came into the field, where the women were gathered together. And he said to the women, What is the cause? And they said, A harlot is judged by us, and we know not who is the father of her children. And he said, What do ye? say ye, who is the father of the children? And they said, The harlot is taken by us. And he said, Go and tell the king. And Joab said to the king, She is taken in adultery. And the king said, Do ye think to obscure my face? bring her out, and she shall be burnt with fire, because she was caught in adultery. And all Israel answered with one voice, O king, do that which is right. And the king slept no more that day. And they brought out the women, and she was burnt with fire; and she died, because she had done this thing.

And Joab heard of it, and held in his hand the two sides of the city gate, and said, If the king's son say, Put her alive, then I will open the city gate to the king's son. And the king's son rose up, and said, Put her alive. And Joab said, They shall not go down from the gate. And the king said, Take and cast her in the forest. And they took and cast her in the forest, and she died. And the king said, Go, tell the city, and cause them to raise a mound over her; and bury her: for she is a worthy woman.

And Abessal the son of Hadad and Joab the son of Zeruiah hated king David.

And the king said, Who is on my side? And all the men of Israel answered, Who is on thy side? and all the men of Juda answered, Who is on thy side?

And David said, Who is on my side? And some said, On thy side, David. And others said, On Absalom's side. And others said, On Joab's side.

said, I am. And she said to him, Hear the words of thy handmaid; and Joab said, I do hear. 18 And she spoke, saying, Of old time they said thus, Surely one was asked in Abel, and Dan, whether the faithful in Israel fared well; they will surely ask in Abel, in even in like manner, whether they have failed. 19 I am a peaceable one of the strong ones in Israel; but thou seekest to destroy a city and a mothercity in Israel: why dost thou seek to ruin the inheritance of the Lord? 20 And Joab answered and said, Far be it from me, that I should sin against the Lord this day, that I should destroy the city of the Lord; but do this thing which is good in thine eyes. 21 Is not the case thus, that a man of mount Ephraim, Sibbe the son of Bochur, by name, has even lifted up his hand against king David? Give him only to me, and I will depart from the city. And the woman said to Joab, Behold, his head shall be thrown to thee over the wall.

22 And the woman went in to all the people, and she spoke to all the city in her wisdom; and they took off the head of Sibbe the son of Bochur; and it took away and threw it to Joab: and he blew the trumpet, and the people separated from the city away from him, every man to his tent: and Joab returned to Jerusalem the king.

23 And Joab was over all the forces of Israel: and Banaas the son of Jedde was over the Cherethites and over the Phelethites. 24 And Adoniram was over the tribute: and Joasaph the son of Achiluth was recorder. 25 And Susa was scribe: and Sadoc and Abidath were priests. 26 Moreover Irsas the son of Larin was priest to David.

And there was a famine in the days of David three years, year after year; and David sought the face of the Lord. And the Lord said, There is a guilt upon Saul and his house because of his bloody murder, whereby he slew the Gabaonites. 2 And king David called the Gabaonites, and said to them; (now the Gabaonites are not the children of Israel, but are the remnant of the Amorite, and the children of Israel had sworn to them: but Saul sought to smite them in his zeal for the children of Israel and Judah.)

3 And David said to the Gabaonites, What shall I do to you? and wherewithal shall I make atonement, that ye may bless the inheritance of the Lord? And the Gabaonites said to him, We have no question about silver or gold with Saul and with his house; and there is no man for us to put to death in Israel. 4 And he said, What say ye? speak, and I will do it for you. And they said to the king, The man who would have made an end of us, and persecuted us, who plotted against us to destroy us, let us utterly destroy him, so that he shall have no standing in all the coasts of Israel. 5 Let one give us seven men of his sons, and let us hang them up in the sun to the Lord in Gabaon of Saul, as chosen out for the Lord. And the king said, I will give them.

6 But the king spared Memphiboseth the son of Jonathan the son of Saul, because of the oath of the Lord that was between them, even between David and Jonathan the son of Saul.

And the king took the two sons of Respha, the daughter of Aia, whom she bore to Saul, Haggai and Memphibosheth, and the five sons of Michol daughter of Saul, whom she bore to Esriel son of Berzelli the Moabite. And he gave them into the hand of the Gabaonites, and they hanged them up in the sun in the mountain before the Lord: and they fell under them where they hung, and the birds of the air nibbled the flesh of them in the days of harvest at the commencement, in the beginning of barley-harvest.

And Respha the daughter of Aia took sackcloth, and fixed it for herself on the rock in the beginning of barley harvest, until water dropped upon them out of heaven commanded: and she did not suffer the birds of the air to rest upon them by day, nor the beasts of the field by night.

And it was told David what Respha the daughter of Aia the concubine of Saul had done, and they were faint, and Dan the son of Joa of the offspring of the giants deserted David and went and took the bones of Saul, and the bones of Jonathan his son, from the men of the sons of Jabia Galad, who stole them from the street of Bethsan; for the Philistines set them there in the day in which the Philistines smote Saul in Gelbue. And he carried up thence the bones of Saul and the bones of Jonathan his son, and gathered the bones of them that had been hanged.

And they buried the bones of Saul and the bones of Jonathan his son, and the bones of them that had been hanged, in the land of Benjamin in the hill, in the sepulchre of his father; and they did all things that the king commanded: and after this the Lord hearkened to the prayers of the land.

And there was yet war between the Philistines and Israel: and David went down and his servants with him, and they fought with the Philistines, and David went. And Jesbi, who was of the progeny of Rapha, and the head of whose spear staff was three and thirty weights, was a man of valour, who also was girt with a club, even he thought to smite David. And Abessa the son of Sarua helped him and smote the Philistine, and slew him. Then the men of David swore, saying, Thou shalt not any longer go out with us to battle, and thou shalt not quench the lamp of Israel.

And after this there was a battle again with the Philistines in Geth: then Sebocha the Astatothite slew Seph of the progeny of Rapha.

And there was a battle in Ram with the Philistines; and Eleanan son of Ariorgim the Bethleemite slew Goliath the Gittite; and the staff of his spear was as a weaver’s beam.

And there was yet a battle in Geth: and there was ya man of stature, and the fingers of his hands and the toes of his feet were six on each, four and twenty in number: and he also was born to Rapha.

And he defied Israel, and Jonathan son of Semei brother of David, smote him.

These four were born descendants of the
And David spoke to the Lord the words of this song; in the day in which the Lord rescued his people from the hand of all his enemies, and out of the hand of Saul. And the song was thus:

O Lord, my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer;
I will call upon the Lord who is worthy to be praised, and I shall be saved from my enemies.
For the troubles of death compassed me, the floods of iniquity amazed me:
the pangs of death surrounded me, the agonies of death prevented me.
When I was afflicted I will call upon the Lord, and will cry to my God, and he shall hear my voice out of his temple, and my cry shall come into his ears.

And the earth was troubled and quaked, and the foundations of heaven were confounded and torn asunder, because the Lord was wrath with them.
There went up a smoke in his wrath, and fire out of his mouth devours; coals were kindled at it.
And he bowed the heavens, and came down, and there was darkness under his feet.
And he rode upon the cherubs and did fly, and was seen upon the wings of the wind.
And he made darkness his hiding-place; his thunders round about him was the darkness of waters, he condensed it with the clouds of the air.
At the brightness before him coals of fire were kindled.
The Lord thundered out of heaven, and the Most High uttered his voice.

And he sent forth arrows, and scattered them, and he flashed lightning, and dismayed them.
And the channels of the sea were seen, and the foundations of the world were discovered, at the rebuke of the Lord, at the blast of his anger.
He sent from above and took me; he drew me out of many waters.
He delivered me from my strong enemies, from them that hated me, for they were stronger than I.

The days of my affliction prevented me; but the Lord was my stay.
And he brought me into a wide place, and rescued me, because he delighted in me.
And the Lord recompensed me according to my righteousness; even according to the purity of my hands did he recompense me.
Because I kept the ways of the Lord, and did not wickedly depart from my God.
For all his judgments and his ordinances were before me: I departed not from them.
And I shall be blameless before him, and will keep myself from my iniquity.
And the Lord will recompense me according to my righteousness, and according to the purity of my hands in his eye-sight.

With the holy thou wilt be holy, and with the perfect man thou wilt be perfect, and with the excellency thou wilt be excellent, and with the froward thou wilt be froward.
And thou wilt save the poor giants in Geth, the family of Rapha; and they fell by the hand of David, and by the hand of his servants.

22 And they departed from the land of Egypt, and dwelt in the wilderness.

24 And the children of Israel did all these things; and they served the Lord forty years after the departure of the children of Jacob out of Egypt.
people, and wilt bring down the eyes of the haughty. 29 For thou, Lord, art my lamp, and the Lord shall shine forth to me in my darkness. 30 For by thee shall I run as a girded man, and by my God shall I leap over a wall.

31 As for the Mighty One, his way is blameless; the word of the Lord is strong and tried in the fire: he is a protector to all that put their trust in him. 32 Who is strong, but the Lord? and who will be a Creator except our God? 33 The Mighty One who strengthens me with might, and has prepared my way without fault. 34 He makes my feet like harts' feet, and sets me upon the high places. 35 He teaches my hands to war, and has broken a brazen bow by my arm. 36 And thou hast given me the shield of my salvation, and thy propitious dealing hath enlarged my heart, so that they make room under me for my going, and my legs did not totter.

37 I will pursue my enemies, and will utterly destroy them; and I will not turn again till I have consumed them. 38 And I will crush them, and they shall not rise again; and they shall fall under my feet. 39 And thou shalt strengthen me with power for the war; thou shalt cause them that rise up against me to bow down under me. 40 And thou hast caused mine enemies to flee before me, even them that hated me, and thou hast slain them. 41 They shall cry, and there shall be no helper, to the Lord, to the Gentiles, but he hearkens not to them. 42 And I ground them as the dust of the earth, I beat them small as the mire of the streets. 43 And thou shalt deliver me from the strivings of the people, thou shalt keep me to be the head of the Gentiles: a people which I knew not served me. 44 The strange children shall be cast away, and shall be taken out of their hiding-places.

The Lord lives, and blessed be my guardian, and my God, my strong keeper, shall be exalted among the Lord who strengthens me strong, chastening the nations under me, and bringing me out from my enemies: and thou shalt set me on high from among those that rise up against me: thou shalt deliver me from the violent man. Therefore will I confess to thee, O Lord, among the Gentiles, and sing to thy name. 48 He magnifies the salvation of his king, and works mercy for his anointed, even for David and for his seed for ever.

And these are the last words of David. Faithful is David the son of Jesse, and faithful the man whom the Lord raised up to be the anointed of the God of Jacob, and beautiful are the psalms of Israel. 2 The Spirit of the Lord spoke by me, and his word was upon my tongue. 3 The God of Israel says, A watchman out of Israel spoke to me a parable: I said among men, How will ye strengthen the fear of the anointed? And in the morning light of God, let the sun arise in the morning, from the light of which the Lord passed on, and as it were from the rain of the tender grass upon the earth. For my house is not so with the Mighty One: for he has made an everlasting covenant with me, ready, guarded at every time; for all my salvation and all my desire is, that the wicked should not flourish. All these are as a thorn thrust forth, for they shall not be taken with the hand, and a man shall not labour among them; and one shall burn that which is fully armed with fire, and the staff of a spear, and he shall burn them with fire, and they shall be burnt in their shame.

These are the names of the mighty men of David: Jebost the Chananeite is a captain of the third part: Adinon the Asonite, he drew his sword against eight hundred soldiers at once. And after him Eleanan the son of his uncle, son of Dudi who was among the three mighty men with David; and when he defied the Philistines they were gathered there to war, and the men of Israel went up. He arose and smote the Philistines, until his hand was weary, and his hand clave to the sword: and the Lord wrought a great salvation in that day, and the people rested behind him only to strip the slain.

And after him Samaia, the son of the Arachite; and the Philistines were gathered to Theria; and there was there a portion of ground full of lentiles; and the people fled before the Philistines. And he stood firm in the midst of the portion, and rescued it, and smote the Philistines; and the Lord wrought a great deliverance.

And three out of the thirty went down, and came to Cason to David, to the cave of Odollam; and there was an army of the Philistines, and they encamped in the valley of Raphain. And David was then in the strong hold, and the garrison of the Philistines was then in Bethleem. And David longed, and said, Who will give me water to drink out of the well that is in Bethleem by the gate? now the band of the Philistines was then in Bethleem. And the three mighty men broke through the host of the Philistines, and drew water out of the well that was in Bethleem in the gate: and they took it, and brought it to David, and he would not drink it, but poured it out before the Lord. And he said, O Lord, forbid that I should do this, that I should drink the blood of the men who went at the risk of their lives: and he would not drink it. These things did these three mighty men.

And the brother of Joab the son of Sarua, he was chief among the three, and he lifted up his spear against three hundred whom he slew; and he had a name among three. Of those three he was most honourable, and he became a chief over them, but he reached not to the first three.

And Baneas the son of Joda, he was abundant in mighty deeds, from Calebseel, and he smote the two sons of Ariel of Moab: and he went down and smote a lion in the midst of a pit on a snowy day. He smote an Egyptian, a wonderful man, and in the hand of the Egyptian was a spear as the side of a ladder; and he went down to him with a staff, and snatcht the spear from the Egyptian's hand, and slew him with his own spear. 2 These things did Banaas the son of Jocae, and he had a name among the three mighty men. 3 He was honourable among the second three, but he reached not to the first three: and David imade him her reporter.

And these are the names of King David's mighty men: 4 Asael Joab's brother; he was among the thirty. Eleazar son of Dedi his uncle in Bethleem. 5 Sema the Rudean. 6 Selles the Kedothite: Itas the son of Issa the Thecite.  7 Abiezer the Anathite, of the sons of the Anothite. 8 Eilion the Ahoites: Notre the Netophatite. 9 Esthar the son of Ribah of Gabach, son of Benjamin the Ephrathite: Asmath the Bardaimite; Emsas the Salabonite: 10 the sons of Asan, Jonathan; 11 Samman the Arodite; Amman the son of Arai the Sareunite. 12 Alaphaleth the son of Asites, the son of the Machachithe; Eliah the son of Alichith, the son of the Camailet the son of Ureescheri. 13 Gaul the son of Nathan. The son of much valour, the son of Galalzie. Elie the Ammanite.

And the Lord caused his anger to burn forth again in Israel, and Sutan stirred up David against them, saying, Go, number Israel and Juda. 2 And the king said to Joab commander of the host, who was with him Go now through all the tribes of Israel and Juda, from Dan even to Bersabee, and number the people, and I will know the number of the people. 3 And Joab said to the king, Nay, may the Lord add the people a hundred-fold as many as they are, and may the eyes of my lord the king see it: but why doth my lord the king desire this thing? 4 Nevertheless the word of the king prevailed against Joab and the captains of the host.

And Joab and the captains of the host went out before the king to number the people of Israel and Juda. 2 And they went over Jordan, and encamped in Aroer, on the right of the city which is in the midst of the valley of Gad and Eliezer. 3 And they came to Gadal, and into the land of Thabason, which is Adasa, and they came to Damidin and Udian, and compassed Sidon. 4 And they came to Mapsir of Tyre, and to all the cities of the Evite and the Hunamite: and they came by the south of Juda to Bersabee. 5 And they compassed the whole land; and they arrived at Jerusalem at the end of nine months and twenty days. 6 And Joab gave in the number of the census of the people to the king: and Israel consisted of one million and a thousand thousand fighting men.
10 And the heart of David smote him after he had numbered the people; and David said to the Lord, I have sinned grossly: O Lord, in what have I now done: remove, I pray thee, the iniquity of thy servant, for I have been exceedingly foolish.

11 And David rose early in the morning, and the word of the Lord came to the prophet Gad, the seer, saying, Go, and speak to David, saying, Thus saith the Lord, I bring one of three things to thee.

12 Choose, therefore, and speak quickly, for I am the one that is to come down upon thee in one of these three ways.

13 And Gad came to David, and said to him, Three things I have brought to thee to choose one of them:

14 And Gad said to David, Consider, therefore, and choose one of these things; for I will do it to thee according to thy word.

15 And the thingissaught by the word of the Lord, and he said, I pray thee, let me not fall into the hand of the Lord.

16 And David said to Gad, I am in a strait: let me fall into the hand of mine enemies; but let me not fall into the hand of the Lord.

17 And the Lord sent disease upon the people of Israel: and seventy thousand men of Israel died of the plague.

18 And the Lord sent a pestilence upon Israel: and David arose, and said to the Lord, This is mine iniquity, and these are my sins: let me, therefore, fall into the hand of the Lord; for I have dealt most foolishly against myself.

19 And the Lord said to David, Thou hast dealt very foolishly: because thou hast sent the angel to smite the people.

20 And the Lord said to David, There shall not be an issue of thine seed by the hand of a woman, who shall be given thee to be wife, which shall not be a child of thine.

21 And David said to the Lord, I have sinned greatly: but please now, O Lord, thy servant, that I may find grace in thy sight, and that the iniquity of thy people may be purged away.

22 And the Lord answered David, Go and number the people.

23 And David said to the Lord, I have sinned greatly: but please now, O Lord, thy servant, that I may find grace in thy sight, and that the iniquity of thy people may be purged away.

24 And the Lord answered David, Go and number the people.

25 And David rose early in the morning, and sent the people of Israel to number themselves, to number every man who could carry a sword, of twenty years old and up.

26 And David numbered Israel from Beersheba even to Beer-sheba, by the border of the Philistines, and from the wilderness of A Wild East, even to the river, even to the sea.

27 And when David had ended numbering Israel, he numbered Judah seven hundred thousand and three thousand, and Dan five hundred thousand and five thousand.

28 And those of Ephraim six hundred thousand and eight thousand, and of Reuben six hundred thousand and seven thousand.

29 And there were six hundred thousand valiant men of Simeon, and six hundred thousand and five thousand of Naphtali.

30 And the men of Zebulun five hundred thousand and ten thousand, and the men of Issachar eight hundred thousand and sixty.

31 And the men of Joseph, that is, of the house of Manasseh, were of the tribe of Manasseh, and of thehouse of Benjamin, were of the tribe of Benjamin.

32 And the men of Benjamin were of the tribe of Benjamin seven hundred thousand and thirty thousand, and all the valiant men of the house of Joseph were of the house of Joseph two hundred and twenty thousand.

33 And the men of Levi were of the tribe of Levi three hundred thousand and eighty thousand, of which were able to know the law, and were the priests and Levites.

34 And the men of Judah were of the tribe of Judah four hundred and sixty thousand and five thousand, ready to go out of the camp to do the work of the Lord.

35 And there were of the tribe of Issachar four hundred thousand and one thousand, prepared to go out.

36 And of the tribe of Zebulun were four hundred thousand and three thousand, prepared to go out.

37 And of the tribe of Naphtali were four hundred thousand and five thousand, prepared to go out.

38 And of the tribe of Manasseh were five hundred thousand and four thousand, ready to go out.

39 And of the tribe of Benjamin were six hundred thousand and seven thousand, prepared to go out.

40 And of the tribe of Ephraim were six hundred thousand and eight thousand, ready to go out.

41 And of the tribe of Reuben were six hundred thousand and five thousand, prepared to go out.

42 And of the tribe of Gad were four hundred and thirty thousand, prepared to go out.

43 And of the tribe of Dan were five hundred thousand and seven thousand, prepared to go out.

44 And of the tribe of Asher were five hundred thousand and ten thousand, ready to go out.

45 And of the tribe of Zebulun were four hundred thousand and five thousand, prepared to go out.

46 And of the tribe of Joseph were four hundred thousand and six thousand, ready to go out.

47 And of the tribe of Benjamin were six hundred thousand and seven thousand, prepared to go out.

ΑΣΙΛΕΙΟΝ Γ.

And king David was old and advanced in days, and they covered him with clothes, and he was not warmed. 2 And his servants said, Let them seek for the king a young virgin, and she shall wait on the king, and cherish him, and lie with him, and my lord the king shall be warmed. 3 So they sought for a fair damsel out of all the coasts of Israel; and they found Abisag the Somanite, and they brought her to the king. 4 And the damsel was extremely beautiful, and she cherished the king, and ministered to him, but the king knew her not.

5 And Adonias the son of Aggith exalted himself, saying, I will be king; and he prepared for himself chariots and horses, and fifty men to run before him. 6 And his father never at any time checked him, saying, Why hast thou done thus? and he was also very handsome in appearance, and his mother bore him after Abassalom. 7 And he conferred with Joab the son of Sarua, and with Abiathar the priest, and they followed after Adonias. 8 But Sadoc the priest, and Bameas the son of Jodae, and Nathan the prophet, and Semei, and Resi, and the eight mighty men of David, did not follow Adonias. 9 And Adonias sacrificed sheep and calves and lambs by the stone of Zoelæthi, which was near Rogel: and he called all his brethren, and all the adult men of Juda, servants of the king. 10 But Nathan the prophet, and Bameas, and the mighty men, and Solomon his brother, he did not call.

11 And Nathan spoke to Bereabee the mother of Solomon, saying, Hast thou not heard that Adonias the son of Aggith reigns, and our lord David knows it not? 12 And now come, let me, I pray, give thee counsel, and thou shalt rescue thy life, and the life of thy son Solomon. 13 Haste, and go in to king David, and thou shalt speak to him saying, Hast not thou, my lord, O king, sworn to thine handmaid, saying, Thy son Solomon shall reign after me, and he shall sit upon my throne? why then does Adonias reign? And behold, while thou art still speaking there with the king, I also will come in after thee, and will confirm thy words.

So Bersabee went in to the king into the chamber: and the king was very old, and Abisag the Somanite was ministering to the king. And Bersabee bowed, and did obeisance to the king; and the king said, What is thy request? And she said, My lord, thou didst answear by the Lord thy God to thine handmaid, saying, Thy son Solomon shall reign after me, and shall sit upon my throne. And now, behold, Adonias reigns, and thou, my lord, O king, knowest it not. And he has sacrificed calves and lambs and sheep in abundance, and has called all the king's sons, and Abiathar the priest, and Joab the commander-in-chief of the host; but Solomon thy servant he has not called. And thou, my lord, O king,—the eyes of all Israel are upon thee, to tell them who shall sit upon the throne of my lord the king after him. And it shall come to pass, when my lord the king shall sleep with his fathers, that I and Solomon my son shall be offenders.

And behold, while she was yet talking with the king, Nathan the prophet came. And it was reported to the king. Behold, Nathan the prophet is here; and he came in to the king's presence, and did obeisance to the king with his face to the ground. And Nathan said, My lord, O king, didst thou say, Adonias shall reign after me, and he shall sit upon my throne? For he has gone down to-day, and has sacrificed calves and lambs and sheep in abundance, and has called all the king's sons, and the chiefs of the army, and Abiathar the priest; and, behold, they are eating and drinking before him, and they said, Long live king Adonias. But he has not invited me thy servant, and Sadoc the priest, and Banus the son of Joda, and Solomon thy servant. And this matter happened by the authority of my lord the king, and hast thou not made known to thy servant who shall sit upon the throne of my lord the king after him?

And king David answered and said, Call me Bersabee; and she came in before the king, and stood before him. And the king spake, and said, As the Lord lives who redeemed my soul out of all affliction, as I spake to thee by the Lord God of Israel, saying, Solomon thy son shall reign after me, and he shall sit upon my throne in my stead, so will I do this day. And Bersabee bowed with her face to the ground, and did obeisance to the king, and said, Let my lord king David live for ever.

And king David said, Call me Sadoc the priest, and Nathan the prophet, and Banaas the son of Joda: and they came in before the king. 33 And the king said to them, Take the servants of your lord with you, and mount my son Solomon upon my own mule, and bring him down to Gion. 34 And there let Sadoc the priest, and Banaas the son of Joda, and Nathan the prophet, stand because it is to be king over Israel, and do ye sound the trumpet, and ye shall say, Let king Solomon live. 35 And he shall sit upon my throne, and reign in my stead: and I have given charge that he should be for a prince over Israel and Judah. 36 And Banaas the son of Joda answered, and Nathan the king said, and said, So let it be: may the Lord God of my lord the king confirm it. 37 As the Lord was with my lord the king, so let him be with Solomon, and let him exalt his throne beyond the throne of my lord king David.

38 And Sadoc the priest went down, and Nathan the prophet, and Banaas son of Joda, and the Cherethite, and the Phelethite, and they mounted Solomon upon the mule of king David, and led him away to Gion. 39 And Sadoc the priest took the horn of oil out of the tabernacle, and anointed Solomon, and blew the trumpet; and all the people rejoiced, and said, Long live king Solomon. 40 And all the people went up after him, and they danced in choirs, and rejoiced with great joy, and the earth quaked with their voice.

41 And Adonias and all his guests heard, and they said, we will not eat: and Joab heard the voice of the people, and said, What mean the voice of the city in tumult? 42 While he was yet speaking, behold, Jonathan the son of Abinath the priest came in: and Adonias said, Come in, for thou art a mighty man, and thou comest to bring glad tidings. 43 And Jonathan answered and said, Verily our lord king David has made Solomon king: 44 and the king has sent with him Sadoc the priest, and Nathan the prophet, and Banaas the son of Joda, and the Cherethite, and the Phelethite, and they have mounted him upon the king's mule; 45 and the priest and Nathan the prophet have anointed him in Gion, and have gone up thereinto rejoicing, and the city sounded; this is the sound which ye have heard. 46 And Solomon is seated upon the throne of the kingdom. 47 And the servants of the king have gone in to bless our lord king David, saying, God make the name of Solomon better than thy name, and make his throne greater than thy throne; and the king worshipped upon his bed. 48 Moreover thus said the king, Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, who has this day appointed one of my seed sitting upon my throne, and my eyes see it.

49 And all the guests of Adonias were dismayed, and every man went his way. 50 And Adonias feared because of Solomon, and arose, and departed, and laid hold on the horns of the altar. 51 And it was reported to Solomon, saying, Behold, Adonias fears king Solomon, and holds the horns of the altar, saying, Let Solomon swear to me this day, and I shall tell thee what I have in mine heart.

that he will not slay his servant with the sword. 82 And Solomon said, If he should be a valiant man, there shall not a hair of his fall to the ground; but if evil be found in him, lie shall die. 83 And king Solomon sent, and they brought him away from the altar; and he went in and did obeisance to king Solomon: and Solomon said to him, Go to thy house.

And the days of David drew near that he should die: and he addressed his son Solomon, saying, I go the way of all the earth: 8 but go in and do not let thyself fail: and keep the charge of the Lord thy God, to walk in his ways, to keep the commandments and the ordinances and the judgments which are written in the law of Moses; that thou mayest understand what thou shalt do in all things that I command thee: 9 that the Lord may confirm his word which he spoke, saying, If thy children shall take heed to their way to walk before me with all their heart, I promise thee, saying, there shall not fail thee a man on the throne of Israel. 10 Moreover thou knowest all that Joab the son of Saruia did to me, what he did to the two captains of the forces of Israel, to Abner the son of Ner, and to Amasa the son of Jether, 11 that the Lord turned the blood of war in peace, and put innocent blood on his girdle that was about his loins, and on his sandal that was on his foot. 12 Therefore thou shalt deal with him according to thy wisdom, and thou shalt not bring down his grey hairs in peace to the grave. 13 But thou shalt deal kindly with the sons of Berzelli the Galaadite, and they shall be among those that eat at thy table; for thus they drew night to me when I fled from the face of thy brother Abassalom. 14 And, behold, there is with thee Semei the son of Gera, a Benjamite of Baurim: 15 and he cursed me with a grievous curse in the day when I went into the camp; and he came down to Jordan to me, and I swore to him by the Lord, saying, I will not put thee to death. 16 But thou shalt deals with him according to the foolishness of thine heart, which thou hast dealt: for thou art a wise man, and wilt know what thou shalt do to him, and shalt bring down his grey hairs with blood to the grave.

18 And David slept with his fathers, and was buried in the city of David. 19 And the days which David reigned over Israel were forty years; he reigned seven years in Ochebron, and thirty-three years in Jerusalem. 20 And Solomon sat on the throne of his father David, and his kingdom was established greatly. 21 And Adonias the son of Aggith came in to Bersabee the mother of Solomon, and did obeisance to her; and she said, Dost thou enter peaceably? and he said, Peaceably; for I have no business with thee. 22 And Adonias said to the king, and he said to her, Thou knowest that the kingdom was mine, and all Israel turned their face toward me for a king; but the kingdom was turned from me and became my brother’s: for it was appointed to him from the Lord. 23 And now I make one request of thee, do not turn away this face. And Ber-
And Bersabee said to him, Speak on. And he said to her, Speak, I pray thee, to king Solomon, for he will not turn away his face from thee, and let him give me Abisag the Somanite for a wife. And Bersabee said, Well; I will speak for thee to the king.

And Bersabee went in to king Solomon to speak to him concerning Adonias; and the king rose up to meet her, and kissed her, and set her on his right hand. And she said to him, I ask of thee one little request; turn not away my face from thee. And the king said to her, Ask, my mother, and I will not reject thee. And she said, Let, I pray thee, Abisag the Somanite be given to Adonias thy brother to wife.

And king Solomon answered and said to his mother, And why hast thou asked Abisag for Adonias? ask for him the kingdom also; for he is my elder brother, and he has for his companion Abiathar the priest, and Joab the son of Serauia the commander-in-chief.

And king Solomon sent by the hand of Banaas the son of Jadae, and he slew him, and Adonias died in that day.

And the king said to Abiathar the priest, Depart thou quickly to Anathoth to thy farm, for thou art worthy of death this day; but I will not slay thee, because thou hast borne the ark of the covenant of the Lord before my father, and because thou wast afflicted in all things wherein my father was afflicted.

And Solomon removed Abiathar from being a priest of the Lord, because of the word of the Lord, that the word of the Lord might be fulfilled, which he spake concerning the house of Heli in Selom.

And the report came to Joab son of Serauia; for Joab had turned after Adonias, and he went not after Solomon; and Joab fled to the tabernacle of the Lord, and caught hold of the horns of the altar. And it was told Solomon, saying, Joab has fled to the tabernacle of the Lord, and lo! he has hold of the horns of the altar. And king Solomon sent to Joab, saying, What ails thee, that thou hast fled to the altar? and Joab said, Because I was afraid of thee, and fled for refuge to the Lord. And Solomon sent Banaas son of Jadae, saying, Go and slay him, and bury him.

And Banaas son of Jadae came to Joab to the tabernacle of the Lord, and said to him, Thus says the king, Come forth. And Joab said, I # will not come forth, for I will die here. And Banaas son of Jadae returned and spoke to the king, saying, Thus has Joab spoken, and thus has he answered me. And the king said to him, Go, and do to him as he has spoken, and kill him: and thou shalt bury him, and thou shalt remove this day the blood which he shed without cause, from me and from the house of my father. 32 And the Lord has returned upon his own head the blood of his unrighteousness, inasmuch as he attacked two men more righteous and better than himself, and slew them with the sword, and my father David knew not of their blood, even Abner the son of Ner the commander-in-chief of Israel, and Amasa the son of Jether the commander-in-chief of Juda. 33 And their blood is returned upon his head, and upon the head of his seed for ever: but to David, and his seed, and his house, and his throne, may there be peace for ever from the Lord.

34 So Banaas son of Joda went up, and attacked him, and slew him, and buried him in his house in the wilderness.

35 And the king appointed Banaas son of Joda in his place over the host; and the kingdom was established in Jerusalem; and he ruled for Sadoe the priest, the king appointed him to be his high priest in the house of Abin-thar. And Solomon son of David reigned over Israel and Juda in Jerusalem: and the Lord gave understanding to Solomon, and very much wisdom, and largeness of heart, as the sand by the sea-shore.

γ And the wisdom of Solomon abounded exceedingly beyond the wisdom of all the ancients, and beyond all the wise men of Egypt; and he took the daughter of Pharao and brought her into the city of David, until he had finished building his own house, and the house of the Lord first, and the wall of Jerusalem round about. In seven years he made and finished them.

And Solomon had seventy thousand bearers of burdens, and eighty thousand hewers of stone in the mountain: and Solomon made them great burdens of stone, and heweders of stone, and drawers of water, and stalles for the horses, and store-houses for the corn, and store-houses for the wine, and store-houses for the oil, and three courts of the house of the Lord, and precious vessels of gold and silver. And he made in Jerusalem a citadel, and he made a great court for the army, and for the horses of chariots, and for his chariots and horsemen, and hewed out store-houses for them. And he made in Jerusalem store-houses for the silver, and the gold, and for the spoils, and for the precious vessels; and store-houses for the spices, and for the incense, and for the ointments, and for all manner of vessels of gold, and of silver; and caches for the sons of the king, and store-houses for the vessels of the temple, and for the vessels of the king’s house, and for the vessels of the sons of the king. And Solomon made in Jerusalem an armory for the king’s hosts, and for all his chariots, and horsemen, and a place for all his chariots, and a place for his horsemen, and一千 chariots, and an hundred and fifty chariots.

And when David was yet living, he charged Solomon, saying, Behold, there is with thee Semeii the son of Gera, of the seed of Ben-jamin out of Chebron: he cursed me with a grievous curse in the day when I went into the camp; and he came down to meet me at Jordan, and I swore to him by the Lord, saying, \( \delta \) He shall not be slain with the sword. But now do not thou hold him guiltless, for thou art a man of understanding, and thou wilt know what thou shalt do to him, and thou shalt bring down his 38 And the king called Semei, and said to him, Build thee a house in Jerusalem, and dwell there, and thou shalt not go out thence any whither. For I have come to pass in the day that thou shalt go forth and cross over the brook Kedron, \( \theta \) know assuredly that thou shalt certainly die: thy blood shall be upon thine head, and the king caused him to swear in that day. \( \delta \) And Semei said to the king, Good is the word that thou hast spoken, my lord O king: thus will thy servant do. And Semei dwelt in Jerusalem three years.

And it came to pass after the three years, that servants of Semei ran away to Anochus son of Maachah king of Geth: and it was told Semei, saying, Behold, thy servants are in Geth. \( \theta \) And Semei rose up, and saddled his ass, and went to Geth to Anochus to seek out his servants: and Semei went, and brought his servants out of Geth. \( \delta \) And it was told Solomon, saying, Semei is gone out of Jerusalem to Geth, and has brought back his servants. \( \theta \) And the king sent and called Semei, and said to him, Did I not adjure thee by the Lord, and testify to thee, saying, In whatsoever day thou shalt go out of Jerusalem, and go to the right or left, know certainly that thou shalt assuredly die? \( \delta \) And why hast thou not kept the oath of the Lord, and the commandment which I commanded thee?

And the king said to Semei, Thou knowest all thy mischief which thy heart knows, which thou didst to David my father: and the Lord has recompensed thy mischief on thine own head. \( \theta \) And king Solomon is blessed, and the throne of David shall be established before the Lord for ever. \( \delta \) And Solomon commanded Baneas the son of Joda, and he went forth and slew him.

And king Solomon was very prudent and wise: and Juda and Israel were very many, as the sand which is by the sea for multitude, eating, and drinking, and rejoicing: and Solomon was chief in all the kingdoms, and they brought gifts, and served Solomon all the days of his life. And Solomon began to open the domains of Libanus, and he built Thamine the wilderness. And this was the daily provision of Solomon, thirty measures of fine flour, and sixty measures of ground meal, ten choice calves, and twenty oxen from the pastures, and a hundred sheep, besides stags, and does, and choice birds fed. For he ruled in all the country on this side the river, from Raphi unto Gaza, over all the kings on this side the river: and he was at peace on all sides round about him, and Juda and Israel dwelt safely, every one under his vine and under his fig tree, eating and drinking, and feasting, from Dan even to Bersabee, all the days of Solomon.

And these were the princes of Solomon: Azariah son of Salome the priest, and Ornai son of Nathan chief of the officers, and he went to his house, and Suha, and Banas of Achar Northam recorder, and Abi son of Joab commander-in-chief, and Ahire son of Edra was over the Ylevies, and Banaas son of Joda over the household and over the brickwork, and Cachur the son of Nathan was counsellor.

And Solomon had forty thousand brood mares for his chariots, and twelve thousand horses.

And he reigned over all the kings from the river and to the land of the Philistines, and to the borders of Egypt: so Solomon the son of David reigned over Israel and Judah in Jerusalem. Nevertheless the people burnt incense on the high places, because a house had not yet been built for the Lord, so as to walk in the ordinances of David his father; only he sacrificed and burnt incense on the high places. And he arose and went to Gabaon to sacrifice there, for that was the highest place, and great: Solomon offered a whole-burnt-offering of a thousand victims on the altar in Gabaon.

6 And the Lord appeared to Solomon in a dream by night, and the Lord said to Solomon, Ask some petition for thyself. And Solomon said, Thou hast dealt very mercifully with thy servant David my father according as he walked before thee in truth, and in righteousness, and in uprightness of heart with thee, and thou hast kept for him this great mercy, to set his son upon his throne, as it is this day. And now, O Lord my God, thou hast appointed thy servant in the room of David my father; and I am a little child, and know not my going out and my coming in. But thy servant is in the midst of thy people, whom thou hast chosen, a great people, which cannot be numbered. Thou shalt give therefore to thy servant a heart to hear and to judge thy people, and to discern between good and evil: for who will be able to judge this thy great people?

And it was pleasing before the Lord, that Solomon asked this thing. And the Lord said to him, Because thou hast asked this thing of me, and hast not asked for thyself long life, and hast not asked wealth, nor hast asked the lives of thine enemies, but hast asked for thyself understanding to hear judgment; behold, I have done according to thy word: behold, I have given thee an understanding and wise heart: there has not been any one like thee before thee, and after thee there shall not arise one like thee. And I have given thee what thou hast not asked, wealth and glory, so that there has not been any one like thee among the kings.

14 And if thou wilt walk in my way, to keep my commandments and my ordinances, as David thy father walked, then will I multiply thy days. And Solomon awoke, and beheld, it was a dream: and he arose and came to Jerusalem, and stood before the altar that was in front of the ark of the covenant of the Lord in Sion: and he offered whole-burnt-offerings, and sacrificed peace-offerings, and made a great banquet for himself and all his servants.

And the king said to them, Thou sayest, This is my son, even the living one, and this woman's son is the dead one: and thou sayest, No, but the living is my son, and the dead is thy son. And the king said, Fetch a sword. And they brought a sword before the king. And the king said, Divide the live child, the suckling, in two; and give half of it to one, and half of it to the other. And the woman whose the living child was, answered and said to the king, (for she bowels yearned over her son) and she said, I pray thee, my lord, give her the child, and in nowise slay it. But the other said, Let it be neither mine nor hers: divide it.

Then the king answered and said, Give the child to her that said, Give it to her, and by no means slay it: she is his mother.

And all Israel heard this judgment which the king judged, and they feared before the king. And they saw that the wisdom of God was in him, to execute judgment.

And king Solomon reigned over Israel. And these are the princes which he had; Azarias son of Sadoc. Elaph, and Achia son of Seba, scribes; and Josaphat son of Achilul, recorder. And Baneas son of Jobade over the host; and Sadow and Abinath were priests. And Orna the son of Nathan was over the officers; and Zabuth son of Nathan was the king's friend.

And Achisar was steward, and Eline the chief steward; and Eliab the son of Saph was over the family: and Adoniram the son of Audon over the tribute.

And Solomon had twelve officers over all Israel, to provide for the king and his household; each one's turn came to supply for a month in the year. And these were their names, the son of Onan was first of the house of Ephrane, one. The son of Dacar, in Makes, and in Salabin, and Bethamsyn, and Elan as far as Bethaman, one. The son of Esda in Anboth; his was Socho, and all the land of Opher. All Nephadhor, before the altar that was in front of the ark of the covenant of the Lord in Sion: and he offered whole-burnt-offerings, and sacrificed peace-offerings, and made a great banquet for himself and all his servants.

14 Then there appeared two harlots before the king, and they stood before him. And the king said, Hearken now, ye women, the case that is between the harlot's. And the first harlot said, I pray thee, my lord, give me my son for myself: for he is the only son I have, and there is not a man to represent me in the land. And the other said, No, but the daughter is mine: I am her father. And she added, I pray thee, my lord, give me my son for mine: for he is the only son I have, and she is only to me, for my son is dead.

And the king said, Bring me a sword. And they brought a sword before the king. And the king said, Divide the live child, the suckling, in two; and give half of it to one, and half of it to the other. And the woman whose the living child was, answered and said to the king, (for she bowels yearned over her son) and she said, I pray thee, my lord, give her the child, and in nowise slay it. But the other said, Let it be neither mine nor hers: divide it.

Then the king answered and said, Give the child to her that said, Give it to her, and by no means slay it: she is his mother.

And all Israel heard this judgment which the king judged, and they feared before the king. And they saw that the wisdom of God was in him, to execute judgment.

And king Solomon reigned over Israel. And these are the princes which he had; Azarias son of Sadoc. Elaph, and Achia son of Seba, scribes; and Josaphat son of Achilul, recorder. And Baneas son of Jobade over the host; and Sadow and Abinath were priests. And Orna the son of Nathan was over the officers; and Zabuth son of Nathan was the king's friend.

And Achisar was steward, and Eline the chief steward; and Eliab the son of Saph was over the family: and Adoniram the son of Audon over the tribute.

And Solomon had twelve officers over all Israel, to provide for the king and his household; each one's turn came to supply for a month in the year. And these were their names, the son of Onan was first of the house of Ephrane, one. The son of Dacar, in Makes, and in Salabin, and Bethamsyn, and Elan as far as Bethaman, one. The son of Esda in Anboth; his was Socho, and all the land of Opher. All Nephadhor, belonged to the son of Aminadab, Tephath daughter of Solomon was his wife, one. 12 Baana son of Achishath and Ithanaach, and Mageddo, and his was the whole house of San which was by Seathan below Esræ, and from Bethsan as far as Sabelmaula, as far as Mæber Lucam, one. 13 The son of Naber in Raboth Galaad, to him fell the lot of Ergab in Basan, sixty great cities with walls, and brazen bars, one. 14 Achinadab son of Addai, and Mahanaim. 15 Achimaș was in Neophthali, and he took Bethsemath daughter of Solomon to wife, one. 16 Baana son of Chusi, in Aser and in Bialoth, one, 17 18 Semei son of Eli, in Benjamin. 19 Gaber son of Ada in the land of Gad, of the land of Seon king of Esebon, and of Og king of Basan, and one officer in the land of Jude. 20 Josaphat son of Shallu was in Issachar. 21 And thus the officers provided king Solomon: and they execute every one in his month all the orders for the table of the king, they omit nothing. 22 And these were the requisite supplies for Solomon: in one day thirty measures of fine flour, and sixty measures of fine pounded meal, 23 and ten choice calves, and twenty pastured oxen, and a hundred sheep, besides stags, and choice fattened does. 24 For he had dominion on this side the river, and he was at peace on all sides round about.

And the Lord gave understanding to Solomon, and very much wisdom, and enlargement of heart, as the sand on the seashore. 25 Solomon abounded greatly beyond the wisdom of all the ancients, and beyond all the wise men of Egypt. 26 And he was wiser than all other men: and he was wiser than Gaethan the Zartie, and than Ezran, and than Ichlael and Darala the sons of Mal. 27 Solomon spoke three thousand proverbs, and his songs were five thousand. 28 And he spoke of trees, from the cedar in Libanus even to the hyssop which comes out through the wall; he spoke also of cattle, and of birds, and of reptiles, and of fishes. 29 And all the nations came to hear the wisdom of Solomon, and ambassadors from all the kings of the earth, as many as heard of his wisdom.

And Solomon took to himself the daughter of Pharaoh to wife, and brought her into the city of David until he had finished the house of the Lord, and his own house, and the wall of Jerusalem. Then went up Pharaoh the king of Egypt, and took Gazer, and burnt it and the Chananite dwelling in Megæb; and Pharaoh gave them as a dowry to his daughter the wife of Solomon; and Solomon rebuilt Gazer.

And Chiram king of Tyre sent his servants to anoint Solomon in the room of David his father, because Chiram always loved David. 2 And Solomon sent to Chiram, saying, 3 Thou knowest my father.
David, that he could not build a house to the name of the Lord my God, 2 because of the wars that compassed him about, until the Lord put them under the yokes of his feet. 3 And now the Lord my God has given me rest round about; there is no one plotting against me, and there is no evil trespass against me. 4 And, behold, I intend to build a house to the name of the Lord my God, as the levy which I spoke to Solomon my father saying, Thy son whom I will set on thy throne in thy place, he shall build a house to my name. 5 And now command, and let men cut wood for me out of Libanus: and, behold, my servants shall be with thy servants, and I will give thee the wages of thy service, according to all that thou shalt say, because thou knowest that we have no one skilled in cutting timber like the Sidonians.

And it came to pass, as soon as Chiram heard the words of Solomon, that he rejoiced greatly, and said, Blessed be the Lord thy God, who has given to David a wise son over this numerous people. 2 And Solomon sent to Chiram, saying, I have been listening concerning all that thou hast sent to me for: I will do all thy will: as for timber of cedar and fir, my servants shall bring them down from Libanus to the sea: I will form them into rafts, and bring them to the place which thou shalt send me about: and I will stand thine to the Lord my God to do according to all that thou shalt take them up: and thou shalt do my will, in giving bread to my household.

So Chiram gave to Solomon cedars, and fir trees, and all his desire. 11 And Solomon gave to Chiram twenty thousand measures of wheat, and twenty thousand baths of oil: thus Solomon gave to Chiram yearly. 12 And the Lord gave wisdom to Solomon as he promised him; and there was peace between Chiram and Solomon, and they made a covenant between them.

And the king raised a levy out of all Israel: the levy was thirty thousand men. 14 And he sent them to Libanus, ten thousand taking turn every month: they were a month in Libanus and two months at home: and Adoniram was over the levy. 15 And Solomon had seventy thousand bearers of burdens, and eighty thousand thousand hewers of stone in the mountain; 16 besides the rulers that were appointed over the works of Solomon, there were three thousand six hundred masters who wrought in the works. 17 And they prepared the stones and the timber during three years.

And it came to pass in the four hundred and fortieth year after the departure of the children of Israel out of Egypt, in the fourth and second month of the reign of king Solomon over Israel, 17 that the king commanded that they should take great and costly stones for the foundation of the house, and hewn stones. 18 And the men of Solomon, and the men of Chiram hewed the stones, and laid them for a foundation.
And he made the partitions all the house, each five cubits high, and enclosed every partition with cedars.

And he framed the walls of the house within with cedars boards, from the floor of the house and on to the inner walls and to the beams; he lined the parts enclosed with boards within, and compassed the inward parts of the house with planks of fir. And he built the twenty cubits from the top of the wall, one side from the floor to the beams, and he made it from the oracle to the most holy place. And the temple was forty cubits in length, and the breadth was twenty cubits, and the height was five and twenty cubits. And the porch in front of the temple—twenty cubits was its length according to the breadth of the house in front of the house; and he built the house, and finished it. And he made to the house secret windows inclining inward.

And against the wall of the house he set chambers round about the temple and the ark. The under side was five cubits broad, and the middle part six, and the third was seven cubits broad; for he formed an interval to the house round about without the house, that they might not touch the walls of the house. And the house was built in three construction of it with rough hewn stones; so was not heard in the house the building of it hammer nor axe, or any iron tool. And the porch of the under side was below the right wing of the house, and there was a winding ascent into the middle chamber, and from the middle to the third story. So he built the house and finished it; and he made the ceiling of the house with cedars. And he made the partitions through all the house, each five cubits high, and enclosed every partition with cedars boards.

And he made in the oracle of the two cherubs of ten cubits measured size. And the wing of one cherub was five cubits, and his other wing was five cubits; ten cubits from the tip of one wing to the tip of the other wing. Thus it was with the other cherub, both were alike finished with one measure. And the height of the one cherub was ten cubits, and so was it with the second cherub. And both the cherubs were in the midst of the innermost part of the house; and they spread out their wings, and one wing touched the wall, and the wing of the other cherub touched the other wall; and their wings in the midst of the house touched each other. And he covered the cherubs with gold.

23 He graved all the walls of the house round about with the graving of cherubs, and he made palm trees and open flower-leaves, and it was overlaid with gold gilt upon the engravings. And he built the inner court, three rows of hewn stones, and a row of wrought cedar round about, and he made the curtain of the court of the porch of the house that was in front of the temple.

And King Solomon sent, and took Chiram out of Tyre, the son of a widow woman; and he was of the tribe of Nephthalim, and his father was a Tyrian; a worker in brass, and accomplished in art and skill and knowledge to work every work in brass; and he was brought in to King Solomon, and he wrought all the works.

And he cast two pillars for the porch of the house: eighteen cubits was the height of each pillar, and a circumference of fourteen cubits encompassed it, even the thickness of the pillars: the flutings were five fingers wide, and thus was the other pillar formed. And he made two molten chapters to put on the heads of the pillars: five cubits was the height of one chapter, and five cubits was the height of the other chapter. And he made two graven ornaments of net-work to cover the chapters of the pillars; even a net for one chapter, and a net for the other chapter. And hanging work, two rows of brazen pomegranates, formed with net-work, hanging work, row upon row, on the one border, and on the other border, for the second chapter. And he set up the pillars of the porch of the temple: and he set up the one pillar, and called its name Jachin: and he set up the second pillar, and called its name Bozl. And on the heads of the pillars he made lily-work, against the porch, of four cubits, and a chamfer round about the pillars, and above the sides an addition equal to the chamber in width.

And he made the sea, ten cubits from one rim to the other, the same was completely circular round about: its height was five cubits, and its circumference thirty-three cubits. And it stood upon twelve oxen: and the work of the rim of a cup, a lily-flower, and the thickness of it was a span. And there were twelve oxen under the sea: three looking to the

And he made ten brazen bases: five cubits was the length of one base, and four cubits the breadth of it, and his height was six cubits. And this work of the bases was formation with a border to them, and there was a border between the ledges. And upon their borders between the projections were lions, and oxen, and cherubim: and on the projections, even so above, and also below were the places of lions and oxen, hanging work. And there were four brazen wheels to one base; and there were brazen bases, and their four sides answering to them, side six pieces under the bases. And there were six axles in the wheels under the base. And the height of one wheel was a cubit and a half. And the work of the wheels was as the work of chariot wheels: their axles, and their felloes, and the rest of their work, were all molten. The four side-pieces were at the four corners of each base; its shoulders were formed of the base. And on the top of the base he made lions, one cubit was the size of it, there was a circle on the top of the base, and there was the top of its spaces and its borders: and it was open at the top of its spaces. And its borders were cherubs, and lions, and palm-trees, upright, each was joined in front and within and round about. According to the same form he made all the ten bases, even one order all to measures to all. And he made ten brazen lavers, each laver containing forty baths, and measuring four cubits each laver placed on a several base through the ten bases. And he put five bases on the right side of the house, and five and on the left side of the house: and the sea was placed on the right side of the house eastward in the direction of the south.

And Chiram made the caldrons, and the pans, and the bowls; and Chiram finished making all the works that he wrought for king Solomon in the house of the Lord:

two pillars and the wrenath works of the pillars on the heads of the two pillars; and the two nets to cover both the wrenath works of the flutings that were upon the pillars. The four hundred pomegranates for both the net-works, two rows of pomegranates for one net-work, to cover both the wrenath works of the bases belonging to both pillars. And the ten bases, and the ten lavers upon the bases. And one sea, and the twelve oxen under the sea. And the caldrons, and pans, and bowls, and all the furniture, which Chiram made for king Solomon for the house of the Lord: and there were eight and forty pillars of the house of the king and of the house of the Lord: all the works of the king which Chiram made were entirely of brass. There north, and three looking to the west, and three looking to the south, and three looking to the east: and all their hinder parts were inward, and the sea was above upon them.
III. KINGS VII. 46—VIII. 1.

was no reckoning of the brass of which he made all these works, from the very great abundance, there was no end of the weight of the brass. 69 In the country round about Jordan did he cast them, in the day land between Socoth and Sirah.

And king Solomon took the furniture which Chiram made for the house of the Lord, the golden altar, and the golden table of shewbread. 69 And he put the fire candlesticks on the left, and live on the right side of the oracle, being of pure gold, and the lamps, and the snuffers of gold. 69 And there were made the porches, and the nails, and the bowls, and the spoons, and the golden censers, of pure gold; and the panels of the doors of the innermost part of the house, even the holy of holies, and the golden doors of the temple.

51 So the work of the house of the Lord which Solomon wrought was finished; and Solomon brought in the holy things of David his father, and all the holy things of Solomon; he put the silver and the gold, and the furniture, into the treasures of the house of the Lord.

1 And Solomon built a house for himself in thirteen years. 2 And he built the house with the wood of Libanus; its length was a hundred cubits, and its breadth was fifty cubits, and its height was of thirty cubits; and it was made with three rows of cedar pillars, and the pillars had side-pieces of cedar. 3 And he formed the house with chambers above on the sides of the pillars, and the number of the pillars was each row forty and five, and there were three chambers, and space against space in three rows.

4 And all the doors and spaces formed like chambers were square, and from door to door was a correspondence in three rows. 5 And he made the porch of the pillars, they were fifty cubits long and fifty broad, the porch joining them in front; and the other pillars and the thick beam were in front of the house by the porches. 6 And there was the Porch of seats where he would judge, the porch of judgment.

7 And their house where he would dwell, had one court communicating with these according to this work; and he built the house for the daughter of Pharaoh whom Solomon had taken, according to this porch.

8 All these were of costly stones, sculptured at intervals within even from the foundation even to the top, and outward to the great court, founded with large costly stones, stones of ten cubits and eight cubits long. 11 And above with costly stones, according to the measure of hewn stones, and with cedars. 12 There were three rows of hewn stone round about the great hall, and a row of sculptured cedar: and Solomon finished all his house.

And it came to pass when Solomon had finished building the house of the Lord and his own house after twenty years, then king Solomon assembled all the elders of Israel in Sion, to bring the ark of the covenant of the Lord out of the city of David, this is Sion, in the month of Athanin.

And the priests took up the ark, and the tabernacle of testimony, and the holy furniture that was in the tabernacle of testimony. And the king and all Israel stood before the ark, sacrificing sheep and oxen, without number. And the priests bring in the ark into its place, into the oracle of the house, even into the holy of holies, under the wings of the cherubs. For the cherubs spread their wings over the place of the ark, and the cherubs covered the ark and its holy things above. And the holy staves projected, and the ends of the holy staves appeared out of the holy places in front of the oracle, and were not seen without. There was nothing in the ark except the two tables of stone, the tables of the covenant which Moses put there in Choreb, which tables the Lord made as a covenant with the children of Israel in their going forth from the land of Egypt.

And it came to pass when the priests departed out of the holy place, that the cloud filled the house. And the priests could not stand minister because of the cloud, because the glory of the Lord filled the house.

And the king turned his face, and the king blessed all Israel, (and the whole assembly of Israel stood;) and he said, Blessed be the Lord God of Israel to-day, who spoke by his mouth concerning David my father, and has fulfilled it with his hands, saying, From the day that I brought out my people Israel out of Egypt, I have not chosen a city in any one tribe of Israel to build a house, so that my name should be there: but I chose Jerusalem that my name should be there, and I chose David to build my people Israel. And it was in the heart of my father to build a house to the name of the Lord God of Israel. And the Lord said to David my father, Forasmuch as it came into thine heart to build a house to my name, thou didst well that it came upon thine heart. Nevertheless the Lord said to David, forasmuch as it was in thine heart to build a house for me, thy son shall build the house to my name. And the Lord has confirmed the word that he spoke, and I am risen up in the place of my father David, and I have sat down on the throne of Israel, as the Lord spoke, and I have built the house to the name of the Lord God of Israel. And I have set there a place for the ark, which is the covenant of the Lord, which the Lord made with our fathers, when he brought them out of the land of Egypt.

And Solomon stood up in front of the altar before all the congregation of Israel; and he spread out his hands toward heaven:

And he said, Lord God of Israel, there is no God like thee in heaven above, and on the earth beneath, keeping covenant and mercy with thy servant who walks before thee with all his heart; which thou hast kept toward thy servant David my father:
for thou hast spoken by thy mouth and thou hast fulfilled it with thine hands, as at this day. 29 And now, O Lord God of Israel, keep for thy servant David my father, the promises which thou hast spoken to him, saying, There shall not be taken from thee a man sitting before me on the throne of Israel, provided only thy children take heed to their ways to walk before me as thou hast walked before me. 30 And now, O Lord God of Israel, let, I pray thee, thy word to David my father be confirmed.

31 But will God indeed dwell with men upon the earth? if the heaven and heaven of heavens will not contain thee, how much less this house which I have built? 32 Yet, O Lord God of Israel, thou shalt hear the prayer which thy servant prayeth to thee in thy presence this day, 33 that thine eyes may be open toward this house day and night, even toward the place of which thou saidst, My name shall be there, to hear the prayer which thy servant prayeth at this place day and night. 34 And thou shalt hearken to the prayer of thy servant, and of thy people Israel, which they shall pray toward this place, and thou shalt hear in thy dwelling-place in heaven, and thou shalt do and be gracious.

35 Whatsoever trespasses any one shall commit against his neighbour,—and if he shall take upon him an oath so that he should swear, and he shall come and make confession before thine altar in this house, 36 then shall thou hear from heaven, and do, and thou shalt judge thy people Israel, that the wicked shall have no hope toward the house which thou hast made to be his, and to compensate his way upon his head; and to justify the righteous, to give to him according to his righteousness.

37 When thy people Israel falls before enemies, because they shall sin against thee, and they shall return and confess to thy name, and they shall pray and supplicate in this house, 38 then thou shalt hear from heaven, and shalt shew to the land which thou gavest to their fathers.

39 When the heaven is restrained, and there is no rain, because they shall sin against thee, and they shall pray toward this place, and shall make confession to thy name, and shall turn from their sins when thou shalt have humbled them, 40 then thou shalt hear from heaven, and be merciful to the sins of thy people Israel; for thou shalt shew them the good way to walk in it, and thou shalt give rain upon the earth which thou hast given to thy people for an inheritance.

41 If there should be famine, if there should be death, because there should be blasting, locust, or if there should be mildew, and if their enemy oppress them in any one of their cities, with regard to every calamity, 42 even to the prayer, every supplication whatever shall be made by any man, as they shall know each the plague of his heart, and shall spread abroad his hands to this house, 43 then shalt thou hearken from heaven, out of thine established dwelling-place, and shalt be merciful, and shalt do, and recompense to every man according to his ways, as thou shalt know his heart; for thou art the God of all the children of men: so that they may fear thee all the days that they live upon the land, which thou hast given to our fathers.

And for the stranger who is not of thy people, when they shall come and pray toward this place, then thou shalt hear from heaven their supplication and their prayer, and shalt execute judgment for them.

If it be that thy people shall go forth to war against their enemies in the way by which thou shalt turn them, and pray in the name of the Lord toward the city which thou hast chosen, in which I have built to thy name, then shalt thou hear from heaven their supplication and their prayer, and shalt execute judgment for them.

And if it be that they shall sin against thee, (for there is not a man who will not sin,) and thou shalt bring them and deliver them up before their enemies, and they shall take them captive, then shall thou turn in the land whither they have been carried captives, and turn in the land of their sojourning, and supplicate thee, saying, We have sinned, we have done unjustly, we have transgressed, and they shall turn to thee with all their heart, and with all their soul, in the land of their enemies whither thou hast carried them captives, and shall pray to thee toward their land which thou hast given to their fathers, and the city which thou hast chosen, and the house which I have built to thy name: then shall thou hear from heaven thine established dwelling-place, and thou shalt be merciful to their unrighteousness wherein they have trespassed against thee, and against their trespassings toward all their enemies, and with all their captivity, and with all their sojourning, and shall cause them to be pitted before them that carried them captives, and they shall have compassion on them; for they are thy people and thine inheritance, whom thou broughtest out of the land of Egypt, out of the midst of the furnace of iron. And let thine eyes and thine ears be opened to the supplication of thy servant, and to the supplication of thy people Israel, to hearken to them in all things for which they shall call upon thee. Because thou hast set them apart for an inheritance to thyself out of all the nations of the earth, as thou spakest by the hand of thy servant Moses, when thou broughtest our fathers out of the land of Egypt, so Lord God—Jehovah—spoke to Solomon concerning the house, when he had finished building it—He manifested the sun in the heaven: the Lord said he would dwell in darkness: build thou my house, a beautiful house for thyself to dwell in anew. Behold, is not this written in the book of the song?

to put my name there for ever, and mine eyes and my heart shall be there always.
And if thou wilt walk before me as David thy father walked, in holiness of heart and uprightness, and do according to all that I commanded him, and shall keep my ordinances and my commandments:

then will I establish the throne of thy kingdom in Israel for ever, as I spoke to David thy father, saying, There shall not fail thee a man to rule in Israel.

But if ye or your children do in any wise revolt from me, and do not walk in my ordinances, which Moses set before you, and ye go and serve other gods, and worship them:

then will I cut off Israel from the land which I have given them, and this house which I have consecrated to my name I will cast out of my sight; and Israel shall be a desolation and a by-word to all nations.

And this house, which is high, shall be so that every one that passes by it shall be amazed, and shall hiss; and they shall say Wherefore has the Lord done thus to this land, and to this house?

And men shall say, Because they forsook me which opened their fathers from Egypt, out of the house of bondage, and they attached themselves to strange gods, and worshipped them, and served them; therefore the Lord has brought this evil upon them.

Then Solomon brought up the daughter of Pharaoh out of the city of David into his house which he built for himself in those days.

During twenty years in which Solomon was building the two houses, the house of the Lord, and the house of the king.

Chiram king of Tyre helped Solomon with cedar 5 wood, and fir 5 wood, and with gold, and all that he wished for: then the king gave Chiram twenty cities in the land of Galilee.

So Chiram departed from Tyre, and went into Galilee to see the cities which Solomon gave to him; and they pleased him not.

And he said, What are these cities which thou hast given me, brother? And he called them Boundless, till this day.

And Chiram brought to Solomon a hundred and twenty talents of gold, even that for which king Solomon built a ship in Gason Gaber near Aelath on the 9 shore of the extremity of the sea in the land of Edom.

And Chiram sent in the ship together with the servants of Solomon servants of his own, mariners to row, and men acquainted with the sea.

And they came to Sophira, and took thence a hundred and twenty talents of gold, and brought them to king Solomon.

And the queen of Saba heard of the name of Solomon, and the name of the Lord, and she came to try him with riddles.

And she came to Jerusalem with a very great train; and there came camels bearing spices, and very much gold, and precious spices, and she came in to Solomon, and told him all that was in her heart.

And Solomon answered all her questions: and there was not a question overlooked by the king which he did not answer her.

And the queen of Saba saw all the wisdom of Solomon, and the house which he built, and the provision of Solomon and the sitting of his attendants, and the standing of his servants, and his raiment, and his cup-bearers, and his whole-burnt-offering which he offered in the house of the Lord; and she was utterly amazed. And she said to king Solomon, It was a true report which I heard in my land of thy words and thy wisdom. But I believed not them that told me, until I came and my eyes saw: and, behold, the words which he reported to me are not the half: thou hast exceeded in the goodness of all that I heard of thy name, and of thy might.

And she gave to Solomon a hundred and twenty talents of gold, and very many spices, and of precious stones: there had not come any other spices so abundant as those which the queen of Saba gave to King Solomon.

And the ship of Chiram which brought the gold from Siphir, brought very much heven timber and precious stones. And the king made the heven timber into buildings of the house of the Lord, and the king's house, and lyres and harps for singers: such heven timber had not come upon the earth, nor have been seen anywhere until this day. And king Solomon gave to the queen of Saba all that she desired, whatsoever she asked, besides all that he had given her by the hand of king Solomon: and she returned, and came into her own land, she and her servants.

And the weight of gold that came to Solomon in one year was six hundred and sixty-six talents of gold. Besides the tributes of them that were subjects, both merchants and all the kings of the country beyond the river, and of the princes of the land.

And Solomon made three hundred spears of beaten gold: three hundred shekels of gold were upon one spear. And three hundred shields of beaten gold: and three pounds of gold were in a shield: and the king put them in the house of the forest of Lebanon.

And the king made a great ivory throne, and gilded it with pure gold. The throne had six steps, and calves in bold relief to the throne behind it, and side-pieces on either hand of the place of the seat, and two lions standing by the side-pieces, and twelve lions standing there on the six steps on either side: it was not so done in any other kingdom. And all the vessels made by Solomon were of gold, and the lavers were golden, and all the vessels of the house of the forest of Lebanon were of pure gold; there was no silver, for it was not so accounted of in

22. Or, in the days of Solomon. 2 For Solomon had a day the days of Solomon. 2 For Solomon had a ship of Tharsis in the sea with the ships of Chiram; one ship came to the king every three years out of Tharsis, laden with gold and silver, and 3 wrought stones, and hewn stones.

This was the arrangement of the provision which king Solomon fetched to build the house of the Lord, and the house of the king, and the wall of Jerusalem, and the citadel; to fortify the city of David, and Assur, and Magdai, and Gazer, and Bethoron the upper, and Jeththerm, and all the cities of the chieftains, and all the cities of the horsemen, and the fortification of Solomon which he purposed to build in Jerusalem and in all the land, so that none of the people should rule over him that was left of the Chettite and the Amorite, and the Hezirezite, and the Chamante, and the Evite, and the Jebusite, and the Gergese, who were not of the children of Israel, their descendants who had been left with him in the land, which the children of Israel could not utterly destroy; and Solomon made them tributaries until this day. But of the children of Israel Solomon made nothing; for they were the warriors, and his servers and rulers, and captains of the third order, and the captains of his chieftains, and his horsemen.

23. And Solomon increased beyond all the kings of the earth in wealth and wisdom.
24. And all the kings of the earth sought the presence of Solomon, to hear his wisdom which the Lord had put into his heart.
25. And they brought every one their gifts, vessels of gold, and raiment, and stacte, and spices, and horses, and mules, a rate year by year. 26. And Solomon had four thousand mares for his chariots, and twelve thousand horsemen: and he put them in the cities of his chariots, and with the king in Jerusalem: and he ruled over all the kings from the river to the land of the Philistines, and to the borders of Egypt.

27. And the king made gold and silver in Jerusalem as stones, and he made cedars as the sycamores in the plain for multitude.
28. And the goings forth of Solomon's horsemen was even out of Egypt, and the king's merchants were of Tarshish; and they received them out of the king's price at a price. 29. And that which proceeded out of Egypt went up thus, even a chariot for a hundred shekels of silver, and a horse for fifty shekels of silver: and thus for all the kings of the Chettians, and the kings of Syria, they came out by sea.

And king Solomon was a lover of women.
And he had seven hundred wives, princesses, and three hundred concubines. 1 And he took strange women, as well as the daughter of Pharo, Moabithis, Ammanithis women, Syrians and Idumeans, Chettites, and Amorites; 2 of the nations concerning whom the Lord forbade the children of Israel, saying, Ye shall not go in to them, and they shall not come in to you, lest they turn away your hearts after their idols:
Solomon clave to these in love. 4 And it came to pass in the time of the old age of 8 Gr. turned. 7 This word more commonly means 'spoil' in the O. T.

Solomon, that his heart was not perfect with the Lord his God, as was the heart of David his father. 3 And the strange women turned away his heart after other gods. 4 Then Solomon built a high place to Chemosh the idol of Moab, and to Astarte the idol of the Sidonians. 5 And thus he acted towards all his strange wives, who burned incense and sacrificed to their idols. 6 And Solomon did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord; he went not after the Lord, as David his father.

And the Lord was angry with Solomon, because he turned away his heart from the Lord God of Israel, who had appeared twice to him, 7 and charged him concerning this matter, by no means to go after other gods, but to take heed to do what the Lord God commanded him; neither was his heart perfect with the Lord, according to the heart of David his father. 8 And the Lord said to Solomon, Because it has been thus with thee, and thou hast not kept my commandments and my ordinances which I commanded thee, I will surely rend thy kingdom, out of thy hand, and give it to thy servant. 9 Only in thy days I will not do it for David thy father's sake; but I will take it out of the hand of thy son. 10 Only I will not take away the whole kingdom: I will give one tribe to thy son for David my servant's sake, and for the sake of Jerusalem, the city which I have chosen.

And the Lord raised up an enemy to Solomon, Adad-azar the Idumean, and Eoram son of Eliada who dwelt in Raama, and Adad-azar king of Suba his master; (men gathered to him, and he was head of the conspiracy, and he seized on Damascus,) and they were adversaries to Israel all the days of Solomon: and Adar the Idumean was of the seed royal in Idumea. 13 And it happened, that while David was utterly destroying Edom, while Joab captain of the host was going to bury the dead, when they slow every male in Idumea; 14 for Joab and all Israel abode there six months in Idumea, until he utterly destroyed every male in Idumea;) 15 that Adar ran away, he and all the Idumeans of the servants of his father with him: and they went into Egypt; and Adar was then a little child. 16 And there rise up men out of the city of Madiam, and they come to Pharaoh, and take men with them, and come to Pharaoh king of Egypt: and Adar went in to Pharaoh, and he gave him a house, and appointed him provision. 17 And Adar found great favour in the sight of Pharaoh, and he gave him his wife's sister in marriage, the elder sister of Thekemina. 18 And the sister of Thekemina bore to him, even to Adar, Ganebah her son; and Thekemina brought him up in the midst of the sons of Pharaoh, and Ganebah was in the midst of the sons of Pharaoh.

21 And Adar heard in Egypt that David slept with his fathers, and that Joab the captain of the host was dead; and Adar said to Pharaoh, Let me go, and I will return to my country. 22 And Pharaoh said to

II. KINGS XI. 26-42.

Ader, What lackest thou with me, that lo! thou seestest to depart to thy country? and Ader said to him, By all means let me go. So Ader returned to his country; this is the mischief which Ader did, and he was a bitter enemy of Israel, and he reigned in the land of Edom.

22 And Jeroboam the son of Nabat, the Ephrathite of Sarra, the son of a widow, was man of Solomons, whom Ader saw the occasion of his lifting up his hands against king Solomons; now king Solomons built the citadel, he completed the fortification of the city of David his father.

23 And the man Jeroboam was very strong; and Solomons saw the young man that he was active, and he set him over the levies of the house of Joseph.

24 And it came to pass at that time, that Jeroboam went forth from Jerusalem, and Achia the Selomite the prophet found him in the way, and caused him to turn aside out of the way: and Achia was clad with a new garment, and they two were alone in the field. 32 And Achia laid hold of his new garment that was upon him, and tore it into twelve pieces: and he said to Jeroboam, Take to thyself ten pieces, for thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Behold, I rend the kingdom out of the hand of Solomon, and will give thee ten tribes. Yet he shall have two tribes, for my servant Dauids sake, and for the sake of Jerusalem, the city which I have chosen out of all the tribes of Israel.

33 Because he forsook me, and sacrificed to Astaroth the abomination of the Sidonians, and to Chemosh and to the idols of Moab, and to their king the abomination of the children of Ammon, and he walked not in my ways, to do that which was right before me, as David his father did.

34 Howbeit I will not take the whole kingdom out of his hand, (for I will certainly resist him all the days of his life,) for David my servant whom I chose shall sit upon the throne of Israel.

35 But I will take the kingdom out of the hand of his son, and give thee ten tribes.

36 But to his son I will give the two remaining tribes, that my servant David may have an establishment continually before me in Jerusalem, the city which I have chosen for myself to put my name there. 37 And I will take thee, and thou shalt reign as thy soul desires, and thou shalt be king over Israel.

38 And it shall come to pass, if thou wilt keep all the commandments that I shall give thee, and wilt walk in my ways, and do that which is right before me, to keep my ordinances and my commandments, as David my servant did, that I will be with thee, and will build thee a sure house, as I built to David.

39 And Solomon sought to slay Jeroboam: but he arose and fled into Egypt, to Sukkim king of Egypt, and he was in Egypt until Solomon died.

40 And the rest of the history of Solomon, and all that he did, and all his wisdom, behold are not these things written in the book of the life of Solomon? And the days during which Solomon reigned in Jerusalem over all Israel were forty years.
And Solomon slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city of David his father. And it came to pass when Jeroboam son of Nebat heard thereof even while he was yet in Egypt, as he fled from the face of Solomon and dwelt in Egypt, he straightway came into his own city, into the land of Sarrua in the mount of Ephraim. And king Solomon slept with his fathers, and Roboam his son reigned in his stead.

And king Roboam goes to Sikima; for all Israel were coming to Sikima to make him king. And the people spake to king Roboam, saying, Thy father made our yoke heavy; but do thou now lighten somewhat of the hard service of thy father, and of his heavy yoke which he put upon us, and we will serve thee. And he said to them, Depart for three days, and return to me. And they departed.

And the king referred the matter to the elders, who stood before Solomon his father while he was yet living, saying, How do ye advise that I should answer this people? And they spake to him, saying, If thou wilt this day be a servant to this people, and to them, and will light their yoke, then will they be thy servants continually.

But he forsook the counsel of the old men which they gave him, and consulted with the young men who were brought up with him, who stood in his presence. And he spake to them, What counsel do ye give? And what shall I answer to this people who speak to me, saying, Lighten somewhat of the yoke which thy father has put upon us?

And the young men who had been brought up with him, who stood before his face, spake to him, saying, Thus shalt thou say to this people which have spoken to thee, saying, Thy father made our yoke heavy, and do thou now lighten it from off us; thus shalt thou say to them, My little finger shall be thicker than my father's loins. And whereas my father did lade you with a heavy yoke, I also will add to your yoke: my father chastised you with whips, but I will chastise you with scorpions.

And all Israel came to king Roboam on the third day, as the king spake to them, saying, Return to me on the third day. And the king answered the people harshly; and Roboam forsook the counsel of the old men which they counselled him. And he spake to them according to the counsel of the young men, saying, My father made your yoke heavy, and I will add to your yoke: my father chastised you with whips, but I will chastise you with scorpions.

And the king hearkened not to the people, because the change was from the Lord, that he might establish his word which he spoke by Achin the Selonite concerning Jeroboam the son of Nabat. And all Israel saw that the king did not hearken to them: and the people answered the king, saying, What portion have we in David? neither have we any inheritance in the son of Jesse. Depart, O Israel, to thy tents: now feed thine own house, David. So Israel departed to his tents.

13 And the king sent Adoniram who was over the tribute; and they stoned him with stones, and he died: and king Roboam made haste to rise to flee to Jerusalem.

19 So Israel rebelled against the house of David until this day. And it came to pass when all Israel heard that Jeroboam had returned out of Egypt, that they sent and called him to the assembly, and they made him king over Israel: and none followed the house of David except the tribe of Juda and Benjamin only.

21 And Roboam went into Jerusalem, and he assembled the congregation of Juda, and the tribe of Benjamin, a hundred and twenty thousand young men, warriors, to fight against the house of Israel, to recover the kingdom to Roboam the son of Solomon.

22 And the word of the Lord came to Samsia the man of God, saying, Speak to Roboam the son of Solomon, king of Juda, and to all the house of Juda and Benjamin, and to the remnant of the people, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Ye shall not go up, neither shall ye fight against your brethren the children of Israel: return every man to his own home; for this thing is from me; and they hearkened unto the word of the Lord, and they ceased from going up, according to the word of the Lord.

So king Solomon sleeps with his fathers, and is buried with his fathers in the city of David; and Roboam his son reigned in his stead in Jerusalem, being sixteen years old, when he began to reign, and he reigned twelve years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Naanah, daughter of Ana son of Naas king of the children of Amnon. And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, and walked not in the way of David his father.

And there was a man of mount Ephraim, a servant to Solomon, and his name was Jeroboam; and the name of his mother was Zeriba, a harlot; and Solomon made him head of the levies of the house of Joseph: and he built for Solomon Sarira in mount Ephraim; and he had three hundred chariots of horses: he built the citadel with the levies of the house of Ephraim: he fortified the city of David, and aspired to the kingdom. And Solomon sought to kill him; and he was afraid, and escaped to Susakim king of Egypt, and was with him until Solomon died.

And Jeroboam heard in Egypt that Solomon was dead; and he spoke in the ears of Susakim king of Egypt, saying, Let me go, and I will depart into my land; and Susakim said to him, Ask any request, and I will grant it thee. And Susakim gave to Jero-
And his young child was sick with a very severe sickness; and Jeroboam went to enquire concerning the child; and he said to Aho his wife, Arise, go, enquire of God concerning the child, whether he shall recover from his sickness. Now there was a man in Selom, and his name was Achi, and he was sixty years old, and the word of the Lord was with him. And Jeroboam said to his wife, Arise, and take in thine hand loaves, for the man of God, and cakes, and a pot of honey. And the woman arose, and took in her hand bread, and two cakes, and grapes, and a pot of honey. Thus saith the Lord, Behold, thou shalt depart from me, and it shall come to pass when thou hast entered into the city, even into Sarira, that thy maidsens shall come out to meet thee, and shall say to thee, The child is dead; for thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will destroy every male of Jeroboam, and there shall be the dead of Jeroboam in the city, them the dogs shall eat, and him that has died in the field shall the birds of the air, eat, and he shall lament for the child, saying, Woe is me, Lord! for there has been found in some good thing touching the Lord. And the woman departed, when she heard this, and it came to pass as she entered into Sarira, that the child died, and there came forth a wailing to meet her. And Jeroboam went to Sikima in mount Ephram, and assembled there the tribes of Israel; and Roboam the son of Solomon went up thither, and the word of the Lord came to Samias son of Enlam, saying, Take to thyself a new garment which has not gone into the water, and rend it into twelve pieces, and thou shalt give some to Jeroboam, and shalt say to him, Thus saith the Lord, Take to thyself ten pieces to cover thee, and Jeroboam took them; and Samias said, Thus saith the Lord concerning the ten tribes of Israel.

And the people said to Roboam the son of Solomon, Thy father made his yoke heavy upon us, and made the heat of his table heavy; and now thou shalt lighten them upon us, and we will serve thee. And Roboam said to the people, Wait three days, and I will return you an answer: and Roboam said, Bring in to me the elders, and I will consult counsel with the elders, and I will return answer to the people on the third day. So Roboam spoke in their ears, as the people sent to him to say: and the elders of the people said, Thus the people have spoken to thee.

And Roboam rejected their counsel, and it pleased him not: and he sent messengers and brought in those who had been brought up with him; and he said to them, Thus and thus has the people sent to me to say: and they that had been brought up with him said, Thus shalt thou speak to the people, saying, My little finger shall be thicker than my father's loins; my father scourged you with whips, but I will scourge you with scorpions. And the saying pleased Roboam, and he answered the people as the young men, they that were brought up with him, counselled him: and all the people spoke as one man, every one to his neighbour, and they cried out all together, saying, We have no part in David, nor inheritance in the sons of Jesse: to thine tents, O Israel, every one for his hill and for his father's house.

And all the people were dispersed from Sikima, and they departed every one to his tent: and Roboam strengthened himself and departed, and mounted his chariot, and entered into Jerusalem: and there follow him the whole tribe of Juda, and the whole tribe of Benjamin. And it came to pass at the beginning of the year, that Roboam gathered all the men of Juda and Benjamin, and went up to fight with Jeroboam at Sikima. And the word of the Lord came to Samaas the man of God, saying, Speak to Roboam king of Juda, and to all the house of Juda and Benjamin, and to the remnant of the people, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Ye shall not go up, neither shall ye fight with your enemies: return every man to his house, for this thing is from me. And they hearkened to the word of the Lord, and forbore to go up, according to the word of the Lord.

25 And Jeroboam built Sikima in mount Ephraim and dwelt in it, and went forth thence and built Thannel. 26 And Jeroboam said in his heart, Behold, now the kingdom will return to the house of David: 27 If this people shall go up to offer sacrifice in the house of the Lord at Jerusalem, then the heart of the people will return to the Lord, and to their master, to Roboam king of Juda, and they will slay me. 28 And the king took counsel, and went, and made two golden heifers, and said to the people, Let it suffice you that ye have gone up to Jerusalem: saith a prince, a ruler of Israel, who brought thee up out of the land of Egypt. 29 And he put one in Bethel, and he put the other in Dan. 30 And this thing became a sin; and the people went before one as far as Dan, and left the house of the Lord.

31 And he made houses on the high places, and made priests of any part of the people, who were not of the sons of Levi.
And Jeroboam appointed a feast in the eighth month, on the fifteenth day of the month, according to the feast in the land of Judah; and went up to the altar which he had made in Bethel to sacrifice to the heathen which he had caused to be set up in Bethel; and he placed priests of the high places which he had made. And he went up to the altar which he had made, on the fifteenth day in the eighth month, at the feast which he devised out of his own heart; and he made a feast to the children of Israel, and went up to the altar to sacrifice.

And, behold, there came a man of God out of Judah by the word of the Lord to Bethel, and Jeroboam stood at the altar to sacrifice. And he cried against the altar by the word of the Lord, and said, Of altar, altar, thus saith the Lord, Behold, a son is to be born to the house of David, whose name shall be Josias by name; and he shall offer upon thee the priests of the high places, even of them that sacrifice upon thee, and he shall burn men's bones upon thee. And in that day one shall give a sign, saying, This is the word which the Lord has spoken, saying, Behold, the altar is rent, and the fatness upon it shall be poured out.

And it came to pass when king Jeroboam heard the words of the man of God which called on the altar that was in Bethel, that the king stretched forth his hand from the altar, and said, Take hold of him. And he stretched forth his hand, and took hold of him; and said, Take hold of the sword. And he took hold of the sword; and said to the king of Judah, See, with the sword thou shouldest give me the half of thine house. And the king said, Take it. And Saddale the ass: and they saddled him the ass, and he mounted it, and went after the man of God, and found him sitting under an oak:

and he said to him, _Art thou the man of God that came out of Judah? _And he said to him, I am. 18 And he said to him, Come with me, and eat bread. 19 And he said, I shall not by any means be able to return with thee, neither will I eat bread, neither will I drink water in this place. 20 For thus the Lord commanded me by word, saying, Eat not bread there, and drink not water, and return not thither by the way by which thou earnest.

19 And he said to him, I also am a prophet as thou art; and an angel spoke to me by the word of the Lord, saying, Take him back to thee into thy house, and let him eat bread and drink water: but he lied to him. 20 And he brought him back, and he ate bread and drank water in his house. 21 And it came to pass while they were sitting at the table, that the word of the Lord came to the prophet that brought him back; 22 and he spoke to the man of God which came out of Judah, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Forasmuch as I have commanded him to return to thee, 23 therefore shalt thou not eat bread, nor drink water, nor return by the way by which thou camest. 24 And it came to pass after he had eaten bread and drank water, that he saddled the ass for him, and he turned and departed. 25 And a lion found him in the way, and slew him; and his body was cast out in the way, and the ass was standing by it, and the lion also was standing by the body. 26 And the men were passing by, and saw the carcase cast in the way, and the lion was standing near the carcase: and they went in and spoke of it in the city where the old prophet dwelt. 27 And the prophet that turned him back out of the way heard, and said, This is the man of God which rebelled against the word of the Lord. 28 And he went and found the body cast in the way, and the ass and the lion were standing by the body: and the lion had not devoured the body of the man of God; and had not torn the ass. 29 And the prophet took up the body of the man of God, and laid it on his ass; and the prophet brought him back to his city, to bury him in his own tomb, 30 and they bewailed him, saying, Alas, brother. 31 And it came to pass after he had lamented him, that he spoke to his sons, saying, Whenever I die, bury me in this tomb, wherein the man of God is buried: lay me by his bones, that my bones may be preserved with his bones. 32 For the word will surely come to pass which he spoke by the word of the Lord against the altar in Bethel, and against the high houses in Samaria. 33 And after this Jeroboam turned not from his sin, but he turned and made of part of the people priests of the high places: whoever would, he consecrated him, and he became a priest for the high places. 34 And
And Roboam son of Solomon ruled over Judah. Roboam was forty and one years old when he began to reign, and he reigned seventeen years in the city Jerusalem, which the Lord chose to put his name there out of all the tribes of Israel: and his mother's name was Naama the Ammonitess. And Roboam did evil in the sight of the Lord; and he provoked him in all the things which his fathers did in their sins which they sinned.

And they built for themselves high places, and pillars, and planted groves on every high hill, and under every shady tree. And there was a conspiracy in the land, and they did according to all the abominations of the nations which the Lord removed from before the children of Israel.

And it came to pass in the fifth year of the reign of Roboam, Sussim king of Egypt came up against Jerusalem; and took all the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the king's house, and the golden spears which David made, and carried them away into Egypt. And king Roboam made brazen shields instead of them; and the chief of the body guard, who kept the gate of the house of the king, were placed in charge over them. And it came to pass when the king went into the house of the Lord, that the body guard took them up, and carried them in the chamber of the body guard.

And the rest of the history of Roboam, and all that he did, behold, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah? And there was war between Roboam and Jeroboam continually. And Roboam slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of David: and Abiu his son reigned in his stead.

And in the eighteenth year of the reign of Jeroboam son of Nabat, Abiu son of Roboam reigns over Judah. And he reigned three years over Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Maachah, daughter of Absealom. And he walked in the sins of his father which he wrought in his presence, and his heart was not perfect with the Lord his God, as was the heart of his father David.

Howbeit for David's sake the Lord gave him a remnant, that he might establish his children after him, and might establish Jerusalem. Forasmuch as David did that which was right in the sight of the Lord: he turned not from the things which he commanded him all the days of his life.

III. KINGS XIV. 21—XV. 7. 470 ΒΑΣΙΛΕΩΝ Ρ.

This thing became sin to the house of Jeroboam, even to its destruction and its removal from the face of the earth.

And Roboam son of Solomon ruled over Judah. And he reigned three years over Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Maachah, daughter of Absealom. And he walked in the sins of his father which he wrought in his presence, and his heart was not perfect with the Lord his God, as was the heart of his father David.

Howbeit for David's sake the Lord gave him a remnant, that he might establish his children after him, and might establish Jerusalem. Forasmuch as David did that which was right in the sight of the Lord: he turned not from the things which he commanded him all the days of his life.

And the rest of the history of Abiu, and all that he did, behold, are not these written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah. And there was war between Abiu and Jeroboam. 5 And Abiu slept with his fathers in the twenty-fourth year of his reign, and was buried with his fathers in the city of David: and Asa his son reigns in his stead.

8 In the four and twentieth year of Jeroboam king of Israel, Asa begins to reign over Judah. 9 And he reigned forty-one years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Ana, daughter of Abessalam. 10 And Asa did that which was right in the sight of the Lord, as David his father. 11 And he removed the sodomites out of the land, and abolished all the practices which his fathers had kept not. 12 And he removed Ana his mother from being queen, forsooth much as she gathered a meeting in her grove: and Asa cut down her retreats, and burnt them with fire in the brook of Ke- dron. 13 But he removed not the high places; nevertheless the heart of Asa was perfect with the Lord all his days. 14 And he brought forth the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the king's house, even brought in his gold and silver pillars into the house of the Lord, and his vessels.

15 And there was war between Asa and Baasa king of Israel all their days. 16 And Baasa king of Israel went up against Judah, and built Rama, so that no one should go out or come in for Asa king of Judah.

18 And Asa took all the silver and the gold that was found in the treasures of the house of the Lord, and in the treasures of the king's house, and gave them into the hands of his servants; and king Asa sent them out to the son of Ader, the son of Taberema son of Azin king of Syria, who dwelt in Damascus, saying, 19 Make a covenant between me and thee, and between my father and thy father: 20 I have sent forth to thee gold and silver and gifts; come, break thy league with Baasa king of Israel, that he may go up from me. 21 And the son of Ader hearkened to king Asa, and sent the chiefs of his forces to the cities of Israel; and they smote Aen, Dan, and Abel of the house of Maacha, and all Chenneth, as far as the whole land of Nephhath. 22 And it came to pass when Baasa heard it, that he left off building Rama, and returned to Thersa.

23 And king Asa charged all Judah without exception: and they take up the stones of Rama, and build with which Baasa was building; and king Asa built with them upon the whole hill of Benjamin, and the watch-tower.

24 And the rest of the history of Asa, and all his mighty deeds which he wrought, and the cities which he built, behold, are not these written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah? Nevertheless in the time of his old age he was diseased in his feet. 25 And Asa slept with his fathers.
and was buried with his fathers in the city of David his father: and Josaphat his son reigns in his stead.

And Nabat son of Jeroboam reigns over Israel in the second year of Asa king of Juda, and he reigned two years in Israel.

And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, and walked in the way of his father, and in his sins wherein he caused Israel to sin.

And Baasa son of Achia, who was over the house of Belaan son of Achia, conspired against him, and smote him in Gabathion of the Philistines; for Nabat and all Israel were besieging Gabathion.

And Baasa slew him in the third year of Asa son of Asa king of Juda; and reigned in his stead. And it came to pass when he reigned, that he smote the whole house of Jeroboam, and left none that breathed of Jeroboam, until he had destroyed him utterly, according to the word of the Lord which he spoke by his servant Achia the Selenite.

For the sins of Achiab the son of Adonias, which led Israel into sin, even by his provocation wherewith he provoked the Lord God of Israel. And the rest of the history of Nabat, and all that he did, behold, are not these written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

And in the third year of Asa king of Juda, Baasa the son of Achia begins to reign over Israel in Thersa, twenty and four years. And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, and walked in the way of Jeroboam the son of Nabat, and in his sins, as he caused Israel to sin.

And the word of the Lord came by the hand of Ju son of Anani to Baasa, saying, Forasmuch as I lifted thee up from the earth, and made thee ruler over my people Israel; and thou hast walked in the way of Jeroboam, and hast caused my people Israel to sin, to provoke me with their vanities; Behold, I raise up enemies after Baasa, and after his house; and I will cause thy house to be like the house of Jeroboam son of Nabat.

Howbeit Baasa the city shall not be inheritable of Baasa, even though thou dost arise early in the morn, and passest to the field the birds of the sky shall devour, and him that dieth of his in the field the birds of the sky shall devour.

Now the rest of the history of Baasa, and all that he did, and his mighty acts, behold, are not these written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel? And Baasa slept with his fathers, and they buried him in Thersa; and Eila his son reigns in his stead.

And the Lord spoke by Ju the son of Anani against Baasa, and against his house, even all the evil which he wrought before the Lord to provoke him to anger by the works of his hands, in being like the house of Jeroboam; and because he emote him.

And Eila son of Baasa reigned over Israel two years in Thersa. And Zambri, captain of half his cavalry, conspired against him, while his son was in Thersa, drunk his self drunk in the house of Osa the steward at Thersa. And Zambri went in and
I. "A&amp;I favored him, and slew him, and reigned in his stead. It and it came to pass when he reigned, then that upon his throne, 17 that he smote all the house of Baasha, and to the word which the Lord spoke against the house of Baasha, and to the prophet, 18 for all the sins of Baasha and Ela his son, as he led Israel astray to sin, to provoke the Lord God of Israel with their vanities.

And the rest of the deeds of Ela which he did, behold, are not these written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

15 And Zambri reigned in Tharsis seven days, and the army of Israel was encamped against Gabathon of the Philistines. 16 And the people heard in the army, saying, Zambri has conspired and smitten the king: and the people of Israel made Ambri the captain of the host king in that day in the camp over Israel. 17 And Ambri went up, and all Israel with him out of Gabathon: and they besieged Tharsis. 18 And it came to pass when Zambri saw that his city was taken, that he goes into the inner chamber of the house of the king, and burnt the king's house over him, and died. 19 Because of his sins which he committed, doing that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, so as to walk in the way of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, and in his sins wherein he caused Israel to sin. 20 And the rest of the history of Zambri, and his conspiracies wherein he conspired, behold, are not these written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

21 Then the people of Israel divide; half the people goes after Thamni the son of Gonath to make him king; and half the people goes after Ambri. 22 The people that followed Ambri overpowered the people that followed Thamni son of Gonath; and Thamni died, and Jeroboam his brother at that time, and Ambri reigned after Thamni.

23 In the thirty-first year of king Ass, Ambri & began to reign over Israel twelve years: he reigned six years in Thers. 24 And Ambri bought the mount Samaria of Semer, the lord of the mountain for two talents of silver; and he built upon the mountain, and they called the name of the mountain on which he built, after the name of Semer the lord of the mount, Semer. 25 And Ambri did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, and wrought wickedly beyond all that were before him. 26 And he walked in all the way of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, and in his sins wherewith he caused Israel to sin, to provoke the Lord God of Israel by their vanities. 27 And the rest of the acts of Ambri, and all that he did, and all his might, Behold, are not these things written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

And in the eleventh year of Ambri Josaph, the son of Ass reigns, being thirty-five years old in the beginning of his reign, and he reigned twenty-five years in Jerusalem; and his mother's name was Gazuba, daughter of Seli. And he walked in the way of Asa his father, and turned not from it, even before the eyes of the Lord: only they moved not any of the high places: they sacrificed and burnt incense on the high places. Now the engagements which Josaphat made with the king of Israel, and all his mighty deeds which he performed, and the enemies whom he fought against, behold, are not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah? and the remains of the prostitution which they practised in the days of Asa his father, he removed out of the land: and there was no king in Syria, but 8 a deputy.

And king Josaphat made a ship at Tarshish to go to Sophir for gold; but it went not, for it was broken at Gasion Gaber. Then the king of Israel said to Josaphat, 9 I will send forth thy servants and my servants in the ship: but Josaphat would not. And Josaphat slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of David: and Jehoram his son reigned in his stead.

In the second year of Josaphat king of Juda, Achaab son of Ambri reigned over Israel in Samaria twenty-two years. 10 And Achaab did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, and did more wickedly than all that were before him. 11 And it was not enough for him, that he had the son of Jezebel, Jeloham, he, but he took to wife Jezebel the daughter of Jethbaal king of the Sidonians; and he went and served Baal, and worshipped him. 12 And he set up an altar in Baal in the house of his abominations, which he built in Samaria. 13 And Achaab made a grove; and Achaab did more abominably than his fathers, to provoke the Lord God of Israel, and to sin against his own life so that he should be destroyed: he did evil above all the kings of Israel that were before him.

And in his days Achiel the Bethelite built Jericho: he laid the foundation of it in Aebra, and was born, and he set up the doors of it in Segub his younger son, according to the word of the Lord which he spake by Joshua the son of Naue.

And Eliu the prophet, the Thebite of Thebe of Galaad, said to Achaab, As the Lord God of hosts, the God of Israel, lives, before whom I stand, there shall not be these years dwr nor rain, except by the word of my mouth.

And the word of the Lord came to Eliu, saying, 16 Depart hence eastward, and hide thee by the brook of Chorrath, that is before Jordan. 17 And it shall be that thou shalt drink water of the brook, and I will change the ravenes to feed thee there. 18 And Eliu did according to the word of the Lord, and he sat by the brook of Chorrath before Jordan. 19 And the ravenes brought him loaves in the morning, and flesh in the evening, and he drank water of the brook. 20 And it came to pass after 8 some time, that the brook was dried up, because there had been no rain upon the earth.
And the word of the Lord came to Eliu saying, 8 Arise, and go to Sarepta of the Sidonian land: behold, I have there commanded a woman of a widow to maintain thee. 9 And he arose and went to Sarepta, and came to the gate of the city: and, behold, a woman of a widow was there gathering sticks; and Eliu cried after her, and said to her, Fetch me, I pray thee, a little water in a vessel, y'hat I may drink. 10 And she went to fetch it; and Eliu cried after her, and said, Bring me, I pray thee, a morsel of bread, and I will eat thereof. 11 And she said, As the Lord thy God lives, I have not a cake, but only a handful of meal in the pitcher, and a little oil in a cruse, and, behold, I am going to gather two sticks, and I shall go in and dress it for myself and my children, and we shall eat it and die. 12 And Eliu said to her, Be of good courage, go in and do according to thy word: but make me thereof a little cake, and thou shalt bring it out to me first, and thou shalt make me some to thyself and thy children last. 13 For thus saith the Lord, The pitchcr of meal shall not fail, and the crust of oil shall not diminish, until the day that the Lord gives rain upon the earth. 14 And the woman went and did so, and did eat, she, and he and her children. 15 And the pitcher of meal failed not, and the crust of oil was not diminished, according to the word of the Lord which he spoke by the hand of Eliu.

And it came to pass afterward, that the son of the woman the mistress of the house was sick; and his sickness was very severe, until there was no breath left in him. 16 And she said to Eliu, What have I to do with thee, O man of God? hast thou come in to me to bring my sins to remembrance, and to slay my son? 17 And Eliu said to the woman, Give me thy son. And he took him out of her bosom, and took him up to the chamber in which he himself lodged, and laid him on the bed. 18 And Eliu cried aloud, and said, Alas, O Lord, the witness of the widow with whom I abide, the Lord shall repay thee evil for her in slaying her son. 19 And he breathed on the child thrice, and called on the Lord, and said, O Lord my God, let, I pray thee, the soul of this child return to him. 20 And it was so, and the child cried out, and he brought him down from the upper chamber into the house, and gave him to his mother; and Eliu said, See, thy son lives. 21 And the woman of the house of Eliu Behold, I know that thou art a man of God, and the word of the Lord in thy mouth is true.

And it came to pass after many days, that the word of the Lord came to Eliu in the third year, saying, Go, and appear before Achiab, and I will bring rain upon the face of the earth. 2 And Eliu went to appear before Achiab; and the famine was severe in Samaria. 3 And Achiab called Abdiu the steward. Now Abdiu feared the Lord greatly. 4 And it came to pass when Jezabel smote the prophets of the Lord, that Abdiu took a hum-and hid them by fifty in a cave, and fed them with bread and water.

And Achaab said to Abdiu, Come, and led us go through the land, and to the fountains of water, and to the brooks, if by any means we may find grass, and may save the horses and mules, and so they will not perish from the tents. And they made a division of the way between them to pass through it: Achaab went one way, and Abdiu went by another way alone. And Abdiu was alone in the way; and Eliu came alone to meet him: and Abdiu halted, and fell upon his face to the Lord Eliu, Art thou indeed he? And Eliu said to him, I am: go, say to thy master, Behold, Eliu is here.

And Abdiu said, What sin have I committed, that thou givest thy servant into the hand of Achaab to slay me? As the Lord thy God lives, there is not a nation or kingdom, whither thy lord has not sent to seek thee; and if they said, He is not here, then has he set fire to the kingdom and its territories, because he has not found thee. And now thou sayest, Go, tell thy lord, Behold, Eliu is here. And it shall come to pass when I shall have departed from thee, during the life of the Lord, call thee to a land which I know not, and I shall go in to tell the matter to Achaab, and he shall not find thee and will slay me: yet thy servant fears the Lord from his youth.

Has it not been told to thee my lord, what I did when Jezabel slew the prophets of the Lord, that I hid a hundred men of the prophets of Baal, by fifty and fed them with bread and water? And now thou sayest to me, Go, say to thy master, Behold, Eliu is here; and he shall slay me. And Eliu said, As the Lord of Hosts before whom I stand lives, to-day I will appear before him.

And Abdiu went to meet Achaab, and told him: and Abdiu hastled forth, and went to meet Eliu. And it came to pass when Achaab saw Eliu, that Achaab said to Eliu, Art thou he that perverts Israel? And Eliu said, I do not pervert Israel; but it is thou and thy father's house, in that ye follow not the Lord God, and thou hast gone after Baal. And now send, gather to me all Israel to mount Carmel, and the prophets of Baal are four hundred and fifty, and the prophets of the groves four hundred, that eat at Jezabel's table.

And Achaab sent to all Israel, and gathered all the prophets to mount Carmel.

And Eliu drew near to them all: and Eliu said to them, How long wilt ye halt on both sides? if the Lord be God, follow him; but if Baal, follow him. And the people answered not a word. And Eliu said to the people, I am left, the only one prophet of the Lord; and the prophets of Baal are four hundred and fifty men, and the prophets of the groves four hundred. Let them give us two oxen, and let them choose one for themselves, and cut it in pieces, and 25 And Eliu said to the prophets of shame, Choose to yourselves one calf, and dress it first, for ye are many; and call ye on the name of your god, but I will call on the name of the Lord my God, and it shall come to pass that the God who shall answer by fire, he is God. And all the people answered, and said, The word which thou hast spoken is good.

22 And it was noon, and Eliu the Theebite mocked them, and said, Call with a loud voice, for he is a god; for he is meditating, or else perhaps he is engaged in business, or perhaps he is asleep, and is to be awakened. And they cried with a loud voice, and passed by themselves, according to their custom with knives and lances until the blood gushed out upon them. And they prophesied until the evening, and it came to pass as it was the time of the offering of the sacrifice, that Eliu the Theebite spoke to the prophets of the abominations, saying, Stand by for the present, and I will offer my sacrifice. And they stood aside and departed.

30 And Eliu said to the people, Come near to me. And all the people came near to him. And Eliu took twelve stones, according to the number of the tribes of Israel, as the Lord spoke to him, saying, Israel shall be thy name. And he built up the stones in the name of the Lord, and repaired the altar that had been broken down; and he made a trench that would hold two measures of seed round about the altar. And he piled up the stones thereof to the height where he had made, and divided the whole-burnt-offering, and laid it on the wood, and laid it in order on the altar, and said, Fetch me four pitchers of water, and pour it on the whole-burnt-offering, and on the wood. And they did so. And he said, Do it the second time. And they did it the second time. And he said, Do it the third time. And they did it the third time. And the water ran round about the altar, and they filled the trench with water.

35 And Eliu cried aloud to heaven, and said, Lord God of Abram, and Isaac, and Israel, answer me, O Lord, answer me this day by fire, and let all this people know that thou art the Lord, the God of Israel, and I am thy servant, and for thy sake I have wrought these works. Hear me, O Lord, hear me, and let this people know that thou art the Lord God, and thou hast turned back the heart of this people. Then fire fell from the Lord out of heaven, and devoured the whole-burnt-offerings, and the wood and the water that was in the trench, and the fire licked up the stones and the earth.
And all the people fell upon their faces, and said, Truly the Lord is God; he is God.

And Eliezer said to the people, Take the prophets of Baal; let not one of them escape. And they took them; and Eliezer brought them down to the brook Kidron, and he slew them there.

And Eliezer said to Ahab, Go up, and eat and drink; for there is a sound of the coming of rain.

And Ahab went up to eat and drink; and Eliezer went up to Carmel, and stopped to the ground, and put his face between his knees; and he said to Eliezer, Go up, and look toward the sea. And the servant looked, and said, There is nothing; and Eliezer said, Do thou then go again seven times.

And the servant went again seven times; and it came to pass at the seventh time, that, behold, a little cloud like the sole of a man’s foot was brought water; and he said, Go up, and say to Ahab, Make ready thy chariot, and go down, lest the rain overtake thee. And it came to pass in the meanwhile, that the heaven grew black with clouds and wind, and there was a great rain. And Ahab went, and went to Jezreel.

And the hand of the Lord was upon Elihu, that he departed from Jezreel, and went to Bethel, and sat down before Ahab to Jezreel.

And Ahab told Jezabel his wife all that Elihu had done, and how he had slain the prophets with the sword. And Jezabel sent to Elihu, and said, If thou art Elihu, and I am Jezabel, God do so to me, and more also, if I do not make thy life by this time to-morrow; and I am thy friend and toward thee.

And Eliezer feared, and rose, and departed for his life; and he came to Bersabee to the land of Judah, and he left his servant there.

And he himself went a day’s journey in the wilderness, and came and sat under a juniper tree; and asked concerning his life that he might die, and said, Let it be enough now, O Lord, take, I pray thee, my life from me; for I am no better than my fathers.

And he lay down and slept under a tree; and behold, one touched him, and said to him, Arise and eat.

And Eliezer looked, and, behold, at his head there was a cake of meal and a crust of water; and he rose, and ate and drank, and returned and lay down.

And the angel of the Lord returned again, and touched him, and said to him, Arise, and eat, for the journey is far from thee.

And he arose, and ate and drank, and went in the strength of that meat forty days and forty nights to mount Chorob.

And he bowed there into a cave, and rested there; and behold, the word of the Lord came to him, and he said, What dost thou here, Elihu? And Eliezer said, I have been very jealous for the Lord Almighty, because the children of Israel have forsaken thee: they have digged down thine altars, and have slain thy prophets with the sword; and I am alone, and they seek my life to take it.

And he said, Thou shalt go forth to-morrow, and shalt stand before the Lord in the mount; behold, the Lord will pass by. And, behold, a great and strong wind rending the mountain.
tains, and crushing the rocks before the Lord; but the Lord was not in the wind; and after the wind an earthquake; but the Lord was not in the earthquake: 12 and after the earthquake a fire; but the Lord was not in the fire: and after the fire the voice of a gentle breeze.

And it came to pass when Elui heard, that he wrapt his face in his $ mantle, and went forth and stood in the cave: and, behold, a voice came to him and said, What dost thou here, Eliu? 14 And Eliu said, I have been very jealous for the Lord Almighty; for the children of Israel have forsaken thy covenant, and they have overthrown thine altars, and have slain thy prophets with the sword: and I am left entirely alone, and they seek my life to take it. 15 And the Lord said to him, Go, return, and thou shalt come into the way of the wilderness of Damascus; and thou shalt go and anoint Azael to be king over Syria: 16 and Ju the son of Namaess shall thou anoint him king over Israel; and Elisaie the son of Saphat shall he to be prophet in thine room. 17 And it shall come to pass, that him that escapes from the sword of Azael, Ju shall slay; and him that escapes from the sword of Ju, Elisaie shall slay. 18 And thou shalt leave in Israel seven thousand men, all the knees which had not bowed; 2 their selves to Baal, and very mouth which had not worshipped him.

And he departed thence, and finds Elisaie the son of Saphat, and he was ploughing with oxen; there were twelve yoke before him, and he $ passed by to him, and cast his mantle upon him. 20 And Elisaie left the cattle, and ran after Elui and said, I will kiss my father, and follow after thee. And Eliu said, Return, for I have done a work for thee. 21 And he returned s from following him, and took a yoke of oxen, and slew them, and boiled them with the instruments of the oxen, and gave to the people, and they ate: and he arose, and went after Eliu, and ministered to him.

And Nabuthai had a vineyard, near the threshingfloor of Achaab king of Samaria. 2 And Achaab spoke to Nabuthai, saying, Give me thy vineyard, and I will have it for a garden of herbs, for it is near my house; and I will give thee another vineyard better than it; or if it please thee, I will give thee money, the price of this thy vineyard, and I will have it for a garden of herbs. 3 And Nabuthai said to Achaab, My God forbid me that I should give thee the inheritance of my fathers.

And the spirit of Achaab was troubled, and he lay down upon his bed, and covered his face, and ate no bread. 5 And Jezabel his wife went in to him, and spoke to him, saying, Why is thy spirit troubled, and why dost thou eat no bread? 2 And he said to her, Because I spoke to Nabuthai the Jezraelite, saying, Give me thy vineyard for money; or if thou wilt, I will give thee another vineyard for it: and he said, I will not give thee the inheritance of my fathers.

And Zezabel his wife said to him, Dost thou now thus act the king over Israel? arise, and eat bread, and be 7thine own master, and I will give thee the vineyard of Nabuthai the Jezreelite.

And she wrote a letter in the name of Achab, and sealed it with his seal, and sent the letter to the elders, and to the 8th men who were with Nabuthai. And it was written in the letters, saying, Keep a fast, and set Naboth in a chief place among the people. And set two men, sons of transgressors, before him, and let them testify against him, saying, He 9th blessed God and the king; and let them lead him forth, and stone him to death.

And the men of his city, the elders, and the nobles which dwelt in his city, did as Zezabel sent to them, and as it had been written in the letters which she sent to them. And they 10th proclaimed a fast, and set Nabouthai in a chief place among the people. And two men, sons of transgressors, came and sat opposite him, and bore witness against him, saying, Thou hast killed the king's son, and let them lead him forth, and stone him to death.

And it came to pass, when Zezabel heard it, that she said to Achab, Arise, 11th take possession of the vineyard of Nabuthai the Jezreelite, who 12th would not sell it to thee: for Nabuthai is not alive, for he is dead.

And it came to pass, when Achab heard that Nabuthai the Jezreelite was dead, that he rent his garments, and put on sackcloth, and came to him in haste; and Achab arose and went down to the vineyard of Nabuthai the Jezreelite, 13th to take possession of it.

And the Lord spoke to Eliu the Thebite, saying, 14th Arise, and go down to meet Achab king of Israel, who is in Samaria, for the vineyard of Nabuthai, which he has gone down thither to take possession of it. And thou shalt speak to him, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Forasmuch as thou hast slain thy kinsman, and hast taken possession, therefore thus saith the Lord, In every place where the swine and the dogs have licked the blood of Nabuthai, there shall the dogs lick thy blood; and the harlots shall wash themselves in thy blood.

And Achab was come to Eliu. Hast thou found me, mine enemy? and he said, I have found thee: because thou hast s 15th wickedly sold thyself to work evil in the sight of the Lord, to provoke him to anger, 16th and hast provoked me, I will kindle a fire after thee, and I will utterly destroy every male of Achab, and him that is shut up and him that is left in Israel. 17th And I will 18th make thy house as the house of Jeroboam the son of Nabat, and as the house of Baas son of Achia, because of the provocations where with thou hast provoked me, and caused Israel to sin. 19th And the Lord spoke of Jezabel, saying, The dogs shall devour her 20th within the fortification of Jezreel.

that is dead of Achaab in the city shall the dogs eat, and him that is dead of him in the field shall the birds of the sky eat.

25 But Achaab did wickedly, in that he sold himself to do that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, as his wife Jezebel led him astray. And he did very abominably in following after the abominations, according to all that the Amorite did, whom the Lord utterly destroyed from before the children of Israel.

27 And because of the word, Achaab was pierced with sorrow before the Lord, and he both went weeping, and rent his garment, and girt sackcloth upon his body, and fasted; he put on sackcloth also in the day that he smote Nabuthai the Jezreelite, and went his way. 28 And the word of the Lord came by the hand of his servant Elihu concerning Achaab, and the Lord said, Hast thou seen how Achaab has hearkened to the heart before me? I will not bring on the evil in his days, but in his son's days will I bring on the evil.

And the son of Ader gathered all his forces, and went up and besieged Samaria, he and thirty-two kings with him, and all his horse and chariots: and they went up and besieged Samaria, and fought against it. And he sent into the city to Achaab king of Israel, and said to him, Thus says the son of Ader, Thy silver and thy gold are mine, and thy wives and thy children are mine. And Achaab sent word to Israel, and said, As thou hast said, my lord, O king, I am thine, and all mine also.

And the messengers came again, and said, Thus says the son of Ader, I sent to thee, saying, Thou shalt give me thy silver and thy gold, and thy wives and thy children. For at this time to-morrow I will send my servants to thee, and they shall search thy house, and the houses of thy servants, and it shall be that all the desirable objects of their eyes on which they shall lay their hands, they shall even take them. And the king of Israel called all the elders of the land, and said, Take notice now and consider, that this man seeks mischief: for he has sent to me concerning my wives, and concerning my sons, and concerning my daughters: I have not kept back from him my silver and my gold. And the elders and all the people said to him, Hearken not, and consent not. And he said to the messengers of the son of Ader, Say to your master, All things that thou hast sent to thy servant about at first I will do; but this thing I shall not be able to do. And the men departed, and carried back the answer to him.

And the son of Ader sent to him, saying, So do God to me, and more also, if the dust of Samaria shall suffice for foxes to all the people, even my infantry. And the king of Israel answered and said, Let it be sufficient; let not the humbled beast as he that is upright. And it came to pass when he returned him this answer, he and all:

the kings with him were drinking in tents: and he said to his servants, Form a trench. And they made a trench against the city.

13. And, behold, a prophet came to Achaab, king of Israel, and said, Thus saith the Lord, Hast thou seen this great multitude? behold, I give it this day into thine hands; and thou shalt know that I am the Lord.

14. And Achaab said, Whereby? And he said, Thus saith the Lord, The trenches of the fear of the heads of the districts. And Achaab said, Who shall ybegin the battle? and he said, Thou.

15. And Achaab numbered the young men the heads of the districts, and they were two hundred and thirty: and afterwards he numbered the people, even every five man fit for war, seven thousand.

16. And he went forth at noon, and the son of Ader was drinking, and getting drunk in Socchoth, he and the kings, and thirty and two kings, his allies. And the young men the heads of the districts went forth first; and they send and report to the king of Syria, saying, The king of Israel hath sent word to the king of Samaria.

17. And he said to them, If they come forth peaceably, take them alive; and if they come forth to war, take them alive: and let not the young men the heads of the districts go forth of the city. And the force that was behind them smote each one the man next to him; and each one a second time smote the man next to him; and Syria fled, and Israel pursued them; and the son of Ader, even the king of Syria, escapes on the horse of a horseman.

18. And the king of Israel went forth, and took all the horses and the chariots, and smote the enemy with a great slaughter in Syria.

19. And the prophets came to the king of Israel, and said, Strengthen thyself, and observe, and see what thou shalt do; for at the return of the year the son of Ader king of Syria comes up against thee.

20. And the servants of the king of Syria, even they said, The God of Israel is a God of valleys: therefore has he prevailed against us: but if we should fight against them in the plain, verily we shall prevail against them. And do thou this thing: Send away the kings, each one to his place, and set princes in their stead. And we will give thee another army according to the army that was destroyed, and cavalry according to the cavalry, and chariots according to the chariots, and we will fight against them in the plain, and we shall prevail against them. And he heartened to their voice, and did so.

21. And it came to pass at the return of the year, that the son of Ader reviewed Syria, and went up to Apheca to war against Israel.

22. And the children of Israel were numbered, and came to meet them: and Israel encamped before them as two little flocks of goats, but Syria filled the land.

23. And there came the man of God, and said to the king of Israel, Thus saith the Lord, Because Syria has said, The Lord God of Israel is a God of the hills, and he is not a God of the valleys, therefore will I give this great army into thy hand, and thou shalt overthow them.
shalt know that I am the Lord. 32 And they encamp one over against the other before 33 them seven days. And it came to pass on 34 the seventh day that the battle drew on, 35 and Israel smote Syria, even a hundred thou- 36 sand footmen in one day. 36 And the rest fled 37 to Aphek, into the city; and the wall fell 38 upon twenty-seven thousand men that were 39 left: and the son of Ader fled, and entered 40 into an inner chamber, into a closed. 41 And 41 he said to his servants, I know that the kings 42 of Israel are 6 merciful kings: let us now put 43 sackcloth upon our loins, and ropes upon 44 our heads, and let us go forth to the king of 45 Israel, if by any means he will save our souls 46 alive. 47 So they girt sackcloth upon their 48 loins, and put ropes upon their heads, and 49 said to the king of Israel, Thy servant the 50 son of Ader says. Let our 51 souls live, I pray thee. And he said, Does 52 he yet live? He is my brother. 53 And the 54 men divided, and 6 offered drink-offerings; 55 and they caught the word out of his mouth, 56 and said, Thy brother the son of Ader. And 57 he said, Go ye in and fetch him. And the 58 son of Ader went out to him, and they cause 59 him to come unto him into the chamber; 60 And he said to him, The cities which my father 61 took from thy father I will restore to thee; 62 and thou shalt make streets for thyself in 63 Damascus, as my father made streets in 64 Samaria; and I will let thee go with a cove- 65 nant. And he made a covenant with him, and 66 let him go. 67 And an uncertain man of the sons of 68 the prophets said to his neighbour by the word 69 of the Lord, Smite me, I pray. And the 70 man would not smite him. 71 And he said to 72 him, Because thou hast not hearkened to 73 the voice of the Lord, therefore, behold, as 74 thou departest from me, a lion shalt smite thee: 75 and he departed from him, and a lion found 76 him, and smote him. 77 And he finds 78 another man, and says, Smite me, I pray thee. 79 And the man smote him, and 6 smiting wounded him. 80 And the prophet went and stood before 81 the king of Israel by the way, and bound 82 his eyes with a bandage. 83 And it came to 84 pass as the king passed by, that he cried 85 aloud to the king, and said, Thy servant 86 went out to 7 war, and, behold, a man brought 87 another man to me, and said to me, Keep 88 this man; and if he should by any means 89 escape, then thy life shall go for his life, or 90 thou shalt pay a talent of silver. 91 And it 92 came to pass, that thy servant looked round 93 this way and that way, and 9 the man was gone. 94 And the king of Israel said to him, Behold, thou hast also 7 destroyed 95 another man for me, and he hasted, and 96 took away the bandage from his eyes; and 97 the king of Israel recognised him, that 98 he was one of the prophets. 99 And he said 100 to him, Thus saith the Lord, Because thou 101 hast suffered to escape out of thine hand 102 a man appointed to destruction, therefore thy 103 life shall go for his life, and thy people for 104 his people. 105 And the king of Israel de- 106 parted, confounded and discouraged, and 107 came to Samaria.
And he rested three years, and there was no war between Syria and Israel. And it came to pass in the third year, that Josaphat king of Juda went down to the king of Israel. And the king of Israel said to his servants, Know ye that Remmath Galed is ours, and we are slow to take it out of the hand of the king of Syria? And the king of Israel said to Josaphat, Wilt thou go up with me to Remmath Galed to battle? And Josaphat said, As I am, so art thou also; as my people, so is thy people; as my horses, so are thy horses.

And Josaphat king of Juda said to the king of Israel, Enquire, I pray thee, of the Lord to day. And the king of Israel gathered all the prophets together, about four hundred men; and the king said to them, Shall I go up to Remmath Galed to battle, or shall I forbear? and they said, Go up, and the Lord will surely give it into the hands of the king.

And Josaphat said to the king of Israel, Is there not here a prophet of the Lord, that we may enquire of the Lord by him? And the king of Israel said to Josaphat, There is one man here for us to enquire of the Lord; but I hate him, for he does not speak good of me, but only evil; Micaias son of Jemlah. And Josaphat king of Juda said, Let not the king say so.

And the king of Israel called a eunuch and said, Bring hither quickly Micaias son of Jemlah. And the king of Israel and Josaphat king of Juda sat each on his throne, armed in the gates of Samaria; and all the prophets prophesied before them. And Sedekias son of Chanan made for himself iron horns, and said, Thus saith the Lord, With these shalt thou shalt push Syria, until it be consumed. And all the prophets prophesied in like manner, saying, Go up to Remmath Galed, and the thing shall prosper, and the Lord shall deliver it and the king of Syria into thine hands.

And the messenger that went to call Michaia spake to him, saying, Behold now, all the prophets speak with one mouth good concerning the king, let now thy words be like the words of one of them, and speak good things. And Michaia said, As the Lord lives, whatsoever the Lord shall say to me, that will I speak.

And he came to the king: and the king said to him, Michaia, shall I go up to Remmath Galed to battle, or shall I forbear? and he said, Go up, and the Lord shall deliver it into the hands of the king. And the king said to him, How often shall I adjure thee, that thou speak to me truth in the name of the Lord? And he said, Not so. I saw all Israel scattered on the mountains as a flock without a shepherd: and the Lord said, Is not God lord of these? let each one return to his home in peace.

And the king of Israel said to Josaphat king of Juda, Did I not say to thee that this 19 And the king of Israel said to his servants, ‘Do ye see this Hezekiah, how he seeketh to follow the counsel of the king of Egypt, and not mine?
20 Hath not the king of Judah sent to the king of the Chaldaeans, saying, Let me live, and I will give thee all the cities of my kingdom? And wilt thou give me thine臣i, and not my kingdom?’
21 For these causes the king slept not, neither could Hezekiah of Judah sleep because of the king of Babylon.
22 And the word of the LORD came to Isaiah, saying,
23 ‘Go and tarry not in Bethel, nor eat, nor drink, neither come in thither.
24 For I will raise up aattering against thee out of northern countries, says the LORD, yea, and they shall take thee away far and bring thee to a land which thou knowest not.
25 Then thou shalt say to Hezekiah of Judah, ‘Thus saith the LORD the God of David thy father, ‘I have understood the counsel which thou hast made against me; for thou hast sent to the king of Assyria all thy labour and thy toil.
26 And the hand of the LORD shall be upon thee, to destroy and to consume; wherefore turn thee and cause thy heart to be wise.
27 For if thou wilt return, then will I extend thine dwelling-place, and lengthen thy days.’”

III. Kings XXII. 19—38.

24 And the king said, ‘According to the word that thou hast spoken, so will I do.’
25 And he said, ‘As thou hast heard all that was spoken by the servants of my lord the king of Assyria, so will I speak, and hear: proceed with thy speech.’
26 And Hezekiah said, ‘I have counsel in my heart to build broad walls, and a plentiful supply of timber and stone; and the timber is prepared in abundance, but the money is scarce. Now therefore, I have counsel to go to the king of Assyria, that I may make a league with him.’
27 But Isaiah said, ‘Go not, for it shall be no profit for thee: for the thing is gone far from thee.’
28 Then the seven and threescore of elders arose, and said to him, ‘The LORD will not turn from him that turneth from him, nor will he turn from him that forsaketh him.’
29 Hezekiah said, ‘These are good words.’ And he entreated with the LORD; and he promised to heal him.
30 And Hezekiah had said, ‘It is a light thing that the shadow goeth down ten degrees; nay, let the shadow return seven degrees.’
31 But Isaiah the prophet said unto him, ‘Thou has been found in my sight perfect in all thy ways.’ And the LORD said, ‘I will add unto thee threescore years to thy life; and I will restore the loss of this people to David my servant, and to Jerusalem, the city of my people; and I will have mercy on thee, and will heal thee: and thou shalt see the prosperity of the son of David, and the prosperity of the son of Jesse.’

32 And Hezekiah spake of the good things that he had done, and of the works which were wrought through him, and said before the princes and the assembly, ‘There is a God in heaven that dwelleth in the lamp-tower, and in the fire; and in the vault of heaven and in the sea; and in all the earth, and in all that is therein.
33 And now, behold, I pray thee, the eyes of the living are upon thee; and I say it not without reason.
34 For the LORD of hosts hath spoken it: for he is the living God, and he saith of his servant, ‘I will cause thee to lie down upon this bed, and thou shalt not go up thence; and I will give unto this people seven exceeding great plagues: and the king himself shall himself not escape.
35 Neither shall thine sons, or thy grandsons, or thy successors, see this land which thou fearest; for I will give it into the hand of them that hate thee, and I will destroy it.
36 And I will make thee die, and thou shalt not live: and the man that slayeth thee shall not be guiltless; but in the way of thy coming, and in the way of thy going, shall he be 1. (1) Gr. and he shall, etc. 2 Gr. and. 3 Lit. remaining. 4 Gr. boozom.
the fountain of Samaria; and the swine and the dogs licked up the blood, and the harlots washed themselves in the blood, according to the word of the Lord which he spake.

3) And the rest of the acts of Achaab, and all that he did, and the ivory house which he built, and all the cities which he built, were not these things written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel? 4) And Achaab slept with his fathers, and Ochozias his son reigned in his stead.

41 And Josaphat the son of Asa reigned over Judah: in the fourth year of Achaab king of Israel

he began Josaphat to reign. 42) Thirty and five years old was he when he began to reign, and he reigned twenty and five years in Jerusalem; and his mother’s name was Azuba daughter of Salai.

43 And he walked in all the way of Asa his father: he turned not from it, even from doing that which was right in the eyes of the Lord. 44) Only he took not away any of the high places: the people still sacrificed and burnt incense on the high places.

45 And Josaphat was at peace with the king of Israel.

46 And the rest of the acts of Josaphat, and his mighty deeds, whatever he did, behold, are not these things written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah? 47) And Josaphat slept with his fathers, and was buried by his fathers in the city of David his father, and Josam his son reigned in his stead.

52 And Ochozias son of Achaab reigned over Israel in Samaria: in the seventeenth year of Josaphat king of Judah, Ochozias son of Achaab reigned over Israel in Samaria two years. 53) And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, and walked in the way of Achaab his father, and in the way of Jezabel his mother, and in the sins of the house of Jerobom the son of Nabat, who caused Israel to sin. 54) And he served Baal, and worshipped them, and provoked the Lord God of Israel, according to all that had been done before him.

AND Moab rebelled against Israel after the death of Achaab.
3 And Ochozias fell through the lattice that was in his upper chamber in Samaria, and was sick; and he sent messengers, and said to them, Go and enquire of Baal fly, the god of Accaron, whether I shall recover of this my sickness. And they went to enquire of him. 4 And an angel of the Lord called Eliu the The­brite, saying, Arise, and go to meet the messengers of the king of Samaria, and thou shalt say to them, Is it because there is no God in Israel, that ye go to enquire of Baal fly, the god of Accaron? but it shall not be so. 5 For thus saith the Lord, The bed on which thou art gone up, thou shalt not come down from it, for thou shalt surely die. And Eliu went, and said so to them.
6 And the messengers returned to him, and he said to them, Why have ye returned? And they said to him, A man came up to meet us, and said to us, Go, return to the king that sent you, and say to him, Thus saith the Lord, Is it because there is no God in Israel, that thou goest to enquire of Baal fly, the god of Accaron? it shall not be so: the bed on which thou art gone up, thou shalt not come down from it, for thou shalt surely die. So they returned and reported to the king as Eliu said: and he said to them, What was the manner of the man who went up to meet you, and spoke to you these words? And they said to him, He was a hairy man, and girt with a leathern girdle about his loins. And he said, This is Eliu the Thebrite.
7 And he sent to him a captain of fifty and his fifty: and he went up to him: and, behold, Eliu sat on the top of a mountain. And the captain of fifty spoke to him, and said, O man of God, the king has called thee, come down. And Eliu answered and said to the captain of fifty, And if I be a man of God, fire shall come down out of heaven, and devour thee and thy fifty. And fire came down out of heaven, and devoured him and his fifty. And the king sent a second time to him another captain of fifty, and his fifty. And the captain of fifty spoke to him, and said, O man of God, thus says the king, Come down quickly. And Eliu answered and spoke to him, and said, If I am a man of God, fire shall come down out of heaven, and devour thee and thy fifty. And fire came down out of heaven, and devoured him and his fifty. 12 And the king sent yet again a captain and his fifty, and knelt on his knees before Elihu, and entreated him, and spoke to him and all the men of his father, all the men of Chachias, which he did behold, and the life of these fifty thy servants, be precious in thine eyes. 13 And the angel of the Lord spoke to Elihu, and said, Go down with him, be not afraid of them. And Elihu rose up, and went down with him to the king. 14 And Elihu spoke to him, and said, Thus saith the Lord, Why hast thou sent messengers to enquire of Baal, the God of Accaron? it shall not be: the bed on which thou art gone up, thou shalt not come down from it, for thou shalt surely die.

So he died according to the word of the Lord which Elihu had spoken. 15 And the rest of the acts of Chachias which he did, and his son Achaab reigns over Israel in Samaria twelve years beginning in the eighteenth year of Josaphat king of Judah: and he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, only as his brethren, nor as his mother; and he removed the pillars of Baal which his father made, and broke them in pieces: only he was joined to the sins of Jeroboam, who led Israel to sin; he departed not from them. And the Lord was very angry with the house of Achaab.

And it came to pass, when the Lord was going to take Eliau with a whirlwind as it were to remove him, that Eliau and Elisea went out of Galgala. 2 And Eliau said to Elisea, Stay here, I pray thee; for God has sent me to Baethel. And Elisea said, As the Lord lives and thy soul lives, I will not leave thee: so they came to Baethel. 3 And the sons of the prophets who were in Baethel came to Eliau, and said to him, Dost thou know, that the Lord this day is going to take thy lord away from thy head? And he said, Yea, I know it; be silent. 4 And Eliau said to Elisea, Stay here, I pray thee; for the Lord has sent me to Jericho. And he said, As the Lord lives and thy soul lives, I will not leave thee: and they came to Jericho.

5 And the sons of the prophets who were in Jericho drew near to Elisea, and said to him, Dost thou know that the Lord is about to take away thy master to-day from thy head? And he said, Yea, I know it; hold your peace. 6 And Eliau said to him, Stay here, I pray thee, for the Lord has sent me to Jordan. And Elisea said, As the Lord lives and thy soul lives, I will not leave thee: and they both went on. 7 And fifty men of the sons of the prophets went also, and they stood opposite afar off:
And Eliu took his mantle, and wrapped it together, and smote the water: and the water was divided on this side and on that side, and they both went over dry ground.

And it came to pass while they were crossing, that Eliu said to Elisaie, Ask what I shall do for thee before I am taken up from thee. And Elisaie said, Let there be, I pray thee, a double portion of thy spirit upon me. And Eliu said, Thou hast asked a hard thing: for thou shalt see me when I am taken up from thee, then shall it be so to thee; and if not, it shall not be so to thee.

And it came to pass as they were going, they 5 went on talking; and, behold, a chariot of fire, and horses of fire, and it separated between them both; and Eliu was taken up in a whirlwind as it were into heaven. And Elisaie saw, and cried, Father, father, the chariot of Israel, and the horses of Israel! and he fell upon his face; and said, Father, father, what be these? And Eliu said, These are my servants, whom I have kept back from going up hither with thee.

And the sons of the prophets who were in Jericho on the opposite side saw him, and said, The spirit of Eliu has rested upon Elisaie. And they came to meet him, and did obeisance to him to the ground. And they said to him, Behold, now, there are with thy servants fifty men 9 of strength: let them go now, and seek thy lord: for, peradventure the Spirit of the Lord has taken him up, and cast him into Jordan, or on one of the mountains, or on one of the hills. And Elisaie said, Ye shall not send. And they pressed him until he was ashamed; and he said, Send. And they sent fifty men, and sought three days, and found him not.

And they returned to him, for he dwelt in Jericho: and Elisaie said, Did I not say to you, Go not? And the men of the city said to Elisaie, Behold, the situation of the city is good, as our lord sees; but the waters are bad, and the ground barren. And Elisaie said, Bring me a new pitcher, and put salt in it. And they took one, and brought it to him. And Elisaie went out to the spring of the waters, and cast salt therein, and says, Thus saith the Lord, I have healed these waters; there shall not be any longer death thence or barren land. And the waters were healed until this day, according to the word of Elisaie which he spoke.

And he went up thence to Bethel: and as he was going up by the way there came up also little children from the city, and mocked him, and said to him, Go up, baldhead, go up. And he turned after them, and saw them, and cursed them in the name of the Lord. And, behold, there came out two bears out of the wood, and they tore forty and two children of them. 3 And he went thence to mount Carmel, and returned thence to Samaria.

And Joram the son of Achaab began to reign in Israel in the eighteenth year of Josaphat king of Judah, and he reigned twelve years. 4 And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, only not as his fathers, nor as his mother: and he removed the pillars of Baal which his father had made.

Only he adhered to the sin of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, which made Israel to sin; and he departed not from it. 5 And the son of Moab was a sheepmaster, and he rendered to the king of Israel the beginning of the year, a hundred thousand lambs, and a hundred thousand rams, with the wool. 6 And it came to pass after the death of Achaab, that the king of Moab rebelled against the king of Israel.

And Joram went forth in that day out of Samaria, and numbered Israel. 7 And he went and sent to Josaphat king of Judah, saying, The king of Moab has rebelled against me: wilt thou go with me against Moab to war? And he said, I will go up: thou art as I, I am as thou; as my people, so is thy people; as my horses, so are thy horses. And he said, What way shall I go up? and he said, The way of the wilderness of Edom. 8 And the king of the army of Edom, and the king of Judah, and the king of Edom; and they fetched a compass of seven days' journey; and there was no water for the army, and for the cattle that went with them.

And the king of Israel said, Alas! that the Lord should have called the three kings on their way, to give them into the hand of Moab. 11 And Josaphat said, Is there not here a prophet of the Lord, that we may enquire of the Lord by him? And one of the servants of the king of Israel answered, and said, Here is the king's son of Saphat, who poured water on the hands of Eliu. 12 And Josaphat said, He has the word of the Lord. And the king of Israel, and Josaphat king of Judah, and the king of Edom, went down to him.

And Elisea said to the king of Israel, What shall I do, if the Lord shall not help thee? 15 And the king said, Call to me Elisea the prophet. And he said, I have here a prophet, who poured water on hands of Eliu. 16 And Elisea said, Thus saith the Lord, Make this valley full of trenches. 17 For thus saith the Lord, Ye shall not see wind, neither shall ye see water. 18 And it shall come to pass, when ye have seen it, that the valley of Achor shall be full of water; and ye, and your flocks, and your cattle shall drink. 19 And this is a light thing in the eyes of the Lord: I will also deliver Moab into your hand.
And it came to pass in the morning, when the sacrifice was offered, that, behold! waters came from the way of Edom, and the land was filled with water.

And all Moab heard that the three kings were come up to fight against them, and they cried out on every side, even all that were in the region of Moab, saying, They have hired the Arameans against us, to come and smite us. And they rose early in the morning, and the sun was risen upon the waters, and Moab saw the waters on the opposite side red as blood.

And they said, This is the blood of the sword; and the kings have fought, and each man has smitten his neighbour; now then to the spoils, Moab. And they entered into the camp of Israel; and Israel arose and smote Moab, and they fled from before them; and they went on and smote Moab as they went.

And they razed the cities, and cast every man his stone on every good piece of land and filled it; and they stopped every well, and cut down every good tree, until they left only the stones of the wall; and they built their camp against the land, and smote it. And the king of Moab saw that the battle prevailed against him; and he took with him seven hundred men that drew sword, to cut through to the king of Edom: and they could not.

And he took his eldest son whom he had designed to reign in his stead, and offered him up for a whole-burnt-offering on the wall. And there was a great indignation against Israel; and they departed from him, and returned to their land.

And one of the wives of the sons of the prophets cried to Eliseus, saying, Thy servant my husband is dead; and thou knowest that thy servant feared the Lord: and the creditor is come to take my two sons to be his servants. And Eliseus said, What shall I do for thee? tell me what thou hast in the house. And she said, Thy servant has nothing in the house, except oil wherewith I anoint myself. And he said to her, Go, borrow for thyself vessels without of all thy neighbours, even empty vessels; borrow not only a few. And thou shalt go in and shut the door upon thee and upon thy sons, and shut thyself and thy sons for unto these vessels, and remove that which is filled. And she departed from him, and shut the door upon herself and upon her sons: they brought the vessels near to her, and she poured in until the vessels were filled. And she said to her sons, Bring me yet a vessel. And they said to her, There is not a vessel more, mother. And the oil stayed. And she came and told the man of God: and Eliseus said, Go, and sell the oil, and thou shalt pay thy debts, and thou and thy sons shall live of the remaining oil.

And a day came, when Eliseus passed over to Soman, and there was a great lady there, and she constrained him to eat bread: and it came to pass, when she constrained him to eat bread, that he turned aside to eat there. And the woman said to her husband, See now, I know that this is a holy man of God who comes over continually to us. Let us now make for him an upper chamber, a small place; and let us put there for him a bed, and a table, and a stool, and a candlestick: and it shall come to pass that when he comes in to us, he shall turn in thither.

11 And a day came, and he went in thither, and turned aside into the upper chamber, and lay there. And he said to Giezi his servant, Call me this Somanite. And he called her, and she stood before him. And he said to him, Say now to her, Behold, thou hast taken all this trouble for us; what should I do for thee? Hast thou any request to make to the king, or to the captain of the host? And she said, I dwell in the midst of my people. And he said to Giezi, What must we do for her? And Giezi his servant said, Indeed she has no son, and her husband is old.

15 And he called her, and she stood by the door. And Elisisa said to her, At this time next year, as the season is, thou shalt be alive, and embrace a son. And she said, Nay, my lord, do not lie to thy servant. And the woman conceived, and bore a son at the very time, as the season was, being alive, as Elisisa said to her.

18 And the child grew: and it came to pass when he went out to his father to the reapers, that he said to his father, My head, my head. And his father said to him, Carry him to his mother. And he carried him to his mother, and he lay upon her knees till noon, and died. And she carried him up and laid him on the bed of the man of God; and she shut the door upon him, and went out. And she called her husband, and said, Send now for me one of the young men, and one of the asses, and I will ride quickly to the man of God, and return. And he said, Why art thou going to him to-day? It is neither new moon, nor the sabbath. And she said, It is well.

24 And she saddled the ass, and said to her servant, Be quick, proceed: spare not on my account to ride, unless I shall tell thee. Go, and thou shalt proceed, and come to the man of God to mount Carmel. And she rode and came to the man of God to the mountain: and it came to pass when Elisisa saw her coming, that he said to Giezi his servant, See now, that Somanite comes. And she met her, and thou shalt say, Is it well with thee? Is it well with thy husband? Is it well with the child? and she said, It is well. And she came to Elisisa to the mountain, and laid hold of his feet; and Giezi drew near to thrust her away. And Elisisa said, Let her alone, for her soul is much vexed in her, and the Lord has hidden it from me, and has not told it me. And she said, Did I ask a son of my lord? For did I not say, Do not deal deceitfully with me?

29 And Elisisa said to Giezi, Gird up thy

And Elisisa went to Giezi, and said, Do not deal deceitfully with me.

And Elisaie went into the house, and beheld, the dead child was laid upon his bed. And Elisaie went into the house, and shut the door upon themselves, the two, and prayed to the Lord. And he went up, and lay upon the child, and put his mouth upon his mouth, and his eyes upon his eyes, and his hands upon his hands; and bowed himself upon him, and the flesh of the child grew warm. And he returned, and walked up and down in the house; and he went up, and bowed himself on the child seven times; and the child opened his eyes. And Elisaie cried out to Giezi, and said, Call this Somanite. So he called her, and she came in to him: and Elisaie said, Take thy sou. And the woman went in, and fell at his feet, and did obeisance bowing to the ground; and she took her son, and went out.

And Elisaie returned to Galgala: and a famine was in the land; and the sons of the prophets sat before him: and Elisaie said to his servant, Set on the great pot, and boil pottage for the sons of the prophets. And he went out into the field to gather herbs, and found a vine in the field, and gathered of it wild gourds, his garment full; and he cast it into the caldron of pottage, for they knew them not. And he poured it out for the men to eat: and it came to pass, when they were eating of the pottage, that lo! they cried out, and said, There is death in the pot, O man of God. And they could not eat. And he said, Take meal, and cast it into the pot. And Elisaie said to his servant Giezi, Pour out for the people, and let them eat. And there was no longer there any hurtful thing in the pot.

And there came a man over from Beth-aria, and brought to the man of God twenty barley loaves and cakes of figs, of the first-fruits. And he said, Give to the people, and let them eat. And his servant said, Why should I set this before a hundred men? and he said, Give to the people, and let them eat; for thus saith the Lord, They shall eat and leave. And they ate and left, according to the word of the Lord.

Now Naiman, the captain of the host of Syria, was a great man before his master, and highly regarded, because by him the Lord had given deliverance to Syria, and the man was mighty in strength, but a leper.
And the Syrians went forth with small bands, and took captive out of the land of Israel a little maid: and she waited on Naiman's wife. 2 And she said to her mistress, O that my lord were before the prophet of God in Samaria, then he would reconcile me from his leprosy. 3 And she went in and told her lord, and said, Thus and thus spoke the maid from the land of Israel.

And the king of Syria said to Naiman, Go to, go, and I will send a letter to the king of Israel. 4 And he went, and took in his hand ten talents of silver and six thousand shekels of gold, and ten changes of raiment. 5 And he brought the letter to the king of Israel, saying, Now then, as soon as this letter shall reach thee, behold, I have sent to thee my servant Naiman, and thou shalt recover him from his leprosy. 6 And it came to pass, when the king of Israel read the letter, that he rent his garments, and said, I am the son of an ass, a thing which a man should not see.

And it came to pass, when Elisaias heard that the king of Israel had rent his garments, he sent word to the king of Israel, saying, Wherefore hast thou rent thy garments? Let Naiman, I pray thee, come to me, and let him know that there is a prophet in Israel.

So Naiman came with horse and chariot, and stood at the door of the house of Elisaias. 8 And Elisaias sent a messenger to him, saying, Go and wash seven times in Jordan, and thy flesh shall return to thee, and thou shalt be cleansed. 9 And Naiman was angry, and departed, and said, Behold, I said, He will by all means come out to me, and stand, and call on the name of his God, and lay his hand upon the place, and recover the leper. 10 And Naiman said, I pray thee, let me, and my servant, go over henceforth, to the prophet of God in Samaria, and let him recover my servant's leprosy.

And Elisaias said, As the Lord of hosts liveth, before whom I stand, I will not accept it. And he pressed him to take one: and he would not. 12 And Naiman said, Well then, if not, let there be given me, I pray thee, this one towel, and let me dip thrice in the Jordan, that this leper may recover in his flesh. 13 And Elisaias said, It shall not be so; the Lord sheweth me thus.

And Elisaias said, O Lord, wilt thou that I turn again, and visit him? And he said, Go again. 15 And he went to the man; and behold, he stood at his house, all his servants, and his elders, and they saw them not. 16 And Elisaias said to them, Did I not tell you that he would recover?

when my master goes into the house of Remman to worship there, and he shall lean on my hand, and I shall bow down in the house of Remman when he bows down in the house of Remman; even let the Lord, I pray, be merciful to thy servant in this matter. 21 And Elissæus said to Naiman, Go in peace. And he departed from him a little way.

22 And Giezi the servant of Elissæus said, Behold, my Lord has spared this Syrian Naiman, so as not to take of his hand what he has brought: as the Lord lives, I will surely run after him, and take somewhat of him. 23 So Giezi followed after Naiman; and Naiman saw him, running after him, and turned back from his chariot to meet him. 24 And Giezi said, All is well: my master has sent me, saying, Behold, now there are come to me two young men of the sons of the prophets from mount Ephraim; give them, I pray thee, a talent of silver, and two changes of raiment. 25 And Naiman said, Let me take two talents of silver. And he took two talents of silver in two bags, and two changes of raiment, and put them upon two of his servants, and they bore them before him. 26 And he came to a secret place, and took them from their hands, and laid them up in the house, and dismissed the men.

27 And he went in himself and stood before his master; and Elissæus said to him, Whence come these, Giezi? and Giezi said, Thy servant has taken them neither from this house, nor from that, neither from the prophet, nor from the servant of the prophet. And Elissæus said to him, Went not my heart with thee, when the man returned from his chariot to meet thee? and now thou hast received silver, and now thou hast received raiment, and oliveyards, and vineyards, and sheep, and oxen, and menservants, and maidservants. 28 The leprosy also of Naiman shall cleave to thee, and to thy seed for ever. And he went out from his presence leprous, like snow.

And the sons of the prophets said to Elissæus, Behold now, the place wherein we dwell before thee is too narrow for us. 2 Let us go, we pray thee, unto Jordan, and take thence every man a beam, and make for ourselves a habitation there. 3 And he said, Go. And one of them said gently, Come with thy servants. And he said, I will go. 4 And he went with them, and they came to Jordan, and began to cut down a wood. 5 And behold, one was cutting down a beam, and the axe head fell into the water; and he cried out, Alas! master; and it was hidden. 6 And the man of God said, Where did it fall? and he shewed him the place: and he brake off a stick, and threw it in there, and the iron came to the surface. 7 And he said, Take it up to thyself. And he stretched out his hand, and took it.

8 And the king of Syria was at war with Israel: and he consulted with his servants, saying, I will encamp in such a place. 9 And Elissæus sent to the king of Israel, saying, Take heed that thou pass not by that place, for the Syrians are hidden there. 10 And the king of Israel sent to the place which Elisaie mentioned to him, and saved himself thence not once or twice.

11 And the mind of the king of Syria was very much disturbed concerning this thing; and he called his servants, and said to them, Will ye not now also who betrayed the king of Israel into my hand come into your hand also? 12 And one of his servants said, Nay, my Lord, O king, for Elisaie the prophet that is in Israel reports to the king of Israel all the words whatsoever thou mayest say in thy bedchamber. 13 And he said, Go, see where this man is, and I will send and take him. And they sent after him, saying, Behold, he is in Dothlam.

14 And he sent thither horses, and chariots, and a mighty host: and they came by night, and compassed about the city. 15 And the servant of Elisaie rose up early and went out; and, behold, a host compassed the city, and horses and chariots: and the servant said to his master, What shall we do? 16 And Elisaie said, Fear not, for they who are with us are more than they that are with them. 17 And Elisaie prayed, and said, Lord, open, I pray thee, the eyes of the servant, and let him see. And the Lord opened his eyes, and he saw: and, behold, the mountain was full of horses, and chariots of fire. 18 And they came down to him; and he prayed to the Lord, and said, Smite, I pray thee, this people with blindness. And he smote them with blindness, according to the word of Elisaie. 19 And Elisaie said to them, This is not the city, and this is not the way: follow the road that I shall show you to the city of Samaria. 20 And it came to pass when they entered into Samaria, that Elisaie said, Open, I pray thee, O Lord, their eyes, and let them see. And the Lord opened their eyes, and they saw; and, behold, they were in the midst of Samaria.

21 And the king of Israel said to Elisaie, when he saw them, Shall I not verily smite them, my father? 22 And he said, Thou shalt not smite them, unless thou wouldest smite those whom thou hast taken captive with thy sword and with thy bow: set bread and water before them, and let them eat and drink, and depart to their master. 23 And he set before them a great feast, and they ate and drank: and he dismissed them, and they departed to their master. And the bands of Syria came no longer into the land of Israel.

24 And it came to pass after this, that the son of Ader king of Syria gathered all his army, and went up, and besieged Samaria. 25 And there was a great famine in Samaria: and, behold, they besieged it, until an ass’s head was valued at fifty pieces of silver, and the fourth part of a cab of dovel’s dung at five pieces of silver.

26 And it came to pass in the days of Ader king of Israel was passing by upon the wall, and a woman cried to him, saying, Help, my lord, O king. 27 And he said to her, Unless the Lord help thee, whence shall I help thee? from the corn-floor, or from the wine-press? 28 And the king said to her, What is the matter with thee? And the woman said to him, This woman said to me,

IV. Kings VI. 29—VII. 9.

And Eliseias was sitting in his house, and the elders were sitting with him; and the messenger sent a man before him: before the messenger came to him, he also said to the elders, Do ye see that this son of a murderer has sent to take away my head? See, as soon as the messenger shall have come, shut the door, and forcibly detain him at the door: is not the sound of his master's feet behind him? While he was yet speaking with them, behold, a messenger came to him: and he said, Behold, this evil 9 to the Lord; why should I wait for the Lord any longer?

And Eliseias said, Hear thou the word of the Lord; Thus saith the Lord, As at this time, to-morrow a measure of fine flour shall be sold for a shekel, and two measures of barley a shekel, in the gates of Samaria. And the officer on whose hand the king rested, answered Eliseias, and said, Behold, if the Lord shall make flood-gates in heaven, 6 might this thing be? and Eliseias said, Behold, thou shalt see with thine eyes, but shalt not eat thereof.

And there were four lepers men by the gate of the city: and one said to his neighbour, Why sit we here until we die? 4 If we should say, Let us go into the city, then there is famine in the city, and we shall die there: and if we sit here, then we shall die. Now then come, and let us fall upon the camp of the Syrians: if they should take us alive, then we shall live, and if they should put us to death, then we shall only die.

And they rose up 5 while it was yet night, to go into the camp of Syria; and they came into a part of the camp of Syria, and behold, there 9 was no man there. 6 For the Lord had made the army of Syria to hear a sound of chariots, and a sound of horses, even the sound of a great host: and each man said to his fellow, Now has the king of Israel hired against us the kings of the Chettites, and the kings of Egypt, to come against us. And they arose and fled while it was yet dark, and left their tents, and their horses, and their asses in the camp, 7 as they were, and fled 8 for their lives.

6 And these lepers entered a little way into the camp, and went into one tent, and ate and drank, and took thence silver, and gold, and raiment; and they went and returned thence, and entered into another tent, and took thence, and went and hid the spoil. 8 And one man said to his neighbour,
We are not doing well thus: this day is a day of glad tidings, and we hold our peace, and are waiting till the morning light, and shall find mischief: now then come, and let us go into the city, and report to the house of the king.

So they went and cried toward the gate of the city, and reported to them, saying, We went into the camp of Syria, and behold, there is not there a man, nor voice of man, only horses tied and asses, and their tents as they were. And the porters cried aloud, and reported to the house of the king within.

And the king rose up by night, and said to his servants, I will now tell you what the Syrians have done to us. They knew that we are hungry; and they have gone forth from the camp and hidden themselves in the field, saying, They will come out of the city, and we shall catch them alive, and go into the city. And one of his servants answered and said, Let them now take fire of the coals that were left here; behold, they are the number left to all the multitude of Israel, and we will send thither and see. So they took two horsemen; and the king of Israel sent after the king of Syria, saying, Go, and see. And they went after them even to Jordan: and, behold, all the way was full of garments and vessels, which the Syrians had cast away in their panic. And the messenger returned, and brought word to the king.

And the people went out, and plundered the camp of Syria: and a measure of fine flour was sold for a shekel, according to the word of the Lord, and two measures of barley for a shekel, according to the word of the Lord. And the king appointed the officer on whose hand the king leaned to have charge over the gate: and the people trampled on him in the gate, and he died, as the man of God had said, who spoke when the messenger came down to him. So it came to pass as Eliseia had spoken to the king, saying, Two measures of barley shall be sold for a shekel, and a measure of fine flour for a shekel, according to the word of the Lord. And the officers of the king, who stood by him, said, Behold, if the Lord should make floods in heaven, shall this thing be? and Eliseia said, Behold, thou shalt see it if with thine eyes, but thou shalt not eat thereof. And it was so: for the people trampled on him in the gate, and he died.

And Eliseia spoke to the woman, whose son he had restored to life, saying, Arise, and go thou and thy house, and sojourn wherever thou mayest sojourn; for the Lord has called for a famine upon the land; indeed it is come upon the land for seven years. And the woman arose, and did accordingly the word of Eliseia, both she and her house: and they sojourned in the land of the Philistines seven years.

And it came to pass after the expiration of the seven years, that the woman returned out of the land of the Philistines to the city; and came to cry to the king for her house and for her lands. And the king spoke to

IV. KINGS VII. 10—VIII. 4.
The servant of Elissa the man of God, saying, Tell me, I pray thee, all the great things which Elissa has done. And it came to pass, as he was telling thee deh how he had restored to life the dead son, behold, the woman whose son Elissa restored to life came crying to the king for her house and for her lands. And Giezi said, My lord, O king, this is the woman, and this is her son, whom Elissa restored to life. And the king asked the woman, and she told him: and the king appointed her telling thee, saying, Restore all that was hers, and all the fruits of the field from the day that she left the land until now.

And Elissa came to Damascus; and the king of Syria the son of Ader was ill, and they brought him word, saying, The man of God is come hither. And the king said to Azael, Take in thine hand & a present, and go to meet the man of God, and enquire of the Lord by him, saying, Shall I recover of this my disease? And Azael went to meet him, and he took a present in his hand, and all the good things of Damascus, forty camels' load, and came and stood before him, and said to Elissa, Thy son the son of Ader, the king of Syria, has sent me to thee to enquire, saying, And I recover of this my disease? And Elissa said to Giezi, Go, say, Thou shalt certainly live; yet the Lord has shewed me that thou shalt surely die. And he stood before him, and fixed his countenance till he was ashamed: and the man of God wept. And Azael said, Why does my lord weep? And he said, Because I know all the evil that thou wilt do to the children of Israel: the Lord shall stir up thy strongholds with fire, and thou wilt slay their choice men with the sword, and thou wilt dash their infants against the ground, and their women with child thou wilt rip up. And Azael said, Who is thy servant? a dead dog, that he should do this thing? And Elissa said, The Lord has shewn me this thing that is to be done to thee. And he departed from Elissa, and went to the king of Syria. And he said to him, What said Elissa to thee? And he said, He said to me, Thou shalt surely live. And it came to pass on the next day that he took a thick cloth, and dipped it in water, and put it on his face, and he died: and Azael reigned in his stead.

In the fifth year of Joram son of Achaab king of Israel, and while Josaphat was king of Judah, Joram the son of Josaphat king of Judah began to reign. Thirty and two years old was he when he began to reign; and he reigned eight years in Jerusalem. And he walked in the way of the kings of Israel, as did the house of Achaab; for the daughter of Achaab was his wife: and he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord. But the Lord would not destroy Juda for David his servant's sake, as he said he would give a light to him and to his sons continually. But in his days Edom revolted from under the hand of Juda, and they made a king over themselves. And Joram went up to Sior, and all the chariots that were with him: and it came to pass after he had arisen, that he smote Edom who compassed him about; and the captains of the chariots were in the people fled to their tents.

26 Yet Edom revolted from under the hand of Juda till this day. Then Lobna revolted at that time.

27 And the rest of the acts of Joram, and all that he did, behold, are not these written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Juda?

28 So Joram slept with his fathers, and was buried in the city of his father David: and Ochozias his son reigned in his stead.

29 In the twelfth year of Joram son of Achaab king of Israel, Ochozias son of Joram y began to reign.

30 Twenty and two years old was Ochozias when he began to reign, and he reigned one year in Jerusalem: and the name of his mother was Athaliah, daughter of Ambrgi king of Israel.

31 And he walked in the way of the house of Achaab, and did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, as did the house of Achaab.

32 And he went with Joram son of Achaab to war against Azael king of Tyre; and the Syrians took him away; and Joram was wounded Joram.

33 And king Joram returned to be healed in Jezreel of the wounds with which they wounded him in Remmoth, when he fought with Azael king of Syria.

34 And Ochozias son of Joram went down to see the son of Achaab in Jezreel, because he was sick.

35 And Elisei a prophet called one of the sons of the prophets, and said to him, Gird up thy loins, and take this cruse of oil in thy hand, and go to Remmoth Galaad.

36 And thou shalt enter there, and shalt see there JU the son of Josaphat son of Namessi, and shalt go in and make him rise up from among his brethren, and shalt bring him into a secret chamber.

37 And thou shalt take the cruse of oil, and pour it on his head, and say thou, Thus saith the Lord, I have anointed thee king over Israel: and thou shalt open the door, and flee, and not tarry.

38 And the young man the prophet went to Remmoth Galaad.

39 And he went in, and behold, the captains of the host were sitting; and he said, I have a message to thee, O captain. And Ju said, To which of all us? And he said, To thee, O captain.

40 And he arose, and went into the house: and he poured the oil upon his head, and said to him, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, I have anointed thee to be king over the people of the Lord, even over Israel.

41 And thou shalt utterly destroy the house of Achaab thy master from before me, and shalt avenge the blood of my servants the prophets, and the blood of all the servants of the Lord, at the hand of Jezabel.

42 And at the hand of the whole house of Achaab; and thou shalt utterly cut off from the house of Achaab every male, and him that is shut up and left in Israel.

43 And I will make the house of Achaab like the house of Jeroboam the son of Nabat, and as the house of Baass the son of Acha.

44 And the dogs shall eat Jezabel in the portion of Jezreel, and there shall be none to bury her. And he opened the door, and fled.
11 And Ju went forth to the servants of his lord, and they said to him, Is all well? Why do the chariots stop behind thee? And he said to them, Ye know the man, and his communication.

12 And they said, It is wrong: tell us now. And Ju said to them, Thus and thus spoke he to me, saying,—

13 And when they had heard it, they halted, and took every man his garment, and put it under him on the top of the stairs, and blew with the trumpet, and said, Ju 5 is king.

14 Then the son of Josaphat the son of Namessi conspired against Joram; and Joram was driving Remoth Galalad, and he and all Israel, because of Azael king of Syria.

15 And king Joram had returned to be healed in Jezreel of the wounds which the Syrians had given him, in his war with Azael king of Syria.

And Ju said, If your heart is with me, let there not go forth out of the city one, nor tell it. 16 And Ju rode and advanced, and came down to Jezreel; for Joram king of Israel was getting healed in Jezreel of the arrow-wounds wherewith the Syrians had wounded him in Rammoth in the war with Azael king of Syria; for he was strong and a mighty man: and Ochozias king of Judah was come down to see Joram. 17 And there went up a watchman upon the tower of Jezreel, and saw the dust made by Ju as he approached; and he said, I see dust. And Joram said, Take a horseman, and send to meet them, and let him say, Peace. 18 And the horseman came and said, They have come to me, but said not what was said between them. And Ju said, What hast thou to do with peace? turn behind me. And the watchman reported, saying, The messenger came up to them, and has not returned. 19 And he sent another horseman, and he came to him, and said, Thus says the king, Peace. And Ju said, What effect hast thou to do with peace? turn behind me. 20 And the watchman reported, saying, He came up to them, and has not returned: and the driver drives Ju the son of Namessi, for it is with furious haste.

21 And Joram said, Make ready. And one made ready the chariot: and Joram the king of Israel went forth, and Ochozias king of Judah, each in his chariot, and they went to meet Ju, and found him in the portion of Nabothai the Jezreelit.

22 And it came to pass when Joram saw Ju, that he said, Is it peace, Ju? And Ju said, How is it that thou art come so suddenly? there are the wheromods of thy mother Jezabel, and her abundant witchcrafts. 23 And Joram turned his hands, and fled, and said to Ochozias, Treachery, Ochozias. 24 And Ju bent his bow with his full strength, and smote Joram between his arms, and his arrow went out at his heart, and he bowed upon his knees. 25 And Ju said to Badekar his chief officer, Cast him into the portion of ground of Nabothai the Jezreelite, for I and thou remember, riding as we were on chariote.
after Achaab his father, that the Lord took up this burden against him, saying, 26. Surf. "I have seen yesterday the blood of Nabothai, and the blood of his sons, saith the Lord; and I will recompense him in this portion, saith the Lord. Now then, I pray thee, take him up and cast him into the portion, according to the word of the Lord.
27. And Ochozias king of Judah saw it, and fled by the way of Bethgezer. And Ju pursued after him, and said, "Slay him also. And one smote him in the charriot at the going up of Gai, which is Jeblann; and he fled to Mageddo, and died there. 28. And his servants put him in a charriot, and brought him to Jerusalem, and they buried him in his sepulchre in the city of David.
29. And in the eleventh year of Joram king of Israel, Ochozias began to reign over Judah.
30. And Ju came to Jezrael; and Jezabel heard of it, and coloured her eyes, and adorned her head, and looked through the window. 31. And Ju entered into the city, and she said, Had Zambri, the murderer of his master, peace? 32. And he lifted up his face toward the window, and saw her, and said, Who is that widow? She looked down with one eye. 33. And two eunuchs looked down towards him. And he said, "Throw her down. And they threw her down; and some of her blood was sprinkled on the wall, and on the horses: and they trampled on her. 34. And Ju went in and ate and drank, and said, Look now, after this cursed woman, and bury her, for she is king's daughter. 35. And they went to bury her: but they found nothing of her but the skull, and the feet, and the palms of her hands. 36. And they returned and told him. And he said, "It is the word of the Lord, which he spoke by the hand of Elu the Thesbite, saying, In the portion of Jezrael shall the dogs eat the flesh of Jezabel. 37. And the Carcas of Jezabel shall be as dung on the face of the field in the portion of Jezrael, so that they shall not say, This is Jezabel.
And Achaab had seventy sons in Samaria. And Ju wrote a letter, and sent it into Samaria to the rulers of Samaria, and to the elders, and to the guardians of the children of Achaab, saying, 38. Now then, as soon as this letter shall have reached you, whereas there are with you the sons of your master, and with you 5 chariots and horses, and strong cities, and arms, do ye accordingly look out the best, and select among your master's sons, and set him on the throne of his father, and fight for the house of your master. 39. And they feared greatly, and said, Behold, two kings are stood not before him; and how shall we stand? So they that were over the house, and they that were over the city, and the elders and the guardians, sent to Ju, saying, We also are thy servants, and whatsoever thou shalt say to us we will do; we will not make any man king: we will do which that is right in thine eyes.
40. And Ju wrote them a second letter, saying, 41. O Jezabel: I saw yesterday the blood of Nabothai, and the blood of his sons, saith the Lord; and I will recompense him in this portion, saith the Lord. Now then, I pray thee, take him up and cast him into the portion, according to the word of the Lord.
42. And Ochozias king of Judah saw it, and fled by the way of Bethgezer. And Ju pursued after him, and said, "Slay him also. And one smote him in the charriot at the going up of Gai, which is Jeblann; and he fled to Mageddo, and died there. 43. And his servants put him in a charriot, and brought him to Jerusalem, and they buried him in his sepulchre in the city of David.
And in the eleventh year of Joram king of Israel, Ochozias began to reign over Judah.
30. And Ju came to Jezrael; and Jezabel heard of it, and coloured her eyes, and adorned her head, and looked through the window. 31. And Ju entered into the city, and she said, Had Zambri, the murderer of his master, peace? 32. And he lifted up his face toward the window, and saw her, and said, Who is that widow? And the Carcas of Jezabel shall be as dung on the face of the field in the portion of Jezrael, so that they shall not say, This is Jezabel.
And Achaab had seventy sons in Samaria. And Ju wrote a letter, and sent it into Samaria to the rulers of Samaria, and to the elders, and to the guardians of the children of Achaab, saying, 38. Now then, as soon as this letter shall have reached you, whereas there are with you the sons of your master, and with you 5 chariots and horses, and strong cities, and arms, do ye accordingly look out the best, and select among your master's sons, and set him on the throne of his father, and fight for the house of your master. 39. And they feared greatly, and said, Behold, two kings are stood not before him; and how shall we stand? So they that were over the house, and they that were over the city, and the elders and the guardians, sent to Ju, saying, We also are thy servants, and whatsoever thou shalt say to us we will do; we will not make any man king: we will do which that is right in thine eyes.
40. And Ju wrote them a second letter, saying,
And he arose and went to Samaria, and he was in the house of shear-shearing in the way. And Ju found the brethren of Ochozias king of Juda, and said, Who are ye? And they said, We are the brethren of Ochozias, and we have come down to salute the sons of the king, and the sons of the queen. And he said, Take them alive. And they slew them at the shearing-house, forty and two men: he left not a man of them.

And he went thence, and found Jonadab the son of Rechab coming to meet him; and he saluted him, and Ju said to him, Is thy heart right with my heart, as my heart is with thy heart? And Jonadab said, It is. And Ju said, If it is then, give me thy hand. And he gave him his hand, and he took him up to the chariot. And he said to him, Come with me, and see me zealously for the Lord. And he caused him to sit in his chariot.

And he entered into Samaria, and smote all that were left of Achab in Samaria, until he had utterly destroyed him, according to the word of the Lord, which he spoke to Eliu. And Ju gathered all the people, and said to them, Achab served Baal a little; Ju shall serve him much. Now then do all ye the prophets of Baal call all his servants and his priests to me; let not a man be wanting: for I have a great sacrifice to offer to Baal; every one who shall be missing shall die. But Ju did it in subtlety, that he might destroy the servants of Baal.

And Ju said, Sanctify a solemn festival to Baal, and they made a proclamation. And Ju sent throughout all Israel, saying, Now then let all Baal’s servants, and all his priests, and all his prophets come, let none be lacking; for I am going to offer a great sacrifice; whosoever shall be missing, shall not live. So all the servants of Baal came, and all his priests, and all his prophets: there was not one left who came not. And they entered into the house of Baal; and the house of Baal was filled from one end to the other. 22 And he said to the man who was over the pillar of the Baal, Bring forth a robe for all the servants of Baal. And the keeper of the robes brought forth to them. 23 And Ju and Jonadab the son of Rechab entered into the house of Baal, and said to the servants of Baal, Search, and see whether there is among you any of the servants of the Lord, or only the servants of Baal, by themselves. 24 And he went in to offer sacrifices and whole-burnt-offerings; and Ju set for himself eighty men without, and said, Every man who shall escape of the men whom I bring into your hand, the life of him that spares him shall go for his life. And it came to pass, when he had finished offering the whole-burnt-offering, that he said to the footmen and the officers, Go ye in and slay them; let not a man of them escape. So they smote them with the edge of the sword, and the footmen and the officers cast the bodies forth, and went to the city of the house of Baal. And they brought out the pillars of the Baal, and burnt it. 25 And they tore down the pillars of Baal, and made a house a draught-house until this day. 26 So Ju abolished Baal out of Israel. Nevertheless Ju departed not from following the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who led Israel to sin: these were the golden heifers in Bethel and in Dan.

And the Lord said to Ju, Because of all thy deeds wherein thou hast acted well in doing that which was right in my eyes, according to all things which thou hast done to the house of Achab as they were in my heart, thy sons to the fourth generation shall sit upon the throne of Israel. But Ju took no heed to walk in the law of the Lord God of Israel with all his heart; he departed not from following the sins of Jeroboam, who made Israel to sin. In those days the word of the Lord came to Azel the son of Jaaziel, the son of Shadmeiah, of the house of the Maachathites. 2 From Jordan eastward all the land of Galad belonging to the Gadites, of Gaddi, and that of Ruben, and of Manasseh, from Aroer, which is on the brink of the brook of Arnon, and Galaad and Basam. And the rest of the acts of Ju, and all that he did, and all his might, and the war wherein he engaged, are not these things written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel? 3 And Ju slept with his fathers; and they buried him in Samaria; and Josach his son reigned in his stead. 4 And the days which Ju reigned over Israel were twenty-eight years in Samaria.

And Gothalia the mother of Ochozias saw that her son was dead, and she destroyed all the seed royal. 5 And Josabe daughter of king Jordam, sister of Ochozias, took Joas the son of her brother, and stole him from among the king's sons that were put to death, secreting him and his nurse in the thickets of thorns before the face of Gotholia, and he was not slain. 3 And he remained with her hid in the house of the Lord six years: and Gotholia reigned over the land.

4 And in the seventh year Jodae sent and took the captains of hundreds of the Chorrion of the Ibaasim, and brought them to him into the house of the Lord, and made a covenant of the Lord with them, and ad equitised them, and Jodae showed them the king's son. 5 And charged them, saying, This is the 6 thing which ye shall do. 6 Let a third part of you go in on the sabbath-day, and keep ye the watch of the king's house in the porch; and another third in the gate of the high way, and a third at the gate behind the footmen; and keep ye the guard of the house. 7 And there shall be two 5 parties among you, even every one that goes out on the sabbath, and they shall keep the guard of the Lord's house before the king. 8 And do ye compass the king about every man with his weapon in his hand, and he that goes into the ranges shall die: and they shall be with the king in his going out and in his coming in.

9 And the captains of hundreds did all things that the wise Jodae commanded; and they took each men, both those that went in on the sabbath-day, and those that went out on the sabbath-day, and went in to Jodae the priest. 10 And the priest gave to the captains of hundreds the swords and spears of king David that were in the house of the Lord. 11 And the footmen stood each with his weapon in his hand from the right corner of the house to the left corner of the house, by the altar and the house round about the king. 12 And he brought forth the king's son, and put him upon the crown and gave him the testimony; and he made him king, and anointed him, and they clapped their hands, and said, Long live the king.

13 And Gotholia heard the sound of the people running, and she went in to the people to the house of the Lord. 14 And she looked, and, behold, the king stood near a pillar according to the manner; and the singers and the trumpeters were coming before the king and all the people of the land even rejoicing and sounding with trumpets; and Gotholia rent her garments, and cried, A conspiracy, a conspiracy. 15 And Jodae the priest commanded the captains of hundreds who were over the host, and said to them, Bring her forth without the ranges, and he that goes forth without shall that die by the sword. For the priest said, Let her not however be slain in the house of the Lord. 16 And they laid hands upon her, and went in by the way of the horses' entrance into the house of the Lord, and she was slain there.

17 And Jodae made a covenant between the Lord and the king and the people, that they should be the Lord's people also between the king and the people. 18 And all the people of the land went into the house.
of Baal, and tore it down, and completely broke in pieces his altars and his images, and they slew Maltaneth the priest of Baal before the altars. And the priest appointed overseers over the house of the Lord. And he took the captains of the hundreds, and the Chorri, and the Rhamim, and all the people of the land, and brought down the king out of the house of the Lord; and they went to the chamber of the roof of the 8th men of the king's house, and seated him there on the throne of the kings. And all the people of the land rejoiced, and the city was at rest; and they slew Gothahia with the sword in the house of the king.

Joas was 57seven years old when he began to reign.

Joas 6began to reign in the seventh year of Jehu, and he reigned forty years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Sabiah of Bersabee. And Joas did that which was right in the sight of the Lord all the days that Joada the priest instructed him. Only there were not any of the high places removed, and the people still sacrificed there, and burned incense on the high places.

And Joas said to the priests, As for all the money, and the holy things that is brought into the house of the Lord, the money of valuation, as each man brings the money of valuation, all the money which 14any man may feel disposed to bring into the house of the Lord, let the priests take it to themselves, every man from the proceeds of his sale; and they shall repair the breaches of the house in all places wheresoever a breach shall be found.

And it came to pass in the twenty-third year of king Joas the priests had not repaired the breaches of the house. And king Joas called Joda the priest, and the other priests, and said to them, Why have ye not repaired the breaches of the house? now then receive no more money from your sales, for ye shall give it to repair the breaches of the house. And the priests consented to receive no more money of the people, and not to repair the breaches of the house. And Joda the priest took a chest, and bored a hole in the lid of it, and set it by the altar in the house of a man belonging to the house of the Lord, and the priests that kept the door put therein all the money that was found in the house of the Lord.

And it came to pass, when they saw that there was much money in the chest, that the king's scribe and the high priest went up, and they tied up and counted the money that was found in the house of the Lord. And they gave the money that had been collected into the hands of them that wrought the works, the overseers of the house of the Lord, and they gave it out to the carpenters and to the builders that wrought in the house of the Lord. And to the masons, and to the hewers of stone, to purchase timber and hewn stone to repair the breaches of the house of the Lord, for all that was spent on the house of the Lord to repair it. Only there were not to be made for the house of the Lord silver plates, bowls, or trumpets, any vessel of gold or vessel of silver, of the money that was brought into the house of the Lord: 11 for they sold the10 cloths of the workmen, and they repaired therewith the house of the Lord. 12 Also they took no account of the men into whose hands they gave the money to give to the workmen, for they scattered faithfully. 13 Money for a sin-offering, and money for a trespass-offering, whatever happened to be brought into the house of the Lord, went to the priests.

14 Then went up Azael king of Syria, and fought against Telmessus, and took it: and Azael set his face to go against Jerusalem. 15 And Joas king of Judah took all the holy things which Josaphat, and Joram, Ochozias, his fathers, and kings of Judah had consecrated, and what he had himself dedicated, and all the gold that was found in the treasures of the Lord's house and the king's house, and he sent them to Azael king of Syria; and he went up from Jerusalem.

16 And the rest of the acts of Joas, and all that he did, behold, are not these things written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah? 17 And his servants rose up and made a conspiracy, and smote Joas in the house of Mello that is in Sela. 18 And Jezirchar the son of Jemath, and Jezabuth Soner's son, his servants, smote him, and he died; and they buried him with his fathers in the city of David: and Amessias his son reigned in his stead.

In the twenty-third year of Joas son of Ochozias king of Judah began Joachaz the son of Joa to reign in Samaria, and he reigned seventeen years. 2 And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, and walked after the sins of Jerobeam the son of Nabat, who led Israel to sin; he departed not from them.

3 And the Lord was very angry with Israel, and delivered them into the hand of Azael king of Syria, and into the hand of the son of Ador son of Azael, all their days.

4 And Joachaz besought the Lord, and the Lord hearkened to him, for he saw the affliction of Israel, because the king of Syria afflicted them. 5 And the Lord gave deliverance to Israel, and they escaped from under the hand of Syria: and the children of Israel dwelt in their tents as heretofore. 6 Only they departed not from the sins of the house of Jerobam, who led Israel to sin; they walked in them— moreover the grove also remained in Samaria. 7 Whereas there was not left any σάρματα to Joachaz, except fifty horses, and ten chariots, and ten thousand infantry: for the king of Syria had destroyed them, and they made them as dust for trampling.

8 And the rest of the acts of Joachaz, and all that he did, and his mighty acts are not these things written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel? 9 And Joachaz slept with his fathers, and they buried him in Samaria: and Joas his son reigned in his stead.

10 In the thirty-seventh year of Joas king... of Juda, Joas the son of Joachaz began to reign over Israel in Samaria sixteen years. And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord; he departed not from all the sin of Jeroboam the son of Nabat, who led Israel to sin: he walked in it. And the rest of the acts of Joas, and all that he did, and his mighty acts which he performed together with Assamias king of Judah, are not these written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel? And Joas slept with his fathers, and Jeroboam sat upon his throne, and he was buried in Samaria with the kings of Israel.

Now Elisai was sick of his sickness, whereof he died: and Joas king of Israel went down to him, and wept over his face, and said, My father, my father, the chariot of Israel, and the horseman thereof. And Elisai said to him, Take bow and arrows. And he took to himself a bow and arrows. And he said to the king, Put thy hand on the bow. And Joas put his hand upon it: and Elisai put his hands upon the king's hands. And he said, Open the window eastward. And he opened it. And Elisai said, Take bow and arrows. And he said, The bow of the Lord's deliverance, and the arrow of deliverance from Syria; and thou shalt smite the Syrians in Apheek until thou have consumed them. And Elisai said to him, Take bow and arrows. And he took them. And he said to the king of Israel, Smithe upon the ground. And the king smote three times, and stayed. And the man of God was grieved at him, and said, If thou hadst smitten five or six times, then thou shouldst have smitten Syria till thou hadst consumed them; but now thou shalt smite Syria only thrice.

And Elisai died, and they buried him. And the bands of the Moabites came into the land, at the beginning of the year. And it came to pass as they were burying a man, that behold, they saw a band of men, and they cast the man into the grave of Elisai: and as soon as he touched the bones of Elisai, he revived and stood up on his feet.

And Azael greatly afflicted Israel all the days of Joas. And the Lord had mercy and compassion upon them, and had respect to them because of his covenant with Abraam, and Isaac, and Jacob; and the Lord would not destroy them, and did not cast them out from his presence. And Azael king of Syria died, and the son of Ader his son reigned in his stead. And Joas the son of Joachaz returned, and took the cities out of the land of the son of Ader the son of Azael, which he had taken out of the hand of Joachaz his father in the war: thrice did Joas smite him, and he recovered the cities of Israel.

In the second year of Joas the son of Joachaz king of Israel, did Assamias also the son of Jehu the son of the king of Juda begin to reign. Twenty and five years old was he when he began to reign, and he reigned twenty and nine years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Joadim of Jerusalem. And he did that which was right in the sight of the Lord, but not as David his father: he and he was sixteen years old, and made him king in the room of his father Amessias.

29 He built Jerusalem, and restored it to Judah, after the king slept with his fathers.

30 In the fifteenth year of Amessias son of Jos, king of Juda, Jeroboam son of Jos, king of Israel to reign over Israel in Samaria forty and one years. 31 And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord: he departed not from all the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nabat, who led Israel to sin.

32 He recovered the coast of Israel from the entering in of Amath to the sea of Araba, according to the word of the Lord God of Israel, which he spoke by his servant Jonas the son of Amath, the prophet of Gath-chophar. 33 For the Lord saw that the affliction of Israel was very bitter, and that they were few in number, straitened and in want, and destitute, and Israel had no helper. 34 And the Lord said that he would not blot out the seed of Israel from under heaven; so he delivered them by the hand of Jeroboam the son of Jos.

35 And the rest of the acts of Jeroboam, and all that he did, and his mighty deeds, which he achieved in war, and how he recovered Damascus and Amath to Juda in Israel, are not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel. 36 And Jeroboam slept with his fathers, even with the kings of Israel; and Zacharias his son reigned in his stead.

In the twenty-seventh year of Jeroboam king of Israel Azarias the son of Amessias king of Juda began to reign. 2 Sixteen years old was he when he began to reign, and he reigned fifty-two years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Jehelica of Jerusalem. 3 And he did that which was right in the eyes of the Lord, according to all that Amessias his father did. 4 Only he took not away any of the high places: as yet the people sacrificed and burnt incense on the high places.

5 And the Lord plagued the king, and he was leprous till the day of his death; and he reigned in a separate house. And Joatham the king's son was over the household, judging the people of the land.

6 And the rest of the acts of Azarias, and all that he did, are not these written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Juda? 7 And Azarias slept with his fathers, and they buried him with his fathers in the city of David: and Joatham his son reigned in his stead.

8 In the thirty and eighth year of Azarias king of Juda Zacharias the son of Jeroboam began to reign over Israel in Samaria six months. 9 And he did that which was evil in the eyes of the Lord, as his fathers had done: he departed not from all the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nabat, who made Israel to sin.

10 And Sellum the son of Jabes and others conspired against him, and they smote him in Keblam, and slew him, and he
11 And these are the words of the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel. 12 In the twenty-seventh year of Jeroboam king of Israel, Rehoboam the son of Solomon began to reign over Judah. 13 And there were twenty and five years to Rehoboam: and Baasha reigned over all Israel in Salem forty years. 14 And the rest of the acts of Baasha, and what he did, and what he built in Samaria, are they written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel. 15 And Baasha slept, and they buried him in Samaria: and Zambri his servant arose, and smote him in Samaria, and reigned instead of him. 16 And the rest of the acts of Zambri, and what he did, and his might, are they written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

17 In the thirty and ninth year of Azarias king of Judah, Zambri the son of Hadad reigned in Tirzah over all Israel forty years. 18 And the rest of the acts of Zambri, and what he did, and his might, are they written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel. 19 And Zambri slept, and they buried him in Tirzah. And Menasseh his son reigned in his stead. 20 And the rest of the acts of Zambri, and what he did, and his might, are they written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel. 21 And the rest of the acts of Menasseh, and what he did, are they written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel. 22 And Menasseh slept, and they buried him in Jerusalem in the valley of the son of Hcheres: and Ahaz his son reigned in his stead.

23 In the fifth year of Azarias king of Judah, Rezia the son of Menasseh began to reign. 24 He was twenty and five years old when he began to reign, and reigned twenty-nine years in Jerusalem. And his heart was not perfect with the Lord his God, as was the heart of David his father. 25 But he departed from the commandments that the Lord commanded his father, and went not in his ways, doing according to the example of the kings of Israel. 26 And the rest of the acts of Rezia, and what he did, and his might, and his works, are they written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel. 27 And Rezia slept, and they buried him in Jerusalem in the valley of the son of Hcheres: and Hezidek his son reigned in his stead.

28 In the fifth and twentieth year of Azarias king of Juda, Hezidek began to reign. 29 He was fifty and two years old when he began to reign, and reigned fifty and five years in Jerusalem. And his heart was perfect with the Lord his God, as was the heart of David his father. 30 And he did that which was right in the sight of the Lord, walking in all the ways of his father David, and turned not from them; only he did what the priests of Bethel did, that went up from Bethel to sacrifice upon the altar. 31 And the rest of the acts of Hezidek, and what he did, and his mighty works that he did, are they written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel. 32 And Hezidek slept, and they buried him in Jerusalem in the valley of the son of Hcheres: and Azarias his son reigned in his stead.
the land of Nephthali, and carried them away to the Assyrians. 2
And Osee son of Ela formed a conspiracy against Phakee, 3 and smote him, and killed him, and reigned in his stead, in the twelfth year of Joatham the son of Azarias. 4 And the rest of the acts of Phakee, and all that he did, behold, these are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel. 5
In the second year of Phakee son of Romelias king of Israel y’began Joatham the son of Azarias king of Judah to reign. 6 Twenty and five years old was he when he began to reign, and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem; and his mother’s name was Jerusa daughter of Sadoc. 7 And he did that which was right in the eyes of the Lord, according to all that his father Azarias did. 8 Nevertheless he took not away the high places; as yet the people sacrificed and burnt incense on the high places. He built the upper gate of the Lord’s house. 9 And the rest of the acts of Joatham, and all that he did, are not these written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah? 10 In those days the Lord began to send forth against Juda Raasson king of Syria, and Phakee son of Romelias. 11 And Joatham slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of David his father: and Achar his son reigned in his stead. 12 In the seventeenth year of Phakee son of Romelias y’began Achar the son of Joatham king of Judah to reign. 13 Twenty years old was Achar when he began to reign, and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem; and he did not that which was right in the eyes of the Lord, according to all that his father had done. 14 And he walked in the way of the kings of Israel, ver, he made his son to pass through the fire, according to the abominations of the heathen whom the Lord cast out from before the children of Israel. 15 And he sacrificed and burnt incense on the high places, and upon the hills, and upon shady trees. 16 Then went up Raasson king of Syria and Phakee son of Romelias king of Israel against Jerusalem to war, and besieged Achar, but could not prevail against him. 17 At that time Raasson king of Syria recovered Edath to Syria, and drove out the Jews from Edath, and the Idumaeans came to Edath, and dwelt there until this day. 18 And Achar sent messengers to Thialgath-phillassar king of the Assyrians, saying, I am thy servant and thy son: come up, deliver me out of the hand of the king of Syria, and out of the hand of the king of Israel, who are rising up against me. 19 And Achar took the silver and the gold that was found to the treasures of the house of the Lord, and of the king’s house, and sent gifts to the king. 20 And the king of the Assyrians hearkened to him: and the king of the Assyrians went up to Damascus and took it, and removed the inhabitants, and slew king Raasson. 21 And king Achar went to Damascus to meet Thialgath-phillassar king of the Assy.

And the king saw the altar, and went up to it, and offered his whole-burnt-offering, and his meat-offering, and his drink-offering, and poured out the blood of his peace-offerings on the brazen altar that was before the Lord. And he brought forward the one before the house of the Lord from between the altar and the house of the Lord, and he set it openly by the side of the altar northwards. And king Achaz charged Urias the priest, saying, Offer upon the great altar the whole-burnt-offering in the morning and the meat-offering in the evening, and the whole-burnt-offering of the king, and his meat-offering, and the whole-burnt-offering of all the people, and their meat-offering, and their drink-offering; and thou shalt pour all the blood of the whole-burnt-offering, and all the blood of the people, and all the blood of the king, upon the altar of the Lord his God; and the brazen altar shall be for me in the morning. And Urias the priest did according to all that king Achaz commanded him. And king Achaz cut off the borders of the bases, and removed the laver from off them, and took down the sea from the brazen oxen that were under it, and set it upon a base of stone. And he made a base for the throne in the house of the Lord, and he turned the king’s entrance without in the house of the Lord because of the king of the Assyrians.

And the rest of the acts of Achaz, even all that he did, are not these written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah? And Achaz slept with his fathers, and was buried in the city of David: and Ezekias his son reigned in his stead.

In the twelfth year of Achar king of Juda began Osee the son Ela to reign in Samaria over Israel nine years. And he did evil in the eyes of the Lord, only not as the kings of Israel that were before him.

Against him came up Salamanassar king of the Assyrians; and Osee became his servant, and rendered him tribute. And the king of the Assyrians found iniquity in Osee, in that he sent messengers to Segor king of Egypt, and brought not a tribute to the king of the Assyrians in that year: and the king of the Assyrians besieged him, and bound him in the prison-house. And the king of the Assyrians went up against all the land, and went up to Samaria, and besieged it for three years.

In the ninth year of Osee the king of the Assyrians took Samaria, and carried Israel away away to Assyria, and setteth them down in Aloa, and in Abor, near the rivers of Gozan, and in the mountains of the Medes. For it came to pass that the children of Israel had transgressed against the Lord their God, who had brought them up out of the land of Egypt, from under the hand of Pharaoh king of Egypt, and they feared other gods, and walked in the statutes of the nations which the Lord cast out before the face of the children of Israel, and of the kings of Israel as many as did such things, and in those of the children of Israel as many as secretly practised the thing which they had done, against the Lord their God: and they built for themselves high places in all their cities, from the tower of the watchmen to the fortified city. And they made for themselves pillars and groves on every high hill, and under every shady tree. And burned incense there on all high places, as the nations did whom the Lord removed from before them, and dealt with familiar spirits, and they carved images to provoke the Lord to anger. And they served the idols, of which the Lord said to his people, Ye shall not do this thing against the Lord.

And the Lord testified against Israel and against Judah, even by the hand of all his prophets, and of every seer, saying, Turn ye from your evil ways, and keep my commandments and my ordinances, and all the law which I commanded your fathers, and all that I sent to them by the hand of my servants the prophets. But they hearkened not, and made their neck harder than the neck of their fathers. And they kept not any of his testimonies which he charged them; and they walked after vanities, and became vain, and after the nations round about them, conforme against which the Lord had charged them not to do accordingly. They forsook the commandments of the Lord their God, and made themselves graven images, even two heifers, and they made groves, and worshipped all the host of heaven, and served Baal. And they caused their sons and their daughters to pass through the fire, and used divinations and auspices, and sold themselves to work wickedness in the sight of the Lord, to provoke him.

And the Lord was very angry with Israel, and removed them out of his sight; and there was only left the tribe of Judah quite alone. Nay even Judah kept not the commandments of the Lord their God, but they walked according to the customs of Israel which they practised, and rejected the Lord.

And the Lord was angry with the whole seed of Israel, and troubled them, and gave them into the hand of that spoiled them, until he cast them out of his presence. For so much as Israel revolted from the house of David, and they made Jeroboam the son of Nabat king; and Jeroboam drew off Israel from following the Lord, and led them to sin a great sin. And the children of Israel walked in all the sin of Jeroboam which he committed; they departed not from it, until the Lord removed Israel from his presence, as the Lord spoke by his servants the prophets; and Israel was removed from off their land to the Assyrians until this day.

And Israel served Baalim and worshiped the young gods, and they sacrificed and offered sacrifices to them. And they provoked the Lord to anger in the work which they had done, even in their goings about; and they served idols, after which their fathers had served in the land of Egypt, and afterward they served foreign gods. And the Lord was angry with Jacob, and was provoked against Israel, and he went up to Mount Sinai, to the top of a high mountain, to speak to him. And the Lord said to Moses, I have seen this people, and behold, it is a stiffnecked people. Now therefore, let me alone, that my wrath may burn against them, and that I may consume them: and I will make of you a mighty nation greater and stronger than they. But Moses said to the Lord, See, the people which thou didst send to be thy witnesses, and on whom thou didst make known thy great name, they have seen thy glory, that thou didst hear their cry, and savieth the plagues which thou didst do to Egypt, and knowest, O Lord, the sufferings of this people. And hast seen that which thou didst do to Pharaoh, and to his servants, and to his land, and hast brought up this people before thee as a holy nation out of the midst of the land; and thou also, Lord, hadst made thyself a name, as when thou didst stretch forth thine hand against Egypt, and broughtst forth my people out of the land of Egypt. And hereby thou shewest that thou mayest be known to the sons of Israel, and that I may raise thee up a name to be feared in the sight of all the nations upon earth. And thou hast seen what thou didst to the Egyptians, and what thou didst to their gods, how thou didst to the river Nile, and how thou didst cast all their gods into the river Nile. And thou didst bring up this people from the midst of the sea, as a prophet bringeth up a nation from the midst of the sea. And thou didst perform great things, so that thou madest a name for thyself before me; and didst not hear their cry and their weeping, and didst stretch forth thy hand against them, and didst save them out of the hand of the Egyptians. And thou didst bring them into this good land, which thou madest for thyself. And I have walked among them in forty years, and thou wast not angry with their voice, nor didst thou give ear to the words of their mouth. I have done nothing to this people but they have provoked me to anger with the work which they have done, and have made me angry with their images. Therefore I will make of them, and thou shalt see my power, and thou shalt know that I am the Lord. And they did provoke me at Horeb, where thou hast said to me, Come not near to me. When thou provokest me to anger, I would have smitten them with the sword, and would have destroyed them in the land of Canaan, and in the land of Egypt. But I was grieved with Israel, and I tempted them, and they provoked me to anger with their images, and I would have destroyed them. I would have smitten them with the sword, and would not have given them a place in this land, in the land of Canaan, because of the unsubduedness of their hearts and from their evil disposition. And I spake to thee, saying, I will not go up with thee, and I will not make thy name more great, therefore thou shalt not bring this people into this good land which thou hast given us. And if thou go with me, thou shalt see the good land which I have given to the sons of Israel. And thou didst not hearken to the voice of the Lord thy God. Now therefore, take your staff, and turn, I command you, before the eyes of the people, and go, lead this people toward the special holy place, and come up to the mount, and make me a sanctuary; and I will be worshipped in the midst of the people of Israel, and will be seen in thine eyes. And then they shall say to thy people, Lord doth make a place for me in his holy place, and he will see my eyes in his holy place. And so I will bless him in the sight of all the people of Israel, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

And it came to pass when Pharaoh had let the people go, that God did not lead them by the way of the land of the Philistines, as he had said to Moses; for the Philistines would have come to the battle, and God would have delivered them into the hand of the Egyptians. And he led them by the way of the desert, and the east side of the wilderness. And they compassed the wilderness of Zin, and the wilderness which is in the way to go from Seir. And the children of Israel journeyed from Kadesh, and pitched in Mount Hor. At that time the Lord spake to Moses and to Aaron, saying, This is that place where you shall offer the sacrifices to me: there shall I offer my sacrifices before my sanctuary, and there I will be worshipped in thine eyes, and thine eyes I have given as a sanctuary before the eyes of all the people of Israel. And it came to pass on the morn after the departure of the children of Israel from Mount Hor, that the Lord spake to Moses, saying, Come up, ye and Aaron my servant, at Mount Hor into the land of Canaan, and go your way, and I will give your necks there, and you shall fall, and Aaron your brother shall not come into the sepulcher of the sons of Israel, for he committed a trespass on my holy thing; and Aaron died there in the first month, on the first day of the morn, and was gathered to his people. And Moses and Aaron went up into Mount Hor by the command of the Lord, and stood there before the Lord, and Moses gathered Aaron's horns, and burned incense, and offered sacrifices on the altar, and Moses and Aaron did as the Lord had spoken to Moses.

And the Lord spake to Moses and Aaron in the mount of Hor, saying, This is that ye shall speak unto the sons of Israel, saying, The Lord will give every man to his two closest relations, and to his nearest father's brother, that he may set up his name in his father's stead, and that his name may not be cut off from the sons of Israel. And if a man have no children, or if he have no brother, then shall his nearest father's brother take his name, and shall set up his name in his father's stead, and he shall continue in the possession of his father's house, to inherit the possession of his father. And if the nearest father's brother be not willing to set up the name of his father's house, then shall his brother's son set up his name in his father's stead, and shall continue in the possession of his father's house, to inherit the possession of his father's house. And if there be no brother of the dead, then shall his brother's son set up his name in his father's stead, and shall continue in the possession of his father's house, to inherit the possession of his father's house, and his brother's son shall set up his name in his father's stead, and shall continue in the possession of his father's house. And if a man have no children, or if he have no brother, then shall his nearest father's brother take his name, and shall set up his name in his father's stead, and shall continue in the possession of his father's house, to inherit the possession of his father's house. And if the nearest father's brother be not willing to set up the name of his father's house, then shall his brother's son set up his name in his father's stead, and shall continue in the possession of his father's house, to inherit the possession of his father's house, and his brother's son shall set up his name in his father's stead, and shall continue in the possession of his father's house. And if there be no brother of the dead, then shall his brother's son set up his name in his father's stead, and shall continue in the possession of his father's house, to inherit the possession of his father's house, and his brother's son shall set up his name in his father's stead, and shall continue in the possession of his father's house.
24 And the king of Assyria brought from Babylon the men of Chusda, and men from Ais, and from Æmath, and Sepharvaim, and they were settled in the cities of Samaria, in the place of the children of Israel: and they inherited Samaria, and were settled in its cities. 25 And it was so at the beginning of their establishment there that they feared not the Lord, and the Lord sent lions among them, and they slew some of them. 26 And they spoke to the king of the Assyrians, saying, The nations whom thou hast removed and substituted in the cities of Samaria for the Israelites, know not β the manner of the God of the land: and he has sent the lions against them, and, behold, they are slaying them, because they know not the manner of the God of the land. 27 And the king of the Assyrians commanded, saying, Bring some Israelites thence, and let them go and dwell there, and they shall teach them the manner of the God of the land. 28 And they brought one of the priests whom they had removed from Samaria, and he settled in Bethel, and taught them how they should fear the Lord.

29 But the nations made each their own gods, and put them in the house of the high places which the Samaritans had made, each nation in the cities in which they dwelt. 30 And the men of Babylon made Sochoth Beinh, and the men of Hamach made Æmath. 31 And the Evites made Eblezer and Tharthac, and the inhabitant of Sepharvaim did evil when they burnt their sons in the fire to Adramelech and Anemelech, the gods of Sepharvaim. 32 And they feared the Lord, yet they established their abominations in the high places of which they made in Samaria, each nation in the city in which they dwelt: and they feared the Lord, and they made for themselves priests of the high places, and sacrificed for themselves in the house of the high places. 33 And they feared the Lord, and served their gods according to the manner of the nations, whence their lords brought them. 34 Until this day they did according to the law, and they did according to their customs, and according to the manner of the law, and according to the commandment which the Lord commanded the sons of Jacob, whose name he made Israel. 35 And the Lord made a covenant with them, and charged them, saying, Ye shall not fear other gods, neither shall ye worship them, nor serve them, nor sacrifice to them: 36 but only to the Lord, who brought you up out of the land of Egypt with great strength and with a high arm: him shall ye fear, and him shall ye worship; to him shall ye sacrifice. 37 Ye shall observe continually the ordinances, and the judgments, and the law, and the commandments which he wrote for you; and ye shall not fear other gods. 38 Neither shall ye forget the covenant which he made with you: and ye shall not fear other gods. 39 But ye shall fear the Lord your God, and he shall deliver you from all your enemies.
And it came to pass in the third year of Osee son of Ela king of Israel that Ezekias son of Achaz king of Juda began to reign.

Five and twenty years old was he when he began to reign, and he reigned twenty and nine years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Abu, daughter of Zacharias. And he did that which was right in the sight of the Lord, according to all that his father David did. He removed the high places, and broke in pieces the pillars, and utterly destroyed the groves, and the brazen serpent which Moses made: because until those days the children of Israel burnt incense to it: and he called it Neethan.

He trusted in the Lord God of Israel; and after him there was not any like him among the kings of Juda, nor among those that were before him. And he clave not to the Lord, but departed from the commandment of the Lord his God, and kept not the commandments Moses his father had commanded him.

And the Lord was with him; and he was wise in all that he undertook: and he revolted from the king of the Assyrians, and served him not. So he smote the Philistines even Gaza, and to the border of it, from the tower of the watchmen even to the strong city.

And it came to pass in the fourth year of king Ezekias (this is the seventh year of Osee son of Ela king of Israel) that Salamanassar king of the Assyrians came up against Samaria, and besieged it. And he took it at the end of three years. In the sixth year of Ezekias (this is the ninth year of Osee son of Ela king of Israel, when Samaria was taken.) And the king of the Assyrians carried away the Samaritans to Assyria, and put them in Alae and in Abor, by the river Gozan, and in the mountains of the Medes: because they hearkened not to the voice of the Lord their God, and transgressed his covenant, even in all things that Moses the servant of the Lord commanded, and hearkened not to them, nor did them.

And in the fourteenth year of king Ezekias came up Sennacherim king of the Assyrians against the strong cities of Juda, and took them. And Ezekias king of Juda sent messengers to the king of the Assyrians to Lachis, saying, I have offended; depart from me: whatsoever thou shalt lay upon me, I will bear. And the king of Assyria laid upon Ezekias king of Juda a tribute of three hundred talents of silver, and thirty talents of gold.

And Ezekias gave all the silver that was found in the house of the Lord, and in the treasures of the king's house. At that time Ezekias cut off the gold from the doors of the temple, and from the pillars which Ezekias king of Juda had overlaid with gold, and gave it to the king of the Assyrians.

And the king of the Assyrians sent Rabthan and Raphis and Rapsakes from Lachis to king Ezekias with a strong force.

against Jerusalem. And they went up and came to Jerusalem, and stood by the aqueduct of the upper pool, which is by the way of the fuller's field. 15 And they cried to Ezekias: and there came to him Heliakim the son of Cheleias the steward, and Somnas the scribe, and Joas the son of Saphat the recorder.

16 And Rapsakes said to them, Say now to Ezekias, Thus saith the king, the great king of the Assyrians, What is this confidence wherein thou trustest? 17 Thou hast said, (but they are mere words,) I have counsel and strength for war. Now then y'inn whom dost thou trust, that thou hast revolted from me? 21 See now, art thou trusting for thyself on this broken staff of reed, even upon Egypt? whose high places and altars Ezekias has removed, and has said to Juda and Jerusalem, Ye shall worship before this altar in Jerusalem? 22 And now, I pray you, make a covenant with the king of the Assyrians, and I will give thee two thousand horses, if thou shalt be able on thy part to set riders upon them.

23 How then wilt thou turn away the face of one of the petty governors from among the least of my servants? whereas thou trustest for thyself on Egypt for chariots and horsemen.

24 And now how wilt thou, against the Lord against this place to destroy it? The Lord said to me, Go up against this land, and destroy it.

25 And Heliakim the son of Chelkias, and Somnas, and Joas, said to Rapsakes, Speak now to thy servants in the Syrian language, for we understand it; and speak not with us in the Jewish language: and why dost thou speak in the ears that are not? 27 And Rapsakes said to them, Has my master sent me to thy master, and to thee, to speak these words? has he not sent me to the men who sit on the wall, that they may eat their own dung, and drink their own water together with you?

28 And Rapsakes stood, and cried with a loud voice in the Jewish language, and spoke, and said, Hear the words of the great king of the Assyrians: 29 thus says the king, Let not Ezekias encourage you with words: for he shall not be able to deliver you out of his hand. 30 And let not Ezekias cause you to trust on the Lord, saying, The Lord will certainly deliver us; this city shall not be delivered into the hand of the king of the Assyrians: hearken not to Ezekias. 31 Thus saith the king, Thus saith the king of the Assyrians: Gain my favour, and come forth to me, and every man shall drink of the wine of his own vine, and every man shall eat of his own fig-tree, and shall drink water out of his own cistern. 32 until I come and remove you to a land like your own land, a land of corn and wine, and bread and vineyards, a land of olive oil and honey, and ye shall live and not die: and do not ye hearken to Ezekias, for he deceives you, saying, The Lord shall... deliver you. 31 Have the gods of the nations at all delivered each their own land out of the hand of the king of the Assyrians? 32 Where is the god of Hamath, and of Arphad? where is the god of Sepharvaim, Ana, and Ahab? for have they delivered Samaria out of my hand? 33 Who is there among all the gods of the countries, who have delivered their countries out of my hand? said the Lord: the earth shall deliver Jerusalem out of my hand?

36 But the men were silent, and answered him not a word; for there was a commandment of the king, saying, Ye shall not answer him. 37 And Heliakim the son of Chelicias, the steward, and Somnas the scribe, and Joas the son of Saphat the recorder came in to Ezekias, having rent their garments; and they reported to him the words of Rapsakes.

And it came to pass when king Ezekias heard it, that he rent his clothes, and put on sackcloth, and went into the house of the Lord. 2 And he sent Heliakim the steward, and Somnas the scribe, and the elders of the priests, with the word of the Lord, to Esaias the prophet the son of Amos. 3 And they said to him, Thus says Ezekias, This day is a day of tribulation, and rebuke, and provocation: for the children are come to the travail-pangs, but the mother has no strength. 4 Peradventure the Lord thy God will hear all the words of Rapsakes, whom the king of Assyria his master has sent to reproach the living God and to revile him with the words which the Lord thy God has heard: and thou shalt suffer thy prayer for the remnant that is found.

4 So the servants of king Ezekias came to Esaias. And Esaias said to them, Thus shall ye say to your master, Thus saith the Lord, Be not afraid of the words which thou hast heard, wherewith the servants of the king of the Assyrians have blasphemed.

Behold, I send a blast upon him, and he shall hear a report, and shall return to his own land; and I will overthrow him with the sword of his own land.

So Rapsakes returned, and found the king of Assyria warring against Lobsa: for he heard that he had departed from Lachis.

And he heard concerning Tharaka king of the Ethiopians, saying, Behold, he is come forth to fight with thee: and he returned, and sent messengers to Ezekias, saying, 10 Let not thy God on whom thou trustest encourage thee, saying, Jerusalem shall not be delivered into the hands of the king of the Assyrians. 11 Behold, thou hast heard all that the kings of the Assyrians have done in all the lands, to have wasted them utterly; and shalt thou be delivered? 12 Have the gods of the nations at all delivered them, whom my fathers destroyed, both Gozan, and Charran, and Raphis, and the sons of Edom who were in Taetheseth? 13 Where is the king of Hamath, and the king of Arphad? and where is the king of the city of Sepharvaim, of Ana, and Ahab?

And Ezekias took the letter from the hand of the messengers, and read it; and he went up to the house of the Lord, and Ezekias spread it before the Lord, and 20 And I spake to the Lord, saying, I have heard, O Lord God, I have heard: let thine enemies be confounded, and let thine enemies be shortened: and let them know that this is thine ample God.

21 Thus saith the Lord; As I live, even what thy eyes see, I will do unto all the people of Jerusalem, and to all the nations that came against Jerusalem for evil.

22 And the Assyrians shall be a servant unto thee, and shall serve thee: and I will give thee their gods, and the spoils of their king; and in the temple and in the king's house shalt thou Worke them, and shalt possess the land, and dwell therein.

23 For I will turn in mercy with them, and will cause you to rejoice, O sons of Jacob: again will I make you to dwell in tents as in the days of old, and again will I have mercy upon you; yea, will I do better unto you than at the first, saith the Lord: and again will I make you to dwell in the land, and inherit the spoils.

24 Then spake I unto the Lord, saying, What shall I answer this people, which speak such things? and what shall I say unto them, when they shall say unto me, The gods of the nations, which thou hast destroyed, cried unto their gods, but there was none that delivered them? But I said, None, for their gods have none power, to deliver themselves; neither will any deliver him.

25 Therefore say, Thus saith the Lord; I will give them, and the children of the nations, whom they shall not be able to hurt or destroy, to eat, and to drink, and to build, and to plant; and they shall be therein for ever, with my servant Jacob.

26 For the Lord hath spoken it: I am the Lord of hosts; in the midst of all the people shall be my glorious temple, saith the Lord of hosts, for it shall be for a glory, and for a praise, and for an everlasting foundation, even of an everlasting name, which shall not be cut off.
there, neither shall he have a shield against it, neither shall he be hewn a mound against it. 22 By the way which he comes, by it shall he return, and he shall not enter into this city, saith the Lord. 23 And I will defend this city as with a shield, for my own sake, and for my servant David's sake.

24 And it came to pass at night that the angel of the Lord went forth, and smote in the camp of the Assyrians a hundred and eighty-five thousand: and they rose early in the morning, and, behold, these were all dead corpses. 25 And Sennacherim king of the Assyrians departed, and went and returned, and dwelt in Nineve.

And it came to pass, while he was worshipping in the house of the living God, that Adrammelech and Sarasar his sons smote him with the sword: and they escaped into the land of Arrarath; and Asordan his son reigned in his stead.

In those days was Ezekias sick even to death. And the prophet Esaias the son of Amos came in to him, and said to him, Thus saith the Lord, Give charge to thy household: for thou shalt die, and not live. 2 And Esaias turned to the wall, and prayed to the Lord, saying, 3 Lord, remember, I pray thee, how I have walked before thee in truth and in a perfect heart, and have done that which is good in thine eyes. And Esaias wept with a great weeping.

4 And Esaias was in the middle court, and the word of the Lord came to him, saying, 5 Turn back, and thou shalt say to Esaias, the ruler of my people, Thus saith the Lord God of thy father David, I have heard thy prayer, I have seen thy tears: behold, I will heal thee: on the third day thou shalt go up to the house of the Lord. 6 And I will add to thy days fifteen years; and I will deliver thee and this city out of the hand of the king of the Assyrians, and I will defend this city for my own sake, and for my servant David's sake. 7 And he said, Let them take a cake of figs, and lay it upon the ulcer, and he shall be well. 8 And Esaias said to Esaias, Go, and say to Esaias, Thus saith the Lord, the Lord will heal thee, and I shall go up to the house of the Lord on the third day. 9 And Esaias said, This is the sign from the Lord, that the Lord will perform the word which he has spoken, the shadow of the dial shall advance ten degrees: or if it should go back ten degrees, this would also be the sign. 10 And Esaias said, It is a light thing for the shadow to go down ten degrees: nay, but let the shadow return ten degrees backward on the dial. 11 And Esaias the prophet cried to the Lord; and the shadow returned back ten degrees on the dial.

12 At that time Marodach Baladan, son of Baladan king of Babylon, sent letters and a present to Ezekias, because he had heard that Ezekias was sick. 13 And Ezekias rejoiced at them, and showed all the house of his spices, the silver and the gold, the spices, and the fine oil, and the armoury, and all that was found in his treasures: there was nothing which Ezekias did not shew them in his house, and in all his dominion.
And Esias the prophet went in to king Ezekias, and said to him, What said these men? and whence came they to thee? And Ezekias said, They came to me from a distant land, even from Babylon. And he said, What saw they in thy house? And he said, They said, They saw all things that are in my house: there was nothing in my house which I shewed not to them; yea, all that was in my treasures also. And Esias said to Ezekias, Hear the word of the Lord: Behold, the days come, that all things that are in thy house shall be taken, and all that thy fathers have treasured up until this day. Moreover, I will turn again the captivity of Erastus, the enemy shall take them, and they shall be exchanges in the house of the king of Babylon. And Ezekias said to Esias, Good is the word of the Lord which he has spoken: only let there be peace in my days. And the rest of the acts of Ezekias, and all his might, and all that he made, the fountain and the aqueduct, and how he brought water into the city, are not these things written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Juda? And Ezekias slept with his fathers: and Manasses his son reigned in his stead.

Manasses was twelve years old when he began to reign, and he reigned fifty-five years in Jerusalem: and his mother’s name was Asipsa. And he did that which was evil in the eyes of the Lord, according to the abominations of the nations which the Lord cast out from before the children of Israel. And he built again the high places, which Ezekias his father had demolished; and set up an altar to Baal, and made groves as Achaab king of Israel made them; and worshipped all the host of heaven, and served them. And he built an altar in the house of the Lord, whereas he had said, In Jerusalem I will place my name. And he built an altar to all the host of heaven at the two courts of the house of the Lord. And he caused the priests to pass through the fire, and used divination and auspices, and made groves, and multiplied wizards, so as to do that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, to provoke him to anger. And he set up the graven image of the grove in the house of which the Lord said to David, and to Solomon his son, In this house, and in Jerusalem which I have chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, will I even place my name for ever. And I will not again remove the foot of Israel from the land which I gave to their fathers, even of those who shall keep all that I commanded, according to all the commandments which my servant Moses commanded them. But it hearkened not; and Manasses led them astray evil in the sight of the Lord, beyond the nations whom the Lord utterly destroyed from before the children of Israel.

And the Lord spake by his servants the prophets, saying, Forasmuch as Manasses the king of Juda has wrought all these evil...
abominations, beyond all that the Amorite did, who lived before him, and has led Judah also into sin by their idols. It shall not be so. Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Behold, I bring calamities upon Jerusalem and Judah, that both the ears of every one that hears shall be tingle. And I will stretch out over Jerusalem the measure of Samaria, and the plummet of the house of Achaab; and I will wipe Jerusalem as a jar is wiped, and turned upside down in the wiping. And I will bring the remnant of my inheritance, and will deliver them into the hands of their enemies; and they shall be for a plunder and for a spoil to all their enemies: forasmuch as they have come wickedly in my sight, and have provoked me from the day that I brought out their fathers out of Egypt, even until this day.

Moreover Manasses shed very much innocent blood, until he filled Jerusalem with it from one end to the other, beside his sins with which he caused Juda to sin, in doing evil in the eyes of the Lord.

And the rest of the acts of Manasses, and all that he did, and his sin which he sinned, are not these written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Juda? And Manasses slept with his fathers, and was buried in the garden of his house, even in the garden of Oza; and Amos his son reigned in his stead.

And the rest of the acts of Amos, even all that he did, behold, are not these written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Juda? And they buried him in his tomb in the garden of Oza; and Josias his son reigned in his stead.

Josias was eight years old when he began to reign, and he reigned thirty one years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Mezolam, daughter of Asa of Jeteba. And he did that which was right in the sight of the Lord, as Manasses his father did. And he walked in all the way in which his father walked, and served the idols which his father served, and worshipped them. And he forsook the Lord God of his fathers, and walked not in the way of the Lord. And the servants of Amos conspired against him, and slew the king in his house. And the people of the land slew all that had conspired against king Amos; and the people of the land made Josias his son king in his room.

And the rest of the acts of Josias, even all that he did, behold, are not these written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Juda? And Josias reigned one and twenty years in Jerusalem.

And this Josias was eight years old when he began to reign, and he reigned thirty and two years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Jedia, daughter of Edeia of Baabroth. And he did that which was right in the sight of the Lord, and walked in all the way of David his father; he turned not aside to the right hand or to the left.

And it came to pass in the eighteenth year of king Josias, in the eighth month, the king sent Sapphan the son of Ezechias the son of Mesolam, the scribe of the house of the Lord, saying, Go up to Chelcias the high priest, and take account of the money
And the Lord gave it into the hands of the workmen of the Lord, by the power of the Lord. And he gave it to the workmen of the house of the Lord, to repair the breaches of the house, even to the carpenters, and builders, and masons, and also to purchase timber and hewn stones, to repair the breaches of the house. Only they did not call them to account for the money that was given to them, because they dealt faithfully.

And Chelcias the high priest said to Sapphan the scribe, I have found the book of the law in the house of the Lord. And Chelcias gave the book to Sapphan, and he read it. And he went into the house of the Lord to the king, and reported the matter to the king, and said, Thy servants have collected the money that was found in the house of the Lord, and have given it into the hand of the workmen that are appointed in the house of the Lord. And Sapphan the scribe spoke to the king, saying, Chelcias the priest has given me a book. And Sapphan read it before the king. And it came to pass, when the king heard the words of the book of the law, that he rent his garments. And the king commanded Chelcias the priest, and Achikam the son of Sapphan, and Achbor the son of Michaias, and Sapphan the scribe, and Asaias the king's servant, saying, Go, enquire of the Lord for me, and for all the people, and for all Juda, and concerning the words of this book that has been found; for the wrath of the Lord that has been kindled against us is great, because our fathers have not hearkened to the words of this book, to do according to all the things written concerning us.

So Chelcias the priest went, and Achikam, and Achbor, and Sapphan, and Asaias, to Olda the prophetess, the mother of Sellem the son of Thecuan son of Aras, keeper of the robes; and she dwelt in Jerusalem in Massene; and they spoke to her.

And she said to them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Say to the man that sent you to me, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I bring evil upon this place, and upon them that dwell in it, even all the words of the book which the king of Juda has read: because your fathers have not hearkened to the words of other gods, that they might provoke me with the works of their hands; therefore my wrath shall burn forth against this place, and shall not be quenched.

And to the king of Juda that sent you to enquire of the Lord,—thus shall ye say to him, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, As for the words that the king hath heard, and burnt incense to other gods, that they might provoke me with the works of their hands: therefore my wrath shall burn forth against this place, and shall not be quenched.

And to the king of Juda that sent you to enquire of the Lord,—thus shall ye say to him, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, As for the words that the king hath heard, and burnt incense to other gods, that they might provoke me with the works of their hands: therefore my wrath shall burn forth against this place, and shall not be quenched.

And to the king of Juda that sent you to enquire of the Lord,—thus shall ye say to him, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, As for the words that the king hath heard, and burnt incense to other gods, that they might provoke me with the works of their hands: therefore my wrath shall burn forth against this place, and shall not be quenched.
thy tomb in peace, and thine eyes shall not see any among all the evils which I bring upon this place.

So they reported the word to the king; and the king sent and gathered all the elders of Judah and Jerusalem to himself. 2 And the king went up to the house of the Lord, and every man of Judah and all who dwelt in Jerusalem with him, and the priests, and the prophets, and all the people small and great; and he read in their ears all the words of the book of the covenant that was found in the house of the Lord. 3 And the king stood by a pillar, and made a covenant before the Lord, to walk after the Lord, to keep his commandments and his testimonies and his ordinances with all his heart and with all the soul, to confirm the words of this covenant; even the things written in this book. And all the people stood to the covenant.

And the king commanded Shechias, the high priest, and the priests of the second order, and them that kept the door, to bring out of the temple of the Lord all the vessels that were made for Baal, and for the grove, and all the host of heaven, and he burned them without Jerusalem in the fields of Kidron, and the ashes of them to Bethel. 5 And he burned the idolatrous priests, whom the kings of Judah had appointed, (and they burned incense in the high places and in the cities of Judah, and the places round about Jerusalem); and them that burned incense to Baal, and to the sun, and to the moon, and to Mazzroth, and to all the host of heaven.

And he carried out the grove from the house of the Lord to the brook Kidron, and burned it at the brook Kidron, and reduced it to powder, and cast its powder to the sepulchres of the sons of the people. 7 And he pulled down the house of the sodomites that were by the house of the Lord, where the women wove tent for the grove. 8 And he brought up all the priests from the cities of Judah, and defiled the high places where the priests burned incense, from Gebal even to Bersabee; and he pulled down the house of the gates that was by the door of the gate of Joshua the ruler of the city, on the left hand at the gate of the city. 9 Only the priests of the high places went not up to the altar of the Lord in Jerusalem, for they only ate leavened bread in the midst of their brethren. 10 And he defiled Tapheth which is in the valley of the son of Ennom, constructed for a man to cause his son or his daughter to pass through fire to Moloch. 11 And he burnt the horses which the kings of Judah had given to the sun in the entrance of the house of the Lord, by the treasury of Nathan the eunuch, in the suburbs; and he burned the chariot of the sun with fire. 12 And the altars that were on the roof of the upper chamber of Achariach, which the kings of Judah had made, and the altars which Manasses had made in the two courts of the house of the Lord, did the king pull down and forcibly remove from thence, and cast their dust into the eirine, and oie of them were taken by the Lord, and none of them were found for seven years. 23 And if any man said, Lo, behold, the fire of the Lord! And if any man said, Lo, behold, the chariot of the Lord! Then they shall answer and say, Where is it? Is it not within you?'

IV. Kings XXIII. 13—27.

And the king defiled the house that was before Jerusalem, on the right hand of the mount of Mosheth, which Solomon king of Israel built to Ashtar the abomination of the Sidonians, and to Chamos the abomination of Moab, and to Moloch the abomination of the children of Ammon. And he broke in pieces the pillars, and utterly destroyed the groves, and filled their places with the bones of men.

And the high altar in Baethel, which Jeroboam the son of Nabat, who made Israel to sin, had made, even that high altar he tore down, and broke in pieces the stones of it, and reduced it to powder, and burnt the grove.

And Josias turned aside, and saw the tombs that were there in the city, and sent, and took the bones out of the tombs, and burnt them on the altar, and defiled it, according to the word of the Lord which the man of God spoke, when Jeroboam stood by the altar at the feast: and he turned and raised his eyes to the tomb of the man of God that spoke these words. And he said, What is that mound which I see? And the men of the city said to him, It is the grave of the man of God that came out of Juda, and uttered these imprecations which he imprecated upon the altar of Baethel. And he said, Let him alone; lest no one disturb his bones. So his bones were not disturbed, together with the bones of the prophet that came out of Samaria.

Moreover Josias removed all the houses of the high places that were in the cities of Samaria, which the kings of Israel made to provoke the Lord, and did to them all that he did in Baethel. And he sacrificed all the priests of the high places that were there on the altars, and burnt the bones of men upon them, and returned to Jerusalem.

And the king commanded all the people, saying, Keep the passover to the Lord your God, as it is written in the book of this covenant. For a passover such as this had not been kept from the days of the judges which judged Israel, even all the days of the kings of Israel, and of the kings of Juda. But in the eighteenth year of king Josias, was the passover kept to the Lord in Jerusalem.

Moreover Josias removed the sorcerers, and the wizards, and the therapini, and the idols, and all the abominations that had been set up in the land of Juda and in Jerusalem, that he might keep the words of the law that were written in the book, which Chelias the priest found in the house of the Lord. There was no king like him before him, who turned to the Lord with all his heart, and with all his soul, and with all his strength, according to all the law of Moses; and after him there rose not one like him. Nevertheless the Lord turned not from the fierceness of his great anger, wherewith he was wroth in his anger against Juda, because of the provocations, wherewith Manasses provoked him. And the Lord said, I will also remove Judah from my presence, as I removed Israel, and will reject this city which I have chosen, even Jerusalem, and the house of which I said, My name shall be there. 38 And the rest of the acts of Josias, and all that he did, are not these things written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

And in his days went up Pharaoh Nechoh king of Egypt against the king of the Assyrians to the river Euphrates: and Josias went out to meet him: and Nechoh slew him in Megiddo when he saw him. 39 And his servants carried him dead from Megiddo, and buried him in his sepulchre; and the people of the land took Joachaz, the son of Josias, and anointed him, and made him king in the room of his father.

Twenty and three years old was Joachaz when he began to reign, and he reigned three months in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Jelaphah, daughter of Phachail of Ruma. 40 And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, according to all that his fathers did. 41 And Pharaoh Nechoh removed him to Babylon, and put over the land Eliakim son of Josias king of Judah over them in the place of his father Josias, and he changed his name to Joakim, and he took Joachaz and brought him to Egypt, and he died there. And Joakim gave the silver and the gold to Pharaoh; but he assessed the land of the south and the north, and of the land of Ephraim, and gave money to Pharaoh:

And when Pharaoh saw that he had prospered in the land of Egypt, he said to him, The land of Egypt shall not be enough for you to dwell, for you shall dwell in the land of Asshur. 42 And he gave him a present of silver and of gold and of clothing, and of horses, and of mules, and of asses, and of camels, and of men. 43 And Joakim gave them all, and said to them, Go, return to the king of Babylon, and carry him these words. 44 And I have done evil in thy sight, and have made a covenant with the kings of the Amorites, to give me their land: and my heart has so dealt with me; and I have turned myself back in this manner. 45 Now therefore, I beseech thee, let not the king of Babylon any longer hurt the inhabitants of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, lest my name be blotted out from the earth. 46 And the king of Babylon made them return to Jerusalem.
the king of Egypt came no more out of his land: for the king of Babylon took away all that belonged to the king of Egypt from the river of Egypt as far as the river Euphrates. 8

And Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon came against the city, and his servants besieged it. And Joachim king of Juda came forth to the king of Babylon, he and his servants, and his mother, and his princes, and his eunuchs; and the king of Babylon took him in the eighth year of his reign. And he brought forth thence all the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the king's house, and he cut all the golden vessels which Solomon the king of Israel had made in the temple of the Lord, according to the word of the Lord. And he carried away the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and all the captains, and the mighty men, taking captive ten thousand prisoners, and every artificer and smith: and only the poor of the land were left. And he brought Joachim away to Babylon, and the king's mother, and the king's wives, and his eunuchs, and he carried away the mighty men of the land into captivity from Jerusalem to Babylon. And all the men of might, even seven thousand, and one thousand artificers and smiths: all were mighty men fit for war; and the king of Babylon carried them captive to Babylon. And the king of Babylon made a Batthanias his son king in his stead, and called his name Sedekias. 19

Twenty and one years old was Sedekias when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem; and his mother's name was Amital, daughter of Jeremias. And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, according to all that Joachim did. For it was according to the Lord's anger against Jerusalem and on Juda, until he cast them out of his presence, that Sedekias revolted against the king of Babylon. And it came to pass in the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, that Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon came, and all his host, against Jerusalem: and he encamped against it, and built a mound against it. And the city was besieged until the eleventh year of king Sedekias on the ninth day of the month. And the famine prevailed in the city, and there was no bread for the people of the land. And the city was broken up, and all the men of war went forth by night, by the way of the gate between the walls, this is the gate of the king's garden: and the Chaldeans were set against the city round about: and the king... went by the way of β the plain. 5 And the force of the Chaldeans pursued the king, and overtook him in the plains of Jericho: and all his army was dispersed from about him. 6 And they took the king, and brought him to the king of Babylon to Reblatha; and he gave judgment upon him. 7 And he slew the sons of Sedeckias before his eyes, and put out the eyes of Sedeckias, and bound him in fetters, and brought him to Babylon.

8 And in the fifth month, on the seventh day of the month (this is the nineteenth year of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon), came Nabuzardan, γ captain of the guard, who stood before the king of Babylon, to Jerusalem. 9 And he burnt the house of the Lord, and the king's house, and all the houses of Jerusalem, even every house did the captain of the guard burn. 10 And the force of the Chaldeans pulled down the wall of Jerusalem round about. 11 And Nabuzardan the captain of the guard removed the rest of the people that were left in the city, and the 4 men who had deserted to the king of Babylon, and the rest of the multitude.

12 But the captain of the guard left of the poor of the land to be vine-dressers and husbandmen.

13 And the Chaldeans broke to pieces the brazen pillars that were in the house of the Lord, and the bases, and the brazen sea that was in the house of the Lord, and carried their brass to Babylon. 14 And the caldrons, and the shovels, and the bowls, and the censers, and all the brazen vessels with which he ministered, he took. 15 And the captain of the guard took the firepans, and the gold bowls.

16 Two pillars, and one sea, and the bases which Solomon made for the house of the Lord: there was no weight of the brass of all the vessels. 17 The height of one pillar was eighteen cubits, and the chapiter upon it was of brass: and the height of the chapiter was three cubits: the border round about was knifed after the manner of the base, and the base was round about all of brass: and so was it with the second pillar with its border.

18 And the captain of the guard took Sennias the 5 high-priest, and Sophonias the 6 second in order, and the three doorkeepers. 19 And they took out of the city one eunuch who was commander of the men of war, and five men that saw the face of God, who were found in the city, and the secretary of the commander-in-chief, who took account of the people of the land, and sixty men of the people of the land that were found in the city. 20 And Nabuzardan the captain of the guard took them, and brought them to the king of Babylon to Reblatha. 21 And the king of Babylon smote them and slew them at Reblatha in the land of Amath. So Joda was carried away from his land.

22 And as for the people that were left in the land of Juda, whom Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon left, even over them he set Godolias son of Achicam son of Saphan. 23 And all the captains of the host, they and their men, heard that the king of Babylon had thus appointed Godolias, and they came to Godolias to Massephath, both Ismael the son of Nathaneias, and Jona son of Careth, and Saraias, son of Thanamath the Netophatite, and Jezonias son of a Machathite, they and their men. 24 And Godolias swore to them and their men, and said to them, Fear not the incursion of the Chaldeans; dwell in the land, and serve the king of Babylon, and it shall be well with you. 25 And it came to pass in the seventh month that Ismael son of Nathaneias son of Helisa, of the yseed royal, came, and ten men with him, and he smote Godolias, that he died, him and the Jews and the Chaldeans that were with him in Massephath. 26 And all the people, great and small rose up, they and the captains of the forces, and went into Egypt; because they were afraid of the Chaldeans.

And it came to pass in the thirty-seventh year of the carrying away of Joachim king of Juda, in the twelfth month, on the twenty-seventh day of the month, that Eviualmarodec king of Babylon in the first year of his reign lifted up the head of Joachim king of Juda, and brought him out of his prison-house. 28 And he spoke kindly to him, and set his throne above the thrones of the kings that were with him in Babylon; 29 and changed his prison garments: and he ate bread continually before him all the days of his life. 30 And his portion, a continual portion, was given him out of the house of the king, a daily rate for every day all the days of his life.

The sons of Ruben, the first-born of Israel: Enoch, and Phallus, and Hiatus, and the sons of Joel: Joel, Semel, and Bania his son: and the sons of Gug the son of Semei.

And his brethren in his family, in their distribution according to their generations; the chief, Joel, and Zacharias. And Balac the son of Azur, the son of Sama, the son of Joel: he dwelt in Aroer, and even to Naban, and Beelmanno. And he dwelt eastward to the borders of the wilderness, from the river Euphrates: for they had much cattle in the land of Gelaad. And in the days of Saul they made war upon the sojourners in the land; and they fell into their hands, all of them dwelling in their tents eastward of Gelaad.

The sons of Gad dwelt over against them in the land of Basan even to Sela. Joel the first-born, and Sapham the second, and Janin the scribe in Basan. And their brethren according to the houses of their fathers; Michael, Mosollam, and Sebee, and Joree, and Joachan, and Zue, and Obed, seven. These are the sons of Abiel.

And the son of U之后, the sons of Idai, the sons of Gelaad, the son of Michael, the son of Joel, the son of Jeddai, the son of Buz, who was the brother of the son of Abiel, the son of Guni, was chief of the house of their families. They dwelt in Gelaad, in Basan, and in their villages, and in all the country round about Saron to the 5 border. The enumeration of them all took place in the days of Joatham king of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam king of Israel.

The sons of Ruben and Gad, and the half-tribe of Manasse, of mighty men, bearing shields and sword, and bending the bow, and skilled in war, were forty and four thousand seven hundred and sixty, going forth to battle. And they made war with the Agarenis, and Itureans, and Naphisanes, and Nadaabes, and they fell upon them: and when they were given into their hands, they and all their tents: for they cried to God in the battle, and he hearkened to them, because they trusted on him. And they took captive their store: five thousand camels, and two hundred and fifty thousand sheep, and two thousand two hundred, and a hundred thousand men.

For many fell slain, because the war was of God. And they dwelt in their place until the captivity.

And the half-tribe of Manasse dwelt from Basan to Baal, Emeron, and Sanir, and to the mount Aermmon: and they increased in Libanus. And these were the heads of the houses of their families; Opher, and Sei, and Elifiel, and Jeremia, and Odeua, and Jediel, mighty men of valour, men of renown, heads of the houses of their families.

But they rebelled against the God of their fathers, and went a-whoring after the gods of the nations of the land, whom God was to be a ruler out of him: but the blessing was Joseph’s. The sons of Ruben the first-born of Israel: Enoch, and Phallus, and Hiatus, and the sons of Joel: Joel, Semel, and Bania his son: and the sons of Gug the son of Semei.

His son was Michah, his son Recha, his son Joel, his son Beel, whom Thaglia-phallasar king of Assyria carried away captive: he is the chief of the Rubenites.
And the God of Israel stirred up the spirit of Phaloch, king of Assyria, and the spirit of Thagal- phallasar king of Assyria, and carried away Ruben and Gadili, and the half-tribe of Manase, and brought them to Chaux, and to Chabor, and to the river Gozan, unto this day.

Eleazar begot Phinees, Phinees begot Abiua, Abiua begot Bokki, and Bokki begot Ozi; Ozi begat Zaraia, Zaraia begat Mariel; and Mariel begat Ameria, and Ameria begat Achitob; and Achitob begot Sadoc, and Sadoc begot Achimaas; and Achimaas begot Azarias, and Azarias begot Joanan, and Joanan begot Azarias: he ministered as priest in the house which was built in Jerusalem. And Azarias begat Ameria, and Ameria begat Achitob; and Achitob begot Sadoc, and Sadoc begot Salom; and Salom begot Chelia, and Chelia begot Azarias; and Azarias begat Sarai, and Sarai begat Josadac. And Josadac went into captivity with Judah and Jerusalem, under Nabuchodonosor.

The sons of Levi: Gedson, Caath, and Merari. And these are the names of the sons of Gedson: Lobeni, and Semel. The sons of Caath: Ambram, Chenem, and Issar, Chebron, and Ozil. The sons of Merari: Mooli, and Musi; and these are the families of Levi, according to their families. To Gedson—To Lobeni his son—were born Jeth his son, Zammath his son, Joab his son, Aditi his son, Zara his son, Jethri his son.

The sons of Caath: Aminadab his son, Core his son, Aser his son; Helcana his son, Abisaph his son, Aser his son; Thaath his son, Uriel his son, Ozia his son, Saul his son. And the sons of Helcana: Amessi, and Achimoth. Helcana his son, Suphi his son, Caimath his son; 27 Eliab his son, Jerobam his son, Helcana his son. The sons of Samuel: the first-born Sani, and Abiua; the sons of Merari: Mooli, Lobeni his son, Semel his son, Oza his son; Samma his son, Angin his son, Asias his son.

And these were the men whom David set over the service of the singers in the house of the Lord when the arks was at rest. And they ministered in front of the tabernacle of witness playing on instruments, until Solomon built the house of the Lord in Jerusalem; and they stood according to their order for their services.

And these were the men that stood, and their sons, of the sons of Caath: Azman the psalm singer, son of Joel, the son of Samuel, 34 the son of Helcana, the son of Jerobam, the son of Eliel, the son of Thona, 35 the son of Suph, the son of Helcana, the son of Maath, the son of Amat, 36 the son of Helcana, the son of Joel, the son of Azarias, the son of Japhamias, 37 the son of Thaath, the

55. And and the brethren according to the houses of their fathers, were the Levites who were appointed to all the work of ministration of the tabernacle of the house of God.

56. And Aaron and his sons were to burn incense on the altar of whole-burnt-offerings, and on the altar of incense, for all the ministry in the holy of holies, and to make atonement for Israel, according to all things that Moses the servant of the Lord commanded. 57. And these are the sons of Aaron; Eleazar his son, Phinees his son, Abishua his son, 58. and these are their residences in their villages, in their coasts, to the sons of Aaron, to their family the Caathites: for they had the lot. 59. And they gave them Chebron in the land of Juda, and its suburbs round about it. 60. But the fields of the city, and its villages, they gave to Caleb the son of Jephonne. 61. And to the sons of Aaron they gave the cities of refuge, even Chebron, and Lobna and her suburbs round about, and Selma and her suburbs, and Esthano and her suburbs, and Jeth and her suburbs, and Dabir and her suburbs, and Asan and her suburbs, and Mesias, and her suburbs and her suburbs: 62. and of the tribe of Benjamin, Gaba, and her suburbs, and Galemath and her suburbs, and Anathoth and her suburbs; all their cities were thirteen cities according to their families.

63. And to the sons of Caath that were left of their families, there were given out of the tribe, namely, out of the half-tribe of Manasse, by lot, ten cities. 64. And to the sons of Gedson according to their families there were given thirteen cities of the tribe of Issachar, of the tribe of Aser, of the tribe of Nephthali, of the tribe of Manasse in Basan. 65. And to the sons of Merari according to their families there were given, by lot, twelve cities of the tribe of Ruben, of the tribe of Gad, and by lot, ten cities. 66. And to the children of Israel gave to the Levites the cities and their suburbs. 67. And they gave by lot out of the tribe of the children of Juda, and out of the tribe of the children of Simeon, and out of the tribe of the children of Benjamin, these cities which they call by name. 68. And to the members of the families of the sons of Caath there were also given the cities of their borders out of the tribe of Ephraim. 57 And they gave them the cities of refuge, Sychem and her suburbs in mount Ephraim, and Gazer and her suburbs, 58 and Jezreel and her suburbs, and Bethoron and her suburbs, 59 and Elon and her suburbs, and Bethanmmon and her suburbs; 60 and of the tribe of Manasseh; Anan and her suburbs, and Demaalaan and her suburbs, to the sons of Caash that were left, according to each several family.

71 To the sons of Gedson from the families of the half-tribe of Manasse they gave Golan of Basan and her suburbs, and Aseroth and her suburbs. 72 And out of the tribe of Issachar, Kedes and her suburbs, and Deberi and her suburbs, and Dabor and her suburbs, 73 and Ramoth, and Anan and her suburbs. 74 And of the tribe of Aser; Maasal and her suburbs, and Abdon and her suburbs, 75 and Aca and her suburbs, and Roob and her suburbs. 76 And of the tribe of Nephthali; Kedes in Galilee and her suburbs, and Chamos and her suburbs, and Kariathaim and her suburbs.

77 To the sons of Merari that were left, they gave out of the tribe of Zabulon Remmon and her suburbs, and Thabor and her suburbs. 78 And out of the tribe of Issachar, Kedes in Galilee and her suburbs, and Jezreel and her suburbs, 79 and Kademoth and her suburbs, and Maaphits and her suburbs. 80 Out of the tribe of Gad; Rammoth Galaad and her suburbs, and Maanaim and her suburbs, and Jaberoth and her suburbs, and Jazer and her suburbs.

And as to the sons of Issachar, they were Thola, and Phua, and Jasub, and Semaron, four. 81 And the sons of Thola; Ozi, Raphia, and Jeriel, and Jamai, and Jemassan, and Samuel, chiefs of their fathers' houses belonging to Thola, men of might according to their generations; their number in the days of David was twenty and two thousand and six hundred. 82 And the sons of Ozi; Jeria, and the sons of Jeria; Mei, Abdi, and Joel, and Jesia, five, all rulers.

And with them, according to their generations, according to the houses of their families, were men mighty to set armies in array for war, thirty and six thousand, for they had multiplied their wives and children. 84 And their brethren among all the families of Issachar, also mighty men, were eighty-seven thousand—this was the number of them all.

The sons of Benjamin; Bale, and Bachir, and Jediael, three. 86 And the sons of Bale; Esebon, and Ozi, and Oziel, and Jerimith, and Ur, five; heads of houses of families, mighty men; and their number was twenty and two thousand and thirty-four. 88 And the sons of Bachir; Zemira, and Jos, and Elithenan, and Amaria, and Jerimith, with Jediael, and Anathoth, and Elelem; all these were the sons of Bachir.

And their number according to their generations, (they were chiefs of their fathers houses, men of might), was twenty thousand and two hundred. And the sons of Jediel;Balas; and the sons of Balas; Jaus, and Benjamin, and Aoth, and Chanaa, and Zathan, and Tharsi, and Achisar. All these were the sons of Jediel, chiefs of their families, men of might, seventeen thousand and two hundred for war with might.

And Saphphon, and Apphain, and the sons of Or, Asom, whose son was Aor.
The sons of Nephthali; Jasiel, Geon, and Asier, and Sello, his sons, Baalim his son.

The sons of Manaase; Esriel, whom his Syri became a concubine born; and she bore to him Machir the father of Galaad.

And Machir took a wife for Apphain and Saphphon, and his sister's name was Moocha; and the name of the second son was Sapphahad; and to Sapphahad were born daughters. And Moocha the wife of Machir bore a son, and called his name Phares; and his brother's name was Surus; his sons were Ulam, and Goom. And the sons of Ulam; Badam. These were the sons of Machir, the son of Manaase.

Now Benjamin begat Baal his first-born, and Asbel his second son, Aara the third, Nea the fourth, and Rapha the fifth. And the sons of Baal were. Adir, and Gera, and Abiad, and Absue, and Noama, and Achia, and Gera, and Sepham, and Uram. These were the sons of Adam: these are the heads of families that dwell in Gaba, and they removed them to Machanath, and Nooma, and Achia and Gera, he removed them, and he begot Aza, and Jachicho. And Sarin begot children in the plain of Moab, after that he had sent away Osin and Banda his wives. And he begot of his wife Ada, Jolab, and Sebin, and Miss, and Meleah, and Jebus, and Zabia, and Marma; these are the heads of families that dwell in Elam, and they drove out the inhabitants of Geth. And his brethren were Sosec, and Armoth, and Zabudin, and Ored, and Eder, and Michael, and Jeshpa, and Joda, the sons of Boria; and Zabadin, and Mosollam, and Azaki, and Abar, and Ismanari, and Jexlias, and Jobab, the sons of Elphah; and Jakim, and Zachri, and Zabdi, and Eliomai, and Sahbi, and Elieli, and Adaia, and Baraia, and Samma, and Jemidath, and Abael, and Obed, and Eiel, and Abdon, and Zebiri, and Anan, and Abra, and Eziel, and Anathoth, and Jath, and Jepthias, and Phaneul, the sons of Sosec: and Samsari, and Sariais, and Gothalia, and Jarasia, and Eria, and Zechar, son of Ioseph. These were the heads of families, chiefs according to their generations: these dwelt in Jerusalem. And the father of Gabao dwelt in Gaabon, and his wife's name was Moncha. And her first-born son was Abdon, and Sur, and Kis, and Baal, and Nadab, and Ner, and Gedur and his brother, and Zachur, and Makeloth. And Makeloth begot Samma: for these dwelt in Jerusalem in the presence of their brethren with their brethren. And Ner begot Kis, and Kis begot Saul, and Saul begot Jonathan, and Michisz, and Aminadab, and the son of Jonathan was Meribbaal; and Meribbaal begot Michah. And the sons of Michah were Phitnon, and Melach, and Tharchal, and Achez. And Achez begot Jada, and Josiah, and Barin, and Immran, and Basan, and Ola, and Sama. And Sallau, and Jeth, and Beth. And Iold, and Jehosaphat, and Azez, and Azez, and Azez, and Azez. And they were the sons of Aser, all heads of families, choice, mighty men, chief leaders: their number for battle array—their number was twenty-six thousand men.

And the sons of Jether, Jephna, and Phasa, and Ara. And the sons of Ola; Ozech, Ameil, and Rasin.

Now Benjamin begat Baal his first-born, and Asbel his second son, Aara the third, Nea the fourth, and Rapha the fifth. And the sons of Baal were: Adir, and Gera, and Abiad, and Absue, and Noama, and Achia, and Gera, and Sepham, and Uram. These were the sons of Adam: these are the heads of families that dwell in Gaba, and they removed them to Machanath, and Nooma, and Achia, and Gera, he removed them, and he begot Aza, and Jachicho. And Sarin begot children in the plain of Moab, after that he had sent away Osin and Banda his wives. And he begot of his wife Ada, Jolab, and Sebin, and Miss, and Meleah, and Jebus, and Zabia, and Marma; these are the heads of families that dwell in Elam, and they drove out the inhabitants of Geth. And his brethren were Sosec, and Armoth, and Zabudin, and Ored, and Eder, and Michael, and Jeshpa, and Joda, the sons of Boria; and Zabadin, and Mosollam, and Azaki, and Abar, and Ismanari, and Jexlias, and Jobab, the sons of Elphah; and Jakim, and Zachri, and Zabdi, and Eliomai, and Sahbi, and Elieli, and Adaia, and Baraia, and Samma, and Jemidath, and Abael, and Obed, and Eiel, and Abdon, and Zebiri, and Anan, and Abra, and Eziel, and Anathoth, and Jath, and Jepthias, and Phaneul, the sons of Sosec: and Samsari, and Sariais, and Gothalia, and Jarasia, and Eria, and Zechar, son of Ioseph. These were the heads of families, chiefs according to their generations: these dwelt in Jerusalem.

And the father of Gabao dwelt in Gaabon, and his wife's name was Moncha. And her first-born son was Abdon, and Sur, and Kis, and Baal, and Nadab, and Ner, and Gedur and his brother, and Zachur, and Makeloth. And the sons of Michah were Phitnon, and Melach, and Tharchal, and Achez. And Achez begot Jada, and Josiah, and Barin, and Immran, and Basan, and Ola, and Sama. And Sallau, and Jeth, and Beth. And Iold, and Jehosaphat, and Azez, and Azez, and Azez, and Azez, and Azez. And they were the sons of Aser, all heads of families, choice, mighty men, chief leaders: their number for battle array—their number was twenty-six thousand men.

And the sons of Jether, Jephna, and Phasa, and Ara. And the sons of Ola; Ozech, Ameil, and Rasin.
Jada begot Salemath, and Asmoth, and Zambri; and Zambri begot Mesa; and Mesa begot Baana: Raphuea was his son, Elasa his son, Esel his son.

And Esel had six sons, and these were their names: Ezricam his first-born, and Izmael, and Seraia, and Abdia, and Anan, and Asa: all these were the sons of Esel.

And the sons of Asel his brother; Elam his first-born, and Jas the second, and Eliphalet the third. And the sons of Elam were mighty men, bending the bow, and multiplying sons and grandsons, a hundred and fifty. All these were the sons of Benjamin.

And this is all Israel, even their enrolment: and these are written down in the book of the kings of Israel and Juda, with the names of them that were carried away to Babylon for their transgressions. And they that dwelt before in their possessions in the cities of Israel, the priests, the Levites, and the chief heads of the houses of Israel, according to their generations.

And there dwelt in Jerusalem some of the children of Juda, and of the children of Benjamin, and of the children of Ephraim, and of Manasse. And Gnothi, and the son of Samuia, the son of Amri, the son of Ams, the son of Phares, the son of Juda.

And of the Selenotes; Asaia his first-born, and his sons.

watches of the tabernacle, and their fathers over the camp of the Lord, keeping the entrance.

23 And Phinees son of Eleazar was head over them before the Lord, and these were with him. 24 Zacharias the son of Mosollami was keeper of the door of the tabernacle of witness. 25 All the chosen porters in the gates were two hundred and twelve, these were in their courts, this was their distribution: these David and Samuel the seer established in their posterity. 26 And these were the sons ware in the gates of the house of the Lord, and in the house of the tabernacle, to keep watch. 27 The gates were toward the four winds, eastward, northward, southward. 28 And their brethren were in their courts, to enter in weekly from time to time with these. 29 And some of them were appointed over the vessels of service, that they should carry them by service, and carry them out by number. 30 And some of them were appointed over the furniture, and over all the holy vessels, and over the fine flour, the wine, the oil, the frankincense, and the spices. 31 And some of the priests were set over the chamber, and appointed to prepare the spices. 32 And Mathathias of the Levites, (he was the first-born of Solomon the Corite,) was set in charge over the sacrifices of meat-offering of the pan belonging to the high priest. 33 And Bannah the Caathite, from among their brethren, was set over the shields, to prepare it every sabbath. 34 And these were the singers, heads of families of the Levites, to whom were established daily courses, for they were employed in the services day and night. 35 These were the heads of the families of the Levites according to their generations; these chiefs dwelt in Jerusalem.

And Neh begot Gedor, and Gedor dwelt in Gabaon; and his wife's name was Mahal. 2 And his first-born son was Abdon, and he had Sera, and his brother, and Ezer, and Elam, and Jerahmeel, and Hashabon. 3 And Melchithae begot Salmah, and Salmah begot Micah, and Micah begot Nathan, and Nathan begot Obed. 4 And Obadiah begot Jaddua. 5 And the son of Jonathan was Meribaal: and Meribaal begot Micah. 6 And the sons of Micah were Hammuel and Malchisa, and Seguel. 7 And Aiah begot Jaakob, and Jaakob begot Gershom, and Gershom begot Eliaho; and Eliaho begot Sibrim. 8 And Sibrim begot Asaph, and Asaph begot Eliah. 9 And Eliah begot Elishama, and Elishama begot Eliphelet. 10 And Eliphelet begot Eliahb, and Eliahb begot Aijalon. 11 And Aijalon begot Jeshua. 12 And Jeshua begot Eliezer. 13 And Eliezer begot Eleazar. 14 And Eleazar begot Daniel. 15 And Daniel begot Haran. 16 And Haran begot Lot. 17 And Lot begot Moab, and Lot begot Benam. 18 And Amram begot Aminadab, and Aminadab begot Eleazar, and Eleazar begot Aaron, and Aaron begot Moses.

The fathers of the Levites, and their fathers, every man with his sons, and his brethren head over his posterity, the Levites, over the three courses.

And Nadab begot Buz, and Buz begot Ard, and Ard begot Nathan. 2 Nathan begot Zadok, and Zadok begot Ahimaaz. 3 Ahimaaz begot Abdon, and Abdon begot Amasa, and Amasa begot Jeremiah. 4 And the son of Merari was Gershom: and Gershom begot Libni. 5 And Libni begot Jeiel, and Jeiel begot Azromai. 6 And the son of Keshub was Lehi: and Lehi begot Jeiel, and Jeiel begot Eliezer. 7 And Eliezer begot Ezrah, and Ezrah begot Chesi. 8 And the son of Elchnan was Ezer: and Ezer begot Amariah. 9 And Amariah begot Meraioth, and Meraioth begot Amariah. 10 And Amariah begot Shemariah, and Shemariah begot Jehoida. 11 And Jehoida begot Bani. 12 And Bani begot Kaiah. 13 And Kaiah begot Aazai. 14 And Aazai begot Zechariah. 15 And Zechariah begot Bezel. 16 And Bezel begot Bitri. 17 And Bitri begot Ziz. 18 And Ziz begot Abina. 19 And Abina begot Uzziel. 20 And Uzziel begot Hashabiah. 21 And Hashabiah begot Mattaniah. 22 And Mattaniah begot Michael, and Michael begot Eliahu. 23 And Eliahu begot Moses. 24 And Moses begot Mattaniah. 25 And Mattaniah begot Micah. 26 And Micah begot Zaccur. 27 And Zaccur begot Jacob. 28 And Jacob begot Joseph. 29 Joseph begot Sion. 30 Sion begot Enoch. 31 Enoch begot Abel. 32 Abel begot Seth. 33 Seth begot Enos. 34 Enos begot Cainan. 35 Cainan begot Mahalaleel. 36 Mahalaleel begot Seth. 37 Seth begot Enos. 38 Enos begot Enoch. 39 Enoch begot Cain. 40 Cain begot Emaun.
first-born, and Israel, and Sariah, and Abdia, and Anan, and Asa: these were the sons of Esol.

Now the Philistines warred against Israel; and they fled from before the Philistines and fell down slain in mount Gelbe. 2 And the Philistines pursued after Saul, and after his sons; and the Philistines smote Jonathan, and Aminadab, and Melchised, sons of Saul. 3 And the battle prevailed against Saul, and the archers shot him with bows and arrows, and they were wounded of the bows. 4 And Saul said to his armour-bearer, Draw thy sword, and pierce me through with it, lest these uncircumcised come and mock me. But his armour-bearer saw that Saul was dead, and he also fell upon his sword. 5 And Saul died, and his three sons on the 12th day, and all his family died at the same time. 6 And all the men of Israel that were in the valley saw that Israel fled, and that Saul and his sons were dead, and they left their cities, and fled; and the Philistines came and dwelt in them.

8 And it came to pass on the next day that the Philistines came to strip the slain, and they found Saul and his sons fallen on mount Gelbe. 9 And they took his head, and his armour, and sent them into the land of the Philistines round about, to proclaim the glad tidings to their idols, and to the people. 10 And they put their armour in the house of their god, and they put his head in the house of Dagon.

11 And all the dwellers in Galsad heard of all that the Philistines had done to Saul, and to Israel. And all the mighty men rose up from Galsad, and took the body of Saul, and the bodies of his sons, and brought them to Jabes, and buried their bones under the oak in Jabes, and fasted seven days. 12 So Saul died for his transgressions, wherein he transgressed against God, the word of the Lord, forasmuch as he kept not that which the Lord commanded. 13 And they stripped him, and brought his bones into the land of Benjamin, and laid him in the sepulchre of his father at Ramah: so did they unto Saul, and to his sons, and to the men of Jabes, and to all Israel, and they returned to Galsad.

And all Israel came to David in Chebron, saying, Behold, we are thy bones and thy flesh. 2 And all the elders of Israel came to the king to Chebron; and king David made a covenant with them in Chebron before the Lord: and they anointed David to be king over Israel, according to the word of the Lord by Samuel. 3 And the king and his men went Jerubaim, this is Jebus; and there the Jebusites the inhabitants of the land said to David, 4 Thou shalt not enter in hither. But he took the strong hold of Zion: this is the city of David. 5 And David said, 6 Whoever first smites the Jebusites, even he shall be chief and captain. 7 And Joab the son of Saruia went up first, and became chief. 8 And David dyewel in the strong hold; therefore he called it the city of David. 9 And he fortified the city round about. 10 And David continued to increase, and the Lord Almighty was with him. 11 And these were the mighty men that were with him at Eloth, Eleazar the son of Dodai the Achenorite; 12 The three mighty men went down to the rock to David, to the care of Obed-edom, and the camp of the Philistines was in the valley of Rephaim. 13 And David went then in the hold, and the garrison of the Philistines was then in Bethel. 14 And David longed, and said, Who will give me water of the well of Bethel, that is in the gate? 15 And the three broke through the camp of the Philistines, and they drew water out of the well of Bethel, which was in the gate, and they took it, and came to David: but David would not drink it, and poured it out to the Lord. 16 And God forbid that I should do this thing: shall I drink the blood of these men with their lives? for with the peril of their lives they brought it. So he would not drink it. These things did the three mighty men. 17 And Abisai the brother of Joab, he was chief of three: he drew his sword against three hundred men in one time, and he had a name among the second three. 18 He was more renowned than the two others of the three, and he was chief over them; yet he reached not to the first three. 19 And Banaai the son of Joden was the son of a mighty man: many were his acts for Cusnass: he smote two Ishmen of Moab, and he went down and smote a lion in a pit on a snowy day. 20 And he smote an Egyptian, a wonderful man five cubits high, 21 In which he had the hand of the Egyptian there was a spear like a weaver's beam; and Baanah went down to him with a staff, and took the spear out of the Egyptian's hand, and slew him with his own spear. These things did Banaai son of Joden, and his

and Saphattai of Charispheil, Hecalae, and Josemi, and Oxriel, and Jozara, and Sobocam, and the Cortites, and Jelia and Zabadia, sons of Irom, and the men of Gedor.

And from Gad these separated themselves to David from the wilderness, strong mighty men of war, bearing shields and spears, and their faces were as the face of a lion, and they were nimble as roes upon the mountains in speed.
Asai the chief, Adbia the second, Eliab the third,
Mamsa the fourth, Jeremiah the fifth,
Jotham the sixth, Eliah the seventh,
Joanan the eighth, Eleazer the ninth,
Jeremia the tenth, Melchabnai the eleventh.
These were the chief of the army of the sons of Gad, the least one commander of a hundred, and the greatest one of a thousand.
These are the men that crossed over Jordan in the first month, and it had overflowed all its 16 And came some of the sons of Benjamin and Juda, to the assistance of David. 17 And David went out to meet them, and said to them, If ye are come peaceably to me, let my heart be yet peace with you: but if ye come to betray me to my enemies 8 unfaithfully, the God of your fathers look upon it, and reprove it. 18 And the Spirit of the Lord came upon Amasai, a captain of the house of Joseph, and he said, Go, David, son of Jesse, thou and thy people, peace be to thee, and peace to thy helpers, for thy God has helped thee. And David received them, and made them captains of the forces.

And some came to David from Manasse, when the Philistines came against Saul to war, and he helped them not, because the captains of the Philistines took counsel, saying, With the heads of those men will he return to his master Saul. 20 When David was going to Sichlag, there came to him of Manasse, Edna and Jozabath, and Rodiel, and Michael, and Josabith, and Elimoth, and she was the daughter of Zicri, and the names were of thousands of Manasse. 21 And they fought on the side of David against a troop, for they were all men of might; and they were commanders in the army, because of their might. 22 For daily men came to David, till they amounted to a great force, as the force of God.

And these are the names of the commanders of the army, who came to David to Cleabron, to turn the kingdom of Saul to him according to the word of the Lord. 24 The sons of Juda, bearing shields and spears, six thousand and eight hundred mighty in war. 25 Of the sons of Symeon mighty for battle, seven thousand and a hundred. 26 Of the sons of Levi, four thousand and six hundred. 27 And Joash the chief of the family of Aaron, and with him three thousand and seven hundred. 28 And Sadoc, a young man mighty in strength, and there were twenty-two leaders of his father's house. 29 And of the sons of Benjamin, the brethren of Iphima, three thousand; and still the greater part of them kept the guard of the house of Saul. 30 And of the sons of Ephraim, twenty thousand and eight hundred mighty men, famous in the houses of their fathers. 31 And of the half-tribe of Manasse, eighteen thousand, even those who were named by name, to make David king.

And of Lishevar, the son of Issachar, having wisdom with regard to the times, knowing what Israel should do, two hundred; and all their brethren with them.

And of Zabulon they that went out to battle, with all weapons of war, were fifty thousand to help David, not weak-handed. 34 And of Nephthali a thousand captains, and with them men with shields and spears, thirty-seven thousand. 35 And of the Danites men ready for war twenty-eight thousand and eight hundred. 36 And of Aser, they that went out to give aid in war, forty

42 So David assembled all Israel, from the borders of Egypt even to the entering in of Hemath, to bring in the ark of God from the city of Jarim. And David brought it up: and all Israel went up to the city of David, which belonged to Juda, to bring up thence the ark of the Lord God who sits between the cherubim, whose name is called on it. And they set the ark upon a new

43 And David and all Israel were playing before the Lord with all their might, and that together with singers, and with harps, and with lutes, with timbrels, and with cymbals, and with trumpets. And they came as far as the threshing-floor: and Oza put forth his hand to hold the ark, because the bullock moved it from its place. And the Lord was very angry with Oza, and smote him there, because of his stretching forth his hand upon the ark: and he died there before God. And David was dispirited, because the Lord had made a breach on Oza: and he called that place the Break of Oza until this day. And David feared God that day, saying, How shall I bring the ark of God in to myself? So David brought not the ark heaven to himself into the city of David, but he turned it aside into the house of Abeddara the Gethite. And the ark of God abode in the house of Abeddara three months: and God blessed Abeddara and all that he had.

14 And Chiram king of Tyre sent messengers to David, and cedar timbers, and masons, and carpenters, to build a house for him. 2 And David knew that the Lord had 3 assigned him to be king over Israel; because his kingdom was highly exalted, on account of his people Israel. 4 And David took 5 more wives in Jerusalem; and there were born to David more sons and daughters. 5 And these are the names of those that were born, who were born to David in Jerusalem: Solomon, Nathan, and Solomon, 6 and Baara, and Elisa, 7 and Elihapha, 8 and Nageith, and Naphlah, 9 and Japhie, 10 and Elissame, and Eliade, and Eliphath. 11 And the Philistines heard that David was anointed king over all Israel; and all the Philistines went up to seek David; and David heard it, and went out to meet them. 12 And the Philistines came and assembled together in the giants' valley. 13 And David enquired of God, saying, Shall I go up against the Philistines? and wilt thou deliver them into my hand? And the Lord said to him, Go up, and I will deliver them into thy hand. 14 And David went up to Baal Phoresharim, and David smote them there; and David said, God has broken through enemies by my hand like a breach of water; therefore he named the name of that place, the 5 Breach of Phoresharim. 15 And the Philistines left their gods there; and David 9 gave orders to burn them with fire. 16 And the Philistines once more assembled themselves in the giants' valley. 17 And David enquired of God again; and God said to him, Thou shalt not go after them; turn away from them, and thou shalt come upon them near the pear trees. 18 And it shall be, when thou shalt hear the sound of their tumult in the tops of the pear trees, then thou shalt go into the battle; for God has gone out before thee to smite the army of the Philistines. 19 And he did as God commanded him; and he smote the army of the Philistines from Gabaon to Gazera. 20 And the name of David was famous in all the land, and the Lord 7 put the terror of him on all the nations. 21 And David made for himself houses in the city of David, and he prepared a place for the ark of God, and made a tent for it. 22 Then said David, It is not lawful for any to bear the ark of God, but the Levites; for the Lord has chosen them to bear the ark of the Lord, and to minister to him forever. 23 And David assembled all Israel at Jerusalem, to bring up the ark of the Lord to the place which he had prepared for it. 24 And David gathered together the sons of Aaron the Levites. 25 Of the sons of Caath; there was Uriel the chief, and his brethren, a hundred and twenty. 26 Of the sons of Merari; Asali the chief, and his brethren, two hundred and thirty. 27 Of the sons of Gedson; Joel the chief, and his brethren, a hundred and thirty. 28 Of the sons of Elisaaphat; Semei the chief, and his brethren, two hundred. 29 Of the sons of Chebrom; Elieel the chief, and his brethren eighty. 30 Of the sons of Oziel; Aminadab the chief, and his brethren a hundred and twelve.
11 And David called Sadooc and Abiathar the priests, and the Levites, Uriel, Asaia, and Joel, and Semaia, and Eliec, and Aminaab, and said to them, Ye are the heads of the families of the Levites: sanctify yourselves, you and your brethren, and ye shall carry up the ark of the God of Israel, as Moses commanded. So David and all the house of Israel had prepared for it. 12 For because ye were not ready at the first, our God made a breach upon us, because we sought him not according to the ordinance.

13 So the priests and the Levites sanctified themselves, to bring up the ark of the God of Israel. 14 And the sons of the Levites took the ark of God, (as Moses commanded by the word of God, according to the scripture) upon their shoulders with staves.

15 And David said to the chiefs of the Levites: Set ye your brethren the singers with musical instruments, lutes, harps, and cymbals, to sound aloud with a voice of joy. 16 So the Levites appointed Amman the son of Joel; Asaph the son of Barachias was one of his brethren; and the son of Kisseus was of the sons of Merari their brethren; 17 and with them their brethren of the second rank, Zacharias, and Oziel, and Semiramoth, and Jeiel, and Elioc, and Eliab, and Banna, and Masaia, and Matthathia, and Eliuja, and Makellia, and Abdes cooked, and 18 Elija, and Ozie, and Othias, and the people. 19 And of the psalters, Aidam, Asaph, and Aidan in kymbals of their hands, and brought up the ark. 20 And of the Levites, Zacharias, and Ozieh, and Semiramoth, and Elija, and Ozie, and Oziel, and 21 Masaia, and Banna in nablevses with Babes. 22 And Mattathia, and Eliupa, and Makania, and Abdes, and Elija, and Ozie, and 23 Ozie in kymbals of their hands, 24 And Chonemia, and Zacharias, and Mozia, and Cymu, and Moza, and Zacharias, and Oziel, and Amasenith, and to make a loud noise. 25 And Chonemia chief of the Levites was master of the bands, because he was skilful. 26 And Barachia and Elicana were doorkeepers of the ark. 27 And Somnia, and Josaphat, and Nathanael, and Amasaill, and Zacharias, and Banea, and Elizeer, and the priests, were sounding with trumpets before the ark of God: and Abdnom and Jeia were doorkeepers of the ark of God.

28 So David, and the elders of Israel, and the captains of thousands, went to bring up the ark of the covenant from the house of the God of Israel with gladness. 29 And it came to pass when God strengthened the Levites around the ark of the covenant of the Lord, that they sacrificed seven calves and seven rams. 30 And David was girt with a fine linen robe, and all the Levites who were with him, over the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and the singers and Chonemia the master of the band of singers; also upon David there was a robe of fine linen. 31 And all Israel brought up the ark of the covenant of the Lord with shouting, and with the sound of a horn, and with trumpets, and with cymbals, playing loudly on lutes and harps. 32 And the ark of the covenant of the Lord came into the city of David; and Melchol the daughter of Saul looked down through the window, and saw King David dancing and playing: and she despised him in her heart.
set it in the midst of the tabernacle which David pitched for it; and they offered whole-burnt-offerings and peace-offerings before God. 2 And David finished offering up whole-burnt-offerings and peace-offerings, and blessed the people in the name of the Lord. 3 And he divided to every man of Israel (both men and women), to every man one baker's loaf, and a cake. 4 And he appointed before the ark of the covenant of the Lord, Levites to minister and lift up the voice, and to give thanks and praise the Lord God of Israel: 5 Asaph the chief, and next to him Zechariah, Jeiel, Mattathias, Eliab, and Banaas, and Abdedom; and Jeiel sounding with musical instruments, lutes and harps, and Asaph with cymbals; 6 and Banaas and Oziel the priests sounding continually with trumpets before the ark of the covenant of God in that day.

Then David first gave orders to praise the Lord by the hand of Asaph and his brethren.

6 Song. Give thanks to the Lord, call upon him by his name, make known his designs among the people. 7 Sing songs to him, and sing hymns to him, relate to all people his wonderful deeds, which the Lord has wrought, pronounce his holy name, yea, the heart that seeks his pleasure shall rejoice. 8 Seek the Lord and be strong, seek his face continually. 9 Remember his wonderful works which he has wrought, his wonders, and the judgments of his mouth; 10 ye seed of Israel his servants, ye seed of Jacob his chosen ones. 11 He is the Lord our God; his judgments are in all the earth. 12 Let us remember his covenant for ever, his word which he commanded to a thousand generations, 13 which he covenanted with Abraham, and his oath sworn to Isaac. 14 He confirmed it to Jacob for an ordinance, to Israel as an everlasting covenant, 15 saying, To thee will I give the land of Chanaan, the line of thy inheritance; 16 when they were few in number, when they were but little, and dwelt as strangers in it; 17 and went from nation to nation, and from one kingdom to another people. 18 He suffered not a man to oppress them, and he reproved kings for their sakes, 19 saying, Touch not my anointed ones, and deal not wrongfully with my prophets.

20 Sing ye to the Lord, all the earth; proclaim his salvation from day to day. 21 Declare among the nations his glory, his wondrous deeds among all peoples. 22 For the Lord is great, and greatly to be praised: he is to be feared above all gods. 23 For all the gods of the nations are idols; but our God made the heavens. 24 Glory and praise are in his presence; strength and rejoicing are in his place. 25 Give to the Lord, ye families of the nations, give to the Lord glory and strength. 26 Give to the Lord, the glory belonging to his name: take gifts and offer them before him; and worship the Lord in his holy courts. 27 Let the whole earth fear before him; let the earth be established, and not be moved. 28 Let the heavens rejoice, and let the earth exult; and let them rejoice.

6 Or, let the heart, etc.
And all the people shall say, Amen. So they praised the Lord.

And they left there Asaph and his brethren before the ark of the covenant of the Lord, to minister before the ark continually, according to the service of each day; from day to day. And Abdedom and his brethren were sixty and eight; and Abdedom the son of Idithun, and Ose, were to be doorkeepers.

And they appointed Sadoch the priest, and his brethren the priests, before the tabernacle of the Lord in the high place in Gabaon, to offer up whole-burnt-offerings on the altar of the Lord continually morning and evening, and according to all things written in the law of the Lord, which he commanded the children of Israel by Moses the servant of God.

And with him were Zeman and Idithun, and the rest chosen out by name to praise the Lord, for his mercy endures for ever. And with them there were trumpets and cymbals to sound aloud, and musical instruments for the songs of God: and the sons of Idithun were at the gate.

And all the people went every one to his home: and David returned to bless his house.

And it came to pass as David dwelt in his house, that David said to Nathan the prophet, Behold, I dwell in a house of cedar, but the ark of the covenant of the Lord is under curtains of skins.

And Nathan said to David, Do all that is in thy heart; for God is with thee.

And it came to pass in that night, that the word of the Lord came to Nathan, saying, Go and tell my servant David, Thus saith the Lord, I have heard thy prayer, and I have known thy goings.

And I will raise me up an house for my name, and I will establish the throne of thy kingdom after the manner of the days of ancient days.

And I will give unto the seed of thee a throne for ever.

And this shall be a sign unto thee, saith the Lord, Behold, I will make a cutting in the rock in two places without hands.

Then I will give all the house of Israel no more for aught, saith the Lord, but they shall serve the Lord their God and David my servant.

And David said to Nathan, I have sinned against the Lord.

And Nathan said to David, Doest thou not perceive that the Lord is with thee, and hath anointed thee a king over Israel, and has charged thee to build an house for the habitation of God, and to sit on the throne of Israel for ever.

And the Lord said to David, Go and do all the things that are in thine heart.

And the word of the Lord came to Nathan in the days of David, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Hast thou not known that Solomon my servant, by whom I gave a wise heart, to judge and to build, is dead?

And he said to the king, To build a house for the habitation of God, and to sit on the throne of Israel is a thing too hard for a man like me: but thou art a man of goodness and wisdom, and hast made a good choice.

And David said to the Lord, Who am I, and what is my people that thou shouldest set me in the stead of thine anointed, and exaltest me above thy common servants?

And the Lord said to him, Who is like thee, and who is like thee, that thou shouldst be an anointed one after the order of Melchizedek? And the Lord said to him, Wherefore hast thou despised me, and built thee a name in thine own eyes? thou shalt not build the habitation of my name, because thou hast despised me, and hast built thee a name in thine own eyes.

Now therefore hear me, O my servant, and shalt thou build the habitation of my name, and shalt set before me an offering place, because thou hast despised me, and hast built thee a name in thine own eyes?

And the Lord said to David, Wherefore hast thou despised me, and built thee a name in thine own eyes? thou shalt not build the habitation of my name, because thou hast despised me, and hast built thee a name in thine own eyes.

And the Lord said, Consider now, I have found David the son of Jesse a good man, and there is none like him among the children of Israel: but for David’s sake, and according to all his goodness which he hath shown towards me, I will establish his throne over Israel for ever.

Now therefore raise up a song and sound the trumpet in my praise, O Zion, and all ye that are about her. And let the sound thereof be heard from Lebo-hamath, and from the river Euphrates: and let the children of going forth say among the nations, The Lord reigns.
will plant him, and he shall dwell by himself, and shall no longer be anxious; and the son of iniquity shall no longer afflict him, as at the beginning, and from the days when I appointed judges over my people Israel. Also I have humbled all thine enemies, and I will increase thee, and the Lord will build thee a house. And it shall come to pass when thy days shall be fulfilled, and thou shalt sleep with thy fathers, that I will raise up thy seed after thee, which shall be of thy bowels, and I will establish his kingdom. He shall build me a house, and I will set up his throne for ever. And I will be to him a father, and he shall be to me a son: and my mercy will I not withdraw from him, as I withdrew it from them that were before thee. And I will establish him in my house and in his kingdom for ever; and his throne shall be set up for ever.

According to all these words, and according to all this vision, so spoke Nathan to David.

And king David came and sat before the Lord, and said, Who am I, O Lord God? and what is my house, that thou hast loved me for ever? And these things were little in thine sight, O God: thou hast also spoken concerning the house of thy servant. For a long time to come, and thou hast looked upon me, and said, Behold, I have made him as the cedars. And, lo, I have raised up one to sit upon his throne. What more canst thou desire? I will perform the more for the benefit of my servant, according to his will, to found his seed for ever.

According to all these words, and according to all this vision, so spoke Nathan to David.

And Nathan came to David, and said, Thus saith the Lord God, I have heard thy prayer, and I have known thy goings. And now, O David, the Lord hath heard thy prayer and thy words. And I will give thee exceeding riches of glory; therefore I have established thee a king over Israel. And this house of thine shall continue before me for ever, and my mercy shall be upon him, to establish his throne for ever. And I will be to him a father, and he shall be to me a son: and I will not withdraw my mercy from him, as I withdrew it from them that were before thee. And I will establish him in my house and in my kingdom for ever. And I will appoint him a Aaron my priest to be before my face for ever, and his sons shall be priests for ever, before me.

2 And he smote Moab; and the Moabites became servants to David, and tribunaries.
3 And David smote Adraazar king of Suba of Emath, as he was going to establish power toward the river Euphrates. 4 And David took of them a thousand chariots, and seven thousand horsemen, and twenty thousand infantry, and put their king into bonds, and returned to Jerusalem.
5 And the Syrian came from Damascus to help Adraazar king of Suba; and David smote of the Syrian army twenty and two thousand men. 6 And David put a garrison in Syria near Damascus; and they became tributary servants to David; and the Lord delivered David wherever he went. 7 And David took the golden collars that were on the servants of Adraazar, and brought them to Jerusalem. 8 And David took out of Matabeth, and out of the chief cities of Adraazar very much brass: of this Solomon made the brazen sea, and the pillars, and the brazen vessels.

9 And Thoa king of Emath heard that David had smitten the whole force of Adraazar king of Suba. 10 And he sent Aduram his son to king David, to ask how he was, and to congratulate him because he had fought against Adraazar, and smitten him; for Thoa was the enemy of Adraazar. 11 And all the golden and silver and brazen vessels, even these king David consecrated to the Lord, with the silver and the gold which he took from all the nations; from Idumea, and Moab, and from the children of Ammon, and from the Philistines, and from Amalec.

12 And Abesa son of Saruia smote the Idumeans in the valley of Salt, eighteen thousand. 13 And he put garrisons in the valley; and all the Idumeans became David's servants; and the Lord delivered David wherever he went.

14 So David reigned over all Israel; and he executed judgment and justice to all his people. 15 And Jotham son of Sarua reigned over the army, and Josaphat the son of Achilud was recorder. 16 And Sadoc son of Achitob, and Achimelech son of Abiahat, were the priests; and Suss was the scribe; 17 and Baneas the son of Jodae was over the Cherethite and the Phelshite, and the sons of David were the chief deputies of the king.

18 And it came to pass after this, that Naas the king of the children of Ammon died, and Anan his son reigned in his stead. 19 And David said, I will act kindly toward Anan the son of Naas, as his father acted kindly towards me. And David sent messengers to comfort him. 20 And the chiefs of the children of Ammon said to Anan, Is it to honour thy father before thee, that David has sent comforts to thee? Have not his servants come to thee?
that they might search the city, and to spy out the land. 4 And Anan took the servants of David, and shaved them, and cut off the half of their garments as far as their tunics, and sent them away. 5 And there came men to report to David concerning the men: and he sent to meet them, for they were greatly disgraced; and the king said, Dwell in Jericho until your beards have grown, and return.

6 And the children of Ammon saw that the people of David were ashamed; and Anan and the children of Ammon sent a thousand talents of silver to hire for themselves chariots and horsemen out of Syria of Mesopotamia, and out of Syria Maachah, and from Sobal. 7 And they hired, for themselves two and thirty thousand chariots, and the king of Maachah and his people; and they came and encamped before Medeba: and the children of Ammon assembled out of their cities, and came to fight.

8 And David heard, and sent Joab and all the host of mighty men. 9 And the children of Ammon came forth, and set themselves in array for battle by the gate of the city, and the people of Ammon came forth and encamped by themselves in the plain. 10 And Joab said, If the Syrian people prevail against me, then shall I deliver thee, and if the children of Ammon prevail against thee, then will I deliver thee. 11 Be of good courage, and let us be strong, for our people, and for the cities of our God: and the Lord shall do what is good in his eyes.

14 So Joab and the people that were with him set themselves in battle array against the Syrians, and they fled from them. 15 And the children of Ammon saw that the Syrians fled, and they also fled from before Abesa, and from before Joab his brother, and they came to the city: and Joab came to Jerusalem.

16 And the Syrian saw that Israel had defeated him, and he sent messengers, and they brought out the Syrians from beyond the river; and Sophath the commander-in-chief of the forces of Adraazar was before them. 17 And it was told David; and he gathered all Israel, and crossed over Jordan, and came upon them, and set the battle in array against them. So David set his army in array to fight against the Syrians, and they fought against him. 18 And the Syrians fled from before Israel; and David slew of the Syrians seven thousand riders in chariots, and forty thousand infantry, and he slew Sophath the commander-in-chief of the forces.

19 And the servants of Adraazar said that they were defeated before Israel, and they made peace with David and served him: and the Syrians would not any more help the children of Ammon.
And it came to pass at the return of the year, at the time of the going forth of kings to war, that Joab gathered the whole force of the army, and they ravaged the land of the children of Ammon; and he came and besieged Rabbah. But David abode in Jerusalem. And Joab smote Rabbah and destroyed it. And David took the crown of Molechom of their king off his head, and the weight of it was of gold, and on it were five precious stones; and it was placed on the head of David: and he brought out the spoils of the city which were very great. And he brought out the people that were in it, and saw them asunder with saws, and cut them with iron axes, and with harrows: and thus David did to all the children of Ammon. And David and all his people returned to Jerusalem.

And there was war again with the Philistines; and Eleazar smote Lachmi the brother of Goliath the Gittite, and the wood of his spear was as a weavers' beam.

And there was again war in Geth, and there was a man of extraordinary size, and his fingers and toes were six on each hand and foot, four and twenty; and he was descended from the giants. And he died; and Jonathan the son of Sannah the brother of David slew him. These were born to Rapha in Geth; all four were giants, and they fell by the hand of David, and by the hand of his servants.

And the devil stood up against Israel, and moved David to number Israel. And king David said to Joab and to the captains of the forces, Go number Israel from Beer-sheba even to Dan, and bring me the account, and I shall know their number. And Joab said, May the Lord add to his people, a hundred-fold as many as they are, and let the eyes of my lord the king see it: all are the servants of my lord. Why does my lord seek this thing? do it not, lest it become a sin to Israel. Nevertheless the king's word prevailed against Joab; and Joab went out and passed through all Israel, and came to Jerusalem. And Joab gave the number of the mustering of the people to David: and all Israel was a million and a hundred thousand men that drew sword: and the sons of Juda were four hundred and seventy thousand men that drew sword; and the sons of Juda were not Levi and Benjamin among them; for the word of the king was painful to Joab.

And there was evil in the sight of the Lord respecting this thing; and he smote Israel. And David said to God, I have sinned exceedingly, in that I have done this thing: and now, I pray thee, remove the sin of thy servant; for I have been exceedingly foolish.

And the Lord spoke to David the seer, saying, Go and speak to David, saying, Thus saith the Lord, I bring three things upon thee: choose one of them for thyself, and I will do it to thee. 11 And God came to David, and said to him, Thus saith the Lord, Choose for thyself. 12 And David said to God, He is worthy to be praised, for he hath shown his steadfast love and mercy to me. 13 answered him by fire out of heaven on the altar of whole-burnt-offerings, and it consumed the whole-burnt-offering. 27 And the Lord spoke to the angel; and he put up the sword into its sheath.

28 At that time when David saw that the Lord answered him in the threshing-floor of Orna the Jebusite, he also sacrificed there. 29 And the tabernacle of the Lord which Moses made in the wilderness, and the altar of whole-burnt-offerings, were at that time in the high place at Gabaon.

30 And David could not go before it to enquire of God; for he hasted not because of the sword of the angel of the Lord.

And David said, This is the house of the Lord God, and this is the altar for whole-burnt-offering for Israel.

And David gave orders to gather all the strangers that were in the land of Israel; and he appointed stone-workers to hew polished stones to build the house to God.

And David prepared much iron for the nails of the doors and the gates; the hinges also and nails in abundance, there was no weighing of it. 4 And cedar trees without number; for the Sidonians and the Tyrians brought trees in abundance to David.

And David said, My son Solomon is a tender child, and the house for me to build to the Lord is for superior magnificence for a name and for a glory through all the earth: I will make preparation for it. And David prepared abundantly before his death.

And he called Solomon his son, and commanded him to build the house for the Lord God of Israel. 5 And David said to Solomon, My child, it was in my heart to build a house to the name of the Lord God. 6 But the word of the Lord came to me, saying, Thou hast shed blood abundantly, and hast carried on great wars: thou shalt not build a house to my name, because thou hast shed much blood upon the earth before me. 7 Behold, a son shall be born to thee, he shall be a man of rest; and I will give him rest from all his enemies round about: for his name shall be Solomon, and I will give peace and quietness to Israel in his days. 8 He shall build a house to my name; and he shall be a son to me, and I will be a father to him; and I will establish the throne of his kingdom in Israel for ever. 9 And now, my son, the Lord shall be with thee, and prosper thee; and thou shalt build a house to the Lord thy God. 10 Only may the Lord give thee wisdom and prudence, and strengthen thee over Israel, both to keep and to do the law of the Lord thy God. 11 Then will he prosper thee, if thou take heed to do the commandments and judgments which the Lord commanded Moses for Israel: be courageous and strong; fear not, nor be terrified.

And, behold, according to my poverty I have prepared for the house of the Lord a hundred thousand talents of gold, and a million talents of silver, and brass and iron without measure; for it is abundant; and I have prepared timber and stones: and do thou add to these, and of them that are with thee; and do thou add to the multitude of workmen; let there be artificers and masons, and carpenters, and every skilful workman in every work; in gold and silver, brass and iron, of which there is no number. Arise and do, and the Lord be with thee.

13 And David charged all the chief men of Israel, saying, Is not the Lord with you? and he has given you rest round about, for he has given into your hands the inhabitants of the land; and the land is subdued before the Lord, and before his people.

14 Now set your hearts and souls to seek after the Lord your God, and arise, and build the sanctuary of the Lord God to carry in the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and the holy vessels of God, into the house that is to be built to the name of the Lord.

15 And David was old and full of days; and he made Solomon his son king over Israel.

16 And the Levites numbered themselves from thirty years old and upward; and their number by their polls amounted to thirty and eight thousand men.

17 Of the overseers over the works of the house of the Lord were twenty-four thousand and six hundred scribes and judges; and four thousand door-keepers, and four thousand to praise the Lord with instruments which he made to praise the Lord.

18 And David divided them into daily courses, for the sons of Levi, for Gedson, Catta, and the family of Gedson, Edan, and Semei.

19 The sons of Edan were Jeiel, the chief, and Zethan, and Joel, three.

20 The sons of Semei; Salomith, Jeth, and Dan; these were the sons of the families of Edan.

21 And to the sons of Semei, Jeth, and Ziza, and Joas, and Beria; these were the four sons of Semei; Jeth was the chief, and Ziza the second: and Joas and Beria did not multiply sons, and they became one reckoning according to the house of their father.

22 The sons of Casth; Ambram, Isasar, Chebron, Oziel, four.

23 The sons of Ambram; Aaron and Moses: and Aaron was appointed for the consecration of the most holy things, he and his sons for ever, to burn incense before the Lord, to minister and bless in his name for ever.

24 And as for Moses the man of God, his sons were reckoned to the tribe of Levi.

25 The sons of Moses; Gersam, and Eliezer.

26 The sons of Gersam; Subael the chief, and Rabaia the chief: and Eliezer had no other sons; but the sons of Rabaia were very greatly many.

27 The sons of Isar; Salomoth the chief;

28 The sons of Chebron; Jeria the chief, Amaria the second, Jeziel the third, Jekemah the fourth, 29 The sons of Oziel; Miche the chief, and Isia the second.

30 The sons of Merari; Mooli, and Musi: the sons of Mooli; Eleazar, and Kis.

31 These were the sons of Aaron and Moses, who did the work in the service of the tabernacle of the Lord.

32 And those which were reckoned by the house of their fathers of the Levites were twenty and three thousand

33 Above twelve and twenty years old: for they were reckoned by male hands, from twenty years old and upward;

34 And they were not able to serve in the work of the service of the house of God; because the work was too heavy on them.

35 Now Solomon's son was Jedidiah the son of Semei the son of Eliezer the son of Semei the son of Jeth the son of Beria the son of Ziza the son of Semei the son of Edan.

36 And these are the sons of Jedidiah; Machir the firstborn, and Hashubah the second, and Joel the third,

37 And Obadiah the son of Jedidiah, the son of Machir, the son of Hashubah, the son of Joel, the son of Zechias, the son of Malchias the son of Heman the son of Chelcas the son of Zenas the son of Arosh the son of Ishmael the son of Nethanel the son of Amram the son of Shubael the son of Jokam the son of Heman the son of Jecmaas the son of Talmai the son of Joseph the son of David the son of Jesse.
22 And Eleazar died, and he had no sons but daughters: and the sons of Kish, their brethren, took them.

23 And the sons of Mushi; Mooli, and Eder, and Jarimoth, three.

24 These are the sons of Levi according to the houses of their fathers; chiefs of their families according to their numbering, according to the number of their names, according to their polls, doing the works of service of the tabernacle of the Lord, from twenty years old and upward. 25 For David said, The Lord God of Israel has given rest to his people, and has taken up his abode in Jerusalem ever. 26 And the Levites bore not the tabernacle, and all the vessels of it for its service. 27 For he appointed them to wait on Aaron, to minister in the house of the Lord, over the courts, and over the chambers, and over the purification of all the holy things, and over the works of the service of the house of God; and for the shew-bread, and for the fine flour of the meat-offering, and for the unleavened cakes, and for the bread of the dough, and for every measure; 28 and to stand in the morning to praise and give thanks to the Lord, and so in the evening; 29 and to be over all the whole-burnt-offerings that were offered up to the Lord on the sabbaths, and at the new moons, and at the feasts, by number, according to the order given to them, and according to the law of Moses the servant of the Lord. 30 And they are to keep the charge of the tabernacle of witness, and the charge of the holy place, and the charges of the sons of Aaron their brethren, to minister in the house of the Lord.

And they numbered the sons of Aaron in their division, Nadab, and Abihu, and Eleazar, and Ithamar. 2 And Nadab and Abihu died before their father, and they had no sons: so Eleazar and Ithamar the sons of Aaron ministered as priests. 3 And David distributed them, even Sadoe of the sons of Eleazar, and Achimelech of the sons of Ithamar, according to their numbering, according to their service, according to the houses of their fathers.

And there were found among the sons of Eleazar more chiefs of the mighty ones, than of the sons of Ithamar: and he divided them, sixteen heads of families to the sons of Eleazar, eight according to their families to the sons of Ithamar. 6 And he divided them according to their lots, one with the other; for there were those who had charge of the holy things, and those who had charge of the house of the Lord among the sons of Eleazar, and among the sons of Ithamar.

And Samaia the son of Nathanael, the scribe, of the family of Levi, wrote them down before the king, and the princes, and Sadoc the priest, and Achimelech the son of Abiathar were present; and the heads of the families of the priests and the Levites, each of a household were assigned one to Eleazar, and one to Ithamar.

And the first lot came out to Joarim.

for the service of the house of God, near the king, and Asaph, and Idithun, and Aiman.

And the number of them after their brethren, those instructed to sing to God, every one that understood singing was two hundred and eighty-eight.

And they also cast lots for the daily courses, for the great and the small of them, of the perfect ones and the learners. And the first lot of his sons and of his brethren came the sons of Joseph, namely, Godolias: the second Heneias, his sons and his brethren being twelve. The third Zacchur, his sons and his brethren, twelve: the fourth Jeri, his sons and his brethren were twelve: the fifth Nathans, his sons and his brethren, twelve: the sixth Bukias, his sons and his brethren, twelve: the seventh Iscriel, his sons and his brethren, twelve: the eighth Josia, his sons and his brethren, twelve: the ninth Mattheias, his sons and his brethren, twelve: the tenth Semeia, his sons and his brethren, twelve: the eleventh Asriel, his sons and his brethren, twelve: the twelfth Assanias, his sons and his brethren, twelve: the thirteenth Shaba, his sons and his brethren, twelve: the fourteenth Mattathias, his sons and his brethren, twelve: the fifteenth Jerimoth, his sons and his brethren, twelve: the sixteenth Anania, his sons and his brethren, twelve: the seventeenth Jesbasach, his sons and his brethren, twelve: the eighteenth Amiel, his sons and his brethren, twelve: the nineteenth Mallithi, his sons and his brethren, twelve: the twentieth Othri, his sons and his brethren, twelve: the twenty-second Godollath, his sons and his brethren, twelve: the twenty-third Mezentos, his sons and his brethren, twelve: the twenty-fourth Mesemetiach, his sons and his brethren, twelve.

And for the divisions of the gates: the sons of the Corites were Mosellemia, of the sons of Asaph. And Mosellemia's first-born son was Zacharias, the second Jadiel, the third Zabadan, the fourth Jeneul, the fifth Jolam, the sixth Jonathan, the seventh Eleon, the eighth Abdon. There were born sons, Samaim the first-born, Josabzah the second, Joath the third, Schar the fourth, Nathanael the fifth, Amiel the sixth, Issachar the seventh, Pheletthah the eighth: for God blessed him. And to Samaim his son were born sons of his first-born, seven chiefs over the house of their father, for they were mighty. And to Abdon, Othni, and Raphael, and Obed, and Elizabath, and Achiud, mighty men, Helion, and Sabachia, and Icbacum.

All these were of the sons of Abdon, they and their sons and their brethren, doing mightily in service: in all sixty-two born to Abdon.

And Mosellemia had eighteen sons and brethren, mighty men. And to Osa of the sons of Merari there were born sons keeping the dominion; though he was not the first-born, yet his father made him chief of the second division. Wherein the second was the third, Tabalai the third, Zacharias the fourth; all these were the sons and brethren of Osa, thirteen.

To these were assigned the divisions of the gate, to the chiefs of the mighty men the daily courses, even their brethren, to minister in the house of the Lord. And they cast lots for the small as well as for the great, for the several gates, according to their families. And the lot of the gate fell to Semelias, and Zacharias; the sons of Soaz cast lots for Melchias, and the lot came out northward. To Abdedom they gave by lot the south, opposite the house of Esaphim. They gave the lot for the second to Osa westward, after the gate of the chamber by the ascent, watch against watch, eastward, southward four by the day, southward four by the day; and two at the Esaphim, to relieve guard, also for Osa westward after the chapter-gate, three.

32...and of the brethren of Manasseh, the sons of Zabdiel, the fortyieth year of his reign they were numbered, and there were found mighty men among them in Jazer of Gaalad. And his brethren were two thousand seven hundred mighty men, chiefs of their families, and king David set them over the Rubenites, and the Gadites, and the half-tribe of Manasse, for every ordinance of the Lord, and business of the king.

27 And over the first division of the first month was Iosb'as the son of Zabdiel: in his division were twenty-four thousand. 28 Of the sons of Tharez one was chief of all the captains of the host for the first month. 29 And over the division of the second month was Dodi the son of Eschóe, and over his division was Make'el, also chief: and in his division were twenty-five thousand. 30 Chief men of the host. 31 The third for the third month was Banaías the son of Jodae, the chief priest: and in his division were twenty and four thousand. 32 This Banaías was more mighty than the thirty, and over the thirty and Zabad his son was over his division. 33 The fourth for the fourth month was AsÁel the son of Jochob, and Zabad his son, and his brethren: and in his division were twenty and four thousand. 34 The fifth chief for the fifth month was Samatho the Jezraite: and in his division were twenty and four thousand. 35 The sixth for the sixth month was Hódahias the son of Elías a son of the seventh for the seventh month was Chelles of Phallus of the children of Ephraim: and in his division were twenty and four thousand. 1 The eighth for the eighth month was Sóbochai the Ûsathite, belonging to Zará: and in his division were twenty and four thousand. 2 The ninth for the ninth month was Abíezar of Anathoth, of the land of Benjamin: and in his division were twenty and four thousand. 3 The tenth for the tenth month was Meera the Netophathite, belonging to Zará: and in his division were twenty and four thousand. 4 The eleventh for the eleventh month was Banaías of Pharaoh, the sons of Ephraim: and in his division were twenty and four thousand. 5 And over the tribes of Israel, the chief for Ruben was Eliezer the son of Zehri: for Simeon, Saphata the son of Maácá: 6 for Levi, Abías the son of Cannaél: for Aaron, Nabad the son of Gé, 7 for Judá, Eliab the brethren of David: 8 for Issachar, Abíre the son of Michael; 9 for Zabulon, Samaías the son of Abidu; 10 for Nephthali, Jerimoth the son of Oziel; 11 for Ephraim, Ose the son of

Ozias: for the half-tribe of Manasse, Joel the son of Phatadi; 22 for the half-tribe of Manasse in the land of Galaad, Jadaai the son of zadnas, for the sons of Benjamin, Jasiel the son of Abenener; 23 for Dan, Azariael the son of Iroab: these are the chiefs of the tribes of Israel.

But David took not their number from twenty years old and under: because the Lord said that he would make Israel as great as the stars of the heaven. 24 And Joab the son of Sarunia began to number the people, and did not finish the work, for there was hereupon wrath on Israel; and the number was not recorded in the book of the chronicles of king David.

And over the king's treasures was Assum the son of Odijel; and over the treasures in the country, and in the towns, and in the villages, and in the towers, was Jonathan the son of Ozia. 25 And over the husbandmen who tilled the ground was Edsi the son of Chelub. 26 And over the fields was Semiel of Rael, and over the treasurers, the taskers of the gold, and the silver, and the salt, was Zabdi the son of Sephni. 27 And over the oliveyards, and the sycamores in the plain country was Ballanan the Gedorite; and over the stores of oil was Joas. 28 And over the oxen pasturing in Sarom was Satrai the Saromite; and over the oxen in the valleys was Sophath the son of Seraiah. 29 And over the camels was Abias the Israelite; and over the asses was Jadas of Merathon. 30 And over the sheep was Jazias the Gareite. All these were superintendents of the substance of king David.

And Jonathan, David's uncle by the father's side, was a counsellor and wise man: and Joel the son of Shaham was with the king's sons. 31 Achitophel was the king's counsellor: and Chauzi the chief friend of the king. 32 And after this Achitophel Jodai the son of Banases came next, and Abiathar: and Joab was the king's commander-in-chief.

And David assembled all the chief men of Israel, the chief of the judges, and all the chief men of the courses of attendance on the person of the king, and the captains of thousands and hundreds, and the treasurers, and the lords of his substance, and of all the king's property, and of his sons, together with the eunuchs, and the mighty men, and the warriors of the army, at Jerusalem.

And David stood in the midst of the assembly, and said, Hear me, my brethren, and my people: it was in my heart to build a house of rest for the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and a place for the feet of our Lord. 3 but God said, Thou shalt not build me a house to call my name upon it, for thou art a man of war, and hast shed blood. 4 Yet the Lord God of Israel chose me out of the whole house of my father to build a house for me; and he chose Judah as the kingly house, and out of the house of Judah he chose the house of my father; and among the sons of my father he preferred me, that I should be king...
I. CHRON. XXVIII. 5—20.

5 And of all my sons, (for the Lord hath given me many sons) he has chosen Solomon my son, 6 to sit on the throne of the kingdom of the Lord over Israel.

6 And God said to me, Solomon thy son shall build my house and my court: for I have chosen him to be my son, and I will be to him a father. 7 And I will establish his kingdom forever, if he continue to keep my commandments and my judgments, as at this day. 8 And now, I charge you before the whole assembly of the Lord, and in the audience of our God, keep and seek all the commandments of the Lord our God, that ye may inherit the good land, and leave it for your sons to inherit after you for ever.

9 And now, my son Solomon, know the God of thy fathers, and serve him with a perfect heart and willing soul: for the Lord searches all hearts, and knows every thought: if thou seek him, he will be found of thee; but if thou shouldst forsake him, he will forsake thee for ever. 10 See now, for the Lord has chosen thee to build him a house for a sanctuary, be strong and do it.

11 And David gave Solomon his son the plan of the temple, and its buildings, and its treasures, and its upper chambers, and the inner store-rooms, and the place of the atonement, 12 and the plan which he had in his mind of the courts of the house of the Lord, and of all the chambers round about, designed for the treasures of the house of God, and of the treasures of the holy things, and of the chambers for resting: 13 and the plan of the courses of the priests and Levites, for all work of the service of the house of the Lord, and of the stores of vessels of ministration, of the service of the house of the Lord, 14 and he gave him the account of their weight, both of gold and silver.

15 He also gave him the weight of the candlesticks, and of the lamps. 16 He gave him likewise the weight of the tables of shewbread, of each table of gold, and likewise of the tables of silver: 17 also of the flesh-hooks, and vessels for drink-offering, and golden bowls, and the weight of the gold and silver articles, and censers, and bowls, according to the weight of each. 18 And he shewed him the weight of the utensils of the altar of incense, which was of pure gold, and the plan of the chariot of the cherubs that spread out 19 their wings, and overshadowed the ark of the covenant of the Lord. 20 David gave all to Solomon in the Lord's handwriting, according to the knowledge given him of the work of the pattern.

21 And David said to Solomon his son, Be strong, and play the man, and do: fear not, neither be terrified; for the Lord my God is with thee; he will not forsake thee, and will not fail thee, until thou hast finished all the work of the service of the house of the Lord. And behold the pattern of the temple, even his house, and its treasury, and the upper chambers, and the inner store-rooms, and the place of propitiation.
the plan of the house of the Lord.
11 And see, here are the courses of the priests and Levites for all the service of the house of the Lord, and there shall be with thee men for every workmanship, and every one of ready skill in every art; also the chief men and all the people, ready for all thy commands.

And David the king said to all the congregation, Solomon my son, whom the Lord hath chosen, is young and tender, and the work is great; for it is not for man, but for the Lord. 2 And I have prepared according to all my might for the house of my God gold, silver, brass, iron, wood, onyx stones, and costly and variegated stones for setting, and every precious stone, and much Parian marble. 3 And still further, because I took pleasure in the house of my God, I have gold and silver which I have procured for myself, and, behold, I have given them to the house of my God over and above, beyond what I have prepared for the holy house.
4 Three thousand talents of gold, and seven thousand talents of silver, for the overlaying of the walls of the sanctuary: 5 for there to use the gold for things of gold, and the silver for things of silver, and for every work by the hand of the artificers. And who is willing to dedicate himself in work this day for the Lord?

Then the heads of families, and the princes of the children of Israel, and the captains of thousands and captains of hundreds, and the overseers of the works, and the king's builders, offered willingly. 7 And they gave for the works of the house of the Lord five thousand talents of gold, and ten thousand talents of silver, and eight thousand talents of brass, and a hundred thousand talents of iron. 8 And they who had precious stone, gave it into the treasuries of the house of the Lord by the hand of Jeiel the Gedarzoite. 9 And the people rejoiced because of the willingness, for they offered willingly to the Lord with a full heart: and king David rejoiced greatly.

And King David blessed the Lord before the congregation, saying,

Blessed art thou, O Lord God of Israel, our Father, from everlasting and to everlasting. 11 Thine, O Lord, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory and the might: for thou art Lord of all things, and in thy hand is strength and rule: and thou art almighty with thy hand to increase and establish all things. 12 And now, Lord, we give thanks to thee that are in heaven and upon the earth: before thy face every king and nation is troubled. Thine, O Lord, is the wealth and glory: thou, O Lord, rulest over all, the Lord of all dominion, and in thy hand is strength and rule: and thou art almighty with thy hand to increase and establish all things.

And when David had made an end of offering, there came prophet who said, for all things are thin, and of thine own hand we have given thee, for we are strangers before thee, and sojourners, as all our fathers were: our days upon the earth are a shadow, and there is no remaining.

this abundance which I have prepared that a house should be built to thy holy name it is of thy hand, and all is thine. 17 And I know, Lord, that thou art he that searcheth the hearts, and thou loveth righteousness. I have willingly offered all these things in simplicity of heart; and now I have seen with joy thy people here present, willingly offering to thee. 18 O Lord God of Abraham, and Isaac, and Israel, our fathers, preserve these things in the thought of the heart of thy people for ever, and direct their hearts to thee. 19 And to Solomon my son give a good heart, to perform thy commandments, and to observe thy testimonies, and thine ordinances, and to accomplish the building of thy house.

20 And David said to the whole congregation, Bless ye the Lord our God. And all the congregation blessed the Lord God of their fathers, and they bowed the knee and worshipped the Lord, and did obeisance to the king. 21 And David sacrificed to the Lord, and offered up whole-burnt-offerings to the Lord on the morrow after the first day, a thousand calves, a thousand rams, and their drink-offerings, and sacrifices in abundance for all Israel. 22 And they ate and drank joyfully that day before the Lord: and they made Solomon the son of David king a second time, and anointed him king before the Lord, and Sadoc to the priesthood. 23 And Solomon sat upon the throne of his father David, and was highly honoured; and all Israel obeyed him. 24 The princes, and the mighty men, and all the sons of king David his father, were subject to him. 25 And the Lord magnified Solomon over all Israel, and gave him royal glory, such as was not upon any king before him. 26 And David the son of Jesse reigned over Israel forty years; 27 seven years in Chebron, and thirty-three years in Jerusalem. 28 And he died in a good old age, full of days, in wealth, and glory; and Solomon his son reigned in his stead. 29 And the rest of the acts of David, the former and the latter, are written in the history of Samuel the seer, and in the history of Nathan the prophet, and in the history of Gad the seer, concerning all his reign, and his power, and the times which went over him, and over Israel, and over all the kingdoms of the earth.
AND Solomon the son of David was established over his kingdom, and the Lord his God was with him, and increased him exceedingly. 2 And Solomon spoke to all Israel, to the captains of thousands, and to the captains of hundreds, and to the judges, and to all the rulers over Israel, even the heads of the families; 3 and Solomon and all the congregation went to the high place that was in Gabaon, where was God's tabernacle of witness, which Moses the servant of the Lord made in the wilderness. 4 But David had brought up the ark of God out of the city of Carinithiriam; for David had prepared a place for it, for he had pitched a tabernacle in Jerusalem. 5 And the brazen altar which Beseleel, the son of Urias, the son of Or, had made, was there before the tabernacle of the Lord: and Solomon and the congregation enquired at it. 6 And Solomon brought victims thither to the brazen altar that was before the Lord in the tabernacle, and offered upon it a thousand whole-burnt-offerings.

In that night God appeared to Solomon, and said to him, Ask what I shall give thee. 8 And Solomon said to God, Thou hast dealt very mercifully with my father David, and hast made me king in his stead. 9 And now, O Lord God, let, I pray thee, thy name be established upon David my father; for thou hast made me king over a people numerous as the dust of the earth. 10 Now give me wisdom and understanding, that I may go out and come in before this people: for who shall judge this thy great people?

And God said to Solomon, Because this was in thy heart, and thou hast not asked great wealth, nor glory, nor the life of thine enemies, and thou hast not asked long life; but hast asked for thyself wisdom and understanding; that thou mightest judge my people, over whom I have made thee king: 12 I give thee this wisdom and understanding; and I will give thee wealth, and riches, and glory, so that there shall not have been any like thee among the kings before thee, neither shall there be such after thee.

And Solomon came from the high place that was in Gabaon to Jerusalem, from before the tabernacle of witnes, and reigned over Israel.
And Solomon collected chariots and horsemen: and he had fourteen hundred chariots, and twelve thousand horsemen: and he set them in the cities of his dominion, and went out in them. 3 And the king made silver and gold in Jerusalem as stones, and cedars in Judea as sycamores in the plain for multitude. 4 And Solomon imported horses from Egypt and from Syria; and from Egypt a chariot for six hundred pieces of silver, and a horse for a hundred and fifty pieces of silver: and so they brought for all the kings of the Chettites, and for the kings of Syria by their means.

And Solomon said that he would build a house to the name of the Lord, and a house for his kingdom. And he gathered seventy thousand men that bore burdens, and eighty thousand handmen, and thirty thousand stone masons, and eighteen thousand hewedmen, in cut stone, to build him a house. 5 And David commanded Solomon his son, saying, I have now prepared a good house for the Lord, my God; but my son the Lord’s anointing shall sit upon the throne of David my father, and shall reign: 6 And if they rise up against my son, and gather themselves against the throne; then make you death to them according to all the evil that they have done; for they have gone away from me, in that they have gone after Baal their gods, which they have stirred up to be a trespass in mine inheritance, which I have given my people Israel, and they have done even worse than the nations.

And they gave Solomon twelve thousand chariots, and twelve thousand horsemen, over which the king dealt sumptuously: and God gave Solomon peace in all his days. 2 And Solomon spoke to all Israel, to all the assembly in the assembly of the people, that were in the feast with joy of heart, in love, and in truth, in building the house of the Lord of hosts, and in building his own house. 3 And the days that Solomon built the house of the Lord, and his own house, were twelve years.
with knowledge and understanding, who shall build a house for the Lord, and a house for his kingdom. 12 And now I have sent thee a wise and understanding man, who belonged to Chiram my father (his mother was of the daughters of Dan, and his father was a Tyrian), skilled to work in gold, and in silver, and in brass, and in iron, and in stones and wood; and to weave with purple, and blue, and fine linen, and scarlet; and to engrave, and to understand every device, whatsoever thou shalt give him to do with the house of David, my father. 13 And now, the wheat, and the barley, and the oil, and the wine which my lord mentioned, let him send to his servants. 14 And we will cut timber out of Libanus according to all thy need, and we will bring it on rafts to the sea, at Ezion-geber, and thou shalt bring it to Jerusalem.

And Solomon gathered all the foreigners that were in the land of Israel, after the numbering with which David his father numbered them; and there were found a hundred and fifty-three thousand six hundred burden-bearers, and eighty thousand hewers of stone, and three thousand six hundred taskmasters over the people.

And Solomon began to build the house of the Lord in Jerusalem in the mount of Amora, where the Lord appeared to his father David; and the place which David had prepared in the threshing-floor of Orna the Jebusite. 2 And he began to build in the second month, in the fourth year of his reign.

And thus Solomon began to build the house of God: the length in cubits—sixty cubits, and the breadth twenty cubits. 4 And the portico in front of the house, its length in front of the breadth of the house was twenty cubits, and its height was hundred and twenty cubits: and he gilded it within with pure gold. 5 And he lined the great house with cedar wood, and gilded it with pure gold, and carved upon it palm-trees and chains. 6 And he garnished the house with precious stones for beauty; and he gilded it with gold from Pharum. 7 And he gilded the house, and its inner walls, and the door-posts, and the roofs, and the doors with gold; and he carved cherubs upon the walls.

And he 8 built the holy of holies, its length was according to the front of the other house, the breadth of the house was twenty cubits, and the length twenty cubits: and he gilded it with pure gold for cherubs, to the amount of six hundred talents. 9 And the weight of the nails, even the weight of each was fifty shekels of gold: and he gilded the upper chamber with gold.

And he made two cherubs in the most holy house, wood-work, and he gilded them with gold. 11 And the wings of the cherubs were twenty cubits in length: and one wing of five cubits touched the wall of the sthmgna, and sthns, os oikodomis tis oikou tis Kyriou, kai oikou tis basileias autou. And Chiram made the fleshhooks, and the fire-pans, and the grate of the altar, and all its instruments: and Chiram finished doing all the work which he wrought for King Solomon in the house of God; 12 two pillars, and upon them an embroidered work for the chapters of the heads of the two pillars, and a work of the heads of the chapters which are on the heads of the pillars: 13 and four hundred golden bells for the two nets, and two rows of pomegranates in each net, to cover the two embroidered rings of the chapters which are upon the pillars.
14 And he made the ten bases, and he made the lavers upon the bases: 15 and the one sea, and the twelve calves under it; 16 and the foot-baths, and the buckets, and the caldrons, and the flesh-hooks, and all their furniture (which Chiram made, and brought to king Solomon in the house of the Lord) of pure brass. 17 In the country round about Jordan the king cast them, in the clay ground of the fold of the country of Secom, between that and Saradetha.

18 So Solomon made all these vessels in great abundance. So the quantity of brass failed not. 19 And Solomon made all the vessels of the house of the Lord, and the golden altar, and the tables, and upon them were the vessels of service, and all the candlesticks, and the lamps to give light according to the pattern, and in front of the oracle, of pure gold. 20 And his snuffers, and their lamps were made, and the bowls, and the censers, and the fire-pans, of pure gold. 21 And there was the inner door of the house of the Lord, and he made the inner doors of ivory, and he set thereon purple staves.

So Solomon brought in the holy things of his father David, the silver, and the gold, and the other vessels, and put them in the treasury of the house of the Lord. 2 Then Solomon assembled all the elders of Israel, and all the heads of the tribes, even the leaders of the families of the children of Israel, to Jerusalem, to bring up the ark of the covenant of the Lord out of the city of David,—this is Solomon. 3 And all Israel were assembled into the king in the feast, this is the seventh month. 4 And all the elders of Israel came; and all the Levites took up the ark, and the tabernacle of witness, and all the holy vessels that were in the tabernacle; and the priests and the Levites brought it up. 5 And king Solomon, and all the elders of Israel, and the religious of them, and they of them that were assembled, brought up the ark of the Lord out of the city of David, over against the porch of Solomon's house, where his father David had prepared it. 6 And the cherubs stretched out their wings over the place of the ark, and the cherubs covered the ark, and its staves above. 7 And the staves projected, and the heads of the staves were seen from the holy place in front of the oracle, they were not seen without; and there they were to this day.

The ark was nothing in the ark except the two tables which Moses wrote according to their daily course; 8 that all the singing Levites assigned to the sons of Asaph, to
And he stood before the altar of the Lord in the presence of all the congregation of Israel, and spread out his hands.

For Solomon had made a brazen scaffold, and set it in the midst of the court of the sanctuary; the length of it was five cubits, and the breadth of it five cubits, and the height of it three cubits: and the Lord stood upon it.

spoken with thy mouth, and hast fulfilled with thy hands, as this is day. 15 And now, Lord God of Israel, keep with thy servant David my father the things which thou spakest to him, saying, There shall not fail thee a man before me sitting on the throne of Israel, if only thy sons will take heed to their way to walk in my law, as thou didst walk before me. 17 And now, Lord God of Israel, let, I pray thee, thy word be confirmed, which thou hast spoken to thy servant David.
18 For will God indeed dwell with men upon the earth? if the heaven and the heavens of heaven will not suffice thee, what then is this house which I have built?
19 Yet thou shalt have respect to the prayer of thy servant, and to my petition, O Lord God, so as to hearken to the petition and the prayer which thy servant prays before thee this day: 20 so that thine eyes should be open over this house by day and by night, towards this place, whereon thou saidst thy name should be called, so as to hear the prayer which thy servant prays towards this house: 21 And thou shalt hear the supplication of thy servant, and of thy people Israel, whatsoever prayers they shall make towards this place: and thou shalt hear in thy dwelling-place out of heaven, yea thou shalt hear, and be merciful.
22 If a man sin against his neighbour, and he bring an oath upon him so as to make him swear, and he come and swear before the altar in this house; 23 then shalt thou hearken out of heaven, and do, and judge thy servants, to recompense the transgressor, and to return his ways upon his head: and to justify the righteous, to recompense him according to his righteousness.
24 And if thy people Israel should be put to the worse before the enemy, if they should sin against thee, and then turn and confess to thy name, and pray and make supplication before thee in this house; 25 then shalt thou hearken out of heaven and shall be merciful to the sins of thy people Israel, and thou shalt restore them to thee, and which thou gavest to them and to their fathers.
26 When heaven is restrained, and there is no rain, because they have sinned against thee, and then they shall pray towards this place, and praise thy name, and shall turn from their sins, because thou shalt afflict them; 27 then shalt thou hear from heaven, and will with mercy to the sins of thy servants, and of thy people Israel; for thou shalt shew them the good way in which they shall walk; and thou shall send rain upon thy land, which thou gavest to thy people for an inheritance.
28 If there should be famine upon the land, if there should be death, a pestil-ent wind and blight; if there should be locust and caterpillar, and if the enemy should harass them before their cities: in whatever plague and whatever distress they may be;
29 then whatever prayer and whatever sup-29 plection shall be made by any man and to all thy people Israel, if a man should know his own plague and his own sickness; and should spread forth his hands toward this house; 33 then shalt thou hear from heaven, out of thy prepared dwelling-place, and shalt be merciful, and shalt recompense to the man according to his ways, as thou shalt know his heart to be; for thou alone knowest the heart of the children of men: 34 that they may reverence all thy ways all the days which they live upon the face of the land, which thou gavest to our fathers.

22 And every sinner who is not himself of thy people Israel, and who shall have come from a distant land because of thy great name, and thy mighty hand, and thy high arm; when they shall come and worship 2 toward this place; — then shalt thou hear out of heaven, out of thy prepared dwelling-place, and shalt do according to all that the stranger shall call upon thee for; that all the nations of the earth may know thy name, and that they may fear thee, as thy people Israel do, and that they may know that thy name is called upon this house which I have built.

And if thy people shall go forth to war against their enemies by way whereupon thou shalt send them, and shall pray to thee toward this city which thou hast chosen, and toward the house which I have built to thy name; 33 then shalt thou hear out of heaven their prayer and their supplication, and maintain their cause.

Whereas if they shall sin against thee, (for there is no man who will not sin,) and thou shalt smite them, and deliver them up before their enemies, and they that take them captive shall carry them away into a land of enemies, to a land far off or near; 2 and if they shall repent in their land whither they were carried captive, and shall also turn and make supplication to thee in their captivity, saying, We have sinned, we have transgressed, we have dealt unrighteously; 2 and if they shall turn to thee with all their heart and all their soul in the land of them that carried them captives, whither they carried them captives, and shall pray toward their land which thou gavest to their fathers, and the city which thou didst choose, and the house which I built to thy name: 33 then shalt thou hear out of heaven, out of thy prepared dwelling-place, their prayer and their supplication, and thou shalt execute 4 justice, and shalt be merciful to thy people that sin against thee.

And now, Lord, let, I pray thee, thine eyes be opened, and thine ears be attentive to the petition made in this place. 4 And now, O Lord God, my prayer is turned unto thee, and my supplication, place thou, and the ark of thy strength: let thy priests, O Lord God, clothe themselves with salvation, and thy sons rejoice in prosperity. 4 O Lord God, turn not away the face of thine anointed; remember the mercies of thy servant David.

And when Solomon had finished praying, then the fire came down from heaven, and devoured the whole burnt-offerings and the sacrifices; and the glory of the Lord filled the house. 2 And the priests could not enter into the house of the Lord at that time, for the glory of the Lord filled the house. 3 And all the children of Israel saw the fire descend, and the glory of the Lord upon the altar; and they fell upon their faces to the ground, and worshipped, and praised the Lord, for it is good to do so, because his mercy endures for ever.

And the king and all the people were offering sacrifices before the Lord. 4 And king Solomon offered a sacrifice of calves and twenty thousand, and sheep a hundred and twenty thousand, so the king and all the people dedicated the house of God. 5 And the priests were standing at their watches, and the Levites with instruments of music of the Lord, belonging to King David, to give thanks before the Lord, for his mercy endures for ever, with the hymns of David, by their ministry: and the priests were blowing the trumpets before them, and all Israel standing. 6 And Solomon consecrated the middle of the court that was in the house of the Lord, for he had set for the burnt-offerings and the fat of the peace-offerings and the refrain altar which Solomon had made was not sufficient to receive the whole-burnt-offerings, and the meat-offerings, and the fat.

And Solomon kept the feast at that time seven days, and all Israel with him a very great assembly, from the entering in of Zemath, and as far as the river of Egypt. 9 And on the eighth day he kept a solemn assembly: for he kept a feast of seven days as the dedication of the altar. 10 And on the twentieth-day of the seventh month he dismissed the people to their tents, rejoicing and with glad heart because of the good deeds which the Lord had done to David, and to Solomon, and to Israel his people.

So Solomon finished the house of the Lord, and the king’s house: and in whatever Solomon wished in his heart to do in the house of the Lord and in his own house, he prospered.

And the Lord appeared to Solomon by night, and said to him, I have heard thy prayer, and I have chosen this place to myself for a house of sacrifice. 13 If I should restrain the heaven and there should be no rain, and if I should command the locust to devour the trees, and if I should send pestilence upon my people; 14 then if my people, on whom my name is called, should repent, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their evil ways, I also will hear from heaven, and I will be merciful to their sins, and I will heal their land. 15 And now my eyes shall be open, and my ears attentive to the prayer of this place. 16 And now I have chosen and sanctified this house, that my name should be there for ever: and my eyes and my heart shall be there always.

And if thou wilt walk before me, as David thy father did, and wilt do according to all that I have commanded thee, and wilt keep my ordinances and my judgments;
18 then will I establish the throne of thy kingdom, as I covenanted with David thy father, saying, There shall not fail thee a man ruling in Israel.

19 But if ye should turn away, and forsake my ordinances and my commandments, which I have set before you, and go and serve other gods, and worship them: then will I remove you from the land which I gave them; and this house which I have consecrated to my name I will remove out of my sight, and I will make it a proverb and a by-word among all nations. 20 And as for this lofty house, every one that passes by it shall be amazed, and shall say, Wherefore has the Lord done thus to this land, and to this house? 21 And men shall say, Because they forsook the Lord God of their fathers, who brought them out of the land of Egypt, and they attached themselves to other gods, and worshipped them, and served them: and therefore he has brought upon them all this evil.

And it came to pass after twenty years, in which Solomon built the house of the Lord, and wrote him a book of days, 2 and also built cities for himself, and provided chariots and horsemen, and horses for his chariots. 3 And Solomon came to Besoa, and fortified it. 4 And he built Theodmor in the wilderness, and all the strong cities which he built in Emath. 5 And he built Bethoron the upper, and Bethoron the lower, strong cities, they had walls, gates, and bars; 6 and Balaath, and all the strong cities which Solomon had, and all his chariot cities, and cities of horsemen, and all things that Solomon desired according to his desire of building, in Jerusalem, and in Libanus, and in all his kingdom.

7 As for all the people that was left of the Chettites, and the Amorites, and the Ezechites, and the Jebusites, who were left of the children of them whom the children of Israel destroyed not, that were left after them in the land, even them did Solomon make tributaries to this day. 8 But Solomon did not make any of the children of Israel servants in his kingdom; for, behold, they were warriors and rulers, and mighty men, and captains of chariots and horsemen.

9 And Solomon brought up the daughter of Pharaoh from the city of David to the house which he had built for her: for he said, My wife shall not dwell in the house of David, the king of Israel, for the place is holy into which the ark of the Lord has entered.

10 Then Solomon offered up, to the Lord whole-burnt-offerings on the altar which he had built to the Lord before the temple, 11 according to the daily rate, to offer up sacrifices according to the commandments of Moses, on the sabbaths, and 5 at the new moons, and at the feasts, three times in the year, at the feast of unleavened bread, and at the feast of weeks, and at the feast of tabernacles. 11 And he established, according to the order of his father David, the courses of the priests, and that according to their public ministrations; and the Levites were appointed over their charges, to praise and minister before the priests according to the daily order; and the porters were appointed at their courses to the different gates: for thus were the commandments of David the man of God. 12 They transgressed not the commandments of the king concerning the priests and the Levites with regard to everything else, and with regard to the treasures. 13 Now all the work that had been prepared from the day when the foundation was laid, until Solomon finished the house of the Lord.

7 Then Solomon went to Gasing Gaber, and to Ezion-geber near the sea in the land of 1men, 14 and Chiram sent by the hand of his servants ships, and servants skilled in naval affairs, and they went to Solomon to Saphora, and brought thence four hundred and fifty talents of gold, and they came to king Solomon. And the queen of Saba heard of the name of Solomon, and she came to Jerusalem with a very large force, to prove Solomon with hard questions, and she had camels bearing spices in abundance, and gold, and precious stones: and she came to Solomon, and told him all that was in her mind. 1 And Solomon told her all her words; and there passed not a word from Solomon which he told her not. 2 And the queen of Saba saw the wisdom of Solomon, and the house which he had built, and the 5meat of the tables, and the sitting of his servants, and the standing of his ministers, and their raiment; and his cupbearers, and their apparel; and the whole-burnt-offerings which he offered up in the house of the Lord; then she was in ecstasy. And she said to the king, It was a true report which I heard in my land of thy words, and of thy wisdom. 3 Yet I believed not the reports which I heard, until I came, and my eyes saw: and, behold, the half of the abundance of thy wisdom was not told me: thou hast exceeded the report which I heard. 4 Blessed are thy men, blessed are these thy servants, who stand before thee continually, and hear thy wisdom. 5 Blessed be the Lord thy God, who took pleasure in thee, to set thee upon his throne for a king, to the Lord thy God: forasmuch as the Lord thy God loved Israel to establish them for ever, therefore he has set thee there over them for a king to execute judgment and justice. 6 And she gave the king a hundred and twenty talents of gold, and spices in very great abundance, and precious stones: and there were not any where else such spices as those which the queen of Saba gave king Solomon. 7 And the servants of Solomon and the servants of Chiram brought gold to Solomon out of Saphira, and pine timber, and precious stones. 8 And the king made of the pine and silver. There the king's own ivory, and ivory harps, were also his. Solomon's men were skilled in making ivory harps and harps and sledges, and the sledges were made of ivory.

20 And all Solomon's vessels were of gold, and all the vessels of the house of the forest of Lebanon were covered with gold; silver was not thought anything of in the days of Solomon.

21 For there was no flax among all the land of Egypt brought in by the hand of the Egyptians, and there was no dung for the sheep and oxen in all the land of Egypt, but they brought it all from Pharaoh. And the king made a great throne of ivory and set in the ivory house, and on the ivory throne were set upon it pure golden vases, with gold on the handles and on the bowls and on the buckets and on the basins and on the spoons and on the大国.

22 And Solomon made the sea of cast image. And it was round, and its diameter was sixty cubits, and its height was thirty cubits; and a line of three hundred cubits did compass it round. And the height of it was a line of五十 cubits. And a vessel of ten thousand baths was the measures thereof. And he made ten bases for the sea, of beaten image. And he set them in the house of the forest of Lebanon. And the king made a great throne of ivory, and set in the ivory house, and on the ivory throne were set upon it pure golden vases, with gold on the handles and on the bowls and on the buckets and on the basins and on the spoons and on the大国.

23 And all Solomon's vessels were of gold, and all the vessels of the house of the forest of Lebanon were covered with gold; silver was not thought anything of in the days of Solomon.

24 For there was no flax among all the land of Egypt brought in by the hand of the Egyptians, and there was no dung for the sheep and oxen in all the land of Egypt, but they brought it all from Pharaoh. And the king made a great throne of ivory and set in the ivory house, and on the ivory throne were set upon it pure golden vases, with gold on the handles and on the bowls and on the buckets and on the basins and on the spoons and on the大国.
And Solomon fell asleep, and they buried him in the city of David, his father; and Roboam his son reigned in his stead.

And Roboam came to Sichem: for all Israel came to Sichem to make him king.

And it came to pass when Jeroboam the son of Nabat heard it, (now he was in Egypt, forasmuch as he had fled thither from the face of king Solomon, and Jeroboam dwelt in Egypt,) that Jeroboam returned out of Egypt.  Then and called him: and Jeroboam and all the congregation came to Roboam, saying, "Thy father made our yoke heavy, and of his heavy yoke which he put upon us, and we will serve thee.  And he said to them, Go away for three days, and then come to me.  So the people departed.

And king Roboam assembled the elders that stood before his father Solomon in his life-time, saying, How do ye counsel me to return an answer to this people?  And they spake to him, saying, If thou wouldest this day be a servant of mine father, and wouldst follow his counsel; then will I be thy servants, and will serve thee.  But if not, counsel me for we will come up to thee to-day.  And he said to them, What do ye advise that I should answer this people, who spoke to me, saying, Ease somewhat of the yoke which thy father laid upon us?  And the young men that had been brought up with him, stood before him, and said to him, Shalt thou speak to the people that spoke to thee, saying, Thy father made our yoke heavy, and do thou lighten somewhat of it from us; thus shalt thou say, My little finger shall be thicker than my father's loins.  And whereas my father chastised you with whips, I will chastise you with scorpions.

And Jeroboam and all the people came to Roboam on the third day, as the king had spoken, saying, Return to me on the third day.  And the king answered harshly; and king Roboam forsook the counsel of the old men, and spoke to them according to the counsel of the young men, saying, My father made your yoke heavy, but I will add to it: my father chastised you with whips, but I will chastise you with scorpions.

And the king hearkened not to the people, for there was a change of their minds from God, saying, The Lord has confirmed his word, which he spoke by the hand of Achia the Selerite concerning Jeroboam the son of Nabat, and concerning all Israel; for the king did not hearken to them.  And the people answered the king, saying, What portion have we in David, or inheritance in the son of Jesse? to thy tents, O Israel: now see to thine own house, David.

So all Israel went to their tents. 7 But the men of Israel, even those who dwelt in the cities of Judah, remained and made Roboam king over them.

18 And king Roboam sent to them Adoni-ram that was over the tribute; and the children of Israel stoned him with stones, and he died. And king Roboam hasted to mount his chariot, to flee to Jerusalem. 2 So Israel rebelled against the house of David until this day.

And Roboam came to Jerusalem; and he assembled Judah and Benjamin, a hundred and eighty thousand young men fit for war, and he waged war with Israel to recover the kingdom to Roboam. 2 And the word of the Lord came to Samaias the man of God, saying, 3 Speak to Roboam the son of Solomon, and to all Judah and Benjamin, saying, 'This saith the Lord, Ye shall not go up, and ye shall not war against your brethren: return every one to his home; for this thing is of me. And they hearkened to the word of the Lord, and returned from going against Jeroboam.

4 And Roboam dwelt in Jerusalem, and he built walled cities in Judah. 5 And he built Bethleem, and Etam and Theoe, 6 and Bethsura, and Sochoth, and Odollam, 7 and Gath, and Marisa, and Ziph, 8 and Adorai, and Lachis, and Azekar, and 9 Jerusalem, of which he strengthened cities, 10 and the king gathered men to him, mighty men, and men of war, strong and able for war, even thirty thousand commanders.

13 And the priests and the Levites who were in all Israel were gathered to him out of all the tribes of Israel. 14 For the Levites left the tents of their possession, and went to Judah to Jerusalem, because Jeroboam and his sons had ejected them so that they should not minister to the Lord. 15 And he made for himself priests of the high places, and for the idols, and for the vanities, and for the calves which Jeroboam made. 16 And he cast out from the tribes of Israel all those who set their heart to seek the Lord God of Israel: and they came to Jerusalem, to sacrifice to the Lord God of their fathers. 17 And they strengthened the kingdom of Judah; and Judah strengthened Roboam the son of Solomon for three years, for he walked three years in the ways of David and Benjamin.

18 And Roboam took to himself for a wife Moolath daughter of Jerimoth the son of David, and Abigail daughter of Helias the son of Jesse. 19 And she bore him sons: Jeus, and Samoria, and Zaaum. 20 And afterwards he took to himself Maacha daughter of Abassalom; and she bore him Abia, and Jethiri, and Zaa, and Solomon.

21 And Roboam loved Maacha the daughter of Abessalom more than all his wives and all his concubines: for he had eighteen wives and sixty concubines; and he begot twenty-eight sons, and sixty daughters.

And he made Abia the son of Maacha chief, even a leader among his brethren, for he intended to make him king. 2 And he was the father of all the chief men of Judah beyond the wilderness of Jericho.

And it came to pass when the kingdom of Roboam was established, and when he had grown strong, that he forsook the commandments of the Lord, and all Israel with him.

And it came to pass in the fifth year of the reign of Roboam, Susakim king of Egypt came up against Jerusalem, because they had sinned against the Lord, 3 with twelve hundred chariots, and sixty thousand horsemen, and there was no number of the multitude that came with him from Egypt: Libyans, Trogodytes, and Ethiopians. 4 And they obtained possession of the strong cities, which were in Judah, and came to Jerusalem.

And Samaias the prophet came to Roboam, and to the princes of Judah that were gathered to Jerusalem for fear of Susakim, and said to them, Thus said the Lord, Ye have left me, and I will leave you in the hand of Susakim. 6 And the elders of Israel and the king were ashamed, and said, The Lord is righteous. 7 And when the Lord saw that they repented, then came he to the word of the Lord to Samaias, saying, They have repented; I will not destroy them, but I will set them in safety 8 for a little while, and my wrath shall not be poured out on Jerusalem. Nevertheless they shall be servants, and know my service, and the service of the kings of the earth.

So Susakim king of Egypt went up against Jerusalem, and took the treasures that were in the house of the Lord, and the treasures that were in the king's house: he took all; and he took the golden shields which Solomon had made. 10 And king Roboam made brazen shields instead of them. And Susakim set over him captains of footmen, as keepers of the gate of the king. 11 And it came to pass, when the king went into the house of the Lord, the guards and the footmen went in, and they that returned to meet the footmen. 12 And when he repented, the anger of the Lord turned from him, and did not destroy him utterly; for there were good things in Judah.

So king Roboam strengthened himself in Jerusalem, and reigned: and Roboam was forty and one years old when he began to reign, and he reigned seventeen years in Jerusalem, in the city which the Lord chose out of all the tribes of the children of Israel to call his name there: and his mother's name was Noomma the Ammanites. 14 And he did evil, for he directed not his heart to seek the Lord.
15 And the acts of Rehoboam, the first and the last, behold, are they not written in the book of Samaia the prophet, and Addo the seer, with his achievements.

16 And Rehoboam made war with Jeroboam all his days.

17 And Rehoboam died with his fathers, and was buried in the city of David: and Abia his son reigned in his stead.

18 In the eighteenth year of the reign of Jeroboam Abia 8 began to reign over Juda.

19 He reigned three years in Jerusalem: And his mother's name was Maacha, daughter of Uriel of Gabaon.

20 And there was war between Abia and Jeroboam.

21 And Abia set the battle in array with an army, with mighty men of war, 15 four hundred thousand mighty men: and Jeroboam set the battle in array against him with eight hundred thousand, they were mighty warriors of the host.

22 And Abia rose up from the mount Somoron, which is in mount Ephraim, and said, Hear ye, Jeroboam, and all Israel:

23 Is it not for you to know that the Lord God of Israel has given a king over Israel for ever to David, and to his sons, by a covenant of salt?  6 But Jeroboam the son of Nebat, the servant of Solomon the son of David, is risen up, and has revolted from his master: and there are gathered to him pestilent men, transgressors, and he has risen up against Roboam the son of Solomon, while Roboam was young and fearful in heart, and he 8 withstood him not.

24 And now ye profess to resist the kingdom of the Lord in the hand of the sons of David; and ye are a great multitude, and with you are golden caldron, which Jeroboam made you for gods.  9 Did ye not cast out the priests of the Lord, the sons of Aaron, and the Levites, and make to yourselves priests of the people of any other land? whoever came to 8 consecrate himself with a cull of the herd and seven rams, he forthwith became one of the priests of the land.

25 But we are not forsaken the Lord our God, and his priests, the sons of Aaron, and the Levites, minister to the Lord; and in their daily courses 11 they sacrifice to the Lord whole-burnt-offering, morning and evening, and compound incense, and set the shewbread on the pure table; and there is the golden candlestick, and the lamps for burning, to light in the evening: for we keep the 6 charge of the Lord God of our fathers; but ye have forsaken him. 12 And, behold, the Lord and his priests are with us at our head, and the signal trumpets to sound an alarm over us. Children of Israel, fight not against the Lord God of our fathers; for ye shall not prosper.

26 Now the battle was at Ephraim, and caused an ambush to come round upon him from behind: and he himself was before Juda, and the ambush behind.

27 And Juda looked back, and behold, the battle was against them before and behind: and they cried to the Lord, and the priests sounded with the trumpets.

And the children of Israel fled from before Juda; and the Lord delivered them into their hands. And Abias and his people smote them with a great slaughter; and there fell slain of Israel five hundred thousand mighty men. So the children of Israel were brought low in that day, and the children of Juda prevailed, because they trusted on the Lord God of their fathers. And Abias pursued after Jeroboam, and he took from him the cities Bethel and her towns, and Jesum, and all her towns, and Manasseh. And Jeroboam did not recover strength again all the days of Abias; and the Lord smote him, and he died.

But Abias strengthened himself, and took to himself fourteen wives, and he begot twenty-two sons, and sixteen daughters. And the rest of the acts of Abias, and his deeds, and his sayings, are written in the book of the prophet Addo. And Abias died with his fathers, and they buried him in the city of David; and Asa his son reigned in his stead. In the reign of Abias, the land of Juda had rest ten years.

And he did that which was good and right in the eyes of the Lord his God. And he removed the altars of the strange gods, and the high places, and broke the pillars in pieces, and cut down the groves; and he told Juda to seek earnestly the Lord God of their fathers, and to perform the law and the commandments. And he removed from all the cities of Juda the altars and the idols, and established in quietness fortified cities in the land of Juda; for the land was quiet, and he had no war in these years; for the Lord gave him rest. And he said to Juda, Let us fortify these cities, and make walls, and towers, and gates, and bars; we shall prevail over the land, for as we have sought out the land, our God has brought us out, and has given us rest round about, and prospered us. And Asa had a force of armed men bearing shields and spears in the land of Juda, even three hundred thousand, and in the land of Benjamin two hundred and eighty thousand targetees and archers; these were mighty warriors.

And Zare the Ethiopian went out against them, with a force of a million, and three hundred chariots; and came to Maresa. And Asa cried to the Lord his God, and said, O Lord, it is not impossible with thee to save by many or by few; strengthen us, O Lord our God; for we trust in thee, and in thy name have we come against this great multitude. O Lord our God, let not men prevail against thee. And the Lord smote the Ethiopians before Juda; and the Ethiopians died. And Asa and his people pursued them to Gedor; and the Ethiopians fell, so that they could not recover themselves; for they were crushed before the Lord, and before his 14 And the people of the country made silver and gold vessels to the Lord, and dedicated them in the house of the Lord.

15 And they put them in the service of the house of the Lord at the same time, in addition to the vessels which King David had made for the house of the Lord.

16 Therefore all their service was done to the Lord, according to what was written in the Law, which the Lord had commanded Moses.

17 Moreover, the priests, Levites, and everyone who was willing in the house of King David, served as Levites in the house of the Lord,

18 and over the医学 of Zion and Jerusalem, and with all their appointed duties,

19 at the command of King David, his son Solomon, and the priests and Levites at the command of Asaph, Zechariah, Judd, and their brethren, the Levites, who were skilled musicians to play on the harp for the house of God, as required by King David.

20 And they were daily numbered, according to the standards of Melchizedek and of Aminadab, to conduct the duties of each person.

21 The priests were engaged in their duties according to their families, and the Levites in their families, and the gatekeepers in their families, according to their duties.

22 And they gave their share to King Solomon, and to his officials, and to the Levites, as required by the Law of Moses.

23 And all the men of Israel, to whom King Solomon assigned a share, gave their offering to the Lord, which he had given them in their abundance.

24 For king Solomon made of the gold vessels used in the Lord's temple:

25 three hundred cups of gold, each one six pounds; the king put them in the temple;

26 and the silver basins and the middle vessels and the service vessels of gold and silver were not numbered; for they were too much.

27 Moreover, the king had one hundred femorage, and twelve thousand male cattle, and a large number of sheep.

28 Moreover, there were officers for the king in all the land; and they brought provisions to the king, and to his officials, and to all the sons of Israel, and to all the people of the country.

29 Moreover, the Israelites, who had come back from the captivity, brought presents of silver and gold, as well as firstfruits and all the abundance of their land, to give to the temple of their God.

30 And king Solomon gave wages to all the Levites who served in the temple of the Lord, and to all the sons of Israel who came every year with the fixed portions of the Levites.

31 Moreover, king Solomon gave wages to all the Levites who served in the temple of the Lord, and to all the sons of Israel who came every year with the fixed portions of the Levites.

32 And all the people who went up to Jerusalem to celebrate the feast of booths, 33 brought presents for king Solomon, one hundred thousand sheep, three hundred thousand rams, and five hundred thousand jennets.

34 And they gave king Solomon also three thousand stalls of horses, from which he purposed to ride, and sixty chariots, from which he purposed to ride.

35 The rest of the cattle were for his own use, and for the use of his officers and the officers of the temple of his father.

36 And the wages of the king's servants were paid by the king from the revenues of the farms of his own country, from the revenues of the cattle of the king.

37 For he had a fleet of ships to carry gold, and as many as would come by sea to trade in Jerusalem.

38 And king Solomon had a navy of ships' captains.

39 And they traded to the king Solomon; and they brought slaves as tribute, five hundred a month, year after year.

40 And these were king Solomon's revenue for the maintenance of his kingdom: besides all that he had from his own dominion.

41 For king Solomon had richer goods, and storehouses of gold, and storehouses of silver, and vessels of every kind, and the costly stones, and timber—all that he possessed in abundance; for the Benjaminites did not bring such abundant wealth as Solomon's.

42 For the king had ships of Tarshish with the king of Tyre, which went to Lebanon, and brought cedar logs and cypress logs, 43 according to the request of king Solomon, and Solomon gave them whatever they desired, because the king had such abundant wealth.

44 Thus king Solomon exceeded all the kings of the earth in riches and wisdom.
with him until the thirty-fifth year of the reign of Asa.

And in the thirty-eighth year of the reign of Asa, the king of Israel went up against Judah, and built Rama, so as not to allow egress or ingress to Asa king of Judah.

2 And Asa took silver and gold out of the treasures of the house of the Lord, and of the king's house, and sent them to the son of Ader king of Syria, which dwelt in Damascus, saying, Make a covenant between me and thee, and between my father and thy father: behold, I have sent thee gold and silver: come, and turn away from me Baasa king of Israel, and let him depart from me.

3 And the son of Ader hearkened to king Asa, and sent the captains of his host against the cities of Israel; and smote Abel, and Dan, and Abelmaim, and all the country round Nephthali.

4 And it came to pass when Baasa heard it, he left off building Ramah, and put a stop to his work: 5 then king Asa took all Juda, and took the stones of Ramah, and its timbers, with which Baasa had built; and he built with them Gabae and Masphah.

7 And at that time came Anani the prophet to Asa king of Judah, and said to him, Because thou didst trust on the king of Syria, and didst not trust on the Lord thy God, therefore the army of Syria is escaped out of thy land. 8 Were not the Ethiopians and Libyans a great force, in courage, in horsemen, in great numbers? and did not he deliver them into thy hands, because thou trustedst in the Lord? 9 For the eyes of the Lord look upon all the earth, to strengthen every heart that is perfect toward him. In this thou hast done foolishly; henceforth there shall be war with thee. 10 And Asa was angry with the prophet, and put him in prison, for he was angry at this; and Asa vexed some of the people at that time.

11 And, behold, the acts of Asa, the first and the last, are written in the book of the kings of Juda and Israel.

12 And Asa was diseased in his feet in the thirty-ninth year of his reign, until he was very ill: but in his disease he sought not to the Lord, but to the physicians. 13 And Asa slept with his fathers, and died in the fortieth year of his reign. And they buried him in the sepulchre which he had dug for himself in the city of David, and they laid him on a bed, and filled it with spices and all kinds of perfumes of the apothecaries; and they made for him a very great funeral.

And Josaphat his son reigned in his stead, and Josaphat strengthened himself against Israel. 2 And he put garrisons in all the strong cities of Juda, and appointed captains in all the cities of Juda, and in the Lord of Ephraim, which Asa his father had taken.

And the Lord was with Josaphat, for he walked in the first ways of his father, and did not seek to idols; but he sought to
II. Chron. XVII. 5—XVIII. 5.

The Lord God of his father, and walked in the commandments of his father, and not according to the works of Israel. And the Lord prospered the kingdom in his hand; and all Judah gave gifts to Josaphat; and he had great wealth and strength: and his heart was exalted in the way of the Lord; and he removed the high places and the groves from the land of Juda.

And in the third year of his reign, he sent his chief men, and his mighty men, Abdis and Zacharias, and Nethaniael, and Mahmoud, to teach in the cities of Juda.

And they taught in Juda, and there was with them the book of the law of the Lord, and they passed through the cities of Juda, and taught the people.

And a terror of the Lord was upon all the kingdoms of the land round about Juda, and they made no war against Josaphat.

And some of the Philistines brought to Josaphat gifts, and silver, and presents; and the Arabians brought him seven thousand seven hundred rams. And Josaphat increased in greatness exceedingly, and built in Juda places of abode, and strong cities.

And he had many works in Juda: and the mighty men of war, the men of strength, were in Jerusalem.

And this is their number according to the houses of their fathers: even the captains of thousands in Juda were, Ednas the chief, and with him mighty men of strength three hundred thousand. And after him, Joanan the captain, and with him two hundred and eighty thousand.

And out of Benjamin there was a mighty man of strength, even Eliada, and with him two hundred thousand mighty men of strength.

And Josaphat had yet great wealth and glory, and he connected himself by marriage with the house of Achaab. And he went down after a term of years to Achaab to Samaria, and Achaab slew for him sheep and calves, and abundance, and for the people with him, and he much desired him to go up with him to Ramoth of the country of Gulaad. And Achaab king of Israel said to Josaphat king of Juda, Wilt thou go with me to Ramoth of the country of Gulaad? And he said to him, As I am, so also art thou, as thy people, so also is my people with thee for the war.

And Josaphat said to the king of Israel, Seek, I pray thee, the Lord to-day. And the king of Israel gathered the prophets, four hundred men, and said to them, Shall I go to Ramoth Galaad to battle, or shall I forbear? And they said, Go up, and God... shall deliver it into the hands of the king.
And Josaphat said, Is there not here a prophet of the Lord besides, that we may enquire of him? And the king of Israel said to Josaphat, There is yet one man by whom to enquire of the Lord; but I hate him, for he prophesied concerning me for good, for all his days are for evil: this is Michaiah the son of Jemla. And Josaphat said, Let not the king say so.
And the king called an eunuch, and said, Fetch quickly Michaiah the son of Jemla. And the king of Israel and Josaphat king of Judah were sitting each on his throne, and clothed in their robes, sitting in the open space at the entrance of the gate of Samaria; and all the prophets were prophesying before them. And Sedekias son of Chanan made for himself iron horns, and said, Thus saith the Lord, With these thou shalt thrust Syria until it be consumed. And all the prophets prophesied so, saying, Go up to Ramoth Galaad, and thou shalt prosper: and the king shall deliver it into the hands of the king.
And the messenger that went to call Michaiah spoke to him, saying, Behold, the prophets have spoken favourably concerning the king with one mouth; let now, I pray thee, thy words be as the words of one of them, and do thou speak good things.
And Michaiah said, As the Lord lives, whatsoever God shall say to me, that will I speak.
And he came to the king, and the king said to him, Michaiah, shall I go up to Ramoth Galaad to battle, or shall I forbear? And he said, Go up, and thou shalt prosper, and they shall be given into your hands.
And the king said to him, How often shall I solemnly charge thee that thou speak to me nothing but truth in the name of the Lord? And he said, I saw Israel scattered on the mountains, as sheep without a shepherd: and the Lord said, These have no commander; let each return to his home in peace.
And the king of Israel said to Josaphat, Said not he unto thee, that he would not prophesy concerning me good, but evil? But he said, Not so. Hear ye the word of the Lord: I saw the Lord sitting on his throne, and all the host of heaven stood by on his right hand and on his left. And the Lord said, Who will deceive Achnab king of Israel, that he may go up, and fall in Ramoth Galaad? And someone spoke this way, and another spoke that way. And there came forth a spirit, and stood before the Lord, and said, I will deceive him. And the Lord said, Whereby? And he said, I will go forth, and will be a lying spirit in the mouth of all his prophets. And the Lord said, Thou shalt deceive him; and shalt prophesy good, and decease. And now, behold, the Lord has put a false spirit in the mouth of these thy prophets, and the Lord has spoken evil against thee.
Then Sedekias the son of Chanan drew near, and smote Michaiah on the cheek, and said to him, By what way passed the Spirit... of the Lord from me to speak to thee? 23 And Michahias said, Behold, thou shalt see in that day, when thou shalt go from chamber to chamber to hide thyself.

24 And the king of Israel said, Take Michahias, and carry him back to Emer, the governor of the city, and to Joas the captain, the king's son; 25 and ye shall say, Thus said the king, Put this fellow into the prison-house, and let him eat the bread of affliction, and drink the water of affliction, until I return in peace. 26 And Michahias said, If thou do at all return in peace, the Lord has not spoken by me. And he said, Hear, all ye people.

27 So the king of Israel, and Josaphat king of Judah, and all the people, went up to Ramoth-gilead. 28 And the king of Israel said to Josaphat, Disguise me, and I will enter into the battle: and do thou put on my ruinent. So the king of Israel disguised himself, and entered into the battle. 29 Now the king of Syria had commanded the captains of the chariots that were with him, saying, Fight neither against small nor great, but only against the king of Israel. 30 And it came to pass, when the captains of the chariots saw Josaphat, that they said, It is the king of Israel: and they compassed about him to fight against him: and Josaphat cried out, and the Lord delivered him; and God turned them away from him. 31 And it came to pass, when the captains of the chariots saw that it was not the king of Israel, that they turned away from him.

32 And a man drew a bow with a good aim, and smote the king of Israel between the lungs and the breast-plate: and he said to the charioteer, Turn thine hand, drive me out of the battle, for I am wounded. 33 And the battle turned in that day; and the king of Israel remained on the chariot against Syria until evening, and died at sunset.

And Josaphat king of Juda returned to his house at Jerusalem. 2 And there went out to meet him Jew, the prophet the son of Amaziah, and said to him, King Josaphat, dost thou help a sinner, or are thy friends but one hated of the Lord? Therefore has wrath come upon thee from the Lord.

3 Nevertheless some good things have been found in thee, forasmuch as thou didst remove the groves from the land of Juda, and didst direct thine heart to seek after the Lord.

4 And Josaphat dwelt in Jerusalem: and he again went out among the people from Bersabee to the mount of Ephraim, and turned them back to the Lord God of their fathers. 5 And he appointed judges in all the strong cities of Juda, city by city. 6 And he said to the judges, Take good heed what ye do: for ye judge not for man, but for the Lord, and what ye are matters of judgment. 7 And now let thine hands work for the Lord, and for his feet, and all that he hath committed to ye. 8 Moreover Josaphat appointed in Jerusalem some of the priests, and Levites, and heads of houses of Israel, for the judgment of the Lord, and to judge the dwellers in Jerusalem. 9 And he charged them, saying, Thus shall ye do in the fear of the Lord, in truth and with a perfect heart. 10 Whatsoever man of your brethren that dwell in their cities shall bring the cause that cometh before you, between blood and blood, and between man and his companion, or between a man and a stranger; and the judge shall decide for them; so they shall not sin against the Lord; and there shall not be wrath upon you, and upon your brethren; thus ye shall do, and ye shall not sin.

11 And, behold, Amarias the priest is head over you in every matter of the Lord; and Zabdiel the son of Israel is head over the house of Judah in every matter of the king; and the scribes and Levites are before you: be strong and active, and the Lord shall be with the good.

And after this the children of Moab, and the children of Ammon, and with them Moabites, and Ammonians, rose up against Josaphat to battle. 2 And they came and told Josaphat, saying, There is come against thee a great multitude from Syria, from beyond the sea; and, behold, they are in Asanah, Thamar, this is Engadi. 3 And Josaphat was alarmed, and set his face to seek the Lord. And he prayed and prophesied in fast and in all Judah. 4 And Judah gathered themselves together to seek after the Lord: even from all the cities of Judah they came to seek the Lord.

And Josaphat stood up in the assembly of Judah in Jerusalem, in the house of the Lord, in front of the new court. And he said, 6 O Lord God of my fathers, art not thou God in heaven above, and art not thou Lord of all the kingdoms of the nations? and is there not thy name in all the mouth of dominion, and there is no one who can resist thee? 7 Art not thou the Lord that didst destroy the inhabitants of this land before thee, and didst give it to thy beloved seed of Abraham for ever? 8 And they dwelt in it, and built it in it a sanctuary to thy name, saying, 9 If there should come upon us evils, sword, judgment, pestilence, famine, we will stand before this house, and before thee, (for thy name is upon this house,) and we will cry to thee because of the affliction, and thou shalt hear, and deliver. 10 And now, behold, the children of Ammon, and Moab, and Mount Seir, with regard to whom thou didst not permit Israel to pass through their border, when they had come out of the land of Egypt, (for they turned away from them, and did not destroy them,) yet now, behold, they make attempts against us, to come forth to cast us out from our inheritance which thou gavest us. 12 O Lord our God, wilt thou not judge them? for we have no strength to resist this great multitude that is come against us; and we know not what we shall do to them: but our eyes are toward thee.

And all Judah was standing before the Lord, and their children, and their wives. 14 And Oziel the son of Zacharias, of the children of Banaias, of the sons of Elieel
the sons of Matthias the Levite, of the sons of Asaph,—upon him came the Spirit of the Lord in the assembly; 13 and he said,

14 Therefore ye, all Juda, and the dwellers in Jerusalem, and king Josaphat: Thus saith the Lord to you, even you, fear not, neither be dismayed for great mulctitude

15 and the battle is not yours, but God's. 16 To-morrow go ye down against them: behold, they come up by the ascent of Assis, and ye shall find them at the extremity of the river of the wilderness of Jeriel. 17 It is not for you to fight: understand these things, and see the deliverance of the Lord, who goeth to save you from the hand of the enemy. 18 And Josaphat bowed with his face

19 to the ground with all Juda and the dwellers in Jerusalem, and they fell before the Lord to worship the Lord. 20 And the Levites of the children of Caath, and they of the sons of Core, rose up to praise the Lord God of Israel with a loud voice.

21 And they rose early in the morning and went out to the wilderness of Theecess; and as they went out, Josaphat stood and cried, and said, Hear me, Juda, and the dwellers in Jerusalem; put your trust in the Lord God, and your trust shall be honoured; trust in his prophet, and ye shall prosper. 22 And he took counsel with the people, and set appointed men to sing psalms and praises, to give thanks, and sing the holy songs of praise in going forth before the host; and they said, Give thanks to the Lord, for his mercy endureth for ever.

23 And when they began the praise and thanksgiving, the Lord caused the children of Ammon and Moab, and the inhabitants of mount Seir that came out against Juda; and they were routed. 24 Then the children of Ammon and Moab rose up against the dwellers in mount Seir, to destroy and consume them; and when they had made an end of destroying the inhabitants of Seir, they rose up against one another so that they were utterly destroyed. 25 And Juda came to the watch-tower of the wilderness, and looked, and saw the multitude, and behold, they were all fallen dead upon the earth, not one escaped.

26 And Josaphat and his people went out to spoil them, and they found much cattle, and furniture, and spoils, and precious things: and they spoiled them, and they were three days gathering the spoil, for it was abundant for the Lord and for Josaphat and his people, and all Juda and Ephon, and with them.

27 And all the men of Juda returned to Jerusalem, and Josaphat led them with great joy, and Josaphat the king as they passed, they entered into Jerusalem with lutes and harps and trumpets, going into the house of the Lord.

28 And there was a terror of the Lord upon all the kingdoms of the land, when they heard that the Lord fought against the enemies of Israel. And the kingdom of Josaphat was at peace; and his God gave him rest round about.

And Josaphat reigned over Judah, being thirty and five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned twenty-five years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Azuba, daughter of Sali. And he walked in the ways of his father Asa, and turned not aside from that path which was right in the sight of the Lord. Nevertheless the high places yet remained; and as yet the people did not direct their heart to the Lord God of their fathers.

And the rest of the acts of Josaphat, the first and the last, behold, they are written in the history of Jeu the son of Anani, who wrote the books of the kings of Israel.

And afterwards Josaphat king of Juda entered into an alliance with Ochozias king of Israel, (now this was an unrighteous man,) by acting with and going to Tharsis; and he built ships in Eain Gabed. And Eliezer the son of Dodin of Maris prophesied against Josaphat, saying, Forasmuch as thou hast allied thyself with Ochozias, the Lord has broken thy work, and thy vessels have been wrecked. And they could not go to Tharsis.

And Josaphat slept with his fathers, and was buried in the city of David: and his son Joram his first-born was made king.

When he was thirty and two years old, Joram succeeded to his kingdom, and he reigned eight years in Jerusalem. And he had brothers, the six sons of Josaphat, Asarias, and Jieel, and Zacharias, and Azarias, and Michael, and Zaphatias: all these were the sons of Josaphat king of Juda. And their father gave them many gifts, silver, and gold, and arms, together with fortified cities in Juda: but he gave the kingdom to Joram, for he was the first-born. And Joram entered upon his kingdom, and strengthened himself, and slew all his brothers with the sword, and some of the princes of Israel.

In those days Edom revolted from Juda, and they made a kingdom over themselves. And Joram went with the princes, and all the cavalry with him; and it came to pass that he arose by night, and smote Edom that compassed him about, and the captains of the chariots, and the people fled to their tents. And Edom revolted from Juda until this day. Then Lomma at that time revolted from under his hand, because he forsook the Lord God of his fathers. For he built high cities in the cities of the roads.
caused the dwellers in Jerusalem to go a-whoring, and led Judah astray.

And there came to him a message in writing from Elihu the prophet, saying, Thus saith the Lord God of thy father David, Because thou hast not walked in the way of thy father Josaphat, nor in the ways of Asa king of Judah, but hast walked in the ways of the kings of Israel, and caused Judah and the dwellers in Jerusalem to go a-whoring, as the house of Achaab caused Israel to go a-whoring, and thou hast slain thy brethren, the sons of thy father, who were better than thyself: behold, the Lord shall smite thee with a great plague among thy people, and thy sons, and thy wives, and all thy store: and thou shalt be afflicted with a grievous disease, with a disease of the bowels, until thy bowels shall fall out day by day with the sickness.

So the Lord stirred up the Philistines against Joram, and the Arameans, and those who bordered on the Ethiopians: and they went up against Judah, and prevailed against them, and took away all the store which they found in the house of the king, and in the houses of the people of the city, and carried away all the goods, with the king's sons also, and his daughters, and none was left to him but Ochozias the youngest of his sons. And after all these things the Lord smote him in the bowels with an incurable disease.

And it continued from day to day: and when the time of the days came to two years, his bowels fell out with the disease, and he died. And they came and buried him in his sepulchre which he had made for himself in the city of David: but they did not mourn at his burial as they did at the burying of his fathers. For the Philistines had invaded the land, and he was dead a generation in Israel. And his son Joram began to reign in his stead: for the band of robbers that came against them, even the Arabsians and the Alimazonians, had slain all the elder ones. So Ochozias son of Joram king of Judah reigned.

Ochozias began to reign when he was twenty years old, and he reigned one year in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Gothalia, the daughter of Ambar. And he walked in the way of the house of Achaab; for his mother was his counsellor to do evil. And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord as the house of Achaab had done: for they were his counsellors after the death of his father to his destruction. And he walked in their counsels, and he went with Joram son of Achaab king of Israel to the war against Syria: and Ochozias went with him to Ramoth Galaad: and the archers smote Joram; and Joram returned to Jezrael to be healed of the wounds wherewith the Syrians smote him in Ramoth, when he fought against Azael king of Syria.

And Ochozias son of Joram, king of Judah, went down to see Joram the son of Achaab at Jezrael because he was sick. And destruction from God came upon Ochozias in his coming to Joram; for when he had come, Joram went out with him against Jehu the son of Namaseei, the anointed of the Lord against the house of Achaab.

And it came to pass, when Jehu was taking vengeance on the house of Achaab, that he found the princes of Judah and the brethren of Ochozias ministering to Ochozias, and he slew them, and sent also orders to slay Ochozias; and they took him while he was healing his wounds in Samaria, and they brought him to Jehu, and he slew him; and they buried him, for they said, He is the son of Josaphat, who sought the Lord with all his heart.

So there was none in the house of Ochozias to secure their power in the kingdom. 8And Gotholia, the mother of Ochozias, saw that her son was dead, and she arose and destroyed all the seed royal in the house of Juda. 9But Josabeth, the daughter of the king, took Joz the son of Ochozias and 9rescued him secretly out of the midst of the sons that were put to death, and she placed him and his nurse in a bed-chamber. So Josabeth daughter of the king Joram, sister of Ochozias, wife of Jodae the priest, hid him, and she even hid him from Gotholia, and she did not slay him. 10And he was 7with him hid in the house of God six years; and Gotholia reigned over the land.

And in the eighth year Jodae strengthened himself, and took the captains of hundreds, Azarias the son of Joram, and Ismael the son of Joanan, and Azarias the son of Obed, and Massaeus the son of Adia, and Elisaphan the son of Zacharias, with him into the house of the Lord. 2And they went round about Judah, and gathered the Levites out of all the cities of Judah, and heads of the families of Israel, and they came to Jerusalem.

And all the congregation of Juda made a covenant with the king in the house of God. 4And he shewed them the king's son, and said to them, Let the king's son, and 5the king, and the princes, and the priests, and all the people of the land, rejoice in the house of David. 4Now this is the 6thing which ye shall do. Let a third part of you, even of the priests and of the Levites, enter in on the sabbath, even into the gates of the entrances; and let a third part be in the house of the king; and another third at the middle gate; and all the people in the courts of the Lord's house. 6And let not any one enter into the house of the Lord, except the priests and the Levites, and the servants of the Levites; they shall enter in, because they are holy: and let all the people keep the watch of the Lord. 7And the Levites shall compass the king round about, every man his weapon in his hand; and while ever else goes into the house shall die: but they shall be with the king when he goes out, and when he comes in.

And the Levites and all Juda did according to all that the priest Jodae commanded them, and they took each his men from the men of Jerusalim in the sabbath to the end of the sabbath, for Jodae the priest did not dismiss the courses. 9And Jodae gave to the men the swords, and the shields, and the arms, which had belonged to king David in the house of God. And he set the whole people, every man with his arms, from the right side of the altar and the house to the left side of the altar and the house, over against the king, and he brought out the king’s son, and put him on the crown and the testimony, and Jodade the priest and his sons proclaimed him king, and anointed him, and said, Long live the king.

And Gotholia heard the sound of the people singing, and acknowledging and praising the king: and she went into the house of the Lord. And she looked, and beheld, the king stood in his place, and the princes and trumpets were at the entrance, and the princes were round the king: and all the people of the land rejoiced, and sounded the trumpets, and there were the singers singing with instruments, and 7 singing hymns of praise. And Gotholia rent her robe, and cried, Ye surely are plotting against me.

And Jodade the priest went forth, and Jodade the priest charged the captains of hundreds, even the captains of the host, and said to them, Thrust her forth outside the house, and follow her, and let her be slain with the sword. For she spake wickedly. Let her not be slain in the house of the Lord. So they let her go out; and she went through the horsemen’s gate of the house of the king, and they slew her there.

And Jodade made a covenant between himself, and the people, and the king, that the people should be the Lord’s. And all the people of the land went into the house of Baal, and tore down it and its altars, and they ground his images to powder, and they slew Matthan the priest of Baal before his altars. And Jodade the priest committed the works of the house of the Lord into the hand of the priests and Levites, and he re-established the courses of the priests and Levites which David appointed over the house of the Lord, and he appointed them to offer whole-burnt-offerings to the Lord, as it is written in the law of Moses, with gladness, and with songs by the hand of David.

And the porters stood at the gates of the house of the Lord, that no one unclean in any respect should enter in. And he took the heads of families, and the mighty men, and the chiefs of the people, and all the people of the land, and they conducted the king into the house of the Lord; and he went through the inner gate into the king’s house, and they seated the king on the throne of the kingdom. And all the people of the land rejoiced; and the city was quiet; and they slew Gotholia. And Joas was seven years old when he began to reign, and he reigned forty years in Jerusalem: and his mother’s name was Sabia of Bersabee. And Joas did that which was right in the sight of the Lord all the days of Jodade the priest. And Jodade took to himself two wives, and they bore sons and daughters.

And it came to pass afterward that it came into the heart of Joas to repair the house of the Lord. And he gathered the priests and the Levites, and said to them, Go out into the cities of Juda, and collect money of all Israel to repair the house of the Lord from year to year, and make haste to speak of it. But the Levites hastened not.

And king Josias called Joheda the chief, and said to him, Why hast thou not looked after the Levites, so that they should bring from Juda and Jerusalem, that which was prescribed by Moses the man of God, when he assembled Israel at the tabernacle of witness? For Gothola was a transgressor, and her sons tore down the house of God; for they offered the holy things of the house of the Lord to Basalim.

And the king said, Let a box be made, and let it be put at the gate of the house of the Lord without. And let men procliam in Juda and in Jerusalem, that the people should bring to the Lord, as Moses the servant of God, spoke concerning Israel in the wilderness. And all the princes and all the people gave, and brought in, and cast into the box until it was filled. And it came to pass, when they brought in the box to the officers of the king by the hand of the Levites, and when they saw that the money was not sufficient for the service of the tabernacle of the congregation, they then called the king's scribe, and the officer of the high priest, and emptied the box, and restored it to its place. Thus they did day by day, and collected much money.

And the king and Joheda the priest gave it to the workmen employed in the service of the house of the Lord, and they hired masons and carpenters to repair the house of the Lord. And the workmen wrought, and the works prospered in their hands, and they established the house of the Lord on its foundation, and strengthened it.

And when they had finished it, they brought money out of the box, and paid the workmen who repaired the house of the Lord, and gold and silver censers: and they offered up whole-burnt-offerings in the house of the Lord continually all the days of Joheda.

And Joheda grew old, being full of days, and he died, being a hundred and thirty years old at his death. And they buried him with the kings in the city of David, because he had dealt well with Israel, and with God and his house.

And it came to pass after the death of Joheda, that the princes of Juda went in, and did as Joheda did to the king. Then the king hearkened to the princes of Juda.

And they took two men of the sons of Azarias the son of Joheda the priest, and stood up above the people, and said, Thus saith the Lord, Why do ye transgress the commandments of the Lord? so shall... ye not prosper; for ye have forsaken the Lord, and he will forsake you. 21 And they conspired against him, and stoned him by command of king Joas in the court of the Lord's house. 22 So Joas remembered not the kindness which his father Jocas had exercised towards him, but slew his son. And as he died, he said, The Lord look upon it, and judge.

23 And it came to pass after the end of the year, that the host of Syria went up against him, and came against Juda and Jerusalem; and they slew all the chief of the people; and all their spoil

24 For the army of Syria came with few men, yet God gave into their hands a very large army, because they had forsaken the God of their fathers; and he brought judgments on Joas.

25 After they had departed from him, when they had left him in sore disease, then his servants conspired against him 26 because of the blood of the son of Jocas the priest, and slew him on his bed, and he died, and they buried him in the city of David, but they buried him not in the sepulchre of the kings. 27 And they that conspired against him were Zabad the son of Samareth the Ammanite, and Jozabad the son of Samareth the Moabite. 28 And all his sons, and the five hundred that had accompanied him, and the other matters, behold, they are written in the book of the kings. And Amasias his son reigned in his stead.

Amasias began to reign when he was twenty and five years old, and he reigned twenty-nine years in Jerusalem; and his mother's name was Joaath of Jerusalem.

2 And he did that which was right in the sight of the Lord, but not with a perfect heart. 3 And it came to pass, when the kingdom was established in his hand, that he slew his servants who had slain the king his father. 4 But he slew not their sons, according to the covenant of the law of the Lord, as Jehovah commanded, saying, The fathers shall not die for the children, and the sons shall not die for the fathers, but they shall die each for his own sin.

5 And Amasias assembled the house of Judah, and appointed them according to the houses of their families for captains of thousands and captains of hundreds in all Juda and Jerusalem; and he numbered them from twenty years old and upwards, and found them three hundred thousand able to go out to war, holding spear and shield.

6 Also he hired of Israel a hundred thousand mighty men for a hundred talents of silver.

7 And there came a man of God to him, saying, O king, let not the host of Israel go with thee; for the Lord is not with Israel, even all the sons of Ephraim.

8 For if thou shalt undertake to strengthen thyself with these, then the Lord shall put thee to flight before the enemies: for it is of the Lord both to strengthen and to put to flight.

9 And Amasias said to the man of God, But what shall I do for the hundred talents which I have given to the army of Israel?
And the man of God said, The Lord can give thee much more than these.

And Amasias separated from the army that came to him from Ephraim, that they might go away to their place; and they were very angry with Judah, and they returned to their place with great wrath.

And Amasias smitten him, and took his people, and went to the valley of salt, and smote there the children of Seir ten thousand.

And the children of Juda 1 took ten thousand prisoners, and they carried them to the top of the precipice, and cast them headlong from the top of the precipice, and they were all dashed to pieces.

And the king of Seir sent back so that they should not go with him to battle, went and attacked the cities of Juda, from Samaria to Bethoron; and they smote three thousand among them, and took much spoil.

And it came to pass, after Amasias had returned from Idumea, that he brought home the gods of the children of Seir, and set them up for himself as gods, and bowed down before them, and he sacrificed to them.

And the anger of the Lord came upon Amasias, and he sent him a prophet, and he said to him, Why hast thou sought the gods of the people, which have not rescued their own people out of thine hand?

And it came to pass when the prophet was speaking to him, that he said to him, Have I made thee king's counsellor? take heed lest thou be scourged: and the prophet said forebore, and said, I know that God is disposed against thee to destroy thee, because thou hast done this thing, and hast not hearkened to my counsel.

And Amasias king of Juda took counsel, and sent to Joas, son of Joachaz, son of Jeho, king of Israel, saying, Come, and let us look one another in the face.

And Joas king of Israel sent to Amasias king of Juda, saying, The thistle that was in Libanus sent to the cedar that was in Libanus saying, Give thy daughter to my son to wife; but, behold, the wild beasts of the field that are in Libanus shall come: and the wild beasts did come, and trod down the thistle.

Thou hast said, Behold, I have smitten Idumea, and thy stout heart exalts thee: now stay at home; for why dost thou implicate thyself in mischief, that thou shouldst fall, and Juda with thee.

Nevertheless Amasias hearkened not, for it was of the Lord to deliver him into the enemy's hands, because he sought after the gods of the Idumeans.

So Joas king of Israel went up; and they saw one another, and Amasias king of Juda, in Bethsamys, which is of Juda.

And Juda was put to flight before Israel, and they fled every man to his tent.

And Joas king of Israel took prisoner Amasias king of Juda, son of Joas, of Joachaz, in Bethsamys, and brought him to Jerusalem; and he pulled down part of the wall of Jerusalem from the gate of Ephraim to the corner gate, four hundred cubits.

And he took all the gold and the silver, and all the vessels that were found in the house of the
25. And Amasias the son of Joas king of Judah lived after the death of Joas the son of Joachaz king of Israel fifteen years.

26. And the rest of the acts of Amasias, the first and the last, lo! are they not written in the book of the kings of Judah and Israel?

27. And at the time when Amasias departed from the Lord, they then they formed a conspiracy against him; and he fled from Jerusalem to Lachis; and they sent after him to Lachis, and slew him there. And they took him up on horses, and buried him in the fathers in the city of David.

Then all the people of the land took Ozias, and he was sixteen years old, and they made him king in the room of his father Amasias. He built Ælath, he recovered it to Judah, after the king slept with his fathers.

Ozias began to reign at the age of sixteen years, and he reigned fifty-two years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Jecheliah of Jerusalem. And he did that which was right in the sight of the Lord, according to all that Amasias his father did.

And he sought the Lord in the days of Zacharias, who understood the fear of the Lord; and in his days he sought the Lord, and the Lord prospered him.

And he went out and fought against the Philistines, and pulled down the walls of Gath, and the walls of Azotus, and he built cities near Azotus, and among the Philistines. And the Lord strengthened him against the Philistines, and among the Arabians that dwelt on the rock, and against the Mineans. And the Mineans gave gifts to Ozias; and his fame spread as far as the entering in of Egypt, for he strengthened himself exceedingly.

And Ozias built towers in Jerusalem, both at the gate of the corner and at the valley gate and at the corner; and he fortified them. And he built towers in the wilderness, and dug many wells, for he had many cattle in the low country and in the plain; and vine-dressers in the mountain country and in Carmel: for he was a husbandman. And Ozias had an army of warriors, and that went out orderly to war, and returned orderly; and their number and their number was made by the scribe, and Amasias the judge, by the hand of Ananias the king's deputy. The whole number of the chiefs of families of the mighty men of war was two thousand six hundred; and with them was a warfare force, three hundred thousand and seven thousand and five hundred: these were of war mighty to help the king against his enemies. And Ozias prepared for them, even for all the host, shields, and spears, and helmets, and breastplates, and bows, and slings for stones. And he made in Jerusalem machines invented by a wise contriver, to be upon the towers and upon the
And when he was strong, his heart was lifted up to his destruction; and he transgressed against the Lord his God, and went into the temple of the Lord to burn incense on the altar of incense. And Azariah the high priest, and with him eighty priests of the Lord, mighty men. And they withstood OZias, the king, and said to him, "It is not for thee, OZias, to burn incense to the Lord, but only for the priests the sons of Aaron, who are consecrated to sacrifice: go forth of the sanctuary, for thou hast departed from the Lord; and this shall not be for glory to thee from the Lord God.

And OZias was angry, and in his hand was the censer to burn incense in the temple: and when he was angry with the priests, then the leprosy rose up in his forehead before the priests that ministered, and the Lord cast him out from his kingdom, over the altar of incense. And Azariah the chief priest, and the other priests, turned to look at him, and, behold, he was leprous in his forehead; and they got him hastily out thence, for he also hasted to go out, because the Lord had rebuked him. And he was a leper unto the day of his death, and he dwelt as a leper in a separate house; for he was cut off from the house of the Lord: and Jonathan his son was set over his kingdom, judging the people of the land.

And the rest of the acts of OZias, the first and the last, are written by JEHU the prophet.

JOATHAN was twenty and five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned sixty and two years in Jerusalem, and the name was Jerus, daughter of Sadoc. And he did that which was right in the sight of the Lord, according to all that his father OZias did: but he went not into the temple of the Lord. And still the people corrupted themselves.

He built the high gate of the house of the Lord, and he built much in the wall of Ope. In the mountain of Juda, and in the woods, he built both dwelling-places and towers. He fought against the king of the children of Ammon, and prevailed against him: and the children of Ammon gave him even annually a hundred talents of silver, and ten thousand measures of hay, and ten thousand measures of barley. These the king of the children of Ammon brought to him annually in the first and second and third years.

JOATHAN grew strong, because he prepared his ways before the Lord his God.

And the rest of the acts of Joatham, and his war, and his deeds, behold, they are written in the book of the kings of Juda and Israel.

And Joatham slept with his fathers, and was buried in the city of David: and Achaz his son reigned in his stead.

Josephus Flavius, Antiquities of the Jews, Book 5, Chapter 7, Section 1-10.
Achaz was five and twenty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem: and he did not that which was right in the sight of the Lord, as David his father. 2 But he walked in the ways of the kings of Israel, for he made graven images. 3 And he sacrificed and burnt incense in the high places, and upon the roofs, and under every shabby tree.

4 And the Lord his God delivered him into the hand of the king of Syria; and he smote him, and took captive of them a great band of prisoners, and carried him to Damascus. Also God delivered him into the hands of the king of Israel, who smote him with a great slaughter. 5 And Phake the son of Romelias king of Israel, slew in Juda in one day a hundred and twenty thousand mighty men; because they had forsaken the Lord God of their fathers. 6 And Zechri, a mighty man of Ephraim, slew Maasias the king's son, and Ephriam, the chief of his house, and Elinea the king's daughter. 7 And the children of Israel took captive of their brethren three hundred thousand, women, and sons, and daughters, and they spoiled them of much property, and brought the spoils to Samaria.

8 And there was there a prophet of the Lord, his name was Oded: and he went out to meet the host that were coming to Samaria, and said to them, Behold, the wrath of the Lord God of your fathers is upon Juda, and he has delivered them into your hands, and ye have slain them in wrath, and it has reached even to heaven. 9 And now ye talk of keeping the children of Juda and Jerusalem for servants and handmaidens. Lo, am I not with you to testify for the Lord your God? 10 And now hearken to me, and restore the prisoners of your brethren whom ye have taken: for the fierce anger of the Lord is upon you.

11 And the chiefs of the sons of Ephraim rose up, 12 Udias the son of Joanas, and Barachias the son of Mosolamoth, and Ezedias the son of Selem, and Amasias the son of Eliaa, upon that time, they procured property, they restored the prisoners of your brethren whom ye have taken: for the fierce anger of the Lord is upon you. 12 So the warriors left the prisoners and the spoils before the princes and all the congregation. 13 And the men who were called by name rose up, and took hold of the prisoners, and clothed all the naked from the spoils, and gave them garments and food to eat, and oil to anoint themselves with, and they helped also every one that was weak with asses, and placed them in Jericho, the city of palm-trees, with their brethren; and they returned to Samaria.

At that time king Achaz sent to the king of Assyria to help him, and on this occasion 17 because the Idumeans had attacked him, and smitten Judea, and taken a number of prisoners. 18 Also the Philistines had made an attack on the cities of the plain country, and the cities of the south of Judea, and taken Beth-azmy and 19 the things in the house of the Lord, and the things in the house of the king, and of the princes; and they gave to the king: Elon, and Galero, and Socho and her villages, and Thanna and her villages, and Gamzo and her villages: and they dwelt there. 20 For the Lord humbled Judea because of Achaz king of Judea, because he grievously departed from the Lord. 21 And there came against him Thalchaphetassar king of Assyria, and he afflicted him. 22 And Achaz took the things that were in the house of the Lord, and the things in the house of the king, and of the princes, and gave them to the king of Assyria: but he was no help to him, 23 but only troubled him in his affliction: and he departed, yet more more, from the king of Assyria. 24 I will seek after the gods of Damascus that smite me. And he said, Forasmuch as the gods of the king of Syria themselves strengthen them, therefore will I sacrifice to them, and they will help me. But they became a stumbling-block to him, and to all Israel. 25 And Achaz removed the vessels of the house of the Lord, and cut them in pieces, and shut the doors of the house of the Lord, and made to himself altars in every corner in Jerusalem: 26 and in each several city in Judea he made high places to burn incense to strange gods: and they provoked the Lord God of their fathers. 27 And the rest of his acts, and his deeds, and his first and the last, behold, they are written in the book of the kings of Judea and Israel. 28 And Achaz slept with his fathers, and was buried in the city of David; for they did not bring him into the sepulchres of the kings of Israel: and Ezechias his son reigned in his stead.

And Ezechias began to reign at the age of twenty-five years, and he reigned twenty-nine years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Abia, daughter of Zacharias. 2 And he did that which was right in the sight of the Lord, according to all that his father David had done. 3 And it came to pass, when he was established in his kingdom, in the first month, he opened the doors of the house of the Lord, and repaired them. 4 And he brought in the priests and the Levites, and put them on the east side, and said to them, Hear, ye Levites: now sanctify yourselves, and sanctify the house of the Lord God of your fathers, and cast out the impurity from the holy places. 5 For our fathers have revolted, and done that which was evil before the Lord our God, and have forsaken him, and have turned away their face from the tabernacle of the Lord, and have turned their back. 6 And they have shut up the doors of the temple, and put out the lamps, and have not burnt incense, and have not offered whole-burnt-offerings before your God.

in the holy place to the God of Israel. And the Lord was very angry with Juda and Jerusalem, and made them an astonishment, and a desolation, and a hissing, as ye see with your eyes. And, behold, your fathers have been smitten with the sword, and your sons and your daughters and your wives are in captivity in a land not their own, as is now the land of Egypt. And it is now in my heart to make a covenant, a covenant with the Lord God of Israel, that he may turn away his fierce wrath from us. And now be not wanting to your duty, for the Lord has chosen you to stand before him to minister, and to be ministers and burners of incense to him.

Then the Levites rose up, Maath the son of Amasi, and Joel the son of Azarias, of the sons of Caath: and of the sons of Merari, Kis the son of Abdi, and Azarias the son of Ilael: and of the sons of Gedon, Jodaad the son of Zemud, and Iowadi: and their sons.

And the Levites gathered their brethren, and they purified themselves according to the king's command by the order of the Lord, to purify the house of the Lord. And the priests entered into the house of the Lord, to purify it, and they cast out all the uncleanness that was found in the house of the Lord, even into the court of the house of the Lord: and the Levites received it to cast into the brook of Kedron without.

And Ezekias began on the first day, even on the new moon of the first month, to purify, and on the eighth day of the month they entered into the temple of the Lord: and they purified the house of the Lord in eight days: and on the eighteenth day of the first month they finished the work.

And they went in to king Ezekias, and said, We have purified all the things in the house of the Lord, the altar of whole-burnt-offering, and its vessels, and the table of shew-bread, and the vessels of service in the temple of the Lord: all king Ahab polluted in his reign, in his apostacy, we have prepared and purified: behold, they are before the altar of the Lord.

And king Ezekias rose early in the morning, and gathered the chief men of the city, and went up to the house of the Lord.

And he brought seven calves, seven rams, seven lambs, seven kids of goats for a sin-offering, for the kingdom, and for the holy things, and for Israel: and he told the priests the sons of Aaron to go up to the altar of the Lord. And they slew the calves, and the priests received the blood, and poured it on the altar: and they slew the rams, and poured the blood upon the altar: and they slew the lambs, and poured the blood round the altar: and they brought the goats for a sin-offering before the king and the congregation; and laid their hands upon them. And the priests slew them, and offered their blood as a propitiation on the altar: and they made stonement for all Israel: for the king said, The whole-burnt-offering, and the sin-offerings are for all Israel. 23 And he stationed the Levites in the house of the Lord with cymbals, and lutes, and harps, according to the commandment of king David, and of Nathan and Asaph the prophet: for by the commandment of the Lord the order was in the hand of the prophets. 24 And the Levites stood with the instruments of David, and the priests with trumpets. 25 And Ezekias told them to offer up the whole-burnt-offering on the altar that was before the house of the Lord, when they had done offering it, the king and all that were present bowed, and worshipped. 26 And king Ezekias and the princes told the Levites to sing hymns to the Lord in the words of David, and of Asaph the prophet: and they sang hymns with gladness, and fell down and worshipped. 27 Then Ezekias answered and said, Now ye have consecrated yourselves to the Lord, bring near and offer sacrifices of praise in the house of the Lord. And the congregation brought sacrifices and thank-offerings into the house of the Lord; and every one who was ready in his heart brought. 28 And the number of the whole-burnt-offerings which the congregation brought, was seventy calves, a hundred rams, two hundred lambs: all these were for a whole-burnt-offering to the Lord. 29 And the consecrated calves were six hundred, and the sheep three thousand. 30 But the priests were not yet purified; and the Levites had not purified themselves: for the Levites more zealously purified themselves than the priests. 31 And the whole-burnt-offering was abundant, with the fat of the complete peace-offering, and the drink-offerings of the whole-burnt-sacrifice. So the service was established in the house of the Lord. 32 And Ezekias and all the people rejoiced, because God had prepared the people: for the thing was done suddenly. 33 And Ezekias sent to all Israel and Judah, and to Ephraim and Manasse, that they should come into the house of the Lord to Jerusalem, to keep the passover to the Lord God of Israel. 34 For the king, and the princes, and all the congregation in Jerusalem, designed to keep the passover in the second month. 35 For they could not keep it at that time, because a sufficient number of priests had not purified themselves, and the people was not gathered to Jerusalem. 36 And the proposal pleased the king and the congregation. 37 And they established a decree that a proclamation should go through all Israel, from Bersabee to Beersheba, 38 to gather the people to Jerusalem, to keep the passover unto the Lord, according to the word of the Lord. 39 And all Israel took counsel together to keep this decree, and this resolution. 40 And many of the king's people brought provision for the king. 41 And they gathered to Jerusalem, according to the counsel of the king, and of the princes, and of the whole congregation. 42 And there was a very great congregation in Jerusalem: 43 from the children of Levi according to their fathers' houses, even eight hundred and eighty and two and thirty. 44 And from the children of Aaron, two hundred and twenty and two. 45 Of the porters, two hundred and fifty and five. 46 Of the priests, four hundred and thirty and two. 47 Of the Levites, four hundred and thirty and two. 48 Of the princes in Jerusalem, four hundred and sixty. 49 Of the children of Israel, in all, a congregation to keep the passover, and the feast of unleavened bread, two hundred and fifty and six thousand and six hundred and fifty. 50 And their oxen were a hundred and thirty and two, and their rams a hundred and thirty and two, and their sheep seven hundred and forty and five. 51 And they kept the feast seven days, and the seven days of the feast of unleavened bread together, forty and eight days. 52 And it came to pass on the first day of the feast of unleavened bread, that the priests brought the passover lamb in. 53 And they said, Behold, the passover lamb is come, as the Lord did say. 54 And it came to pass, that as they had prepared the altar, to burn the burnt-offering, even when the priests were come out of the holy place, that they brought the passover lamb, and offered it up for a burnt-offering. 55 And the people sat down to eat and drink, and rejoiced. 56 And when they had made an end of eating, they confessed the Lord, and blessed the king. 57 And that day was begun, and this is a matter of long duration, and of much joy, and of happiness. 58 And this feast abode with them, in the time of the king. 59 For the word of the Lord came to the children of Israel, through Ezekias the king, that they should keep the feast of unleavened bread. 60 And the children of Israel did this, according to the word of the Lord, and they did it with joy. 61 And Ezekias the king answered, and said, The good word of the Lord came to the children of Israel, that they should keep this feast. 62 And he did the multitude good, and put much joy in their souls, and made them rejoice in the house of the Lord. 63 And the feast of unleavened bread lasted seven days: and they burned up the burnt-offerings and the peace-offerings, and praised the Lord, the God of their fathers.
6 And the posts went with the letters from the king and the princes to all Israel and Judah, according to the command of the king, saying, Children of Israel, return to the Lord God of Abraham, and Isaac, and Israel, and bring back them that have escaped, and those that are left of the hand of the king of Assyria. 7 And be not as your fathers, and your brethren, who revolted from the Lord God of their fathers, and he gave them up to desolation, as ye see. 8 And now harden not your hearts, as your fathers did: give glory to the Lord God, and enter into his sanctuary, which he hath sanctified for ever: and serve the Lord your God, and he shall turn away his fierce anger from you. 9 For when ye turn to the Lord, your brethren and your children shall be pitied before all that have carried them captives, and he will restore you to this land: for the Lord our God is merciful and pitiful, and will not turn away his face from you, if we return to him. 10 So the posts went through from city to city in mount Ephraim, and Manasse, as far as Zabulon: and they read it, and mocked them. 11 But the men of Aser, and some of Manasses and of Zabulon, were ashamed, and came to Jerusalem and Judah. 12 And the hand of the Lord was present to give them one heart to come, to do according to the command of the king and of the princes, by the word of the Lord. 13 And a great multitude were gathered to Jerusalem to keep the feast of unleavened bread in the second month, a very great congregation. 14 And they arose, and took away the altars that were in Jerusalem, and all on which they burnt incense to false gods they tore down and cast into the brook Kidron. 15 Then they killed the passover on the fourteenth day of the second month: and the priests and the Levites purified themselves, and purified themselves, and brought burnt-offerings into the house of the Lord. 16 And they stood at their post, according to their ordinance, according to the commandment of Moses the man of God: and the priests received the blood from the hand of the Levites. 17 For a great part of the congregation was not sanctified; and the Levites were ready to kill the passover for every one that could not sanctify himself to the Lord. 18 For the greatest part of the people of Ephraim, and Manasse, and Issachar, and Zabulon, had not purified themselves, but ate the passover contrary to the scripture. On this account also Ezekias prayed concerning them, saying, 19 The good Lord be merciful with regard to every heart that sincerely trembled before the Lord God of their fathers, and is not purified according to the purification of the sanctuary. 20 And the Lord hearkened to Ezekias, and healed the people. 21 And the children of Israel who were present in Jerusalem kept the feast of unleavened bread seven days with great joy; and they continued to sing hymns to the Lord daily, and the priests and the Levites played on instruments to the Lord. And Ezekiæs b encouraged all the Levites, and those that had good understanding of the Lord: and they completely kept the feast of unleavened bread seven days, offering peace-offerings, and confessing to the Lord and to their fathers.

And the congregation purposed together to keep other seven days: and they kept seven days with gladness. For Ezekiæs set apart for Juda, even for the congregation, a thousand calves and seven thousand sheep; and the princes set apart for the people a thousand calves and ten thousand sheep: and the holy things of the priests abundantly. And all the congregation, the priests and the Levites, rejoiced, and all the congregation of Juda, and they that were present of Jerusalem, and the strangers that came from the land of Israel, and the dweller in Juda, and their strangers. And there was great joy in Jerusalem: from the days of Solomon the son of David king of Israel there was not such a feast in Jerusalem. Then the priests the Levites rose up and blessed the people: and their voice was heard, and their prayer came into his holy dwelling-place, even into heaven.

And when all these things were finished, all Israel that were found in the cities of Juda went out, and broke in pieces the pillars, and cut down the groves, and tore down the high places and the altars out of all Juda and Benjamin, also of Ephraim and Manasse, till they made an end: and all Israel was rejoiced in the law of the Lord. And they told the people who dwelt in Jerusalem, to give the portion of the priests and the Levites, that they might be strong in the ministry of the house of the Lord. And as he gave the command, Israel brought abundantly first-fruits of corn, and wine, and oil, and honey, and every fruit of the field, and the children of Israel and Juda brought tithes of everything abundantly. And they that dwelt in the cities of Juda themselves also brought tithes of calves and sheep, and tithes of goats, and consecrated them to the Lord their God, and they brought them and laid them in heaps. In the third month the heaps began to be piled, and in the seventh month they were finished. And Ezekiæs and S princes came and saw the heaps, and blessed the Lord, and his people Israel. 9 Then Ezekias enquired of the priests and the Levites concerning the heaps. 10 And Azarias the priest, the chief over the house of the Lord; and they privok began he brought into the house of the Lord, we have eaten and drunk, and left even abundantly; for the Lord has blessed his people, and we have left to this amount. 11 And Ezekias told them yet farther to prepare chambers for the house of the Lord; and they privok, and they brought thither the first-fruits of the land, and the tithes faithfully: and Chonemias the Levite was superintendent over them, and Semei his brother was next. 12 And Jeeiel, and Ozias, and Naeth, and Asael, and Jermoth, and Jozabad, and Eliel, and Samachia, and Maath, and Banaias, and his sons, were appointed by Chonemias and Semei his brother, as Ezekias the king, and Azauas who was over the house of the Lord commanded.

11 And Core, the son of Jemna the Levite, the porter eastward, was over the gifts, to distribute the first-fruits of the Lord, and the most holy things, 12 by the hand of Odom, and Benjamin, and Jesus, and Semei, and Amarias, and Sechonnias, by the hand of the priests faithfully, to give to their brethren according to the courses, as well to great as small; besides the increase of males from three years old and upward, to every one entering into the house of the Lord, a portion according to a daily rate, for service in the daily courses of their order. 13 This is the distribution of the priests according to the houses of their families; and the Levites in their daily courses from twenty years old and upward were in their order, to assign stations for all the increase of their sons and their daughters, for the whole number: for they faithfully sanctified the holy place. 14 As for the sons of Aaron that executed the priests' office— even those from their cities, the men in each several city who were named expressly, were appointed to give a portion to every male among the priests, and to every one reckoned among the Levites.

16 And Ezekias did so through all Juda, and did that which was good and right before the Lord his God. 17 And in every work which he began in service in the house of the Lord, and in the law, and in the ordinances, he sought his God with all his soul, and β wrought, and prospered. 18 And after these things and this faithfull dealing, came Sennacherim, king of the Assyrians, and he came to Juda, and encompassed against the fortified cities, and intended to take them for himself. 19 And Ezekias saw that Sennacherim was come, and that his face was set to fight against Jerusalem. 20 And he took counsel with his elders and his mighty men to stop the wells of water which were without the city: and they helped him. 21 And he collected many people, and stopped the wells of water, and the river that flowed through... the city, saying, Lest the king of Assyria come, and find much water, and strengthen himself.

5 And Ezekias strengthened himself, and built all the wall that had been pulled down, and the towers, and another wall in front without, and fortified the strong place of David, and prepared arms in abundance. 6 And he appointed captains of war over the people, and they were gathered to meet him to the open gate of the valley, and he encouraged them, saying, "Be strong and courageous, and fear not, neither be dismayed before the king of Assyria, and before all the nations that is with him: for there are more with us than with him. 7 With him are arms of flesh; but with us is the Lord our God to save us, and to fight our battle. And the people were encouraged at the words of Ezekias king of Juda.

8 And afterward Sennacherim king of the Assyrians sent his servants to Jerusalem, and he sent himself against Lachis, and all his army with him, and sent to Ezekias king of Juda, and to all Judas that was in Jerusalem, saying, 9 Thus says Sennacherim king of the Assyrians, On what do ye trust, that ye will remain in the siege in Jerusalem? Do not Ezekias deceive you, to deliver you to death and famine and thirst, saying, 'The Lord our God will deliver us out of the hand of the king of Assyria?' 10 Is not this Ezekias who has taken down his altars and his high places, and has spoken to Juda and the dwellers in Jerusalem, saying, 'Ye shall worship before this altar, and burn incense upon it?' 11 Know ye not what I and my fathers have done to all the nations of the countries? Could the gods of the nations of all the earth at all rescue their people out of my hand? 12 Who is there among all the gods of those nations whom my fathers utterly destroyed, worthy of trust, who deliver their people out of my hand, that your God should deliver you out of my hand? 13 Now then, let not Ezekias deceive you, and let him make you thus confident, and believe him not: for no god of any kingdom or nation is at all able to deliver his people out of my hand, or the hand of my fathers: therefore your God shall not deliver you out of my hand.

14 And his servants continued to speak against the Lord God, and against his servant Ezekias.

15 And he wrote a letter to reproach the Lord God of Israel, and spoke concerning him, saying, 'As the gods of the nations of the earth have not delivered their people out of my hand, so the God of Ezekias shall by no means deliver his people out of my hand. 16 And he cried with a loud voice in the Jews' language to the people of Jerusalem on the wall, calling them to assist them, and pull down the walls, that they might take the city. 17 And he spoke against the God of Jerusalem, even as against the gods of the nations of the earth, the works of the hands of men.'

18 And king Ezekias and Esaias the prophet the son of Amos prayed concerning these 8 Gr. spoke to their heart. 7 Or. book.

21 And he strengthened King Jehoiakim, and made him strong against the king of Egypt: and he made war on the Philistines, and subdued the Philistines, and made Sion and Judah safe.

22 And Chaldea came against him, and Jehoiakim made with them a league, and gave them the use of the silver and gold that was in the house of the Lord, and in the treasures of the king's house.

23 Then came Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon against him: and the Chaldeans, which were with him, besieged him in Jerusalem, and slew the king, and took the kingdom.

24 Then the Chaldeans parted the silver and the gold, and the vases of silver and of gold, and carried the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the king's house, into Babylon.

25 Now Jehoiachin was eighteen years old when he began to reign, and he reigned in Jerusalem thirty-seven years. And his mother's name was Nehushtan. And the name of his queen mother was Adal.

26 And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, according to all that his fathers did; and his heart was not perfect with the Lord his God, as was the heart of David.

27 Nevertheless the Lord was wroth with Judah because of the highplaces, and he delivered them unto the Chaldeans, to the Babylonians; who burnt up Jerusalem, and slew its inhabitants, and made it waste.

28 So the Lord transplanted Israel from their own land; and as a sure punishment he delivered them into the hand of their enemies, until this day.

29 Moreover all Israel and Judah, which were returned from Babylon, fell by the sword, by famine, and by disease, from the day the Lord smote them, even unto this day, according to the word of the Lord which he spake by his servants the prophets.

30 Also Manasseh the king of Judah, and his sons, with whom the king of Babylon dwelt, and also with the princes of Babylon, which they brought up from Babylon; they came to judgment with them in the land of Judah, and caused the children of Judah to fall by the sword.

31 And the rest of the acts of Manasseh, and his princes, and his horses, and his chariots, and the cities which he built, and the walls which he set up, are they written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah.

32 And he died in Jerusalem; and they buried him in the place which Solomon his father had given him in the city of David: and Rezin the Aramean came up to Damascus, and took it, and carried away the people thereof, and destroyed the city.

33 And the rest of the acts of Manasseh, and his prayer for himself, and the word of the vision of Isaiah the son of Amoz, concerning him, behold, they are written in the book of the kings of Judah and Israel.

34 Then Uzziah the king was sick, and had a disease of his forehead the rest of his life: and they built him alomet. And Jotham his son went in to view his father, but they put a veil upon him: and he did not see his father in the house of the Lord, unto the day of his death, because he had seen the Lord: for he was troubled with a very great disease in his sight.

35 So Jotham reigned four years in Jerusalem, and his mother's name was Jerushah the daughter of Zadok.

36 And the acts of Jotham, are they not written in the book of the kings of Judah and Israel? And Ahaz his son reigned in Jerusalem, and his mother's name was Jecholiah the daughter of Shimeath of Sepharvaim.

37 And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, according to all that his fathers did. And he burned incense in the vale of Hinnom, and worshipped the stars, according to all that the sons of Kirjath-jearim had done: and he builded high places for Baal, and made groves, and worshiped all the host of heaven, and served them. And he built and built in the house of the Lord, concerning which the Lord said, In Jerusalem shall be my name for ever. And he built altars to all the host of heaven in the two courts of the house of the Lord. Also he passed his children through the fire in the Valley of Ben-hinnom: and he divided, and used sores, and sorceries, and appointed them who had divining spirits, and enchanters, and wrought abundant wickedness before the Lord, to provoke him. And he set the graven image, the molten statue, the idol which he made, in the house of God, which God had said to David and to Solomon his son, In this house, and Jerusalem, which I have chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, I will put my name for ever; and I will not again remove the foot of Israel from the land which I gave to their fathers, if only they will take heed to do all things which I have commanded them, according to all the law and the ordinances and the judgments given by the hand of Moses. So Manasses led astray Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, to do evil beyond all the nations which the Lord cast out from before the children of Israel.

And they spoke to Manasses, and to his people: but they hearkened not. And the Lord brought upon them the captains of the host of the king of Assyria, and they took Manasses in bonds, and bound him in fetters, and brought him to Babylon. And when he was afflicted, he sought the face of the Lord his God, and prayed to the Lord God of his fathers; and he prayed unto him: and he hearkened to him, and listened to his cry, and brought him back to Jerusalem to his kingdom: and Manasses knew that the Lord he is God.

And afterward he built a wall without the city, Damascus forthward in the valley, and at the entrance through the fish-gate, as men go out by the gate round about, even as far as Ophel; and he raised it much, and set captains of the host in all the fortified cities in Judah. And he removed the strange gods and the graven image out of the house of the Lord, and all the altars which he had built in the mount of the house of the Lord, and in Jerusalem, and without the city. And he repaired the altar of the Lord, and offered upon it a sacrifice of peace-offering and thank-offering, and he told Judah to serve the Lord God of Israel. Nevertheless the people offered on the high places, only to the Lord their God.

And the rest of the acts of Manasses, and his prayer to God, and the words of the seers that spoke to him in the name of the God of Israel, behold, they are in the account of his prayer; and God hearkened to him. And all his sins, and his backslidings, and the sin which he had built the high places, and set there groves and graven images, before he repented, behold, they are written in the books of the seers. And Manasses slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the garden of his house: and Amon his son reigned in his stead.

Amon was twenty and two years old when he began to reign, and he reigned two years in Jerusalem. And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, as his father Manasses did: and Amon sacrificed to all the gods which his father Manasses had made, and served them. And he was not humbled before the Lord like his father Manasses was humbled; for his son Amon abounded in transgression. And his servants conspired against him, and slew him in his house. And the people of the land slew the men who had conspired against king Amon; and the people of the land made Josias his son king in his stead.

Josias was eight years old when he began to reign, and he reigned thirty-one years in Jerusalem. And he did that which was right in the sight of the Lord, and walked in the ways of his father David, and turned not aside to the right hand or to the left.

And in the eighth year of his reign, and he being yet a youth, he began to seek the Lord God of his father David: and in the twelfth year he began to purge Judah and Jerusalem from the high places, and the groves, and the images. And he pulled down the altars of Baalim that were before his face, and the high places that were above them; and he cut down the groves, and the graven images, and broke in pieces pieces the molten images, and reduced them to powder, and cast it upon the surface of the tombs of those who had sacrificed to them.

And he burnt the bones of the priests upon the altars, and purged Judah and Jerusalem. And he did so in the cities of Manasse, and Ephraim, and Symeon, and Nephthali, and the places round about them. And he pulled down the altars and the groves, and he cut the idols in small pieces, and cut off all the high places from all the land of Israel, and returned to Jerusalem.

And in the eighteenth year of his reign, after having cleansed the land, and the house, he sent Saphan the son of Ezelas, and Maasa prefect of the city, and Juchab son of Machath overseer of the works, who came to Checles the high priest, and gave him the money that was brought into the house of God, which the Levites who kept the gate collected of the hand of Manasse and Ephraim, and of the princes, and of every one that was left in Israel, and of the children of Juda and Benjamin, and of the dwellers in Jerusalem, and all Juda: and they gave it into the hands of the workmen, who were appointed in the house of the Lord, and they gave it to the workmen who wrought in the house of the Lord, to repair and strengthen the house. They gave it also to the carpenters and builders, to buy squared stones, and timber for beams to cover the house, and thus the kings of Juda had destroyed. And the men were faithfully employed in the works; and over them were superintendents, Jeth and Abdias, Levites of the sons of Merari, and Zacharias and Mosollam, of the sons of Caith.
appointed to oversee; and every Levite, and every one that understood how to play on musical instruments. And overseers were over the burden-bearers, and over all the workmen in the respective works; and of the Levites were appointed scribes, and judges, and porters.

And when they brought forth the money that had been brought into the house of the Lord, Chelcias the priest found a book of the law of the Lord given by the hand of Moses. And Chelcias answered and said to Saphan the scribe, I have found a book of the law in the house of the Lord. And Chelcias gave the book to Saphan. And Saphan brought in the book to the king, and moreover gave an account to the king, saying, This is all the money given into the hand of thy servants that work. And they have collected the money that was found in the house of the Lord, and given it into the hand of the overseers, and into the hand of them that do the work.

And Saphan the scribe brought word to the king, saying, Chelcias the priest has given me a book. And Saphan read it before the king. And it came to pass, when the king heard the words of the law, that he rent his garments. And the king commanded Chelcias, and Chedias, the son of Saphan, and Abdon the son of Michaias, and Saphan the scribe, and Asaia the servant of the king, saying, Go, enquire of the Lord of me, and for every one that is left in Israel and Judah, concerning the words of the book that is found: for great is the wrath of the Lord which has been kindled amongst us, because our fathers have not hearkened to the words of the Lord, to do according to all the things written in this book.

And Chelcias went, and the others whom the king told, to Oida the prophetess, the wife of Selmak son of Theoc, son of Aras, who was a commandant; and she dwelt in Jerusalem in the second quarter: and they spoke to her accordingly.

And she said to them, Thus has the Lord God of Israel said, Tell the man who sent you to me, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I bring evil upon this place, even all the words that are written in the book that was read before the king of Judah: for because they have forsaken me, and burnt incense to strange gods, that they might provoke me by all the works of their hands; and my wrath is kindled against this place, and it shall not be quenched. And concerning the king of Judah, who sent you to seek the Lord, thus shall ye say to him, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, As for the words which thou hast heard, forasmuch as thy heart was ashamed, and thou wast humbled before me when thou hearest my words against this place, and against the inhabitants of it, and thou wast humbled before me, and didst rend thy garments, and didst weep before me, and also he has heard, saith the Lord, Behold, I will gather thee to thy fathers, and thou shalt be gathered to thy grave in peace, and thine eyes shall not see all the evil that I will bring upon this place.

29 And Joash the king took all the articles that were in the house of the Lord, and Josiah the priest and Amariah the scribe and Joash the king’s son.

30 All the gold and silver, and all the vessels that Solomon, king of Israel, had made in the temple of the Lord, even all the king’s vessels, did Joash king of Judah take away.

31 And took away all the vessels that were left, which Melchior the king of the Chaldeans brought to Solomon when his father David was dead. And the brass pillars which the sea was joined with, and the other vessels of brass.

32 And took away also the shields which Solomon had made to carry about in the house of the Lord, and delivered them to the captains of the guard who kept the doors of the house of the Lord. 33 And king Joash commanded, and they carried them out of the house of the Lord, to the house of Jonathan the son of Elaseah. 34 And they took them to the place of the old men, who sat in the benefaction of the old men, and delivered them there. 35 And they took away the vessels of gold which were in the house of the Lord, and the vessels of silver:

36 And all the vessels which Joash found, when he entered into the house of the Lord, consecrated them to the service of the Lord. 37 And he gave them to the overseers of the sanctuary, to put them in the house of the Lord, in the place where they should be, in the holy place of the house of the Lord. 38 And they gave them into the hands of Ahimelech the chief priest. 39 And all the king’s sons, the prophets, and all the people, had joy. 40 And they looked upon all the evils which I am bringing upon this place, and upon the inhabitants of it. And they brought back word to the king. 41 And the king sent and gathered the elders of Judah and Jerusalem.

42 And the king went up to the house of the Lord, and all the people of Judah and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and the priests, and the Levites, and all the people great and small; and he read in their ears all the words of the book of the covenant that were found in the house of the Lord. 43 And the king stood at a pillar, and made a covenant before the Lord, to walk before the Lord, to keep his commandments, and his testimonies, and his ordinances, with all his heart and with all his soul, so as to perform the words of the covenant that were written in this book. 44 And he caused all that were found in Jerusalem and Benjamin to stand; and the inhabitants of Jerusalem made a covenant in the house of the Lord God of their fathers.

45 And Josias removed all the abominations out of the whole land which belonged to the children of Israel, and caused all that were found in Jerusalem and in Israel, to serve the Lord their God all his days: he departed not from following the Lord God of his fathers.

46 And Josias kept a passover to the Lord his God; and sacrificed the passover on the fourteenth day of the first month. 2 And he appointed the priests at their charges, and encouraged them for the services of the house of the Lord. 3 And he told the Levites that were able to act in all Israel, that they should consecrate themselves to the Lord: and they put the holy ark in the house which Solomon the son of David king of Israel built: and the king said, Ye must not carry anything on your shoulders: now then minister to the Lord your God, and to his people Israel. 4 And prepare yourselves according to the houses of your families, and according to your daily courses, according to the writing of David king of Israel, and the orders of his son Solomon. 5 And the house was consecrated to the Lord, according to all that was written in the book of the covenant of God. 6 And there was much joy among the people, for the works which the priests did were clean. 7 And they did not neglect any of the words of the book, which was engraved in the stones. 8 And the king commanded to gather together the Levites, to provide for the sacrifices of the Lord. 9 And the Levites provided for the sacrifices of the Lord, and the king gave them to the Levites to offer sacrifices and burnt offerings. 10 And the king gave to the children of the people, sheep, and cattle; and the princes gave to the children of the king for sacrifices. 11 And the children of the king furnished the burnt offerings nine years. 12 And the children of the people continued to furnish the burnt offerings of the Lord, according to the charge of the children of their fathers. 13 And they made the consecration of the vessels of the house of the Lord. 14 And all the congregation of Israel who had come into the house of the Lord, and the priests and the Levites, and all the children of Israel, and the priests, and the Levites, and all the congregation of Israel, and the king, and the princes, and the men of credit, and all the people, had joy in the sacrifices of the burnt offerings, 15 And the children of Israel, and the children of the king, and all the congregation of Solomon’s house had joy. 16 And the Levites, the children of Aaron, and their children, and the children of Merari, 17 And the rest of the children of Israel, and the priests and the Levites, did according to the word of God, and what was written in the book. 18 And Josias was twenty and six years old when he began to reign, and twenty and seven years he reigned in Jerusalem. 19 And his heart was devoted to the Lord all the days of his reign, and did that which was right in the sight of the Lord. 20 But the high places were not removed, yet the hand of Jehu the son of Hanani the seer was against the Altars of the high places until the day of the king Josias. 21 And the rest of the acts of Josias, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the acts of the days of the kings of Judah?
Jozabad, heads of the Levites, gave an offering to the Levites for the passover, of five thousand sheep and five hundred calves.

And the service was duly ordered, and the priests stood in their place, and the Levites in their divisions, according to the command of the king. 11 And they slew the passover, and the priests sprinkled the blood from their hand, and the Levites flayed the victims. 12 And they prepared the whole-burnt-offering to give to them, according to the division by the houses of families, even to the sons of all the people, to offer the Lord, as it is written in the book of Moses. 13 And thus they did till the morning. And they roasted the passover with fire according to the ordinance; and boiled the holy pieces in copper vessels and caldrons, and the feast went on well, and they quickly served all the children of the people.

And after they had prepared for themselves and for the priests, for the priests were engaged in offering the whole-burnt-offerings and the fat until night, then the Levites prepared for themselves, and for their brethren the sons of Aaron. 15 And the sons of Aaron were at their places, according to the commands of David, and Asaph, and Ezechias, and Idithon, the prophets of the king: also the priests and the porters of the several gates;—it was not for them to stir from the service of the holy things, for their brethren the Levites prepared for them all the service of the Lord the eighteenth year of Josias king of Judah. 16 So all the service of the Levites was ordered, and prepared in that day, 17 for keeping the passover, and offering the whole-burnt-sacrifices on the altar of the Lord, according to the command of king Josias. 18 And the children of Israel, that were present, kept the passover at that time, and the feast of unleavened bread seven days.

And there was no passover like it in Israel from the days of Samuel the prophet, 19 or any king of Israel: they kept not such a passover as Josias, and the priests, and the Levites, and all Judah and Israel that were present, and the dwellers in Jerusalem, and Jerusalem: and with the reign of Josias this passover was kept, after all these things that Josias did in the house. And king Josias burnt 4 those who had in them a divine spirit, and the wizards, and the images, and the idols, and the sodomites which were in the land of Judah and in Jerusalem, that he might contaminate the land, according to the word of the Lord which he had written in the book which Chelcias the priest found in the house of the Lord. There was no king like him before him, who turned to the Lord with all his heart, and all his soul, and all his strength, according to all the words of Moses, and after him there rose up none like him. Nevertheless the Lord turned from the anger of his fierce wrath, wherewith the Lord was greatly angry against Judah, for all the provocations wherein Manasses provoked him: and the Lord said, I will even remove Juda also from my presence, as I have removed Israel, 20 And Pharaoh Nechoh king of Egypt went up against the king of the Assyrians to the river Euphrates, and king Josias went to meet him: and he sent messengers to him, saying, What have I to do with thee, O king of Judah? I am not come to-day to war against thee; and God has told me to hasten: beware of the God that is with me, lest he destroy thee.

21 However Josias turned not his face from him, but strengthened himself to fight against him, and hearkened not to the words of Nechoh by the mouth of God, and he came to fight in the plain of Megiddo.

22 And the archers shot at king Josias; and the king said to his servants, Take me away, for I am severely wounded.

23 And his servants lifted him out of the chariot, and put him in the second chariot which he had, and brought him to Jerusalem; and he died, and was buried with his fathers: and all Juda and Jerusalem lamented over Josias.

24 And Jeremias mourned over Josias, and all the chief men and chief women uttered a lamentation over Josias until this day: and they made it an ordinance for Israel, and beheld, it is written in the lamentations.

25 And the rest of the acts of Josias, and his hope, are written in the book of the Lord. And his acts, the first and the last, behold, they are written in the book of the kings of Israel and Judah.

And the people of the land took Joachaz the son of Josias, and anointed him, and made him king over Jerusalem in the room of his father.

2 Joachaz was twenty-three years old when he began to reign, and he reigned three months in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Amital, daughter of Jeremias of Lobna. And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, according to all that his fathers had done. And Pharaoh Nechoh bound him in Debethla in the land of Hamath, that he might not reign in Jerusalem; and he was put in the house of his brothers: and he died; and they buried him with his fathers: and all Juda and Jerusalem lamented over Josias until this day: and they made it an ordinance for Israel, and beheld, it is written in the lamentations.

4 And the rest of the acts of Josias, and his hope, are written in the book of the Lord. And his acts, the first and the last, behold, they are written in the book of the kings of Israel and Judah.

And the people of the land took Joachaz the son of Josias, and anointed him, and made him king over Jerusalem in the room of his father. And Pharaoh Nechoh bound him in Debethla in the land of Hamath, that he might not reign in Jerusalem; and he was put in the house of his brothers: and he died; and they buried him with his fathers: and all Juda and Jerusalem lamented over Josias until this day: and they made it an ordinance for Israel, and beheld, it is written in the lamentations.

And Pharaoh Nechoh made Eliakim the son of Josias king over Juda in the room of his father Josias, and changed his name to Joakim. And Pharaoh Nechoh took his brother Joachaz and brought him into Egypt; and he died there, but he had given the silver and the gold to Pharaoh. At that time the land began to be taxed to give the money at the command of Pharaoh; and every one as he could he borrowed the silver and the gold of the people of the land; to give to Pharaoh Nechoh.

5 Joachim was twenty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Zechorah, daughter of Nerias of Rama. And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord; not turning from all that his fathers did. In his days came Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon into the land, and he served him three years, and then revolted from him. And the Lord sent against them the Chaldeans, and plundering parties of Syrians, and plundering parties of the Moabites and of the Ammon, and of Samaria; but after this they departed, according to the word of the Lord by the hand of his servants the prophets.
Nevertheless the wrath of the Lord was upon Judah, so that they should be removed from his presence, because of the sins of their fathers. And he poured out for the innocent blood which Joakim shed, for he had filled Jerusalem with innocent blood; yet the Lord would not utterly destroy them. And Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon came up against him, and bound him with brazen letters, and carried him away to Babylon. And he carried away a part of the vessels of the house of the Lord to Babylon, and put them in his temple in Babylon.
And the rest of the acts of Joakim, and all that he did, behold, are not these things written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?
And Joakim slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in Ganozæ: and Jehonias his son reigned in his stead.
Jehonias was eight years old when he began to reign, and he reigned three months and ten days in Jerusalem, and did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord,
And the word of the Lord came to Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon
by the hand of one of the children of Joakim sent, and brought him to Babylon, with the precious vessels of the house of the Lord, and made Sedekias his father's brother king over Judah and Jerusalem.
Sedekias was twenty-one years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem. And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord his God:
for he was not ashamed before the prophet Jeremias, nor because of the word of the Lord;
but that he rebelled against king Nabuchodonosor, which he adjured him by God not to do: but he stiffened his neck, and hardened his heart, that he might not return to the Lord God of Israel. And all the seven men of Judah, and the priests, and the people of the land transgressed abundantly in the abominations of the heathen, and polluted the house of the Lord which was in Jerusalem. And the Lord God brought against him by the hand of his prophets; rising early and sending his messengers, for he spared his people, and his sanctuary. Nevertheless they snarled at his messengers, and set at nought his words, and mocked his prophets, until the wrath of the Lord rose up against his people, till there was no remedy.
And he fought against them the king of the Chaldeans, and slew their young men with the sword in the house of his sanctuary, and did not spare Sedekias, and had no mercy upon their virgins, and they led away their old men; he delivered all things into their hands. And all the vessels of the house of God, the great and the small, and the treasures of the house of the Lord,

Lord mercy and king Jerusalem. Babylon,
His God lie his his eleven reign, which began to depart, And he carried away a part of the vessels of the house of the Lord to Babylon, and put them in his temple in Babylon.
And the rest of the acts of Joakim, and all that he did, behold, are not these things written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

and all the treasures of the king and the great men: he brought all to Babylon.

And he burnt the house of the Lord, and broke down the wall of Jerusalem, and burnt its palaces with fire, and utterly destroyed every beautiful vessel. And he carried away the remnant to Babylon; and they were servants to him and to his sons until the establishment of the kingdom of the Medes. That the word of the Lord by the mouth of Jeremias might be fulfilled, until the land should enjoy its sabbaths in resting and sabbath keeping all the days of its desolation, till the accomplishment of seventy years.

In the first year of Cyrus king of the Persians, after the fulfilment of the word of the Lord by the mouth of Jeremias, the Lord stirred up the spirit of Cyrus king of the Persians, and told him to make proclamation in writing throughout all his kingdom, saying,

Thus says Cyrus king of the Persians to all the kingdoms of the earth, The Lord God of heaven has given me power, and he has commanded me to build a house to him in Jerusalem, in Judea. Who is there of you of all his people? his God shall be with him, and let him go up.
and Benjamin arose, and the priests, and the Levites, all whose spirit the Lord stirred up to go up and build the house of the Lord that is in Jerusalem. And all that were round about strengthened their hands with vessels of silver, with gold, with goods, and with cattle, and with presents, besides the voluntary offerings.

And king Cyrus brought out the vessels of the house of the Lord, which Nabuchodonosor had brought from Jerusalem, and put in the house of his god. And Cyrus king of Persia brought them out by the hand of Mithradates the treasurer, and he numbered them to Sasaasar, the chief man of Juda. And this is their number: 300 golden basins, and a thousand silver basins, nine and twenty changes, thirty golden goblets, and four hundred and ten double silver vessels, and a thousand other vessels. All the gold and silver vessels were five thousand four hundred, even all that went up with Sasaasar from the place of transportation, from Babylon to Jerusalem.

And these are the people of the land that went up, of the number of the princes who were removed, whom Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon carried away to Babylon, and they returned to Juda and Jerusalem, every man to his city; who came with Zoro-babel: Jesus, Neemias, Saraia, Reelias, Mardocheus, Balasan, Maspar, Baguai, Reum, Baana. The number of the people of Israel:

3 The children of Phares, two thousand one hundred and seventy-two.

4 The children of Saphata, three hundred and seventy-two.

5 The children of Ares, seven hundred and seventy.

6 The children of Phaath Moab, belonging to the sons of Jesse and Joab, two thousand eight hundred and twelve.

7 The children of Aalem, a thousand two hundred and fifty-four.

8 The children of Zattuna, nine hundred and forty-five.

9 The children of Zacuu, seven hundred and sixty.

10 The children of Banni, six hundred and forty-two.

11 The children of Babai, six hundred and twenty-three.

12 The children of Asgard, a thousand two

34 The children of Jericho, three hundred and forty-five.
35 The children of Senna, three thousand six hundred and thirty.
36 And the priests, the sons of Jedua, belonging to the house of Jesus, were nine hundred and seventy-three. The children of Eron, a thousand and fifty-two.
37 The children of Phassur, a thousand two hundred and forty-seven.
38 The children of Krem, a thousand and seven.
39 And the Levites, the sons of Jesus and Cadmiel, belonging to the sons of Oduia, seventy-four.
40 The sons of Asaph, singers, a hundred and twenty-eight.
43 And these are they that went up from Thelmelech, Thelaniza, Cherub, Hedan, Emmer: and they were not able to tell the house of their fathers, and their seed, whether they were of Israel: the children of Dalen, the children of Bua, the children of Tobias, the children of Necon, six hundred and fifty-two. And of the children of the priests, the children of Labeia, the children of Akkus, the children of Berzella, who took a wife of the daughter of Berzella and the Galadadite, and was called by their name. These sought their genealogy as they had been reckoned, but they were not found, and they were removed, as polluted, from the priesthood. And the Athisatha told them that they should not eat of the bmost holy things, until a priest should arise with Lights and Perfections.

And all the congregation together were about forty-two thousand three hundred and sixty-six; and their servants, and these were seven thousand three hundred and thirty-seven: and among these were two hundred singing men and singing women. Their horses were seven hundred and thirty-six, their mules, two hundred and forty-five. Their camels, four hundred and thirty-five; their asses, six thousand seven hundred and twenty.

And some of the chiefs of families, when they went into the house of the Lord that was in Jerusalem, offered willingly for the house of God, to establish it on its prepared place. According to their power they gave into the treasury and the pure gold sixty-one thousand six hundred pieces, and five thousand pounds of silver, and one hundred priests' garments.

So the priests, and the Levites, and some of the people, and the singers, and the porters, and the Nethinim, dwelt in their cities, and all Israel in their cities.

And the seventh month came on, and the children of Israel were in their cities, and the people assembled as one man at Jerusalem. Then stood up Jesus the son of Josueda, and his brethren the priests, and Zorobabel the son of Salathiel, and his brethren, and they built the altar of the God of Israel, to offer upon it whole-burnt-offerings, according to the things that were written in the law of Moses the man of God.

And they set up the altar on its place, for there was a terror upon them because of the people of the lands: and the whole-burnt-offering was offered up upon it, to the Lord morning and evening. And they kept the feast of tabernacles, according to that which was written, and offered whole-burnt-offerings daily in number according to the ordinance, the exact daily rate. And after this the perpetual whole-burnt-offering, and offering for the season of new moons, the dedication of the solemn feasts to the Lord, and for every one that offered a free-will-offering to the Lord. On the first day of the seventh month they began to offer whole-burnt-offerings to the Lord; but the foundation of the house of the Lord was not laid. And they gave money to the stone-hewers and carpenters, and to stockmen, and Oil, and to Sidonians, and Tyrians, to bring cedar trees from Libanus to the sea of Joppa, according to the grant of Cyrus king of the Persians to them.

And in the second year of their coming to the house of God in Jerusalem, in the

and the bani.shees, to the ahouse of the Lord: and the priests in their robes stood with trumpets and the Levites the sons of Asaph with cymbals, to praise the Lord, according to the order of David king of Israel.

And they answered each other with praising and thanksgiving to the Lord, saying, For it is good, for his mercy to Israel endureth for ever. And all the people shouted with a loud voice to praise the Lord at the laying the foundation of the house of the Lord.

But many of the priests and the Levites, and the elder men, heads of families, who had seen the former house on its foundation, and who beheld this house, wept, with a loud voice: but the multitude shouted with joy to raise a song.

And the people did not distinguish the voice of the glad shout from the voice of the weeping of the people: for the people shouted with a loud voice, and the voice was heard even from afar off.

And they that afflicted Juda and Benjamin heard, that the children of the captivity were building a house to the Lord God of Israel. And they drew near to Zerobabel, and to the heads of families, and said to them, We will build with you; for we seek to serve our God, and we do sacrifice to him from the days of Assur king of Assur, who brought us hither.

Then Zerobabel, and Jesus and the rest of the heads of the families of Israel said to them, It is not for us and you to build a house to our God, for we ourselves will build together to the Lord our God, as Cyrus the king of the Persians commanded us. And the people of the land weakened the hands of the people of Juda, and hindered them in building, and continued hiring persons against them, plotting to frustrate their counsel, all the days of Cyrus king of the Persians, and until the reign of Darius king of the Persians.

And in the reign of Assuerus, even in the beginning of his reign, they wrote a letter against the inhabitants of Juda and Jerusalem.
the Aphasisans, the Archiesans, the Babylonians, the Susnachians, these, 19 and the rest of the nations whom the great and noble Asaphaphar removed, and settled them in the cities of Somon and the rest of the lands beyond the river. 20 This is the purport of the letter, which they sent to him: Thy servants the men beyond the river to king Arthasatha.

12 Be it known to the king, that the Jews who came up from thee to us have come to Jerusalem the rebellious and wicked city, which their fellow-servants who dwell in Samaria, and the rest beyond the river, saying, Peace; and he says, 13 The tribute-gatherer whom ye sent to us, has been called before me. 14 And a decree has been made by me, and we have examined, and found that that city old time exalts itself against kings, and that rebellious cities take place within it. 15 And there were powerful kings in Jerusalem, and they ruled over all the country beyond the river, and abundant revenues and tribute were given to them. 16 Now therefore make a decree to stop the work of those men, and that city shall no more be built. 17 See that ye be careful of the decree, not to be remiss concerning this matter, lest at any time destruction should abound to the harm of kings.

Then the tribute-gatherer of king Arthasatha read the letter before Reum the chancellor, and Sampsa the scribe, and the rest of their fellow-servants, who dwell in Samaria, and the rest beyond the river, saying, Peace; and he says, 18 And a decree has been made by me, and we have examined, and found that that city old time exalts itself against kings, and that rebellious cities take place within it. 19 And there were powerful kings in Jerusalem, and they ruled over all the country beyond the river, and abundant revenues and tribute were given to them. 20 Now therefore make a decree to stop the work of those men, and that city shall no more be built. 21 See that ye be careful of the decree, not to be remiss concerning this matter, lest at any time destruction should abound to the harm of kings.

In the first year of king Cyrus, Cyrus the king made a decree concerning the holy house of God that was in Jerusalem, saying, Let the house be built, and the place where they sacrifice the sacrifices. (Also he appointed its elevation, in height six cubits, its breadth was sixty cubits.) And let there be three strong layers of stone, and one layer of timber; and the expense shall be paid out of the house of the king. And the silver and the gold vessels of the house of God, which Nebuchadnezzar carried off from the house that was in Jerusalem, and carried to Babylon, let them even be given, and be carried to the temple that is in Jerusalem, and put in the place where they were set in the house of God.

Now, ye rulers beyond the river, Sathar-buzanai, and their fellow-servants the Aphanschaunis, who are on the other side of the river, give these things, keeping far from that place. Now let alone the work of the house of God: let the rulers of the Jews and the elders of the Jews build that house of God on its place. Also a decree has been made by me, if haply ye may do somewhat in concert with the elders of the Jews for the building of that house of God: to wit, out of the king's public revenues the tributes beyond the river, let there be money to defray the expenses carefully granted to those men, so that they be not hindered. And whatever need there may be, ye shall give both the young of bullocks and rams, and lambs for whole-burnt-offerings to the God of heaven, γενικη, salt, wine, oil, let them be given to be expended for the word of the priests that are in Jerusalem, day by day whatsoever they shall ask; that they may offer sweet savours to the God of heaven, and that they may pray for the life of the king and his sons. And a decree has been made by me, that every man who shall alter this word, or pull down this house, let him be lifted up and slain upon it, and his house shall be confiscated. And may the God whose name dwells there, overthrow every king and people who shall stretch out his hand to alter or destroy the house of God which is in Jerusalem. I Duris have made a decree; let it be diligently attended to.

Then Thathanai the governor on this side beyond the river, Sathar-buzanai, and his fellow-servants, according to that which king Darius sent, so they did diligently. And the elders of the Jews and the Levites, built at the prophecies of Aggeus the prophet, and Zacharias the son of Addo; and they built up, and finished it, by the decree of the God of Israel, and by the decree of Cyrus, and Darius, and Arthashastha, kings of the Persians. And they finished this house by the third day of the month Adar, which is the sixth year of the reign of Darius the king. And the children of Israel, the priests, and the Levites, and the rest of the children of the captivity, kept the dedication of the house of God with gladness. And they offered for the dedication of the house, ἐν ζύγων τούτων ἥμερας τριάς, Ἐξδαραξα, ὁ ἐστίν ἐκτὸς τῆς βασιλείας Αδαρίου τοῦ βασιλέως.

Tότε Θανθανάτα ἡ ἐπαρχος πέραν τοῦ ποταμοῦ, Σαβρο-βουκαναί, καὶ οἱ σύνδολοι αὐτοῦ, πρὸς ὁ ἀπεσείλει Δαρείου βασιλέως, αὕτως ἐποίησαν ἐπιμέλειας. Καὶ οἱ πρεσβυτεροί τῶν Ἰουδαίων ἐκδόθησαν καὶ ὁ Λευτάριος εἰς προφητείαν Ἀγγείου τοῦ προφήτου, καὶ Ζαχαρίου ἱερᾶς 'Αδαρίου καὶ ἀνωφοδομήσας καὶ κατεργάσας ἐκ τῆς γραμμῆς Θεοῦ Ἰσραήλ, καὶ ἀπὸ γραμμῆς Κυρίου, καὶ Δαρείου, καὶ Ἀρθασάσθα βασιλείας Περσῶν.

Καὶ ἐτέλεσαν τὸν οἶκον τούτων ἐκείνοις ἡμέρας τριάς τέσσαρις, Ἐξδαραξα, ὁ ἐστίν ἐκτὸς τῆς βασιλείας Δαρείου τοῦ βασιλέως.

Καὶ ἐποίησαν οἱ ἱερεῖς Ἰσραήλ, οἱ ἱερεῖς καὶ οἱ Λευτάριοι, καὶ οἱ καταλυομένοι ἐν ἐν θυσίαις ἐγκαίνια τοῦ οἴκου τοῦ Θεοῦ ἐν εὐφροσύνῃ. Καὶ προσφέρεικαν εἰς τὸ ἐγκαίνια τοῦ οἴκου τοῦ 17 of God a hundred calves, two hundred rams, four hundred lambs, twelve kids of the goats for a sin-offering for all Israel, according to the number of the tribes of Israel. And they set the priests in their divisions, and the Levites in their separate orders, for the services of God in Jerusalem, according to the writing of the book of Moses.
